

Over 100 Students Receive Awards

Nearly 100 students received recognition for scholastic and social attainments at an assembly held in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Departmental awards for achievements in the fields of education, commerce, and language were made.

Receiving recognition as the holder of the highest scholastic record for the past three quarters was Patricia Rhodes, an Art major, who attained a 3.00 grade average. Other students who received scholastic awards are Jayne Francis Bisazza, Christina Mary Fucile, Patricia Fontenrose, Dorothy Jean Donnelly, Alice Margaret Hunter, Lou Judson Ford, Jean Lois Myhren, Betty Karstedt, and Beverly Jean Strong.

Due to the fact that classes were not dismissed for the recognition assembly, 23 students were unable to receive their awards at that time. The awards for these students are in the Dean of Men's office and may be picked up at any time.

Fifty-two awards were given to students for meritorious service in extra-curricular activities. Those receiving the awards are as follows:

Chapel Committee: Mary Elizabeth Said. Music: Gene Carol Chappell, Douglas Harville, Eleanor Holzwarth. Spartan Daily: Virginia Wilcox, Mary Davis, Rowland Mitchell. La Torre: Phyllis MacDonald, Bill Shaw. Lycurgus: Margaret Moore.

EMERGENCY MEASURE PROPOSED

USE OF ENTIRE STUDENT UNION FOR SPARTAN SHOP IS ASKED BY BOARD

By BOB PEARSON

The Spartan Shop Board, composed of both faculty and students, has suggested that the upstairs of the Student Union be taken over by the Spartan Shop as an emergency measure for the fall quarter.

The expected enrollment of the college in October is from 5000 to 5500 students, and the size of the Spartan Shop and the Coop fountain is too small to adequately take care of the increase of students, according to Milburn Wright, chairman of the board.

"If the Spartan Shop is moved upstairs, the increase in space will allow the Coop fountain to expand, and more students will be able to eat the inexpensive noon meal instead of being forced to eat off the campus," said Mr. Wright.

A larger Spartan Shop upstairs will be better to serve the needs of the students in a more efficient and speedy manner, added Wright.

The Spartan Shop at the present time is using the basement of the library, parts of the crowded Coop, and any other available space that can be utilized.

"This proposal by the board is purely an expedient measure," said Mr. Wright. "It will allow better distribution of supplies for the students and more comfortable eating facilities at noon. We believe that this proposal offers the greatest good for the greatest number of students."

Members of the board include Milton Lanyon, W. H. Poytress, W. H. Myers, C. D. Duncan, E. S. Thompson and R. W. Barry for the faculty; Marge Hopper, Bruce McNeill, Louise Ramos, and Claire Canevari for the student body.

Vote Tomorrow!

Voting will take place tomorrow, and the Student Body will decide the fate of the preferential ballot.

Voting will be held in the Library arch and in front of Morris Dailey auditorium from 8 p m to 4 p m.

The preferential ballot was adopted in 1942 to do way with two and sometimes three run-off elections caused by the "X" type ballot.

CASE NUMBER VITAL TO VETS

The college Veterans Administration issued an appeal today for all student veterans to learn their Case number, and carry it with them at all times.

Veterans case numbers serve the same function as their army serial number. It was given to them on their letter of eligibility, letter of award, and appears on all personal correspondence.

The number is used to facilitate business between veteran and Veterans Administration, and should be placed on all veterans correspondence.

C-numbers can be obtained from the Registration office.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

A Summary of World News to 11 O'clock Last Night from the United Press Teleprinter in the Spartan Daily Office.

Tokyo War Crimes Trial Re-opens

WASHINGTON—Government efforts to forestall a national maritime strike at midnight tomorrow bogged down last night as union leaders balked at details of a government proposal in a stormy 3 1/2 hour session in the hotel suite of CIO President Philip Murray.

Riots in Italy Continue

ROME—Police in jeeps charged into battling mobs of monarchists and republicans in the People's square in central Rome last night; and troops, carabinieri and civilian volunteers were called in a vain attempt to restore order.

The dispute still centered on the king's refusal to accept the republic as fully established until the Supreme Court formally proclaims it after missing referendum votes have been received and monarchist complaints of vote frauds have been adjudicated.

Lost—One Grand Mufti

PARIS—The French foreign office announced last night that the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, Haj Amin El Hussein, boarded an American Transworld Airways plane at Orly Field on May 29 and arrived in Cairo the same day.

The mufti is the subject of an international search by the British government, although no formal charge has been brought against him; and there has been no definite statement concerning what would be done if he were found.

Double Air Record Set by Jets

MARCH FIELD, Calif.—Three jet-propelled P-80 fighter planes, whose pilots breakfasted here and had lunch in Maryland, landed here again last night with a new unofficial east-west speed mark of 6 hours 45 minutes and the first round-trip record. Total flying time for the round trip was 11 hours 24 minutes. Col. Leon Gray of Casa Grande, Ariz., who led the jet group, reported he had enjoyed a haircut, shave and steak dinner in Washington while waiting to start the return trip to California.

U. S. Plans for Atomic Peace

WASHINGTON—An American plan to free mankind from the threat of atomic war was laid down by Bernard M. Baruch at a locked-door meeting of the Senate atomic energy committee yesterday.

Baruch refused to disclose the details of the plan, which has already been approved by President Truman and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Russians Strafe U. S. Airfield

VIENNA—Twelve Russian fighter planes held target practice over the American air field at Tulln, Austria, yesterday. One strafed the red warning flag on the Army's radio tower.

By WILLETTA SULLIVAN

Second issue of Lycurgus, campus magazine, will be sold tomorrow from 11 to 1 in the library archway. Spartan Spears and Spartan Knights will be on duty at the booth. Copies will be sold around campus by members of the staff.

Only 1000 copies will be available; so students are advised by Bob Martin, business manager, to get their issues early.

Margaret Moore, editor of Lycurgus, states, "We have used suggestions from students taken in a poll at the beginning of the quarter in making up this issue. I believe it has more of everything that the students wanted in their magazine."

Short stories, features, a forum of student opinion, fashions, and the work of many students will be represented in the June copy of Lycurgus.

Cartoons and illustrations under the direction of Art Editor, Bonnie Linginfelter, have been prepared by Howard Slatoff, Marian Du Jardin, Jessie Steinnagel, Delayne Broadbent, and Dottie Ashman.

Fashion editors, Marge Brown and Marji Cornwell, planned the double page showing coeds modeling the latest styles from downtown stores. Stephen Voorhees, assistant editor, took the fashion pictures; Bill Courtney handled other photographic work.

While here, in addition to his other duties, Mumby will be in charge of intramural sports.

Mumby at present is operating a three acre ranch between Palo Alto and Mountain View raising Chinchillas. He is married and has two children. Mumby is 48 years old.

Body of Man Found on Campus

The body of a dead man was found on the campus in the clump of trees between the Student Union and the high school at 6 a. m. yesterday.

Called to his attention by an early passerby, Harvey Shaffer, custodian of the music building, went out to investigate "a man lying on the lawn" and, having found the body, immediately called the police.

Tentatively identified by police officers from papers found on him as Lester J. Fisher, the dead man lived originally at 505 San Augustine St., San Jose. Address at time of his death is unknown.

Denegri-Geoffroy and Origlia, undertaking parlors where the body was taken, report Fisher died of a heart attack. They were seeking his relatives today.

LA TORRE SAYS THANK YOU!

The editor and business manager of La Torre, Phyllis McDonald and Bill Shaw, respectively, stated today that they wished to thank the students for their fine cooperation and help in getting the book out during the past year.

"Your prompt responses to appointments, and your early buying of the book and payment of obligations immeasurably lightened our task," they said.

"We wish to especially thank Mr. Dwight Bentel, our adviser, and our staff for the untiring effort and time they contributed toward the publication of La Torre. They were a fine group and it was a pleasure to work with them."

The staff must meet today at 11 a. m. as this is the last regular meeting of the quarter, and plans must be made for the distribution of the book.

Bill Shaw said that those students who have not purchased La Torre, should do so immediately as the last 100 books are going fast. Those students who wish to pay the balance on their books can do so at any time in the Publications office.

Preferential Ballot?

Tomorrow, students will vote again on retaining the preferential ballot, or adopting the "X" type. This editorial is not concerned with explaining the advantages of either type, but rather with voting in general.

There are three groups of students involved in an election: the voters, the candidates, and the vote counters. The voters fulfill their responsibility when they vote, the candidates fulfill their responsibility when they run for office, and the vote counters should remember that they have a responsibility, too.

The Student Court is in charge of elections. This means that they prepare the ballots, man the polls, and see that the votes are counted.

Vote counting after the last election was very poorly organized. One counter left in the middle of the proceeding and returned about an hour later, having "just remembered that he had set aside some 40 votes without counting them.

When the counting committee dissolved, recruits were pulled in and put to work although they knew nothing of the method or procedure. Candidates were discarded two and three at a time instead of one at a time as the system demands.

In one case, a candidate almost discarded after the first count worked up and won the election.

Court members should realize that they are not members of an honorary society, but elected officials with duties to perform conscientiously and efficiently.

Behind The Scenes

By MARGARET MOORE

Jo Hildebrand, her heart fluttering in fear and anticipation—mixed—leaves today for ten weeks at Provincetown, Massachusetts. She is the second San Jose Player to journey east, Elda Beth Payne studied at Plymouth last year. And Stella Pinoris is going to spend her summer down at Pasadena at the Playhouse.

EN FRANCAIS

Newest idea in the way to hold Kangaroo court was advanced by Denise Morlino and Bob Moore at the last dinner held by members of Iota Delta Phi, honorary French society, last Monday. They did it in strict French, the only exception being for an illiterate person who couldn't understand the proceedings.

KEEPING TRACK

Pi Nu Sigma, the pre-nursing society, has been at work compiling a kind of memory book with pictures and notes about members. The purpose is to help the gals keep better track of each other when they plan alumnae parties. Seems that once some of them get into training, they lose track of each other. In a group like Pi Nu Sigma, where most of the girls leave at the end of their two-year preparatory course, it's a good idea.

SUMMERTIMES

Latest reports have it that there will be a printed issue of "Summertime," the Summer Session equivalent of the Daily, three times a week instead of just twice as was the case last year. It has not yet been announced whether the staff will mimeograph a paper

THRUST and PARRY

Elections

On Friday, the majority will again speak. When in a body a certain portion is voiceless, who is to say, "We are the majority?"

May I, as one who is denied a voice in the regulation of the affairs of the students at my college, respectfully present the idea that whenever you attach a price tag to a person's vote, it is a poll tax, and by whatever name you call it, it still stinks.

—Wayne M. Hamilton

Poley Congratulated

Thrust and Parry:

Congratulations to George Poley for his viewpoint of existing conditions on our campus. I thought it strange that such a stand should be considered narrow since it seemed to me that Mr. Poley was only bringing out the other side of the question, which no one had done thus far. His idea did not appear especially serious, but merely decent; after all, need we brand people narrow-minded just because they uphold the decent aspect of life?

—ASB 745

the remaining two days of the week as they did last summer or not.

We may be prejudiced, but we think that the kids on the business staff of Lycurgus who went out and sold the ads deserve a lot of credit. Pat and Jane Burns and Pat O'Brien of the staff really brought home the bacon, and by way of the ads they sold, built up our budget so that we could make a better issue of Lycurgus.

And Marge Brown and Marjil Cornwall, the gals who rounded up the fashion pages deserve a lot of credit, too. Gathering fashions, models, and selling the idea to local businesses was a big job. Stevie Voorhees took the pictures for this feature and if you like it, there's no reason why the fall issue of Lycurgus can't have more.

GEE, I SAYS

By A. WHITE

I got to worryin' about race relations the other day. All I can say is in the war there was mean ones of every race and religion, and there was brave ones of every race and religion. When it gets down to life and death, people find the closest buddies spontaneously. They never get around to askin' their social classification and worryin' about what the color of their skin is.

Personally, I never saw a bullet that didn't hurt a black skin just as bad as a white one. I guess people all got the same fine instincts and the same rotten ones in every race and creed. I can't see how we got any call to be proud of our ancestors. Nobody chooses his own as any fool can plainly see. And we ain't got any way to judge who's got the best breedin' that I can see.

When I think of race relations, I get to thinkin' that here I am in a college where I'm supposed to be learnin' how to think and understand humanity and uplift it. Yeah, and here we got societies and fraternities discriminatin' as bad as the so-called heathen caste system in India. They're supposed to be ignorant.

Which reminds me that I read in a San Francisco newspaper where there's a movement afoot to ban sororities and fraternities in colleges supported by taxation of the public. It said if you had any feelin' in the matter to write it down and send it to Governor Earl Warren in Sacramento, or to President Robert Sproul of the University of California, in Berkeley. Seems to me anybody that feels like I do ought to take a little time off and do that. Somebody told me they've banned 'em at Stanford . . . wonder can San Jose State be far behind?

SABOTEURS CAUGHT IN ACT

By FRANK PORTER

Observers on campus were startled yesterday when members of the Subversive Elements League were apprehended in an attempt to blow up La Torre.

The saboteurs were wearing red hats and badges when the faculty, aided by the FBI, closed in and foiled the attempt. The ringleaders, who gave fictitious names, such as Jim Mapes, Jim Black and Bob Nelson, were heard screaming something about recognition on campus. They are being held on charges of smoking time bombs in the inner quad.

Faculty members are apprehensive about a general uprising if the student body follows the lead of the Subversive Element. A thorough search has been instigated for hitherto undiscovered explosives, and suspicion was directed toward a well known figure in the Political Science department when he confessed to wearing a red tie on the day of the plot.

An official source announced that large quantities of glycerin and nitric acid were missing from the chemistry lab, but they were discovered later in a local cafe where they were being used for coffee.

Madmen Manhandle Marble

By BOB PEARSON

In the dank depths of the sculpture lab under the business office there can be heard much noise and activity. Three men are steadily hewing their hearts out on three pieces of cold Italian marble.

Jerry Brown, Dave Webster and Bruce Duke are trying to become the Michelangelos of San Jose State. They are sweatingly chipping the solid marble into reasonable forms of bust work—for Art, that is.

LOOK OUT— IT'S WET CEMENT

"Get your lousy foot off that wet cement!" was a cry that floated over the campus Tuesday evening.

The Spartan Knights, service fraternity, had poured the wet cement in forms between the Library and the Coop. A policeman was stationed there Tuesday evening to ward off any would-be "footprinters."

It was reported that the Subversive Elements League made an unsuccessful attempt to sabotage the fresh mortar. They were seen on the campus about dusk carrying over-sized firecrackers and sticks of dynamite. They were frightened off by a cordon of Knights.

Engineers Finish New Building Plans

Plans are being completed by the engineering classes for new buildings to be added to San Jose State. The money for these new buildings is immediately available, and construction will begin when materials can be had.

The buildings will provide the new home for State's expanding Engineering department. They will be built adjacent to San Jose Technical high school on Ninth street.

Using what seems to be a traditional design for State, the buildings will be connected to form a quad. One wing of the building will be the electrical wing, providing labs for classes in communications, electronics, and electrical machinery. There will also be a room for the Radio club.

Another section of the building will provide space for drafting and lofting classrooms and labs. All the offices of the expanding engineering department will be in the new building. Labs will also be built for classes in advanced machine tools, hydraulics, and processes, gasoline, diesel and steam engines, and another wing will make up the aero engines lab.

TRACK SEASON ENDS WITH PAA

Northern California track fans get their last opportunity of the current season to see the top performers on the Coast work out Saturday at Edwards Field, Berkeley in the PAA meet.

As an added attraction, meet officials are attempting to lure Sweden's great distance man, Lenert Strand to the bay city for the feature race of the day against Johnny Fulton of the San Francisco Olympic Club. Strand, victor over both Gunder Haegg and Arne Anderson in Swedish competition last year, won a special 1500 meter race from Fulton at the Compton Invitational meet in the near record time of 3:51.6.

SJS Diamondmen On All CCAA Team

Fred "Bulldog" Lindsey and Wayne Krouskup were named yesterday for two positions on the CCAA conference baseball team for the 1946 season. Bold belt buckles, symbol of the all star awards were given to the men by Graduate Manager Jerry Vroom.

Lindsey, one of Coach Ralph Johnson's stellar pitchers, had a season record of four wins as against one loss. The big right-hander also placed high up in the batting division, several times putting the Spartans on the credit side of a ball game with his extra base blows.

SPARTAN DAILY MEETS ALL STARS TODAY AT 4:30 FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE "OPEN" LEAGUE

The Spartan Daily, softball champions of 1945 will defend their title tonight at 4:30 against the number one challengers, Hank's All Stars.

At this time, the two clubs stand deadlocked for first place with 9 wins and one loss each. Both teams have suffered a single defeat at the hands of the other. The All Stars defeated the Dailymen 5-3 in the first round of play, while on Monday of this week, the title defenders turned the tables, and handed the All Stars a 9-3 setback.

Batteries for today's title will be Ruiz and Krouskup for the All Stars, and Loudon and O'Bailey for the Spartan Dailey.

Ruiz was the master in the first meeting between the two chuckers, limiting the Dailymen to three hits, while Loudon was giving up five. Monday, Loudon scattered six base hits while Ruiz was touched for 7 safeties.

The All Stars' infield play Monday was a little loose, and accounted for several of the Dailymen's tallies. In the first meeting between the two clubs, it was the Spartan Daily's infield play that cost them the contest. Hence, today's "crucial" will be a battle of respective infields as well as opposing pitchers.

Today at 12:30 in the Student Union, all team managers of both leagues are to meet to choose an all-star team to represent each league in an inter-circuit contest to be held Friday of this week.

Team managers will choose two or three players from each team to represent the two leagues. If you want your club represented, be in the Student Union today at 12:30 sharp.

Varsity House softballers, after shutting out Theta Mu earlier in the week, defeated the Non Gamma Gammas Tuesday afternoon, 6-1. Chuck Hughes gave up two hits and a run while he was on the mound for the Varsity men.
