

FIRST GRID TILT SEPTEMBER 27 WITH UNIVERSITY OF WILLAMETTE

September 27 is the date, and a 1946 student body card is the open sesame that will give San Jose State students their first glimpse of the title bound Gold and White football team in its opening game against a reputedly strong University of Willamette eleven.

Old students can gain admission to the contest with the card, while freshmen and new students who have taken their personnel tests will be given a pass.

Although a ten game schedule is on the books (see page 6) Spartan fans will be able to see only five of the battles played in the college saucer. The remaining five are on the travel itinerary.

Coach Bill Hubbard doesn't figure on needing much help in putting on a classy show, but to keep the fans happy during half time, the college band has been recruited and will be augmented by an organized cheering section led by head yell leader, Ken McGill....

Dr. MacQuarrie To Present Seniors With Diplomas

The 343 members of the class of '46 will receive diplomas of graduation Friday at San Jose State's annual commencement program, which will be held at 4 o'clock in the Quad. President T. W. MacQuarrie will present the diplomas and awards to graduating seniors.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday afternoon. Various senior activities will be held for the remainder of the week, to be concluded with the commencement exercises.

The program for Friday afternoon will begin with the processional, to which the seniors and faculty will march into the quad. The processional will include the Coronation March from "The Prophet" by Meyerbeer, and the Grand March from "Aida" by Verdi. It will be followed by "The Star Spangled Banner," which the audience will join in singing.

In accordance with tradition, the invocation will be given by the Rev. Ernest B. DeFord, missionary of the Methodist church to the Indians of Round Valley, Covelo, California. He is the father of Ernestine DeFord, member the graduating class.

Lee Ross, president of the graduating class, will present the class gift, which will be accepted by Martin T. Taylor, president-elect of the Associated Students.

The college band will play Rossini's "Barber of Seville," conducted by Mr. Thomas Eagan.

Dr. MacQuarrie will review the college year, and will present the candidates with their respective diplomas, credentials, and degrees.

Following the school hymn, "Hail, Spartans, Hail," and the recessional, graduates will meet their friends in the north end of the quad.

Freshman Camp Plans Completed

Next year's Freshman Camp will be held as scheduled on September the 27, 29, and 29 at Asilomar. Dot McCullough, co-chairman of the camp's arrangement committee, announced that some 300 freshmen students are expected to attend the three day outing. Faculty and student advisors will supervise at the camp and will instruct the new students in registration procedure.

Originated three years ago when the first session was held at Boulder Creek, the Freshman Camp is sponsored by the college Student Christian Association for the purpose of helping freshmen become acquainted with their new surroundings at San Jose State.

Bonnie Gartshore, associate editor of the Spartan Daily, who has been named editor to succeed Rowland Mitchell, above, retiring spring quarter editor.

GARTSHORE, MENDERHAUSEN HEAD FALL DAILY STAFF

Bonnie Gartshore, junior journalism major from Monterey, and Betty Menderhausen, junior advertising major from Bakersfield, have been named fall quarter editor and business manager, respectively, of the Spartan Daily.

The appointments were made Monday by the Student Council at its last meeting of the school year. In filling both these posts, the Council acted upon the recommendations of the journalism department.

Miss Gartshore has been associate editor of the Daily during the quarter just ending, and has served one year as a day editor. She succeeds Rowland Mitchell, senior, who will complete the requirements for his degree off campus.

Miss Menderhausen, at present assistant business manager, will take over the office vacated by Ken Stephens, graduating senior.

Other appointments to the editorial staff will be made by Miss Gartshore during the first week of school next quarter. These will include two associate editors, feature, sports, and wire editors, an editorial board chairman, and a staff of day editors. Two associate editors will be appointed next quarter in order to lighten the heavy burden otherwise imposed upon the editor.

Members of the editorial board will be selected in the fall by the new board chairman. These will include representative student thinkers from the journalism and other departments, who will share with the editor in formulating the Daily's editorial policy.

Editors for the other two Journalism department publications, La Torre and Lycurgus, edited this year by Phyllis McDonald and Margaret Moore, will be appointed at the beginning of the fall quarter.

World News Omitted

In order to give preference to news of campus activities, the editor has deleted the usual world news coverage from this last issue of the Spartan Daily.

La Torre Ready

Distribution of La Torre, the college yearbook, will begin today at 10, according to Phyllis McDonald and Bill Shaw, editor and business manager.

The books will be distributed from the Publications office windows overlooking the San Carlos street turf.

Shaw requests that only those students who are leaving San Jose early come for the magazine this morning. A limited number of the books will be available today, with the rest coming Thursday and Friday.

A special time has been set for seniors to call for their La Torre—between 2 and 4 tomorrow. Only senior ASB cards will be honored.

Any student leaving school early and wishing to have La Torre mailed, must leave his address and 15 cents for postage.

Summer Session Starts July 1

A record breaking summer session registration of 1800 is expected July 1 by Registrar Joe West. Registration will take place in the Men's gym, rather than in the Reserve Book room as had previously been announced.

Courses have been added in the Art, Commerce, and Natural Science departments in anticipation of the large enrollment. In all departments, new sections of many of the summer courses have been scheduled. Seven additional instructors are now listed with the faculty for the six week session.

A complete list of changes and additions will be posted registration day.

Council Defeats Student Union-Book Store Plans

Budget Appointments, Date Book vs Athletics Controversy Make Up Agenda

Spartan Shop And Budget

The Student Council Monday evening voted against the Spartan Shop book store moving to the Student Union, if any other place can be found. In case there is no other solution, there will be special Council meeting near the beginning of summer session.

What to do with the situation arising when the men's athletic department schedules games without reference to the Date book was also discussed at the first meeting of the new Council.

Referring to the bookstore problem, Dick Knox suggested that quonset huts be investigated. The suggestion was also made that the L-shaped building near the music annex might provide a site for the book store. This was the original location of the Spartan shop.

Knox was appointed to take Bruce McNeil's place as freshman representative to the Spartan Shop board for the summer.

The datebook controversy arose when the Willamette game was scheduled for September 27, date of the opening of Freshman Camp. The Council decided that Freshman Camp would continue as scheduled. George Millas, Frank Hearne, and Bill McFarland were appointed to visit Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft, head of the Men's PE department, to impress on him the need for complying with Date book rules.

Students Appointed

Appointments were made at the Council meeting Monday for student offices and Council duties. Those appointed are as follows:

No recommendation for La Torre editor will be made until next fall.

Recommendations were considered for the fall appointment of Chief Justice of the Student Court. While considering this problem, the council referred to the constitution regarding justices, and discovered that it provides for one man and one woman to be elected senior justices. They recognized the fact that two women were elected senior justices at the last election, but decided to drop the matter.

Mary Simin was appointed to investigate the advisability of continuing the Student Book exchange.

Appointments for Council duties are as follows:

Service plaques, Nancy Lynn; datebook, Frank Hearne, Juke box, Jim Gualtieri; magazines, Bill McFarland; bulletin board, Claire Caneveri; ink well, Bruce McNeil; assemblies, Tom Wall; Chapel drive, Nancy Lynn; and noon dances, George Millas.

Dean of Men Releases Names of 100 Veterans Who Will Occupy Spartan Village

Names of the 100 veterans who have been allocated apartments at Spartan village were announced today by Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman. The completed list will be found on page five.

These were chosen from men having the highest point scores as calculated in accordance with the formula created by the housing committee. Assistance was given by fifteen college veterans representing various veteran groups on campus. This formula was later approved by the FPFA. 6

LAST SALE OF LYCURGUS

Students who missed out on buying their copies of Lycurgus, the student magazine with the slant toward collegiate life, due to a sell-out before 1:00 last Friday will have a second chance today when 100 additional copies will go on sale in the Library arch at noon. Delivered at 3 o'clock last Friday afternoon, these copies of the magazine arrived too late to go on sale at the regular time.

"Those students who signed the list in the Publications office indicating their desire to buy a copy will be able to get them either at the booth or in the office," stated Editor Margaret Moore. "We're holding their copies back."

Enthusiastically received, according to business manager Bob Martin, the second issue of the magazine has insured the future of the publication. Mr. Dwight Bentel, head of the journalism department and adviser to the magazine, stated that the excellence of the second issue has earned Lycurgus the right to a continued existence.

Features in the June issue of the quarterly include humor, short stories, fashions, a forum on marriage in college, the winning poetry in the annual Phelan literary contest, two pages of cartoons and candid shots, and other features.

Dean Pitman states, "If any veteran has reason to believe that a name on this list is there by fraud on the part of the applicant, he will serve the cause of justice if he calls the question to my attention. The identity of one who, in good faith, raises such a question will be protected."

Forty-eight additional housing units have been allocated and they will be ready in the fall. A new eligibility list will be created for distribution of these. In addition Dean Pitman states that the college will continue to do all in its power to obtain the other 362 units that were applied for.

All veterans whose names appear on this list or who still wish housing are asked to keep their address record up to date with Miss Van Gundy.

DAY EDITOR—THIS ISSUE—WALT CRANOR

MOTION CARRIED

"I move that we keep the Student Union in its present condition; that the Spartan Shop board look into every possibility for expanding elsewhere; and that if no other solution can be found, that the Student Council call a special meeting near the beginning of Summer Session."

"Motion carried!"

By this action, the new Student Council last Monday shelved a temporary measure that would have benefited nearly 5,000 students.

The student Union, as it now stands, is seldom used by the student body as a place of relaxation. It houses three offices. It is used by various organizations for meetings and social affairs. But offices can be moved, and new rooms found for meetings.

Expanding the fountain to cover the entire basement floor, and moving the bookstore upstairs will provide more advantages to more students than if the Student Union is left in its present status. Between 11:00 and 1:30, the "Coop" is pretty well packed. "Eat somewhere else," has been the suggestion. But where? And it's not every lunch room that puts out such a good meal at such a low cost.

But think of the future—tentative enrollment for fall quarter is estimated at about 5,000. Anyone who gets a stool in the "Coop" had better stake a claim on it, for if ever he gets off, he'll never get another.

Twelve council members were elected to represent the student body. In their first official act, these members have, in our estimation, forgotten the majority which elected them.

Life Is Like That

College has one very annoying element. Almost every senior comes to a sudden realization at the end of his fourth year that he finally gotten used to college, learned his way around, gotten his measurement of the faculty, gained a group of associates, gotten interested in working some particular field, discovered that he wants to read and study some things he never had time for, found a place in social life, and perhaps in student politics—then suddenly it's all over.

The last few weeks are like short hours; comes commencement, a rolled-up parchment and a handshake from the president, and it's done. Just a handshake and a diploma and a memory of a life lived.

At least it seems to a senior that he has just lived one life, and now he's passing out of it. And in the new world he enters it will be another life he will have to start.

But back at college life still continues the next year, and the year after, probably not much changed for his having been there. To those permanent on the campus, it's like sitting in a show window watching the never-ending parade of people walk past. Many go by, but there are always more to replace them.

So it's all over for the seniors. The group that kept on here for four long years—years that seem so short in retrospect—now will break up and scatter to the far places from whence they came.

And meanwhile another class will be nearing the same end, and when they reach it they will be just as surprised. Life is like that.

AWA EXECUTIVE GROUP INSTALLED

Jackie Popp was installed as president of AWA at last night's dinner meeting of the old and new cabinets at the De Anza hotel.

Sixteen other cabinet members were installed in their offices for the coming year at the annual event which climaxed the year's activities of AWA. Other executive officers include Pat Polk, vice-president; Dorothy Moody, recording secretary; Betty Sills, corresponding secretary; and Charlotte Harder, treasurer.

All officers and cabinet chairmen were elected to their positions by members of the present cabinet, and the 17 women students who were elected to the new cabinet.

New cabinet officers are Play-day chairman, Frances Boden;

SOCIAL SWING

By MARIE SOMKY and WALLY TRABING

Tau Delta Phi

An event that would scare L'P! Abner happened to the Tau Deltas last Friday, and threw them into mad confusion. There was a woman in the Tower.

Observers say she was wielding a drill fixing the chimes into position or something, but even if she was up there to save humanity, the fact still remains that there was a WOMAN in the Tower.

Last Saturday morning, the alumni faculty members of Tau Delta Phi gathered in the Tower for their homecoming breakfast. The situation was tense. Finally, one maddened alumnus could stand it no longer. He leaped to his feet, and cried out in a voice torn with emotion: "My God, do you realize a woman has invaded our tower!"

Order was restored, and a kangaroo court was called. When witnesses declared that the invader, Marge Hopper, was also a member of Black Masque, the screams of the jurors rose in blood-chilling agony. This was too much.

The trial was one of the shortest in Tau Delta history, and the guilty was meted out on the spot. Shrunken heads make good wall-pieces.

Kappa Kappa Sigma

New officers for Kappa Kappa Sigma were installed at Dr. Gertrude Witherspoon's home last Wednesday.

The new president is Carol Lantz; other officers are: vice-president, Mary Lou Blair; recording secretary, Pat Griffin; corresponding secretary, Nancy Davis; treasurer, Claire Canevari.

A breakfast was given to 16 graduating seniors at Club Almaden last Sunday.

Pi Omega Pi

Dolores Bassi, outgoing president of Pi Omega Pi, was presented with a gavel at their last meeting on June 11, and new officers were elected.

President for the coming term is Nancy Alano; vice president, Elizabeth Kelley; secretary, Louise Byles; treasurer, Dorothy Lewis; and historian, Constance Jones.

Dolores Bassi, Connie Booker, Jackie George, Winnie Berticevich, Gwen Bozartti, June Dixon, Beth Smith and Dorothy Ryan are all graduating seniors.

CCF Meetings

The first summer session meeting of the Collegiate Christian Fellowship will be held on Monday, July 8, Dave Fraley, newly elected president, announced today.

CCF summer meetings were held for the first time last year, and since they proved very successful, the group has decided to continue them this summer.

Bible study meetings will be held at the same time and place as during the regular session—every Monday and Thursday from 12 to 1 o'clock in room 155. The CCF summer program will also include singspirations and outdoor conferences. Anyone who is interested, regardless of denomination, is cordially invited to attend.

Summer School To Have Orchestra

For the first time in a number of years, an orchestra will be formed on campus during summer session. Under the direction of Miss Frances Robinson, the orchestra will give a concert at the end of the six weeks session.

Anxious for a large turnout, music department members urge all students able to play an instrument to sign up for the course. It may be taken for credit, 1½ units, or without credit.

Miss Robinson is director of the Chamber Music Players on campus, and is one of the conductors of the college symphony orchestra.

SUMMER PLAYS MELODRAMATIC

Favoring the melodrama type of production for summer audience appeal, Mr. J. Wendell Johnson of the Speech and Drama department will direct the second summer session play, title of which has not yet been decided upon. Naming "Double Door" and "10 Minute Alibi" as exponents of the type of drama he will direct, Mr. Johnson will announce tentatively the name of the play on the first day of summer session.

Tryouts are open to all, and will be held in the Little Theater the first and second weeks of summer session. Mr. Johnson will take names this week for anyone wishing to sign up for early tryouts.

Placement Office Offers Many Jobs

Recent notices of available jobs received by Miss Doris Robinson, Placement office secretary, include two training positions offered by the Los Angeles County Civil Service commission, as well as positions for field visitors, social workers, typists, teachers and counselors.

An internship for a student personnel aid program is offered by the Los Angeles Civil Service commission to persons interested in obtaining actual experience in the various phases of public personnel work. The salary for a 40-hour week is $90, and applicants must have graduated from an accredited college with at least 15 units of upper division or graduate work in the social sciences.

These wages and requirements also apply to an internship for a student research technician offered by the Los Angeles County Bureau of Administrative Research to persons interested in obtaining a variety of actual experience in governmental and administrative research.

Both internships include a study program of lectures, field trips, attendance at staff meetings, directed readings, participation in County training programs open to all county employees, and attendance at meetings of professional and technical groups.

The Alameda County Welfare commission has openings for field visitors, social workers, typists, junior stenographers, and stenographers. Salaries range from $158.33, base typist salary, to $245, top monthly salary for social workers.

The position of Supervisor of Art and Music in the Campus Laboratory school at Winona State Teachers college in Winona, is vacant.

For further information about these jobs, students are asked to contact the Placement office.

INTER-FRATERNITY ALL STARS DEFEAT 'OPEN' LEAGUERS

Behind the three-hit pitching of Dill, regular pitcher for APO, the inter-fraternity All Stars defeated the "open" league All Stars 2-1 Friday afternoon on the San Carlos turf.

It was a tight well played ball game featuring fine pitching on both sides. The winning run was scored in the fourth inning when Wayne Krouskup of Gamma Phi smashed out a home run to put his club out in front 2-1, in the final count.

LONE SCORE

The "open" league's only score came in the fourth inning when Kling, of the Spartan Daily, crossed the plate after reaching first on a hit, advancing to second, and scoring on Castle's life on an error.

Lou DiBari, of Beta Chi, was the leading hitter of the afternoon, getting two safe hits at three times at bat. He accounted for two of the inter-fraternity's five hits.

DRAW FIRST BLOOD

Interfraternity All Stars drew first blood in the second inning when Guettling, of DSG, scored after getting on base via an error, stole to second, and scored when Martinet got to first by virtue of an infield error.

Spartan Trackmen Place Third In Senior PAA Meet

Bud Winter thinks he will come back as Spartan track coach next year—the little man is happy.

Like the golfer who shoots 110 but birdies the last hole and goes home dreaming of his next outing, the San Jose State track team put on its best show of the year last Saturday to capture third position behind the Olympic Club and Fresno State in the senior PAA meet at Edwards Field in Berkeley.

Completing a mediocre season, the Spartans ran up 16 points against the best track and field artists on the Pacific Coast. Don Smalley returned to winning form Saturday to take the hundred from Heck of the Alameda Flyers and Kahn of California in 10.1.

Bob Ehrman found his event last week as he led the Gold and White point gatherers with a win in the hop, step and jump at 43 feet, and took a second in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet. George Terry added a point with a fourth in the javelin, and Ray Overhouse culminated the local scoring with a third in the discus at better than 141 feet.
