SJS Garage Plans Delayed

By ROBERT TAYLOR

One of two parking garages planned for San Jose State must be completed and occupied before money is granted for the other one.

California state college executive deans, meeting here Thursday and Friday, ruled that in view of the "critical need" for parking facilities, one unit of multi-story garages must be in operation before funds are given for more construction, according to Dr. Lawrence E. Turner, executive dean of Humboldt State College.

This decision will affect only those multi-story garages which already have been granted funds for construction, he added.

It is expected that other state colleges will ask for garages in the next budget, Dr. Turner said. New standards for science building lab equipment were given to the 37 executive deans and state representatives at the meeting.

San Jose State plans to build a new science building across San Carlos street within the next five years.

The new standards were drawn up by the state Division of Architecture to standardize both the quality and price of new furniture and equipment.

Establishment of a new committee to study building standards for college residence halls was voted by the deans. (It is expected that the SJS dorms will be completed early next year.)

Much of the meeting time was taken up with discussion of specific items in health, physical education and recreation facilities.

The status of student activity buildings, such as State's proposed Student Union, was also discussed. Dr. C. Grant Burton, SJS executive dean, was host to the meeting.

GOP'ers To Dine At $100 a Plate

Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the Interior, will be guest speaker at a Republican party "$100-a-Plate" dinner tomorrow evening in Hotel Santa Claire.

Secretary Seaton has supported efforts to convert salt water economically into fresh water, reclamation and national park programs.

Dinner chairman George Langhans said 200 tickets have been sold for the dinner.

Prune Picking Machine

Prof Patents New Invention

By JERRY REDFORD

The Mechanical Age is here. And not to dispute its value is Dr. William C. Steele, professor of geography, who has contributed to the mechanical march with the invention of an automatic prune picker.

Is Dr. Steele a cigarette smoking man who thinks for himself—or is there a connection with his inventing the new machine and his geography field?

The answer to both is yes. "A geographer is always interested with the economic and agricultural features of a country," Dr. Steele pointed out.

Coming from South Carolina, and having seen the transition from slave labor to mechanization, Dr. Steele was surprised at the methods used in harvesting here in California.

Mexican Nationals and their families were in the fields, Dr. Steele explained, "harvesting the way that I would imagine prehistoric man did."

HIT TREE

They stand at the base of the tree, and hit it with huge mallets, Dr. Steele pointed out, allowing the fruit to fall to the ground and be damaged.

Shortly after that, Dr. Steele bought an erector set and began building a prune harvester that would take the fruit fresh from the tree. Earlier innovations in this field had produced shakers for harvesting and even the idea of using a hopper, but never together, he said. There was even one machine that worked like a vacuum cleaner, sucking up the fruit (and everything else on the ground), Dr. Steele pointed out.

After several years of working in his spare time, Dr. Steele now has a machine that he feels can do the job quickly and efficiently.

The finished product will be one that can be driven up to the tree, Dr. Steele explained, a button pushed and an orlon or good cloth hopper will go around the base of the tree assuming the shape of a funnel.

Rose Queen Hopefuls

'Greek Show' Debut Will Feature 18 Acts

Eighteen greek organizations have entered the 10th annual "All Greek Show" scheduled for Dec. 4 and 5 at 8 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium. No admission will be charged for the show sponsored by Theta Chi fraternity. Eleven sororities will present skits Friday night and seven fraternities will compete Saturday night, according to Mike Brady, chairman of the show.

This is a change from the Student Activities Calendar, which slated the show for Dec. 3 and 4, Brady pointed out.

All lighting data and tapes are to be turned in by Wednesday at the Theta Chi house, 123 S. 11th Street.

Skits for the show will be "strictly entertainment" and acts will be judged on originality, preparation and presentation. First, second and third place trophies will be presented in each division, Brady said.

"Although fewer groups are entered this year, the acts themselves are better and there is stronger competition," the show chairman stated. The Wayfarers, a folk singing

Orchestra To Perform In Concert

One of the largest SJS Symphony Orchestras in recent years will open its season tonight at 8:15 in Concert Hall.

The 87 members, under the direction of Dr. W. Gibson Walters, will present an identical program tomorrow night at 8:15 in Concert Hall.

Guest soloists both performances will be soprano Glenda Parker and baritone Manuel Patterakis, senior music majors.

The program will open with Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto No. 3 in G Major," followed by Schubert's "Symphony No. 8 in B Minor," the "unfinished symphony."

After an intermission, Puccini's aria from "Madame Butterfly," "Un Bel Di Vedremo," will be sung by Miss Parker.

"Nemico Della Patria," an aria from Giordano's "Andrea Chenier," then will be sung by Mr. Patterakis.

The guest soloists then will join in the duet "Papagena, Papagena," from Mozart's "Magic Flute."

The concert will end with Sibelius' "Finlandia, Tone Poem, Op. 26, No. 7."

The Symphony Orchestra is a student organization and is open to all interested students.

Its officers include: Bruce Stinnet, president; Rowland Schwab, vice president; Erica Rossi, secretary-treasurer; and Stanley Tice, orchestra representative.

Section leaders are: Gwen Dully, concertmaster; Martin Smith, principal violin; Nancy Lund, viola; Stephen Gebhart, cello; Vincenta Lintini, string bass; Ned Spina, brass; Ralph Loomis, woodwind; and Walter Taylor, percussion.

The orchestra's annual Christmas concert will be Dec. 13 at 3 p.m. in Concert Hall. Three additional programs have been scheduled as well as participation in "La Boheme."

New 'Science Center' Aids Student Teacher

Student teachers who are preparing science lessons have a new aid available, the Science Education Consultancy Center, S224.

Under the direction of Dr. Edward J. Harrington, assistant professor of biological science, and Leland Van Fossen, technical assistant, the consultancy center will answer any questions which the student teacher may have about science, give a critical reading of lesson plans, aid in the construction of simple teaching devices and lend materials useful in teaching a science lesson.

Eisenhower Calls Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga., (UPI)—President Eisenhower has called congressional leaders of both parties to the White House Nov. 30 for a bi-partisan breakfast conference on his forthcoming 11-nation tour, the White House said Friday.

Eisenhower invited five Democrats and four Republicans to meet with him before he departs Dec. 3 for Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

The bi-partisan conference was set up after Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) urged the President to take former President Truman or other high-ranking Democrats with him on the 20,000-mile journey.

Eisenhower gently rejected the Dodd proposal in a letter to the senator earlier this week, saying that the nature of the trip precluded his taking anyone but staff assistants "with minimum state department representation."

Sigma Chi Enters 76

200 To Scamper At Turkey Trot

By DOUG WILLIAMS
Sigma Chi fraternity unloaded a 76-man entry list for the 16th running of the Turkey Trot Friday as the entries for the event swelled to 200 runners.

In an all out effort to win the coveted participation trophy, given to the organization with the most men finishing the 3.3 mile course in the allotted time of 30 minutes, several fraternities entered large teams.

Among the leaders were the Sigma Chi entry, Delta Upsilon, gunning for a seventh straight win, with 49 and Sigma Alpha Epsilon with 20 runners.

Not yet entered, but expected to field a big squad is Alpha Tau Omega.

The confident "We'll win it again!" statement by Neil Evans, Delta Upsilon athletic chairman has spurred all organizations in an effort to end the DU's six year reign.

ALL MAY COMPETE

Varsity track coach and Turkey Trot Coordinator Bud Winter stressed the fact that the Greek organizations are not the only groups eligible for the participation trophy. "Any group of students may form a team and compete," he said.

In the open division of the Trot several classy striders have been added to the list of hopefuls. Among them Charlie Clark, state junior college one and two mile champion, looms as one of the top contenders. Frank Wulf-tange, two year varsity distance letterman, and Buzz McGee are other top threats.

Coach Winter indicated that there is more interest in this year's Trot than ever before as the experienced runners go after the top prizes of a large turkey and chicken while the novice pacers aim for the first, second and third place trophies in their division.

RELAY RACE SET

In addition to the Trot, there will be a Greek relay race composed of a 10-man team from each of the fraternities covering a 1000 yard course. This race is limited to men who are members or pledges of an active fraternity and have not lettered in track events at a four-year college.

The relay event will take place immediately after the start of the Turkey Trot run.

On hand at the finish line to present the awards to the victors will be five SJS lovelies, Homecoming Queen Marcia Day and attendants Kathy Eggiman, Tricia Enfield, Sue Evers and Linda Janney.

Also waiting at the finish line will be a dozen eggs, the annual booby prize for the last man to finish the course in the allotted time.

Bonfires Labeled 'Not Riots'

Dean of Students Stanley Benz said Friday that students will pay for damage resulting from the impromptu bonfire rally Thursday night, but he emphatically denied it was a riot.

The students—all men—met with Dean Benz Friday morning and agreed to pay the city for extra duty and overtime pay to firemen who were called to the scene to put out the bonfire.

Dean Benz said this was the only mistake.

"There was no mob action, no jostling policemen, no property damage. The only mistake the students made was starting a bonfire. It was dangerous and it tied up fire fighting equipment necessary to protect other parts of the city," he said.

The "rally" was in two parts. Firemen put out one bonfire at 11th and San Fernando Sts. at 9 p.m. and another, bigger one was started at 11.

Approximately 300 students, including Spardi, participated in yells and songs.

Prof Invites Vets to Feast

Veterans who are far from home have an invitation to a turkey dinner with all the trimmings on Thanksgiving Day, from Dr. William Hermanns, associate professor of German.

The veterans will be guests on an estate in Los Altos. They will leave San Jose at noon Thursday. Interested veterans may contact Dr. Hermanns at CYPRESS 4-6491 or CYPRESS 3-5490.

Dr. Hermanns inaugurated his dinner for "far-from-home" vets twelve years ago. A veteran had mentioned to him that when he had had his uniform, he was able to get invitations. Since he no longer had a uniform, the veteran said, he received no invitations although he still was far from home and in need of friendship.

250 Racks on Periphery

Bicycle Ban Reception 'Wonderful'

Since its inception last April, the ban on riding or parking bicycles on campus has proven very successful.

"The students have shown wonderful cooperation on this rule," said Ralph Bohn yesterday. Mr. Bohn, associate professor of industrial arts, is chairman of the Campus Safety Committee.

It was on the recommendation of this committee and the Student Parking Committee that the Student Council adopted the bicycle ban.

Earlier this year, before the ban, bicycles, although they eased the auto parking program, began to cause other problems. Delivery truck entrances were blocked, congestion in pedestrian areas increased, and some accidents resulted from students riding on campus.

"Today, racks on the periphery of the campus hold approximately 250 bicycles," said John Amos, superintendent of building and grounds. As new campus buildings open, more racks will be added, Mr. Amos said.

Enforcement of the ban falls to Ralph Gough, campus security officer, and his men. There have been no serious violations, he said, although new students, unaware of the ban must often be reminded.

The Campus Safety Committee is composed of 13 faculty members and one student representative. Marty Sleeper, SJS junior, is student member this year.

Mr. Bohn cautioned students to use the racks, and to lock their bicycles when leaving them.

'Greek Show' Debut Will Feature 18 Acts

Eighteen greek organizations have entered the 10th annual "All Greek Show" scheduled for Dec. 4 and 5 at 8 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium. No admission will be charged for the show sponsored by Theta Chi fraternity.

Eleven sororities will present skits Friday night and seven fraternities will compete Saturday night, according to Mike Brady, chairman of the show.

This is a change from the Student Activities Calendar, which states the show for Dec. 3 and 4, Brady pointed out.

"Although fewer groups are entered this year, the acts themselves are better and there is stronger competition," the show chairman stated. The Wayfarers, a folk singing group, will entertain during intermission both nights, Brady added.

The "All Greek Show" began in 1948 as a project for greek organizations after Spardi Gras was disbanded. Last year's winner in the sorority division was Kappa Kappa Gamma with the skit, "What do we think about men?"

Lambda Chi Alpha took first in the fraternity division with the portrayal of "Sinner Man."

Orchestra To Perform In Concert

One of the largest SJS Symphony Orchestras in recent years will open its season tonight at 8:15 in Concert Hall.

The 87 members, under the direction of Dr. W. Gibson Walters, will present an identical program tomorrow night at 8:15 in Concert Hall.

Guest soloists both performances will be soprano Glenda Parker and baritone Manuel Paterakis, senior music majors.

The program will open with Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto No. 3 in G Major," followed by Schubert's "Symphony No. 8 in B Minor," the "unfinished symphony."

After an intermission, Puccini's aria from "Madame Butterfly," "Un Bel Di Vedremo," will be sung by Miss Parker.

"Nemico Della Patria?" an aria from Giordano's "Andrea Chenier," then will be sung by Mr. Paterakis.

The guest soloists then will join in the duet "Papageno, Papageno," from Mozart's "Magic Flute."

The concert will end with Sibelius' "Finlandia, Tone Poem, Op. 26, No. 7."

The Symphony Orchestra is a student organization and is open to all interested students.

Its officers include: Bruce Stinnet, president; Rowland Schwab, vice president; Erica Rossi, secretary-treasurer; and Stanley Tice, orchestra representative.

Section leaders are: Gwen Dully, concertmaster; Martin Smith, principal violin; Nancy Lund, viola; Stephen Gebhart, cello; Vincenta Lintini, string bass; Ned Spina, brass; Ralph Loomis, woodwind; and Walter Taylor, percussion.

The orchestra's annual Christmas concert will be Dec. 13 at 3 p.m. in Concert Hall. Three additional programs have been scheduled as well as participation in "La Boheme."

New 'Science Center' Aids Student Teacher

Student teachers who are preparing science lessons have a new aid available, the Science Education Consultancy Center, S224.

Under the direction of Dr. Edward J. Harrington, assistant professor of biological science, and Leland Van Fossen, technical assistant, the consultancy center will answer any questions which the student teacher may have about science, give a critical reading of lesson plans, aid in the construction of simple teaching devices and lend materials useful in teaching a science lesson.

Eisenhower Calls Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga., (UPI)—President Eisenhower has called congressional leaders of both parties to the White House Nov. 30 for a bi-partisan breakfast conference on his forthcoming 11-nation tour, the White House said Friday.

Eisenhower invited five Democrats and four Republicans to meet with him before he departs Dec. 3 for Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

The bi-partisan conference was set up after Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) urged the President to take former President Truman or other high-ranking Democrats with him on the 20,000-mile journey.

Eisenhower gently rejected the Dodd proposal in a letter to the senator earlier this week, saying that the nature of the trip precluded his taking anyone but staff assistants "with minimum state department representation."

Sigma Chi Enters 76

200 To Scamper At Turkey Trot

By DOUG WILLIAMS
Sigma Chi fraternity unloaded a 76-man entry list for the 16th running of the Turkey Trot Friday as the entries for the event swelled to 200 runners.

In an all out effort to win the coveted participation trophy, given to the organization with the most men finishing the 3.3 mile course in the allotted time of 30 minutes, several fraternities entered large teams.

Among the leaders were the Sigma Chi entry, Delta Upsilon, gunning for a seventh straight win, with 49 and Sigma Alpha Epsilon with 20 runners.

Not yet entered, but expected to field a big squad is Alpha Tau Omega.

The confident "We'll win it again!" statement by Neil Evans, Delta Upsilon athletic chairman has spurred all organizations in an effort to end the DU's six year reign.

ALL MAY COMPETE
Varsity track coach and Turkey Trot Coordinator Bud Winter stressed the fact that the Greek organizations are not the only groups eligible for the participation trophy. "Any group of students may form a team and compete," he said.

In the open division of the Trot several class striders have been added to the list of hopefuls. Among them Charlie Clark, state junior college one and two mile champion, looms as one of the top contenders. Frank Wulf-tange, two year varsity distance letterman, and Buzz McGee are other top threats.

Coach Winter indicated that there is more interest in this year's Trot than ever before as the experienced runners go after the top prizes of a large turkey and chicken while the novice pacers aim for the first, second and third place trophies in their division.

RELAY RACE SET

In addition to the Trot, there will be a Greek relay race composed of a 10-man team from each of the fraternities covering a 1000 yard course. This race is limited to men who are members or pledges of an active fraternity and have not lettered in track events at a four-year college.

The relay event will take place immediately after the start of the Turkey Trot run.

On hand at the finish line to present the awards to the victors will be five SJS lovelies, Homecoming Queen Marcia Day and attendants Kathy Eggiman, Tricia Enfield, Sue Evers and Linda Janney.

Also waiting at the finish line will be a dozen eggs, the annual booby prize for the last man to finish the course in the allotted time.

Bonfires Labeled 'Not Riots'

Dean of Students Stanley Benz said Friday that students will pay for damage resulting from the prompt bonfire rally Thursday night, but he emphatically denied it was a riot.

The students—all men—met with Dean Benz Friday morning and agreed to pay the city for extra duty and overtime pay to firemen who were called to the scene to put out the bonfire.

Dean Benz said this was the only mistake.

"There was no mob action, no jostling policemen, no property damage. The only mistake the students made was starting a bonfire. It was dangerous and it tied up fire fighting equipment necessary to protect other parts of the city," he said.

The "rally" was in two parts. Firemen put out one bonfire at 11th and San Fernando Sts. at 9 p.m. and another, bigger one was started at 11.

Approximately 300 students, including Spardi, participated in yells and songs.

Prof Invites Vets to Feast

Veterans who are far from home have an invitation to a turkey dinner with all the trimmings on Thanksgiving Day, from Dr. William Hermanns, associate professor of German.

The veterans will be guests on an estate in Los Altos. They will leave San Jose at noon Thursday.

Interested veterans may contact Dr. Hermanns at CYPRESS 4-6491 or CYPRESS 3-5490.

Dr. Hermanns inaugurated his dinner for "far-from-home" vets twelve years ago. A veteran had mentioned to him that when he had had his uniform, he was able to get invitations. Since he no longer had a uniform, the veteran said, he received no invitations although he still was far from home and in need of friendship.

Ed Pre-reg For Juniors

Junior elementary education teaching candidates planning to enroll in education courses 104 or 105 next semester, or during the fall, must pre-register today through Nov. 25, according to Dr. Vergil H. Hughes, associate professor of education.

Students enrolled in History of Education, Evaluation of Elementary School Instruction and Children's Literature courses will be able to pre-register with their instructors.

Students not enrolled in these classes may pre-register in TH159.

Moms Vs. Magazines

One of our state's most powerful pressure groups—the California Parent-Teacher Assn.—is loading its guns to blast so-called "pornographic" literature and "girlie" magazines off the stands.

The grand design—PTA publicity reveals—is to keep the kiddies from becoming the innocent dupes of nasty newsdealers and unscrupulous mail order houses.

The two-fold plan of attack promises a close inspection of the advertising which induces kiddies to send for nasty photos and a direct harassment of newbies who vend the stuff from the stands.

The objectionable literature is said to include such titles as "Playboy," "Escapade," and "Esquire"—obviously not aimed at the kiddie market.

Well—at the risk of invoking the wrath of a million maddened moms—we must disagree.

First, all reputable magazines thoroughly check their advertisers for such unethical practices as obscene mailing lists. This means junior was reading a disreputable magazine to begin with.

And second, the best way to put a distributor out of business is to send his material back without payment. If the material is objectionable even to an adult and is legally obscene, postal authorities should be notified.

But most important of all, PTA members would have no cause for alarm if they would put to use the best possible weapon against pornography—a direct and personal supervision of their children's reading habits. —R.M.

Let's Play It Straight

We got some more front page banner publicity Friday: SJS, STANFORD RIOTS.

This sort of newspaper practice—wrong as the students involved may be—is uncalled for and hurts the press as well as the college.

It hurts the press because newspaper distortion is precisely the reason news sources give for refusing to talk to reporters. Distortion is the primary reason so many people are losing confidence in newspapers.

We agree with the community that college students should behave themselves and that the "spirit" rally Thursday night left us wide open for criticism in the local paper.

But it wasn't that big a story. —J.H.A.

Hears 'Dangerous Insinuation' at Talk

EDITOR: At the Spartan Y meeting Nov. 12, two celebrated Negro track stars described in some detail their experiences while traveling on a track tour in Europe.

The topic was "Impressions of European Racial Attitudes vs. American Attitudes."

Mr. Norton and Mr. Williams had much to say on how wonderfully they had been received. They were accepted as equals on the streets, in public places (except when American tourists were present), and ultimately in the European homes.

There was one point in the discussion that seemed to embarrass or shock into silence the group attending the meeting. That was: "Why Americans treat the Negro so badly."

I found at this point a dangerous insinuation. It was drawn from the apparent "friendly and respectful attitudes" of the Europeans as compared to the "unfriendly and disrespectful attitudes" of the Americans.

There is only one field left for the Negro to integrate; that is, the home. To do this he must be able to marry into the white race, date the girls, and become totally and unconditionally accepted in the homes of American society. The Negro must then appeal to the morals of weak and silent people to accomplish this one last feat and bring integration to the heart of American society.

Greek, Army 'Hazing' Proves 'Ineffective'

EDITOR: The hazing of new members by sororities, fraternities and the armed forces is done for the same reason: to supplant individuality with the ideals and goals held by the institution.

Is hazing effective? During the Korean War one out of every three Americans taken prisoner collaborated with his captors.

My personal opinion is that the effective rebuttal of communist ideology will not be accomplished by making our soldiers physical and mental robots. The way it can be done is by the teaching of democratic ideals.

How can this be done by the authoritarian manner of training recruits by the military? How can soldiers be expected to fight effectively when many of them don't understand what they are killing other men and risking their lives for other than that they are being forced to; especially when the country they are supposed to defend in the name of democracy is controlled to some extent by a dictatorship as South Korea is.

There is. You may have heard it before, and you'll probably hear it again. There will be no peace until the actual, physical reappearance of Jesus Christ takes place. Then stand back!

Ohio Coed Earns Tuition In Summer as N.Y. Hooper

By JERRY NACHMAN
Drama Editor

★ Penni Hollwager swept through the stage door and came down the maroon-gold carpeted stairs in a terry-cloth bathrobe. It was New York, the summer of 1958.

A native of Massillon, Ohio, (29,000 people), Penni is an unusual 21-year-old senior at Ohio University who spends her summers in New York getting money for college by working with a dance group.

The troupe calls itself the Rockettes.

Akron, Ohio, The Rockettes' best source for dancing talent, is where Penni grew up; she said 16 of 98 Rockettes had come from Akron.

How does Penni Hollwager take to the "big city" ways and her job with the world's slickest dance outfit?

She batted the lashes and admitted, "It isn't all glamour." The ultra-costumed Rockette troupe, "Nineteen-eight of the World's Loveliest Girls" whirling and kicking, jumping and clicking in the cadence of a 98-man drilling unit, has all its glamour on stage.

Like some gorgeous 196-legged centipede, the line bends and weaves under the lights in the Radio City Music Hall; knees together, ankles together, toes together—not one wrinkle unlike the 97 others.

And high-stepping in her place, third from the middle, is blonde and green-eyed Penni Hollwager of Massillon, O.

★ Penni wears her long yellow hair piled on her head; her green eyes tip upward at the edges and are shrouded in purple eye-shade daubed thickly on both lids.

Thirteen of Penni's 21 years have been spent dancing, mostly ballet and tap—the two most called-for talents in The Rockette routines.

"I am third from the center," Penni explained and pointed to a window-size blow-up of the block-long chorus line, the most famous in the world.

At 5 feet, 8 inches, the slim dancer is nearly the loftiest hooper among the 98 Rockettes.

Penni's face is mannequin-like in perfection; but the real features are hidden beneath a mask of Lon Chaney-thick make-up. But from the audience, pretty Penni is just another face in the crowd of girls.

Now in her third year in the high-kick game, Penni Hollwager calls her summer employment, "Just a job." She earns $80 a week.

Such nonchalance from a girl out of Massillon, Ohio, appears no more real than her foot-long stage eye-lashes.

Dick Bass Haunts State, 20-7

Monday, November 23, 1959

SPARTAN DAILY—3

BY GREGORY H. BROWN
SPORTS EDITOR

Stockton — An aroused COP Tiger football team, led of course by Dick Bass, the greatest scorer in Pacific history, put the finishing touch on a dismal late season showing by San Jose State, drubbing them 20-7 before a disappointing turnout of 14,000 spectators at Stockton Saturday night. The Tigers, with Bass scoring all three touchdowns, completely dominated first half play by taking a 12-0 lead.

Bass scored the first Tiger TD with only five minutes gone in the game. Pacific took the opening kickoff and with Bob Vander Wall at the controls they struck for the initial score with the Pacific quarterback throwing just one pass to Gene Stafford for a 15-yard gainer in the scoring drive. The kick by Henry Wallace was wide.

BURTON GRAB

After a fumble by Bass on a lateral play shortly after, Ray Podesto came off the Spartan bench and pitched a 38-yard pass to Mac Burton, the SJS offensive star of the game, who wrestled the ball away from two Pacific defenders to give the Gold and White a first and ten on the 11.

The running game couldn't puncture the Tiger line so Podesto fired a pass and Henry Wallace saved the Bengals with a fine interception. The Spartans didn't come any closer to scoring a TD in the first half. Pacific started their next drive on their own 21 with Bob Gatiss in at the signal calling seat. The COP runners seemed to run at will against the Spartans in the next series of downs as they went to the San Jose 34 but fumbled.

Oneal Cuterry on the next play for the Spartans returned the compliment and the Tigers took over on the visitors 43 yard line. In six plays the Bengals roared for their second score with Bass hitting right tackle for nine and the TD. Again the conversion was no good on a pass play.

The half ended four minutes later with the home team in command 12-0. The first half stats had the Tigers with 170 yards rushing which told the story of the initial half. With their outside pitchouts around the end they were murder and it seemed as if Coach Bob Titchenal's crew would have their hands full containing them in the second half.

The Spartans took the kick and returned it to their own 36 after the second half kickoff. Then Cuterry, on an attempted triple reverse, fumbled and Pacific fell on the ball on the Spartan 27.

EXTRA POINTS

By GREGORY H. BROWN

CLOSE TO 60 SENIORS will feel the prongs of the AFL (American Football League) draft today as the new league entry to pro football attempts to muster grid strength for next September's opening session.

Most of the new franchises will be vying for the top offensive talent in the nation but a limitation has been put on the bidders as far as drafting offensive backs are concerned.

NEW 'LIMITED' DRAFT

Each of the new teams will have to select an entire squad (every position) before they may grab the collegiate gridders at random. Officials running the show in Minneapolis have come up with this system in an attempt to keep the unbalance of the teams at a minimum.

SAID MAX WINTER, general manager and director of the new pro league's draft, "If we had wide open drafting, everybody would go after the quarterbacks and publicized ball carriers."

Funny... but this sort of limitation hardly seems to keep the pendulum from swinging to one side. It is a known fact that when the two entries in the NFL draft next Monday for the most part will go after the backfield talent.

OFFENSE TALENT SHIFTED

That is why we have quarterbacks as defensive halfbacks and halfbacks as offensive ends. The pro teams find their arsenal filled with nothing but offensive stars and in many instances throw defense to the wind.

Of course the new draft initiated by the AFL, which is not in any way affiliated with the NFL, is not binding on the players.

THE NEW LEAGUE drafting today has a one week head start on the NFL which may seem to many an advantage, but their selections are not binding on the players.

PLAYER MAKES DECISION

The NFL may draft the same players next week and then the player himself is the one that decides who he is going to play for. Considering this, it appears that the western and eastern divisions of the NFL have a tremendous advantage.

They are stocked with many outstanding collegiate grid stars of the past few years, many who are sitting on the bench. They have a lot more stability behind them and therefore won't have to meet the demands of the players.

Take for instance Dick Norman of Stanford. He may get drafted for instance by Dallas in the very first round.

Next week he may get picked off by Green Bay. It is up to Norman whether he wants to play for Dallas or Green Bay. This is where the new league is going to meet their Waterloo.

MONEY TALKS

THE FIRST ROUND draft choices know that the AFL will have to shell out more moolah to obtain their services than will the NFL because they haven't any players in reserve in case a prospective gridders backs out. Therefore it must meet the demands of the players if it wants to field a team for next season. Otherwise they (the players) may join forces with the grey-beards of the NFL and sit on the bench for a lesser salary and keep their jersey clean.

Machen-Folley Bout Set for Cow Palace

Eddie Machen will get a chance to redeem himself for his lack-luster showing made against Zora Folley earlier this year when the two clash in a return heavyweight go at the Cow Palace in January.

The actual date has not been decided but promoter Bennie Ford said that it would be on Jan. 18 or 20.

Ford tried to promote the match over a month ago with negative results on the part of the Folley camp. Bill Swift, Folley's manager, said that he didn't want to fight Machen in San Francisco but apparently had a change of heart after his fighter made a dismal showing in bulling his way to a decision last week over Alonzo Johnson.

Machen and Folley fought in April and at the end of 12 rounds neither proved much and the decision rendered was a draw. Machen was thoroughly disgusted with his showing and has been wanting to get Folley again for some time.

After the last Folley fight, Machen journeyed to Sweden and got himself decked in one round against the present heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson.

On the comeback path, Machen has beaten Ruben Vargas in San Francisco and then put him in the clouds in a return go. Later, he belted Pat McMurtry out in one round.

At the time, promoter Ford is scouting around for an opponent for Bobo Olson. The kayo of Yvon Durelle by George Chuvalo cooled his Dec. 7 match.

Frosh Win Finale, 28-6

Dave Bonillas and Ed Erdelatz Jr. paved the way for a 28-6 victory over Napa JC for the freshman football team in its last game of the season.

Bonillas culminated two long drives with touchdown runs of 29 and 9 yards.

Erdelatz Jr. intercepted a Napa pass and ran 45 yards for the third T.D. Bill Palmer grabbed off a loose Napa toss and rambled 60 yards for the last touchdown of the season for the Spartan freshman team.

The yearlings finished the season with a three won and five lost record.

Boston Club 8th Member Of New AFL

Boston became the eighth and final entry into the new American Football League last week as all teams are in readiness for today's draft session in Minneapolis.

Other teams in the new pro football league are New York, Los Angeles, Dallas, Houston, Denver, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Buffalo.

For awhile it was speculated that Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia baseball team, might become the eighth member but the rumors were squelched when Boston was admitted entry.

Late Friday the new entry still was coachless and had no general manager, something which should be cleared up by today. The Boston entry is also looking for a place to house its games.
