SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE

Greek Queens

The yearbook staff has asked that any fraternity sponsoring a campus or fraternity queen contest notify the La Torre office. A note may be placed in the La Torre box in J1 to inform the staff of the contest, candidates, and place and time of judging.

Senior Pictures

Senior pictures for La Torre will be taken today through Jan. 20 in J1 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Seniors are requested to make appointments in the Student Affairs Business Office, TH16, with a 50-cent deposit. The total cost is $1.50.

Few Takers in Field For 12 ASB Positions

Student government at San Jose State still has personnel gaps in it that have to be filled soon, ASB Pres. Rich Hill said Friday.

Two more resignations of the kind that have plagued the Student Council all semester became effective last week. A committee of nine persons and a chairman for another committee are needed by the end of the semester, Hill said.

TWO RESIGN
Becky Fudge, ASB recording secretary, and Jerry Alexander, Student Court chief justice, said they are sorry that time would not allow them to keep their posts next semester.

Hill said one person has applied for the recording secretary job, but no one has signed up for the chief justice post although several persons have "expressed interest."

A chairman and eight members are needed for the Recognition Committee to plan the Recognition Banquet scheduled for May. The Rally Committee chairman post also is open.

NO RECOGNITION TAKERS
No one has applied for positions on the Recognition Committee although so far three applicants seek the Rally Committee chairman job. Applications for recording secretary and the Rally Committee post were continued until Wednesday.

Nazi Signs Hit Campus

Two incidents of swastika sign painting—one on the San Jose State campus and one in front of a sorority house—were reported Friday morning.

Two such signs (each a foot high) were painted in red on the side of the aeronautics building near the volley ball courts. Rain Friday morning washed most of the swastika away.

Chi Omega sorority reported that a small red swastika was sloppily painted on the sidewalk in front of the annex house at 430 S. Fifth St.

Music Series Nears Close; Recital Tonight

Eleven music students will present a student recital tonight at 8:15 in Concert Hall, to bring the Music Department's student recital schedule almost to an end.

The final student recital of the semester will be given tomorrow night at 8:15 in Concert Hall. Tonight's recital will begin with Telemann's "Trio Sonata in C Minor" performed by Janet Telford, flute; Charles Price, oboe; and Eugene Sterling, piano.

"O Isis und Osiris," from Mozart's "Der Zauberflöte" and Tchaikovsky's "Pilgrim's Song" will be sung by bass Fred Scott, accompanied by Joan Moss.

Cellist Donna Fammatre, accompanied by Yvaine Duisit, will play Faure's "Klegie, op. 24."

Tenor Lariel Montgomery will sing "Ahi! troppo e duro" by Monteverdi and "L'ultima canzone" by Tosti. He will be accompanied by Sandra Montgomery.

"Five Pieces for Piano, op. 34" by Ben Haim will be played by Marilyn Beebe.

Mezzo-soprano Brooke Shebley will sing Lully's "Bois Epais," and Brahms' "Treue Liebe."

Soprano Sylvia Barkman will present Pergolesi's "Se tu m'ami" and Schubert's "Des Maedchens Klage."

ONE OF TWO—Two SJS students, Senior Michael Johnson and an unidentified student, examine one of the two swastika sign paintings. Since no complaints were reported to San Jose police, they are not investigating the matter.

'Candida' Witty Hit, Thought-Provoking

By JERRY NACHMAN
Drama Editor

In a play where George Bernard Shaw tosses truth out on the living room carpet and then proceeds to walk all over it, "Candida," presented Friday and Saturday nights in the Studio Theater, proved a successful, but somewhat restrained production.

Shaw's lines, often so witty they stand up of their own accord like a dirty sock, are hard to carry off, and only skillful acting and just-right voice force can put them across.

Friday evening's opening night presentation, directed by Dr. Paul Davee, associate professor of drama, was not Shaw at his best, but nevertheless good Shaw — good enough for any audience.

Handling the nearly impossible demands of in-the-round theater, Dr. Davee had his actors moving sufficiently in a chatty play, so that he had all four sides well covered.

Kenneth Dorst's lighting was especially well pin pointed, and J. Wendell Johnson's sets, while necessarily simple in the in-the-round form, were sufficient. Miss Bernice Prisk's costumes blended in-

Speech, Drama Department Studies Idea of FM Station

Feasibility of a low-power FM radio station on the SJS campus is being investigated by staff and students in the Speech and Drama Department.

There are already more than 150 educational FM stations in the nation and about a dozen low-power stations in California colleges.

"There would be no difficulty in securing a frequency for broadcasting, but plans would first have to be submitted to the administration for consideration," said Associate Professor of Drama Clarence Flick, closed-circuit KOED's adviser.

Research is now being conducted to determine cost, program possibilities, potential audience, technical requirements and student radio listening habits.

Dr. Flick would not estimate the length of time it would take before the proposed station would be in operation. Plans must first be submitted to the College Radio and Television Committee and the administration.

Programs would be aimed primarily at SJS students. "It would first be a student service and second a community education service," Dr. Flick said. "It would also bring realistic training to our students," he added.

The proposed station would have a range of from 5 to 15 miles, and would be the first area station to cater exclusively to students.

The only other FM stations in San Jose are KSJO-FM, which features background music, and the new KRPM, a "fine music" station.

Patrol Places Car Taboo On Property

Empty lots, yards and driveways owned by the state south of the college are NOT available for parking, the California Highway Patrol warned Friday. Cars found on state property will be towed away, the CHP said.

Buildings on the state-owned property are scheduled to be moved to make way for new college buildings. And some of the property has not been purchased completely by the state, according to Vice Pres. William J. Dusel.

The highway patrol has placed warning notices on windshields of cars parked on the property, but they have been "ignored repeatedly" a spokesman said.

"Starting at once, without additional warnings, violators will be cited . . . and cars may be towed away at owners' expense," he said.

The new coordinator will supervise all student housing except Spartan City.

Taking Dean Baron's place as assistant to Dean of Students Stanley C. Benz is Don Ryan, a 1959 SJS graduate. Mr. Ryan took office today. He was 1957-58 ASB president.

Another appointment in the housing area is that of Mrs. Dorothy Hutchings, a 1958 graduate of State, who will succeed Mrs. Izetta Pritchard as housing counselor on Feb. 1. Mrs. Pritchard is retiring.

Dean Baron Appointed Coordinator

Robert L. Baron, assistant dean of students for the past year and a half, has been named college housing coordinator, a new position made necessary by the construction of six dorms.

Dean Baron has assumed his new duties and is making plans for the operation of the dorms. They will be completed for the fall semester.

With some star halfbacks carrying the acting ball for Dr. Davee, Richard Rosomme, Richard Parks, Cheryl Del Biaggio and John Higgins, "Candida" moved swiftly, and kept Shaw's wit well intact.

Lloyd Kearns' cockney accent was far too obvious, and some of his gestures and movements didn't carry the character as well as they might have.

Always a delight to watch, Richard Parks, while in the show's tiniest role, showed his vitality and adeptness in carrying off the minor part in top style.

Rosomme, as Candida's "windbag" preacher-husband, kept the show in high gear all the way, and his force on stage held the interest in otherwise staid parts.

Miss Del Biaggio's interpretation of Candida was a bit too placid. Her lack of emotion, while in need of contrast with Higgins' and Rosomme's high-tension jobs, was somewhat too softly handled.

Receiving the only exit applause was Lois Haight, as Rosomme's prim, but not-really proper secretary. Miss Haight made the most of her role.

John Higgins, as the rhyme-spouting poet, Marchbanks, recited the show's Shavian truth, and was the hub of the play's eternal triangle.

Higgins, although he is only supposed to be 18 in the play, was handicapped by his 16-year-old voice and appearance, causing the audience to search its imagination for reason to believe the "little boy" falling for a 33-year-old woman—Candida.

Higgins nonetheless turned in a fine performance and let Shaw's quips fall where they might, never overplaying a part which could be easily overplayed.

Some of the documents found were:—A 1902 San Jose telephone directory, the size of a small pamphlet.

—A letter from Andrew Carnegie to the mayor of San Jose.

—The San Jose High School roll and faculty list.

—The author and title list of the "San Jose Free Library."

—Publications of Santa Clara College (now university).

—Golden jubilee publications of the University of the Pacific in Santa Clara (now College of the Pacific in Stockton).

—A history of Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton.

—Four copies of the local newspapers for the two days preceding the cornerstone laying ceremonies.

—And, finally, a short history and list of teachers at "San Jose State Normal School."

Get Reg Permits

Registration permits for limited students are available in Adm102 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and from 5 to 9:45 p.m. in Adm159. Dr. Arthur H. Price, coordinator of evening programs, has announced.

Tentative deadline for securing permits has been set for Friday.

IBM master cards will be made from the list of the registrants.

Senior Rep Election Vote 'Light'

Roger Johnson was elected senior representative by 30 members of his class in a runoff vote Friday.

Johnson tied with Bill Gilbreth for the post in the December ASB elections. At that time, a deciding vote in favor of Gilbreth was disqualified by election officials because it was marked with pencil instead of the poll stamp.

Friday's vote was 30-2 in favor of Johnson. Again one vote was disqualified for incorrect marking.

Only one polling place—the Outer Quad—was used in Friday's election.

"The rain cut down what would have been a light vote in the first place," Jerry Alexander, election chief, said. "We should have set up the booths in the Cafeteria."

Spartacamp Reg Begins

Registration for Spartacamp, a leadership session held each spring in Monterey, began this morning and will continue through Thursday, Don Brown, camp director, said Friday.

The $10 registration fee covering lodging, food, training materials and transportation to the Asilomar Conference Grounds must be paid when the student registers.

Women are registering today and tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in front of the Spartan Bookstore.

Men will register Wednesday and Thursday at the same time and place.

Independents To Merge?

Will a merger of the Independent Women's Housing Council and the Independent Men's Council be beneficial for the two groups?

That will be the main topic of discussion when the two groups meet in their last joint meeting of the semester tonight at 7 in the cafeteria faculty dining room, according to Dick Johnston, IMC president.

Members of all the independent houses have been invited to the meeting to present pros and cons of the proposed merger.

Johnston said, "I hope that there will be a large turnout," he said, "rather than just the elected representatives from each house," he added.

A merger would be beneficial to the two groups, he said, because of the similarity of the activities conducted by the groups.

Human Time Bomb'

Prof To Speak Tomorrow On Birth Control, Population

By DEANNE BOOMER
"Some means of birth control is the only solution for overpopulation," said Dr. Carl Duncan, chairman of the natural science area, who will speak tomorrow at 10:30 a.m., S112.

"It is not true," he continued, "that the problem of overpopulation will not affect people in the United States. The standard of living can be depressed in the United States, even within the lifetime of students here."

Dr. Duncan will speak on "Population Growth—The Human Time Bomb."

The lecture is sponsored by the College Lecture Committee.

LOOK TO FUTURE
It is estimated, said Dr. Duncan, that the earth's population, unchecked, will double in the next 40 years. The question is whether we will want to live in a "standing room only" world.

"We can't wait till these things are imminent before we start thinking about them. We must start looking forward," said Dr. Duncan.

Problems in international relations will be involved in the overpopulation problem. Nations where the population is growing very fast, will look with envy on the "wide open spaces" in the United States.

CHINA WANTS ROOM
"China wants room now," he said. "They don't care whom they displace. When they get desperate, killing off a few million Indians will not bother them."

If the population problem remains unsolved, the professor said, the standard of living can sink to a subsistence level, and the natural controls—disease, famine, pestilence—will return.

Dr. Duncan feels that every educational device should be used to inform people of the problem. He also thinks that nations should cooperate with each other to find a solution.

Dr. Duncan received his education at Stanford University. He has written for many biological and educational publications and is a consultant for the Encyclopedia Britannica on a series of science film strips for elementary schools.

Swastika Smears Prestige

The yokels who painted those swastikas on the Aeronautics building and in front of the Chi Omega sorority house have broken up a pretty good record for SJS.

In past years while college students in other parts of the nation jammed into telephone booths and had "hunkerin'" (squatting) contests, the collegiates hereabouts continued to lead their sophisticated lives. But the swastika bandwagon was too much for somebody, who had to get out the paintbrush and dress up some public property with the Nazi symbol.

It's too bad. Caught in the right mood you can smile at those other fads. But there's nothing funny about Hitler's Nazism or its symbol. —J.H.A.

Hope Brown Likes It

We're surprised that Governor Pat Brown's reception of the Master Plan for Education has not been more enthusiastic.

The Plan's most important recommendation—a separate governing board for state colleges similar to the UC Regents—was proposed by the Governor himself when he made a campaign speech at SJS in 1958.

Brown told SJS students at the time that state colleges were getting too big to remain under the State Board of Education.

But the Governor has not committed himself on any part of the Master Plan and in his statewide radio-television speech Tuesday night he said only that he is giving it "careful scrutiny."

We hope his views have not changed since 1958. —J.H.A.

Life, liberty, and all that jazz

ATTENTION ALL HISTORY MAJORS and minors: Tomorrow is John Hancock's birthday. I think I heard someone in the back say, "So what?" and shrug his or her shoulders. And I think "so what?" is a fair enough question to ask of our history textbooks.

Is it enough that we know John Hancock was the first signer of the Declaration of Independence? Is it enough to know he founded the first life insurance company? Is it enough to know that of all the signers he had probably the best hand writing?

No, it is not nearly enough.

What I would like to know is just what went on behind those oaken doors in the Second Continental Congress on July 3 and 4. The history books get a little hedgy when it comes down to specifics. I think a supplement to history is needed at such lapses and so I have taken it upon myself to write such a supplement. "Nachman's Ridiculously Basic History of the United States" is what I call it.

On page 137 I believe I have caught the spirit of '76 in some snatches of dialogue which have been more or less reconstructed from my own background in American history.

FRANKLIN: (To Hancock) Damn it, Jack, I don't like this "in order to form a more perfect union" clause here. Let's see if we can't sharpen it up just a little.

HANCOCK: It does need reworking all right, but I can't do anything more with it. Tom?

JEFFERSON: I think Ben has a point there, Jack. Actually there can't be a MORE perfect union. "Perfect" is an absolute term and can't be made more so. Get what I mean?

HANCOCK: Well, it's a damn shame. I kind of liked it. Let's save it; maybe we can use it somewhere else.

SAM ADAMS: Tea, fellows?

HANCOCK: Thanks, Sam. Say, Ben, let's get on here to the signing; I'd like to get this thing out of the way as quickly as possible. There are a few other things I have to get done today. . . .

FRANKLIN: Yes, yes. But there's another phrase here that bothers me. This "when in the course of human events" thing. Don't you think that's an awfully weak beginning? I mean, this whole thing is ambiguous as hell as it now stands. I don't think "human events" is a very concrete term. Can't we do better?

And there's another thing here: this ". . . our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor" bit; doesn't that seem a little—well, you know—syrupy? . . .

ADAMS: Boys, boys, let's stop all this petty squabbling and stop for some tea.

HANCOCK: Thanks, Sam. Let's go on here to some of these rights. I've got speech, taxation, quartering soldiers, jury trial, hearing arms, search and seizure, and a few others. Any questions?

JEFFERSON: None here. They look good to me.

FRANKLIN: On that freedom of speech thing—

HANCOCK: That's enough, Ben. Okay, do I hear a second on these first ten rights?

ADAMS: I'll second it. And would anyone like some tea? There's plenty, really. . . .

HANCOCK: If there are no objections, I'll call for the question. Okay, all in favor of passing this Declaration raise their hand . . .

EDITOR: The shocking behavior of a president and his political cronies in keeping out all new members on election night to insure themselves of victory was never more apparent than in the recent office maneuverings of the Young Republicans.

I suppose that by keeping out new blood the status quo could be maintained. As it is, the club does not tolerate viewpoints other than their own—they seem to bathe in the ooze of intellectual complacency.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Ken Murphy meets with Revenue Accounting people to discuss a new statistical formula. This will be used to proportion the billing time spent on interstate and intrastate Long Distance calls.

He's making math and telephones add up to a fine business career

During his senior year in college, math major Kendall T. Murphy had job interviews with several firms, but none of them appealed to him. "I wasn't interested in doing pure mathematics," he says. "I wanted to apply math and statistics to everyday business problems and have management responsibilities, too."

At a professor's suggestion, Ken talked with a Bell System representative and was "surprised to learn how many practical applications statistics had in telephone company operations." The thorough and varied training program and opportunities to advance as a member of management also impressed him.

Ken joined the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at Sacramento, California, in June, 1956. Two years of rotational training familiarized him with company equipment, services and commercial procedures. Then he was assigned to the Chief Statistician's Office in San Francisco.

Today, as a Staff Statistician, Ken is applying his math background to a variety of statistical studies dealing with: rates and revenue, inventory and obsolescence of equipment, customer opinion, personnel administration, quality control and auditing.

"This is a big, fast-growing business," says Ken, "and I feel I'm helping it operate more efficiently every day. That's a mighty satisfying way to put my college education to work."

Ken Murphy got his B.A. in Mathematics from the University of California's Santa Barbara College in 1956. He's one of many young men building interesting careers in the Bell Telephone Companies. There could be one for you, too. Be sure to talk it over with the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus.

Bengals All 'Wright,' Coast In, 66-55

San Jose State's Spartan basketballers ran into a hot shooting Leroy Wright of COP Friday night, who hit 15 of 18 field goal attempts to give the Bengals a 66-55 win before 2,000 spectators in Spartan Gym.

The Bengals opened an early 6-0 lead and then shot to a comfortable 38-24 half time margin, and then held the Spartans at bay in the final minutes when the locals started narrowing the gap.

At the offset, it was apparent that this wasn't one of the Spartans' better games; their leading scorer, Dennis Marc, couldn't muster a score and he ended the encounter with one charity toss.

The Tigers, taking command of the action throughout the game, fired the ball to Wright (Johnny on the spot) when in doubt, and he dunked the sphere in the hoop.

Wright dominated the backboards for both squads hauling down 16 rebounds to continue his torrid pace which leads the NCAA rebound parade. The Tigers had a decided edge in rebounds, 59-35.

The Spartans clung on desperately during the first half, staying within four to six points of the Bengals, but with six minutes to go in the first period, the visitors scored seven straight points to pull away 28-19 and the Spartans never could close the gap from then on.

The locals were plagued by bad passing all night long and Coach McPherson was shutting his players in with amazing rapidity.

Gary Ryan, sparking a last minute Spartan drive, took high point honors for SJS with 13. Vic Carl and Bob Chapman hit for 10 apiece.

McPherson revamped his starting five for the second half, installing Art Dalbey at center and Fred Mitchell at guard, but the Tigers gradually lengthened their lead and led by 20 points with seven minutes to go and closed the gap to 62-55 with three and one half minutes left, but Wright meshed two straight under-the-basket shots to shoot the COPers out of trouble.

The Spartan Freshman basketball team had an easy time of it romping home, 75-44, over the COP frosh.

Bill Yonge hit 20 points to pace the scoring for the winners and Orin Eldridge tanked 16 for runner-up honors. The yearlings held a 36-16 edge at halftime and during the final period stole the ball repeatedly from the harrassed Baby Bengals.

McPherson has yet to come up with a dependable starting five and has had to count on Joe McGrath and Bob Chapman, both seniors, to carry the team (mostly sophomores) when they come "unglued."

The Spartan Freshmen will tackle the Bronco frosh quint at 6:15 in the opener. The varsity game will start at 8:15.

The State quintet, off their COP showing, will have to correct many mistakes, according to McPherson if they are to stay in the game against the tough Broncos.

NOT STABLE YET

"It Started with a Kiss"

Grid Rivalry Could Result Over Pro Sport

Los Angeles, already a notoriously sports-minded town, will have to choose between two professional football teams next season when the Los Angeles Chargers take residence there.

With Sid Gillman, the deposed coach of the other pro team, the Los Angeles Rams, handling the reins of the new entry, the rivalry of the fans could approach torrid extremes.

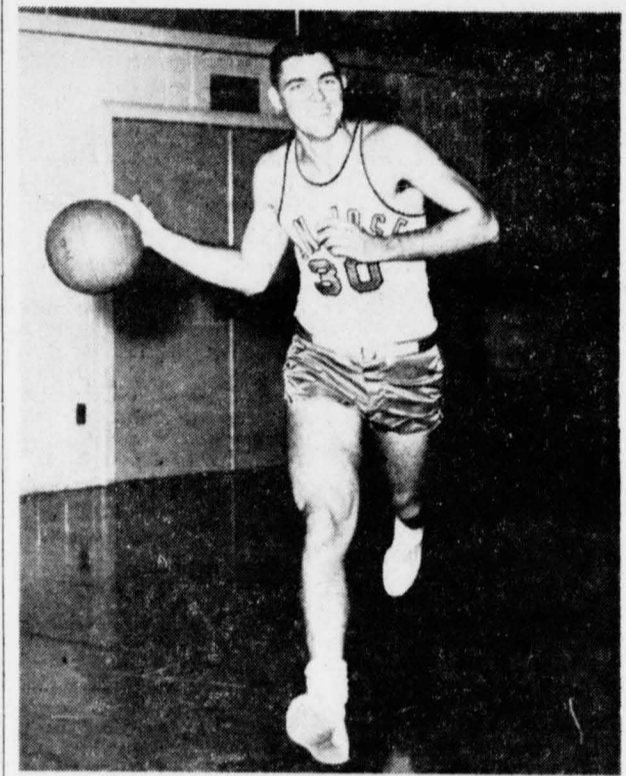

Although neither of the teams will meet each other just yet, both will go all out in an attempt to beat one another to the punch attendance, player and record wise.

At this juncture, however, it is doubtful if the new AFL entry will be in a position to seriously threaten the stranglehold of popularity the Rams have at the moment.

The Chargers, as well as many teams in the new league, are suffering from a player shortage and it is doubtful whether the new league will start full-fledged competition with the other members this year.

Another issue could arise over the housing of the Chargers' home town games. The only logical place for the new grid team to play is the Coliseum, the site of the Rams' home games.

A similar situation could reach realistic proportions right here in the bay area if Oakland lands a franchise in the AFL. With the withdrawal of Minneapolis from the list of AFL entries, Oakland has been given serious consideration, although nothing definite has been worked out yet.—G.H.B.

Window Debut By Sugar Ray

Sugar Ray Robinson, who has boxed in hundreds of gyms and rings during his long career, will train in the window of a Boston department store to help the March of Dimes.

Promoter Sam Silverman said Sugar Ray would begin his window training Jan. 14, with no admission being charged. However, collections will be taken for the March of Dimes.

QUITE A CHAP—Bob Chapman, the Spartans' steady playing forward is one of Coach Walt McPherson's most consistent players.

Army Spikers Test Spartans

The all-world army volleyball champions from the San Francisco Presidio provide the first home competition for the newly formed NCAA volleyball contingent from San Jose State at 7:30 tomorrow night in the men's gym.

The army team recently won the Reno Tournament and is a good bet to go far in the national AAU tournament.

San Jose is the only active college team in the sport in Northern California and Coach Roger McCandless has high hopes of competing in the collegiate division of the AAU tournament.

The starting team for the Spartans is: setters Tom Nilsson and David Hardwicke, spikers Bill Smyth, Jim Williams, Jerry Ackert and Will Banks.

So far this season, the team is operating on a self supporting budget. The school has not yet decided to award any cost to defray personal monetary losses by the members of the team.

LUCKY STRIKE presents
Dear Dr. Frood:
MARRYING FOR MONEY—IS FROOD IN FAVOR?
(see below)

Dear Dr. Frood: The other day I stopped at my boy friend's house unexpectedly and I found Lucky Strike butts with lipstick on them in the ash tray. What should I do?
Observant

Dear Discouraged: Use Frood's Formula: Divide distance between students' chairs by 2. Since chairs will now be closer together, result should be a 50% improvement in exam grades.
Discouraged

Dear Dr. Frood: Last Saturday my girl told me she couldn't go out with me because she had a cold. Next day I found out she was out with my roommate. Think I should stay away from her?
Disillusioned

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a 267-pound tackle on the football team, cleanup hitter on the baseball team, champion shot-putter and captain of the basketball team. Where can I find a job when I graduate?
Athletically Inclined

Dear Athletically Inclined: Look in the Want Ads under "Boy—strong."

Dear Dr. Frood: Recently, while collecting ants, I happened upon this strange creature in the woods. I enclose a sketch. What is it?
Nature Lover

Dear Dr. Frood: I understand that your hobby is cooking. Mine is, too. But my girl friend says any guy who cooks is a sissy. How can I make her stop laughing at me?
Cooky

Dear Cooky: Place a large cauldron of oil over a high flame. When it comes to a boil, add your girl friend.
Old-Fashioned

Dear Dr. Frood: Should a man marry a girl who makes more money than he does?
Old-Fashioned

Dear Old-Fashioned: If it's at all possible.
