Music Festival Boasts Original Compositions

More than 70 unpublished music compositions will be performed by San Jose State music groups at the third annual Contemporary Music festival in Concert Hall today.

Compositions for the all-day program will be presented by band, orchestra, choral and chamber ensemble groups. The festival is open to the public without charge.

The band, under the direction of Dr. Robert Hare, associate professor of music, will perform at 10:30 this morning. Opening the afternoon program will be presentation of chamber music at 1:30, orchestra compositions at 2:30 and choir music at 3:30. The festival will close at 4:30.

COMPOSERS' FORUM

Visiting composers took part in a composers' forum today, moderated by Thomas Ryan, professor of music, at 9:30 a.m.

Among the composers attending the festival are Halsey Stevens, University of Southern California; George Perle and Larry Austin, University of California, Davis campus; George McKay, University of Washington; Ira Schwarz, Iowa; Phillip Browne, Arizona; Lowell McCann, Hartnell College; Joseph Lukewitz, Illinois; John Smith, California; Sydney Hodkinson, University of Virginia, and Roger Nixon, Modesto junior college.

The festival was established in

CSTA Council Meets Today

State dues increase, national representation and scholarship plans will be key issues facing the 21st annual Executive Council meeting of CSTA (California Student Teachers Assn.) today and tomorrow at Burlingame.

Among the representatives from all over the state will be SJS Chapter Pres. Kenneth Prusso and two other official delegates.

Also on the agenda for the meet is the election of new officers and the adoption of the organization's new name—SCTA (Student-California Teachers Assn.) effective today.

Gary Wilson, SJS junior mathematics major, is running for vice president. He is co-chairman of an educational group active in the state.

Although chapters have official delegates fixed in number, state Pres. James Relf reminds members that any number of unofficial non-voting members may attend.

'Schooling Essential ...'

Instructors in Soledad School Describe It as 'Like Any Other'

By MAXINE HARRIS

Academic schooling is "essential to adjustment" of the men at Soledad state prison — so say three teachers now attending SJS evening classes. They are part of the faculty of 25 which daily teaches 1200 students in the prison.

Orval Hillman, O'Neal Hayes and their supervisor, Delbert Paben, are three of the seven Soledad teachers who travel to SJS once a week for classes to complete credential requirements.

Speaking for the three, Mr. Paben described the academic program of the prison as "the same as public school, except for location."

VOCATION EDUCATION

The state department of correction contracts with the school district of nearby Salinas to train teachers for prison schools. The state also runs a vocational department in addition to the academic school. In Soledad there are 25 shops for vocational education.

According to Mr. Paben, the schools are run on a strictly voluntary basis—with grades 1 through 1957 to provide an opportunity for unpublished works to be performed and to promote music compositions for high school and college music groups.

Dr. Gibson Walters, professor of music, will direct the orchestra performance, and William Erlendson, professor of music, will conduct the choral groups. Clement Hutchinson, assistant professor of music, will direct woodwinds, and Eugene Sterling, graduate student, will be in charge of the brass ensemble.

TASC Plans 'Sit-in' Rally

TASC, temporarily recognized student political party, will sponsor a rally Monday at 11:10 a.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium, explaining the proposition on Tuesday's ballot in support of southern "sit-ins."

The proposition reads: "We, the students of San Jose State College, hereby indicate sympathy and support for our fellow students in the South, in their peaceful attempts to obtain their rightful civil liberties. We give our specific encouragement to their non-violent demonstrations to gain equal service at public lunch counters."

The ballot asks for a yes or no vote.

Dr. Mervyn L. Cadwallader, assistant professor of sociology, and Dr. Ruth Lavare, assistant professor of English, will speak in support of the proposition.

Reps To Discuss Insurance Careers

Fifteen representatives from insurance firms will be on campus today conducting interviews and holding a panel discussion with students for the Careers in Insurance day.

The event is co-sponsored by the SJS Placement Service, Real Estate and Insurance department, and Real Estate and Insurance club.

Student interviews will be held at the outer quad from 10:30 to 11:30 this morning and again from 2 to 4:45 this afternoon.

A panel discussion on career opportunities in the insurance field will be held in S142 at 11:30 a.m.

Neil G. Sullivan, placement associate, said all interested students, regardless of major, are invited to attend.

12 culminating in regular high school graduation. Their high school graduates must satisfy the same requirements as adult graduates from public high schools.

CLASS PLACEMENT

Men desiring to attend the classes are sent through a guidance center where they are placed in grades according to the results of the California Achievement tests.

Classes are held for a half day, then the students take vocational training or complete their work assignments. The school year is 220 days long, containing three trimesters.

MEN LEARN FAST

"Men can make three grade levels in a calendar year," Mr. Paben commented, so that the 12 grades of schooling actually takes a much shorter time than 12 years.

He said that they have about 100 students in the elementary grades, (1 through 4) with a few waiting to get in. They are taught social studies, arithmetic and reading.

Junior Prom To Feature Queen Selection, Dancing

Del Courtney's dance band will provide the music for tomorrow night's Junior prom in the Mural room of the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco from 9 until 1.

The event is open to all students, and dress is dark suits and cocktail dresses.

Bids are available for $2.75 in front of the cafeteria or in student affairs business office, TH16.

The highlight of the evening will be selection of a queen from a field of 14 candidates sponsored by sororities and living groups. Each couple attending the dance will be allowed two votes.

According to junior class vice president Larry Swenson, there will be plenty of room in the spacious Mural room because it can accommodate 700 people. Over 500 are expected to attend.

During the week the junior class sponsored a car caravan around the campus in order to let everyone get a good look at the queen candidates who were perched atop the back seats of the convertibles and sports cars.

The queen candidates and their sponsors are: Nancy Buttram, Delta Zeta; Sue Perry, Kappa Delta; Andrea Larkcom, Chi Omega; Jan Corda, Gamma Phi Beta; Pat Cathart, Alpha Chi Omega; Ruth Long, Kappa Alpha Theta; Joan Matteson, Alpha Phi; Judy Roberts, Delta Gamma; Marilyn Pesco, Phi Mu; Lynne Wallace, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Sharon Corea, Alpha Omicron Pi; Arlene Warner, Sigma Kappa; Mary Jo Chapman, Florence Hall, and Jan Anderson, Wendy Glen.

Dr. Tansey, Health Department To Present KNTV Programs

The fourth programs in two television presentations emanating from San Jose State to KNTV, Channel 11, will be presented tomorrow and Sunday.

Dr. Richard G. Tansey, professor of art, will discuss "Meaning in Art," in the "Perspective" series. The program, under the direction of the Speech and Drama department, will be presented tomorrow at 2:30 p.m.

ITV SHOW

The Health and Hygiene department, in conjunction with the Palo Alto Cancer Research center and Cancer society, will present "Cancer and You" in the Instructional Television series, the second of the two weekend shows.

"Cancer and You" will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Dr. Tansey will illustrate his talk with reproductions of Renaissance, Baroque and Gothic architecture and painting. The program, according to Dr. Tansey, is designed to show that art is not "the exclusive property of museums."

STUDENT-STAFFED

"Meaning in Art" will be produced by Frank McCann and directed by Bob George. Both are SJS radio-television students.

Summer Session Bulletins Ready

Applications to register for SJS summer sessions are available in the summer sessions office, Adm144.

Summer session bulletins containing the application form have been sent all over the country, but students on campus customarily are given first chance at applications, said Joe H. West, dean of educational services and the summer sessions.

Up to 10 units of credit may be earned in the two sessions, June 27-Aug. 5 and Aug. 8-Sept. 2.

Housing Rule Discussion Set Monday

Necessity and effect of the new housing rule for next fall will be discussed by Robert L. Baron, housing coordinator, Monday in CH240 at 7:30 p.m.

A rule that all unmarried students under 21 must live in campus approved housing or dorms was placed into effect earlier this year.

The meeting, open to all interested students, will explain adequate housing and its effect in relationship to student success.

"There is a direct correlation between the type of accommodations and academic success," Mr. Baron said.

Mr. Baron was formerly assistant to the dean of men before assuming the position as housing coordinator in January.

A question and answer period will follow the talk.

Beaux Arts Costume Dance Is Tomorrow

The annual costumed Beaux Arts Ball sponsored by Alpha Gamma, social art fraternity, will be held at Lou's Village, 1465 W. San Carlos, beginning at 9 p.m. tomorrow.

Costumes are required and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes worn by a faculty member and by a student. Dance music will be provided by Premo and his Jazz critics.

Ball bids are on sale for $2.50 and may be obtained at the Student Affairs Business office, TH-16, from Alpha Gamma members or at a booth in the Art building.

CHRISTOPHER PROPOSES LARGER COUNTY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Five San Mateo County communities have been invited to join San Francisco in forming "one big, strong county."

The invitation was issued Wednesday by San Francisco Mayor George Christopher at an informal conference with officials from Daly City, Colma, Pacifica, South San Francisco and San Bruno.

"I think the time has come when San Francisco's muscle and your potential muscle should all be put together into one big, strong county," Christopher said.

He said the communities could remain separate cities with their own "political prestige and political entity." However, they would be part of San Francisco County rather than San Mateo County.

"There's not a thing we want from you," Christopher said. "I'm not even sure that the voters of San Francisco would approve."

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES DECLINE RELIGION

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senators John F. Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey both asserted yesterday that they want no votes based on religious affiliation in their bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The two presidential aspirants, opponents in the Wisconsin primary April 5 and again in West Virginia May 10, both addressed the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

A third announced Democratic candidate, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, also addressed the ASNE. He again described the primaries as an unsuitable way to seek a presidential nomination and attacked the Eisenhower administration for what he called an "obsession" that this nation can build strength in one field only at the expense of another.

COMMIES IN ANTI-REFUGEE MOVE

BERLIN (UPI)—Communist police entered West Berlin yesterday and tried to impose anti-refugee control on elevated railways in the allied areas. They fled back across the Iron Curtain when West German police showed up.

The move was part of a desperate Communist effort to halt a sudden mass flight of refugees from the Soviet occupation zone.

The elevated railway, under four-power occupation statutes, is run by the Communists. But this was the first time in two years they had tried to carry out controls on West Berlin stations. Today they questioned travelers and searched their luggage.

La Torre on Sale

La Torre, San Jose State yearbook, is on sale now in the Student Affairs business office and in front of the Spartan bookstore for $6.50.

"Only 2100 copies were printed this year," said George Meadows, La Torre publicity manager.

Lively New Revelries Plays Again Tonight

By GERALD NACHMAN
Drama Editor

A melodically alive and lavish 1960 Revelries, "Innocence and Insolence," while bogged down in a so-so script and story, nevertheless managed to put on a surprisingly professional all-student show last night—for an all-student show—in Morris Dailey auditorium.

With solid musical numbers picking the show up all the way and eye-pleasing sets by Ralph Fetterly, "Innocence and Insolence," written by Bruce Reeves, at times sparkled.

Responsible for the tuneful numbers was Nancy Lund, assisted by Don Papsion and Bruce Stinnet, who composed the 11 songs, and Papsion's worthwhile lyrics combined to highlight the show, directed by Diane Hunt.

Unfortunately some of the acting and singing and most of the script didn't approach the success of the music, which completely surpassed recent years for professional quality.

Best in the show were "Sangaree," a Latin-American number; "Diana," a ballad; "That Man I Met," a torch song; "Innocence and Insolence," and "So In Love."

According to advance releases, "Innocence and Insolence" is supposed to be a "spoof of 1930 musicals."

A spoof, however, must be noticeable to be appreciated and successful. "Innocence," while it had all the trite qualities and story of a 1930 musical, nevertheless, just seemed like tired writing instead of clever satire.

Reeves' script also fell into some familiar grooves where dialogue was concerned, and the ending was a little hazy.

Regardless of these inherent difficulties, the 50-member cast put on what may prove to be a courageous show—if low sales write the 31-year-old college musical's obituary.

"Innocence and Insolence" returns again tonight at 8:30 and again tomorrow evening. Tickets may be purchased at a booth outside the bookstore or at the door.

Best in the singing department are Pam Peters, the Young Thing, who puts over the Lund-Papsion songs with a professional touch and does one of the better acting jobs in the show.

Male lead, Lee Wolfram, however, fails to measure up in either acting or singing and appears through most of the show stiff and without authority.

Good acting medals can go to Diane Hunt, Norman Deter, and Linda Gadberry.

Harvey Block, as the male lead in the show within a show, is sometimes good, other times less than good. He is at his best doing a duet with Miss Peters in the title song. Mari-Lyn Henry is cast in two femme fatale roles.

Many excellent touches underscore the show, best of which include a torch song, "That Man I Met." Miss Hunt is a multi-talented woman who has no trouble whether acting, singing, or directing.

Rich Safina, in charge of lighting, has mastered a difficult problem of illuminating two sets at once, and does the tricky job smoothly.

Music, while lacking in instruments, had to make do with a double piano and drums, in what easily could have exploded into fully orchestrated numbers.

As it turned out, the lavish numbers are a little shaky and fail to supply the needed energy.

Friday Flicks

Fetes 'Bedrooms'

Friday flicks, sponsored by the senior class, will resume tonight with a showing of "Ten Thousand Bedrooms" in Morris Dailey auditorium at 7:30. Admission is 25 cents.

Dean Martin, Anna Marie Albergheggi and Walter Slezak star in "Bedrooms," the story of a young American capitalist (Martin) on a hotel-buying spree who stops in Rome and can't decide which one of four sisters to marry.

Man Takes Lead In 'Gams' Contest

Man is back in the running again in the "most attractive legs on campus" race.

Yesterday contributions in the sophomore class "Gorgeous Gams" contest placed Hansel, the boxer dog, in fifth place for the title. Hansel was leading in the first day of the contest which opened Wednesday.

Kappa Kappa Gamma's Bob Brooks leads with $11.41 in contributions with Chi Omega's Rocky Plumley and Sigma Phi's James Kurtz following second and third.

Voting will close today at 2:30 p.m. in the Outer Quad.

A total of $49.17 was collected at the close of the second day.

'Why Not Abolish Student Government?'

EDITOR: Instead of having the students vote on the proposed ASB constitution, why not have them vote on whether or not they want a student government at all?

If they don't, there's not much sense in trying to give a new framework to a dead institution. Why should a handful of interested students continue to give their time and ability in the interests of thousands who "couldn't care less"—except when occasionally aroused to criticize the actions of a student government which does what little it can in the face of disinterest and sheer laziness on the part of those whom it attempts to serve.

We might just as well abolish student government entirely; then we can sit back and wait for the screaming to start when the administration takes over completely.

Gerald Nachman, BOY REPORTER

Know your candidate!

THIS IS the year my voting eligibility begins and so I have simply been devouring all available magazine articles about the various candidates.

I recognize there are certain definite factors to be considered before I scratch my "X" on a ballot.

First of all, the bank account of every man must be gone over before anything else is studied. Several magazines and newspaper stories have played up the fact that most of the candidates are millionaires.

I think this is an important factor in the democratic process; since we are the most wealthy nation I think our president should be a representative citizen, don't you? If there's one thing we DON'T want in the White House it's a middle-income chief executive.

I suggest a part of the oath for presidency be altered to include a simple statement to the effect that the president be solvent.

I certainly don't want a man elected president who can't go to all the nice places with DeGaulle, Macmillan and Khrushchev when they visit Geneva.

NEXT, I want my candidate to have a First Lady who will show up well at White House luncheons, in Washington society and in half-tone reproductions.

What sort of a country will other nations think we have if same president gets in who has a dog for a wife? Luckily we have always elected a man with pretty good taste in women.

Sen. Kennedy is the sly one here. If you've seen his wife then you know the old rascal has probably had his eye on the White House for several years now. I can tell you he has the college men's blue sewed up.

(Not that Mrs. Nixon isn't a perfectly nice woman and all—but if Nixon could just get a few more pounds on Pat I think it could be a closer race.)

We definitely do not want a man married to a woman with, for instance, thick ankles. I would wager Mr. and Mrs. Khrushchev had quite a little set-to after their visit here:

MR. K: Dear, didn't I warn you about your legs? Now listen—Slenderoga isn't expensive and it'll help foreign relations ever so much.

MRS. K: Ha! You're a fine one to talk, you are!

ONE OTHER thing I think we should consider in voting this year are the candidates' religions. A man's religion, like a man's income bracket and wife, plays a vital role in his ability to lead a nation, balance the budget, keep us out of war and maintain parity.

(A tip: Best not vote for a man who is not of your religion. Suppose he should turn dictator? Why you could be suppressed or even exiled.)

It appears that all the candidates have long medical histories, which might be placed on the ballot along with illnesses they've had, what health plan they belong to.

Then there is the final question of a public image. In other words, what sort of a face does the candidate own? Fatherly, youthful, conceited, foxy? Will it be easily caricatured in editorial cartoons?

These are a few of the problems to be considered this November. Now let us get back to these magazine articles. Here is one titled, "Nixon and Kennedy: Are They Kind to Animals?"

("Through the Looking Glass," a new television column by Gerald Nachman, appears Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday in the San Jose Mercury.)

String Orchestra, Ensemble To Play Concert Sunday

A string chamber orchestra and ensemble concert will be presented by the Music department and the San Jose area high school string players at 3 p.m. Sunday in Concert hall.

Opening the program will be a string ensemble playing "Serenade in G Major" by Mozart. Dr. Gibson Walters, professor of music, will play violin; Donald Homuth, assistant professor of music, cello, and SJS student Bruce Stinnett will play string be Ruth Pfaff, violin, and Rosebe Ruth faff, violin, and Rosemary Walters, viola.

Glee Clubs To Perform At Saratoga

The San Jose State men's and women's glee clubs will present their second road show of the year as an outdoor concert at 2:15 p.m. today at Saratoga high school.

The combined groups, under direction of Dr. Gus Lease, assistant professor of music, presented a concert at Santa Rosa junior college and Sonoma Valley Union high school earlier this month.

Selections for the program will be sung by the two separate groups as well as by the combined 17 voice ensemble. There are 42 in the men's club and 65 in the women's glee club.

The men's group was formed again this year after a four year absence from campus. It was originally organized after splitting a mixed choral group.

A concert is also being prepared by the glee clubs to be presented at the Presidio in San Francisco next month as well as their spring campus concert May 4 and 5.

Yvonne Tomasena appears as special soloist with the men's club in two numbers. Accompanist for the groups are Don Chan and Joan Moss with J. D. Nicholes as student director.

Students Win Award

Two senior art students, Gerald Pfaff and Al Silva, recently were named winners of a $100 award offered by the San Jose Junior Women's club. The award is given to encourage art students at San Jose State.

Tickets on Sale

A folksinging quartet, the Weavers, will present a concert at the San Jose City auditorium at 8:30 tonight. Appearing in a concert at the auditorium at 8:30 Tuesday will be pianist Carmen Cavallaro, "The Poet of the Piano." Cavallaro will be accompanied by guitar, bass viol and drums.

Demos Name Existentialist Prof. Vatcher Talks Sunday

Dr. William H. Vatcher Jr., associate professor of political science at San Jose State, Democratic nominee for Congress in 1956 and more recently adviser to the chairman of the Democratic state central committee, has been appointed to head the committee on precinct organization for the state central committee.

The purpose of this committee is to formulate a plan of action aimed at producing a Democratic victory in 1960.

Dr. Vatcher has long been interested in some type of party reorganization designed to develop greater party responsibility in California.

At a recent meeting of his committee in Los Angeles, it was decided what steps would be taken to organize the state party and what facilities were available for this.

These plans will be followed up at the next meeting, which will be held in a couple of weeks.

The Rev. Braxton Combs, who classifies himself as a "Christian existentialist", will speak Sunday night at 6:15 at the Wesley foundation, Fifth and Santa Clara sts.

Mr. Combs' talk, entitled "Resurrection - Demythologized," will examine the resurrection on existentialist terms.

Having been graduated from Perkins Theological seminary in Texas, Mr. Combs is presently minister at the Valley Methodist church in Saratoga.

Sunday night's meeting, which starts at 6:15, will be followed by a discussion period. The Rev. Henry Gerner, Wesley adviser, indicated that all faculty and students are invited to attend.

Sprint Relay Records May Fall

Tracksters To Attack Mt. SAC; 3 Raiders To Enter Decathlon

By DAN MATLOW
Destination—Mt. San Antonio College Relays today and tomorrow. Possible achievements—three men to qualify for the Olympic Trial Decathlon, two world's records in the 440 and 880 yard sprint relays, a 26-foot broad jump and a sub nine minute 3000 meter steeplechase.

Coaches Bud Winter and Bert Bonanno will accompany San Jose State's 12 competitors to the track extravaganza located near Pomona.

Curtis Chappell was extended an invitation to compete in the grueling decathlon along with teammates Tom Daniels and John Ross. The 10 event chore is composed of the 100, 400, and 1500 meter runs along with the 110 meter high hurdles. The six rugged field events that complete the program are the high jump, broad jump, shot put, discus, javelin, and hop-step-jump.

Winter commented that no other school will send three entrants into the decathlon. Top-flight competition will come in 1956 Olympic Games winner Rafer Johnson and top 1960 threat Dave Edstrom from Oregon.

The great Spartan sprint quartet composed of Bullet Bob Poynter, Bob Brooks, Willie Williams and Jim Flemmons will face their stiffest competition of the year in both sprint relays. Anchor man Ray Norton will pace the Santa Clara Youth Village in both relays.

Poynter, Williams and world record holder Norton will also hook spikes in the 100 meter dash.

Mac Burton reeled off a 25 foot 10 inch broad jump in a workout Wednesday. Greg Bell, 1956 Olympic winner in the broadjump, gave Burton some tips in the Easter Relays and the new secret is paying off for the Spartan sophomore.

Charlie Clark will be gunning for a new NCAA record as well as an Olympic qualifying mark in the 3000 meter steeplechase. Jim Beatty and Bill Dellinger, two of the finest distance runners in the country will give the gummy Clark all he can handle.

In the best outdoor high jump field of the season, Vance Barnes and Erroll Williams will be out to top the 7 foot barrier. Another Olympic gold medal winner Charlie Dumas will be the favorite in the event.

Light-footed Barnes has leaped 6 foot 10 inches and Williams has soared 6 foot nine and one half inches.

In his first "big-time" meet, Ed Burke will spin the hammer. Burke has hit over 160 feet in practice which labels him as one of the top ten in the nation.

Don Bowden and Ron Delaney will make their first appearance of the year in the star-studded 1500 meter run. Laszlo Tabori, Dellinger and Beatty may force a world record in the event.

Will the combined talents of Parry O'Brien, Dallas Long, Dave Davis and Jay Sylvester heave the shot put over the 66 foot mark? With Bill Nieder's 65 foot 7 1/2 inches as the farthest toss of the year, the fearsome foursome will certainly have something to shoot for.

Fraleigh Nine Battles Cubs

Rival California's frosh baseballers journey to San Jose tomorrow to meet Warren Fraleigh's yearlings on the Municipal Stadium diamond at 10 a.m.

The Spartans battled nine fruitless innings to a 5-5 tie with Foothill college Tuesday before darkness settled in to halt the contest.

San Jose failed to capitalize on 10 hits, 10 walks, a hit batter and a pair of Foothill errors, leaving 13 men stranded on the basepaths.

Losing 5-3 after seven, Bill Dawson doubled and Ed Bauer clubbed a two-run homer over the left-centerfield fence to knot the count.

By NICK PETERS

A battle of top-rated Northern California college baseball aggregations is on tap tonight in Municipal Stadium at 7 when George Wolfman's highly-touted California Bears (21-7) take on Ed Sobezak's Spartans (23-12). To add spice to this "dream" mixture of baseball talent, Cal will throw ace Ted Settle (7-1 and 1.08 ERA) against the locals' top lefty Dick Holden (6-1).

If needed, the Spartans' star righthander Gene Tagliaferri (7-1) will be let out of the barn to match wits with U.C. batsmen, and could start if the port-sider is a late "scratch."

Aside from powerhouse USC and surprisingly pesky San Francisco State, not many teams in the state can claim the enviable 1960 marks of the San Jose and Berkeley college nines.

In their only previous meeting the Bears, behind Settle, dumped the Spartans, 4-1, in the locals' initial start of the season at Berkeley.

Although in a good position to cop the WCAC flag, the Spartans can gain more prestige in the eyes of the western regional NCAA selection committee by winning this "big game" than by winning the conference crown.

Cal's probable line-up: Tom McGarrey, cf; Mike White, ss; Noel Barnes, 1b (.360 on the season and leading the CIBA with .469); Bob Millinich, lf; Dennis Brewick, 3b; Mike Noakes, rf; Terry Johnson, 2b, and Bob Milano, c.

For the Spartans: Doug Mc-

Chesney, 3b; Bill Inderbitzen, ss; John Jurivich, lf or rf; Augie Scornaienchi, c; Tom Rike, 1b; Emmett Lee, rf or Al Pimentel, lf; Larry Bachiu, 2b, and Jim Pusateri, cf.

Golfers Tackle Indians At Country Club Today

Walt McPherson's Spartan golfers take an 8-3 record to the San Jose Country Club this afternoon where they tangle with Stanford's

Indians in an attempt to make it 9-3.

Ron Ginn, who has been the guiding light for the local divot-men, will be counted on to set the pace against the Redmen.

Ginn had the best round in the three-day Santa Cruz tourney; clubbing a three-under-par 68 in a gusty wind. Only one other sub-par round was fired in more than 300 rounds of golf.

Ginn's brother, Bob, will also see action against Stanford today, as will Jim Sullivan, Harvey Kohs, Dennis Palmer and Gene Miranda. The locals topped the Indians in the tourney and also edged Fresno state, who have handed SJS two of its three links losses.

McPherson, however, cautioned that "Stanford has all good clubbers and they'll be real tough on their own course at Palo Alto next week, so we'll have to get the edge on them today."

10th Inning Candlestick O.K. Even with Wind

By NICK PETERS

Scorebook in hand, hot dog in mouth, and mustard on shirt we walked up one of Candlestick Park's massive concrete ramps on the way to our first glimpse of the much-talked-about new 42,000 capacity Giant stadium.

As we pushed open one of the orange steel doors which provides entrance to the spacious baseball arena we saw, unveiled before us, one of the most awe-inspiring spectacles we have even witnessed.

Being a native San Franciscan we had never viewed a ball game in anything larger than the 23,000-seat Seals Stadium, so Candlestick really hit us as being an enormous construction of rare beauty.

Its symmetrical playing dimensions, in particular, are very impressive and constitute a development we would like to see in all big league diamonds.

The multi-colored scoreboard bordering right field, the first of its kind in the majors, is another eye-opening sight, particularly at night when its thousands of lights sparkle radiantly like stars on a summer night.

For our money we would rather sit in the upper deck, where a good over-all picture of the playing field is obtained from any seat.

The lower stand, for the most part, is not as good, as the reserved seats are mostly in the shade, visibility is poor behind the screen at home plate, and there are several seats where poles obstruct one's view.

Of course, if one can afford the $3.50 boxes, sun is plentiful and visibility is excellent in either stand.

IT IS INDEED a pity when one picks up the metropolitan dailies, looks at the sports pages, and finds some article criticizing Candlestick Park's wind currents.

What's even more surprising is the fact that many of these "meteorological experts" are San Francisco and should, by now, realize that the city is usually windy this time of the year and that it's just as windy at the Cliff House, Golden Gate Park, and Market st. as it is at the new Giants stadium.

The site of the ball park isn't particularly conducive to wind, so no matter where the structure was built the "anti-baseball" breezes would be present.

Come summer there won't be such an extensive wind problem in S.F. and Giant fans can gleefully sit back and watch homers rip the ozone, but for the present they'll have to grin and bear it.

"SAD" SAM JONES, the Giants' ace righthander and the pitcher who is reported to have the most "stuff" among NL hurlers will be trying to equalize his lifetime won-lost ledger against the Cubs today.

Getting off to a bad start in his major league career as a Cleveland Indian, Chicago Cub, and St. Louis Cardinal, the "Toothpick Man" had his greatest year in the big time last year with the heavy-hitting Giants—leading the league in wins (21) and posting the top ERA (2.82)—to bring his over-all slate to 72-75.

Thus far this season Sam has gone to the post twice, winning both games with a three-hitter and a one-hitter, and a win today could make him 75-75.

If anyone ever deserved not to have a losing record in the majors it's "Sad" Sam, and we hope he evens the slate today and goes on to win many more.

Seeks Equalizer

'SAD' SAM—Going for the win which would bring his lifetime major league won-lost record to 75-75, Giant hurler Sam Jones throws against the Cubs today.

Grid Drills Begin Monday for SJS

Coach Bob Titchenal's 1960 grid charges begin their spring football drills on Monday.

According to Titchenal, "Many of the fellows who we are counting on for next season are still participating in other sports, so a complete squad will not be taking part in the drills."

ECONOMY PROVED IN MOBILGAS RUN!

CORVAIR BY CHEVROLET DRIVE IT! GET OUR DEAL!!!!

A pair of Corvairs recently recorded 27.03 and 26.21 miles per gallon in the 2,061.4-mile Mobilgas Economy Run. That's certified proof that Corvair skimps on gas costs. It saves other ways, too. Corvair is the only U. S. compact car that never needs antifreeze or costly radiator repairs. Come in and drive the compact car that outdoes them all.

Things Corvair gives you that America's other compact cars can't:

Practically flat floor... real foot room for the man in the middle. Fold-down rear seat gives 17.6 cu. ft. of extra storage space. Four-wheel independent suspension for a smoother, flatter ride. Rear-engine traction... that comes with the engine's weight bearing down on the rear wheels.

You probably realize already that the mileage figures Corvairs recorded in the Mobilgas Run are higher than the average driver can expect. But because the cars met every kind of driving condition—rugged mountain grades, long country straightaways, congested city traffic—those mileage figures prove Corvair's inherent ability to save. Operating costs take a nose dive the day you take delivery of a Corvair.

Students Prefer Cost, Pace of SJS Over California, Stanford in Survey

If you had a choice in the matter—and could do it all over again

This airplane is actually a flying classroom. The course taught in it is Air Navigation, under real conditions. The students are young men who have been selected as possible future leaders of the Aerospace Team. Graduation after 32 weeks of training will win each of the students the honored silver wings of an Air Force Navigator and an Officer's Commission.

For certain young men, this training can open the way to a bright career of executive potential. Right now the Air Force is scoring impressive technological advances in the fields of navigation, guidance and tracking, electronics and radar. And here is where its highly trained and experienced Navigators will be expected to take over command positions of increasing responsibility.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet, you must be between 19 and 26 1/2—single, healthy and intelligent. And you must want to build an exciting, interesting career in the Aerospace Age. If you think you measure up, we'd like to talk to you at the nearest Air Force Recruiting Office. Or clip and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

(This is the last in a series of stories on a random survey of 300 SJS students conducted by two SJS journalism professors. The questionnaire asked for opinions on extra-curricular activities, San Jose State College, school spirit, reasons for entering or staying out of teaching, and reasons for entering SJS.—Ed.)

The survey was conducted the week before Easter vacation by journalism students under the direction of two journalism professors. Interviewees were queried on school spirit, their opinions of SJS, why they came to SJS, and how much they value extra-curricular activities.

Of the 300 questioned, 176 said they would choose San Jose State again.

OCEAN ATTRACTS MANY

San Jose weather has attracted many out-of-towners and the nearness of the ocean has brought several.

But the reputation of SJS and nearness to home was the deciding point in 221 of those questioned.

One student said a graduate of the SJS Education department automatically has a good state-wide reputation. Journalism, Occupational Therapy and Aeronautics were other departments that have drawn students on their reputations alone, the survey indicated.

"I don't have the ability or the drive to stay in Stanford or Cal," answered one sophomore, "so I'll spend my four years at San Jose State."

Given the choice of Stanford, University of California and San Jose state, 64 of the 300 said Cal, and 54 said Stanford would be their preference if they were to begin again.

SJS 'GOOD BARGAIN'

But almost one-third said the low tuition in the California state college system makes SJS the best buy for the money.

One student who said he would choose Stanford over SJS if he could start over, said the "academic atmosphere at Stanford and the top-grade faculty" make it more worthwhile. But the high tuition is a major consideration, many answered.

Cal is too big and too hard to stay in, said one student. "Although Cal's prestige and the big sports program are good, the pace at SJS is just right. The students are friendly, too," he added.

International Link

CHANNEL SPAN—Reaching linking stage, this is an artist's conception of proposed bridge England and France which would cost $560,000,000. It would be 200 feet above the channel, have five lane highway, two rail tracks.

Secretaries To Dine Tonight

Secretarial majors, secretarial department alumnae and present and prospective employers will meet at a dinner tonight at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Speaker for the evening will be Dr. Margaret Thal-Larsen, one of California's three labor analysts for the California state department of employment. She will speak on the labor market for stenographic-secretarial occupations.

Tickets are still available and may be purchased at $2.50 from Mrs. Leona A. Pickle, departmental secretary, in TH 116.

Students in secretarial courses and their guests may attend.

Naval Air Van To Visit

Representatives from the Oakland Naval Air station will visit San Jose State Wednesday to interview male students interested in naval aviation.

A naval aviation information van equipped with aviation displays and the latest models of naval aircraft will be located near the bookstore.

The Navy has two aviation programs, an aviation officer candidate program available for college graduates and a naval aviation cadet program available to men with two years of college.

An intelligence examination will be given on campus to those who desire to see if they meet required qualifications.

Fraternities Donate Time

Fifty SJS students, representing all of the eleven social fraternities, tomorrow begin donating their time to Happy Hollow, a kiddie playground which is being constructed by the San Jose Junior chamber of commerce and the city of San Jose.

The fraternity members will aid construction on four consecutive Saturdays, with Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu and Lambda Chi Alpha donating their services tomorrow. Building and painting fences, and painting a maze will be the students' contribution.

Happy Hollow is being modeled after the Dennis Menace park in Monterey. It is a non-profit, self-supporting enterprise.

The park is being built on seven and one half acres at 10th and Center sts. in San Jose.
