State Officials To Determine If SJS Admits Sit-in Student

SJS May Hit Record Enrollment

An estimated 15,000 full and part time students are expected to begin classes this morning, marking a new enrollment peak for SJS and giving it an undisputed lead in enrollment for California state colleges.

According to figures released by Dr. Ralph R. Cummings, associate dean in charge of admissions and records, 12,905 students had enrolled into SJS classes at the end of registration hours Friday. This total is 1,779 over the number of regular students enrolled on the same day last year.

At the time the Spartan Daily went to press Friday, statistics covering the Friday evening and Saturday registration sessions had not been compiled.

It is expected that the final registration figures will be completed by the end of this week.

Dean Cummings reported that 8,500 students registered Wednesday and Thursday and 4,405 passed the tables on Friday.

Last year the enrollment figures peaked at 13,500, including full and part time students. Of those, 2268 were freshmen and 2100 transfers.

The main difference in this year's enrollment figures lies in the fact that part time students had to matriculate along with full time students. In the past, only those attending full time went through matriculation procedures.

Clip Boards OK In Bookstore

A new procedure at the Spartan Bookstore will allow students to carry a notebook or clip board into the store while shopping.

Harry J. Wineroth, Spartan bookstore manager, said the notebooks and clip boards will be subject to inspection when leaving the store if it seems necessary.

Brief bags or large bags must be left outside the store, or left at the cashier's stand at the entrance, he said.

The store will maintain complete police protection throughout the day, said Mr. Wineroth.

Debate Set

The first of the Nixon-Kennedy impromptu television debates will be broadcast over KNTV, Channel 11, tonight from 9:30 to 10:30.

Other debates will follow next month. Dates and times scheduled by Channel 11 are: Oct. 7 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.; Oct. 13 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and Oct. 21 from 10 to 11 p.m.

Registration Packs Due Next Week

Students are requested to turn in registration materials this Friday and Monday and Tuesday of next week in Morris Dailey auditorium, according to John C. Montgomery, registrar.

The auditorium will be open from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. all three days, and from 5 to 8 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday.

A special turn-in time for students who have classes on Wednesday or Thursday nights will be held Oct. 5 and Oct. 6 from 5 to 8 p.m.

Cards, 1-3, class cards and Korean vet study list cards should be turned in at this time. Card No. 4 should also be turned in if the department has not kept it.

Fees, this semester must be paid in the Cashier's office, Adm263, before turning in class cards. Fees must be paid before registration materials will be accepted, said Mr. Montgomery.

A late turn-in fee of five dollars will be charged to turn in registration materials after 8 p.m., Oct. 4. The only exceptions will be those students who have Wednesday or Thursday evening classes. All students will pay a late fee after 8 p.m., Oct. 6.

New Regulation

Due to a change in the State Education Code, part-time students must matriculate to San Jose State the same as regular students, Dr. Ralph Cummings, associate dean of students, said today.

In the past, students with six units or less did not have to matriculate.

Approved Housing Available

New Dorms Offer First Campus Living

Approved housing facilities for unmarried students under 21 are still available and may be obtained by contacting the housing office, Adm266, Robert Baron, housing coordinator, announced. A variety of approved facilities—including rooms, rooms with kitchen privileges and room and board—are available for 100 men and 40 women students.

Unmarried students under 21 must be living in approved housing by Friday, it was announced by Dr. Stanley C. Benz, dean of students.

If those students required to live in approved facilities do not comply with this ruling, the breach will be placed on their permanent record until the matter is corrected, Dean Benz said.

For the first time at San Jose State, 1200 students will be living in the new dorms and a group of students who applied early will be living in college approved apartment houses. The apartments are enclosed and contain common entrance.

Currently there are six such apartment houses for women and one for men students.

Refunds are being made as soon as possible to 240 students who were on the dorm waiting list, Mr. Baron said.

Students in the residence halls and other college approved living centers are to observe quiet hours from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m., Sunday through Thursday.

Special visiting hours in women's living centers are required by AWS. Men are not to be in the women's living quarters prior to 11 a.m. unless calling for someone and not later than 11 p.m. on week nights nor midnight on weekends when visiting. The hours may vary when social functions are scheduled, however.

AWS rules also stipulate that women are not to be in men's approved living centers unless there is a chaperone present.

Overnight guests may stay at the dorms during weekends if facilities are available. Interested persons should contact the head resident within the particular dorm.

Exam Correction

Dr. Harrison F. Heath, test officer, has urged all students to note that the correct final examinations schedule appears on Page 3 of the fall semester schedule of classes. The dates shown on Page 8 and 27 are incorrect, he said.

Fraternity Holds Book Exchange

Alpha Phi Omega, national men's service fraternity, is accepting used text books for the next two weeks for resale at their book exchange in front of the Morris Dailey Auditorium.

The exchange will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Students should leave their books at the exchange and if resold, they will receive two-thirds of the price paid for the book.

APHio sets up this booth at the beginning of each semester.

Books are accepted on a consignment basis with a ten cent service charge. The charge is used for APHio service projects.

Students can get their books back if they are not sold, book exchange co-chairman Dick Imperial said.

Fire Demolishes Room at Hall

Mariam Hall residents escaped injury last Wednesday when a fire broke out in a downstairs apartment closet at approximately 5:45 p.m., according to Chief John W. Jones of the San Jose Fire Dept.

The girls of Mariam Hall, 443 So. 11th St., were transferred to other dormitories and sororities last Wednesday night, but the girls were able to return to their house on Thursday, according to the fire chief.

One bedroom was completely demolished and the doors of the adjoining hall were scorched, Chief Jones reported. Windows were cracked from the intense heat.

"The six girls in the house at the time handled the situation well," said Mrs. Doris Wharff, house mother of Mariam Hall. "Most of the other girls were attending the SJS barbecue," she added.

Cause of the blaze is unknown, but a lighted cigarette is suspected, Chief Jones said.

Whether or not St. John Dixon, a student expelled from Alabama State College last spring, will be admitted to San Jose State this fall will have to be determined by state college officials, according to Pres. John T. Wahlquist.

"If state college officials wish to give preference to the case of the southern boy over those of hundreds of California students who did not meet the deadline, but were scholastically qualified and had the unqualified endorsement of their presidents or principals, we will follow their direction," Dr. Wahlquist said.

According to a local newspaper, State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk asked for an investigation into allegations that Dixon was denied admission because of his sit-in demonstration activities.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Roy Simpson, according to the newspaper, said that Dixon was refused admission because he failed to make the Aug. 12 deadline and that dismissal for sit-in activities would not necessarily keep any student from admission.

Up to Friday noon, the college had received no application transcript of records or interview with Dixon, President Wahlquist said.

His sole effort in behalf of his admission, so far as the college knows, was a request from Assistant Professor Bud R. Hutchinson to the vice-president of the college, Dr. William J. Dusel, requesting that Mr. Dixon be given special consideration," said Dr. Wahlquist. "The request was referred to the Admissions office of the college, where it was denied."

Professor Hutchinson and George C. Hoyt, assistant professor of business, were reported to have informed Atty. Gen. Mosk of the refusal to admit the 22-year-old business major. The professors said they were told by Vice President Dusel that the registration deadline would be waived in Dixon's case.

In a Friday afternoon interview, Dixon said he plans to see the president but as yet no arrangements have been made.

Dixon said he was unaware there would be any trouble involved in trying to get into SJS. His trip was financed by CORE, described as a national organization fighting racial discrimination. The group reportedly had offered to help finance the further education of one of the nine students expelled during the sit-in demonstrations.

If refused admission this fall because of the deadline technicality, Dixon said he would work in San Jose and try to enter in the spring.

President Wahlquist declared the allegation that Dixon has been denied admission to San Jose State because of race or anti-segregation activities, is unfounded. College admission policies and procedures are not affected by such considerations, he said.

"Whether Mr. Dixon does not have an honorable withdrawal, or why he might not have one, is a matter of only hearsay information at San Jose State because his records have not been received here. Should it be true, however, it would have constituted a major factor in Mr. Dixon's case had he otherwise been eligible for admission. It is the uniform practice of accredited U.S. colleges and universities to deny admission to students attempting to transfer from other accredited colleges and universities without an honorable withdrawal from the institution previously attended. Accreditation of San Jose State College would be jeopardized if it were learned by its accrediting association that it had ignored this practice.

"In our action in this matter we were mindful of the parents of the California young men and women, who find their children denied permission because of the arbitrary deadline date."

New Student Health Plan Boosts Protection, Service

A voluntary student health plan is available to registered San Jose State students. The plan will extend the college health service and take the place of and extend the services of the McFadden Health Cottage, which was closed last June.

The cottage was closed because of prohibitive expense of operation and limitation of services, according to Stanley Benz, dean of students.

For students who did not sign up during registration, the plan is open for 15 days. Students may sign up for the plan in Student Affairs Business Office, TH16.

Cost of the program is $10 a semester and covers the time in school and Christmas, Easter and semester break vacations.

Benefits include 50 days hospital care, X-ray and laboratory tests for injury or illness, surgery and the assistants needed in surgery, and out-patient benefits such as emergency physician visits and diagnostic services, consultation and referral when properly authorized by Student Health Service staff physicians.

Any student enrolled for more than 6 units is eligible. Membership is not automatic. The plan is part of the California Physicians' Service, Blue Shield, and is offered in cooperation with the Santa Clara Medical Society.

Services of the college health service include health examinations, health counseling, first aid and emergency care, out-patient care for minor to moderate illness and injury, immunizations, X-ray, physical therapy and laboratory work.

The department operates on both an appointment and non-appointment basis during the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Organization Officers List Due Oct. 14

All campus organizations must turn in a list of officers to the Student Activities Office, Adm242, in order to retain campus recognition, according to Brent Davis, chairman of the student activities board.

Deadline for submitting the list is Oct. 14.

Organizations may pick up the cards in the Activities office or from their organization advisers.

The lists also will be used to give notice of the annual organizational meeting to be held Oct. 19 at 7 p.m. in TH55. All organizations must send a representative. Purpose of the meeting will be to inform officers and social chairmen of the regulations under which they must operate.

The student activities board will take over the responsibility of processing advertising violations this semester, instead of the Student Court, according to Davis. Tickets with a $1 fine will be issued for violations of advertising rules outlined in the organization handbook.

Steady Jobs Available To SJS Students

Between 100 and 150 steady part-time jobs and odd jobs are available at the SJS student placement office, Dr. Edward W. Clements, placement director, said Friday.

This figure is expected to remain more or less constant through the end of November, placement office chief interviewer Mrs. Phyllis Headland said. She predicted the number of available positions will drop during rainy season, then pick-up in spring.

According to Mrs. Headland, she and assistant interviewer, Miss Daryl White, talk to about 50 students per day apiece. The office has filled more than 700 jobs since Sept. 1.

A wide range of positions are available. Business students have the best chance to land steady part-time work, since the placement office tries to correlate a student's major with the job.

Dr. Clements stressed, however, that students in all fields have a good chance to land desired extra work. There are several requests for service station attendants, drivers of all sorts, tutors, musicians, entertainers, waiters, bus boys and laborers.

In addition, many odd jobs in gardening are plentiful, Dr. Clements said.

Mrs. Headland said these jobs will continue to be available, provided students "treat them the same as they would a full-time job."

"As long as we cooperate with the community, it will cooperate with the college," she said.

Extends Personal Welcome

Seek Education Eagerly Urges SJS President

Extending a personal greeting to a student body of 15,000 would ordinarily require an assembly in the football stadium. But because everyone reads the SPARTAN DAILY, I can use this more convenient means of welcoming all of you to San Jose State College.

With new building construction under way on every side, you might find it hard to believe that San Jose State traces its ancestry back 104 years. It is the oldest and the largest of the fourteen California State colleges, and the first public institution of higher education established in the State. I hope you will frequently remind yourselves of our venerable history by visiting the Inner Quad where the tile-roofed, ivy-clad buildings and tower of earlier generations almost completely shut out the sounds and signs of recent, more hectic developments.

But remember that you are preparing for a changing world, a streamlined, space-oriented culture, with complex problems which will not be solved in an ivory, much less an ivy-covered, tower. So I urge you, while you are here, to seek knowledge eagerly, and in all areas—scientific, economic, and political, as well as aesthetic, historical, and philosophical. Resolve at the outset to acquire a broad general education to support your vocational specialty.

The president of a college of our size is denied the satisfaction, so highly prized by presidents of small, private colleges, of getting to know the students, by name and as individual personalities. With increased enrollment has come, of necessity, much specialization of function and delegation of responsibility. Consequently, your teachers and counselors will have to serve as my emissaries of good will and your primary contact with the College administration. I will, of course, become personally acquainted with those of you who distinguish yourselves in some special way; and I look forward to the opportunity of presenting you with your degrees at graduation.

For the present, then, please accept this greeting as your assurance that you are most welcome here, and that we consider it our primary responsibility to provide for you the best teachers and physical facilities to be found anywhere.

JOHN T. WAHLQUIST
President, San Jose State College

New Reg Permits Ease Scheduling

A method to assist students and advisers to better select courses and an appropriate curricula began last week when about 6000 new students went through the motions with new "permit to register" slips.

The permits this year include a potpourri of test scores. Dr. Curt Stafford, test officer, said it will prove an aid to students to know how they compare with their peers. The new permits show students' scores in six areas.

The scores read from nine (top 4 per cent) to one (bottom 4 per cent).

In past years, students' test scores were not listed on registration permits.

Greeks Hold Open House; Rush Begins

Approximately 500 women students and at least 400 men students turned out for open house rushing at 12 sororities and 13 fraternities yesterday and Saturday.

Women rushees may pick up sorority invitations at the Panhellenic rushing office in the Catholic Women's Center today from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The CWC is located at 195 E. San Fernando street.

Sororities will hold their first rush parties this afternoon, to night and tomorrow, their second parties Wednesday and Thursday, their third Oct. 1 and 2 and their fourth Oct. 3.

Invitations also may be picked up for the various parties at the CWC from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Friday and Oct. 3.

A mandatory orientation meeting will be held for women rushees Oct. 2 at 3:30 p.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium. Sorority preferences should be made Oct. 3 and bids will be delivered Oct. 5, at which time informal rushing begins.

"Presents," an open house for meeting pledges, will be held Oct. 16 from 3 to 6 p.m.

Men rushees are required to afternoon, tonight and tomorrow night at the CWC. The men students may attend the second rush party Wednesday and Thursday nights in the CWC basements and the third Friday and Saturday nights at the 13 fraternity houses. The final rush parties will be held in all houses Sunday, 2:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Invitations for the parties may be picked up at the Interfraternity Council office in the CWC between 1 and 3 p.m. Wednesday and Friday for the first two parties and Oct. 2 between noon and 1 p.m. for the final parties.

Silence period begins Oct. 3, at which time rushees should pick up final invitations to pledge at the CWC.

Rushees who find it impossible to attend required functions should contact IFC rushing chairman Gene Larrigan of Sigma Nu.

Record Crowd Attends Camp

A record-breaking crowd of 520 students and faculty attended Freshman Camp at Asilomar two weeks ago, according to Dr. George A. McCallum, camp counselor and head of SJS Biological department.

Enlarged facilities at Asilomar permitted camp attendance to exceed last year's total of 465 students and faculty.

Assemblies, discussion groups and athletic groups enabled students to learn about important phases of campus life.

Folk dancing, social dancing and skits were also included in the day program.

"Although the Freshman Camp committee is composed of faculty and students, the camp is planned and run by the students," Dr. McCallum said.

"This was as good as any Freshman Camp in the past, if not better," Dr. McCallum added.

A letter from Asilomar was received at SJS complimenting the group on their conduct, he said. Vincenzi, assistant professors of art, in three of their works. This new medium tends to add a brightness to color not possible with oils.

The exhibition will run in the art gallery at the south end of the art building daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Sunday from 1:15 p.m. till 5 p.m.

Professor Stanley, director of the gallery, said that there is an outstanding art faculty at SJS composed not only of instructors but of producing artists.

Faculty Cards Available in TH16

Faculty and restricted privilege cards are available in the Student Affairs Business Office, TH16. Faculty cards are $5. Any faculty member may purchase an additional card for a husband or wife.

Restricted privilege cards are available to the wives or husbands of currently registered students and cost $4.50. The cards permit student privileges in some attendance and for Dram department productions.

President Announces Administration Changes

Fifteen administrative changes, including appointment of two half-time assistants to the president, have been announced by Pres. John T. Wahlquist.

Dr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism and Advertising head, and William R. Siddoway, research assistant to the vice president, are new half-time assistants to the president, replacing James H. Bliss, who was transferred to the Journalism and Advertising department staff.

Other changes include promotion of Sam Milioto from assistant registrar to admissions officer, a new position. Lawrence Borino succeeds Milioto as assistant registrar.

Stanford R. Bohne replaces Neil J. Cronin as administrative assistant to the business manager, and Donald Dozier replaces Neil Sullivan as business and industrial placement associate in the placement office.

Sidney C. Eboch replaces Thomas D. Clemens as coordinator of faculty services in the Audio-Visual Service center.

Miss Terri Galvin, part-time activities adviser last year, has succeeded Mrs. Robert Martin (Virginia Wall) as full-time activities adviser. Miss Galvin's part-time job has been filled by Miss Gwen Jorgensen.

Dr. M. J. Holdsworth has been appointed a college physician, succeeding Dr. Fleta Williams, retired June 30.

Mrs. Marion K. Richard, assistant professor of English, will serve as foreign student advisor this year in the absence of Phillip Persky, who is in Italy on a Fulbright fellowship.

Dr. Curtis Stafford has been appointed part-time testing officer, replacing Dr. John Woodward, who remains on the teaching faculty.

Dr. Cornelia Tomes is succeeding Dr. Karl Mueller as a part-time personnel counselor.

Mrs. Suzanne F. Wiggins, assistant professor of economics, has been named assistant research coordinator, a part-time position.

Dr. Gerald E. Wheeler, associate professor of history, has been appointed graduate counselor, replacing Dr. Walter T. Plant, associate professor of psychology.

Four Building Additions Top SJS Construction

When San Jose State's 15,000 students begin classes today, they will be walking around nearly $14 million in new construction now under way.

The college's five-year building program continues its attempt to keep pace with the expanding campus population as additions go up for four buildings not even a decade old.

Enrollment at SJS, the oldest and largest state college in California, has more than doubled in 10 years. In 1952 there were approximately 7000 students enrolled for the fall quarter.

DORMS HOUSE 1200

For the first time in the college's 104 year history, on-campus dormitories will provide housing for 600 women and 600 men. The dorms were completed this summer at a cost of $5,160,000.

A $2,615,600 six-story library addition is taking the place of the former Carnegie library on the corner of Fourth and San Fernando streets. The building was once used as the college's Student Union.

The Student Union moved last spring to a remodeled apartment house at 315 S. Ninth st., near the dorms.

The library addition will be completed in July 1961, and will have book stacks and reading rooms similar to the three-story addition completed in 1956.

SD GOES UP

Across the walkway from the library, the six-year-old speech and drama building is getting a $650,200 second story. The new top will have 31 faculty offices, four lecture rooms, and rooms for speech therapy, voice practice, and seminar and conference rooms when completed next July.

Construction is just getting under way for a $8,888,400 engineering building addition on the corner of San Fernando and Seventh streets. The structure will include 15 briefing rooms to be used in connection with 30 engineering labs, a lecture room, and nine drafting and designing rooms. The cost also includes equipment.

A $820,140 addition to the music building is being built between the music and new art buildings. Faculty offices and practice rooms will take up most of the two-story structure, along with three lecture rooms and eight activity rooms.

The addition is expected to be completed for occupancy in the spring semester.

Enlargement of the corporation yard continues with a second phase of construction, including remodeling of the former industrial arts building for use as a receiving department.

A yard office building was completed last spring. The corporation yard will eventually include the original music building now occupied by the journalism and advertising department.

The journalism department will move into the old art wing in Tower Hall in the near future. Remodeling of the art wing is now under way at a cost of $350,500.

San Jose State's campus will literally extend as far as the San Jose Municipal Airport when construction begins soon at that site for a $1,162,900 aeronautics department building. The one-story structure will include a $352,000 jet engine test cell and labs.

Three new buildings were occupied for the first time last year.

IA BUILDING 'LARGEST'

A $3,500,000 industrial arts building was dedicated May 7 as the largest building on campus and largest of its kind among state college structures. The two-story building has facilities for driver and safety education, ceramic arts, sculpturing and industrial design courses, along with industrial arts classrooms.

San Jose State is the first California state college to have a gallery in its art building. The building, dedicated in February, has 34 classroom studios and was built at a cost of $2,000,000.

To help save costs, several studio tables, cabinets and drawing lab benches were designed by art instructors and built by inmates at San Quentin Prison.

HEALTH BUILDING WELL SET

The $1,500,000 health building, completed last September, is said to be the largest and best equipped of the state's colleges. The health building houses the student health service, formerly in Tower Hall.

The health service, set up like a modern clinic, provides patient intake service for SJS students. The service occupies the first two floors of the building, while the nursing and occupation therapy department use the top two stories.

Among buildings planned for the future are a 2000 car, multi-floor parking garage; education building, science addition, business building and ROTC-police school classroom building, audio-visual addition and an addition to the women's gym.

Dorm residents will be eating in the cafeteria snack bar, resulting in modified cafeteria schedules.

The main entrance to the cafeteria on Seventh st. will open at 6:45 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The snack bar will open for dorm residents only at 6:45 a.m. until 8:45 a.m. Monday through Friday. It will be open to the student body from 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday, marking the first time the snack bar will be open on Saturday. The snack bar entrance is across from the music building.

Cafeteria manager Michael L. Dolan asks that dorm residents leave the cafeteria after eating to make room for other students.

State Protest On Faculty Parking Fee

San Jose State College faculty members do not seem as irred as other college faculty at having to pay to park on campus. Dr. William J. Dusel, vice president of the college, said last week.

A statewide protest was made Sept. 19 by a group of faculty members representing the 15 California state colleges, complaining of the fee adopted by the 1959 state Legislature and continued by the 1960 budget act.

Leo McClatchy of San Francisco State told an administrative hearing on the parking fee regulation: "If this new regulation is approved we will be in court as soon as possible, maybe in two weeks."

For the estimated 1000 faculty members at SJS, there are 327 on-campus parking places. John Amos, superintendent of building and grounds, pointed out. He said that 217 are given on a priority basis to faculty or administration personnel who use their cars in their work. About 360 permits were issued, however, figuring 10 per cent above spaces available due to staggered parking times.

ASB President Says

College Offers Opportunity To Responsible Students

Dear Students:

San Jose State College as an institution of higher learning offers its students many new and exciting experiences. Opportunities for academic, social, physical and leadership development are available to all students who are willing to accept the challenge.

We as students have a responsibility to meet this challenge and to make maximum use of these opportunities.

Student Government at San Jose State College has played an important role in providing students with many stimulating and educational opportunities and experiences. Our main goal is to develop our campus community to meet its maximum potential in providing services for students in the areas of academic, social, physical and leadership development.

To attain this goal we have reorganized student government, established a $10,000 cultural program, increased library services, developed a new self discipline system, and worked in many other areas of student interest.

This year many challenges lie ahead for you and student government. Securing the finances for a student activities building, furnished with such facilities as lounges, personal services, a bowling alley, a ball room, developing a sound policy for the allocation of student body funds, working for better utilization of weekend recreation facilities, establishing a better communications system between student body at large, and generally raising the prestige of San Jose State College, are just a few of the projects which lie ahead.

I extend an invitation to all students to participate in these academic and extracurricular endeavors which will enable us to fulfill our obligation as students and educated citizens.

Registration Dance Draws Huge Crowd

San Jose State students numbering over a thousand, relaxing after the registration rush last week, attended the traditional Registration Dance held last Friday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the San Jose Civic auditorium.

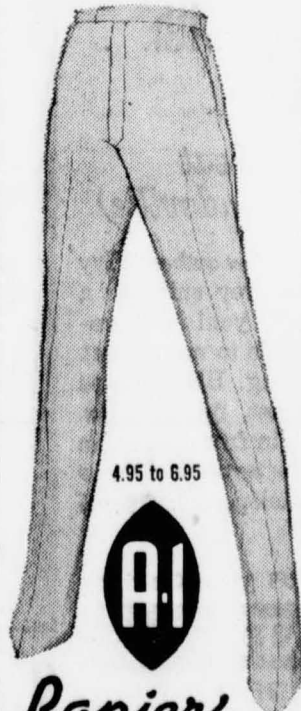

Open to all regularly enrolled students, the semi-annual dance serves primarily as a "get acquainted" affair, according to Dean Janet Douglas, in charge of activities.

The dance was sponsored by the Social Affairs Committee, affiliated with the Student Body, and featured a live band, Dean Douglas said.

Presidential Appointments

Five Department Heads Named for New Term

Two new SJS faculty department heads have been announced by Pres. John T. Wahlquist for the 1960-61 academic year. They are among five new department heads, three of whom were named last semester.

The two are Dr. James C. Mace, new head of the electrical engineering department, who replaces Dr. James T. Smith, professor of electrical engineering, and Lt. Col. Edwin T. Rios, new head of the military science department, who replaces Lt. Col. Edward S. Robbins, professor of military science and tactics.

Dr. Smith has returned to employment at IBM and Colonel Robbins has been reassigned by the U.S. Army to the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

Those appointed to new department head positions during the spring were:

Warren W. Faus, associate professor of art, acting head, Art department, who replaced Dr. John E. French, professor of art; Dr. Frederic A. Weed, assistant professor of political science and education, Political Science and Public Administration department, who replaced Dr. Earl C. Campbell, professor of political science, and Dr. Ralph C. Bohn, associate professor of industrial arts, Industrial Arts department.

Dr. Mace, professor of electrical engineering, came to San Jose after four years with Firestone Engineering Laboratory, Monterey. He has taught at the University of Virginia, University of New Hampshire, University of Illinois and at Annapolis.

Dr. Mace earned his Ph.B. degree at Ripon (Wis.) College, and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Illinois.

Colonel Rios, instructor in military science, taught at the Command and General Staff College in Ft. Leavenworth last year and prior to that was an instructor at The Infantry School in Fort Benning, Ga. He received his bachelor of science degree at the University of Georgia.

Colonel Rios was plans and operation officer in the 7th U.S. Army Division and commanding officer of the 3rd Armored Division in Germany, and psychological warfare officer in Germany and Korea.

Yearling Football

Speed Offsets Size Deficiency of Frosh

San Jose State's current frosh football team may lack overall size, but it could make up for any such deficiency with an abundance of speed and determination.

Regular workouts for Coach Bob Jones' 40-man crew start this afternoon. The season opener is set for Oct. 6 against the S.F. State junior varsity.

Jones has been working with the squad since Sept. 16, but because of registration interruptions has had the full 40-man contingent together on only three or four occasions.

The Frosh is faced this season with what is probably the roughest freshman football schedule in San Jose State history.

Stanford and Cal's frosh are both on the 1960 Spartababe slate for the first time in a single season.

Challenges by yearling elevens from College of the Pacific, Cal Poly and Fresno State round out the six-game frosh season.

A pair of all-star tackles from the San Francisco Bay Area plus three state high school track and field record holders are among the 40 candidates.

Jack Duggan, a 6-2, 205 pound tackle from Riordan, was an All-Catholic loop tackle last season, while Ken Sanderfur, a 215 pound tackle from S.F.'s Mission High, received All-City honors.

One of several quarterback candidates, little (5-8, 165 pound) Walter Roberts holds the California high school broad jump title.

Robert Bonds, a 6-1, 195 pound halfback, holds the State high school hurdle mark, while 6-1, 195 pound halfback Tom Cousy claims the national high school hop, step and jump standard.

Jones' aides are Johnny Webb and Dave Hurlburt.

Davis, Lambert New Coaches

By GARY PALMER

Roy Davis and Art Lambert are recent additions to the Spartan coaching staff for the fall semester of 1960.

The pair of youthful mentors, both working for their M.A. degrees in physical education, will head the gymnastic and water polo teams, respectively.

Davis was a June graduate of the University of California, where he starred in gymnastics. He was captain of the 1960 team that went undefeated in dual meets and was a three year letterman on the gym team.

He competed in all nine gymnastic events and was second high point man on the squad for two years in a row. Davis also received a citation as the outstanding senior in physical education at Cal last year.

Lambert, a former San Jose State aqua star, was a member of the SJS swim team for four years; three of which he was a state freestyle champion. Besides being a standout on the aqua squad, Lambert paced the water poloists to state titles in '57 and '59.

In addition, he was a member of the 1959 Olympic Club water polo squad and won an All-

American berth at guard while with the O.C. team.

Until recently, Lambert held four school swimming records. He was the 50, 100, and 220-yard freestyle record holder and had the best time in the 200-yard individual medley until Tom Macedo cracked the mark last spring.

TANK TITANS—Tom Macedo (left) and Art Lambert (right) former Spartan swim greats. Macedo cornered the market on SJS backstroke records last semester in the state college swimming championships. Lambert, who had four of his Spartan swim records smashed in the same meet, has been appointed water polo coach beginning this semester. As a star water poloist at SJS he led the Spartans to the state championship in 1957 and 1959.

Soccer Team Boasts Vets

Soccer coach Julie Menendez greeted a flock of booter hopefuls Friday, including last year's leading scorer, Joe Battaglia. Returning lettermen Nils Bengtsson, Perry Weddle and Battaglia will form the nucleus of the squad that last year finished fifth in an eight team league with a 3-4-1 record.

Early registration sign-ups for the team showed a promising turnout of 11 by noon of first day registration.

On the pre-season rosters are Gordy Stroud, a standout on last year's frosh tennis team, and Bill Poulos, a boxer on Menendez' 1959 ring team.

Also listed on the squad are Dave Biddle, Jim Vaden, Dietmar Demeter, John McWilliams, Jerry Neilson, John Orogren of Hong Kong and Myron Sweeney.

Gymnasts Meet

New gymnastic coach Roy Davis has called a meeting of all prospective and varsity gymnasts at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow in MG201.

A workout will follow the meeting.

Mural Athletic Directors Gather

Danny Glines, who succeeds Dale Swire as intramural athletic director this year, has called for a meeting of mural sports directors Wednesday at 4 p.m. in MG201.

Fraternalties and independents who plan to enter teams in any of the organized intramural sports activities are requested to have a representative at the meeting. It is urgent that the meeting begin promptly at 4 p.m., he added.

Spikers Set Confab

There will be a meeting of frosh, varsity and new track prospects Wednesday evening, according to head coach Bud Winter. The meeting is slated for 7:30 in MG201.

Need Managers For Athletics

Wanted: Athletic managers.

Coaches Bob Titchenal (football) and Art Lambert (water polo) are in search of team managers for the grid season now in progress and the forthcoming water polo season.

Poloists request a manager afternoons from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. Additional hours will be required of the football team manager. He will also travel with the squad.
