Stating that he didn't exactly know what the policies are now, Stevens said that he wanted "to find out if we (students) have a voice in setting these policies."

ASB vice-president Skip Fisk, Council chairman, stated that this "is a start" toward finding out more exactly where the approximately $60,000 per year of student body funds is going.

BY-LAW PASSED

A student activities board (SAB) by-law concerning with "supervision" of material distributed on campus by individuals or groups was also passed by Council after a phrase had been added stating that "ideological content" would not be included under SAB supervision.

In other action, Council approved a motion that the student body finance room and board for a Japanese exchange student sponsored by the city of San Jose in conjunction with the Okayama-San Jose "sister-city" program. San Jose attorney Wade Hoyer, member of the Pacific neighbors organization, told Council members that the program was part of the "people to people" program advocated by Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and that most of the expenses must be borne by the local community.

The appointment of four members of the orientation week committee was also approved in yesterday's session, and the SJS army ROTC honorary organization was given Council approval for a name change, designating its dropping of national affiliation.

Absent were Gary Clemens and Nancy Reesink.

Four Openings Created on Board

Four openings for appointive positions in the AWS Judicial board have been created by the cabinet's recent by-law amendment to the constitution, according to Kay Blodgett, standards chairman.

Two of the openings will be for the spring semester only while the other two will be appointed until the spring semester next year.

Qualifications include a 2.25 overall grade point average, with upper division standing preferred. Applicants should be living in approved housing.

Application blanks are available in the College Union and the Activities office, Adm242. Interview appointments should be made when applications blanks are obtained.

Office Application

Students interested in running for freshman, sophomore, junior and senior class offices in the Jan. 12-13 election must file applications, plus a 50-100 word statement of platform, in the College Union, 315 S. Ninth St., by Jan. 4.

Holiday Vacation Begins Dec. 17; Merry Christmas!

Tomorrow is the final day of classes before a 17-day holiday vacation, running from Dec. 17 to Jan. 2. Classes will resume on Tuesday, Jan. 3.

Regular classes will continue through Wednesday, Jan. 25. Finals for the fall semester will begin the following day and will run for seven days.

The Spartan Daily will cease publication with today's issue until Jan. 4.

The school library will remain open during vacation weekdays, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will be closed on Monday, Dec. 26, and Monday, Jan. 2.

Councils Set Trunk Lines To St. Nick

Have you placed your long distance call to the North Pole for 1960? You probably have already made your Christmas arrangements with St. Nick, but perhaps you have children who have a couple of last minute gift ideas.

The Panhellenic and Interfraternity councils are combining in an effort to combat expensive long distance rates. They have made special arrangements through Santa Claus' press secretary for trunk lines to the pole.

On Sunday, children of faculty members or students will be able to reach Mr. Claus from 6 to 9 p.m. by dialing any of the following numbers:

CYpress 4-6431, CYpress 4-6432, CYpress 4-6433, CYpress 4-6434, and CYpress 4-6436.

Gifts for SJS students, according to Mr. Claus, have already been determined so it is needless for them to make calls.

Former Communications Boss In Pakistan Speaks Tomorrow

Mr. Russell H. Davis, jr., for more than two years communications chief for the United States mission to Pakistan, will speak tomorrow in S142 on "Pakistan—Land of the Indus and Land of the Brahmaputra."

He will illustrate his talk with color slides, according to his son, Brent, a senior chemistry major at SJS.

The address is sponsored by the college lecture committee. Its chairman, Dr. Frank Willey, coordinator of the college extension services, said Mr. Davis "will develop the theme that an ability to communicate knowledge that will result in action is a primary element of economic growth."

FORMER MARINE

The State department official—formerly a U.S. Marine—is expected to explain why effective communications media are necessary before knowledge related to this growth can occur.

Pakistan is located north of India, but is separated by more than 1000 miles of India.

Through each of the sections flows a large river. Hence, West Pakistan is associated with the Indus, and East Pakistan with the Brahmaputra.

The country has been autonomous from India since 1947.

COMMUNICATIONS WORK

It is the world's sixth largest country with 90 million people.

Mr. Davis' work in the communications field includes audio-visual education, all aspects of motion picture production, radio broadcasting, printing, graphic arts and educational TV.

'Opportunities' Talk Scheduled

Dr. Walter Hugins, assistant professor of history, will speak on "Opportunities for the Historian with the National Park Service" tonight at 7:30 in CH237.

Dean Flint, vice president of Phi Alpha Theta, sponsors of the talk, said all students are invited. Phi Alpha Theta is the honorary history fraternity.

Dr. Hugins was a historian for the National Park Service for several years before coming to SJS in 1959.

Teen-age Expert Dr. Arthur Roth Speaks Today in Morris Dailey

Sixth lecturer of the current lecture series will feature Arthur Roth, M.D., speaking on the "Teen-Age Years," today at 11:30 a.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium.

Dr. Frank G. Willey, chairman of the lecture committee, said Dr. Roth's work with teen-age groups has been described in a Time magazine editorial. Earlier, he spoke to an evening session of the SJS Conference on Childhood and Adolescence.

CONSULTANT JOURNALIST
The author of the book, "The Teen-Age Years," Dr. Roth also has contributed several articles to the Pediatrics, Journal of the American Dietetic Assn., and California Medicine magazines.

Dr. Roth is a special consultant to the State Department of Public Health and has been director of the Teen-Age clinic at the Kaiser Medical center in Oakland since 1953.

He was born in Orange, Tex., in 1920 but moved to Cleveland,

Deadline Set Today For Camp Counselors

Today is the last day for students interested in Spartacamp counseling to sign up for interviews, announced Earle Truax, Spartacamp director.

Students may apply by filling out application blank and signing up for an interview in the College Union, he said. All SJS students are eligible to be discussion group counselors, he added.

Interviews will be conducted in the testing office of the administration building from 1 to 4 p.m., Jan. 9-11, 1961. "Present plans call for the enlargement of the camp, so additional counselors are urgently needed," Truax remarked.

The sign-up deadline was extended to today because of the lack of applicants, he said.

Those selected as counselors will attend weekly meetings prior to camp for instruction in group discussion techniques and camp goals.

Spartacamp 1961 will be held March 18-19 in Asilomar camp grounds in Monterey, he said.

The original purpose of the camp was to promote interest in participation in student government. Since then, he pointed out, the goals have been expanded to foster thought provoking discussions.

Gifts Roll in for Families; Spurs Thank Many Helpers

"Thank God, this will hold those children for a while."

Mrs. Alston Rigter, adviser to the sophomore women's service club, Spartan Spurs, said this with quiet satisfaction as she looked about her at the stacks of food and packed boxes.

"Now there are so many people to thank for helping us, and most of them didn't even ask for thanks," she said with a smile.

Mrs. Rigter was talking about the "overwhelming" response of students, student groups and good-hearted individuals outside of the college who brought food, clothing, and money for the Spurs' jail auxiliary Christmas program. All items are used as gifts to the destitute families of jail inmates.

A local food center offers its stock at cost prices and town merchants have been liberal with their help, Mrs. Rigter stated. So many campus organizations have offered their help that she "cannot remember" them all.

Some of the Spurs women were most surprised to find a large box filled with "beautifully wrapped gifts for children, labeled by age and sex."

Such incidents, Mrs. Rigter said with a little smile, prove that those who most deserved thanks leave their gifts without asking "for a credit line."

STUDENTS HELP

"What is impressive to these persons is that young, intelligent college students are trying to help them. They say to themselves: If they are that interested in my family and me, maybe I'm not so bad after all. This actually works, and we're told that many persons and families are saved this way," was her declaration.

If a person is convinced there is no poverty in San Jose, Mrs. Rigter is quick to correct them. "Just the other day we bought a mattress for two little boys. The fam-

FIGHTING IN CENTRAL VIENTIANE

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The pro-Western forces of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan battled their way slowly toward the center of Vientiane yesterday against stiff resistance of Capt. Kong Le's Russian-supplied leftist forces.

The indecisive fighting took on some of the characteristics of the war in Korea with Russia flying in mortars and other ammunition for the pro-Communist forces trying to hold the capital against the assault by pro-Western troops.

The fighting centered around army headquarters and the Ministry of Defense and at one point Phoumi's artillery set fire to the army headquarters building. But Kong Le's fighters held firm.

DE GAULLE MAY RENEW CEASE FIRE OFFER

PARIS (UPI)—Pres. Charles de Gaulle was reported today yesterday to renew his offer of a one-sided cease fire in Algeria in a spectacular gesture for Moslem support to end the 6-year-old rebellion there.

De Gaulle conferred for 75 minutes yesterday with Premier Michel Debre and French political sources said he was considering ordering French troops to stop fighting, unless attacked, in hopes this would save his North African policy.

Drinking and Driving

"Thank God you stopped me . . . I could have killed someone."

These words were voiced by a 28-year-old mother of three children when she was picked up for drunk driving last Sunday.

She was told she had struck and killed a man. She only remembers hitting a bump.

So many times when something appalling like this happens we read and think "this couldn't happen to me." It happens, though.

With the Christmas vacation just a day away there will be many parties. Clubs, fraternities, sororities or just friends will be celebrating school's recess, Christmas and New Years all in one shindig. Some will be driving. Then we'll find out "who it can happen to."

There have been 30 accident fatalities so far this year in San Jose. In approximately 60 per cent of those fatal accidents, drinking was involved.

Even the "social drinker" (two or three) is the cause of many accidents. Alcohol slows down the reaction time of a driver. Add to this some rainy or foggy weather, and the danger is quadrupled. Is it really worth it?

Drunken drivers are getting hit hard and heavy in the courts. But as the old saying goes, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." You can kill just as effectively the first time you drink and drive.

Put the 'X' Back in Xmas!

Although Xmas is a week and a half away, I intend to devote today's expose to a subject inseparable from this Day of Days, as I would call it were I a poet.

(Note I said "Xmas," in spite of the Spartan Daily style book which prefers "Christmas," the holiday's real name. Since one of my crusades—certainly not mine alone, however—involves putting the "X" back in Xmas, I think it's okay.)

(But it is not what I wish to discuss primarily. I just thought I'd mention it.)

I am mainly concerned with how Xmas affects kids. (The style manual likes "children" better.)

For example, tykes should not be told about Santa Claus. Mainly, because there is no Santa Claus. (Sorry, Virginia!)

This may come as a great shock to you. But the fact is, most kids don't believe in Santa, despite what parents say. Kids believe in a mythical creature who brings' gobs of immediately decimated presents. Yes!

What they don't believe in, is the spirit that this old, fat fella' represents. They don't, because their parents don't.

And their parents don't because their grandparents were illiterate, and could not read the N. Y. Times editorial which assured Virginia.

Of course, if there are parents who still believe in the spirit of S. Claus, then we recommend his introduction into the family circle.

Santa, no less than God, is not a sometime thing. He is a living symbol of generosity and warmth and emphatic thought.

When we drag him out of the mothballs each Dec. 25 morning, we only defile the place with sugary sentimentality. Better let him lie in solitude.

THE 'SMUT' CENSORS

While discoursing about kids: the same sort of hypocritical attitude surrounding Santa Claus is present in the current crusade by well-meaning, but naive pedestrian thinkers, to ban books.

In Marin county the word is get Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men," and J. D. Salinger's "Catcher in the Rye."

In the first place, anyone who thinks they are dirty hasn't read very much. In the second place, who cares if they are (and critics are unanimously affirmative), if they are good literature? In the third place, the very parents who would ban them, probably read them on the side.

But the kids minds they say shouldn't be violated. Stupidity, pure and simple.

Quick, give me an "X." I must get on with my crusade. If I fail, then I suppose I'll wipe the tears and settle for . . .

HAPPY CHRISTMAS AND MERRY NEW YEAR!

DECK THE HALLS

The time has come to make out our Christmas shopping lists, for Christmas will be upon us quicker than you can say Jack Robinson. (Have you ever wondered, incidentally, about the origin of this interesting phrase "Quicker than you can say Jack Robinson"? Well sir, the original phrase was French—"Plus vite que de dire Jacques Robespierre." Jack Robinson is, as everyone knows, an anglicization of Jacques Robespierre who was, as everyone knows, the famous figure from the French Revolution who, as everyone knows, got murdered in his bath by Danton, Murat, Caligula, and Aaron Burr.

(The reason people started saying "Quicker than you can say Jacques Robespierre (or Jack Robinson as he is called in English-speaking countries)" is quite an interesting little story. It seems that Robespierre's wife, Georges Sand, got word of the plot to murder her husband in his bath. All she had to do to save his life was call his name and warn him. But, alas, quicker than she could say Jacques Robespierre, she received a telegram from her old friend Frederic Chopin who was down in Majorca setting lyrics to his immortal "Warsaw Concerto." Chopin said he needed Georges Sand's help desperately because he could not find a rhyme for "Warsaw." Naturally, Georges Sand could not refuse such an urgent request.

(Well sir, Georges Sand went traipsing off to Majorca, but before she left she told her little daughter Walter that some lad men were coming to murder daddy in his bath, and she instructed Walter to shout Robespierre's name when the lad men arrived. But Walter, alas, had been sea-bathing that morning on the Riviera, and she had come home loaded with sea shells and salt water taffy, and when the bad men came to murder Robespierre, Walter, alas, was chewing a big wad of salt water taffy and could not get her mouth open in time to shout a warning. Robespierre, alas, was murdered quicker than you could shout Jacques Robespierre (or Jack Robinson as he is called in the English-speaking countries).

(There is, I am pleased to report, one small note of cheer in this grisly tale. When Georges Sand got to Majorca where Chopin was setting lyrics to his immortal "Warsaw Concerto," she was happily able to help him find a rhyme for "Warsaw," as everyone knows who has heard those haunting lyrics:

In the fair town of Warsaw,
Which Napoleon's horse saw,
Singing cockles and mussels, alive alive o!)

Yes, Virginia, there is...

But I digress. We were speaking of Christmas gifts. What we all strive to do at Christmas is, of course, to find unusual, offbeat, different gifts for our friends. May I suggest then a carton of Marlboro Cigarettes?

What? You are astonished? You had not thought of Marlboros as unusual, offbeat, different? You had regarded them as familiar, reliable smokes whose excellence varied not one jot or tittle from year to year?

True. All true. But at the same time, Marlboros are unusual, offbeat, different, because every time you try one, it's like the first time. The flavor never palls, never gets hackneyed. Each Marlboro is a fresh delight, a pristine pleasure, and if you want all your friends to clap their hands and exclaim, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus!" you will put them at the very top of your Christmas list.

And for further Yuletide joy, give Marlboro's nonfiltered companion cigarette, mild, flavorful Philip Morris—in regular size or the sensational new king-size Commander. You'll be welcome aboard!

Glines' Frosh Face San Mateo College Tonight in Spartan Gym

By GARY PALMER
 Danny Glines' frosh cagers, endeavor to finish their pre-league season with a flourish tonight when they tackle College of San Mateo at 8 p.m. in Spartan gym. Bob Chapman and Andy Baumgardner will again be at the helm of the yearlings in the absence of Glines, who is making the eastern swing with Stu Inman and his varsity quintet. Boasting a 4-1 mark after tripping Monterey Peninsula college Tuesday, the frosh will have their work cut out for them if they are to rest during the holidays with a 5-1 slate.

San Mateo boasts a pair of top-notch starters in guard John Conand center Howard Sundberg of drin from Capuchino high school, Mills high and Lowell high in S.F. Sundberg, who stands 6-6 and is still growing, is highly rated by a number of the area's coaches, but 6-8 Harry Edwards is expected to hold down his scoring from San Jose's defensive post position.

Other San Mateo starters include Ben Webster and John Coover, a pair of 6-3 forwards, and 5-11 guard Dave Balsley.

Ralph Barkey, who professes to the same type of play as the Spartababes, is in his first year as coach at CSM.

Though the frosh posted a 46-36 triumph over the Peninsula college quintet, Baumgardner, who handled the yearlings for the first time, was critical of the team's performance.

"Despite the fact we beat Monterey, we didn't play good ball," he said. "We didn't stay within our patterns and our defense was highly erratic," Baumgardner added.

MPC coach Larry Cummins commended frosh forward Mel Simpson, who held Mel Mason, the Lobos crackerjack forward with a 20 point average to six points.

Cummins called it "the best defensive effort he's ever seen on Mason." Simpson, himself, capped the evening with a 17 point total of his own — high for both clubs.

Track Meeting

Freshman track coach Vern Wolfe has called for a meeting of all yearling spikers today at 4:30 p.m. on Spartan field. All who cannot attend are urged to see Wolfe personally.

Cagers Clamp Idaho State, 46-41

By NICK PETERS
 Clamping the lid on Idaho State's basket while erasing a 25-19 halftime deficit, coach Stu Inman's touring Spartan cagers bumped the Bengals, 46-41, in the first of a four-game road trip last night in Pocatello.

Behind by six at the break after shooting a dismal 24 per cent from the floor, the inspired Spartans scored eight quick points 1:40 into the last stanza to pull ahead 27-25 and establish a lead they never relinquished.

It was the third win in a row for the young Spartans, bringing their record to 4-1. In just five 1960-61 contests they have already won two-thirds of last year's dismal 6-19 mark. SJS continues its road trip action tomorrow night in Salt Lake City against the highly rated Utah Redskins before moving eastward to tackle St. Louis U. Monday and Washington U. of St. Louis Wednesday prior to returning to San Jose a week from today.

Scoring in the eight-point second half spree, which turned the tide of the game, was distributed among four Spartan starters.

Sophomore guard Bill Longe started the uphill climb with a 25-foot set, and forward Dennis Bates, another soph standout, followed with a driving lay-up to narrow the Bengals' margin to two points.

Forward Norm Bostock, the only senior on the junket, knotted the count with a 10-foot jump shot and was fouled while shooting. He missed the free throw, but rugged pivot Joe Braun reached up and tipped it in for a 27-25 comeback lead.

Holding the Bengals to that meager total was quite an accomplishment. In an earlier game Idaho State netted 81 against Gonzaga, but the Bengals only tallied five points in 17:28 of the last half last night and that was the story, as the losers succumbed to the pressure of a stingy Spartan defense.

All-Rocky Mtn. conference guard Frank Swopes paced the Bengals to their first half lead with 11 points, but he only garnered one free throw in the frustrating Idaho second half. His 12 points, however, still topped the game's scoring.

SJS scoring leader Braun (12) maintained his monarchy with 11. Bates followed with nine.

FB Johnson Sets Rushing, Scoring Pace

By PETE SHAW
 Fullback Johnny Johnson, unknown at the start of the 1960 football season, led San Jose State in individual rushing and scoring, according to final 1960 statistics revealed today.

Johnson carried the ball 91 times for Bob Titchenal's eleven, gaining 532 yards while losing only nine for a 5.7 yards-per-carry average. The speedster-fullback chalked up 11 touchdowns and a two point conversion to top SJS scorers with 68 points.

Quarterback Mike Jones, recently drafted by the Oakland Raiders of the AFL, didn't have much success when he ran with the ball. In 39 carries, Jones gained 31 yards but lost 188, giving him a -157 net gain.

Team-wise, the Spartans averaged 3.3 yards per carry to a 3.4 average gain for their opponents.

One of San Jose's main strengths in 1960, stats revealed, was passing.

Jones attempted 152 aeriels and completed 71 for 1049 yards and six touchdowns. QB Chon Gallegos attempted 56, connected on 30 for 301 yards and a pair of TDs.

End Claire Appeldoorn, also drafted by the Raiders, caught nine passes for 130 yards and two TDs, while Blanco and McChesney each hauled in a dozen tosses for a combined gain of 330 yards.

Rockholt compiled an outstanding punting record, booting the ball 33 times for 1412 yards, averaging 42.7 yards per kick.

Blanco led the club in punt returns with a 5.3 average, and Burton averaged 5.2 yards on punt runbacks.

Burton returned seven kickoffs 122 yards for a 17.4 average. Blanco also returned seven, for 119 yards and a 17.0 mark.

McChesney averaged 24.6 yards in six runbacks, while sprinter Willie Williams carried four kickoffs for 119 yards, one touchdown and a 29.7 average.

Coach's Article In Dec. 12 Time

Julie Menendez, San Jose State boxing coach, maintains that boxing is no more dangerous than any other sport in an article he authored for the Dec. 12 issue of TIME magazine.

Featured under the medicine section of TIME, Menendez' article points out that boxing, if properly used, can be of great benefit to American youth by conditioning their bodies and aiding them psychologically.

COP Votes Name Change; Now University

College of the Pacific voted last week to change its name back to the University of Pacific. The first private college chartered in California, Pacific was originally located on the campus now occupied by Bellarmine prep in San Jose.

The school moved to Stockton in 1924, after 73 years in the Santa Clara valley. Pres. Robert E. Burns, in announcing the name switch, stated that the school hopes to become a group of small colleges on an enlarged campus.

President Burns said that these colleges would be limited to about 250 students each, and would operate on a system similar to Oxford university.

State Legislature Authorizes 3200 Tuition, Fee Grants

Thirty-two hundred scholarships for the 1960-61 college year have been authorized by the legislature, according to Drummond McCunn, Contra Costa college district superintendent.

Counselors will assist students in preparing the necessary applications which must be postmarked by midnight, Jan. 16, 1961, said McCunn, writing in the magazine California School Administration.

The scholarships are intended to pay only tuition and fees. Thus, at a private college the grant awarded would be greater than the $81 awarded to an SJS student. However, the grant is renewable.

Fifteen hundred of the scholarships will go to new winners, the remaining 1,700 represent renewals to presently enrolled state scholarship winners.
