amount which was raised by faculty and administration staff donations.

Coordinator of the SJS campaign is Willard J. Saunders, professor of business. A meeting of members, appointed from different departments to help the campaign, was held yesterday afternoon.

At the meeting the different faculty members received packets and other materials which will be distributed Monday.

Funds collected at SJS will be distributed to the 90 agencies participating in the United Fund. The drive ends early in November.

Friday Flicks

"From The Terrace," starring Paul Newman and Joan Woodward, is set for tonight's Friday flicks in Morris Dailey auditorium at 7:30.

The movie, based on a novel by John O'Hara, deals with the slow dissolution of a marriage over the years resulting from misunderstanding and neglect.

Jazz, Folk Songs

Grid Game Features Stereophonic Cheers

Stereophonic cheering, "Gay 90's" half-time activities and an hour-long pre-game show will highlight tomorrow's Colorado State-SJS football game.

"Stereo" cheering will be achieved with yells coming simultaneously from both sides of the football field. Huge cards with cheers spelled out on them will be held by students on both sides of the field.

"SPARTA PRESENTS"

Jazz, folk songs and a hofbrau drinking scene are among the features of "Sparta Presents," a show beginning at 6:45 p.m. in the Spartan stadium.

A new program this semester, "Sparta Presents" does not replace half-time activities, which will go under the theme of "Gay 90's" during the 8 p.m. game. Half-time activities are the SJS band and Spartanettes.

HOFBRAU SCENE

The pre-game show will feature the hofbrau scene from the "Gus Lease Show," a musical revue of SJS students and faculty which toured army camps during summer.

The 20-minute segment of the show includes "The Drinking Song" and "The Italian Street Song" by vocalist Jan Clifton.

"Hey Daddy" will be sung by Margie Brown.

PROGRAM

Program for the show is as follows: Modern Arts Quintet featuring James McDonald, Don Chan, Bill King, James McIntyre, and Bill Trimble; Herm Wyatt, a folksong and calypso stylist; Joe Teixeira, an accordionist; the Outlanders, Sharon Korhonen and Paige Brown, folksongs; and the Formalairs, a male quartet of David Lindstrom, Bob Cunningham, Ken Hunter, and John Worthington.

Students wearing white to the game will be allowed to sit in the reserved cheering section on the 50-yard line, said Kathy Lyles, Rally committee publicity chairman.

BUSES LEAVES

Buses to the stadium will leave the corner of Eighth and San Carlos sts. at 6:15 p.m., arriving in time for the pre-game show. Round-trip tickets are 20 cents each.

"Sparta Presents" is sponsored jointly by the SJS Alumni association and the Athletic department. Organization of the show is handled by the Music department under Roger S. Muzzy, assistant professor of music.

$3500 in Awards Presented Today

Five SJS students will be presented with $3500 in Crown Zellerbach Foundation scholarships at 3 p.m. today in cafeteria room A, according to Don R. Ryan, scholarship chairman and assistant to the dean of students.

Vice-President William J. Dusel will present the awards to Robert Dean Silveria, Cayle Hudspeth, Edythe Cooper, Wanda Laudenslager, and Mary E. Bates.

A graduate student, Silveria will receive $1500 to continue his training in the field of teaching handicapped children.

Seminar Will Aid Area Businessmen

A one-day seminar in public purchasing will be held here tomorrow for businessmen preparing for examination for purchasing agent certificates.

The seminar, to be held in the science building, is sponsored by the San Jose State Management department and the California State, County and Municipal Purchasing Agents' association.

J. L. Herlihy, assistant professor of business, will review public purchasing principles and practices for the group.

Student - Motorcycle Vacation Spells 'Summer of Adventure'

By HERB FRASER

Most students who come to SJS from other areas go home during the summer and Manuel Tanora, 25, junior engineering student from Argentina, is no exception.

But this summer he traveled to his home in Buenos Aires the hard way—on a motorcycle.

The most enjoyable part of the trip, according to Manuel, were the 25 days it took him and his friend to cycle from Lima, Peru, to Buenos Aires. But that's getting ahead of the story.

IDEA FOR TRIP

The idea for the long, arduous trip began last spring when Manuel and his friend, Francisco Girado, 19, were students at San Francisco city college.

Girado also is from Buenos Aires. The two planned to motorcycle the way home over the Pan-American highway, which is now only a mule trail for most of its route over the Andes mountains.

Arriving in Mexico City, the boys learned at the Argentine Embassy that passage through the various countries of Central America would be impossible without a "triptique" for their motorcycles. Manuel said that legal procedures for obtaining the "triptique" were so many and varied that they cycled to the port of Acapulco where they hopped a Norwegian freighter, bags and motorcycles, for Lima, Peru. This eliminated the red tape of going through customs in countries they sailed past: Ecuador, Colombia and the Central American countries.

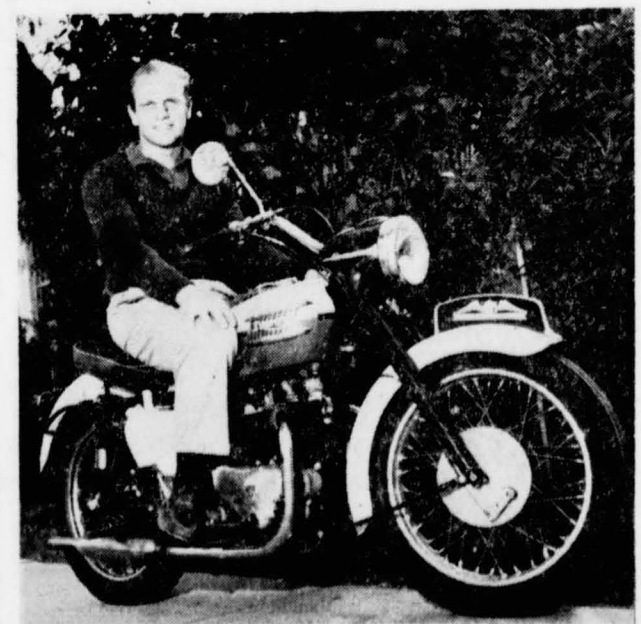

The way in which Manuel obtained passage on the freighter for himself and his friend is indicative of his engineering background. Although he speaks no Norwegian and knew nothing about locks, he made use of sign-language to tell the ship's Norwegian officers that he was a locksmith. By a trial and error system he duplicated keys for some of the ship's locks to justify being hired.

Evidently Manuel is a better talker than locksmith for, as he confesses, "Any key will now fit in the locks I made duplicates for."

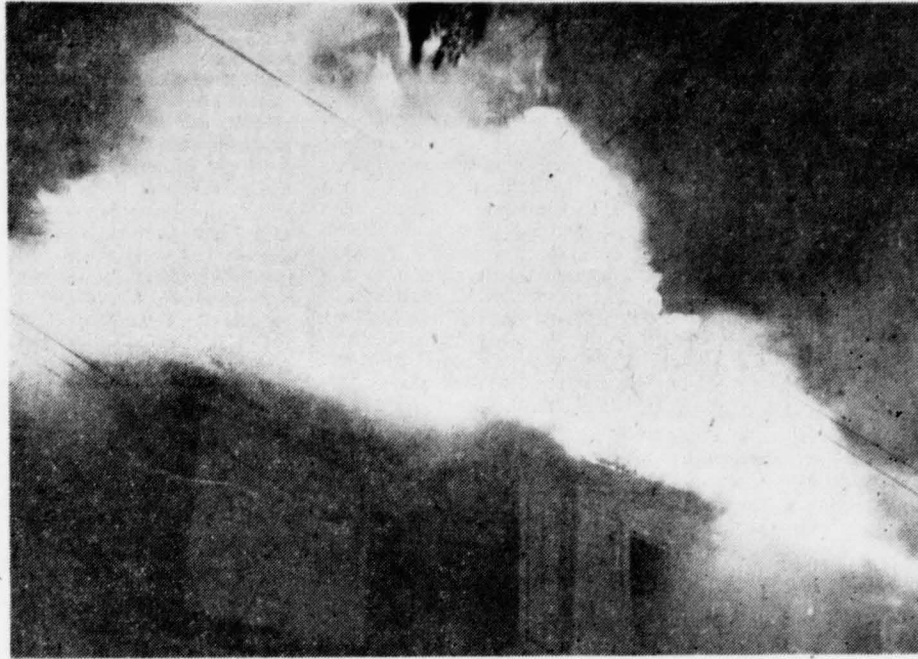

Manuel and Francisco cycled south from Lima for about 1200 miles before turning east over the mule trail through the Andes.

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE . . .

FLAMES LEAPED INTO THE SKY as firemen sought to control the blaze at 487 S. Sixth st. The two-alarm fire attracted a crowd of several hundred most of whom were SJS students living in the area. Many were clad in pajamas as the heat from the flames temporarily chased away the chilly weather.

Face Lifting Scheduled For 1956 Library Addition

Rehabilitation of the 1956 addition to the college library, which will integrate the building with the new six-story library structure, will start within 90 days, C. M. Herd, chief construction engineer, division of architecture, State Department of Public Works, stated.

The work to be done on the first addition, will include re-arranging of offices, seminar rooms and reading rooms and the leveling of sagging floors that have undergone "more slab deflection than expected," C. Grant Burton, SJS executive dean, said.

CONSTANT USE

During the five years in which the 1956 addition has been in constant use, some deficiencies have developed. When the work is done, Herd stated, both library additions will be structurally equal.

During remodeling, a heavy weight epoxy, a new adhesive material stronger than the material it binds, will be used on the concrete floors to grip a leveling layer.

MATTER OF APPEARANCE

Explaining the deflection of the floors of the 1956 addition, Dean Burton said, "this is primarily a matter of appearance and not of structural deficiency."

"At the time the center section of the library was funded—before my time—it was thought by many people to be the final library addition," the dean stated.

"As a matter of fact, there was talk of imposing a 6,000 full-time equivalent student ceiling on the college at that time. However, the ceiling was never put into effect," Dean Burton said.

Bells Stop Tolling

In case no one has noticed, the bells of Tower hall are no longer chiming the time of day.

Due to a power failure in a transformer, the bells were stopped. After a more thorough investigation it was found other electrical parts were also burnt out.

"The main problem now," said Victor C. Jansen, SJS electrical engineer, "is the parts will take sometime to arrive."

So until that day comes, Spartans had better keep their watches wound tight.

ISO Plans Meeting

The International Student organization will hold its first general meeting of the semester today from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the new International Student Center, 285 S. Market st.

SAM RAYBURN DOOMED BY CANCER

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn has an incurable cancer, his doctor reported yesterday. A medical bulletin issued by his doctor at Baylor University medical center said a biopsy of tissue from Rayburn's right groin reveals a "metastatic malignancy." "This indicated that the most likely site of the malignancy is the pancreas," the bulletin said. "No further surgery is anticipated." A "metastatic malignancy" means that the cancer has spread from one point where it originated over other parts of the body.

KENNEDY-GROMKO TO MEET TODAY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy is expected at his meeting Friday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to stress that the West is not bluffing in its pledge to fight if necessary for its rights in Berlin. The President, according to U.S. officials, undoubtedly will couple this warning with an offer to negotiate the smoldering issue if Russia first recognizes the West's vital interests in the beleaguered city.

RED POLICE FIRE ON WEST BERLIN

BERLIN (UPI)—Communist police fired gunshots into West Berlin in two separate incidents yesterday, West Berlin police reported. No casualties were reported in either incident and West Berlin police withheld return fire. The latest incidents came as West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt took off for the United States to receive a Freedom House award in New York for his role in preserving this city's position in the face of Communist aggression.

NEW PLAN FOR U.N. HEAD PROPOSED

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—At least eight non-committed nations sought final agreement yesterday on a plan to appoint an acting secretary-general and five assistants who must be approved in advance by the Soviet Union and the United States. The group hoped to have the plan ready for President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko when they meet today in Washington.

ATLAS MISSILE SOARS TO NEAR-RECORD

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States yesterday fired an Atlas missile more than one-third of the way around the world in a torturous test of its nose cone. Two airplanes and a ship comprised a recovery team that stood by near the target area for an attempt to retrieve a small data capsule riding in the Atlas nose. This was the longest shot ever attempted with recovery plans. However, the distance of the rocket was a few miles short of the longest flight ever made by a ballistic missile—9054 miles by another Atlas last July 6. No recovery was attempted on that occasion.

REDS PREPARE FOR POSSIBLE MOON ORBIT

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union appears to be building up to a new space spectacular—perhaps in connection with the 22nd Communist party congress opening here Oct. 17. As usual, the Russians are not announcing anything specific in advance. But the speculation in Moscow centered on a possible canine trip around the moon and back to earth or another manned orbit of the earth.

SJS Coed, Policemen Found Fire

The two-alarm apartment house fire at 487 S. Sixth st. on Wednesday night was discovered by Nancy Foster, an SJS coed who lives next door, according to Capt. James Westerhouse of the fire department.

The fire did extensive damage to the attic and the top floor, said the captain, but no cause has been determined. It is currently under investigation, he said.

There were no injuries to the occupants of the two-story structure: Dale Coleman, Mrs. David Hamic, Miss Thelma Foster and her mother, Mrs. Izetta Foster.

According to Mrs. Dolores Thomas next door at 483 S. Sixth st., Miss Foster discovered the fire at approximately 10:15 p.m. The alarm was turned in by Jan Mayeda, another SJS coed, who also is a resident there.

However, Mrs. Thomas said she understood the fire had already been discovered by policemen Charles Roy and Robert Moir on patrol.

Captain Westerhouse said the first alarm came in at 10:13 followed by the second one at 10:18 p.m. A total of nine pieces of equipment responded, he said.

While a crowd of several hundred, composed mainly of SJS students, watched the blaze from across the street, Mrs. Thomas said two of the students hosed the side of her house in case the fire broke out of control.

Fire hoses were strewn all over the street as firemen scrambled up ladders approaching the blaze from several directions. The fire was quickly put out without complication.

At the height of the fire, the heat from flames shooting 10 to 15 feet beyond the rooftop could be felt by the crowd across the street. The light from the flames lit up their faces as it outshone the floodlights from one of the trucks.

After the flames on the outside were extinguished, the cold of the night could be felt and the presence of the floodlights became noticeable.

According to Captain Westerhouse the house is owned by Harold Gordon who resides at 242 N. 12th st.

Buses Are Ready For Student Rides To Football Game

Bus transportation will be available to students for tomorrow night's SJS-Colorado state football game at Spartan stadium.

Three buses will also make the roundtrip for the SJS-Stanford game at Stanford on Oct. 14.

Buses for the Colorado game will leave from the corner of Eighth and San Carlos sts. at 6:10 p.m. tomorrow, arriving at the stadium in time to assure students choice seats for the pre-game program and the exciting action on the field.

Tickets for bus rides must be purchased in advance at one of the residence halls. Tickets for tomorrow's game are 20 cents each. For the Stanford game they will cost $1.10 each.

One of the great rivalries of the football season will renew itself Oct. 14 when San Jose State's football team battles the Stanford Indians. Stanford will be hoping for revenge after last year's 34-20 loss to the Spartans.

Tickets for the game are on sale at the student Affairs Office, TH-16, for $1 with presentation of SJS student body card. Cards will not be honored at the game.

'Sand-box Politics'(?)

The one goal that the student government at SJS has rated highest this semester is service to the student body.

ASB officials have time and again stressed that the primary objective during the coming year is to make the government into a responsible and representative body.

It has been more than obvious to the majority of students on campus that student governments have been, in past years, a far cry from representative or responsible in many instances.

Governmental positions, for the most part, have been either prestige positions or stepping stones to higher prestige positions, and the persons that assumed responsibilities inherent in "public service" had done, as is often the case in the real thing, a miserable job of shouldering them.

Both SPUR and Sparta Party, the major campus political powers at the present time, have campaigned on and consistently reiterated the desire to see "responsible" and representative student government at SJS.

If the respective office and position holders allow or cause the government to become embroiled in a conflict of politics or personalities, as seems at this point to be impending, then the constituents would be doing both themselves and student government a disservice.

Functioning as a body and accomplishing something really worthwhile is a much more valid measurement of the success of a government than is the number of headlines that individual members of that government can make in the local newspapers by means of charges and countercharges, which resemble all too often "tempest, in a teapot."

If the officials this year can manage to subdue their smoldering political enmities and personal animosities in order to function cohesively, for a change, the student government as a concept and as a reality will certainly not suffer.

It might even, perhaps, win the attention and respect of a great many students and faculty members who feel that a college or university is something more than a four-year social swim and battleground for "sand-box politics."

If the respective members of the ASB allow what could become the most effective organization yet on this campus to become a glorified debating society or mere prestige potpourri, as it has been in the past, then all that has been expressed by both sides in the spring election campaigns can only appear to be worth nothing.

The members would do well to remember that an official of any group is there to fulfill a function and an obligation, not merely to fill a post.

This year's officers, with few exceptions, have the qualifications and competence to make the ASB into a government such as has not been seen before on any campus.

If it falls back into the sand-box, however, its members shall have no one to blame but themselves. —J.T.

'Parasites' Gather At Scene of Fire

Editor:

Wednesday night a house burned in the campus area and the parasites gathered. Tension ran high in the crowd while the masses got their vicarious thrill. What a wonderful chance to hustle! Greet the old friends and meet the new ones. The atmosphere was that of a coffee break with entertainment. Wasn't it funny when the hose broke and there was no water for the flaming roof? And the fire burned brighter. What of the people who used to live in that house? Oh, don't think of them, that's just sloppy sentimentalism! The gadfly who goes to a fire can't be bothered with humanitarian instincts such as that. And the fire burns on. A parasite must cling to everything that promises excitement, especially if it's at someone else's expense. A fire promises diversion of some kind; perhaps someone will get hurt—that's even more exciting. People don't care. They will always go to fires, always look for a thrill. I know, for I went too.

'Stupid' To Protect Those Who Enslave

Editor:

Yesterday and today there were three articles in this column which seem to advocate the idea that there are two sides to the question (democracy vs. communism). This is sheer foolishness and just what the Communists and the Communist stooges want us to believe. I'm with Professor Carmick 100 per cent. Today we are so afraid of annihilation by the hydrogen bomb that we have forgotten there is something more important than life—than just living. Principles, ideals, our American way of life are much more important, and if we should just sit back and let Russia take over this country, and if you are so afraid of death (you're going to die some day anyway) that you want to cut down our defense budget so no one will get hurt or killed by a nuclear war—then why don't you go to Russia? You certainly are not doing the United States any good.

We can voice our opinion, but protecting those who try to enslave us is stupidity!

Students Lift Hats To Athletic Director

Editor:

In reply to the letter from Mr. Bronzan, director of athletics, in Monday's column, we wish to express our deep appreciation of his praise of the many people and organizations involved in promoting our football games and the extra game activities produced to better support our team and school.

We feel, however, that the great amount of hard work put in by Mr. Bronzan himself, should be recognized. Mr. Bronzan knows well the work of the various committees involved in putting together and publicizing the final product of pre-game and half-time activities because he personally attends the majority of the planning sessions of each group involved.

Our hats off to the fine work being done by Mr. Bronzan.

Musical Comedy To Run Saturdays

"Take Me Along," the new musical comedy adapted from "Ah, Wilderness!" by Eugene O'Neill, will begin its fifth month of performances tomorrow night at the Comedia Theatre, 1300 El Camino Real, Menlo Park.

The musical had its west coast premiere with the Comedia production. It will play every Saturday night at 8:30 in the theatre.

Friday nights the group presents "Look Homeward, Angel" with Moliere's "The Adventures of Scapin," offered Monday nights.

The musical, "Take Me Along" is similar to the original story of the drunken uncle and the old maid aunt with their 17-year engagement. The escapades of a boy growing up produce unusual situations in the musical.

Berlin's Barbed Barrier Is More Than Just a Distant Boundary Line

By PHIL NEWSOM
CPI Foreign News Analyst

BERLIN—The concrete and barbed wire wall thrown across Berlin by the Communists jolted West Berlin industry, but essentially it remains a story of human tragedy.

It is a close-up look at a divided world, a twice-told tale that cannot lose its chilling impact.

The impact becomes the greater because this is October festival time in Germany, and in West Berlin, where gaiety and tension can blend to become indistinguishable, the lights of a gay carnival reflect against the night sky only a few hundred yards from the wall.

The only crossing point between East and West left open to foreigners now is on the Friedrichstrasse.

TROOPS AT BORDER

Here, separated by a distance of less than 100 yards, stand American GIs on the one hand and East German vopos, so-called people's police who guard the Communist barricades, on the other.

The division suddenly becomes very real.

"Check Point Charlie," the Americans call it.

The young GI checks the American passport and writes down the name.

"It's best that you always check in here, sir, before going over," he says. "That way we'll know if you don't come back."

AMERICANS CROSS

It was a reminder that at least three Americans have crossed over in recent days and still are somewhere back of the wall.

The car creeps forward toward the vopos who stand with tommy-guns slung over their backs.

Once again the passport examination. The vopos are polite but Westerners take no chance on such surface appearances.

PRETEXT FOR ARREST

Automobile windows are kept rolled up to make sure that an ambitious vopo does not suddenly reach inside to seize an ignition key or rifle a glove compartment in search of a pretext for arrest. The passports are returned and

UPI correspondent Ted Shields climbs from the driver's seat to open the luggage compartment to show that he is smuggling nothing in.

DANGEROUS TASK

On the return trip he will open it again to prove that he is smuggling no one out.

Ahead lies the concrete maze.

A woman East German doctor achieved the impossible the other day threading it at high speed with her 12-year-old son in the car before the vopos had a chance to shoot.

Here, where East Germans still plot their escapes and occasionally die in the trying, West Berliners have their greatest argument that there can be no barter in human lives.

Work, Pleasure Mixed In Australia: Staveley's Recipe for Good Summer

Combine equal portions of business and pleasure, mix them in Australia and that's Dr. Richard W. Staveley's recipe of how to spend an enjoyable summer.

The assistant professor of political science returned to his native Australia this summer for the first time in three years, spending a summer weekend brought as much as one-fourth of the two million population to the beaches.

Visitors, Dr. Staveley said, are disturbed to see Australians so casual, indifferent. However, they sports-minded, being great participants in such spectator sports as cricket, football and horse racing, he said.

"They have a very strong sense of solidarity," he continued, "and they still have strong ties to Britain." In fact, he added, the people there still refer to Britain as "the homeland."

CLASSLESS SOCIETY

But unlike England, the society in Australia is a classless one, Dr. Staveley said. "The way of life there is a blend of American and British with Australians tending toward the United States in democratic sentiments."

On Australian education, Dr. Staveley said there are four main types of high schools: technical, agricultural, domestic (for women only) and professional training, from which most of the university students come.

HOT, HUMID AND RAINY

Although the summers are often hot and humid enough to send masses of the population out to the beaches, it is during this season that Australia gets most of its rain because it coincides with the end of the monsoon season, Dr. Staveley said.

When does Dr. Staveley expect to return to Australia again? The professor replied he didn't know but added that on his recent summer visit, "I enjoyed it very much."

SJS Sends Delegation of 20 To San Diego for 12th Model UN

By FRED RAGLAND

Ever wonder what it's like to debate on the floor of the United Nations?

A group of SJS students will find out April 11-14.

That is when the 12th annual Model United Nations session takes place in San Diego, San Jose State College will send a 20-member delegation to the session.

The SJS group will represent India, while more than 80 other colleges, universities and junior colleges from 13 western states will each represent a different U.N. country.

In addition, the SJS delegates get college credit for their participation. They receive two units for the fall semester and one for the spring semester.

Although the Model U.N. session lasts only four days, the delegates will be working on the project all year under the direction of Dr. George G. Bruntz, professor of political science.

At the San Diego session the SJS delegation must be prepared to debate such issues as the admission of Outer Mongolia and the Kashmir question from India's point of view. Thus a great deal of research is required.

San Jose State College will host the 12th Model U.N. session to be held April 24-27, 1963. Delegations will room at Hotel De Anza, the Montgomery hotel and the Ste. Claire hotel during the session.

Samuel Obregon, SJS senior industrial management major, has already been selected for the post of secretary-general for the San Jose session.

Other SJS students named to positions on the secretariat for the 1963 session are Steve L. Larson, junior philosophy major, executive assistant; Patricia A. Butler, junior accounting major, controller; and Lana J. Crats, junior business education major, director of the department of general services.

Others are Linda I. Crews, sophomore industrial relations major, undersecretary for secretarial services; Richard J. Quigley, senior political science major, director of the department of political and security affairs; and Sharon L. Holly, sophomore speech major, director of the department of public information.

Students interested in representing SJS at the San Diego session may pick up application blanks in the College Union, according to Miss Holly. Deadline for applications is Oct. 16.

Membership Open In History Frat, Phi Alpha Theta

Qualified students are invited to apply for membership in the SJS chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity, according to Dr. Donald E. Walters, associate professor of history and the fraternity's adviser. The deadline is Oct. 15.

To be eligible for membership, a student must have at least a 3.01 grade point average in history classes and an overall average of 2.75 in college work, Dr. Walters said.

STANDARDS LISTED

The prospective members also must have taken at least 12 units of history and have upper division standing.

Dr. Walters noted, however, lower division courses in the humanities are given half credit toward the history requirement.

Interested students may see Dr. Walters in CH213 or leave their applications in the history department office, CH137.

SCHEDULE SET

The frat "city plans a full schedule of activities this semester," Dr. Walters said, "which will include an initiation banquet."

The fraternity will also sponsor the third annual history essay contest in the spring semester, he added.

Officers of the fraternity are: William Fairbanks, president; Lee Hayashi, vice president; Anne Wilson, secretary; and Madeline Iise, treasurer.

INVENTOR Humbert G. Miraglia jr. demonstrates a Tilt A Table, a device he invented in an SJS industrial design class last semester. The drawing board adapter enables the user to have his work at the desired angle.

Tilt A Table Device Replaces Book Pile

Ever have trouble getting your drawing board at the right angle?

Humbert G. Miraglia jr. did.

Miraglia, a graduate art education student at SJS, finally got tired of propping his drawing board up on a wobbly stack of books.

So he built himself a device which he calls a Tilt-A-Table. He developed it in his industrial design class last semester.

The Tilt-A-Table can be adjusted to four different angles and can accommodate a large drawing board as it supports the board in two places.

Miraglia's invention is made of light wood and folds up to save space.

The device proved so successful that Miraglia decided to put it on the market. It is being manufactured by Leart of California, a Hayward firm.

The Tilt-A-Table is now available at Spartan bookstore, according to Miraglia.

Bears, Indians Prepping For Saturday Games

BERKELEY (UPI)—California's number one quarterback, Randy Gold, will be ready for his first game of the season Saturday when the Bears meet Missouri at Columbia, Mo.

Gold has been out of action this far this season with a knee injury. The Bears worked out two hours Wednesday, polishing offensive plays and shoring up their defense.

STANFORD (UPI)—The Stanford football team worked out for almost three hours under the lights Wednesday night in preparation for Saturday's game with Michigan State in Michigan.

Thirty-nine gridirons left yesterday for East Lansing, Mich. The Indians' only doubtful starter is halfback Larry Royce, who recently had a tooth pulled.

PRETTY GRIDDER—Vicky McBride is caught as she walks across campus with a football in tow. She says she "never misses a game." Vicky is the wife of varsity football guard Ron McBride. What's it like to cook for a big hunk of ball player like Ron? "He wouldn't miss a meal for anything! If he's going to be on the road or fishing, he has me fix him a lunch so he won't be far from food."

Never Misses Meal, Says Wife of Guard

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a nine-part series dealing with the lives and roles of SJS football players' wives.)

By MICKEY MINTON
"I've never seen him miss a meal," declared the petite redhead with the sparkling green eyes and generous smile.

This was Vicky, the 21-year-old wife of SJS varsity football guard Ron McBride, reflecting on what it's like to cook for the 5-10, 200-pounder.

"When he's on training table—where he eats most of his meals with the other players—my food bill is about $7 a week," Vicky explained. "But when he's eating at home, it's about $25 a week."

"He's sort of a health fanatic," Vicky went on. "He always gets at least eight hours of sleep a night and often ten. Oh yes," she added, "he takes vitamins every day, too."

As for Ron's grid life, Vicky said he takes football seriously. "If he feels they've lost because the other team outplayed them, he doesn't feel as bad as when he thinks he's made mistakes," Vicky recalled that for good luck Ron "tapes his socks up before every game."

Around the house he "talks, watches, reads and lives football," Vicky said. "I enjoyed football much more before Ron and I were married." The 22-year-old guard's wife confided.

When asked if she looked forward to Ron's graduation, she replied, "I like this college life; we're having fun. I think I'd like to go back to school," she continued. "If I get a chance."

"Ron wants to coach high school after he's graduated next year," Vicky reported. "I want to see him coaching since he loves kids and works with them so well."

The McBrides will have a football player or cheerleader of their own the end of November, Vicky said. "I think Ron kind of wants a boy, but I'll take any style."

According to Mrs. McBride, Ron "studies a little bit every day. I do a lot of typing for him and ask him questions when he's studying for a test, so I think I help him a little," she concluded.

Spartans, Winless Rams Clash Tomorrow Night; Cadile, Burton Still on Sidelines

By ED LEVINE

With three games under their belt and the roughest part of their schedule yet to come, the SJS Spartan gridironers face the Colorado State Rams tomorrow night at Spartan Stadium. The kickoff is slated for 8 p.m.

Due to injuries and a poor showing by the halfbacks in the Idaho game, Coach Titchenal has juggled his starting lineup.

Both tackle Jim Cadile and flankerback Maek Burton are hampered by injuries and probably will not see any action against the Rams unless Titchenal feels they are ready to go.

Leading the Spartan eleven will be senior signal caller Chon Gallegos. Gallegos is the leading collegiate passer in the nation. He has garnered 435 yards and five TD's in 36 completions in 54 pass attempts.

Backing up Gallegos will be hard hitting fullback Johnny Johnson, and halfbacks Larry Doss and Tom Doslak.

Although the Colorado Rams feature a running game primarily they will counter with a fine passer of their own. Bob Berringer has completed 24 passes of 49 attempts for 154 yards to tie for the lead in passing in the Skyline conference.

Coach Don "Duffy" Mullison will field two hard charging alternate units which have averaged 3.5 yards per carry. The Rams will be without the services of their top ball carrier Ken Hines. The hard running halfback has averaged 5.1 yards per carry. He injured his ankle in the Arizona State game.

The Rams have dropped three straight games in a row. They lost to Utah 40-0, Arizona 28-16, and Arizona State 14-6.

According to Bob Jones, who scouted the Rams in their recent loss to the Sun Devils, the Rams are improving with each game and will be plenty tough.

According to Mullison, the Rams will definitely be up for this game and are hoping to break their losing streak.

The Spartans, still stinging from a 27-18 defeat from the hands of Idaho, have been working hard all week in all phases of the grid game.

Coach Titchenal expects the team to play much better than they did at Idaho. Although not allibing, Titchenal stated that the trip took something out of the team. He definitely expects to get a better performance from his halfbacks than the 68 yards rushing that they got at Idaho.

The green and gold Rams, running from the conventional T-formation, have 14 returning lettermen. Some of the newcomers that should provide trouble for the Spartans are tackle Dick York, and quarterback LeeRoy Gutierrez who hails from San Jose. York hails from the Sacramento area.

Fans attending the game will watch the Spartans try to shake off the Idaho loss. With Stanford, Oregon, Washington State, and Arizona State among the big teams still facing the SJS eleven, they must start playing the rugged good football they are known for.

A capacity crowd is expected for the game Saturday. The SJS fans will get an added treat when a special musical revue, starting in the stadium at 6:45 p.m., will feature student and alumni musical talent will be presented.

Folk songs, calypso singers, popular vocalist Pat Travis, a quartet, trio and combo, and a special musical variety production including a Can-Can line with 20 girls will be presented on the 50-yard line, according to Bob Bronzan, SJS athletic director.

With all this hot entertainment before the game the fans are sure to see a thrilling contest. If Gallegos is up to form and the halfbacks come through like the fullbacks did in the Vandal game, San Jose should easily top the Rams.

If the Spartans don't get the breaks and play a game like the Idaho Vandal second half, they will be hard put to contain a young and building Colorado State Aggie team.

Here are tentative starting lineups for both teams:

SJS	COLORADO
Oscar Donohue LER	Ted Olson
Leon Donohue LTR	C. Threatt
Bill McGrath LGR	Nick Kohls
Hank Chammess C	Hiram DeFries
John Sutro RGL	T. Purdon

Friday FAN-FARE
by EARL GUSTKEY

Pity the poor freshman coach, Robert Jones.

At varsity home games, head coach Bob Titchenal marches his gladiators into Spartan Stadium before a crowd of screaming, stomping, whistling and yelling football nuts that number in the thousands.

Jones, on the other hand, is forced to display his charges at a time when Spartan Stadium looks as big as the Los Angeles Coliseum. Jones' boys play football before crowds that consist of parents, girlfriends and students who have discovered a quiet place to study.

Occasionally the still air is split with the delighted shriek of a girlfriend or a roaring "Atta, boy!" from Dad.

Jones will agree that larger crowds would inspire the team to greater heights, but appears to realize that it would take a herculean promotion job to draw a thousand people to see the frosh play.

This is not to say that the frosh do not have a good ball club. In their opener last Tuesday, Santa Clara University's junior varsity nipped the SJS frosh to the tune of 13-8. "We made too many mistakes and didn't capitalize on the advantages that we had," explains Jones.

Besides handling the reins of the freshman squad, Jones plays another vital role in the local football program... he scouts teams for the varsity coaching staff.

"I'm scouting the Stanford-Michigan State game for Bob (Titchenal) tomorrow evening at East Lansing, Mich." Deep overtones of grief crept into his voice as he outlined his flight schedule. "I leave the San Francisco airport at 11:15 tonight and arrive in East Lansing at 9 Saturday morning. It won't be so bad coming home, though; I leave Chicago at 10 a.m. Sunday, and due to the time zone change, land in San Francisco at 11 a.m."

Incidentally, this will be the second time Jones has scouted Stanford ("We always try to have two reports on all the teams on the schedule"), and his observations lead one to believe that the Spartans will be in for a rough time on Oct. 14. "They just look good," he says.

Jones was asked if the frosh squad uses exactly the same plays the varsity uses. "We naturally use the same standard formation as the varsity, but we have had to make minor adjustments for individual reasons. We have some plays that the varsity does not use, and vice versa."

The tall frosh mentor heaps praise on his staff of line coach Chuck Innes, backfield coach Fred Bianco, and flanker back and end coach Merv Smith. Bianco was a varsity regular last season for Titchenal.

Five members of the frosh squad have caught Jones' eye thus far. Mike Burke, an all-city signal caller from St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco; center Mike Christensen from Upland; quarterback Hinano Kaumeheila, the all-stater from Hawaii; 250-pound John Waggner, a tackle, and Mike Welch, another huge (220) tackle from Downey. "These boys are all outstanding varsity prospects," emphasizes Jones.

Jones came to San Jose State in 1957 after being named "Coach of the Year" in the Peninsula area, while he was athletic director and football coach at Cubberley High School in Palo Alto. He compiled a 29-6-1 record before coming to SJS.

"I certainly am pleased with the spirit on this year's ball club," he concludes, "normally the spirit on a frosh football team isn't too good, but these boys have a lot of desire, and are working real hard."

... How lucky is the freshman football coach, Robert Jones...

Trackmen Gallop Tomorrow in First 'Watermelon Run'

While most students simply run down to the corner store to buy their watermelons, there are 45 SJS trackmen who plan to gallop four miles tomorrow at 4 p.m. just for a slice of the red and green, full-of-seeds fruit.

According to cross-country coach Dean Miller, all 45 entries in this, the first annual Watermelon Run, have a "great spirit," and will be going all out to claim some of the "carload of watermelons."

Miller predicts that varsity men Ben Tucker, Horace White, Rod Davis, Allen Anetsky, and Jeff Fish as well as freshmen Tom Tuite, Dan Murphy, Jim Edmonson, Ron Stave, and Jeff McClain will provide most of the competition.

The jaunt will begin and end at Spartan Stadium.

49ers Waiting For L.A. Rams; Surprise Due?

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—The San Francisco Forty-Niners may come up with a new batch of surprises when they face Los Angeles Sunday at Kezar Stadium.

The Prospector continued secret drills at their practice field here yesterday. Coach Red Hickey has had a screen erected on top of the 25-foot high board fence surrounding the field to keep spies away.

Secret workouts are becoming almost as much a coach Red Hickey trademark as the shotgun offense—the spread formation where the quarterback lines up several feet behind the center with the other backs all flankers. Last Sunday, as San Francisco blitzed Detroit 40-0, Hickey revolved three quarterbacks in the tailback slot.

Coach Hickey was taking with a grain of salt reports that Ram quarterback Zeke Bratkowski may miss Sunday's game because of an injured ankle. He said he is preparing his teams on the assumption that Bratkowski will be in full armor Sunday.

The World Series:

Cincy Evens It Up; Joey Jay Stops N.Y.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Cincinnati Reds evened the World Series at one game all yesterday when they humiliated the New York Yankees 6-2 behind the four-hit pitching of big Joey Jay.

A crowd of 63,083 on this Indian summer afternoon saw the usually impeccable Yankees commit three glaring errors to enable the Reds to avenge their opening game defeat and send the Series to Cincinnati, where the next three games will be played on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Jay, a 21-game winner, throtled the noted Yankee power except for Yogi Berra, who hit his 12th series home run in the fourth inning. It offset a home run blast by first baseman Gordon Coleman in the top of the inning and temporarily tied the score at 2-2.

Ralph Terry, a 16-game winner, was the losing pitcher and he contributed to his own downfall by failing to cover the plate on a passed ball, allowing the tie-breaking run to score.

After that, the Yankees fell apart, even with their peerless relief ace, Luis Arroyo, on the mound.

The game was scoreless going into the fourth inning and with one out, Frank Robinson hit a simple ground ball to Cletis Boyer, the Yankee third baseman who was the fielding star of the opening game. Boyer let it bounce off his chest for an error.

Coleman took a strike and then lined the ball into the right field bleachers over the auxiliary scoreboard for the first Cincinnati home run of the series.

The Yankees got those two back in a hurry when Roger Maris, who set a new major league record for home runs with 61, walked after trying to bunt his way on. Berra drove Jay's second pitch into the right field stands to tie the score.

But that was the end for the Yankees and the underdog Reds regained the lead their next turn at bat.

Ford Could Rewrite Old Ruth Mark

NEW YORK (UPI)—Whitey Ford, the bartender's son with ice water chasers for blood, had a number of them on the World Series "house" yesterday.

The stubby blond, who will be 32 years old 16 days hence, owned three new series records after shutting out the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0, in the first game of the classic. It never was easier because only one of three Red base runners got to second base.

And, when he makes the second start, the chunky Whitey gets a shot at another mark.

It seems appropriate, in a year in which the Yankees are taking dead aim on one of their old heroes—the immortal Babe Ruth—that the next one Whitey will try to grab belongs to the Bambino.

Roger Maris didn't match the legendary Sultan of Swat's 60 homers in the 154 game limit this season but, when the year ended, he had belted 61 for a new all-time one-season total. And ailing Mickey Mantle, who missed the first game of the series, is looking for two series homers to surpass Ruth's mark of 15 in series play.

Now Whitey has one within his reach to go with the three he racked up Wednesday. Those in his series bag include his unprecedented eighth win, removing him from a tie with former Yankee ace Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds; six more strikeouts for a new overall mark 69 in the classic, and a record 15th start.

But that shutout—added to a pair against Pittsburgh last year—gives him 27 consecutive shutout innings. Back in the days just after World War I, when Ruth was a pitcher and hadn't yet turned to hitting homers, the Babe hurled 29 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings.

"I knew I was getting near it," Ford grinned after his two-hitter Sunday where three scoreless frames will give him this added mark.

"But," he cautioned, "I'm not going to worry about Ruth's record. If I break it, I break it. I'm just going to try not to think about it."

Everything went swimmingly for the pudgy-faced Long Islander as he gave up only two hits and one walk. "My change up wasn't any good out there," he insisted, "and that's what Ed Kasko hit for a single in the first inning. But my control was good and my three pitches, fast ball, slider and curve, all were working good."

Houk Lauds Ford, Boyer. In Yank Win

NEW YORK (UPI)—Whitey Ford's masterful two-hit pitching, blended with a pair of solo homers and some eye-popping defensive play summed up the New York Yankees' 2-0 opening game World Series victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

"Just say Mr. Ford and Mr. Boyer," Yankee Manager Ralph Houk remarked after the game. "And, of course, those two home runs."

Ford, 32-year-old New York clutch pitcher who had a 25-4 record during the regular season, gave Luis Arroyo the afternoon off with a brilliant performance in which he struck out six batters and permitted only one of Cincinnati's three base runners to reach second.

It was Ford's third consecutive World Series shutout and his eighth win in series competition. He is 2 2-3 innings short of the all-time series mark of 29 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings set by Babe Ruth when he was a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox in 1916 and 1918. And his eight victories top the previous mark he shared with former Yankee Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds.

Ford completed only 11 games during the regular season—and owed much of his brilliant record to Arroyo's relief pitching—but Wednesday's cool weather was right down his alley. Singles by Eddie Kasko in the first inning and Wally Post in the fifth were the only Cincinnati hits.

Jim O'Toole, the handsome young Cincinnati starter, pitched a good game in his own right but was tagged for a homer by Elston Howard in the fourth inning and another by Bill Skowron in the sixth.

He had a break, of course, in the fact that Micky Mantle didn't play but he demonstrated his skills by retiring home run king Roger Maris four times without letting him hit a ball out of the infield.

Water Poloists Play Indians

Coach Lee Walton's varsity and freshman water polo squads open the 1961 season at Stanford today in what promises to be two of the stiffest contests of the year.

The varsity tiff is scheduled for 3:30 p.m., with the freshman game to follow at 4:30.

The home SJS water polo season gets under way tomorrow when Foothill college invades the Spartan pool for a 10 a.m. game. A freshman contest follows at 11.

Coach Walton predicts victory for his varsity over the perennially strong Indians, while rating the freshman game a "toss-up."

HOLD THAT LINE—Colorado State Ram Hiram DeFries will be starting at center for the visitors tomorrow night at the stadium. DeFries hails from Honolulu. He is a sophomore at Colorado State. The burly lineman has been one of the standout performers for the Rams in their first three games of the season.

"Sparta Presents," one hour of musical variety entertainment, will be presented tomorrow at 6:45 p.m. prior to the San Jose State-Colorado State game at Spartan Stadium.

Included in the show will be the third act from the "Gus Lease Show" which toured western military installations during the summer. Dr. Lease and associate producer David Lindstrom are members of the SJS music department.

The Hofbrau Scene, featuring a drinking song from "Student Prince," an Italian street song, a Spanish dance, a can can number, a fan dance, a Russian Cossack dance and "Hey, Daddy," comprise the act.

Officials Needed For Football

Touch football officials are still being sought by Intramurals director Dan Unruh.

"We would like to obtain an entire roster of officials so as to be able to send out assignments," Unruh said, adding that officiating would be much easier this season because all the games will be played on the eight new fields across from Municipal stadium.

Students who are interested in the $2-per-game job should contact Unruh in MG121 as soon as possible.

NEW AUTO INSURANCE SAVINGS ANNOUNCED

Savings up to $120 on automobile insurance are now common for married men under 25 years of age with the California Casualty Indemnity Exchange.

"Married men in this age bracket are generally paying excessive premiums for the degree of risk involved," says George M. Campbell, Spartan Representative for the Exchange.

"We believe that a married man with family responsibilities is a more careful driver, and causes fewer accidents," said Campbell. "Therefore, he is entitled to rates for mature drivers."

FOR EXAMPLE:

A married man, age 22 with Bodily Injury Liability $10/20,000, Property Damage $5,000 and Medical $500 pays about $157 a year with most insurance companies.

With California Casualty he would pay about $60 less $16 dividend, or a net of $84 (based on current 20 per cent dividend). Thus he saves about $93 with the Exchange. (Other coverages with comparable savings.)

Campbell declared that even non-married men and women with good driving records may save over 20 per cent.

Bears, Indians Prepping For Saturday Games

BERKELEY (UPI)—California's number one quarterback, Randy Gold, will be ready for his first game of the season Saturday when the Bears meet Missouri at Columbia, Mo.

Gold has been out of action thus far this season with a knee injury. The Bears worked out two hours Wednesday, polishing offensive plays and shoring up their defense.

STANFORD (UPI)—The Stanford football team worked out for almost three hours under the lights Wednesday night in preparation for Saturday's game with Michigan State in Michigan.

Thirty-nine gridirers left yesterday for East Lansing, Mich. The Indians' only doubtful starter is halfback Larry Royce, who recently had a tooth pulled.

PRETTY GRIDDER—Vicky McBride is caught as she walks across campus with a football in tow. She says she "never misses a game." Vicky is the wife of varsity football guard Ron McBride. What's it like to cook for a big hunk of ball player like Ron? "He wouldn't miss a meal for anything! If he's going to be on the road or fishing, he has me fix him a lunch so he won't be far from food."

Never Misses Meal, Says Wife of Guard

[Editor's Note: This is the second of a nine-part series dealing with the lives and roles of SJS football players' wives.]

By MICKEY MINTON
"I've never seen him miss a meal," declared the petite redhead with the sparkling green eyes and generous smile.

This was Vicky, the 21-year-old wife of SJS varsity football guard Ron McBride, reflecting on what it's like to cook for the 5-10, 200-pounder.

"When he's on training table—where he eats most of his meals with the other players—my food bill is about $7 a week," Vicky explained. "But when he's eating at home, it's about $25 a week."

"He's sort of a health fanatic," Vicky went on. "He always gets at least eight hours of sleep a night and often ten. Oh yes," she added, "he takes vitamins every day, too."

As for Ron's grid life, Vicky said he takes football seriously. "If he feels they've lost because the other team outplayed them, he doesn't feel as bad as when he thinks he's made mistakes," Vicky recalled that for good luck Ron "tapes his socks up before every game."

Around the house he "talks, watches, reads and lives football," Vicky said. "I enjoyed football much more before Ron and I were married." The 22-year-old guard's wife confided.

When asked if she looked forward to Ron's graduation, she replied, "I like this college life; we're having fun. I think I'd like to go back to school," she continued, "if I get a chance."

"Ron wants to coach high school after he's graduated next year," Vicky reported. "I want to see him coaching since he loves kids and works with them so well."

The McBrides will have a football player or cheerleader of their own the end of November, Vicky said. "I think Ron kind of wants a boy, but I'll take any style."

According to Mrs. McBride, Ron "studies a little bit every day. I do a lot typing for him and ask him questions when he's studying for a test, so I think I help him a little," she concluded.

Spartans, Winless Rams Clash Tomorrow Night; Cadile, Burton Still on Sidelines

By ED LEVINE

With three games under their belt and the roughest part of their schedule yet to come, the SJS Spartan gridirers face the Colorado State Rams tomorrow night at Spartan Stadium. The kickoff is slated for 8 p.m.

Due to injuries and a poor showing by the halfbacks in the Idaho game, Coach Titchenal has juggled his starting lineup.

Both tackle Jim Cadile and flankerback Mack Burton are hampered by injuries and probably will not see any action against the Rams unless Titchenal feels they are ready to go.

Leading the Spartan eleven will be senior signal caller Chon Gallegos. Gallegos is the leading collegiate passer in the nation. He has garnered 435 yards and five TD's in 36 completions in 54 pass attempts.

Backing up Gallegos will be hard hitting fullback Johnny Johnson, and halfbacks Larry Doss and Tom Doslak.

Although the Colorado Rams feature a running game primarily they will counter with a fine passer their own. Bob Berringer has completed 24 passes of 49 attempts for 154 yards to tie for the lead in passing in the Skyline conference.

Coach Don "Duffy" Mullison will field two hard charging alternate units which have averaged 3.5 yards per carry. The Rams will be without the services of their top ball carrier Ken Hines. The hard running halfback has averaged 5.1 yards per carry. He injured his ankle in the Arizona State game.

The Rams have dropped three straight games in a row. They lost to Utah 40-0, Arizona 28-16, and Arizona State 14-6.

According to Bob Jones, who scouted the Rams in their recent loss to the Sun Devils, the Rams are improving with each game and will be plenty tough.

According to Mullison, the Rams will definitely be up for this game and are hoping to break their losing streak.

The Spartans, still stinging from a 27-18 defeat from the hands of Idaho, have been working hard all week in all phases of the grid game.

Coach Titchenal expects the team to play much better than they did at Idaho. Although not alling, Titchenal stated that the trip took something out of the team. He definitely expects to get a better performance from his halfbacks than the 68 yards rushing that they got at Idaho.

The green and gold Rams, running from the conventional T-formation, have 14 returning lettermen. Some of the newcomers that should provide trouble for the Spartans are tackle Dick York, and quarterback LeeRoy Gutierrez who hails from San Jose. York hails from the Sacramento area.

Fans attending the game will watch the Spartans try to shake off the Idaho loss. With Stanford, Oregon, Washington State, and Arizona State among the big teams still facing the SJS eleven, they must start playing the rugged good football they are known for.

A capacity crowd is expected for the game Saturday. The SJS fans will get an added treat when a special musical revue, starting in the stadium at 6:45 p.m., will feature student and alumni musical talent will be presented.

Folk songs, calypso singers, popular vocalist Pat Travis, a quartet, trio and combo, and a special musical variety production including a Can-Can line with 20 girls will be presented on the 50-yard line, according to Bob Bronzan, SJS athletic director.

With all this hot entertainment before the game the fans are sure to see a thrilling contest. If Gallegos is up to form and the halfbacks come through like the fullbacks did in the Vandal game, San Jose should easily top the Rams.

If the Spartans don't get the breaks and play a game like the Idaho Vandal second half, they will be hard put to contain a young and building Colorado State Aggie team.

Here are tentative starting lineups for both teams:

Leon Donohue LTR	C. Threatt
Bill McGrath LGR	Nick Kohls

Friday FAN-FARE
by EARL GUSTKEY

Pity the poor freshman coach, Robert Jones. At varsity home games, head coach Bob Titchenal marches his gladiators into Spartan Stadium before a crowd of screaming, stomping, whistling and yelling football nuts that number in the thousands.

Jones, on the other hand, is forced to display his charges at a time when Spartan Stadium looks as big as the Los Angeles Coliseum. Jones' boys play football before crowds that consist of parents, girlfriends and students who have discovered a quiet place to study.

Occasionally the still air is split with the delighted shriek of a girlfriend or a roaring "Atta, boy!" from Dad.

Jones will agree that larger crowds would inspire the team to greater heights, but appears to realize that it would take a herculean promotion job to draw a thousand people to see the frosh play.

This is not to say that the frosh do not have a good ball club. In their opener last Tuesday, Santa Clara University's junior varsity nipped the SJS frosh to the tune of 13-8. "We made too many mistakes and didn't capitalize on the advantages that we had," explains Jones.

Besides handling the reins of the freshman squad, Jones plays another vital role in the local football program... he scouts teams for the varsity coaching staff.

"I'm scouting the Stanford-Michigan State game for Bob (Titchenal) tomorrow evening at East Lansing, Mich." Deep overtones of grief crept into his voice as he outlined his flight schedule. "I leave the San Francisco airport at 11:15 tonight and arrive in East Lansing at 9 Saturday morning. It won't be so bad coming home, though; I leave Chicago at 10 a.m. Sunday, and due to the time zone change, land in San Francisco at 11 a.m."

Incidentally, this will be the second time Jones has scouted Stanford ("We always try to have two reports on all the teams on the schedule"), and his observations lead one to believe that the Spartans will be in for a rough time on Oct. 14. "They just look good," he says.

Jones was asked if the frosh squad uses exactly the same plays the varsity uses. "We naturally use the same standard formation as the varsity, but we had to make minor adjustments for individual reasons. We have some plays that the varsity does not use, and vice versa."

The tall frosh mentor heaps praise on his staff of line coach Chuck Innes, backfield coach Fred Blanco, and flanker back and end coach Merv Smith. Blanco was a varsity regular last season for Titchenal.

Five members of the frosh squad have caught Jones' eye thus far. Mike Burke, an all-city signal caller from St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco; center Mike Christensen from Upland; quarterback Hinano Kaumehiwa, the all-stater from Hawaii; 250-pound John Waggener, a tackle, and Mike Welch, another huge (220) tackle from Downey. "These boys are all outstanding varsity prospects," emphasizes Jones.

Jones came to San Jose State in 1957 after being named "Coach of the Year" in the Peninsula area, while he was athletic director and football coach at Cubberley High School in Palo Alto. He compiled a 29-6-1 record before coming to SJS.

"I certainly am pleased with the spirit on this year's ball club," he concludes, "normally the spirit on a frosh football team isn't too good, but these boys have a lot of desire, and are working real hard..." How lucky is the freshman football coach, Robert Jones...

49ers Waiting For L.A. Rams; Surprise Due?

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—The San Francisco Forty-Niners may come up with a new batch of surprises when they face Los Angeles Sunday at Kezar Stadium.

The Prospectors continued secret drills at their practice field here yesterday. Coach Red Hickey has had a screen erected on top of the 25-foot high board fence surrounding the field to keep spies away.

Secret workouts are becoming almost as much a coach Red Hickey trademark as the shotgun offense—the spread formation where the quarterback lines up several feet behind the center with the other backs all flankers. Last Sunday, as San Francisco blitzed Detroit 49-0, Hickey revolved three quarterbacks in the tailback slot.

Coach Hickey was taking with a grain of salt reports that Ram quarterback Zeke Bratkowski may miss Sunday's game because of an injured ankle. He said he is preparing his teams on the assumption that Bratkowski will be in full armor Sunday.

Cincy Evens It Up; Joey Jay Stops N.Y.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Cincinnati Reds evened the World Series at one game all yesterday when they humiliated the New York Yankees 6-2 behind the four-hit pitching of big Joey Jay.

A crowd of 63,083 on this Indian summer afternoon saw the usually impeccable Yankees commit three glaring errors to enable the Reds to avenge their opening game defeat and send the Series to Cincinnati, where the next three games will be played on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Jay, a 21-game winner, throtled the noted Yankee power excepted for Yogi Berra, who hit his 12th series home run in the fourth inning. It offset a home run blast by first baseman Gordon Coleman in the top of the inning and temporarily tied the score at 2-2.

Ralph Terry, a 16-game winner, was the losing pitcher and he contributed to his own downfall by failing to cover the plate on a passed ball, allowing the tie-breaking run to score.

After that, the Yankees fell apart, even with their peerless relief ace, Luis Arroyo, on the mound.

The game was scoreless going into the fourth inning and with one out, Frank Robinson hit a simple ground ball to Cletis Boyer, the Yankee third baseman who was the fielding star of the opening game. Boyer let it bounce off his chest for an error.

Coleman took a strike and then lined the ball into the right field bleachers over the auxiliary scoreboard for the first Cincinnati home run of the series.

The Yankees got those two back in a hurry when Roger Maris, who set a new major league record for home runs with 61, walked after trying to bunt his way on. Berra drove Jay's second pitch into the right field stands to tie the score.

But that was the end for the Yankees and the underdog Reds regained the lead their next turn at bat.

Ford Could Rewrite Old Ruth Mark

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whitey Ford, the bartender's son with ice water chasers for blood, had a number of them on the World Series "house" yesterday.

The stubby blond, who will be 32 years old 16 days hence, owned three new series records after shutting out the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0, in the first game of the classic. It never was easier because only one of three Red base runners got to second base.

And, when he makes the second start, the chunky Whitey gets a shot at another mark.

It seems appropriate, in a year in which the Yankees are taking dead aim on one of their old heroes - the immortal Babe Ruth - that the next one Whitey will try to grab belongs to the Bambino.

Roger Maris didn't match the legendary Sultan of Swat's 60 homers in the 154 game limit this season but, when the year ended, he had belted 61 for a new all-time one-season total. And ailing Mickey Mantle, who missed the first game of the series, is looking for two series homers to surpass Ruth's mark of 15 in series play.

Now Whitey has one within his reach to go with the three he racked up Wednesday. Those in his series bag include his unprecedented eighth win, removing him from a tie with former Yankee aces Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds; six more strikeouts for a new overall mark 69 in the classic, and a record 15th start.

But that shutout - added to a pair against Pittsburgh last year - gives him 27 consecutive shutout innings. Back in the days just after World War I, when Ruth was a pitcher and hadn't yet turned to hitting homers, the Babe hurled 29 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings.

"I knew I was getting near it," Ford grinned after his two-hitter Sunday where three scoreless frames will give him this added mark.

"But," he cautioned, "I'm not going to worry about Ruth's record. If I break it, I break it. I'm just going to try not to think about it."

Everything went swimmingly for the pudgy-faced Long Islander as he gave up only two hits and one walk. "My change up wasn't any good out there," he insisted, "and that's what Ed Kasko hit for a single in the first inning. But my control was good and my three pitches, fast ball, slider and curve, all were working good."

Houk Lauds Ford, Boyer. In Yank Win

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whitey Ford's masterful two-hit pitching, blended with a pair of solo homers and some eye-popping defensive play summed up the New York Yankees' 2-0 opening game World Series victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

"Just say Mr. Ford and Mr. Boyer," Yankee Manager Ralph Houk remarked after the game. "And, of course, those two home runs."

Ford, 32-year-old New York clutch pitcher who had a 25-4 record during the regular season, gave Luis Arroyo the afternoon off with a brilliant performance in which he struck out six batters and permitted only one of Cincinnati's three base runners to reach second.

It was Ford's third consecutive World Series shutout and his eighth win in series competition. He is 2 2-3 innings short of the all-time series mark of 29 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings set by Babe Ruth when he was a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox in 1916 and 1918. And his eight victories top the previous mark he shared with former Yankee Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds.

Ford completed only 11 games during the regular season—and owed much of his brilliant record to Arroyo's relief pitching—but Wednesday's cool weather was right down his alley. Singles by Eddie Kasko in the first inning and Wally Post in the fifth were the only Cincinnati hits.

Jim O'Toole, the handsome young Cincinnati starter, pitched a good game in his own right but was tagged for a homer by Elston Howard in the fourth inning and another by Bill Skowron in the sixth.

He had a break, of course, in the fact that Micky Mantle didn't play but he demonstrated his skills by retiring home run king Roger Maris four times without letting him hit a ball out of the infield.

Water Poloists Play Indians

Coach Lee Walton's varsity and frosh water polo squads open the 1961 season at Stanford today in what promises to be two of the stiffest contests of the year.

The varsity tiff is scheduled for 3:30 p.m., with the frosh game to follow at 4:30.

The home SJS water polo season gets under way tomorrow when Foothill college invades the Spartan pool for a 10 a.m. game. A frosh contest follows at 11.

Coach Walton predicts victory for his varsity over the perennially strong Indians, while rating the frosh game a "toss-up."

HOLD THAT LINE—Colorado State Ram Hiram DeFries will be starting at center for the visitors tomorrow night at the stadium. DeFries hails from Honolulu. He is a sophomore at Colorado State. The burly lineman has been one of the standout performers for the Rams in their first three games of the season.

Included in the show will be the third act from the "Gus Lease Show" which toured western military installations during the summer. Dr. Lease and associate producer David Lindstrom are members of the SJS music department.

The Hofbrau Scene, featuring a drinking song from "Student Prince," an Italian street song, a Spanish dance, a can can number, a fan dance, a Russian Cossack dance and "Hey, Daddy," comprise the act.

Tickets on Sale

Reserved seat, general admission and children's tickets for the San Jose State-Colorado State football game Saturday night in Spartan Stadium will be on sale starting at 1 p.m. Saturday on the Seventh street side of the stadium.

Reserved seats cost $3, general admission $1.50 and children 50 cents.

NEW AUTO INSURANCE SAVINGS ANNOUNCED

Savings up to $120 on automobile insurance are now common for married men under 25 years of age with the California Casualty Indemnity Exchange.

"Married men in this age bracket are generally paying excessive premiums for the degree of risk involved," says George M. Campbell, Spartan Representative for the Exchange.

"We believe that a married man with family responsibilities is a more careful driver, and causes fewer accidents," said Campbell. "Therefore, he is entitled to rates for mature drivers."

FOR EXAMPLE:
A married man, age 22 with Bodily Injury Liability $10/20,000, Property Damage $5,000 and Medical $500 pays about $157 a year with most insurance companies.

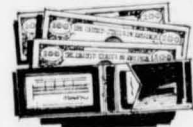

With California Casualty he would pay about $40 less $116 dividend, or a net of $117 (based on current 20 per cent dividend). Thus he saves about $40 with the Exchange. (Other coverages with comparable savings.)

Campbell declared that even un-married men and women with good driving records may save over 20 per cent.

Hurricane Frances Pounds Atlantic, Written Off as Threat to U.S.

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Frances pounded the open Atlantic with her 90-mile-an-hour winds today on a northward course expected to bend farther away from the U.S. mainland.

At 6 a.m., EDT Miami weather advisory said the hurricane was expected to move toward the north-northeast at about 12 miles per hour for the next 12 hours and then turn more toward the northeast at a slightly faster rate. The hurricane was located about 550 miles east of Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Frances was moving on a northerly course at 14 miles per hour. Weathermen predicted the hurricane would turn more toward the northeast during today and pick up forward speed.

The weather Bureau wrote off Frances Wednesday as a threat to the United States and it was not expected to pass closer than 200 miles to Bermuda.

'Cycle' Summer Spells Adventure For SJS Student

"Many times we left the road for the desert because it was an improvement over the road," Manuel said; "Some of the rivers have no bridges, and we had to cross them by finding a shallow spot."

Manuel asserts that he and Girado are the first to cross the Andes on motorcycles over this pass, called White Wind pass because of the many snow storms there.

"It took us eight hours to travel the 90 most difficult miles, and all we saw of other life was a couple of bones," said Manuel.

Just over the summit, Manuel's cycle broke down, and had to be towed 60 miles by the other cycle. Within 200 miles of Buenos Aires the boys had four flat tires between them, which increased their impatience. They hadn't been home to see their parents for two years.

"They had a welcoming reception for us at a country club," said Manuel, "and we were there a full 15 minutes before I realized that the motor on my bike was still running."

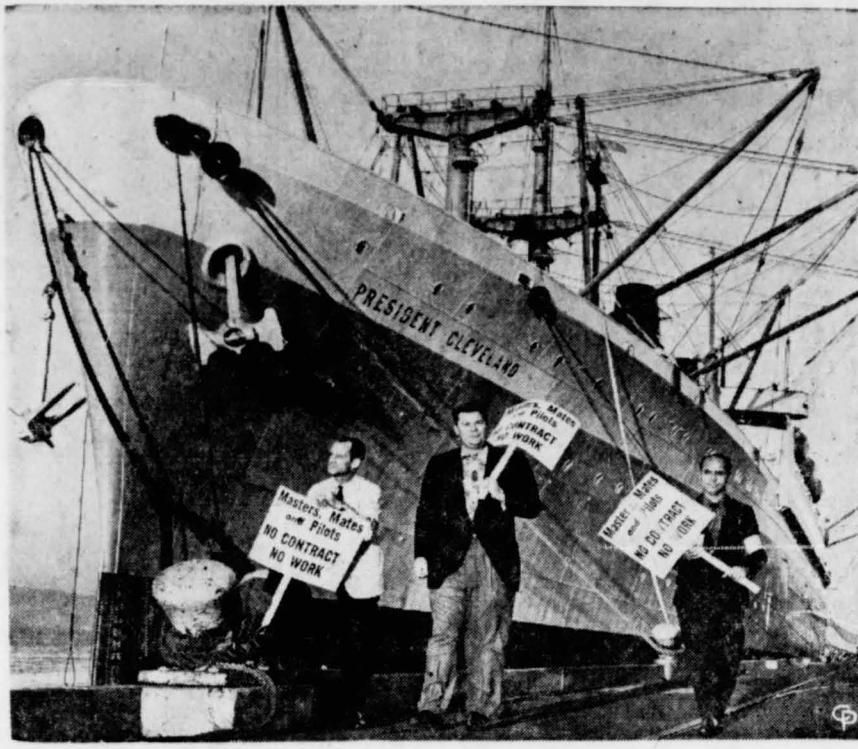

Manuel said "the immensity, the silence, the loneliness of crossing the Andes" impressed him most.

Society To Meet At International Student Center

The San Jose chapter of the Islamic society will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday at the International Student Center, according to Habib Bassiri, director general of the chapter.

Sayed Razi of Pakistan, and Kazi Fawal from Lebanon, will speak. Prayer in Islam will be the topic of a panel discussion group.

All of the society's meetings are open to the public, according to Bassiri. He especially urges students interested in the humanities and in Middle Eastern affairs to attend.

NAVY STEPS IN—The U. S. Navy became involved in the West Coast maritime strike Wednesday, but efforts to end the 7-day walk-out made little headway. The Navy charged that striking masters, mates and pilots were holding up vital military supplies to Hawaii and the Far East. The dispute erupted over refusal of the striking union members to clear the freighter Texas to carry military cargo.

Audubon Wildlife Film Series Starts Oct. 23; 'Subantarctic Isle' Is First

The Audubon wildlife films, a national series of illustrated lectures presented at SJS, will begin Oct. 23 with "Subantarctic Isle" of Alfred M. Bailey at 8 p.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium.

The series will include the showing of five wildlife films during the year presented by the Santa Clara Audubon society, the college, and the National Audubon society.

Admission for students is $2 for a season ticket and 50 cents for a single admission. Children under 12, accompanied by an adult, will be admitted for 25 cents. Rates for persons not associated with the college are $5 for a family season ticket (10 admissions) and 90 cents for a single admission.

Tickets may be obtained at $221, biology storeroom, or at the box office before the program. Dr. Arnold G. Applegarth, chairman of the college Audubon, said.

In November, "Puerto Rico, U.S.A.," will be presented by Fran William Hall; January, "Pika County," Emerson Scott; March, "Heart of the Wild," Cleveland P. Grant; April, "The Shandon Hills," Eben McMillan.

The Audubon society, a non-profit organization which is dedicated "to the protection of all natural resources—wildlife, plants, soil and water, was named after John James Audubon, a naturalist-artist who painted early-American wildlife scenes.

From funds earned through the presentations last year, the college branch of the society sent 16 students to a nature school at Death Valley during Easter Vacation and other nature school locations during the first three weeks of summer.

Scribe Discovers Myths Continue To Prevail Throughout Modern Spain

By PAM MIXTER
United Press International
MADRID (UPI) — "Yeecoo, you'll die," screamed the maid. And I almost did — of fright. I dropped the towel, almost slipped on the soap, and "froze" midstep in the bathtub.

Why did the maid scream? To her, because of a Spanish belief, I was about to take my life in my hands by bathing too soon after my last meal.

There is a belief in Spain that one must never go near water, not even to soak your feet, until at least four hours after eating. The water will hurt the digestion, the Spaniards assure you.

MANY MYTHS
This is one of the many different beliefs a stranger encounters after stepping on Spanish soil.

If you really want to give your waiter fits, order coffee with your shrimp.

It will ruin his day. It will kill you for sure, he'll tell you, and you can't even talk him into watching you die. Then, there's the belief about oranges and milk. Don't combine them.

TURN GREEN
Not in Spain, or you will turn green. In fact, there is a saying which ends the whole matter, "after milk, nothing."

There are also rules for melons and cherries. Never drink water with them.

The Spaniards also say, "Hot bread and strong wine can kill the bravest man." They don't necessarily have to be eaten together to do the job.

'NEVER MIXED'
Shell fish and hard liquor are never mixed. Or if eaten together, the works are quickly followed by milk.

There is a belief that milk is a great softening agent.

Many Spanish children automatically are given milk after shell fish to make sure the fish are softened enough to digest.

A good many Spaniards will not eat meat before going to bed, thinking it is too undigestible and will give them bad dreams. Therefore, the Spanish meal usually is light — consisting of vegetables, and egg or some fish. In the small peasant villages, it is an absolute must that a mother who has just given birth to a child, have chicken broth for 40 days.

BATHS ABOLISHED
Another ritual of this 40-day period: the new mother does not bathe.

If the family is too poor to afford a hen for the broth, a friend or the mayor of the town will present the family with one.

And there is many a small town doctor who has shelled out money to buy a hen for a new mother.

"THE FRESHMEN"

"Get a kid away from home, send him off to college, and right away, look what happens."

"I'd keep out of there, Frosh. That's the School of Pyrotechnics."

"Hurry up, Harty. You'll be late for the Freshman Smoker."

"This is your dormitory, Clyde. You'll share it with 19 other boys."

SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS, SENIORS: DON'T TREAD ON FRESHMEN! They have been known to become employers. A freshman wants, above all, to be inaugurated into your world. Walk him to class, teach him longhand, explain how the Ph.D. wears his tassel, introduce him to Luckies (and tell him how college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular). You'll be a bigger man, and you'll be able to borrow Luckies from him any time.
