587,584 K.O. Polio In County

Type 1 polio was eliminated as a direct threat for 587,584 Santa Clara County residents Sunday during K.O. Polio Day.

Late Monday figures from the Santa Clara K.O. Polio Day headquarters listed over 78 per cent of the county's residents as participating in the mass Sabin oral vaccine immunization.

Immunization against three common strains of polio may be obtained by taking Sabin oral vaccine during the K.O. Polio Days set for Nov. 4 and Dec. 9.

No difficulties were encountered during the day as PTA groups, local organizations, doctors, nurses and law enforcement officers united to keep a steady flow of people passing through the immunization lines.

Mrs. Corrine Marsh, K.O. Polio Day publicity officer, said that local police were elated that no traffic tie-ups developed around the 111 clinics set up in local schools. Mrs. Marsh credited the convenient choice of clinic sites in the county as making it possible for many residents to walk instead of drive their cars.

Santa Clara County was one of six counties in the Bay Area to participate in what is one of the largest one-day immunization drives ever undertaken.

MUN Posts For Session Here Open

There are still a number of positions open on the Model United Nations staff that will be hosting the 1967 session in April on the San Jose State campus, according to Sam Obregon, secretary general.

Positions include such important jobs as chairmen, parliamentarians, and clerks of the various committees and councils. As in the past, participants in the M.U.N. program can receive up to two units of credit this semester and three spring semester through political science 180, special studies.

Interested persons should contact Sam Obregon, secretary general, M.U.N., Student Union Building, or M.U.N. adviser Dr. George Bruntz, CH138. M.U.N. meets Wednesdays, 7-9 p.m., CH348.

Last year SJS sent a delegation to the simulated United Nations meeting at San Diego State College. This year over 100 colleges and 1200 students from 11 western states have been assigned countries to represent in the April, 1967 M.U.N. meeting here at SJS.

Freshman Officer Petitions Available

Petitions for Freshman Class president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and the four representative positions to the Student Council are still available at the College Union, 315 S. Ninth St.

Deadline for turning in petitions, which require the signature of at least 50 other freshmen, is 4 p.m., Friday.

At that time, an orientation meeting will be held for the candidates. All candidates must attend the meeting if they wish their names listed on the ballots.

The petitions may be obtained between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. according to Carlton Parks, acting election board chairman.

Campaign posters may be put around campus no earlier than 1 p.m. this Sunday.

Freshman election will be Thursday and Friday, Oct. 4 and 5.

Russians 'Cloistered'; Prof Won't Go Back

BY DRU CHALLBERG

"The Russian people live a cloistered existence," observed Dr. William H. Vatcher as he related the problems and experiences he encountered during his recent summer journey through Russia and Siberia via the Trans-Siberian railway.

"Throughout Russia, there is a fantastic profusion of propaganda," emphasized Dr. Vatcher, professor of political science at San Jose State, who returned last week from his overseas venture.

While visiting a museum in Khabarovsk which featured a great deal of material from World War II and the Russo-Japanese conflict in the Pacific, Dr. Vatcher noticed a photograph of the surrender of Japan on the battleship Missouri. The photo gave the impression that Russia won the war and a general was shown signing the surrender document. The caption read: "On the Warship Missouri."

Dr. Vatcher asked the guide who owned the vessel and was told that the Missouri was a Russian ship.

SJS Vets To Receive Checks Late

Over 500 Korean vets and war orphans attending SJS will receive their educational assistance checks late this semester, according to the Veterans Affairs office at San Jose State. The checks will arrive Nov. 20.

At first word, sent from the Veterans' Administration (VA) office in San Francisco, Sept. 7, all students enrolled on or before Sept. 19 would receive their September checks apart from the October payment.

A telephone communique on Sept. 10 informed the SJS Veterans' office that the payments would be packaged with October's and be sent Nov. 20. A letter from the San Francisco VA office a day later, confirmed the telephone announcement.

The pay period will encompass the dates Sept. 17-Oct. 31, inclusively.

Freshmen Urged To Seek Activity

Approximately 175 freshman students turned out for the first Freshman Class meeting yesterday afternoon, and were urged by guest speakers to take active parts in class government and not to fail as a class as many have in the past.

Since class elections are scheduled for Oct. 4-5, class government was the main topic of discussion and election procedures were explained to the class.

Steve Larson, ASB vice president, welcomed the students and told them to become a true governmental body, as they are supposed to be. He called for the students to set up objectives as a class and to "grow roots" to keep their class alive.

Bob Pisano, Sophomore Class representative; Bob Himel, homecoming committee; Dick Dodson, activities adviser; Dr. Warren Fraleigh, Senior Class adviser, and Dr. Jack Smolensky, class adviser, also gave short talks.

The Freshman Class will meet again Oct. 1 to hear campaign speeches.

Affairs Committee To Plan Schedule For Fall Semester

The first meeting of the Social Affairs Committee will be tomorrow, 3:30 p.m., in CH164, according to Sue Bertotti, president.

Plans for the semester, including organization of the Coronation Ball, will be made.

Elections will be held Wednesday, Oct. 10, to fill the executive positions on the committee, Miss Bertotti said.

Also, various committee chairmen and committees will be appointed at a later meeting, she remarked.

Refreshments will be served tomorrow and all students may attend the meeting.

TRANSLATIONS TRICKY

The Russians never give credit to the deserved party, according to Dr. Vatcher, and they also would translate to their own advantage. Russian people would approach him obviously begging for money, he said, but the guide would translate the peasants' pleadings into "Do you speak Russian?"

Although he considered his Siberian tour a priceless experience, Dr. Vatcher firmly stated, "I assure you that I would never go back again."

The well-traveled professor, who is among the first few who have toured Siberia since World War II, was apparently disgusted with the Russian bureaucracy and red tape that hampered his travels. He was delayed for nearly two hours entering the Soviet Union and, while crossing Siberia, he was allowed only a limited visit at each of the major stops.

Dr. Vatcher said that his escort of soldiers with bayonets, left him with feelings of discomfort and even fear.

Added to the rest of the professor's dilemmas was the Russian confiscation of his film and volume of notes as he prepared to leave Siberia to continue on his schedule to visit Japan.

"They delayed me at the border in Nakhodka for three hours while they inspected thoroughly all of my possessions even to the point of developing a roll of my color film," stated Dr. Vatcher and added that the film and notes were harmless due to the constant supervision of his action along his journey. He said he is attempting to get the material back.

SIBERIA IMPRESSIVE

As to Siberia itself, he said, "I was impressed with the growth and industrialization." It is a pioneer country with much construction going on. He named a dam being built at Bratsk on the Angara River which upon completion will have an electrical output of twice that of the largest dam in the world.

"Slave labor is a standing joke among the Siberian people," mentioned Dr. Vatcher. The monotony of planning and architecture and the incredible bureaucracy are the outstanding impression now held by the professor.

The dull building pattern is the same all over the Soviet Union, he explained, and the buildings are poorly constructed. In fact, he stated, they are old before they are finished.

"The people themselves are quite pleasant," he admitted, "but it is a peasant society and everything reflects this. I call Moscow the largest village in the world."

Wives Plan Social Slate For Year

Adding an international flavor to the Faculty Wives' first social event of the year on Oct. 6, will be Mrs. Ruth Mary Heath, wife of Dr. James Heath, professor of biology.

Mrs. Heath will relate her experiences while in Java with her husband for two years while he taught at Air Langga University. Reservations for Wives and their guests for the San Jose Country Club lecture-luncheon are available through Mrs. Charles Kappen, AX 6-6547; Mrs. Charles Stephens, AN 4-5546; or Mrs. Burton Brazil, UN 7-9337.

Other events planned by the Wives include a dessert on Nov. 5 featuring a foreign student panel on "Why I Wanted to Come to the United States." Husbands and guests are invited to attend the discussion at the International Student Center.

On Dec. 16, a Christmas Buffet for the faculty is planned by the Wives in conjunction with the Faculty Social Committee.

On Jan. 10, a panel discussion on Oriental philosophies will be on the agenda for a buffet luncheon at Sakura Gardens, Mountain View.

Feb. 5 will find the Wives present at the Temple Emanu-El Play-er's production of "Majority of One," at the First Congregational Church, Hamilton and Leigh Aves., San Jose.

A March 5 tea is planned in the SJS Art building followed by a tour of the National Invitational Ceramics exhibition.

April 17 a barbecue is planned by the Wives at the SJS barbecue pits.

KSJS Interviews For Staff Posts

Interviews are being held today and Thursday in SD132 for the currently unfilled positions on the KSJS college radio staff. These positions include traffic director, continuity director, office manager and several others. The positions are open to anyone on campus and interested students are advised to contact John Delantoni on either of the two days.

Added to the rest of the professor's dilemmas was the Russian confiscation of his film and volume of notes as he prepared to leave Siberia to continue on his schedule to visit Japan.

"They delayed me at the border in Nakhodka for three hours while they inspected thoroughly all of my possessions even to the point of developing a roll of my color film," stated Dr. Vatcher and added that the film and notes were harmless due to the constant supervision of his action along his journey. A spokesman for the airline said at Shannon that all the survivors had been transferred to the Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure which was steaming toward the Shannon Estuary.

It was the first airliner to ditch successfully in the Atlantic in 15 years. The plane's pilot, Capt. John D. Murray, Oyster Bay, N.Y., was among the survivors, an Air Force spokesman said.

The Swiss freighter, Celerina, traveling eastward with a cargo of corn, suddenly found itself in the center of a massive mercy mission when the chartered American airliner ditched not far from the ship's course.

Freighter Capt. Dino Domenico Lugli and his crew plucked 51 persons from four rafts rolling on waves 10 to 12 feet high. Forty-nine of them were alive.

A fifth empty raft also was sighted and the Royal Air Force Search Center near Plymouth, England, said at mid-afternoon: "We are searching for a sixth raft." Asked whether the search would continue through the night and possibly Tuesday, a spokesman answered: "Affirmative."

Courses may be dropped without loss in credit until Oct. 5.

BACK FROM SIBERIA—Dr. William H. Vatcher, professor of political science at San Jose State, traces his Trans-Siberian railway tour of the vast Siberian expanse as he describes the circumstances he encountered along the way. Border delays, red tape, constant surveillance and loss of notes and film combined to affect the professor's final impressions of the area seldom traveled by curious foreigners.

Name Change Poll

A story appearing in yesterday's Daily concerned a proposal that would change the existing names of California's 18 state colleges into a common heading.

The proposal, if adopted by the Board of Trustees, will change the name of San Jose State College into California State College, San Jose. Similarly, each state college will have its geographical location given after the one official designation—California State College.

SJS students are invited to express their opinions to the proposal and to offer any comments if they wish. Ballot boxes will be placed in front of the Spartan Bookstore and the cafeteria from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. today.

Do you approve of the proposal which seeks to abolish the individual names of California's 18 state colleges in favor of a single, uniform designation?

49 Rescued as U.S. Airliner Ditches in North Atlantic

LONDON (UPI)—The Air Ministry said last night it had recovered 10 bodies from the ocean where a Flying Tiger airliner ditched Sunday night. An 11th body sank when a rescue ship tried to recover it.

An armada of planes and ships rescued 49 of the 76 Americans from life rafts tossing in the gale-whipped North Atlantic yesterday after a chartered U.S. Airliner flying into to Germany ditched skillfully into the sea 550 miles northwest of Ireland.

The Royal Air Force Control Center near Plymouth, England, said at least three survivors were injured. Twenty-one others were missing as night fell and there were grave fears for their safety as a "horrible sea" continued running high.

A spokesman for the airline said at Shannon that all the survivors had been transferred to the Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure which was steaming toward the Shannon Estuary.

It was the first airliner to ditch successfully in the Atlantic in 15 years. The plane's pilot, Capt. John D. Murray, Oyster Bay, N.Y.,

4 Buildings Approach Completion

The never-ending stream of construction on campus marches into 1967-68 with five projects underway at the present time, four slated for completion this fall.

The closest to being finished is the parking garage. Located at S. Seventh and San Salvador Streets, the five-story building will be completed on Oct. 15, according to Executive Dean C. Grant Burton, in charge of construction. The garage will afford spaces for about 2,000 cars belonging to both dorm and other students.

The garage will have cost $2,500,000 when it opens.

Mid-December is the estimated completion date of the new education building. The building, going up north of the parking garage, site on the corner of San Carlos and S. Seventh Streets and is a $2,209,000 investment.

COMPLETE BY JANUARY

Although operating on a part-time basis already, the engineering building will have its finishing touches applied by January, when the three-story structure will open.

The $8,888,400 building is being built across from the administration building at San Fernando and S. Seventh streets.

The other project that will be ready for the onrushing students this semester is the library repair work taking place in the 1956 addition, between the new addition and the original Tower Hall facility. The repairs and remodeling will cost $170,000 and will be finished in January.

P.E. ADDITION

The newest building project is the college physical education and recreation building, being constructed between the men's and women's gyms south of the faculty office building. Started late last spring, the building is costing $2,128,100 and will be done by the fall of 1967.

Dean Burton's office has a number of other projects in the works including a completed residence halls recreation field to be finished Oct. 15 between the men's and women's dorms.

Partial remodeling of Tower Hall "for safety," an aeronautics test cell, another class building to house the Mathematics, Police, and ROTC departments, and work on the science building all are scheduled for the near future.

Sigma Delta Chi Initiates 5 Men in S.F. Ceremony

The San Jose State chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism society, initiated five new members Friday night at the Press and Union League Club in San Francisco.

Admitted to the society were Jesse Chambers, Rich Frelund, Wayne Whitaker, Paul Plansky and George Martin, all of the journalism department.

Immediately after the initiation ceremonies, conducted by chapter members and the society's advisers, LaMar Mackay, Gordon Greb and Pearce Davies, the group were banquet guests of the Northern California professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

They heard guest speaker Russell Hurst, newly elected national executive director of Sigma Delta Chi, bemoan the lack of journalism graduates to fill the ever-increasing need in the field.

The SJS chapter will hold a breakfast meeting tomorrow morning in the cafeteria.

CONVOY HALTED

BERLIN (UPI)—A U.S. Army Berlin-bound convoy was held up for more than an hour at the Soviet checkpoint on the western end of the Berlin-Helmstedt Highway through East Germany yesterday, the Army said.

The announcement said the convoy of 80 soldiers in 26 Jeeps was halted outside the checkpoint at Marienborn "while a discussion between U.S. and Soviet officers over processing procedures took place." It did not explain exactly what the dispute was about.

POSTAL INCREASE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Post Office Committee yesterday approved a bill coupling an across-the-board increase in postal rates with a $1 billion pay raise for 1.5 million government workers.

The measure would boost the cost of mailing a first class letter from four to five cents and airmail from seven to eight cents. Mailing rates on newspapers and magazines also would go up.

The bill would produce an estimated $603 million a year in new revenue and help overcome the chronic Post Office Department deficit.

Daily Comment

Name Change?

There's a poll today to survey student reaction to the proposal which seeks to group all of California's 13 state colleges under a common name. A story of this proposal, submitted by Trustee Charles Luckman during the summer in a Board of Trustees meeting, appeared in yesterday's Daily.

If adopted, San Jose State College would be renamed as California State College, San Jose. Similarly, each state college would lose its existing name and would be renamed with its geographical location given after the official title, California State College.

Three arguments are claimed for the proposed change:

One is that it will eliminate a good deal of confusion regarding the California state colleges. The second is that the change will dignify and lend more prestige to the colleges. The third argument is that it will improve faculty recruitment. Some of the newer state colleges are reportedly having difficulty in recruiting teachers.

The arguments against the proposal here at the college have been based on the loss of the college's long history and individuality if the change is adopted. In yesterday's story, the Advisory Council, Alumni Association and the ASB president spoke out their opposition to the proposal. A change to "state university" seemed to be preferred—even if it means waiting.

Two members of the Board of Trustees have already indicated their opposition to the proposal. Board President Louis Heilbron and Trustee Roy Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, have said they are opposed to the proposed change. The board, however, has not taken formal action pending recommendations from the various state colleges.

The student body is invited to participate in today's poll (the ballot box is on page one) and to offer any additional comments if they wish. Boxes for the ballot will be attached to the top of the Spartan Daily boxes in front of the cafeteria and the bookstore from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Your participation in the poll today will determine to a large extent SJS' recommendation to the Board of Trustees when it meets next week. —L.O.

Ghana's Ruler Faces New Power Crisis

BY PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana has a number of distinctions, including at least one bestowed upon himself.

It is the name "Osagyefo" by which he likes to be known and which means "the redeemer."

But that there are at least some who disagree with this benevolent title for the first Negro prime minister of a British colony and first president of the first colonial territory in tropical Africa to achieve independence, has become increasingly evident in recent days.

Over the weekend in Accra, Ghana's capital, Nkrumah's government proclaimed a state of emergency which just about ended what privacy Ghanaians had left in Nkrumah's drive to establish himself as an absolute ruler.

SEARCH OF HOMES

The proclamation permitting search of private homes "in the public interest," officially was attributed to a bomb explosion, of which there have been several in recent weeks.

One blast outside the gates of Nkrumah's official residence killed a child.

On Aug. 1, a bomb exploded close to Nkrumah's car while he was travelling through northern Ghana.

Last week, two bomb explosions injured a number of persons on the eve of Nkrumah's 53rd birthday. As result, birthday celebrations were canceled.

Nkrumah is a man who does not like to be criticized.

The record is filled with deportation orders against his opponents, ranging from opposition political leaders to tribal chieftains.

Ghanaians may be imprisoned for periods up to five years without trial if their actions are considered prejudicial to the defense of Ghana, to relations with other countries or to Ghana's security.

CRITICISM DANGEROUS

Nkrumah spent 10 lean years in the United States from 1935 to 1945 during which he sold fish in Harlem, slept on Philadelphia park benches but at the same time managed to get himself a master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania.

Back at home on the African Gold Coast he went to jail for stirring up independence riots, but stepped out of jail to become prime minister.

He has declared himself a Marxist-Socialist but has warned against bracketing anti-colonialism with communism.

He virtually has eliminated political opposition by setting up one-party rule in a unique example of at least one form of African democracy. Meanwhile, the bombs seem to be giving him an increasing fondness for the indoors.

Pearl Bailey, Trio Coming to Civic

Big name entertainment hits the stage of the San Jose Civic Auditorium this Friday and Saturday night.

Friday at 8:30 P.M. singer and comedienne Pearl Bailey takes over the stage for a one-night appearance with Louis Bellson and his orchestra.

Following Miss Bailey on Saturday will be the Kingston Trio, also for a one night concert.

Tall, with long, expressive hands, "Pearlie Mae" combines her lazy-type sing-talk with a steady stream of ad-libbing.

She rarely does a number the same way twice. Her most famous routines include "New Shoes," and "Two To Tango."

"Tom Dooley," the victim of a necktie party, brought fame to the Kingston Trio and a recording that sold more than a million copies.

Television and nightclub appearances have made them one of today's most familiar vocal groups.

Tickets for the Pearl Bailey show are on sale at the Wendell Watkins Office, 89 South First St. Prices are $2.50, $3, $4 and $4.50.

Tickets for the Kingston Trio concert are available at the San Jose Box Office, St. Claire Hotel. Prices are $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50.

Student Explains 7th St. Protest Park

This morning several parking spaces on Seventh St. are occupied by two-wheeled Vespa's, motorcycles, etc. To those who usually find space which is now occupied by a Vespa, we, the owners of the aforementioned two-wheeled vehicles offer this explanation:

Up to this week we scooter-motorists, who pay relatively as much for a license, gas, etc. have been occupying the reg-zones, sharing spaces with cars, and parking any place to keep from taking a space in which an automobile could park.

The San Jose police, in answer to complaints, have begun ticketing all two-wheeled vehicles if outside the letter of the law. This means that we now have no alternative except to occupy those spaces which are "legal," and thus add to the parking situation at SJS.

We who drive two-wheeled cycles feel we actually are doing the parking situation and those who drive automobiles a favor. You can easily park four scooters in the space where an auto is parked. Eight Vespa's can occupy the same area in which a large, Detroit-built monster parks.

Aren't we helping? Can't the administration retroact by giving us a few special stalls on Seventh St. in which to park?

Or are all those "official" spaces, 40 per cent empty most of the time, really needed for... what?

International Club Blanks Spartans

San Jose State's varsity soccer squad was shutout in its second effort of the early season last night when the International Soccer Club scored two early goals to turn the trick.

Oddly enough, one of the goals was tallied by a former Spartan and that was sufficient for a Spartan defeat before only a handful of soccer enthusiasts at Spartan Stadium.

Adul Mashal of the International Club, who formerly played two years for coach Julie Menendez' Spartans, scored the second goal of the night for the Internationals. He surprised the Spartan goalie and the ball sailed into the net for the tally.

The only other score came right after the beginning of the second quarter. This score came on a similar play when Mat Bautista kicked the leather into the net.

Coach Menendez said that his team is about "50-50 inexperienced." He added, "We played a real good team tonight." He cited Dietmar Demeter, Ed Zumat and Dave Kingsley as standouts in last night's game. Zumat and Kingsley have probably the most experience of anyone else on the team, Menendez commented.

Three of his players who have shown promise though they are inexperienced are Les Bennett, Bill Poulus and Fritz Stellrecht.

The Spartan club will be trying for its first victory Friday night against the Stanford University team in Spartan Stadium at 8 p.m.

Hoop Meeting

The first organizational meeting of the varsity basketball team will be Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in MG-201, coach Stu Inman says.

SPARTAN DAILY-3

SPARTAN SOCCER—State soccerman John Olsen, right, drives for possession of the elusive ball in Friday night's season opener with San Francisco Olympic Club. The outmanned Spartans suffered an 8-1 defeat. They return to action this Friday at 8 p.m. against Stanford.

Frosh Poloists Win Two; Meet SJCC Tomorrow

Coming off an impressive doubleheader sweep of Fremont High School and College of Sequoia last Saturday morning in the local pool, San Jose State's frosh water polo team will open its league slate tomorrow night against San Jose City College.

Coach Lee Walton's aquamen will test Palo Alto High School in a non-league preliminary at 3:30, and then double back to entertain City College at 7:30. No admission will be charged for either contest.

Ray Arbeson fired in six goals to walk off with top honors in an 18-4 rout of Fremont in the opener. San Jose scored five quick first period scores and were never threatened by the inexperienced Indians.

Walton praised goalie and co-captain Bob Howse for his exceptional defensive performance. Howse knocked down 71 per cent of Fremont's attempts.

In the second game Bill Parker scored four times to lead the Sparts to a 23-3 rout of College of Sequoia. The locals scored 11 times before Sequoia managed to penetrate the SJS goal.

The varsity squad will open its play Friday evening against San Francisco State. The league encounter will be in the Spartan pool at 7:30.

Titchenal Terms WSU Rout, 'Breakdown of Everything'

The San Jose State grid loss to the Washington State Cougars was termed "a complete breakdown of everything," by coach Bob Titchenal.

The Spartans were humiliated by the Cougars 49-8 Saturday. The SJS gridders gave up the ball eight times on fumbles and interceptions. The total of give-aways in the first two games now totals 13.

No one player or group of players was responsible for the loss, Titchenal said. "Everyone was responsible. Nothing worked right."

The Spartans will have to tighten up both the offense and defense when they play the California Bears in Berkeley Saturday. Penalties hurt the Spartans in the second game as they did against Utah State. San Jose had 89 yards in penalties counted off against them in the Washington game. In the Utah game they had an even 100 yards against them.

Illegal motion penalties were a big factor in stopping the Spartans' potent offense. SJS was called five times for illegal motion.

Washington State uses a platoon system with three teams alternating. The offensive team (Big Red) carried 35 plays for a total of 138 yards. The "swing team" which plays both offense and defense picked up 83 yards in 18 plays. Even the defensive team (the Raiders) picked up 10 yards in six plays.

Defensively the Raiders held SJS to 17 yards in 33 plays. Over all the Big Red and Swing combination held the Spartans to 114 yards in 42 plays. The swing team was on the field when the Spartans scored their lone touchdown.

Dean Kalahar was the defensive standout for the Cougars. He made eight tackles. Mike Abbott was in on seven tackles for the WSU eleven. Roy Busse, Al Branco and Jim Dutton made five apiece.

The Spartans didn't receive any serious injuries in the game. Walt Roberts wrenched his knee but played after a short rest. Rand Carter suffered a slight concussion but it isn't serious according to Titchenal.

The Spartans should be at full strength for the game with the Bears Saturday.

Football Tickets

Student tickets for the SJS Spartan-Cal game at Berkeley, Saturday are available today in the Student Affairs Business Office, TH16.

Only students with student body cards may obtain tickets, and only one ticket may be obtained with each card.

Entries Due For Touch Football

Independent and fraternal organizations have only today and tomorrow to turn in entries for the touch football season which begins next Monday for independents and a week from today for fraternities.

Thus far entries have been scarce, according to Dan Unruh, director of intramurals. Although this is usual for this time of year, entries must meet Wednesday's deadline if organizations are going to have teams in the football program. A few entries have been turned in, Unruh said.

He informs managers that there will be a meeting this Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in MG205. It is the responsibility of the manager to represent his team if he wants to carry out his duties efficiently.

Also there will be a meeting for football officials Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in MG205. Unruh said that officials are needed and are literally necessary.

Tennis rosters are also due Friday, Sept. 28, and two-man volleyball entries must be in to Unruh's office, MG121, by Oct. 3. The tennis tournament begins Oct. 8. It is a double elimination tourney after the third set. Only single matches are played.

Tour, Campfire Club Plans S.F. Bus Trip

A tour of San Francisco is the first trip this semester for San Jose State's Tour and Campfire Club, an organization begun last semester.

On Sunday the group will take chartered Greyhound buses to the city.

While there they will visit the zoo, Museum of Natural History, DeYoung Museum, Japanese Tea Garden, and the Palace of the Legion of Honor.

Dinner will be either in Chinatown or Fisherman's Wharf.

According to faculty adviser Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, all students are eligible for the club. There are no dues. A person may go on one tour or as many as he wishes.

"The purpose of our club is to visit places, make friends, and have a good time," Mrs. Stewart said.

The Sept. 30 trip will cost $4.50 per student, including dinner. Students are asked to bring their own lunches.

Faculty sponsors from all departments keep the costs of tours to a minimum by obtaining special rates and fees.

Other trips planned for this semester include: Mt. Tamalpais, Oct. 7; Monterey-Carmel, Oct. 21; Yosemite, Nov. 2-4; High Sierras, Nov. 23-25; and Baja California and Los Angeles, Dec. 16 to Jan. 2.

Queen Sponsors May Obtain Forms Due Oct. 5, 4 P.M.

Applications are now available to campus groups wishing to enter a candidate in the Homecoming Queen race.

Rules and entry blanks may be obtained in the Activities Office, Adm242, this week. All forms must be returned to the office by Oct. 5 at 4 p.m.

Activities for the candidates include an interview, Oct. 9, and tea, Oct. 10, during which time five judges will select 10 semi-finalists.

On Oct. 17 and 18, students will vote for the Queen and her court.

The semi-finalists will participate in a fashion show Oct. 16 to help the students get acquainted with the candidates, according to Phyllis Smith, Homecoming Queen chairman.

Academic Ailments

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 10-year study conducted among students at the University of Wisconsin shows emotional problems the third most common academic ailment. The most common: respiratory infections; next, skin diseases.

Grounds Supervisor Anticipates 14th Year Directing Nature Camp

By JODY KINCAID

"I'm looking forward to my 14th year, and would go even if I weren't paid," declared Byron Bollinger when considering his past 13 years as camp director for the West Coast Nature School.

The nature school, entitled Field Nature Study in the college Bulletin, is dedicated to studying nature in natural surroundings. The school has from four to six camps a year, all in different localities and seasons. Camps have been held in such places as Yosemite, Big Basin, Asilomar, Mammoth Lakes, and Mendocino Woodlands.

With a broad smile on his deeply tanned face, "Byron," (his camp title), reminisces saying, "I could keep you here all day telling you different experiences the school has had."

"Once a girl showed up in white gloves and a fancy dress; she had never camped before but was a great sport about her inexperience. Everyone learns a lot, not only about the natural sciences, but about people and life."

"I used to have my office in the Science Building and ate my lunch with Drs. Rhodes and McCallum. They invited me to go with the nature school to Death Valley as a guest. Once there, I just had to go again. Only from then on, as camp director. That was in 1949."

Dr. Robert D. Rhodes and Dr. G. Alexander McCallum were professor and associate professor of biology respectively in 1949. Dr. Rhodes is not at San Jose now. Dr. McCallum heads the Biological Sciences Department.

The nature school, started in 1931 by Dr. P. Victor Peterson, professor of natural sciences, is a unique activity class for students who want to make their vacations profitable.

EASTER CAMP

During Easter holidays, the old Ryan mining camp in Death Valley is the permanent residence for the West Coast Nature School. As many as 200 students have participated in this camp-classroom each Easter for one unit of credit.

The registration for the camp has become "a tradition," according to Byron. "Many students bring their sleeping bags the night before, or come at 4 in the morning. When we open at 7, we sometimes have to hand out numbered cards to students with 7:30 classes who didn't want to lose their places in line."

As camp director, Byron is in charge of finding all facilities and carting in the three tons of groceries necessary to feed the students. "Only bread and milk are purchased daily from the small general store in the vicinity," said Byron. "It couldn't handle our other orders."

SJS GRAD

Byron has been working at San Jose State for 25 years in the Building and Grounds Department where he is now a supervisor. He started work when still a student in 1937 and took several units each semester until getting his degree in '44 in physical science.

"I love the out-of-doors and the purpose of the camps; more people should take advantage of these opportunities. Ten years from now you could ask a former camper what an alluvial fan is and he would know; he's actually seen them. How well can you remember something you heard but didn't see in a classroom last year?"
