Parking Convenience Afforded by Garage

"San Jose State's newly-opened multi-story parking garage is working exceedingly well. It is proving to be a very convenient place to park. So far we have no lines going in or out."

Such is the opinion of Glen E. Guttormsen, campus business manager.

"Since the facility's opening," Guttormsen continued, "we have issued parking permits to 711 persons, including 364 residence hall students, 275 other students, and 71 employees."

"Every day more people are making arrangements to use the garage. Many persons who were using our ground lots prior to the opening are now finding it advantageous to park in the new facility."

Guttormsen stated that, "We know the garage will go a long way toward solving the college parking congestion problem. For this reason, we are encouraging its use."

The multi-story facility has a capacity for slightly in excess of 2,000 vehicles.

Students who have not yet obtained parking permits may purchase them from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the SJS Cashier's Office, Adm-263.

In order to protect against sale of permits to persons not authorized to park on college property, presentation of a student body card or employee identification card is required for purchase.

Fees for parking in the garage for the remainder of the semester are as follows:

Regular students	$6.50
Limited students	$3.00
Employees, one-half time or more	$6.50
Employees, less than one-half time	$3.00
Designated spaces for two-

Discussion will also concern the proposed amendments to the ASB Constitution concerning class representation.

Speech, Drama Department Gives 'Amedee' Brilliant Presentation

By BOB PACINI
The topsy-turvy world of Eugene Ionesco, where everything is dream-like, where nothing is real and where the senses are made obsolete, was presented in full brilliance last Friday night when the Speech and Drama Department presented "Amedee."

Ionesco's strange, often bizarre play, could be described as a comedy, a satire, and a tragedy of a sort; it could be called all these things and every one of them would be accurate.

Perhaps it is a dream, but it is also a nightmare.

It would be almost impossible to attempt a summary or interpretation of the play. Probably the hundreds of people who jammed College Theater and saw the play produced an equal number of interpretations of the production.

It's a theatrical experience that will mean all things to all people.

GROWING PROBLEM

Essentially the story concerns Amedee and his wife Madeleine, who are confronted with a "growing problem."

The problem is represented on stage by a 15-year-old corpse that grows and grows until it stretches half way across the stage.

The problem is probably symbolic of the things that married couples often care for, even though it is the very thing that is breaking up their marriage.

Presenting the corpse on stage is only one of the enormous problems involved in producing this play.

SCRIPT DEMANDS

The script calls for fireworks, sounds of trains, incidental music and numerous lighting effects.

The highlights of this highlight-filled play were the difficult dream sequence that occurs in act two

Educators Announced As Speakers

Pres. John T. Wahlquist has announced the names of the speakers to appear at Founders' Day ceremonies and the dedication of the Education Building on May 7 and the Honors Convocation on May 23.

Dr. Lawrence D. Haskew, academic vice president of the University of Texas and a leading Southern educator, will be the main speaker at the Founders' Day ceremonies held in conjunction with the opening of the Education Building.

Dr. Haskew holds a B.Ph. degree from Emory University, an M.A. degree from the University of Chicago and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Georgia.

At the Honors Convocation will be Dr. Rene Dubos, a scientist who has been associated with the Rockefeller Institute since 1927.

Dr. Dubos is a native of Saint-Brice, France, and holds a B.S. degree from the Institute National Agronomique, Paris and a Ph.D. degree from Rutgers University.

Weak California J.C.'s May Alter Master Plan

By CALIF. INTERCOLLEGIATE PRESS ASSOCIATION

The principal architect of California's Master Plan for Higher Education has charged that the failure of the state to increase financial aid to junior colleges may force "drastic modifications" in the program.

Arthur G. Coons, president of Occidental College in Los Angeles, said last week that master plan recommendations calling for increased state support of junior colleges must be adopted if the planned diversion of 50,000 students to these colleges is to be effected.

The master plan, adopted in 1960 by the state legislature, includes stiffer admission procedures and policies at the California State Colleges and at the University of California.

Coons pointed out that UC raised its admission standards this fall and said, "I find it unfortunate that the state colleges have not been able to make this change more quickly and expeditiously, because this was a major plank upon which the master plan was built."

The estimated diversion of 50,000 students from the colleges and the universities is expected by 1975. Coons said. He argued that the junior colleges must be prepared to handle this load, and said the lack of state aid to them cannot be allowed to go on much longer without impairing the quality of the education they offer.

Coons, reporting on Master Plan progress in an article for the Los Angeles Times, said the creation of the California State College Board of Trustees and the Co-ordinating Council for Higher Education are major accomplishments of the plan.

But he said that the sudden departure of Dr. Buell Gallagher after only a few months as state college chancellor and the lack of adequate staffing on the statewide level has impeded the development of the state colleges into a "cohesive system rather than 17 almost autonomous institutions."

Coons also reported that the Legislature "has not, as originally envisaged in the Master Plan, given the trustees nor the chancellor the degree of fiscal autonomy required to adequately operate a vast educational system."

The Occidental official called the Co-ordinating Council "the first formal means of establishing close cooperation and joint planning between private colleges and public institutions as well as among public institutions themselves."

"Questions have been raised," he said, "regarding the wisdom of having three private college representatives serve as equal members on the council, helping decide issues in public higher education."

"They (private college representatives) are a minority of three in a membership of 15 on the Co-ordinating Council," he pointed out. "I hardly see the danger . . . that this is unwarranted interference in the development of public institutions. After all, all private institutions are really quasi-public. They must serve the public in order to justify their charters and their tax-exempt status in the state."

Discussion

Postgraduate degrees in business administration for graduating seniors not majoring in business, will be discussed Thursday, 9 a.m., at the Placement Office, Adm234.

Persons planning to attend the discussion should contact the Placement Office.

Management Head To Speak Today On Field Openings

Prof. Jack Holland, head of the SJS Management Department, will present a one-hour talk on "Placement and Vocational Opportunities" in CH150, today at 3:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Senior Class, Professor Holland's talk will deal specifically with opportunities in the Bay Area, according to Owen Grandy, senior vice president.

A frequent speaker, he has delivered 25 major addresses to business and professional groups during the past two years.

The professor is an active member in 10 national, state and local management, purchasing and advertising organizations.

Senior Class President Bruce Macpherson urges all students to attend the lecture, which he hopes "will be the first in a series of speeches aimed at providing the seniors with useful information for success in obtaining a job in their major fields."

Political Scientist Ends 2-Day Visit

The debut of the new "visiting scholar" program came to an end Friday when Dr. Hans Morgenthau completed a two-day "harnstorming" tour of the SJS community.

Dr. Morgenthau, professor of political science at the University of Chicago, addressed the political science class of Dr. Dean R. Cresap in his finale Friday afternoon, telling the students that the increasing weight government officials are giving to public opinion is distorting democratic processes.

"In reality, you have a distortion of the free interplay of ideas concept because not every group with an opinion is able to compete on an equal basis with other groups," he stated.

Dr. Morgenthau also added that most public opinion polls do not give the true opinions of the public. The polls "predict a mood rather than an opinion," he said.

He began his talk by reminding the class that a government governs with the consent of the governed. The "great problem" is creating the consent of the governed.

In totalitarian states, the consent is generated by means of violence and through the use of the mass media.

"A population which is continually exposed to one point of view will sooner or later form individual opinions which will be the ones the government wants."

The problem in America is that "before the government makes a decision, especially in the area of foreign policy, it asks for the public's opinion."

"The government is having problems in governing at all without continuing its routines of yesterday," he affirmed, adding that it is difficult to get novel plans accepted.

Dr. Morgenthau called such a government a "prisoner of its own misconceptions about public opinion."

Answering questions later in the hour, he stated that the democratic process was safeguarded as long as the "elite" governing body was responsible and intelligent and had the various checks and balances in effect.

"The best we can hope for is a number of intelligent elite vying for the support of public opinion."

In another answer to a question from the class, Dr. Morgenthau said the press doesn't actually have much to do with forming public opinion.

"People don't get many opinions in newspapers, the most they can get is a smattering of the news."

His final appearance on campus attracted an overflow crowd as students and faculty members joined the regular class to listen.

Wahlquist, Panel Discuss AFROTC Training Program

President John T. Wahlquist will be in Washington today at the invitation of Air Force Chief of Staff Curtis E. LeMay in an advisory capacity concerning the reprogramming of the AFROTC.

With eight other representatives from educational institutions, the panel will attempt to shorten the training program for male college students from four to two years.

Each year the Air Force needs 4,500 officers, and the dropout rate from the ROTC during the four-year period is very high, causing concern at the Air Force Department lest it lacks the needed number of officers.

Dr. Wahlquist will be in Washington for four days, devising and revising the ROTC program to be presented to Congress next year.

A Disgrace

Last semester, on Tuesday, March 27, to be exact, several members of a campus political organization burst into the Spartan Daily office and proceeded to use its facilities without authority. We described their actions the following day in an editorial and we quote: "While one used the telephone, the other went through one of the editors' desks, searching for a letter he had written to Thrust and Parry . . . All this occurred in full view of several staff members who also were in the office at that time and who protested their actions but to no avail."

The editorial mentioned no names and did not identify the organization to which they belonged, probably to the detriment of the other more responsible student political organizations. Nevertheless, it was felt that to have done so would have unfairly branded these students, invalidly extending the misbehavior of a few as representative of the entire organization.

Last week, however, a recurrence of this disrespect for authority and confidence has caused us to change our minds. On Thursday night, shortly after midnight, six or seven members of the Young Republicans, including Richard Reeb and John Gustafson, those ardent foes of the communist conspiracy, descended en masse to the offices of the Globe Printing Co., where the Daily is published, in an attempt to see a story on the organization's latest squabble prior to its being published. Reeb and Gustafson, incidentally, are the culprits referred to in last semester's political escapade into journalism.

Unsuccessful in its mission, the group milled around for a while and finally left approximately 15 minutes later, its patience having been exhausted. Fortunately—or perhaps unfortunately—only two members of this group could be identified, the Daily being quite familiar with their tactics from the past.

This time, however, we are going to do more than just protest. We are warning these members of the organization—Reeb and Gustafson included, naturally—that if any more of these instances occur again, the Daily will not hesitate to name names and to bring their actions before the public. What occurred last week was a disgrace to their organization and to the national party which they purport to represent.

Dr. Dommeyer To Examine Psychic Field

The intriguing world of mysticism and psychic phenomena will receive a thorough airing Wednesday when Dr. Frederick C. Dommeyer, head of the Philosophy Department, speaks on "The Present Status of Parapsychology" in Concert Hall at 11:30 a.m.

Parapsychology, the science that concerns itself with extra-sensory perception and senses, has been studied by Dr. Dommeyer for 20 years. His speech will cover most of the field's aspects and will also cover its place in America's colleges and universities.

Mission Founder To Speak Tonight To Dorm Residents

Rev. Lester Myers, superintendent of the San Jose Rescue Mission, will bring with him to Allen Hall tonight at 8:30, a film of the work his group has done for the needy of San Jose.

Rev. Myers founded the Rescue Mission in 1957, a few years after he had been saved by a similar mission in Fresno.

Since its founding, the mission has fed over 163,000 persons. This year alone, it has fed 3,000 children.

After the movie, Rev. Myers will deliver a brief talk which will be followed by a question and answer period.

Testimonials by two men that have been helped by the Rescue Mission will conclude the evening's entertainment.

The program, which is another cultural event offered by Allen Hall, is open to students, faculty and the general public.

HAPPY TALK

As we all know, conversation is terribly important on a date. When lulls in the conversation run longer than an hour or two, one's partner is inclined to grow lopy—even sullen. But occasionally one finds it difficult to keep the talk going, especially when one is having a first date with one. What, then, does one do? If one is wise, one follows the brilliant example of Harlow Thurlow.

Harlow Thurlow prepares. That is his simple secret. When Harlow is going to take out a new girl, he makes sure in advance that the conversation will not languish. Before the date, he goes to the library and reads all 24 volumes of the encyclopedia and transcribes their contents on his cuffs. Thus he makes sure that no matter what his date's interests are, he will have ample material to keep the conversation alive.

Take, for example, Harlow's first date with Priscilla de Gasser, a fine, strapping, blue-eyed broth of a girl, lavishly constructed and rosy as the dawn.

Harlow was, as always, prepared when he called for Priscilla, and, as always, he did not start to converse immediately. First he took her to dinner because, as everyone knows, it is useless to try to make conversation with an unfed coed. Her attention span is negligible. Also, her stomach rumbles so loud it is difficult to make yourself heard.

"Wash your cuffs and be my love!"

So he took her to a fine steak house where he stoked her with goblets of Black Angus and mounds of French fries and thickets of escarole and battalions of petit fours. Then, at last, dinner was over and the waiter brought two finger bowls.

"I hope you enjoyed your dinner, my dear," said Harlow, dipping into his finger bowl.

"Oh, it was grandy-dandy!" said Priscilla. "Now let's go someplace for ribs."

"Later, perhaps," said Harlow. "But right now, I thought we might have a conversation."

"Oh, goody, goody, two-shoes!" cried Priscilla. "I been looking everywhere for a boy who can carry on a intelligent conversation."

"Your search is ended, madam," said Harlow, and pulled back his sleeves and looked at his cuffs to pick a likely topic to start the conversation.

Oh, woe! Oh, lackaday! Those cuffs on which Harlow had painstakingly transcribed so many facts—those cuffs on which he had noted such diverse and fascinating information—those cuffs, I say, were nothing now but a big, blue blur! For Harlow—poor Harlow!—splashing around in the finger bowl, had gotten his cuffs wet and the ink had run and not one word was legible! And Harlow—poor Harlow!—looked upon his cuffs and broke out in a night sweat and fell dumb.

"I must say," said Priscilla after several silent hours, "that you are a very dull fellow. I'm leaving."

With that she flounced away and poor Harlow was too crushed to protest. Sadly he sat and sadly lit a cigarette.

All of a sudden Priscilla came rushing back. "Was that," she asked, "a Marlboro you just lit?"

"Yes," said Harlow.

"Then you are not a dull fellow," she cried, and sprang into his lap. "You are bright! Anybody is bright to smoke such a perfect joy of a cigarette as Marlboro which is just chock full of yummy flavor, which has a Selectrate filter which comes in a soft pack that is really soft, and a Flip-Top Box that really flips, and which can be bought wherever cigarettes are sold in all fifty states and Duluth . . . Harlow, tiger, wash your cuffs and be my love."

"Okay," said Harlow, and did, and was.

The makers of Marlboro cigarettes, who print this column at hideous expense throughout the school year, are very happy for Harlow—and for all the rest of you who have discovered the pleasures of Marlboro.

Old Glory Reassures Berliners

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
BERLIN — A flag flies in front of the home of U.S. Berlin brigade commander Gen. Frederick O. Hartel, coming down at night and going up again in the morning.

To West Berliners it is a reassuring symbol and they watch it closely.

If on any day it did not appear, panic might ensue.

For General Hartel's flag is one sign of what is called the American "presence" in Berlin. Altogether, this presence comes to about 12,000 Americans, about half of whom are dependents — women attending social clubs and children attending schools much as they would at home.

They provide daily reassurance to the German people that Americans stand side-by-side with them in this city deep inside Communist territory.

PROOF OF FREEDOM

To the Germans, the women and children here are almost as important as the American troops—not as possible frontline hostages in case of attack, but rather as proof that freedom is freedom anywhere and that Americans will defend it as quickly here as at home.

As a military assignment, Berlin is unique.

For Americans in Germany it is the most sought-after post because housing and living conditions are the best and because Berlin itself is a beautiful city.

Militarily, it is the only American post totally surrounded by a potential enemy.

Since Berlin is deep inside enemy territory and is a key communications center, they do not expect to be attacked with nuclear weapons.

EXPECT MOB ACTION

The most likely tactic, they believe, would be attack by Communist-generated mobs.

These mobs would pour through breaches in the Communist-erected Berlin wall, probably to be followed by the East German army and police forces in an attempt to take over Western portions of the city.

Hence, American troops here are experts at mob control.

"And," says General Hartel, "if the Communists do try to come over the wall, we'll have two and a half million West Berliners fighting with us."

Dames To View Holiday Ideas

Ideas for holiday meals will be offered at tonight's meeting of University Dames in the Spartan Cafeteria.

A representative from P.G.&E. will show a special film on how to prepare Christmas appetizers at the 8 p.m. meeting.

Other ideas offered by the guest will be how to cook a turkey, decorate and plan menus.

All interested married student women and wives of students are invited to attend the meeting.

What Is Your Favorite Gripe About Teachers?

By PAT ANGLE
Photos By Barry Stevenson

Nick Gallo, freshman, music:
"I am against professors who notice that students go to sleep during their classes and give 'pop' quizzes to get even. I am also opposed to teachers who give quizzes or tests on the first day after a vacation."

Sharon Reed, junior, medical technology:
"Actually I only have one pet peeve. When some of the teachers give tests, they pick out things that really aren't important for you to know in order to have a knowledge of the subject—like 'what is the third word in the second paragraph on page two of the book?'"

Richard Dias, freshman, civil engineering:
"I don't like the math teachers who give too much theory and not enough practical application. In lectures, many teachers try to cover too much in too short a time. Another peeve of mine is teachers whose accent makes them almost impossible to understand."

Amer Al-Khayat, senior, art:
"A lot of them don't want questions asked until they are finished with a lecture. I'd like to be able to ask questions when they come up. My understanding of what follows may be dependent on my having my question answered. I would like teachers to be patient with foreign students who have difficulty with the language."

Carrie Costello, sophomore, sociology:
"My pet peeves are about professors who lecture straight out of the book and don't add anything of interest. I also dislike those who tell you that an exam is going to be on a certain day, then cancel it that day after you have studied for it. My other peeves are teachers who seem uninterested in their subject and those who say that if you did badly on a test, not to come and ask them why."

Spartan Cagers Win Opener; Trounce Portland Pilots, 60-43

San Jose State's experienced varsity basketball team unveiled its 1962-63 campaign in explosive fashion as it upset Portland University, 60-43, Friday night on the losers' court.

Bill Robertson, a 6-6 returning letterman who alternated between the corner and pivot, led all pointmakers with 16. He connected on six field goals and four of five charity tosses. Bill Yonge, another stalwart on last year's contingent, tossed in 13 markers, while sophomore guard Mel Simpson meshed 12.

Pacing the Portland attack was 6-8 pivotman Steve Anstett, who netted 14 points and dominated in the rebounding department. Anstett held SJS center Harry Edwards, 6-8, to a single point and caused him to foul out in the second half.

Roland Carpenter, highly touted Pilot forward, was contained by the tight San Jose defense, as he scored only six points, all on free throws. Stu Inman's Spartans won the game on their field goal shooting, as they made good on 24 goals, compared to the Pilots' 14.

Portland bested San Jose on the line, as they hit on 15 of 21 attempts. The winners managed 12 of 20.

The victory was especially meaningful to Inman because the Portland five was named the number ten team in the Far West by pre-season polls.

San Jose received no such honor, and, in fact, were picked no higher than fifth in the seven-team West Coast Athletic Conference.

Pepperdine, the defending champs, were tabbed as favorites, while St. Mary's, USF and Santa Clara were also spotted above the Spartans.

Only UOP and Loyola were picked to finish beneath San Jose.

The surprising Spartans will return to action Thursday night in the SJS gym against San Francisco State. The two teams' fresh squads will tangle in a preliminary game at 6:15.

Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo spoiled the Gators' season opener Friday, as it pinned a 63-59 defeat on the San Francisco aggregation.

League Favorites Take Early Lead

Pre-season predictions may come true if Thursday night's fraternity league basketball games are any indication.

And if Theta Chi's performance is indicative of their true strength, the fraternity team could run away with the league. Theta Chi trounced Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 58-33, with Steve DeCote hitting for 18 points, all field goals. Jim McGuire potted 15 tallies for the losers.

In another high-scoring contest, Alpha Tau Omega clipped Sigma Chi, 48-39, but Ed Marcos took high honors with 12 points for Sigma Chi. Gil Cyster scored 10 for the winners.

Delta Upsilon ran over Sigma Nu, 48-21, in the biggest point spread of the night. Dwayne Holman took high-point honors for the game and for the night as he hit on 10 field goals for 20 points. Terry Tevis made 12 tallies for Sigma Nu.

Another favorite in the league, Phi Sigma Kappa, clipped Delta Sigma Phi, 40-34, in a well-played contest.

In the closest battle of the evening, Pi Kappa Alpha nipped Lambda Chi Alpha, 42-41. Tom Graham of PiKA was high point man for the game with 14 points.

Sigma Phi Epsilon tripped Theta Xi in another closely contested match, 27-23. Art Romero of Sig Eps outdid other scorers with 12 points, but Pete Rukhala for Theta Xi hit on 10.

Baker Expected As Top Draft Pick

Oregon State Quarterback Terry Baker, winner of the Heisman Award, is expected to be the first player picked in this morning's National Football League player draft.

Pro clubs get together each year to choose outstanding college players for their rosters in a round-robin of choice-making which gives the lowest teams in league standing first pick of the new crop of players.

Last year's first pick was Ernie Davis of Syracuse, who went to the Cleveland Browns. Davis has not played because of Leukemia.

Johnson Selected All-Coast

San Jose State fullback Johnny Johnson has been named to the All-Coast third football team by the UPI selection committee.

Johnson has been the workhorse of the Spartan squad this year in the rushing department. He has been one of the stars of the team since he broke into the lineup in 1960.

The senior fullback will be lost to the SJS grid team next year. Coach Bob Titchenal thinks that this will be one of the toughest positions for which to find a replacement.

The first team selected by UPI finds Hal Bedsole of USC and Hugh Campbell of Washington State at ends, Steve Barnett of Oregon and Marv Marinovich of USC at tackles; Rick Redman of Washington and Damon Barne of USC at guards; Ray Mansfield of Washington at center; Mel Renfro of Oregon and Kermit Alexander of UCLA at halfback spots, Junior Coffey of Washington at fullback and Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker of Oregon State at quarterback.

The second team is comprised of ends Vern Burke of Oregon State and Lee Bernhardt of Washington; tackles Rod Scheyer of Washington and Al Hildebrand of Stanford; guards Ed Cummings of Stanford and John Erby of California; center Andy Von Sonn of UCLA; halfbacks Willie Brown of USC and Charlie Mitchell of Washington; fullback George Reed of WSU and quarterback Pete Beathard of USC.

Former Spartan Named to NFL All-Rookie Squad

Leon Donohue, former San Jose State griddler, was the only San Francisco 49er named to the National Football League's All-Rookie team as selected by United Press International.

Donohue was selected at a guard position where he had started for the 49ers all year until tackle Bob St. Clair was injured. Donohue then switched over to St. Clair's tackle spot for the last two games. The big guard was drafted by the San Francisco eleven in 1960 when he was red shirting a year at SJS. Last year Donohue was one of the stalwarts for coach Bob Titchenal's squad.

He was one of six players from last year's SJS team that played pro-football this year. The other Spartans playing in the pro ranks are guard Johnny Sutro, San Francisco; end Oscar Donohue, Minnesota; Mack Burton and Jim Cadile, in the Canadian pro league and quarterback Chon Gallegos, since dropped, by the Oakland Raiders.

Spartan Rifle Team Shades Santa Clara

The San Jose State rifle team won in dual meet competition against Santa Clara Thursday with a score of 1424 to 1387. The high man for the SJS squad was William Kindred who fired a near perfect 292 out of 300. The match was part of the team's Northern California Intercollegiate Rifle Assn. league contests.

Spartans Shutout Hawaii To End Season With Win

By JOHN HENRY

San Jose State Spartans ended their season on a winning note as they racked up their first shutout, beating Hawaii's Rainbows 19-0 at Honolulu Friday night.

The Spartans took advantage of the ill that had plagued them all season as they took Rainbow passes and picked them off to end drives and in one case to take the interception in for the touchdown.

The Spartans opened the scoring early in the first quarter. After kicking off to Hawaii, the SJS eleven took the Rainbows return punt on its own 32 and drove the length of the field for the TD.

With the ball on the 16 of Hawaii, Johnny Johnson took the ball down to the 10. Johnson took another handoff and fought his way down to the 3. He took the ball on the plunge for the touchdown. Bob Paterson kicked the PAT to put the Spartans ahead 7-0 after only three minutes of play.

Late in the same quarter, Hawaii had the ball on its own 36 when Mel Wise's pass was intercepted by Cass Jackson. He had a clear field and took the ball 45 yards for the second Spartan touchdown.

Paterson's kick hit the right post and was no good. The Spartans held the Rainbows for the rest of the half and went off the field leading 13-0.

Neither team could get a drive going until late in the third quarter when center Steve Munnua of SJS intercepted a Hawaiian pass on the Spartans' 32 and returned it to his own 37.

The Spartans started to drive and at the end of the quarter they owned the ball on Hawaii's 25. The Spartans had gotten there on some hard running by Tom Doslak.

Walt Roberts showed fine running form as he took the ball down to the seven on the first play in the fourth quarter.

Johnson then scored his second touchdown of the game. The Spartans tried for the two-point PAT but it failed and SJS led 19-0.

Hawaii was driving into Spartan territory when Wise tried a pass into the end zone on fourth down but Roberts broke up the pass to end the threat.

Again in the late minutes of the game the Rainbows were driving when Wise's pass from the SJS 29 was intercepted by Ron McBride on the 23. He ran like a halfback to bring it out to the 47. Penalties and some fine charging by Hawaii put the ball back to the SJS 20.

3 From SJS To Attend Conference

Three Spartans traveled to Hidden Valley, Los Altos, Saturday to participate in a conference on International Student Centers.

Attending were Nani Rao, senior industrial relations student from India; Dr. Philip Persky, associate professor of English and foreign student adviser, and Dick Romm, activities adviser.

The trio participated in a panel discussing "International Centers as We See Them."

Other discussion groups included in the day-long conference were "Present Programs of Student Centers and their Philosophies" and "International Student Centers, their Futures."

Representatives from San Jose's International Student Center, University of California "I" House and the Stanford Foreign Student Program discussed the former topic.

Science Majors Must Pre-Reg

All science and science education majors and minors who are planning to pre-register for science courses next semester must schedule an appointment with their advisers before Friday.

Purpose of the appointment is to plan a class program for the coming year. Any student who does not confer with his adviser during this period will not be able to participate in pre-registration.

Biology Meeting

Dr. James P. Heath, professor of biology, will present a film and talk on his recent Proboecis Monkey collecting trip to Borneo tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in S210.

Presented by Beta Beta Beta, honorary biological society, Dr. Heath will tell of his expedition to Borneo while on a two-year leave to teach at the University of Airlangga in Surabaya, Indonesia.

During the time he was in Borneo, Dr. Heath and his companions collected 16 of the elusive creatures.

Science Film

"Search for the Living Fossil," a film featuring a 3,000-pound Indian rhinoceros, will be shown in S142 Friday, at 11:30 a.m.

The film will be narrated by Edgar Stone of the San Francisco Zoological Society.

SJS Profs To Speak At World Affairs Meet

Three San Jose State social science professors are attending the 39th session of the Institute of World Affairs, which is being held at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena today through Wednesday.

Presenting papers at the conference will be Dr. Frederic A. Weed, head of the political science department and Dr. Gerald E.

Wheeler, associate professor of history. Also attending the function is Dr. Leo P. Kibby, chairman of the area of social sciences.

Sponsored by the University of Southern California, the institute is held in cooperation with the colleges and universities of the Pacific area.

General theme of this year's session will be: Commitment to Freedom: The Positive Side of the American Record in Foreign Policy.

Among the speeches and panel discussions on the session's program, conference members will hear presentations by Dr. Weed on "American Policy Toward Turkey," and by Dr. Wheeler on "Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO)."

Co-Rec Sets Golf Tourney

If you have even swung a golf club, Co-Rec is offering a chance to put that talent to use through its all-college pitch and putt tournament this weekend.

No matter what the player's ability, the tournament offers a division for almost every player. A novice and advanced section is set up for each men's and women's division.

Everyone except golf team members is eligible to enter the tournament which will be played at the Fairground Fairways, 441 Tully Road. The first of four rounds of medal play will be used as a classifying round in order to establish handicaps.

Two rounds will be played on each day of the two-day affair with registration beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Deadline for required pre-registration to the tournament is set for 1 p.m. Wednesday. Forms are available in the men's and women's gyms, the dorms or FO113.

TWO-PLIES

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—If your 1963 model car rides better than its predecessor, credit a minor revolution that has taken place in the tires.

In three model years, two-ply tires have supplanted the older, stiffer four-ply on an estimated 80 per cent of new cars, according to The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. The more flexible two-ply, say experts, offers a smoother, softer ride.
