Vol. 50 SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1963 No. 90

Students Form KEY, New Political Party

A new political party, KEY, is being formed on campus. A committee will interview students interested in becoming party candidates for next year's officers on Saturday. Place and time for interviews are not definite.

According to the party officers, KEY hopes to present a balanced slate of officers composed of Greeks, independents, and off-campus students.

KEY will choose candidates on the basis of their merits rather than their interest group or voting ability. The party will run a full slate of candidates only if there are qualified people for every position.

Party officers are Al Henninger,

chairman; George Drake, vice-chairman; Penny Patch, secretary, and Pat Butler, treasurer.

The party lists its purposes as follows:

- To originate and support ideas and proposals that will benefit the college community as a whole.
- To encourage a spirit of cooperation and confidence among the students, faculty, and administration.
- To encourage participation in students government and other related activities.
- To work toward continuity in student government.
- To establish meaningful, business-like, democratic student government that makes every effort to fulfill its responsibilities to the student and to the total college community.

Officers say KEY will hold ethics above victory in a political campaign and is dedicated primarily to better student government and only secondarily to winning elections.

"No environment is more appropriate for the education of responsible citizens than the medium of a democratic student government," the officers emphasized. "Participation in student government is co-curricular instead of extra-curricular."

"We believe that the student government program and its related activities provide opportunities for a rich and realistic approach to citizenship training that can be found nowhere else in the college curriculum," they said.

Interviews Held For Homecoming Posts Tomorrow

Interviews will be held tomorrow for six positions on the ASB Homecoming Committee, which will plan and carry out next fall's Homecoming festivities.

Jerry Engles, newly appointed Homecoming Committee chairman, stated yesterday that the interviews will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. for the following sub-committee chairmanships: parade, queen, downtown merchants, publicity and half-time activities. Interviews will also be held for a committee secretary.

The date for the annual festivities, according to Engles, has been set for Nov. 9.

Events to be planned for Engles pointed out, include the queen contest; the crowning at the Coronation Ball the week preceding the Homecoming itself; the downtown parade in which various living groups enter floats and participate; the half-time presentation of the queen and her court; presentation of awards for parade entrants; and a fashion show, sponsored jointly last year by the Homecoming Committee and Joseph Magnin.

AAUP Panel Today at 12:30

Today at 12:30 in cafeteria rooms A and B, the American Association of University Professors, (AAUP), will present a panel of three faculty members discussing the problems of exchange professorships. Participating on the panel is Raymond J. Storer, Miss Marie Cohade, and Dr. David P. Edgell.

Violence Theme Of Classic Films

Violence is the theme of the two films at tomorrow's classic film series at 3:30 and 7 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium. The two films are "M" and "The Stranger Left No Card."

Peter Lorre stars in "M" in which he plays a psychopathic child murderer. Suspense and action set a high pace when Lorre is simultaneously pursued by police and underworld leaders concerned with the intensified police activity.

Alan Badel portrays a stranger who stirred up a quiet town when he brought to it all the ingredients of a fantastic crime in "The Stranger Left No Card."

"The Stranger" won first prize in Cannes Film Festival of 1953.

These two features will be shown free of charge to all ASB students and members of the faculty. Spartan Programs Committee and The Audio-Visual Service Center co-sponsor the event.

Lyke on Sale Tomorrow; Campus Issues Reviewed

Look for live folk singers! Look for a lovely doll! Look for Lyke!

All three will be featured in front of the cafeteria tomorrow when Lyke, campus feature magazine, goes on sale. The award winning magazine will be sold for two days at various campus locations.

SJS Folk Music Society members Pete Grant and George Martin will set up banjo and guitar in front of the cafeteria from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Later, the Lyke Doll, who is featured in the magazine as a "Spring Sport," will be at the cafeteria location to autograph her "almost life-size" photo.

Model United Nations comes under Lyke's scrutiny in this issue. The who, where and how of this organization is answered.

Peter, Paul and Mary folk singing trio, are questioned in Lyke and they tell their views on folk singing, television, and motion pictures.

Spring fashions will be reviewed in Lyke's pages with scenes from Spartans "second home," Santa Cruz beach.

What does the future hold for instructional television at SJS? What will happen "Come September" at the college's Greek Row? All questions will be answered in Wednesday's Lyke.

Book Talk Slated For Next Week

There will be no book talk tomorrow. The next review is scheduled for the following Wednesday, March 27, when Dr. Arturo B. Fallico, professor of philosophy, will discuss his book "The Quest for Authentic Existence."

Dr. Fallico will resume his philosophical book in rooms A and B in the faculty dining room of the college cafeteria at 12:30 next Wednesday. This week will be the only one without a scheduled book talk.

SJS Grad Given Old Familiar Beat

His name is Robert Terry, and he's a 1959 SJS graduate.

He is currently an officer with the San Jose Police Department. His beat — the SJS campus and surrounding area.

Just calling him a police officer, though, might not be entirely accurate.

Sure, he can make arrests, issue parking citations and do the hundred other things a police officer is expected to do.

But he's a lot more, according to Stanley C. Benz, dean of students.

"He is the police department's liaison officer for the college area," Dean Benz said.

Much of his time will be spent meeting with student body officers, living group leaders, and college officials for the purpose of promoting better working relationships between the college students and the city police and in preventing needless difficulties.

According to George Cannell, assistant chief of the San Jose Police Department, Terry has been assigned to the college area on a trial basis.

Officer Terry's primary objective is to serve the college community by becoming well acquainted with students and staff. "Students can discipline themselves," the Dean stated.

"Officer Terry is available to help them evaluate situations and to lend support to their efforts at self-discipline."

'Anachronistic System'

Dr. Craig Seeks Court Action on Promotion

"I feel that the promotion appeal procedures in the state college system are anachronistic and are not in keeping with American jurisprudence."

This is the opinion of Dr. Herbert R. Craig, assistant professor of speech and drama at SJS, who said he intends to go to court this month and ask for an overhaul of promotion procedure in the system.

According to Dr. Craig, recommendations regarding academic promotions are referred from the department head to the division head, who, in turn, refers the recommendation to the dean of the college.

It then is turned over to the President's Council. Recommendations on the original are made at each level. The final decision regarding the promotion rests with the president of the college.

If promotion is denied, the faculty member may turn to the promotion appeals board. It is here that much of the controversy over machinery exists.

Many members of this board also are members of the President's Council, who already have sat in judgment for the original recommendation.

Dr. Craig first encountered this situation when after his promotion to associate professor was denied, he went before the appeals board two years ago to "raise questions about the accuracy of the recommendation submitted by the department head."

He brought the issue of review by the same individuals who had passed judgment before the SJS Federation of Teachers, which asked the California State Federation of Teachers to look into the claim.

CSFT took the case under consideration. For the past year, the organization has been meeting and in correspondence with Pres. John T. Wahlgren, the Chancellor's office, and lately, with the Board of Trustees for the California State College System.

CSFT concluded that the way to obtain a change in promotion procedures and appeals was to take the matter to court.

Atty. Joseph Genser of CSFT said he plans to file a writ of mandate within two weeks, probably in Los Angeles County.

Genser said the writ will ask the court to require trustees to order changes in promotion methods employed in all 17 of the state colleges.

Sparling's Part Called 'Passive'

ASB Pres. Bill Hauck yesterday described as "passive" ASB Treasurer Jim Sparling's implication with the Friday morning incident involving the setting off of three false fire alarms.

After talking with the three men involved, Hauck said, "Jim tried to dissuade the other two from pulling the alarms, but failed."

The two individuals, Tom Fisher, of Oakland, and James Fitzsimmons, of 1482 Hedding St., according to Hauck, said Jim had no direct implication with the action. As a matter of fact, Hauck said the ASB treasurer did not condone the action and requested Fisher and Fitzsimmons not to carry it out.

Sparling yesterday said, "We were extremely aware of the totally illogical action and admitted it on the spot."

The case is expected to be presented at Friday's meeting of the student judiciary. Action will be recommended to the student administration.

The trio will face trial Monday, March 25.

Spartan Daily was unable to contact Fisher and Fitzsimmons for comment.

Sigma Chi Initials Levis for Derby

The pace of pre-Derby Day activity will quicken tomorrow as women representing sororities and living centers splash among cans of paint to help Sigma Chi fraternity members decorate stacks of levis with the Greek letters.

The event, Derby Hustle, will be held between 6:15-7 p.m. tomorrow and Thursday and 4-7 p.m. on Friday. For each pair of levis brought to the house for painting, points will be awarded adding to the total for each respective living center. A maximum of 50 levis will be accepted from each group.

The third pre-Derby Day contest Derby Ticket Steal, also begins tomorrow through Friday. The object of this event is to steal a ticket in the hatband of each of the 80 Sigma Chi derby wearers before noon in Washington Square. Tickets may be exchanged for points at the house Friday between 4-7 p.m.

Members of Sigma Chi fraternity will also be featured tomorrow on the Frank Darien Record Hop, KNTV, Channel 11, between 5:30-6:15 p.m. The program will preview Derby Day and show film clips of last year's varsity vs. alumni football game.

Pennsylvania Prof Boosts Linguistics In Lecture Series

What happens when we translate from French to Spanish, or from Latin to Spanish?

According to Dr. Henry Hoeningwald, linguistics professor from the University of Pennsylvania, translation is an invaluable way to gain a perspective of a language — its correctness, efficiency, beauty and its role as an expression of ideas and emotions.

Dr. Hoeningwald will discuss this and other relationships of "Sounds, Meaning and History" tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. in Concert Hall in conjunction with the College Lecture Series.

Now on leave from the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford, Dr. Hoeningwald has taught at Yale, the Hartford Seminary, the University of Texas and has had visiting appointments at Michigan, Georgetown and Princeton.

Campus Chest To 'Sell' Instructors This Morning

Joe Buehler, newly appointed San Jose State yell leader, will start the student-faculty auction off today at 11:30 in front of the cafeteria. He will be auctioning off familiar campus personages who will sell their services for one hour to any person, group, or organization.

Bidding for the services of students and faculty will begin at $1, and no less than two donors will be auctioned off at one time.

According to Wade Fosdick, chairman of the Community Service Committee which is sponsoring Campus Chest, Buehler is replacing Steve Frohling as auctioneer. Frohling was last semester's head yell leader and is unable to attend the auction. Helping Buehler in auctioning will be both Blue Key, national men's honor society, and Spartan Shields, sophomore men's group.

Campus Chest Week, which began yesterday and will terminate this Friday, is held to raise funds for foreign student aid and the United Fund. Fosdick reported that the tentative goal of $1000 will be divided equally among the two programs. He said, "Containers will be placed in strategic positions around campus. Look for this year's drive slogan — 'Please Say Yes to the Campus Chest.'"

Kicking off this year's campaign was the Panhellenic Council which donated $150 to the Chest.

Wednesday morning in the cafeteria, Spartan Spears, sophomore women's honorary society, will collect donations. Later that afternoon, a combo will be featured during Cafe Capers, 2:30, and donations will be received for the Campus Chest.

Thursday, approved living centers will be canvassed at dinner time.

Library To Offer Vacation Service

Although the college library will be officially closed during Easter vacation, students working on projects may obtain limited service subject to the conditions caused by the moving, according to Miss Joyce Backus, college librarian.

The Main Library will remain closed Monday, April 8, in order to move heavy equipment on the first floor. Beginning Tuesday, April 9, books will be paged and delivered to the Reserve Book Room.

This service, according to Miss Backus, will continue until it is possible to admit students to the card catalog, lobby, and bookstack areas. Miss Backus hopes that full service can be provided before the end of the week.

Use of the Main Library during the moving will be by permit only. Students may obtain applications for permits at the Information Desk on the first floor of the Library, North Wing.

The permit must be signed by the instructor for the course for which work is to be done. Signed applications must then be taken to the Library Office, where permits will be issued. This must be done on or before April 5, said Miss Backus.

"The firm which has the contract for moving library equipment has already been forced to postpone the work from February to April," comments Miss Backus. "If a later date is set, the movers cannot guarantee that the work would be done in a one-week period, as its other commitments would interfere."

Students with special research problems may consult with Robert Lauritzen, reference services librarian, LN607.

Chairmen Sought For Assistance At Parents' Day

Signups for eight chairmanships for Parents' Day, slated for Sept. 28, will be held today in the College Union, according to Marilyn Bell, chairman of the event.

Positions include: publicity, campus open house, tours, lunch, residence open house, housing and two chairmen for the SJS-Kansas State football game.

Interviews will be held tomorrow and Thursday from 2 to 5 p.m. Applicants must have an overall GPA of 2.25.

According to Miss Bell, work for Parents' Day started in the fall when her committee received information from 50 colleges and universities which hold annual programs similar to Parents' Day.

Parents' Day—another first for the SJS campus—will enable parents of SJS students to get a better insight into all aspects of the SJS campus community.

"We're going to need enthusiastic, hard-working students," Miss Bell stated, "because Parents' Day is going to really be a big project."

Three-Year Wait Ended for Men; Omega Psi Phi Goes National

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final article on the two new national fraternities joining the SJS Greek system.

By CAROL SWENSEN
Three years of waiting ended for the brothers of Omega Psi Phi last week when they were officially recognized by the Interfraternity Council as a chapter of a national social fraternity.

"We are all quite pleased to be affiliated at SJS and to be able to participate in the continued growth of our fraternity," commented Preston Clark, bass-leader, the chapter term for fraternity president.

During the fall of 1960 two SJS students, William Hudson and Vance Barnes, conferred with Dr. James Blackwell, assistant professor of sociology, on the process of forming a fraternity.

Dr. Blackwell suggested they seek membership in Omega Psi Phi. During the following year these two men were initiated into Omega Psi Phi on another campus and returned to SJS and began a local chapter.

On Jan. 20, 1962, the national fraternity recognized them as a local chapter, Xi Gamma. Assistance from the chapters at the University of California and the San Francisco State helped them in their organization.

After recognition by the college, Omega Psi Phi became a national chapter. At present there are 10 actives and 15 pledges. Dr. Blackwell is their adviser.

The brothers of Omega Psi Phi are also known by the nickname "Ques," a term used by the national fraternity. "We do not use the conventional terms because that was the way the fraternity was founded," explains Clark.

The members do not have a house but are seeking residence for the fall semester. They meet every Thursday night at Grace Baptist Church.

In the future Xi Gamma plans to enter Pushcart Relays, to crown its sweetheart, to take part in the athletic intramural program and to hold two scholarship contests.

Later this semester, the brothers will instigate a talent hunt sponsored by the national fraternity. A four-year scholarship will be awarded the individual with the best talent entry.

Also on the agenda is an essay contest for all San Jose area high school seniors to be held during the fall semester. A $500 scholarship will be the goal for the entrants. Other officers in Omega Psi Phi are B. J. Wilson, vice basilicus; Gerald Hughes, keeper of finance; Frank Thompson, keeper of records; and James Coleman, social chairman.

Welcome, Omega Psi Phi to our campus.

The Column

By GEORGE MARTIN

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, MARY ANN

You hardnosed Spartans out there in Spartan Daily Land will have to excuse the above headline and the column below it. For today, instead of my usual keenly perceptive penetration into the issues and problems of the nation, the school, and the world, I am taking typewriter in hand (a guitar player, I am noted for my strong wrists) to put on immortal newsprint some rambling reminiscences about the young lady whose name adorns the head of this column.

"Why," you are undoubtedly asking, "is a rough, tough, nail-chewing (that's 10-penny nails, not the finger kind), hard-hearted journalist like Martin writing on a Mickey Mouse subject like lovely, red-headed, blue-eyed young ladies?"

Well, Spartans, it's Springtime, and the blue skies and fresh breezes and green grass are combining to beat down the iron hardness of my old journalist's heart and mind.

Deep inside me, memories are stirring. Memories of days long gone but fondly remembered, of happy laughter and sparkling blue eyes, and of spring sunlight glinting from reddish-brown hair.

Ah, she was a lovely girl then, during our carefree days at J.C. On Sunday afternoons, we would hop onto my little blue motor scooter and the world was ours. The beautiful Redwoods in the Berkeley Hills were our canopy as we roasted hot dogs and rolls in Tilden Park, or sat by beautiful Lake Anza.

On other days, we roamed over old Indian shell mounds on the east shore of San Francisco Bay, and held hands as we gazed at the old whaling station on the point.

Once, we found an apple tree in the hills, and periodically we would return to the spot to see if the apples were ripe. The tree grew along the Southern Pacific right of way overlooking the bay, and we would each tightrope walk on one of the railroad tracks, holding outstretched hands to keep each other from falling.

Our private jokes were a continued source of delight. Along the same railroad track we found a gully which had been filled with old scraps of wall board. We called it our sheetrock mine, and we would kid each other during odd moments about staking out a claim on it and getting fabulously rich mining sheetrock.

We talked about solid gold Cadillacs and things, but the dream in my mind was coming home from the newspaper office and finding Mary Ann waiting in a neat little cottage with dinner on the stove.

Those days are gone now. As time went on, things went less smoothly for us, and one day I realized that I was losing her. Those months were the saddest of my life, but time heals all things and finally the thoughts and memories of happy days we spent together were pushed back into the seldom traveled areas of my mind.

But spring, as I said, is breaking fast, and from out of those depths the memories have thawed and come flooding, and I'm sitting here trying to maintain my usual look of steel-cold hardness while from inside a small voice is saying, "Happy Birthday, Mary Ann."

I hope you have one.

A myriad of stars may be observed tonight in Civic Auditorium at 8:30. The stars will include Lawrence Welk's Dixieland Band, The Sons of the Pioneers, Jack Imel, Tacey Robbins and the Page Cavanaugh Jazz Group.

These popular performers will have only one show in this area. Tickets may be purchased on presentation of an ASB card and also receive one free at the San Jose Box Office in the St. Claire Hotel.

Page Cavanaugh will have a new seven-piece jazz group with him; Tacey Robbins is straight from Dino's Lodge in Los Angeles; Jack Imel is known for his performances with the Welk troupe; and Dixieland Band has been seen on that show also.

The Sons of the Pioneers have appeared in over one hundred motion pictures, featured with Roy Rogers, Bing Crosby and John Wayne, to name a few. Their recordings and albums have sold well into the millions, with such high points as "Cool Water" and "Tumbling Tumbleweeds."

tales of San Jose State's renowned Young Republicans, one begins to wonder just what took the Daily so long in deciding to run a feature series on the organization.

Could it be that once again the Young Republican officers decided to storm the bastille of the Daily office? Perhaps this time they created such an impression that the Daily felt it must, as a public duty to its readers, expound to us more of those wondrous happenings around and within that combine of conservatism that makes its home here at San Jose State.

Youth is in itself liberal. Perhaps the Daily would do better if it stopped and asked itself and, at the same time asked those infamous San Jose State Young Republicans just what kind of political philosophy there is to advocate once you outgrow conservatism. Goldwater high-sightism?

Spartan Nine Meets Fresno State Today

Hoping to turn its lone win of the season into a streak, the San Jose State baseball team entertains Fresno State today in a doubleheader, beginning at 5 p.m.

The Spartans registered their first win Friday, topping Nevada 5-1, behind the three-hit pitching of Jim Visser. Visser struck out 16 Nevada batters en route to the win. Saturday's doubleheader was rained out.

According to SJS coach Ed Sobczak, Visser will start one of the games against Fresno, "if he is able." Either Bill Dawson or Jerry Guibor will start the other game, Sobczak said.

The Fresno team is consistently one of the top teams in the country. The Bulldogs have been rated in the first five teams nationally three of the last four years, finishing fifth last season.

Veteran pitchers Ed Hite, Virgil DeGeorge, and Dave Hoover probably will see mound action against the Spartans.

Outstanding players for Fresno include Jim Williams, shortstop, Katsu Shitanishi, center field, and Dick Allan, first base.

Sobczak said he would start nearly the same lineup against Fresno as against Nevada. The infield will consist of Lon Romero, first base; Steve Chell, second base; Gary Vice or Ken Takahashi, third base, and Ron Lindenman, shortstop.

Carl Fisher, Miles Yamamoto and Phil Pruski will patrol the outfield, while Rich Green will handle the catching chores.

Racquetmen Mix With St. Mary's

Winner of its first three matches, the San Jose State tennis team entertains St. Mary's College today at 2:30 p.m. on the Spartan Courts. The frosh squad, which has won two and lost one, meets Cabrillo College at the same time and place.

SJS coach Butch Krikorian, defending champion, topped Charles Rubenstein, 6-1, 6-1, Sunday in the second round of the Santa Clara County tennis championships. Krikorian is the top seeded player in the tourney. Gordy Stroud and Bob Adams, both members of the SJS varsity, also survived second round games.

SPARTAN DAILY—3

Showy Aerial Game Bolsters Alumni '11'

By GENE WILLIAMS

An eye-catching surplus of sure-throwing quarterbacks and reliable pass receivers gives the alumni a formidable passing attack for Saturday's varsity-alumni clash at the second annual Spartan Games.

Leading the talented barrage of pitchers will be Chon Gallegos, who was the nation's leading passer in 1961 and winner of the most valuable senior award on the Pacific Coast.

Surprisingly, Gallegos will not draw the starting assignment. Head coach Bob Bronzan has indicated that he probably will go with his 1952 field general, Lynn Aplanalp, who directed the Spartans to a 6-3 record that season.

A supporting cast of Dave Bonillas ('62), Mike Jones ('60), Emmett Lee ('59) and Marv McKean ('57) gives the alumni unusual depth.

The other end of the passing game reads like an all-time West Coast all-star team. Billy Wilson, still nimble and spry at 36, needs no introduction as a pass catcher, while such former Spartan stars as Chuck Elder, Oscar Donahue, Merle Flattley and Greg Rocha will also harass SJS' defensive backfield.

An equally auspicious corps of defensive ends will decorate the alumni lineup.

Leon Donohue, a '61 graduate, is but one of six professionals on the squad. Five of which —Donohue, Jim Cadile, Oscar Donahue, Dan Colchico and John Sutro—are linemen.

Gallegos, a member of the Oakland Raider taxi team in '62, is the sixth returning pro.

Spikemen Bombard Beavers; Achieve National Recognition

By DAVE NEWHOUSE

San Jose State's varsity tracksters sniffed enough of that sweet smell of success to hurtle themselves into national prominence Monday. Bud Winter's galahads polliwaxed Oregon State 78½-66½ at Spartan Field.

Best-ever efforts from the likes of Dwight Middleton, Bob Lovejoy and Bob Taylor, were just a few of Spartan come-through performances that thrilled the near-capacity crowd of 1,200 spectators.

Middleton took a big bite out of the future promise seen for him, by clocking a 46.9 to win the quarter-mile. This broke the old field record of 47.7 set by Stanford's Walt Garrett in 1955.

Durable Dwight edged teammate Lloyd Murad in the 220, at 21.4 for both men, and anchored the 440 relay team to a 41.4 win.

Lovejoy reaped applause three times; once at 6-6, again at 6-8 and finally at 6-9¼, to win the high jump at a height that topped his previous official best by 3¼ inches.

Oregon State, one of the major collegiate powers, won 9 of the 18 events. But SJS placed two men in 10 of 16 events, excluding the two relays, to earn its rightful place near the top of the 1963 national track powers.

Taylor entered the triple jump and the broad jump for the first time this year, and walked off with first and third places, respectively. In addition, Taylor lost by only a robin's egg in the 120 high hurdles, in the identical 14.5 time as OSU's Tom Wyatt, the winner.

Danny Murphy gunned it home in 9:05.3 to win the two mile. Lester Bond was a solid winner in the broad jump at 24-10, and Ken Bowen equaled his lifetime best of 14-6 for an upset victory in the pole vault.

Gary Stenlund, Norm Hoffman and Morgan Groth served up key performances for the Beavers. Stenlund heaved the javelin 254-5½ for a new field mark. Hoffman ran a brilliant 1:49.5 half-mile and Groth ran off from ailing Ben Tucker with a mean finishing kick to annex the mile in 4:07.6.

San Jose's frosh won an informal meet from local junior college and service teams, and the half-strength Oregon State freshmen, taking 10 of 14 events.

Bates Performing For Olympic Club

Dennis Bates, leading scorer and rebounder of San Jose State's cage squad, is now performing for the San Francisco Olympic Club, which will compete in the National AAU tournament in Denver starting Wednesday.

Joining the Spartan star are Gene Shields of Santa Clara and Steve Gray, the WCAC's most valuable player from St. Mary's.

Ellinger's Injury Hurts Gymnasts

An untimely injury brought defeat down upon San Jose State's gymnastic team Saturday, as Santa Monica City College nipped the Spartans 65½-62½ at Men's Gym.

Jim Ellinger broke his ankle on the trampoline and couldn't compete in the horizontal bar and long horse events, which the visitors won by 13-3 scores in each.

Rich Chew led the Spartans with 21 points. The state championships will be held here Saturday.

Intramural wrestling weigh-ins will be held this afternoon. According to Dan Unruh, intramural director, "All who plan to wrestle must weigh in between 1 and 4 in the locker room."

Applications for free throws, badminton, and six-man volleyball are due Wednesday, Unruh said.

LOOK WHO'S TALKING!

Her name's Chatty Cathy®. She and her sisters live with over five million little girls who take daily delight in playing with her. She's made by Mattel Toy-makers, the industry's leader.

In her own way, Chatty Cathy is an engineering miracle. She was the first doll that really talked. She was conceived by Mattel engineers ("invented to order" is the term we use), fretted and fussed over during her gestation period by Mattel engineers, and attended at birth by Mattel engineers. All kinds of engineers; mechanical; industrial; tooling; acoustical; electronic; chemical... applying their varied talents, and using to the full every engineering principle, on problems as complex as those of any other industry. Chatty Cathy typifies the fact that the common denominator... and most necessary requisite for a Mattel engineer... is imagination.

There could be a place for you at Mattel if you are now studying any of the above engineering specialties at the B.S. or M.S. level. You'll join a company whose every product is engineered to be unique in its industry. If your future plans include administrative as well as solid engineering work, and if you feel, as Mattel does, that the enjoyment of your work is as important as the constant challenge it presents you, apply to your school placement director or write College Relations, Mattel, Inc., 5150 Rosecrans, Hawthorne, Calif. Salary is excellent, extra benefits include profit sharing and bonuses.

Biology Sci. Talks Continue Tonight

The "Biology of the Clear Lake Gnat" will be discussed by Jon Snell, junior entomology major, at tonight's meeting of Tri-Beta at 7:30 in S237.

Pres. Dave Sabold explained that tonight's talk is one in a series by students in biological science who have done research.

Sabold urged all those planning to attend the Tri-Beta Western Regional Conference at Cambria Pines in April to come to the meeting tonight. "Free coffee and doughnuts!" he added.

How not to come out on the short end

When it comes to picking a job, like drawing straws they may all appear equal. But on closer inspection some can fall short of the mark. Give yourself the best odds on opportunity by making your decision in depth—investigate and compare. When you talk to the man from the Bell System, you'll find we offer excellent opportunities for technical, engineering, business and liberal arts majors. And you'll find some important advantages that might not show at first glance: immediate responsibility, rapid advancement, an atmosphere you can grow in. If you qualify for a job with the Bell System (and the odds are just 1 in 7 you will), we'll give you every chance for a top career. Openings in the following Bell System companies:
