Alum Head Interprets Statement

Richard O. Buxton, executive secretary of the SJS Alumni Association, issued the following statement yesterday concerning the all-weather track story in Tuesday's Daily.

"I feel several of my statements were taken out of context and it is necessary to make several points of clarification with regard to a proposed donation by the 3M Company to San Jose State College for an all-weather track facility.

"I was quoted as saying the donation was illegal. First, the proposed donation was NOT illegal. Originally 3M offered a cash gift to the college which could be used to augment state funds for the track surface. The company never suggested any illegal procedures to enable acceptance of this proposed donation. Plainly stated, they offered the donation but left it up to the Chancellor's office to work out the legal technicalities for accepting the gift.

"Herein fell the problem. Too much delay was experienced in working out the details in allowing the college to accept this gift.

"It is erroneous and distortion of fact to accuse or imply that 3M Company did not follow proper bidding procedures because this project has not even been put out to bid.

Editor Scott Moore and Sports Editor Jeff Stockton maintain that Buxton's statements appearing in Tuesday's copyright story were exactly as stated by Buxton in a telephone interview with Moore and Stockton Monday afternoon. Buxton himself later verified the wording, according to Moore.

'Co-Rec A-Ho-Ho'

Joe French and Miss Joan Ferguson chat with the "special guest" who will be appearing at tonight's "Co-Rec A-Ho-Ho" at 7:30 in the Women's Gym. Santa Claus, known to some as Bob Parlasch, will be visiting Co-Rec along with the Soul Seekers, a local rock and roll band. The program will include a popcorn-eating contest and all the regular sports activities.

At Council Meeting

Hendricks May Name Grad Rep

ASB Pres. John Hendricks announced yesterday he probably will name his choice to fill the vacated seat of graduate representative at today's Student Council meeting. The meeting starts at 2:45 p.m. in the College Union. Miss Patty Givens resigned the post last week for "personal reasons."

Confirmation of the appointment will require a two-thirds majority vote of council, according to the ASB constitution.

Also slated for council action today are major amendments to two legislative acts and a proposal to create a bi-monthly forum on contemporary issues.

One series of amendments, introduced by Vic Lee, sophomore representative, would affect the power of the ASB executive secretary in the secretary's supervision of the ASB committee system.

MORE REPRESENTATION

Another series of amendments, introduced by council's Campus Policy Committee, calls for a massive reorganization of the ASB Intramurals Board by providing the board with a more representative membership.

The board makes policy regarding the ASB intramurals program. The forum bill, proposed by Sophomore Representative Tina Newton, calls for the creation of an ASB committee "to plan and co-ordinate discussions concerning international, national and local events which interest students and to make the campus community more aware of events occurring around them."

CHOOSE TOPICS

The seven-student committee, which would be appointed by the ASB president, would choose topics and name panelists for the discussion.

Jerry Spolter, ASB vice president and council chairman, said he expects a recommendation from Financial Advisory Board (FAB) to allocate $243.83 to Dr. Dan W. Unruh, director of the ASB intramural program, for a trip to Norman, Okla., next spring for a national conference of intramural directors.

Last week council turned an identical FAB recommendation down 5-6-1.

To Quarter System

Group Urges Change

The State Coordinating Council for Higher Education has voted to request the Board of Trustees to convert all state colleges to the quarter system by the academic year 1967-68.

The state's top college body met in San Francisco Monday and voted 12-3, with three absentees, to urge the colleges to step-up present plans to convert to the quarter calendar.

The council also urged the state colleges and University of California to install full summer quarter sessions to accomplish year-round use of buildings by 1970-71.

The three members opposing the resolution were Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke, Trustee President Al Ruffo and Trustee Louis Hellbron.

The state college representatives insisted that their present schedule should not be stepped up.

It would put L.A. State into year-round operations in 1967; San Francisco State in 1969; San Fernando, Chico and Humboldt in 1970; Long Beach and Palos Verdes in 1972; Fullerton and San Bernardino in 1973; and Fresno, Sacramento, San Diego, Stanislaus and Sonoma in 1974.

No conversion date has been set for SJS.

The council, which is advisory to the governor and legislature, decided to convert to year-round operations. It estimated that the state might save $105 million in a 10-year period because year-round operations would not necessitate so many new buildings.

Many college officials are not convinced that the new system will save money and have been reluctant to convert.

Ruffo said he will transmit the "advice" of the Coordinating Council to the trustees' meeting next month.

SJS To Welcome New Library Head

Dr. Stuart Baillie, SJS' new head librarian, will be welcomed at a reception this afternoon in LN629 from 2-4.

More than 300 administrators, faculty and library staff members will attend the reception, according to Miss Rosemary Thorne, social chairman of the Library Staff Association.

Dr. Baillie assumed his duties today after being appointed by President Robert D. Clark in September to succeed Miss Joyce Backus.

He comes to SJS after 11 years of service at Denver University where he was director of libraries and director of the Graduate School of Librarianship.

Dr. Baillie has also held library posts at Vanderbilt University, Stephens College, Georgia Teachers College and Washington University.

The new head librarian holds the A.B., M.A. and Ed.D degrees from Washington University and a second bachelor's degree from George Peabody College.

Pres. Clark To Welcome 250 Profs

It is my pleasure to invite all to join me in the annual Tree Lighting Ceremony this afternoon. This brief ceremony provides all of us an opportunity to share together the warmth of the Christmas season.

The program will feature the serving of refreshments, seasonal music, awards to living groups for door decorations, brief comments and the lighting of the large tree above the Seventh Street entry of the Engineering Building.

The Associated Woman Students, the Division of Engineering and all of the other organizations and individuals who have contributed to this effort join me in urging your attendance.

No Press, Public

Prof Wants Closed Council

By SHARON OSAKI
Spartan Daily Staff Writer

The Academic Council is not a legislative body and should not hold open meetings, in the opinion of Dr. Burton Brazil, chairman of the Political Science Department and chairman of the council's Constitution and By-Laws Committee.

DR. BURTON BRAZIL

STUDY CHANGE

The question of changing the constitutional by-law which states that Council meetings shall be open to members of the faculty but closed to the public and press" is being studied by Brazil's committee.

A committee recommendation will be sent to the Council next semester. The Council will then decide to amend the by-law or to continue holding closed meetings.

"I cannot speak for the committee, but I personally think that the Council meetings should remain closed," Dr. Brazil said.

He said that the Academic Council is not violating the Brown Act which states that all "public agencies" must hold open meetings.

According to Dr. Brazil, a public agency is a "body which has legislative power or conducts public business.

"At SJS, all legislative power is vested in Pres. Robert D. Clark," Dr. Brazil said.

"The Academic Council is strictly a consultative body which gives faculty a role in formulation of college policies but not the power to enact them.

"The Council studies problems and comes up with recommendations in the form of resolutions. These resolutions are sent to the president who can accept or veto them," he stated.

Dr. Brazil said he thinks that opening the meetings to the press would have a harmful effect on Council proceedings.

"If members know that there is an audience other than their colleagues, some will say things or refuse to say things which would be contributed in closed sessions," Dr. Brazil said.

GRANDSTANDERS

He said that some members would become "grandstanders," speaking to the press rather than to colleagues.

On the other hand, Dr. Brazil pointed out that some members would be reluctant to offer opinions which they know will be printed.

"Council members often say things off the top of their heads which would sound disorganized and sloppy if printed verbatim," Dr. Brazil explained.

Much of this kind of discussion would be missing if members knew that it would appear in print, according to Dr. Brazil.

Rule Sale Begins Today On Campus

Gayly decorated by exciting 20-year old Rulemate Felicia Lowe, and sporting ornaments of students articles and Benny Venuto's clever caricatures of Engineering professors, the holiday issue of The Rule will go on sale today, tomorrow and Friday.

Sales this year will be enlivened by "sandwich board girls" students' wives and girlfriends, who will stroll around campus with life-size photographs of bikini-clad Felicia on front and rear sandwich boards while selling copies of The Rule. Felicia will be on hand at 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Friday at the Rule booth in the Engineering lobby to autograph copies of The Rule.

Besides the Rulemate's lovely pictures, the December Rule features a clutch of serious and humorous articles for all students. Benny Venuto, Rule cartoonist, strikes again in this issue with an unusual rendition of Dr. James Mace, electrical engineering professor who teaches enough engineering core courses to be well known to SJS engineers.

Arab To Discuss Middle East Peace

"A New Proposal for Peace in the Middle East" will be presented today at 3:30 p.m. by Dr. Mohammed Mehdi, secretary general of the Action Committee on Arab-American Relations.

The speech, sponsored by the SJS Arab American Club, will be held in rooms A and B of the Spartan Cafeteria and is open to the college community.

Editorial Comment

Spolter Inept V.P.

In recent weeks the Spartan Daily has severely criticized student government for inaction and inconsistent behavior. Many of our complaints were justified, but another serious problem is now becoming apparent as Student Council strives to improve itself.

Jerry Spolter, ASB vice president, and chairman of council, is acting as a roadblock to progressive action through his inefficiency and incompetence in office. He has shown a marked inability to perform many of his official functions.

As chairman of council, he is responsible for the knowledgeable and effective guidance of council into efficient and responsible avenues of constructive action.

As ASB vice president, he is supposed to aid and support the ASB president in the administration of student government and the fulfillment of its programs. He also must be able to act as a capable and mature representative of the students in various kinds of public situations. These qualities have not been demonstrated in the last few months.

Unfortunately, as months pass, Spolter shows himself to be incapable of meeting these responsibilities. His guidance of Student Council has drawn considerable criticism. As a consequence, he has not earned even the respect normally due a chairman and shows no signs of improving.

Support SJS' Band

The SJS Marching Band is, unfortunately, taken for granted by many.

We enjoy seeing the band perform at our home football games and put on an entertaining half-time show.

Because the band represents us—the SJS college community—we want it to appear in the best possible light.

Our band has been compared with some of the best college bands in the country. Ed Jacobowsky, sports editor of the Redwood City Tribune, called the SJS Marching Band the best he has seen outside of the Big Ten bands in more than 20 years of watching college football games.

The SJS Marching Band has twice been selected to appear on national television as half-time entertainment for professional games.

Millions of persons across the nation have seen the SJS Marching Band, just as millions have seen the Big Ten marching bands and the bands from U.C. and Stanford.

The only difference between these bands and ours is that the other bands operate on a budget which runs more than $50,000, and in many cases more than $60,000, while the money allotted to our band is $5,419.

Each member puts in an average of 12 hours a week just in practice sessions. The bands meet every day for an hour, plus Saturday morning, and often Saturday afternoon, and evening sessions, all for one unit of college credit.

Any props needed by the band must be made by individual members volunteering their time. Travel expenses must come out of the budget or extra money has to be appropriated by Student Council.

Special arrangements have to be paid for and uniforms have to be cleaned and occasionally mended.

The band probably has done more to display a favorable image of SJS to the community and the nation than any other group or person.

The SJS Marching Band deserves the support of the college community. It deserves a higher, more realistic budget, and it deserves our thanks and congratulations for another successful year.

He cannot conduct the business of a meeting properly according to parliamentary procedure or enforce his own council rules — the elementary qualities necessary for a chairman.

For example, he recently refused to read council the full text of Miss Patty Givens' resignation from council. At the same council meeting, he left spectators gasping when he arbitrarily halted discussion on SJS' $4.5 million College Union after only a few minutes. At other times he forsakes objectivity by injecting his personal views into legislative discussion and gallery comments.

'Silent Treatment Fails To Spread Preaching'

Editor:

The actions of, or statements by, the group known as "Christians for Social Action" smack of internationalism, one world church and one world government.

When CSA was recruiting some weeks ago, I asked one of the recruiters about its make-up. He said a person didn't have to be a member of any church as long as he went along with the group's statement of purpose. When I questioned further, it was evident that the recruiter, though a member of a church, didn't know what a Christian was or how a person may become a Christian.

As in all other such joint affairs sponsored by the National Council of Churches and the National Catholic Social Service, the emphasis is on "social action" and not Christianity.

When you approach with questions about God and Jesus Christ, they clam up. Is this the reaction of a Christian? It certainly doesn't square with the positiveness of Jesus' command to go preach to everyone.

The idea of having a non-violent march with the characters mentioned is repugnant to the cause of Christ. The Christian is not to be unequally yoked with unbelievers. (2 Cor. 6:14)

For the Christian, even an alliance with the "social gospel" propagators (CSA) would be an alignment with those who have "a form of godliness but deny the power thereof." (2 Tim. 3:5) There are like the priests of Jeremiah's day — "They hurt my people saying, Peace, Peace; when there is no peace." (Jer. 6:14, 8:11).

For these modern Pharisees, the door is still open and the message still the same — Repent and believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and you shall be saved. (Luke 13:3; Acts 16:31)

'Premarital Act Brings Unfavorable Results'

Editor:

With regard to the Dec. 13 "Prescribe Pills Here" editorial, it seems undisputed today that the act of premarital intercourse is all right. In our enlightened atmosphere of reasoning and rationality, the consensus is that the act is pleasurable and, therefore, should be experienced. The only hang-up to this "favorable" act is that it brings unfavorable results: children born out of wedlock.

My question is this: Can a supposedly good act bring bad results? If nothing is wrong with the act of premarital intercourse, should the effects of this act be stifled? A favorable conclusion doesn't seem to follow.

We are told that welfare is good. Yet, if it fails to yield favorable ends, can welfare be considered good? We are told that democracy is good. Yet, if democracy only breeds unwanted results, is it good? We are told that the average college student is in favor of certain premarital sex activity. Yet, if the results of such activity are unwanted children, how can the act be looked upon with favor? Is this rational thinking?

'Party's Aim—Comprehensive Appeal'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of articles written by Gary Kleemann describing political control in ASB government. Today's article explains the problems a campus political party faces when trying to recruit candidates and support platforms with a comprehensive appeal. As campaigns begin for spring elections, Kleemann's comments on exposing issues and gaining political recognition are pertinent.

By GARY KLEEMANN

Who or what controls student government here at San Jose State? What about the charge that a "small, powerful clique" runs the show. Well, I would most certainly have to agree that it is small. The fact is that a surprisingly small number of responsible students are willing to do the work that should be shared by a large number of students.

SPUR NON-EXISTENT

Time and time again, interviews are held open for weeks at a time simply because students cannot be found to fill vacant positions.

In the Dec. 7, 1965, Spartan Daily, an editorial appeared entitled "SPUR Should Reply." Since there is no election going on at present, SPUR is a non-existent organization and as such has no official spokesman. I would like to present some of my thoughts, but I want it understood that I am speaking as an individual only and not as a representative of the heterogeneous student body of San Jose State.

COMPREHENSIVE PARTY

Nothing can be more politically secure than a comprehensive party. It was on this principle of comprehensiveness that SPUR was founded.

Maybe, finally the student body is waking up and realizing that it has a responsibility in its government. I certainly hope so. Yes, the campaigning has begun, and it's not all on 11th Street or in the dorms. In previous years, these areas have shown the most interest and voted the most and so they have been the scene of the most intensive campaigning.

OTHERS WAKE UP

It would seem the time is ripe for all "nonrepresented" students to wake up and realize that just sitting back and complaining never accomplishes anything worthwhile; worthwhile accomplishments need effort. But for God's sake, constructively direct these efforts, or they'll be as ineane and worthless as the SHH movement.

Wake up, make a little noise, go to a

'Merry Songs For Induction'

By CARY KOEGLE

As my patriotic duty, I feel a need (at long last) to speak out about our administration's policy on Christmas inductions.

As most everyone knows, the draft board will not take anyone from Dec. 23 to Dec. 28 in observance of Christmas. But what about those who received their papers during the past few weeks?

I definitely believe that the Selective Service system could have done something to make induction come in tune with the season.

So, I have composed the following medley selflessly in the interests of the country. The Induction Carol has been written to fill the gap and become the future Christmas Greetings from the President of the United States and your local Selective Service Board.

(TO THE TUNE OF WE WISH YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS)

We wish you a Merry Christmas / We wish you a Merry Christmas / We wish you a Merry Christmas / Please report to Ft. Ord.

Good tidings to you, from 'ole LBJ / We wish you a Merry Christmas / Say hello to General Ky.

(... WHITE CHRISTMAS)

Start dreaming of an Army Christmas / Just like your father used to know / There'll be hikes and campouts and snow / How we wish that we, also, could go.

(... DECK THE HALLS)

Board the train with all your buddies, Falalalalalalala / 'Tis the season to be drafted, Falalalalalalala / Don we now our uniform, Falalalalalalala / Troll the ancient battle carol, Falalalalalalala.

(... HE'S GOT THE WHOLE WORLD...)

We got the whole world, on our back / We got the whole wide world, on our back / We got the whole world, on our back / And that's why we need you.

(... OH COME ALL YE FAITHFUL)

Oh come, all ye young men / joyful and triumphant / We need you to go and fight in South Viet Nam...

(... WE'RE COMING OVER)

You're going over / You're going over / And you might come back if it's over, over there.

(... TWELVE DAYS OF CHRISTMAS)

On the first day of Christmas, we're going to give to you — a uniform and a bayonet / On the second day of Christmas we're going to give to you — two shelter halves and a thousand rounds of ammunition / On the third day of Christmas we're going to give to you three pairs of combat boots, two pairs of socks and a helmet with some camouflage net...

But you know... It still would not be a very Merry Christmas.

Decoration Winners Announced

First place and runner-up awards in the AWS Christmas Door Decoration contest will be presented at today's Christmas tree lighting ceremonies at 4:30 p.m. on Seventh Street, Miss Linda Weeden, chairman of the contest announced.

SJS coeds Kathy Melin and Marilyn Zuckerman of Lou Henry Hoover Hall won first place in the competition with a window display depicting a candy store.

Final judging of the 26 entries in the contest, was held last Friday. The panel of judges included Miss Berneice Ryan, SJS housing counselor, Miss Anna Ballarian, assistant professor of art and Henry Schiro of Rose Marie Florists.

The public is invited to visit Lou Henry Hoover Hall this afternoon from 2-4:30, just prior to the Christmas tree lighting ceremony, to view the hall's decorations. All six wings of the hall have been decorated with a different theme.

Hendricks To Submit College System Report

The California State College Student Presidents Association (CSCSPA) has directed ASB Pres. John Hendricks to prepare a report on the problems of the state college system and submit it to the Unruh Committee on Higher Education.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Higher Education, headed by Assembly Speaker Jessie Unruh, D-Inglewood, currently is conducting a study on the problems of higher education in California.

In a resolution passed at Saturday's conference, Hendricks, CSCSPA executive vice president, was instructed to prepare the paper from reports submitted to him by the student body presidents from the 16 state colleges.

Hendricks said the report will be done by the next CSCSPA conference on Feb. 18-20 at San Fernando Valley State College.

In other action, the CSCSPA delegates tabled a resolution favoring the institution of the quarter system into the state college system, stating more study on the possible effect of the change on students is needed.

The association also called on the Legislature to allocate more money to state college libraries to facilitate extended library hours. The Collier Bill was "unilaterally opposed" by the CSCSPA as being discriminatory and as abolishing "the State College System of free higher education as we know it today."

The bill, proposed by Assemblyman John "Bud" Collier, R-South Pasadena, calls for a "learn-earn-reimburse" plan.

Collier's bill asks the student to

THE BLUEBIRD OF HAPPINESS HAS FLOWN THE COOP

Can education bring happiness?
This is a question that in recent years has caused much lively debate and several hundred stabbings among American college professors. Some contend that if a student's intellect is sufficiently aroused, happiness will automatically follow. Others say that to concentrate on the intellect and ignore the rest of the personality can only lead to misery.

I myself favor the second view, and I offer in evidence the well-known case of Knut Fusco.

Knut, a forestry major, never got anything less than a straight "A," was awarded his B.T. (Bachelor of Trees) in only two years, his M.S.B. (Master of Sap and Bark) in only three, and his D.B.C. (Doctor of Blight and Cutworms) in only four.

Academic glory was his. His intellect was the envy of every intellect fan on campus. But was he happy? The answer, alas, was no. Knut—he knew not why—was miserable; so miserable, in fact, that one day while walking across campus, he was suddenly so overcome with melancholy that he flung himself, weeping, upon the statue of the Founder.

By and by, a liberal arts coed named Nikki Sigafos came by with her Barby doll. She noted Knut's condition. "How come you're so unhappy, hey?" said Nikki.

"Suppose you tell me, you dumb old liberal arts major," replied Knut peevishly.

"All right, I will," said Nikki. "You are unhappy for two reasons. First, because you have been so busy stuffing your intellect that you have gone and starved your psyche. I've got nothing against learning, mind you, but a person oughtn't to neglect the pleasant, gentle amenities of life—the fun things. Have you, for instance, ever been to a dance?"

Knut shook his head.

"Have you ever watched a sunset? Written a poem? Shaved with a Personna Stainless Steel Blade?"

Knut shook his head.

"Well, we'll fix that right now," said Nikki, and gave him a razor, a Personna Stainless Steel Blade, and a can of Burma Shave.

Knut lathered with the Burma Shave and shaved with the Personna and for the first time in many long years he smiled. He smiled and then he laughed—peal after peal of reverberating joy. "Wow-dow!" he cried. "What a shave! Does Personna come in injector style, too?"

"It does," said Nikki.

"Gloriosky!" cried Knut. "And does Burma Shave come in menthol, too?"

"It does," said Nikki.

"Huzzah!" cried Knut. "Now that I have found Personna and Burma Shave I will never have another unhappy day."

"Hold!" said Nikki. "Personna and Burma Shave alone will not solve your problem—only half of it. Remember I said there were two things making you unhappy?"

"Oh, yeah," said Knut. "What's the other one?"

"How long have you had that bear trap on your foot?" said Nikki.

"I stepped on it during a field trip in my freshman year," said Knut. "I keep meaning to have it taken off."

"Allow me," said Nikki and removed it.

"Land's sakes, what a relief!" said Knut, now totally happy, and took Nikki's hand and led her to a Personna vendor and then to a justice of the peace.

Today Knut is a perfectly fulfilled man, both intellectually and personally. He lives in a charming split-level house with Nikki and their 17 children and he rises steadily in the forestry game. Only last month, in fact, he became Consultant on Sawdust to the American Butchers Guild, he was named an Honorary Sequoia by the park commissioner of Las Vegas, and he published a best-selling book called I Was a Slippery Elm for the FBI.

President Clark To Speak Today At CER Meeting

SJS Pres. Robert D. Clark will speak on "The Underlying Goal of Higher Education" at 2:30 this afternoon in Concert Hall.

Dr. Clark will be the third speaker in the Collegians for Educational Responsibility (CER) fall lecture series.

Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, and Assemblyman George Millas, R-Gilroy, were the first two speakers in the series.

Al Mason, president of CER, said the purpose of Dr. Clark's speech was "to promote student-faculty discussion concerning the problems of higher education."

Dr. Clark's entire career in education has been spent at the higher education level. Before assuming the office of president of SJS in September, 1964, he was Dean of Faculties at the University of Oregon.

Pres. Clark has also taught at the University of the Pacific, Pasadena College and Stockton Junior College.

The president's appearance for the CER lecture was originally scheduled on Seventh Street Nov. 18. Rain cancelled the speech.

Frosh Assembly Slates Interviews

Interviews will be held tomorrow in the College Union for members of the Freshman Assembly public relations and finance committees.

The interviews are scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m. PR Chairman Fred Walter said his committee needs "two or three members" to help him see that "all activities of the Freshman Assembly" are publicized.

Members of the Finance Committee will assist Finance Director Scotty Smith in the handling of all assembly budgetary matters.

Trio To Play

The Pyramids, a rhythm and blues trio, will present a jazz program during the Cafe Capers at 2:30 this afternoon.

Sponsored by the Social Affairs Committee, the newly-formed SJS group will appear in the Spartan Cafeteria.

Pres. Clark Invites SJS To Ceremony

SJS President Dr. Robert D. Clark will welcome more than 250 teachers' union delegates to the annual meeting of the California Federation of Teachers Dec. 27-29 at the Sainte Claire Hotel.

The convention theme, "Education and Urban Crisis," will be developed in a series of speeches and panels according to Dr. John Galm, assistant professor of English and chairman of the convention.

Four panel discussions on Compensatory Education; Negro Poverty, Science Education, and Educational Financing will raise some of the problems that teachers must inevitably face, Dr. Galm said.

"We especially invite members of the SJS faculty to attend the speeches and panels," said Dr. Galm. "This is an exploratory conference. We hope that it will encourage creative cooperation between teachers and professors in the planning of curriculum and the development of more effective schools."

ASB Applications For Co-Rec Chief Due on Friday

Friday is the deadline for applications for the posts of Weekend Co-Recreation director and Co-Rec aides for next semester.

Application forms are available in the College Union, 315 S. 9th St. The salaried post of Co-Rec director requires working 10 hours a week. Duties of the job include planning and organizing recreation programs for weekends throughout the fall semester.

The aide's job is salaried and requires approximately five hours each week. The aide helps the director plan co-rec events.

Committee Interviews Set Today

Interviews for the ASB Cultural Festival Committee are scheduled for this afternoon in the College Union, 315 S. 9th St.

A chairman and several members are needed. The Cultural Festival Committee was established to promote development of the cultural side of the student's character and improve SJS' relationship with the community by emphasizing the fine arts in extracurricular life at SJS.

The committee includes student representatives from the art, English, music, and speech and drama departments, besides the regular student members.

The committee also is responsible for inauguration of a cultural festival at SJS.

Nursing Program

The nursing program at SJS received this week a continuation of its accreditation from the National League for Nursing's Collegiate Board of Review, according to Miss Grace Staple, chairman of the Nursing Department.

Under Director George Longazo

Symphonic Band To Play Tomorrow

The SJS Symphonic Band, under the direction of George Longazo, assistant professor of music, will present its first concert of the year tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in Concert Hall.

The 49-piece band will play well-known orchestra selections which have been transcribed to band music. The program includes "Academic Festival Overture" by Brahms; "March to the Scaffold" from Berlioz's "Symphonic Fantastique"; Lecuona's "Andalucia;" and the Finale from "Symphony No. 4 in F Minor" by Tchaikovsky.

The band has been rehearsing since Nov. 22. Prior to that there were spot rehearsals with sections of the band. Members have rehearsed one hour a day, five days a week.

Replacing Director Vernon Reed, assistant professor of music who is away on sabbatical at the University of Southern California, Longazo said that the band will present a two-day concert in March of music specifically written for symphonic bands.

PRIME PURPOSE

Longazo said the prime purpose of the band is "to function in an area that will acquaint students with music literature and the materials that are available in the field."

Working with the band makes students aware of the problems that may arise and the possible solutions, according to Longazo. He noted that students can gain valuable experience in performing before the public and working with a group.

Longazo, who received his Bachelor of Music at Northwestern University and his Masters of Music at Indiana University, played second bassoon for the Baton Rouge Symphony and contra-bassoon for the National Symphony in Washington, D.C.

FIRST PERFORMANCE — The Symphonic Band will present its first performance of the season tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in Concert Hall.

Victor James, a senior public administration major, calls himself a "young empresario." He brings top entertainers to the San Jose area with the hope of financial profit and the risk of "losing his shirt."

It started in 1960 when James was coordinator of the educational program at the Pilgrim Congregational Church in San Francisco and got his first taste of the entertainment world.

James himself has always been interested in drama and the arts. In 1961 at City College of San Francisco, James wrote "Forbidden Fruit," a play dealing with an interracial dating situation. Instead of using an interracial cast, however, James selected an entirely Negro cast.

Last fall James brought the San Francisco Mime Troupe to the Montgomery Theatre. He recently arranged for leader singer Roland Hayes to sing at the Scottish Rite Temple here. Tentative plans on James' agenda include the presentation

KSJS Airs Special Christmas Show

The campus FM station, KSJS, 90.7 mc, presents "Christmas Special" tonight from 4:30 to 9.

The four and one half hour program will feature the campus Christmas tree lighting ceremony from 4:50 to 5:45 p.m.

Entertainment throughout the evening will range from "Return of Argo Fenwick, BMOC," to a series of campus interviews asking students "How much longer must Santa Claus work before becoming eligible for Social Security?" to a Christmas presentation by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs.

A special presentation will be Tom Muller's combo and "Christmas Jazz."

Station personnel are holding an open house and studio visitation in SD121 open to all students throughout the program.

Al Beyer, senior, will be Master of Ceremonies. He promises many surprises during the evening.

Faculty Quartet To Give Recital

A faculty quartet will present a recital in Concert Hall at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 4.

The quartet includes Dr. Gibson Walters, chairman of the music department, Albert Gillis, assistant professor of music, Donald Homuth, associate professor of music and John Delevoryas, associate professor of music.

Glass Blowing Exhibition Opens at SJS Gallery Jan. 3

The National Invitational Glass Exhibition opens Jan. 3 in the SJS Art Gallery and will continue through Jan. 28.

According to Dr. Robert Fritz, assistant professor of art at SJS, the invitational will produce one of the most comprehensive exhibitions of contemporary creative glass in the United States.

The Gallery, located in the East wing of the Art Building, is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1:15 to 5 p.m. on Sundays during scheduled exhibitions. Dr. Fritz and Marvin Lipofsky from Berkeley, both of whom will exhibit during the invitational, started pioneering glass-blowing classes in the Art Department at SJS and the University of California in the fall of 1964.

Included in the national invitational show are 14 artists who will each be represented by at least six pieces of work.

Dr. Fritz said, "This exhibition is to demonstrate the unique use of glass by the presentation of works of outstanding artists which represents a diversity of techniques in glassworking."

For Better Actives

Fraternity Initiates New Pledge Plan

By CHRISTINE RICHERT
Spartan Daily Staff Writer

Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity, is pioneering a new pledge program at San Jose State College.

The program is designed to teach pledges to be actives and to encourage individuality and responsibility.

Traditionally, pledge procedures include learning facts about the Greek system, initiating in mental activities and causing pledges to feel incompetent and inferior.

ADOPTS NEW PLAN

"Pledge activities have been changed to an adult and very constructive educational program," said Don McInnis, Lambda Chi Alpha president.

The fraternity began the new pledge program last spring at the suggestion of a visiting national fraternity representative. Nationally, 80 per cent of the 158 Lambda Chi Alpha chapters have adopted this new pledge method.

Pledges learn to deal with problems they will face as actives, he explained. Under the old system, when pledges became actives they didn't know how to function in that capacity, McInnis added.

Good pledges became poor actives, and the fraternity suffered because of it, he said, but Lambda Chi Alpha seeks to make good pledges into good actives as well.

New pledge activities include learning to run the various executive offices, handling financial matters, running rush activities as well as learning self discipline.

Pledges learn to discipline themselves through their own Pledge Executive Committee. Under new pledge procedures, discipline problems among pledges are first referred to the committee.

CRITICAL STAGE

If the problem persists, however, the pledge must appear before the Active Chapter Executive Committee. If the problem is not corrected, he must go before the entire active chapter where he is required to justify his existence in the fraternity. If reasons for remaining in the fraternity are not sufficient, he is automatically depledged.

Lambda Chi Alpha pledges have a work system under which they must do various household chores. Under the new method, pledges, not actives, supervise the work. Pledges have work stations and keep their quarters clean out of respect for the house, and not from fear of active harassment, said McInnis.

Don Smith, Lambda Chi Alpha pledge, says he is very satisfied with the new system. "Doing tedious, meaningless chores under the other system accomplished nothing. Time and intelligence are now being put to better use."

EXPRESSES APPROVAL

"The new system is great," expressed John Almond, who is also pledging. "The pledge is given more responsibility, whereas, before his intelligence was insulted. Under this system you are treated more like a brother and individual," he concluded. Pledges are on an equal basis with actives, although actives are respected for knowing more about the fraternity system.

Mike West, pledge trainer, said, "We found out you don't have to have midnight sessions to get a pledges respect." He explained that such activities as doing pushups, having midnight sessions and entering the house from the back door all day accomplishes nothing.

According to McInnis, Lambda Chi Alpha wants to show that a better pledging system exists in hopes that the rest of the fraternity system will follow its example.

Beauty 'n Brains Help Win Crown For Linda Daniels

Linda Elaine Daniels, a sophomore sociology major from Los Angeles, recently was chosen the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." The coronation took place at Strawberry Lodge near Lake Tahoe.

Miss Daniels, a member of Delta Gamma sorority, is 5 foot 6 and has brown eyes and dark hair. She was selected from 20 candidates.

The contest finalists also attending the coronation were Melinda Morrow of Alpha Phi and Gina Levitt of Chi Omega sorority.

Miss Daniels will reign until next fall. She becomes eligible for Sigma Chi's international Sweetheart, to be selected in a contest involving Sigma Chi's chapters throughout the U. S.

The new "Sweetheart" maintains a 3-point grade average and plans to teach mentally retarded children after college.

Yule Albums Available At Library

Need something to get you in the Christmas mood? Try the fourth floor music section of the SJS Library where more than 250 recordings of Christmas songs, poems and stories are available for listening enjoyment.

Most of the recordings are traditional Christmas carols, either in English or a foreign language.

An album by the Trapp family, subjects of the "Sound of Music," contains Christmas songs from many different countries.

Recordings of carols and customs of France, Germany, Spain, Portugal, Mexico, Poland are also available.

Perhaps the most unusual recording is one entitled, "Christmas with Grandma Moses," in which the subject recalls her early holiday memories.

As Christmas nears, these records are in great demand, according to Miss Rosemary Thorne, records librarian.

"Most of the recordings are checked out by student teachers who use them for classroom activities," Miss Thorne said.

However, she added that many records which cannot be checked out are still available to students who want to use them in the library.

Tarrantts Continues As Leading Scorer

Center Frank Tarrantts continues to hold the lead in scoring after three basketball games.

The lean senior has scored 44 points in three games for the Spartans, placing him three points ahead of both S. T. Saffold and Pete Newell.

Saffold continues to hold his lead in team rebounds, averaging 11 retrieves a game. His total of 33 puts him 11 ahead of runner-up Newell.

Behind the "Little Big Three" in scoring is guard John Keating, whose 12 points Monday night raised his average to 6.6

Leading reserve scorer is 6-9 center Clarence Denzer, who has put in 6.3 points a game and grabbed 15 rebounds.

SJS Cagers Try To Duplicate Gridders on WAC Road Trip

Spartan basketballers will try to duplicate the feats of their football counterparts during a three-game road trip this weekend and next week.

All three teams the Spartans face on this journey will be members of the Western Athletic Conference—a league the Spartans would like to be invited into.

The Spartan gridders won three of four contests with WAC squads this season, and the unbeaten basketball squad would also like to post a winning record against the league's teams.

The Spartans, winners of all three of their contests to date, face Utah at Salt Lake City Saturday, Arizona State at Tempe on Tuesday and Arizona at Tucson a week from today.

DEFENSE FAST BREAK?

Spartan coach Stu Inman believes the trip should answer three important questions:

1. How the Spartans will fare against the run-run style of play used by both Utah and Arizona State.

Undoubtedly, the Spartans will try to slow these teams down, as they tried to do with Nevada Monday night.

However, in one respect this year's Spartans have more of a chance to do well against a fast break team than in the past.

For, this year, the Spartan offense and players are more adept to the running game than in recent years. If forced to, the Spartans will be able to run along with their opponents.

WEIGHT PROBLEMS

2. How the comparatively lightweight Spartans will fare against bigger and taller opponents.

This was a major question before the SJS-Stanford contest last week as the Spartans were outweighed 15 pounds per man and at a height disadvantage.

Inman's crew passed this test with an "A" by holding the Indians even on the boards in posting a 58-57 upset.

However, whether the Spartans can continue this is doubtful and Inman thinks the road trip will help answer his queries.

SJS is not only facing bigger opponents, but will play three games in five days and have three plane trips (they are flying home after the Utah game) thrown in.

If the Spartans are to be hurt in the physical portion of the contest this year, this trip will point out that weakness.

HOW'S DEFENSE?

3. How far along his defense is. This seems to be an odd question for Inman to ask, as he has been one of the nation's foremost teachers of defense in the past.

However, the Spartans have been giving up—as well as scoring—more points than in previous years so far this season.

Junior John Keating is just beginning to blossom into the ball-hawking, crowd-pleasing guard that typifies the Spartan defense of the past.

Such players as Ron Labetich and Al Jansci have held this role before Keating.

ONE ANSWERED

Monday's 77-58 victory over Nevada answered one question for Inman—his Spartans were able to keep up a steady application of pressure after building up an early lead.

"We didn't slow down after building up that quick advantage," Inman said. "We were effective over the entire course of the game and that's the mark of a good team."

The Spartans will not be running into overly tall opponents on the road trip, but each opponent offers at least one outstanding front-court man.

Utah boasts two 6-7 sophs plus returning stars George Fisher and Jerry Chambers, both 6-4.

6-7 Dennis Hamilton, 6-5 John Meyers and 6-4 Randy Linder provide Arizona State with plenty of bulk. The three Sun Devils tip the scales at 210, 205 and 220, respectively.

Bob Hansen, 6-6, and Harvey Fox, 6-4, give Arizona its height, while guard Ted Pickett is the top scorer.

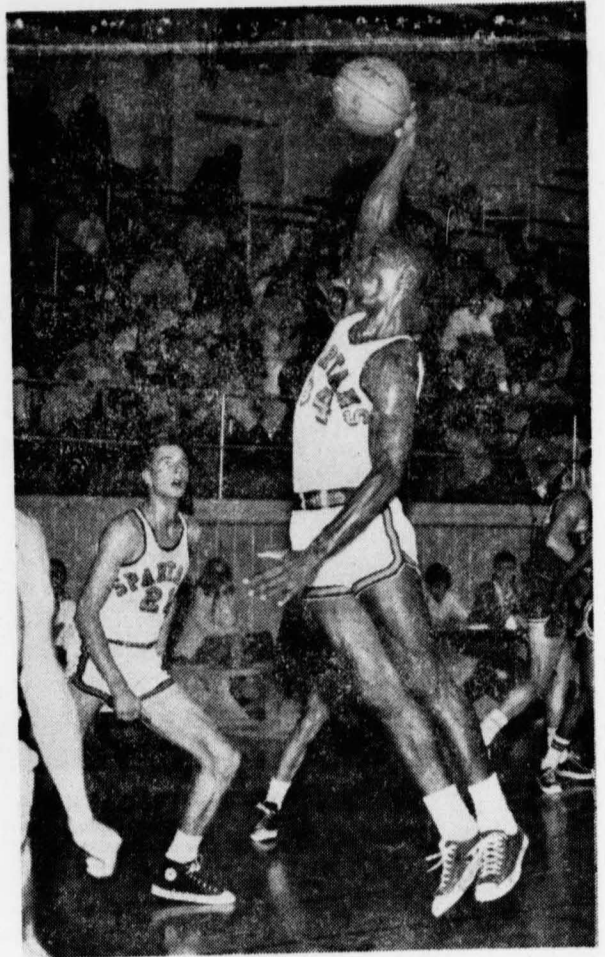

SJS Only Team To Win Tourney Twice in a Row

San Jose State is the only school in history to win back-to-back titles in the West Coast Athletic Conference's Christmas Basketball Tournament.

The Spartans were underdog winners in both 1962 and 1963.

The favorite for the tournament has never taken home the championship. Another hex associated with the tourney is that the tournament champion has never gone on to win the regular season title.

This year the tourney will be held in San Jose for the second consecutive time. It previously was held in San Francisco.

SOARING SAFFOLD — Spartan basketball star S. T. Saffold soars above everyone else in grabbing a rebound Monday night against Nevada. His rebounding strength will be well tested on next week's road trip.

Smith's Record Approved

The AAU, in a meeting last week, approved Tommy Smith's world record 200-meter dash that he tied in a triangular meet March 15 on the Spartan's oval.

Dave Sime of Duke University and Frank Budd, Villanova University, also own title to the elite mark.

Sime set the record in 1956 and Budd tied it in 1962.

Smith hit the tape in :20.0 and credited teammate Wayne Herman with pushing him to the record. Herman was timed in :20.5.

The other track squads participating in the meet were the University of California at Santa Barbara and the University of Pacific.

General Electric is an easy place to work.

All you need is brains, imagination, drive and a fairly rugged constitution.

Oh, yes. Something else that will help you at G.E. is an understanding of the kind of world we live in, and the kind of world we will live in.

There's a lot happening: The population is continuing to explode. The strain on resources is becoming alarming. At a time when men are being lured by the mysteries of space, we're faced with the task of making life on earth more livable.

There's a lot happening at G.E., too, as our people work in a hundred different areas to help solve the problems of a growing world: Supplying more (and cheaper) electricity with nuclear reactors. Controlling smog in our cities and pollution in our streams. Providing better street lighting and faster transportation.

This is the most important work in the world today: Helping to shape the world of tomorrow. Do you want to help? Come to General Electric, where the young men are important men.

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

Mumby's Wrestlers Travel To Fresno

Spartan wrestlers travel to Fresno State Friday hoping to topple a Bulldog team which shows solid strength throughout its line-up.

Coach Hugh Mumby's grapplers will face their first rugged dual meet competition in the meet which is scheduled for 8 p.m.

In the Spartan wrestlers only other dual meet this season, they easily trounced Nevada, 40-0.

Nine grapplers will make the trip to Fresno. According to Mumby, probable matmen for SJS will be Dennis Runyon (123), Joe Silva (130), Ron Matheson (137), Loren Miller (145), Gary Scardina (152), Jim Bridger (160), Mike Herschfeld (167), Paul Hatling (177) and Rich Popejoy (heavyweight).

Pacing Fresno's strong wrestling contingent are Northern California champions Steve Johansen (123), Mike Galego (152) and heavy-weight Eric Christenson.

"Fresno is an extremely balanced squad," Mumby warned. The Bulldogs ranked second in the Northern California Invitational held Dec 4 in the Spartan Gym. SJS placed fifth in the same meet. Fresno State also took second in last weekend's Mare Island Open Invitational.

Mumby's grapplers turned in outstanding showings at Mare Island to earn two seconds and a third.

Freshman Cagers Try To Snap Skein

SJS freshmen basketballers try to snap a three-game losing string tonight against the California frosh.

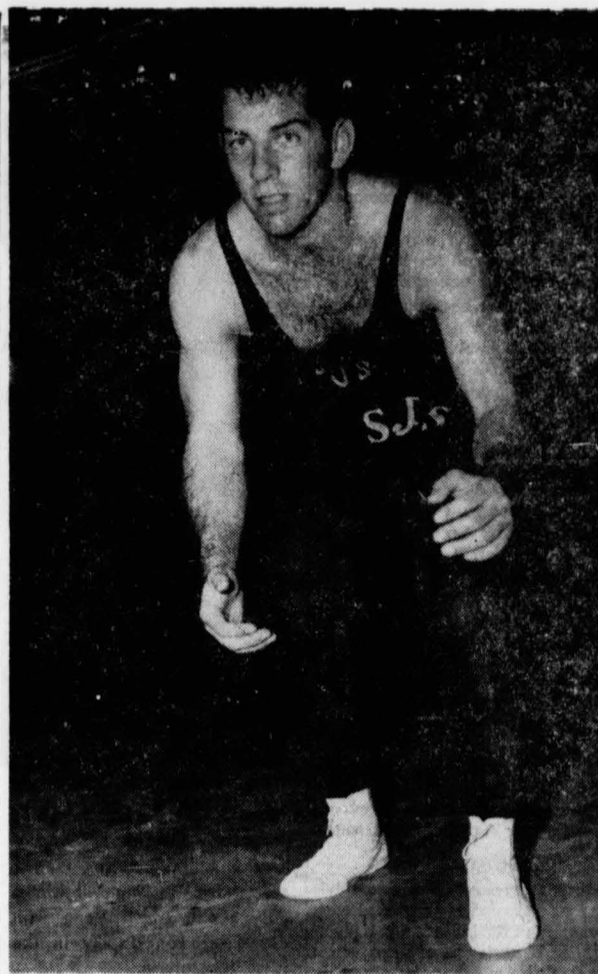

The Bears invade Spartan Gym at 7.

After a 63-48 drubbing by the Stanford frosh, SJS has lost two close encounters to junior college clubs. First, College of San Mateo dumped Danny Glines' charges 72-66 then City College of San Francisco handed the Spartababes a 62-59 defeat Monday.

When the frosh win, they win big, as evidenced by a 105-53 clobbering of San Francisco State for their only win of the season.

Bill King and Greg Delaney have been the top scorers for the Spartababes this season, although guard Bob South has been the outstanding player in the last two games.

Besides scoring and floor play, South has impressed with his rebounding.

GARY SCARDINA, the Spartan grapplers' 152-pounder, will be one of the nine SJS wrestlers traveling to Fresno to meet the powerful Bulldogs Friday night.

Cal Dominates SJS Gym Meet; Spartans Disappoint Jennett

As expected, the Cal gymnastics squad dominated the second annual SJS Gymnastics Invitational held Friday night in the Spartan Gym.

Although no official team title was awarded, Cal outclassed the other colleges with Sid Freudenstein and Dan Millman leading the way.

Spartan graduate Rich Chew gained the highest placing for the SJS gymnasts with a fifth on the parallel bars.

Coach Clair Jennett's highly-regarded sophomore, Tony Coppola, earned a seventh in the overall competition, eighth in floor exercise and was in the top ten in several other events.

JENNETT DISAPPOINTED

Jennett said he was "a little disappointed," but added that it was an early season meet and the gymnasts will make errors they won't later in the year.

"Coppola will do much better as the season progresses," Jennett assured confidently.

Freudenstein and Millman, who will give the Bears a golden opportunity to win the NCAA finals in the spring, performed as though they were bitter enemies.

Freudenstein was victorious in the long horse, free exercise and the all-around. Millman was top gymnast in the trampoline while placing second to his teammate Freudenstein in the all-around and long horse.

FIELD FIRST

Rick Field of Cal took a first in the side horse and another talented Bear, Josh Robinson, won the still rings event.

Rusty Rock of San Fernando Valley State prevailed in the high bars and took second in the still rings. Larry Topping of Sacramento State edged out Millman for a first on the parallel bars.

Jennett said that Jeff Wolfe was sick all week preceding the meet and "just wasn't strong enough to place."

Mike Fjelstad, a freshman, was Spartans' other gymnast in the meet, and according to Jennett, is coming along fine.

Other teams represented in the meet were Chico State, Cal Poly (SLO) and Stanford.

Cal and Arizona State, two of the nation's finest gymnastic contingents, will invade the Spartan Gym for SJS' next meet Jan. 14. Jennett expects his team to be better prepared for the battle but expects the two squads to dominate the competition.

SPARTAN SHADOW

Sports Information Director Nurdy Jensen will take his usual seat with Spartan athletes this weekend as the basketballers fly to Salt Lake City to meet Utah. Jensen is at every major Spartan athletic event, no matter where it is held.

BASKETBALL

All team managers interested in placing a squad in the pre-season intramural basketball tournament are required to attend a meeting this afternoon in MG201 at 3:30.

Only teams represented at the meeting will be allowed to compete in the tournament, which is scheduled for the first week after Christmas vacation.

Following the tournament, the regular season season will begin, with the teams being seeded into various leagues depending upon their tournament showing.

GYMNASIUM OPEN

Intramural Director Dan Unruh is reserving the Spartan Gym at night for intramural basketball teams interested in working out. Team captains should see Dr. Unruh about reservations.

Walt McPherson WCAC Head

Busy Walt McPherson, chairman of the Physical Education Department since 1960, also is serving as commissioner of the West Coast Athletic Conference.

The ex-Spartan basketball coach had an outstanding collegiate career at SJS. He starred in football, basketball and baseball; captained the unbeaten 1939 grid team and started at guard for the 1938 conference basketball champs.

As a coach McPherson compiled a 252-201 mark in 17 seasons winning three championships. His 1948 and 1949 teams rattled off 19 straight wins for a CCAA record and twice earned berths in the NAIB tourney.

In 1950 his Spartans were 17th nationally and in 1951 became the first West Coast member-at-large to participate in the NCAA playoffs.

McPherson also tutored Spartan golfers and is an outstanding badminton player, having competed on the state championship level.

Freshman Assembly Passes First Bill

The Freshman Assembly convened Monday for the first time and took its first tentative steps at actually governing the freshman class.

Dick Soto, assembly executive director, introduced the officers and committee chairmen to a group of about 15 freshmen and ASB officials.

After the introductory session the assembly passed its first major item of legislation, a bill which allows members of the freshman class to take part in debate at meetings of the assembly.

assembly business" when recognized by Soto but may not vote.

No freshman may participate in the discussion gallery more than four times each semester.

Also at the meeting the assembly postponed until after Christmas action on a bill which proposes major changes in the organization's structure.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

The business of the assembly is carried out by the assembly's executive board of directors, consisting of Soto, Christy Cleary, department director; Scotty Smith, finance director; Rise Krag, executive secretary, and Charlie Brown, freshman representative to Student Council.

Soto will preside at all meetings. He makes all appointments, subject to three-fifths approval of the executive board and reports to council once a week on the progress of the assembly.

Miss Cleary oversees the operations of all assembly committees and assumes the duties of executive director in the latter's absence.

BUDGET REPORTS

Smith prepares the assembly's budget and reports to council once a month on the state of the budget.

Miss Krag keeps minutes of all proceedings and handles assembly correspondence.

Brown provides a liaison between the assembly and council.

Plans for the assembly include the establishment of an All-Frosh Day in spring in which the freshmen classes of "six to 10 colleges and universities" will be invited, according to All-Frosh Day Committee Chairman Glen Williams.

The freshmen will participate in discussions, seminars and various social activities, Williams noted.

The bill calls for any six interested freshmen to submit their names to the assembly executive secretary, Rise Krag, before each meeting. The six, known as the discussion gallery, may "question, criticize and discuss freshmen as-

SJS Professor To Tour India During Vacation

Dr. Jay R. McCullough, professor of philosophy, will spend the holiday season overseas during a one-month tour of educational facilities in India.

Dr. McCullough left Monday on the trip. He will return after New Year's Day.

The tour, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, is one of five such trips to foreign countries for 27 California State College professors. Other countries included in the tours include Israel, Poland, Pakistan and Yugoslavia.

The tour will permit faculty members from the state colleges to broaden their knowledge of curricula by exposure to foreign culture.

Dr. McCullough was selected from about 500 professors, who applied for the tour.

Hoover Hall To Sponsor Open House

Lou Henry Hoover Hall, women's dormitory, will hold a public Christmas open house this afternoon from 2-4:30.

The entire hall has been decorated to the theme of "An Old-Fashioned Christmas."

Each wing and door has also been decorated. Second West's "Santa Revisits American History" was chosen as the outstanding wing.

Individual door winners were Marilyn Zuckerman and Kathy Melin, 1st; Judy Hertle and Penny Peterson, 2nd; and Liz Rockwell and Sunshine Saddis, 3rd.

Judges were Robert Baron, housing director; Dr. Cornelia Tomes, associate dean of students; Miss Berniece Ryan, assistant housing director; Miss Virginia Ellis, IDC advisor; and Mrs. Robert D. Clark, wife of SJS president.

Job Application Deadline Nears

Jan. 3, 1966, is the closing date for filing applications for 1966 summer positions with the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

These jobs are for office and science assistant positions and include positions as clerks, stenographers, typists, office machine operators, student assistants, engineering, physical science, biological and mathematical aids.
