

Dumke Attacked—'Gross Mismanagement'

By MARK THAYER

State Senator J. Eugene McAteer charged Glenn S. Dumke, chancellor of the California State Colleges with "inefficiency" and "gross mismanagement" at yesterday's session of the Senate Finance Committee.

Hopes of restoring the 1.8 per cent cut in senior faculty members' salaries were all but quashed as the committee voted not to pass a bill introduced by Sen. Stephen Teale (D-West Point) aimed at making the necessary $281,000 available.

The charge against Dumke came after he testified that he first became aware of the shortage in salary increase funds in October, although a member of his staff knew of it much earlier.

Dumke declined to name the staff member. "Did you fire him?" McAteer asked.

"If you didn't and if I were on the Board of Trustees, I would have fired you," McAteer told Dumke.

McAteer told Dumke that if similar acts had occurred in county government it would be "embezzlement and someone would go to jail."

"The real issue is inefficiency," McAteer said.

George Miller, chairman of the finance committee, said, "This is arrogance; it's as if saying 'OK, we'll continue to do it because the guys need the money and the legislature will have to bail us out in the end."

Dr. Robert Clark, SJS president yesterday called the move to kill the salary bill "disastrous to the morale of the faculty."

Dumke expressed "extreme disappointment" and urged the committee to reconsider its action, in a statement issued after the committee hearing.

Dr. Theodore Norton, president of the SJS chapter of the Association of California State College

Professors (ACSCP), when notified by Spartan Daily of the committee's action, said, "The fact that it's still pending in the Assembly leaves some room for hope, but not much."

The Assembly Finance Committee was scheduled to hold hearings on an identical bill, introduced by Robert Crown, (D-Oakland) late this afternoon. These hearings have been rescheduled for a later date.

The assembly bill must clear the Assembly Finance Committee, Ways and Means, the full Assembly, then the Senate where it will be referred back to the Finance Committee and then back to the full Senate for passage.

In view of yesterday's action the prospects of a legislative restoration of the pay cut appear dim.

The statewide council of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) will meet in Sacramento this weekend. An AFT spokesman indicated that a "work-in" is planned and "classes will not be met."

Specific plans and more detailed information are expected to come out of the weekend meeting.

In Sacramento, Dr. Dumke said, "The principle of mutual trust between the administration of the state college and its faculty is of paramount importance."

He said, "The state colleges have upheld their public trust and seek support of the legislature."

Dr. C. M. Larsen, representing the Coordinating Committee of Campus Organizations (CCCO), an ad-hoc group of SJS faculty organizations formed to battle the pay cut, said in Sacramento yesterday afternoon, "This decision makes it all the more imperative that we seek a favorable vote on Assembly Bill 652, which will appropriate $15 million for faculty salary increases."

This is an increase of approximately 15 per cent.

Dr. Larsen said he would report to the CCCO and all interested faculty members at 2:30 Monday afternoon in cafeteria A and B.

Pres. Clark Calls Action 'Disastrous'

The following statement was made by SJS Pres. Robert D. Clark yesterday afternoon upon hearing of the Senate Finance Committee's action against restoring the 1.8 per cent faculty salary cut.

"This news is disastrous to the morale of the faculty and to the reputation of the entire state college system.

"The amount of the salary cut is small, so the financial loss is not the overriding consideration. Quality of California higher education is now in jeopardy.

"We have had good support from the legislature in the past, and I cannot believe that the legislature, if it understands our problems, will fail us now."

Two Students Face Court On Tuesday

Two SJS students will appear in San Jose Municipal Court Tuesday to face charges stemming from two fatal automobile accidents, only four blocks apart.

Ronnie Muranaka, 21, of 724 S. Sixth St., will have a preliminary hearing on three counts of felony manslaughter.

San Jose police filed the charges against him after his car was involved in an accident at South Seventh and Virginia Streets on Tuesday, March 9. Three persons died in that crash, including Muranaka's roommate, SJS senior George A. Coleman.

The second student in court will be Richard C. White, 21, of 318 S. 10th St., a junior from Oakland.

White will be arraigned on charges of felony drunk driving and manslaughter.

San Jose police allege that he failed to stop for a stop sign at South Seventh and Humboldt Streets on the night of March 12.

White's car collided with another auto. A young Sunnyvale mother in the second car was fatally injured.

New Housing Rules Receive High Support

By MIKE NEUFELD

The Student Housing Committee of the SJS Academic Council voted yesterday afternoon to recommend that a one-semester contract be initiated as quickly as possible in college approved housing.

The committee heard a letter from Student Council asking for the one-semester policy.

Presenting council's case was John Hendricks, ASB vice president.

Next step for the recommendation will be up to the Academic Council.

If this group passes on the one-semester contract plan, then Dr. Robert D. Clark, SJS president, must give his approval before it becomes policy.

SAN DIEGO

At present the California State College Board of Trustees is reviewing a request for one-year contracts at San Diego State.

SJS is presently under a full year contract basis, and Student Council feels a change should be made.

Talking to students, this reporter found the opinion seems to coincide with council's call for action.

One radio-television major stated, "A lot of guys would move out if they had a chance."

TOO BIG A JOB

Breaking the year-long contract proved too big a job for two SJS coeds.

"My dad went to a lawyer, and my roommate's mother also consulted a lawyer, but, since our parents had signed the contract, we were bound to it," one of the coeds replied.

A senior from San Bernardino stated the one-semester contract would give students a better chance to move if living conditions aren't up to his expectations.

A 20-year-old coed explained that, to get out from under a contract, a person must sell the remaining portion of his contract with the approval of the landlord.

LANDLORDS

"Landlords can be awfully selective when it comes to approving a new boarder," she commented.

Yesterday's proposal, if approved, possibly could not go into effect until next year because the College Housing Office has already received signed contracts from approved living centers.

In addition to the resolution on one-semester contracts, the housing committee moved to send a letter to the Associated Women Students (AWS) requesting that group to review AWS rules and regulations pertaining to students in college approved housing.

Previously AWS was directed by council to investigate the possibility of establishing "senior keys" or abolishing lock-out.

AWS will report to council next week on its findings.

STEPS INTO SPACE—Lt. Col. Alexei Leonov steps from the Russian spaceship Voskhod II to become the first man to leave a spaceship while in flight. The ship at the time was traveling 17,500 miles per hour on an orbit that took 90 minutes to circle the earth. Leonov spent 20 minutes outside the ship.

Pro-U.S. Viet Nam Rally Today on Seventh Street

A rally to support the U.S. position in South Viet Nam will be sponsored today at 12:30 p.m. on Seventh Street by SJS Young Republicans (YRs) and Young Americans for Freedom (YAF), according to YAF President Bob Young.

This rally will not be held around the traditional bench but at a new location on Seventh Street opposite the Women's Gym.

Featured speakers include State Senator Clark Bradley and Dr. Milorad Drachkovitch, professor of political science at Stanford University.

SJS students Jack Cox, western regional chairman and member of the national board of directors of YAF and Richard Reeb, president of SJS YR's will also speak.

Bradley has indicated a desire to address SJS students on the subject of South Viet Nam. He said it is important to bring out the side of the U.S. in stopping Communist aggression in South East Asia. His topic will be "The Will to Win."

Dr. Drachkovitch, who will discuss "U.S. Experience With Communism and the Viet Nam Crisis," received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Geneva, Switzerland.

He is also senior staff member of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford.

Dr. Drachkovitch has served as director of studies at the College of Europe in Bruges, Belgium, and has worked with the Russian Research Center at Harvard University.

In 1959 he joined the political science department at the University of California at Berkeley. Dr. Drachkovitch has been at Stanford since 1961.

Seventh Street Remains Closed

South Seventh Street will remain closed today between San Carlos and Keyes Streets, to all but emergency traffic. The street is being resurfaced.

However, officials of the Piazza Paving Company have assured SJS that access to the parking garage will not be blocked, according to supervising campus security officer Frank Schoff. If traffic into the garage is halted, it will only be temporary, Schoff said.

Cosmonaut Leaves Ship, Floats Free

Compiled from UPI

The Russians made another first in space achievements. Yesterday, after launching spaceship Voskhod II, one of the two cosmonauts left the ship for 20 minutes.

Cosmonaut Lt. Col. Alexi Leonov, 30, took pictures with a movie camera while outside the ship then floated free in space for 10 minutes, connected to the ship by a lifeline.

TURNS SOMERSAULT

Just before returning to the spacecraft, the cosmonaut turned a jubilant somersault.

This Russian achievement came only five days before the United States plans to launch a two-man Gemini spaceship with astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young aboard.

The other cosmonaut, who remained inside Voskhod II, was Col. Pavel Belyayev, 39.

During Leonov's feat, the ship planned to stay in flight one day, was orbiting the earth at a speed of 17,500 miles per hour. The maximum distance from the earth was more than 300 miles, highest in the history of manned space flight.

TV TRANSMITTER

Tass News Agency said that Leonov's work outside the ship was "transmitted to the earth by means of the ship's television system and observed by a network of ground stations."

Voskhod II orbited the earth every 90 minutes on an egg shaped course.

The Russians launched the first unmanned satellite in October 1957. This was followed in 1961 by the first manned space flight. In 1963 the first orbital trip by a woman was made, and last October came the first multi-manned shot.

'Lonely Feeling' In Selma, Pace Tells Audience

"When you get down to Selma, you feel quite lonely because it's a long way from anywhere."

San Jose Mayor Joseph Pace gave this description of Selma, Ala., at a civil rights rally yesterday at noon on Seventh Street.

After going to the Capitol to talk to Vice President Hubert Humphrey about the concern in this city over civil rights problems, he flew down to Alabama to see the problem first hand.

Members of the Selma City Council invited Mayor Pace to an executive session. They informed him that only one per cent of the demonstrators are Selma citizens and "we resent the fact that everybody else all over the U.S., and it seems like all over the world, is coming to Selma right now."

DROP IT!—University of California student John Larsen appeared at a "civil rights" rally on Seventh Street yesterday carrying the above sign and selling lapel buttons for the "Student Strangelove Society."

'Strangelove Society' Appears on Campus

By AL BURNHAM

A new movement, the Student Strangelove Society, appeared on Seventh Street yesterday.

Its chief proponent, a student from the University of California at Berkeley John Larsen, solicited petitions addressed to the Joint Chiefs of Staff to "help us avoid World War IV by immediately starting World War III."

Larsen, sporting an army helmet with large ears attached to each side and seven protest buttons, expressed his desire to "blow up the world to achieve ultimate peace."

He also carried a placard which read "Drop it!" and announced the sponsorship of "SANS"—Students Against the Numbered Society.

On the table bearing the petitions was a natural-sized replica of an arm, covered with blood. On the ground adjacent to the table stood a miniature rocket painted bright red.

Besides handling the petitions, Larsen sold buttons sponsoring his new society and the lowering of the present drinking age. Each sold for 25 cents, the proceeds going "to build bombs so we can bomb the Pentagon."

Larsen later stated that the button sales also "help me work my way through college."

The petition urged the U.S. to "start the war to end all wars, to end the war in Viet Nam, to end war, to end people, and to end everything."

Said Larsen, "Some say World War IV will be fought with sticks and stones. I say there will be nobody left to fight."

When asked if he thought his movement was facetious, Larsen said "No!"

FACTS VS. A DAILY COLUMN

Journalistic law does not state your facts have to be correct in a column, just don't libel anybody.

The column in Tuesday's Spartan Daily didn't libel anybody, but it didn't give the facts, either.

The men planning the San Francisco March in protest of Selma announced an estimated 150 people would march out of San Jose on the El Camino Real. (The national radio networks announced this estimate.)

The man planning the march announced an estimated 6,000 people would have taken part in the march by the time they reached the Federal Building in San Francisco. (The national radio networks announced this estimate.)

A Spartan Daily column announced the estimate for leaving San Jose at 6,000. It also indicted and condemned the march leadership for such poor planning.

This column stated that less than a dozen marchers finally made it. A count of those who "made it" would have been closer to 150, as a "sign up" in San Francisco showed.

The column also stated the San Francisco rally, which contained 6,000 people, was made up almost entirely of "teen-agers, rickety old men, women and children." (All 6,000 of them?)

The number who joined the march at Stanford was given by the column as two. Witnesses put the number at at least 20.

The column didn't mention that Cecil Poole, federal representative in San Francisco, failed to keep HIS WORD to meet with the marchers.

The Spartan Daily column points out that the President has not been swayed by marchers. The column points out that the President "made his decision BEFORE civil rights groups made their decisions to march."

Did the President make his decision for a Saturday speech BEFORE the Wednesday decision for San Jose's march? Did the President make his decision before the decisions of all the groups that marched at the beginning of last week?

And more important, was the President's decision a decision to act and stop bloodshed or was it just more words? Was the President's Saturday speech in fact what the marchers were protesting—empty platitudes not backed up by action?

What about our President who is elected to represent the will of the people and do their bidding but is not about to be "black-jacked" by the people into acting in their behalf?

Skiing San Jose Staters Beckoned To Snow Covered Sierra Resort Slopes

By DICK DAVIN
 The fact that skiing is a popular sport is evident. No need to look further than the San Jose State Ski Club which started to turn away students when the membership list reached over 200.

Skiers are not just bystanders either. Every two weeks up to this weekend, the SJS ski club has sponsored trips to various resorts.

Ski resorts with titles such as Squaw Valley, Alpine Meadows and Heavenly Valley beckon these enthusiasts. The response is loud, as students living in the vicinity of Fourth and San Carlos know.

A FRIDAY FAREWELL

It is here, on Friday evenings, one or two buses are loaded with many pairs of skis, boots and poles. The inhabitants of these buses are an interesting study in themselves, dressed as they are with heavy jackets, mittens or gloves, "apres-ski" boots, scarves or wool caps, and tight stretchy pants.

Equipped with all the essentials, plus hopefully, insurance, these snow bunnies are off to the romantic valleys of snow.

Once there, they are in a world of their own. After buying a ticket that allows them to ride dangerous-looking chairs to the top of treacherous-looking mountains, they proceed to point their little slats of wood to the bottom of these romantic sounding valleys.

Here the fun begins. Here I enter the story. I too thought how dramatic this all sounds and I too got on one of those buses and bought a ticket and rode a chair. I too started down the slopes on two slabs of wood.

NO STOPPING

Here though I differed. I did what is commonly referred to "as trying to stop." Gravity said no! Well I stopped anyway.

The ride down the slopes strapped in a neat little basket pulled by a young man wearing a sign that said "Ski Patrol" is fun—except when one looks up and sees all the nice people riding in the luxurious chairs—and all staring at you.

"Mommy look at that kid laying in the basket" a little boy of about six says as he skis by spraying snow in your hot face.

For some reason, the ride back in the bus is not as much

Students Salute Camp Committee

Editor:
 Congratulations to the Spartacamp Committee for a job well done! Spartacamp is the best thing that can happen to anyone who is interested in a stimulating intellectual and social experience!

One of the worthwhile ideas that evolved during the Education Discussion was speculation on a student-faculty lounge with a relaxed, congenial atmosphere in the proposed student union. A place where students can meet their professors and discuss any topic and bridge the gap between the students and faculty.

Spartacamp afforded us this rare and rewarding opportunity. We believe that we should make this relationship a reality right here on campus. What do you say?

Students Question Dispersal of Funds

Editor:
 Each semester at registration a large sum of money is collected from the students in the form of student body fees.

This money belongs to the student body and its use is controlled by the student council. Yet the student council never informs the student body of the exact disposition of this money. Furthermore, no member of the student council, nor candidate in the student body elections, ever takes a stand on the issue of how this money is being used or ought to be used.

Here is a real campaign issue, an important one if only because of the large amount of money involved. Why doesn't one of the candidates take a stand on the issue of how student body funds are being used or ought to be used?

We at Silva Service Station are happy with our long years of association with the students and faculty at San Jose State College.

We have been in business in the area since 1936. Two years ago we decided to leave our major oil company affiliation and become an independent service station. With an intensive advertising program in the Spartan Daily before and after moving, our business has never dropped in volume, but has steadily increased.

We feel that there is no better way to keep in contact with the many students and faculty at San Jose State than through the medium of advertising in the Spartan Daily. SJS ad staff members have made clever advertisements for the Spartan Daily which have helped to increase the volume to such an extent that we have been able to hire more skilled and efficient help.

Tom Huck sought scientific excitement

He's finding it at Western Electric

Ohio University conferred a B.S.E.E. degree on C. T. Huck in 1956. Tom knew of Western Electric's history of manufacturing development. He realized, too, that our personnel development program was expanding to meet tomorrow's demands.

After graduation, Tom immediately began to work on the development of electronic switching systems. Then, in 1958, Tom went to the Bell Telephone Laboratories on a temporary assignment to help in the advancement of our national military capabilities. At their Whippany, New Jersey, labs, Tom worked with the W.E. development team on computer circuitry for the Nike Zeus guidance system. Tom then moved on to a new assignment at W.E.'s Columbus, Ohio, Works. There, Tom is working on the development of testing circuitry for the memory phase of electronic switching systems.

This constant challenge of the totally new, combined with advanced training and education opportunities, make a Western Electric career enjoyable, stimulating and fruitful. Thousands of young men will realize this in the next few years.

How about you?
 If responsibility and the challenge of the future appeal to you, and you have the qualifications we are looking for, talk with us. Opportunities for fast-moving careers exist now for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, and also for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. Students with a good scholastic record who wish to explore career possibilities in mental health or to gain a better understanding of efforts in mental health fields are eligible.

The program is sponsored by the Western Mental Health Training and Research Project of the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education. There are 10 California state hospitals participating in the program.

HOSPITAL DUTY

The opening and closing weeks of the session will be spent in regular academic summer sessions at the college, while the eight intervening weeks will be spent on job assignments in hospitals and other special programs.

Students participating in the program will receive a salary of about $560 for the period. Costs will include tuition, room and board and transportation.

Interested students should apply to the college they plan to attend (UOP or San Diego) for the session by the April 10 deadline.

EUROPEAN SEMINARS

A college-credit program in Europe with week-long seminars will be directed by UOP this summer.

The program provides seminars in London, Paris and Munich, according to Frank George, president of Hallmark Tours of San Rafael, who is in charge of arrangements.

The London seminar is from June 21 to June 29; Paris, June 30 to July 6; and Munich, July 21 to July 23.

A descriptive folder or further information may be obtained by contacting Hallmark Tours, 1344 Fourth St., San Rafael; UOP; California Teachers Association, Central Coast Section, 1244 Bay St., Santa Cruz; or a local travel agent, according to George.

U.C. Regents To Supervise Sororities and Fraternities

INGLEWOOD (UPI) — The right of the University of California regents and the state college trustees to supervise campus sororities and fraternities with regard to racial discrimination has been upheld by Superior Judge Newell Barrett.

Barrett Tuesday sustained the governing bodies of the state's public institutions of higher learning against a suit challenging their authority to act in connection with fraternity and sorority functions.

State college chief counsel Charles B. McKesson commented, "The trustees are gratified with this most recent victory and pleased that the university policy against racial and religious discrimination has again been upheld."

The action stemmed from a petition for injunction last September filed by Acacia fraternity and Pi Beta Phi sorority. The two groups sought to prohibit enforcement of the non-discrimination certificate by the regents and the trustees.

Vinson Brown will speak to the Baha'i Club on "The Incredible Paradox of Religion" Sunday at 8 p.m. at 231 E. San Fernando St., Apt. 12.

Brown is the author of numerous books on religion, natural history and Indian myths. He graduated from Stanford University with a Ph.D. in biology. The topic is taken from the publication which illustrates the paradox of how each great religion regards itself as THE final religious revelation.

By CAROLYN CLAUZ
 Society Editor

I have instituted this column for two reasons—as a means of recognizing and saluting activities of various campus sororities, fraternities and clubs and as a legitimate-looking mouthpiece for my personal observations.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Newly installed officers of Kappa Kappa Gamma include: Patricia Abrams, president; Marty Mitchell, first vice president; Joanie Peters, second vice president.

Kristine Oxen is recording secretary; Margo O'Brien, corresponding secretary; Stephanie Finlay, treasurer; Janet Parsons, marshal; Cindy Bryson, pledge chairman; Pam Hutton, house manager.

Other chairmen include: Kathy Ronay, membership; Jeanne Baarts, social; Barbara Reith, activities; Gloria Glidden, music; Joyce Keim, public relations; Jan Schreyer, Panhellenic delegate.

KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta recently held its spring elections.

New officers are: president, Janet Brown; vice president and pledge trainer, Jacque Miller; membership chairman and Panhellenic delegate, Sharon Latimer; secretary, Sue Anderson; editor, Martie Wilson; treasurer, Linda Barley.

New Kappa Delta initiates include: Sue Husong, Nancy Hutchinson, Carol Sanchez, Abby Darley and Robyn Hand, who was also selected outstanding pledge of her class.

SIGMA ALPHA MU

Sigma Alpha Mu recently elected two new Sammy Sisters. Pat Holmstead and Lynne Woodruff joined 17 other such honored coeds.

AOPi Names Dream Guy Tomorrow

The new Dream Guy of Alpha Omicron Pi will be crowned tomorrow night at the sorority's Spring Cotillion in San Francisco.

The contest began with 32 contestants. After three functions, including a "come-as-you-are" breakfast last weekend, seven finalists were chosen.

They include: John Dismeyer, Delta Upsilon; Doug Warner, Pi Kappa Alpha; John Dunlavy, Sigma Chi; Chris Ottinger, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Bob Young, Kappa Sigma; Jim Wills, Theta Zeta; and Ray Nolton, Phi Sigma Kappa.

This year's winner will be crowned by Dave Brady, president AOPi Dream Guy.

Casual Kerchief Hats 'In Vogue' for Spring

Very much in vogue for spring: kerchief hats with casual draping and attention to back detailing. The Millinery Institute of America reports these are youthful, easy to wear and can be worn comfortably with coats, suits or dresses. They come in cotton, silk and pliable straw braids.

Kingston Trio To Present Benefit Tuesday

The Kingston Trio will appear in a benefit performance for the Auxiliary of the Good Samaritan Hospital Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. at the Civic Auditorium.

The best-selling recording trio is composed of John Stewart, Nick Reynolds and Bob Shane. Among their many best selling recordings, the most recent is "Time to Think."

The Kingston Trio is, in a sense, unique. It sings on key and with a regard for the geographical and musical meaning of each song. Versatility, high humor and a feeling for the dramatic are present in each performance.

The trio combines with musicianship the sound knowledge of the gamut from sea chanteys to calypso rhythms to the western-type roundelay.

They have been roundly applauded at such places as San Francisco's "The Purple Onion" and "the hungry i" and Chicago's "Mr. Kelly's."

The singers recently appeared as guests on the Jack Benny Show. On the television program they cavorted in a comedy sketch with Benny and sang as only the Kingston Trio can sing.

The performance in San Jose will be the only appearance in this area. Tickets for the benefit performance are on sale at Wendell Watkins Box Office, located in Sherman Clay, 89 S. First St.

The box office is open from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily except Saturday and Sunday. Reservations and information may be obtained by calling 293-6252.

THE KINGSTON TRIO will appear at the Civic Auditorium Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in a benefit performance for the Auxiliary of the Good Samaritan Hospital.

'Peyton Place' Classic Films To Show Olympic Games By 1936 Hitler Film Propagandist

"Peyton Place," concerned with the hypocrisy and warped values of a small New England community, will be shown at Friday Flicks.

Because of the excessive length of the film, it is scheduled for 6:30 and 9:30, in Concert Hall.

The movie, based on the novel by Grace Metalious, is the forerunner of next week's presentation, "Return to Peyton Place."

Television this season tagged on to the success of the two novels and movies that followed. Its ABC serial "Peyton Place" has cornered the ratings to such an extent, that next season it will go from a two to a three nights a week presentation.

By DALE MACKAY

Wednesday's Classic Film, "Olympia," considered the greatest film record of any Olympic Games, was subjected to an intimidation campaign by Hitler's right hand man, Goebbels.

Goebbels objected that anyone outside his immediate authority would be commissioned to film the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin.

In an effort to block production of this athletic record, which shows Jesse Owens winning three gold medals, Goebbels ordered SS men to disrupt camera equipment and harass technical personnel.

In spite of these difficulties, "Olympia" emerged as a magnificent 4-hour record of the games.

John Grierson, documentary film authority, makes this comment: "There have been films on all of the recent Olympic Games, but there was only one great filmed Olympiad, and that was, of course, because Leni Riefenstahl made it."

Leni Riefenstahl, now 63, was Hitler's leading film propagandist and reported to the Fuhrer personally. This so outraged Goebbels that he never forgave her.

Prior to Riefenstahl's commission by the International Olympic Committee to film the 1936 games in Germany, she had, on direct commission from Hitler, filmed the 1934 Nazi Party Congress in Nuremberg.

She transformed the events into a 2-hour spectacle called "Triumph of the Will."

She resigned from war assignments when she protested German atrocities directly to Hitler.

Between 1948 and 1952 Riefenstahl was tried by Allied and German tribunals, and each time the verdict was "no political activity which would warrant punishment for support of the Nazi regime."

Originally an actress, she turned to directing in 1931.

The last two hours of "Olympia" will be shown Wednesday at the Classic Films in TH55 at 3:30 and 7 p.m. Included in this part of the film are the gymnastic, aquatic, skulling and equestrian events. The film ends with the closing spectacle of the games.

Actor's Repertory Theater Presents 'A Streetcar Named Desire' Friday

Russell Holcomb, SJS graduate student in drama, is directing the current production of Tennessee Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire" by the Actor's Repertory Theater.

Holcomb, currently working for an M.A. in drama, won the 1963 SJS Players "Best Actor of the Year" award for his performance in the title role of "Amedee."

He last appeared in A.R.T.'s "Two for the See-Saw."

Holcomb also portrayed the title role of J.B. in the San Jose Theater Guild's production. The production won the best community play last year for the San Jose area.

"Streetcar," A.R.T.'s fifth offering of the season, won the Pulitzer Prize, the Donaldson Award and the New York Drama Critics Award in 1947, first year of production.

The play is the story of Blanche DuBois, who flees the memory of tragedy and scandal in a small southern town. She moves to New Orleans and her sister. But her sensual, crude brother-in-law in a violent, passionate rage cuts off her last chance of escape from the misery of her life.

The production features Jean Serlin in the key role of Blanche. Mrs. Serlin, a former professional stage and radio actress in Chicago, has appeared in leading roles around the community. She was last seen in A.R.T.'s production "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" and "Alice in Wonderland."

Playing the brother-in-law is William Houck, member of the repertory company.

Other cast members are Roberta Viscoich as the sister, Stella; Frank Parker as Mitch. Production staff includes David Sheppard, Stage Manager, Les Lambson, Set Designer, and Geri Heuring, Costume Designer.

Performances will be given Friday and Saturday nights March 19-20, 26-27, at 8:30, 25 W. San Salvador St.

For ticket information call 297-4797 or 297-9913.

tans banged out 15 hits as Sobczak used 26 players and six pitchers in SJS' highest scoring game of the season.

Three home runs were hit by SJS. Left fielder Robin Tomlin hit a three-run shot in the first inning which led to a five-run opening episode.

First baseman Matt Miholovich belted a two-run homer in the second to balloon the score to 7-0. Third baseman Greg Modesti followed a short time later with the long bomb.

Fresno is in town for a two game series. The final game will be played tomorrow at Municipal Stadium beginning at 1 p.m. No starting pitcher has been named for SJS.

Greeks Aid Recruiting Program

The Spartan football program, already deeply involved in an expansive recruiting program, has received help from several of the fraternities and sororities on campus.

Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, and Phi Sigma Kappa fraternities will house 15 high school and junior college athletes who are visiting SJS. Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma Phi Beta, and Alpha Phi sororities have invited the athletes for dinner.

The SJS football coaches held a dinner at the Round Hills Country Club in Alamo Tuesday for all the high school and junior college football coaches from Vallejo to Oakland. A similar dinner was held Wednesday for all the coaches in the San Joaquin Valley.

SJS Wins Tennis Meet

After securing an 8-1 victory over the U.S. Marines on Wednesday, the San Jose State varsity tennis team travels to the University of San Francisco at 2:30 today in search of their fifth consecutive victory.

Although they lost their first individual match of the campaign, the Spartan racketmen maintained their undefeated record with little difficulty.

Left-hander Rich Anderson topped ex-Pepperdine star Doug Clark 3-6, 6-4, 6-4 in the feature match. Bob Murio, the Spartans' free-swinging second man, lost 6-4, 6-3 in singles, but combined with Anderson for a 6-4, 5-7, 6-2 doubles triumph.

Diminutive Yit Louie claimed a 7-5, 6-3 win, while Rod Kop won 6-0, 6-4. Bill Burns and Jack LaFever registered identical 6-3, 6-3 victories.

Swim Star Mike Hansen Also Excels in Water Polo

By ART SIMBURG

"On a swimming team everybody has his own event and is interested in his teammate's progress. In water polo, however, we may be friends outside the pool, but competition for positions is intense."

This view was expressed by junior Mike Hansen, the only starting member of the water polo team who is also participating on the swimming team.

"The high point of my career," said Mike, "was last year when I placed third in the 100 yard free style in the State College Tournament."

"I had been doing well in work-outs, so my teammates decided if Mike can do it, anybody can. Thus we went on to win the State College tournament for the second year in a row."

Mike started swimming as a freshman at Cupertino High School. "I didn't do well, however, said Mike, "until my junior year. My father forced me to swim, but during my freshman year, I was lucky to swim the length of the pool."

"The most humorous swimming incident I ever witnessed occurred when one of my high school teammates jumped out of the pool after two lengths instead of four against Los Gatos High School."

"He got out of the pool, looked around, saw everybody yelling,

The Spartan swimming teams will meet their U.C. Berkeley counterparts tomorrow in the Spartan pool at 11 a.m. "This will be our last and most important meet of the year," said SJS swim coach, Tom O'Neill.

jumped back in, and won the race. After all this, however, he was disqualified for standing on the bottom of the pool."

Mike, who is a lifeguard in the summer, and swims throughout the year, held four records in high school.

He is in the limelight on the swimming team, as he is one of the top men in his event, but he plays a different role on the water polo team.

"Last season," said Mike, "I had the poorest shooting percentage on the entire team, but my swimming ability enabled me to remain a starter."

"Our water polo team was second in the U.S., and I originally thought we could do as well next season. Unfortunately, however, Captain Bill Parker broke both bones in one leg while skiing, and may be in a cast for six months."

"High school water polo is small time compared to college. Teammate Tom Eldridge was playing for Santa Clara High School when our two teams met. The referee was so lax that he just watched while Eldridge and I slugged it out. Later we met again, laughed about it, and we are now the best of friends."

"I attribute my success in water polo to coach Lee Walton. He is a demanding, but appreciative coach. If one slacks off, however, he is warned. If one slacks off again, he finds himself on the second string."

"After I have completed my eligibility in swimming and water polo I may try another sport. An athlete is allowed five years in which to participate, although he can participate only four seasons in one sport."

"I was thinking about football, but I don't want to get hurt. Gymnastics intrigues me, so I am seriously considering it."

Basketball Dropout Roger Werne Finds Home As Pole Vaulter; Sets SJS School Record

Attempt at 16 Feet Foiled By Short Field Assistants

By ART SIMBURG

"I attempted 16 ft., but they had trouble getting the standards up that high and it really hurt me. I cooled off and lost my edge."

The speaker was SJS senior Roger Werne, who had just broken his own school record in the pole vault, leaping 15-6 3/4 in the triangular at Spartan Field Saturday.

Werne, who was selected Northern California field man of the week for his performance, began his career as a freshman at Los Gatos High School.

"I went out for freshman basketball, but I got cut," said Werne, "so I started training for track."

"In my sophomore year I began going to all-comers meets. Here I met former Spartan pole vaulters Jeff Chase, Dick Geer, and Dick Kimmel. Chase had cleared 16 ft. and the other two had cleared 15 ft. all in the same year."

"As a sophomore, I jumped only 9 ft., but I was confident that once I mastered the fundamentals, I could improve."

"In my junior year I jumped 11-4, and as a senior, my 13-6 vault was first in Northern California in the B classification."

After high school, Werne was prepared to enroll at the University of California in Berkeley and major in engineering. "I had all my acceptance papers," said Werne. "The only thing I didn't have was my housing."

"At this point, Bud Winter (SJS track coach) invited me for lunch. I walked into his office and was amazed at the countless pictures of former SJS athletes, including Ray Norton. Far more impressive than this, however, was Bud Winter himself, by far the most knowledgeable man in track and field I know. I had given SJS secondary thought, but after talking to Bud that day, I was sold on coming here to school. In addition, I was aware that SJS has one of the best engineering departments on the West Coast."

In my freshman year at SJS, our team won the national freshman championship. I broke the freshman school record, jumping 14-4 1/2 in a triangular meet with Cal and Oregon. The following Monday I pulled a groin muscle and was out for the year."

"My sophomore year I had a series of minor injuries that kept me from doing my best. Last year I pulled a muscle in the interclass meet, the first meet of the year. I eventually pulled the same muscle three times that season. I was able to jump in the last two meets and got up to 15 ft.

JUST A LITTLE BIT HIGHER—Roger Werne, who set an SJS school record in the pole vault of 15-6 3/4 last weekend, hopes to make 16 feet by the end of the season. Werne will lead the tracksters against Camp Pendleton tomorrow.

"This year I jumped 15-3 3/4 in the Interclass Meet and 15-6 3/4 in the triangular Saturday."

"I'm sure I can make 16 feet in the near future, but there are many factors involved. The pole vault is a long drawn-out event in which a vaulter is capable of only so many good vaults.

"The trick is to start high so you can hit your peak, attempting vaults at difficult heights. Sometimes, however, starting high can hinder your performance."

"I think 16 ft. can win the NCAA because last year the winning leap was under 16 ft., although there were several 16 ft.

vaulters jumping. I would settle for a place in the NCAA, but I want first."

"I began using a fiberglass pole my senior year in high school. The big rush of 16 ft. vaulters came immediately after John Uelses cleared 16 ft. in 1962. All the new stars were using fiberglass poles."

"The fiberglass pole is more dangerous, but I have broken eight poles and have never been hurt. The take off is crucial. It determines where you will land in the pit. If you have a poor take off, you might land out of the pit."

"Brian Sternberg from the University of Washington would have been the best pole vaulter in the world if he had not been paralyzed in a trampoline accident two years ago. He holds the NCAA record at 16-6. Fred Hansen's world record is 17-4 1/2."

Concerning workouts, Roger said he emphasized running and fundamentals. "Two days of the week I jump for height, but the rest of the week is mostly conditioning. Fall track was entirely conditioning."

"As the season progresses, I will start jumping for height in practice every day. I'm also going to start lifting weights."

Roger, who changed his major from mechanical engineering to civil engineering, plans to do his graduate work here, and says he will remain at SJS for several more years.

"I hope to help future pole vaulting aspirants, said Roger, "and possibly work under Bud as a student assistant."

Words from the Eternal Christ

"The Lord possessed me in the beginning of His way, before His work of old. I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or over the earth was. When there were no depths, I was brought forth; when there were no hills, I was brought forth; while as yet He had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the highest part of the dust of the world. When He prepared the heavens, I was there; when He set a compass upon the face of the depth: When He established the clouds above; when He strengthened the fountains of the deep; when He gave to the sea His decree, that the waters should not pass His commandment; when He appointed the foundation of the earth: Then I was by Him, as One brought up with Him; and I was daily His delight, rejoicing always before Him; rejoicing in the habitable part of His earth; and my delights were with the sons of men."

"Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children, for blessed are they that keep my ways. Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not. Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates; waiting at the posts of my doors. For whom findeth me findeth life; and shall obtain favour of the Lord. But He that sinneth against me wrongeth His own soul; all they that hate me love death" (Proverbs 8:22-36)

"I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty. I'm the first and the last. I am He that liveth, and was dead; and behold, I am alive for evermore. Amen; and have the keys of hell and death" (Revelation 1:8, 17, 18)

Won't you accept God's gift of eternal life now? "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today, and forever" (Hebrews 13:8)

Danforth Grants Deadline Nears

Deadline for nominations for the Danforth Teacher Grants for study during 1966-67 is Thursday, April 1. The Danforth Teacher Grant Program, established in 1954, aims to enhance the quality of instruction in American colleges and universities. The grant provides assistance toward the completion of doctoral work for persons currently teaching on the college level.

Grant recipients, free to enroll at the accredited American university of their choice, must be prepared to engage in a 12 month program of graduate study toward the doctorate degree beginning in June or September, 1966, a foundation spokesman said.

The Foundation asks that nominees have a minimum of one year of graduate study, be from 24 to 40 years old and be in at least the second year of teaching in a senior accredited college or university. He must have full faculty status including a minimum of half time devoted to classroom teaching.

The one year award includes stipends of one-half the participant's salary plus one-sixth for each dependent listed on his income tax return. Tuition and official fees will be paid by the Danforth Foundation.

Candidates are nominated by the deans of institutions where they are teaching. Interested teachers should contact Dr. Ted C. Hincley, FO222.

Code Qualifications Require Politics, Parties Register

Qualifications for SJS political parties are defined in the election code established by Student Council in April 1963.

Groups of students, organized for the purpose of endorsing candidates for ASB offices, must submit a registration form to the election board by 4 p.m., Thursday, April 8.

The registration form must include the name of the party, names and ASB card numbers of 25 interested members, the stated purpose of the party, and the names and addresses of the party chairman and two assistants.

The names of all candidates to be sponsored by the party must also accompany the registration form.

Parties must endorse at least three candidates to gain the benefit of campus political advertising.

Each registration is valid for the pending election only and must be renewed each time there is an ASB election.
