Presidential Inauguration Tomorrow

State, National Dignitaries To Honor Dr. Robert Clark

By CAROL CARD

Dr. Robert D. Clark will be inaugurated as the 18th president of San Jose State in ceremonies beginning at 10 a.m. tomorrow, at the Civic Auditorium.

The oath of office will be administered by Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, chancellor of the California State Colleges, during the sixth Founder's Day celebration of the 108-year old college.

Four trustees of the California State Colleges will head the delegation of state education officials. They include Albert Ruffo, vice chairman and former San Jose mayor; Mrs. Philip Conley, Fresno; and James F. Thacher and Louis Heilbron, San Francisco attorneys.

The chancellor's staff will be represented by Norman L. Epstein, chief counsel; Dr. Raymond A. Rydell, vice chancellor of academic affairs; Dr. Alvin Marks, dean of institutional relations and student affairs; George L. Merrill, chief of auxiliary operations planning, and Robert Reardon, director of public affairs.

The California Legislature will be represented by Sen. Clark L. Bradley (R-San Jose) and Assemblymen Alfred E. Alquist (D-San Jose) and George W. Milias (R-Gilroy).

Joseph Pace, mayor of San Jose; A. P. Hamann, city manager, and Howard Campen, Santa Clara County executive, also will be special guests at the inauguration.

Preceding the inauguration, an academic procession led by a joint Army and Air Force ROTC color guard will march from Seventh Street, down San Carlos St., to the auditorium.

Special guests, College Advisory Board members, delegates from nearly 300 colleges, universities and learned societies and SJS faculty in academic regalia will follow in the line of march.

The procession, played by the SJS Symphonic Band under the direction of Vernon Read, assistant professor of music, will be followed by the presentation of the colors and the national anthem.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

After introductions by Dr. H. Brett Melendy, professor of history and chairman of the Academic Council, the SJS a cappella choir, directed by Prof. William J. Erlendson, will present two selections.

They will sing "Salvation is Created" by Tschesnokoff and "Gaudete Omnes" by Sweelinck. "The Bishop Would Be Pleased" is the topic of the inaugural address to be delivered by Dr. O. Meredith Wilson, president of the University of Minnesota and a friend and former associate of Pres. Clark at the University of Oregon.

BIOGRAPHY

The speech title refers to a biography of Bishop Matthew Simpson which Pres. Clark wrote as a part of his extensive research in Civil War history.

Invocation and benediction will be delivered by the Very Rev. Patrick A. Donohoe, S.J., president of the University of Santa Clara, and Dr. Philip W. Barrett, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of San Jose.

Approximately 500 guests are invited to the inaugural luncheon at the Sainte Claire Hotel after the ceremonies.

Luncheon Highlights Annual Alumni Week

The Sixth Annual SJS Spring Alumni Week, held in conjunction with inaugural festivities, will be highlighted by the Golden Grad Luncheon in the campus cafeteria Saturday.

One hundred and fifty persons are expected to attend, according to Rick Buxton, executive director of the Alumni Association.

The luncheon, which honors the class of 1915, will be preceded by a punch reception at 11 a.m. in the cafeteria. Lunch will be served at noon.

Dr. Robert D. Clark will deliver the keynote speech and the Alumni Association will show a slide presentation called "Excellence in Education."

Orchid corsages will be given to the Golden Grad traveling the farthest and to the member representing the oldest graduating class (if they happen to be women).

The Alumni Association was recently engaged in a search for a representative from the oldest graduating class. They contacted Miss Winifred Sledge of 258 Blackstone Ave., Fresno from the class of 1885.

Miss Sledge, 99 years old on March 10, will not be able to attend the luncheon, according to her nephew, Levin A. Sledge, San Francisco.

Faculty Reception Slated To Honor Chief Speakers

Inauguration delegates, faculty members and their wives are invited to attend an informal reception tomorrow afternoon to honor principal inauguration speakers, Dr. O. Meredith Wilson and luncheon speaker, Dr. Gordon Wright.

The reception will be held from 3 to 4 p.m. in the Faculty Dining Room of the Spartan Cafeteria.

President and Mrs. Robert D. Clark will be in the receiving line to welcome guests and introduce Dr. Wilson and Dr. Wright and their wives.

Trustees Meeting

Pisano Seeks Unity, Lauds Dumke Aide

By MARK THAYER

FRESNO — ASB President Bob Pisano took on the state-wide Academic Senate at Friday's meeting of the California State College Board of Trustees.

Pisano came to the aid of Chancellor Glenn Dumke's Director of Governmental Affairs, Les Cohen, after the senate had unanimously expressed "lack of confidence" in the legislative assistant.

Pisano said he was "anxious that the legislative counsel represent all units of the California State Colleges, not one segment above the others."

The professors contend that Cohen is "belittling the faculty in every case" as one representative to the Academic Senate put it.

Charles Luckman, chairman of the Board of Trustees, had just finished a prepared statement on the Academic Senate's move when Pisano interrupted and asked to be heard.

round operations, salary cuts, and credential-major limitation.

Immediately after speaking Pisano was besieged by leaders of the Academic Senate, obviously upset at the student president's remarks.

He told an academic senator from San Francisco State his remarks had been made after consulting five of the 16 student presidents.

Luckman commended the courage of Pisano's statement so close to graduation.

Portrait Unveiling

A three-quarter view portrait of President Robert D. Clark will be unveiled at the inauguration luncheon tomorrow at the Sainte Claire Hotel.

Maynard D. Stewart, professor of art, was commissioned by Student Council to do the oil painting. The project and frame cost $700.

OFFICE UNDERSTAFFED

Speaking as president of the California State College Student Presidents Association he said, "The greatest difficulty is the understaffed office in Sacramento."

Pisano said the student presidents "Fully recognize the right of the faculty to make frank and constructive comments, but we feel an action of this nature at this time can't help but have an adverse effect."

Luckman said, "The Trustees have full confidence in their legislative representative, Mr. Les Cohen."

"We hope that in the future, the Academic Senate will accord to the trustees and the chancellor the same courtesy and consideration with regard to consultation and notice of matters proposed for action as the Senate itself insists that it is entitled to receive from the chancellor and the trustees."

FACULTY BY-PASSED

In a report issued Thursday afternoon a committee of the Academic Senate said, "virtually every major problem of the past two years has arisen in large measure from by-passing of the faculties and the Academic Senate: the joint doctorate, year-

SJS Judokas Convincingly Win Fourth Consecutive NCAA Title

It appears that San Jose State is building a dynasty in judo as the Spartan judokas have won their fourth consecutive national championship in a match at Southern Illinois University Saturday.

Five of the six Spartan participants won first places in their respective divisions. Howard Fish won first place in the heavyweight division; Gary Newquist was second in the 195 pound class; Larry Dobashi won the 180 pound class; Jay Lewis won the 165 pound class; the 150 pound winner was Irwin Kawano, and Yuzo Koga won at 135 pounds.

SJS' winning total was 57 points. Southern Illinois, the host school for both the judo and gymnastics national championships, was second with 30, and Ohio State was third with 13.

Fish defeated Eastern and Midwestern collegiate champion Ron Hoffman. Fish is only a first degree blackbelt whereas Hoffman is a third degree. Fish met Koga for the Grand Championship and Koga threw him.

Defending 150 pound champion, Spartan Kay Yamasaki, hurt his back so Jay Lewis substituted for him. Lewis also defeated an individual with a third degree black belt.

"The other teams have improved," said SJS and U.S. Olympic coach Yosh Uchida, "but our team has improved tremendously since our championship last year. Next year's team should be the best in Spartan history."

Scholarships Open

SJS coeds who are graduates of Turlock High School, Denair High School or Hilmar High School may be eligible to obtain a $250 scholarship for upper division work from the Soroptimist Club of Turlock.

Applications are due on May 7. They may be obtained by writing to the Service and Scholarship Committee, Soroptimist Club of Turlock, P. O. Box 19, Turlock, Calif., or at the office of the Dean of Students, ADM269.

ASB Retreat For Officers Due May 16

On May 16-17 the newly elected ASB officers will meet with the present officials at Asilomar, located on the Monterey Peninsula, for the annual transition retreat.

At that time Bob Pisano, ASB president, will turn over the reins of ASB government to newly elected John Hendricks.

Officially, Pisano leaves office on Saturday, May 15. Hendricks and the rest of the executive and legislative officers will take office.

Chairman of this year's retreat is J. J. Fraser, currently junior representative to Student Council.

The Daily was informed after last week's ASB election that John Hendricks had the benefit of a bloc vote.

It seems that John's mother, Mrs. Frank Hendricks, is an extended day graduate student, John's brother, Frank, is also a graduate student. Bill, John's younger brother is a senior. And of course John is a senior, too.

The result was four votes for John in his successful bid for ASB president.

WORKING HARD at workshop, Julie Anderson, left, is learning a routine from Jeane Warren, head song girl, for song girl try-outs Thursday. The last workshop will be held tomorrow in WG154 from 7-9 p.m.

Special Concert Tonight, Tomorrow

By VIRGINIA CASH

SJS Symphony Orchestra and Men's Glee Club will present a special inauguration concert tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 in Concert Hall.

The concert, open to the public, is being performed in honor of tomorrow's inauguration of President Robert D. Clark.

A special invitation is being extended to delegates of other colleges, universities and learned societies to attend tomorrow evening's presentation.

FLUTE SOLOIST

Miss Sydney Wood, senior music major from San Jose, will be flute soloist for "Night Soliloquy" by Kent Kennan. The orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Gibson Walters, SJS professor of music, will accompany Miss Wood.

Other orchestra numbers scheduled for the program include "Toccata" by Frescobaldi and "Ballet Suite" by Rameau.

GLEE CLUB SINGS

Men's Glee Club, directed by Brent Heisinger, SJS alumnus and now an assistant professor of music, will accompany the orchestra vocally for "The Testament of Freedom" by Randall Thompson.

Thompson composed "The Testament of Freedom" for the 1943 Founder's Day celebration of the University of Virginia. This was in commemoration of the second centennial observance of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, founder of the university.

Composer of "Toccata," Frescobaldi, is considered the greatest genius of Italian organ music. This transcription for orchestra was made by Dutch-American cellist and conductor Hans Kindler.

American composer Kennan won national recognition for "Night Soliloquy." French musician Rameau was a noted harmonic theorist, celebrated organist and great composer of opera.

Editorials

Proud of Our President

On the occasion of the inauguration of Pres. Robert D. Clark, it is proper to reflect on his achievements during the few brief months in office.

A new pulse has been felt throughout the campus in this span of time. A satisfaction with the administration and its policies has been the consensus.

Professors speak highly of Pres. Clark's approach to the educational process. Students boast loudly of the freedom of expression and atmosphere of learning that has continued under his steady hand.

Great pride in an institution that is "going somewhere" has been accelerated.

San Jose has been gifted with a long succession of great presidents. We are pleased that this succession continues.

We congratulate Pres. Clark on his inauguration and applaud him in his leadership of San Jose State.

ASB Outlook Bright

Next year will be a fruitful one in student government if the new officers work as hard as they did during their campaigns.

We congratulate the victorious candidates. It is hoped they will use their power with the responsibility traditional in student government at San Jose State.

At the same time, we congratulate the student body as a whole for this year's record voter turnout.

A strong two-party system has emerged from this election. It is expected that many diverse points of view will be heard in Student Council, in the year to come.

This wider range of philosophy should make government more representative. It certainly will make it livelier.

A Taste of Understanding

International students on campus have truly found the way to the Spartan Heart—through his stomach.

The international food bazaar, held at noon Friday on Seventh Street, sent aromas and music into the air that brought the culture of many foreign lands to our campus.

The large number of students attending the bazaar indicated unqualified success.

If this is the way to understanding among nations, let us have more.

Peace Corps Offers Loans for Juniors

SJS juniors wishing to prepare for post-graduation Peace Corps service during the summer may now borrow up to $600 to help pay their senior year school expenses, according to Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver.

Loan repayment may be deferred until completion of Peace Corps service. The loan program is the product of an agreement between United Student and Fund, Inc.

(USA Fund) and the Peace Corps volunteers Fund, a non-profit foundation established by the Peace Corps National Advisory Council.

The loans may enable more third-year college students to enroll in the Peace Corps Advanced Training Program, a two-phase plan including summer training between junior and senior year and training after graduation.

Writer Challenges Letter Against Daily

I note with some degree of satisfaction, yet with some disgust, that Mr. Burns' letter of April 29 was not a cohesive, logical presentation of a viewpoint, but was merely a collection of sarcasm, bitterness, and name-calling. Rather than clearly refuting an argument, he chooses to label it "blatant Birchism," arising from "enlightened reactionaries," and so on. His only justifiable point concerning signing of newspaper articles was explained clearly by the editorial note.

Surely it should not be necessary to explain to Mr. Burns, as one would explain to a young child, that the proper way to object to a viewpoint is to present a series of arguments against the objectionable viewpoint and a series of constructive articles for your own viewpoint, and that the improper way is to start calling everything you don't like bad names. Although Mr. Burns' methods are somewhat widespread among those of his beliefs, they are nevertheless disagreeable, and I sincerely hope they are not typical of the product of this institution.

Advertiser Claims Letter Misleading

In the Friday, April 23, Spartan Daily there was a letter by Mrs. Marjorie Ann Lester about my advertisement, "The Story Behind the Spardi Statue," which was in Spartan Daily Wednesday, April 21. Her letter was misleading.

She referred to the ad as a "satire." The statue as a school mascot is funny, but the ad is absolutely serious and contains no satire.

Mrs. Lester also said that there is fallacious reasoning and semantical absurdity in my ad. This is false. The reasoning is complicated, and the language is condensed in order to avoid wasting words; therefore, it may not make sense unless it is studied carefully. In many cases, actual proof is too expensive to get, and only circumstantial evidence is available.

Besides this, the severity of the college grading system in some courses and the opposition to science by many experts in the traditional "liberal arts" have been almost immune to attack until recently. Mrs. Lester probably doesn't realize that this attack is now legitimate outside the classroom. So the fallacies and absurdities are in the traditions she has faith in, not in the ad.

Humanities Prof Clarifies Report

You quoted me, as making certain statements about the extent of faculty support for a faculty demonstration. I should have been obliged if you had also reported my emphasis that I had no official information, only "grapevine" rumor (the expression I used) gathered at very short notice. No official figures are available to differentiate between administrative and faculty votes.

Closer inspection of the grapevine suggests that whereas the presidents of all campus faculty organizations supported the idea of such a demonstration, the faculty representatives voting in the academic council were almost evenly divided on the issue. The administrators' negative votes probably were not necessary to tie or defeat the motion.

As of this date, the demonstration is going to take place and faculty who wish to participate presumably will do so without the blessing of their representatives in the council.

Sincerely yours,
Peter H. King,

Professor Corrects Article About Faculty

While the zeal of your reporter can be admired, it seems advisable to set the record straight: contrary to the story carried in last Wednesday's Daily, "the SJS faculty" has no plans for "a mass demonstration."

Really, do you believe that an announcement of a mass faculty action would come from SEE, and not from a faculty group? Even the CCCO, composed of the presidents of five major faculty groups, would presume to speak only for themselves, and not for "the SJS faculty."

The article did contain a germ of truth, in that the CCCO did recommend a plan to the Academic Council whereby faculty members would be asked to wear academic regalia, on a chosen day, in recognition of the vitally important role of the State Colleges, and in order to emphasize the need for greater financial support from the Legislature.

The Academic Council turned down this plan by a vote of 21-11. Since the Council has 33 representatives elected by the faculty and 12 administration representatives, it is clear that (at most) one-third of the faculty representatives voted for the plan. Further, there were at least three administrators who did not vote on this issue. "Administration votes," therefore, cannot be blamed for its failure.

Because of the relatively light faculty support for the idea, and because of the pressing need to work on the other measures, the CCCO, as a group, has dropped the plan to ask faculty members to wear academic regalia as a protest against inadequate financial support for the State Colleges. One of the organizations represented in CCCO still plans to invite interested faculty members to participate in such a protest, but there will be no effort to promote anything like a mass demonstration.

No Traffic Racket—Just People Noise

One of the arguments presented to the city when San Jose State asked to have Seventh Street closed was that the traffic noises disturbed classes. Indeed they did! After Seventh Street closed peace descended and it was possible to hear an entire lecture in the classrooms on Seventh Street—until now. Now Seventh Street has become the social and political center of our campus, and quiet is gone.

Lectures no longer are disturbed by the honking of horns, squealing of brakes, or the roar of an engine; now they are interrupted by rock and roll music, election speeches, pleas for a voluntary poll tax, international music, and speakers calling for excellence in education!

I am not suggesting that such activities be eliminated, but only that they be limited to times when classes are not in session. Please consider those of us who might be in class during these activities.

South Viet Nam Receives Soldiers From Australia

SAIGON (UPI) — Australia's decision to send 800 combat soldiers to South Viet Nam is a major step forward in a long and slow American campaign to get more free world assistance for the anti-Communist war.

A HANDFUL

Only a handful of countries are showing their flag here, and in many cases the assistance is rather insignificant.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officials are particularly disappointed with the slow response from some Asian nations.

When the first battalion of the Royal Australian regiment arrives within the next several weeks, it will be only the second acknowledged combat unit sent to help fight Communist guerrillas.

The other unit is the 9,000 man Expeditionary Brigade of the U.S. Marine Corps.

NEED SECURITY MEN

South Korea has a 2,000 man contingent here that could hold its own on any battlefield. But the Korean unit is an engineering team, although at least half of its personnel are security troops well trained in infantry tactics.

South Korea, the first country besides the United States to weigh in with any sizable assistance of men and arms, also has a 132 man mobile army surgical hospital at Vung Tau, east of Saigon. The Koreans also have several teams of military taekwondo instructors working throughout the country. Taekwondo is a form of judo and karate perfected by the Koreans.

Graduates Appointed

Two recent SJS graduates have been appointed to civilian positions with the Army Special Services.

Miss Sondra Lee Camicia and Miss Judy Carol Griffiths will both work for two years in the position of recreation specialist. Miss Camicia will work in Europe, while Miss Griffiths has been located in Germany, Italy and France.

Polarized People

Outward appearances can be deceiving, for people can be polarized. Religion must be more than skin deep, for "The Lord sees not as man sees; man looks upon the outward appearance, but the Lord looks on the heart" (1 Samuel 16:7). Jesus Christ said, "What comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a man. For out of the heart come evil thoughts, fornication, theft, murder, adultery, coveting, wickedness, deceit, licentiousness, envy, slander, pride, foolishness. All these evil things come from within, and they defile a man" (Matthew 15:17-20).

Jesus Christ reserved His strongest words of rebuke and condemnation for the religious hypocrites of His day, for these men were outwardly extremely religious but inwardly depraved. They constantly misled others who were seeking knowledge of God. Mincing no words Jesus Christ told a crowd of Pharisees they were "like whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but within are filled with dead men's bones and all uncleanness . . . outwardly appearing righteous to men, but within full of hypocrisy and iniquity" (Matthew 23:27-28).

Don't be deceived by polarized people. God is a Person, you can know in your own life and experience. The world is full of religious people but God requires a changed heart. This occurs when any individual personally receives or accepts Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Outward appearances don't count with God, only the inner reality of a changed heart and an indwelling Redeemer who says, "I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and you shall be clean from all your uncleanness, and from all your idols I will cleanse you. A new heart I will give you; and I will take out of your flesh the heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh" (Ezekiel 36:25-27).
Have you let Jesus Christ change your heart?

Alumni Footballers Vs. Varsity, May 15

By KEN ALLAN
San Jose State's Alumni Football team will be gunning for its first win of the four-year Alumni-Varsity series Saturday night, May 15. But alas, it could be another lost cause.

The reason is simple. No one has yet been able to find the right formula for installing a football offense in three hours, which is the time an alumni player has.

Invitations are sent to alumni players for the game and each must respond by mail. "All of those who would like to play," says Athletic Publicity Director John Simmons, "are then sent play books so they will get a general idea of what will be run."

WHO WILL SHOW UP?
Then on the day of the game, the players will "suitup" and go through plays. The whole operation is a little difficult for alumni coaches Bob Bronzan and Bill Hub-

Alpha Phi Omega To Begin Search For SJS UMOG

There is a place for everyone at SJS even the ugly.

The annual Ugly Man on Campus (UMOG) contest sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, begins May 10-14.

Fraternities, sororities and living centers may submit their entries, and the entire student body will decide by penny vote who is the most original and repulsive contestant. The winner will be the entry earning the most pennies.

First place winner will win custody of the UMOG trophy for one year and a 1965 color television set for their living center. Top three entries will each receive a UMOG key.

Entry blanks and more information may be obtained from Jerry Miller, 294-3569 or Bob Rosengard, 292-1470.

hard because neither one of them knows for sure who will show up. According to Simmons, a great many of the players show interest in playing, but because of business commitments are unable to play.

Despite the confusion, the alumni teams have been able to put on quite a show for the six or seven thousand fans who see the game annually.

NO EXCEPTION
This year's game probably will be no exception.

Expected to lead the alumni line are quarterbacks Chen Gallegos and Mike Jones; halfbacks Bob Bonds, Mac Burton, Cass Jackson, Walt Roberts and Jerry Colletto; and fullbacks Johnny Johnson, Tom Doslak and Herb Engel.

At end will be Clarion Apple- doorn, Dave Chaid, Don DeMon- ner, Dan Colchico, Oscar Donahue and Carl Kahn.

Linemen expected to play include tackles Leon Donohue, Walt Fistbrook, Joe Gibbons, Bill Har- rison, Bill Holland, Tony Machutes, Jim Ross, Herschel Sanders and John Sutro.

Guards will be Bob Bass, Jim Cadille, Vince Darone, Larry Har- sen and Tom Myers.

Les Atteberry, Ron Earl, Bob Kroll, Steve Mumma, Stan Tallant and Bob Goss are slated for center positions.

WELL-BALANCED TEAM

It looks like a well-balanced alumni team for 1965, if all the players can make it to the game. However, things will be a little different this year. The reason? Harry Anderson.

He's the new Spartan coach and this is his first game. You can be sure he'll be out to show SJS foot- ball fans their faith has not been misplaced in choosing him as the new head coach.

Total Enrollment: One

On July 18, 1862, registration began at Minns' Evening Normal School, which later became SJS. The only student who applied for admission was Miss P. Augustus Fink.

'The Tower' Spring Issue Has Variety

The spring issue of the Tower, faculty magazine, is an "Inaugural Issue" and is dedicated to Presi- dent Robert D. Clark.

Articles include an evaluation of all campus faculty organiza- tions by Dr. Marion K. Richards; a discussion of the job crisis for engineers by Dr. R. P. Lomba; new proposals for teaching and curriculum by Prof. Gary L. Al- bright and Prof. Albert H. Porter, and a discussion of the contro- versial play, "The Deputy" by Dr. Henry G. Pitchford.

There will also be poems by Dr. Richard G. Tansey, Dr. O. C. Williams and Prof. Nils C. Peter- sen; some short literary pieces by Dr. John Galm, Dr. Theodore J. Balgooyen and Dr. Charles E. Smith.

Editors of the magazine are Dr. James J. Clark, Dr. Fauneil J. Rinn and Dr. Joseph H. Young.

This issue, the third, marks the first time every campus faculty organization has contributed to the costs of publication.

The Board of Directors of the California State Employees Associa- tion voted last week to allocate $175 to help underwrite the costs of publication.

Non-academic personnel who wish a free copy of the magazine may receive one by sending their names and addresses to Dr. James J. Clark, FO108, or by picking up a free copy in the departments of political science, CH146 or English, FO102.

Copies are also on sale at the Spartan Bookstore for students and for college personnel who wish extra copies.

Another Year Old

San Jose State starts its 108th year today.

Spartan ancestry dates back to 1857 and the establishment of Minn's Normal School. On May 2, 1892 the legislature authorized the opening of the California State Normal School in San Francisco. The college moved to San Jose in 1871 and changed its name.

Founder's Day was designated an annual celebration in 1959, two years after SJS marked its cen- tennial.

Academic Regalia—Old Tradition

By SANDIE SANDERSON

Highlight of tomorrow's inaugu- ral ceremonies will be the aca- demic procession in which adminis- tration, faculty, delegation mem- bers and special guests take part, attired in traditional academic regalia.

Heading the procession in the place of honor will be President Robert D. Clark.

The observer should be aware that the academic regalia sym- bolizes an age old tradition in higher education.

The academic gowns are always black and reveal the degree the person possesses. His hood points this out more clearly with an array of bright colors. It also indicates the institution from which the degree was awarded by school colors and in what subject field the de- gree was issued.

SIMPLE ROBE

The bachelors' gown is a rela- tively simple robe, falling in straight lines from a fairly elabo- rate yoke. The long pointed sleeves are the distinguishing fea- tures of the gown. No adornment is worn on the robe.

Masters have two types of gowns. Before 1960 their robes had long sleeves and the arm emerged from the sleeve, through a slit at the elbow. The sleeves hung to the knee and ended in a square shape, with a semi-circle cut into it.

The gown has now been mod- ified. In place of the elbow slit, an opening has been made at the wrist and the robe has been made to close in front. Both types re- main appropriate.

The robe is a straight lined one and has little fullness, and no adornment is worn upon it.

DOCTORS' GOWN

The Doctors' gown is cut much fuller than the other robes and may be adorned with color. The gown is marked by velvet panels down the front and around the neck, three bars of velvet are

DOES THE GOWN MAKE THE MAN?—It certainly does when the gown is traditional academic regalia, representing many years of scholastic work toward an academic degree. Trying on their gowns for tomorrow's procession are (l.) Dr. Dwight Bentel, head of the Department of Journalism and Advertising, and Dr. William Hermanns, professor of foreign languages.

Both the paneling and sleeves worn on the bell shaped sleeves. The paneling and sleeves bars may show the field in which the degree was awarded. Yet ex- cept for dark blue of philosophy and purple of law this is rarely seen.

The cap is black material except in the case of Doctors who are entitled to wear caps of velvet. The tassel worn upon the caps can be black for all degrees. The Doctors may choose to wear theirs made of gold metallic thread. The governing officials of the institu- tion also have the privilege of the gold tassel.

If a college or university chooses, each member of the faculty may wear a tassel represent- ing his field of work by color. This is not often done, and, instead, color is left for the hood to dis- play and create the recognition of the institution from which the degree was gained and the field in which the work was pursued.

The hood bears the heaviest symbolic burden of the academic regalia. Its function is one of iden- tification. The hood notes clear the level of the degree, the field of the degree and the institution which awarded it.

Need a Stamp? Cal Says 'Nope, Pushcart's Faster'

By RAY BURTON

Letters have begun to pour in from all over the nation congrat- ulating Dr. Robert D. Clark on his inauguration as President of San Jose State College.

The letters have taken many various routes including air mail, special delivery and telegraph. One letter, however, has chosen a rather unique means of delivery—pushcart.

The letter was started on its journey by the Brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha at the University of California, and the second lap was completed by the Brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha at San Jose State.

UC LETTER

The letter was written by Charles Powell, ASB President of the University of California, on behalf of the UC student body.

A formal presentation of the letter to Dr. Clark is scheduled for 9 a.m., tomorrow. The push- cart containing the letter will leave the Lambda Chi Alpha frat- ernity house at 41 South 13th St., San Jose, and will be received by Dr. Clark in front of the Ad- ministration Building, just prior to the beginning of the processional march.

PUSHCART JOURNEY

The pushcart left the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house at 1755 LeRoy Ave., Berkeley, at noon yesterday and arrived in San Jose late in the afternoon.

The pushcart will be on display at the Lambda Chi Alpha house today, awaiting its formal presen- tation to Dr. Clark tomorrow.

Historical Documents On Display in Library

The SJS library honors Founders Day and the inaugura- tion of Dr. Robert D. Clark with a series of historical exhibits throughout the library.

These displays range from let- ters and pictures of past SJS stu- dents to autographed works by Edwin Markham, noted SJS alumnus.

The letters and photographs of the past presidents of SJS appear in display cases on the first floor, library central.

A selection of published master's theses of past masters candi- dates from SJS and examples of college publications also are in- cluded in the same exhibit cases.

The publications include several copies of the year book dating back to 1914.

In the lobby of the north wing, first floor, books authored by SJS faculty are displayed. These works include writings from faculty in many academic areas of SJS.

Photographs of famous art works by George E. Stone, emerit- us professor of photography may be seen in show cases on the first floor of the south wing.

On the second floor in the science reading room, an exhibit of early textbooks and educational jour- nals from the San Jose Normal School are shown.

Also on the second floor at the library central corridor is a dis- play of historical mementos such as an 1888 map of San Jose and a silver trowel presented to the is lined with the colors from which the degree is granted. In this manner a glance at the lining which is silk or satin would give the required information since the lining is worn exposed.

A graduate from San Jose State College would wear a hood with velvet in the color of his major field and the lining would be golden yellow and with two white chevrons.

Pres. Clark will wear a doctor's gown with a four-foot hood. The velvet will be dark blue, signifying his doctorate in philosophy. The lining shall be gold with two chevrons being cardinal representing the University of Southern Cali- fornia.

Dr. Scott Accepts Post as Director

Dr. J. Reid Scott, associate pro- fessor of foreign languages, has received an appointment as resi- dent director for the California State Colleges International Program in Spain for the 1965-66 aca- demic year.

Dr. Scott's assignment will cover two campuses in Madrid and Gra- nada. He will act as study adviser and counselor to students and as administrative representative for the State Colleges.

Dr. Scott will join three other SJS faculty members in the over- seas program. Dr. Wesley God- dard, chairman of the Foreign Languages Department, is presen- tly in residence in Aix-en-Pro- vence, France; Dr. Harris I. Mar- tin, associate professor of history is director at Wesco University, Tokyo; and Dr. Joachim A. Sten- zel, associate professor of foreign languages, will become director of the programs in Germany, includ- ing the Free University of Berlin.

Since joining the faculty in 1955, Dr. Scott earned his Ph.D. from the University of California in June, 1952. He has lived in Mexico and is director of NDEA (National Defense Education Act).

Dr. Scott is a member of the Spanish Language Institute, earned his B.A. at San Diego State College and his M.A. at the Uni- versity of California. He also at- tended the University of Madrid

SJS Studio Jazz Band A Rarity

By MICHEL JANICOT

Jazz studio bands are rare in big colleges today. In educational establishments like San Jose State, they are found only where jazz is of such an importance that it becomes a necessity for them to participate in the jazz groove.

Such a band is the SJS Studio Band, also known as the Studio Jazz Band.

This particular group is not new. Started four years ago by Loren Smith, a music major and obvious jazz aficionado, the band has grown and progressed along the road to success.

Smith is no longer with the SJS Studio Band—but his influence still is being felt among the band. (Smith is now serving with Uncle Sam's Korean forces as a first lieutenant). A new man now heads the band: Gene Graves, lecturer and band faculty adviser.

Saturday marks the music department's Second Annual "Day of Jazz," in which the SJS Studio Jazz Band will perform along side world-famous saxophonist and flutist Bud Shank and the Clare Fisher Trio in San Jose Civic Auditorium.

Composed of 18 members, the band is unique in its kind in that the musicians are not necessarily all music majors—but rather come from all majors. Only requirement is that they play an instrument in a satisfactory manner.

This particular characteristic leads Don Schamber, chairman of this year's "Day of Jazz," to believe that "The band exists to give a chance to everyone to play in public, as well as to give the Music Department a plug."

Schamber, a senior music major expecting graduation in June, will be teaching general music at Campbell's Edwin Markham Junior High School in September.

"We (the band) like to be involved in any campus activities that call for our style of music rendition. The trouble is that people don't even know we exist. Publicity has been poor in the past, and our biggest event is the public relations function of the annual 'Day of Jazz,'" he said.

"We primarily play in the San Jose area, in high schools and other colleges also, to try to promote good will. For this reason, we have called those one shots 'Good Will Trips.'

"Our style of jazz is of the concert style. That is, it's more for listening pleasure than for dancing. (Remember Artie Shaw and Benny Goodman?) This new approach is also similar to Third Stream music made famous in recent years by the Modern Jazz Quartet. (Third Stream music is a 'combination' of classical and jazz musics.)

"When playing in concerts, we limit our music appeal to what we think the public will like. Usually, it's some exciting music, not too far-out and we can thus do as many different tunes as we want.

"Response has been hard to develop because the group is not known. But the interest that was shown in last year's 'Day of Jazz' has definitely proven to be successful for the band," Schamber said.

The band now has a faculty adviser (Gene Graves), an innovation added only a year ago. "This is more the up-and-coming thing to do nowadays," Schamber said, "because a music educator such as Dr. Hartley D. Snyder (professor of music and chairman of the Music Department) or Dr. Gibson W. Walters (who will succeed Dr. Snyder as chairman of the department September 1) firmly believe in this area of music education.

"The experience serves as a tool for the music educator at the same time he rounds out his professional education," Schamber said.

"Improvisation is what makes jazz musicians," Schamber continued. "A soloist, in an ensemble, is under solid control of reading the notes on the pages and following the conductor. In a jazz ensemble, the soloist adds his improvisation of chord changes and his solo contains his own emotions and abilities while remaining within the boundaries that the composer and/or arranger has set. It is the purpose of a soloist to enhance the arrangement with his own ideas," Schamber added.

The Second Annual "Day of Jazz" will offer a chance for participating college groups to compete against other groups of similar interests, mainly jazz.

They will perform for the critical public, jazz lovers and listeners. The hardest critical audience will be the other collegiate bands and combos from all over California, listening to each other.

"The festival will also give a chance for educators to observe what's being done here at SJS in the Music Department. We hope everyone will be able to hear what the judges have to say and will use their advice accordingly," Schamber said.

"Bands, not necessarily jazz bands," he emphasized, "are becoming part of music education. Their appeal is prevalent among high school musically inclined seniors who often enroll at SJS for some specific reason: to get into a specific area of the Music Department.

"Take the jazz band," Schamber said. "Out of the 18 members, 11 are playing in the Symphony Orchestra and in the Symphonic Band.

"Our first trumpet, Bill Resch, plays lead trumpet in the Spartan Marching Band and in the Symphonic Band as well. The drummer, Ralph Humphrey, is another jack-of-all trades and plays in the same organizations.

"We also have a couple of student arrangers in the band. This is a real opportunity for them to hear their works being produced," Schamber said.

The SJS Studio Jazz Band is described as Music 150, Small Vocal or Instrumental Ensemble. The course is a two-hour practice period per week, meeting on Tuesday evening for half-a-unit.

This year's festival evening performance starts at 8 in the San Jose Civic Auditorium and promises to be a well-remembered jazz event in the area for some time.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students, with the proceeds going to the Music Department's Scholarship Fund.

Tickets are on sale in front of the cafeteria daily, at the Music Department office (M108) and also will be sold at the door.

Bud Shank; Clare Fischer To Headline Jazz Concert

Bud Shank and the Clare Fischer Trio, Pacific jazz recording artists, will headline the evening concert of the SJS Second Annual "Day of Jazz," Saturday at 8 in the Civic Auditorium.

Tickets are $1 for Students and $1.50 general.

Bud Shank is known in the jazz world for his talents as a saxophonist and flutist. A composer-arranger as well as an instrumentalist, Shank has written scores for three motion pictures; "Slippery When Wet," "Barefoot Adventure" and "Warhunt."

Clare Fischer, a Michigan State graduate, holds a masters degree in both composition and theory.

Fischer is responsible for arrangements done by the Hi-Lo's Dizzy Gillespie and Cal Tjader.

As a composer of serious music, Fischer recently had a composition premiered by the Los Angeles Neophonic Orchestra.

'Day of Jazz' Here Saturday

SJS Music Department will present the Second Annual "Day of Jazz," Saturday in Concert Hall.

Jazz artists Bud Shank and Clare Fischer will act as judges, clinicians and will perform in concert at 8 p.m. in the Civic Auditorium.

The competition, which begins at 10 a.m., is open to the public free of charge.

Participating bands and combos are: Sacramento City College, UOP, Contra Costa College, Mt. Diablo College, San Francisco State, College of San Mateo, Cerritos College, UCLA, San Fernando Valley State and Stanford.

Competition will continue throughout the day and results will be announced around 5 p.m.

The Music Department is sponsoring both morning and evening events in order to finance scholarships for SJS music students.

Evening performances will include appearances by the SJS Studio Band.

First place winners in the large ensemble and combo divisions will also perform.

Trophies for first and second place winners will be presented at this time.

Top Administrator's Job Offers No Bed of Roses

By SUZAN CRAWSHAW

The sign on the door at ADM167 read "President."

It was 8:15 a.m., April 20. As I entered I thought of the happiness of my fellow students knowing that I had made the decision to tell the man on top that college life isn't exactly a bed of roses.

At 8:20 the door opened. A smiling, bespectacled man entered. I recognized him immediately. He was Pres. Robert D. Clark.

He nodded, took off his hat and coat and by 8:30 he was in conference with Lowell Pratt, the college public relations manager. Seeing a robin bouncing on the lawn outside, a token of spring, I decided that my message was urgent. I had to wait.

At 9 a.m. I managed to catch a glimpse of Pres. Clark en route to another conference. It was with Dr. William J. Dusel, vice president of the college.

After the conference I attempted to approach the President again. But he was busy dictating letters and checking mail; I didn't want to impose.

Just before a 10:30 conference with Dean John W. Gilbaugh, Pres. Clark had time for a quick cup of coffee.

I thought that I would surely

PRES. ROBERT D. CLARK . . . busiest man on campus

catch him at 11 a.m. But no, at 11 Pres. Clark was conferring with Richard F. Yoo, assistant to the president.

And at 11:15 he had another meeting. This time with Glen Gutormsen, college business manager; and Dr. G. A. McCallum, head of the Biology Department.

At noon Pres. Clark and Dr. McCallum went to the Spartan Cafeteria for lunch. My hunger pangs beckoned me to the cafeteria also. After lunch I followed Pres. Clark to the Spartan Bookstore, wondering if I would ever have a chance to tell him that students, these days, have too much work.

When he returned to his office Pres. Clark sent a list of book requests to the library and answered invitations to speak at the Spardi statue dedication, Circle K club, and Commencement exercises at Hartnell College.

At 1:30 p.m. he welcomed four dignitaries from Mali.

Between his 2 p.m. appointment with two San Jose businessmen and his 2:30 appointment with Dr. Walter Lobay, a community citizen, Pres. Clark had a chance to squeeze in a meeting with Bob Pisano, ASB president.

At 2:45 Pres. Clark met with a faculty member from the Education Department.

At 3 p.m. I followed him to a meeting of the Applied Arts Division department heads.

Miss Rosemary F. Carr, on-campus visitor from Stockwell College of Education, Bromley, Kent, United Kingdom, conferred with the President at 4:15 p.m.

Pres. Clark left his office at 5:30 p.m. to attend a dinner in the Spartan Cafeteria. The dinner preceded a Bay Area Regional meeting called by Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke and attended by 45 SJS faculty members and community leaders.

At 8 p.m., following the dinner meeting, the group bussed to San Francisco State College, where they met with San Francisco State College faculty members.

Pres. Clark participated in this program as the representative of presidents of State colleges.

He returned to San Jose at 11:30 p.m., concluding a hectic day.

In addition to conferences, appointments and meetings, the phone did not stop ringing. The President spoke to many people, including Dr. Arthur Flemming, president of the University of Oregon; Jim Vaden, San Jose News; and the presidents of the State Colleges at Hayward, Sonoma and San Francisco.

The American Federation of Teachers, San Jose State Local 1362, urges the participation of all faculty in State College Day—Thursday, May 13

A Demonstration to protest Legislative indifference to the needs of the State Colleges

We invite our colleagues to join in all or part of this demonstration in order to force upon the attention of the Legislature and the public the program necessary to provide quality education for the 150,000 students of the California State Colleges. This program includes:

- free tuition for all students
- unlimited enrollment for qualified students
- full participation of faculty in determining educational policy
- a reduced student-teacher ratio
- competitive salaries for faculty (20% increase)
- an adequate sabbatical program
- a reduction in teaching load from 12 to 9 hours
- moving expenses for new faculty members
- research and travel funds for all faculty members
- expanded library facilities
- a binding contract negotiated through representative faculty members

No adequate response to the current crisis has been forthcoming from either the Legislature or the Governor. Governor Brown's proposal of a 10% pay increase is useful only to pacify critics, not to solve any essential problems. For a description of a complete and specific program see the model contract prepared by the San Jose State AFT, being mailed to all faculty members today. We think most faculty members will agree to this program, and we urge all our colleagues to join us in calling upon the Legislature to support it. Participate in the demonstration by teaching your classes in full academic regalia, joining the procession and rally, and coming with us to Sacramento.

SCHEDULE:

1. Teaching classes in full academic regalia, all day
2. Procession across campus to Seventh Street, late morning
3. Noon Rally on Seventh Street
4. Chartered bus to carry demonstration to the capitol in Sacramento, leaving at the conclusion of the rally

Other details will be announced during the coming days. For more information, call extension 2277 or 2128.

The rally was sponsored by Students for Excellence in Education. Whether it is before a student rally of this sort or an informal social gathering, the president has always had to have an appropriate speech ready.

Mrs. Clark Recalls Early Shoestring Days

MRS. ROBERT D. CLARK models 'Special Day' outfit

... SJS First Lady talks to Spartan Daily Reporter Vicki Reed.

By VICKI REED
"We lived on a 'shoestring,' and we struggled working our way through college, but we don't regret a moment of it," the chic silver-haired wife of San Jose State College's president, emphasized in a recent exclusive Spartan Daily interview.

The former Pasadena College coed met Dr. Robert D. Clark when he was working as a hotel night clerk and taking part-time odd jobs to stay in college during the grim depression years.

"It was a struggle, even though there wasn't the pressure for buying cars, boats and stereo sets that college couples now face," she admits.

"One year we lived on about $75 per month and Mr. Clark did gardening to pay for our small apartment. Of course, lamb chops cost only 5 cents and everything was much cheaper," the First Lady of SJS recalled.

LEARNS TO SEW

"In those years I learned to sew because I couldn't afford to buy anything. Then when the girls started growing up I made their clothes," she revealed.

Her stylish aqua blue and yellow weave suit, of imported Italian angora, which she tailored for the Inauguration and luncheon, follows the line of a Vogue pattern, Paris Original. The flowered imported mirage-over-taffeta, aqua gown she has selected for the Inauguration Ball is also her own creation.

Looking back on the depression years, World War II, and personal trials and tribulations, Mrs. Clark philosophizes, "You can either let the experiences in life build a better life for you or you can let them get you down."

CAREER OF TEACHING

The president's wife has managed that controversial balancing act. She has followed a career of teaching and still contributed the past 33 years to being a wife and mother. The president and his wife were married in 1932 after they both had their bachelor's degrees. She started to work while he continued for his master's and doctorate.

"The most important thing in marriage is unselfishness. Recognizing and encouraging the personal potential and the talents and interests of the other person is all-important. I see no line between a woman's and man's world—each partner needs to be willing to give at all times, and never lose sight of their mutual ambitions."

SHARE HOBBIES

Eight years past their silver wedding anniversary, the Clarks still find time to share hobbies and interests, as well as goals. They especially enjoy hiking, exploring, art and music.

Some of their most coveted possessions include indoor and outdoor sculpture. They are constantly visiting campus and community art exhibits.

"If a piece of art strikes a response in us by color and mood—that's what we buy. I guess we are pretty typical," the president's wife remarked. "Actually, we are rather conservative in our taste, but once in a while we like something very 'way out,'" she added.

ENGLISH MAJOR

Mrs. Clark majored in English and minored in sociology. "A woman's education is very important. There is no reason for girls to marry and become neurotic, bored with four walls, diapers, cleaning and dirty dishes. An education helps you to extend yourself, find meaning, and recognize your potentials in many areas," she says. She is especially enthusiastic about a liberal arts background. "A well-rounded education is of upper most importance. Fields that we have not even imagined may

THREE DAUGHTERS

The Clarks have three daughters, all of them interested in education. Sue who eloped while in college, has a five-year-old son who is the "spittin' image of Dr. Clark." She teaches French.

Their second child, Virginia, is now at the University of Oregon at Eugene and plans to be married this June. She also plans to teach French.

The "baby" in the family, Laurelle, will start her college education at the University of California at Santa Barbara next semester. She plans to major in music and voice and eventually obtain her secondary teaching credential.

SJS Gallery To Feature Californians

An exhibition of California painting and sculpture will be on display in the College Art Gallery through May 14 as part of this week's special inaugural activities.

Represented in this invitational exhibition are California artists who have received national recognition and who are particularly noted for their work in the temporary idioms.

Among the distinguished artists participating in the show are the painters Hassel Smith, John Paul Jones, Joyce Treiman, Ynez Johnston, Keith Boyle, Llyn Foulkes, Tom Holland, Fred Martin, David Simpson, James Strombotne and John Altoon.

A list of the exhibiting sculptors includes Bruce Conner, Tony DeLap, Charles Frazier, Edward Keinholz, Manuel Neri, Robert Hudson and Charles Mattox.

Along with the examples of pop, op and hard edge included in the exhibition are other tendencies in contemporary art which proclaim the individualistic character of many California artists.

The Art Gallery, located in the Art Department building, is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays, and from 1:15 to 5 p.m. on Sundays during the run of each exhibition.

New President Top Educator

Dr. Robert D. Clark, 54, was named president of San Jose State by Trustees of the California State Colleges on June 30, 1964. Announcement of the appointment was made by Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke of the State College system.

Pres. Clark, a native of Nebraska, assumed his post this fall as the 18th president of century-old SJS. He succeeds Dr. John T. Wahlquist, who retired and now remains on campus as president emeritus and professor of education.

At the time of his appointment to the presidency, Pres. Clark had been a faculty member at the University of Oregon for more than 20 years and had achieved national recognition as a professor of speech.

EDITOR

Prior to his affiliation with the university, he was editor of the Journal of the Western Association of Teachers of Speech and president of that organization.

In 1956 the University of Oregon appointed Dr. Clark dean of its College of Liberal Arts, a position he held until his appointment as dean of the faculties in 1961.

As dean of the faculties, Pres. Clark was responsible directly to University Pres. Arthur S. Flemming, former secretary of health, education and welfare in the Eisenhower administration.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Pres. Clark's responsibilities included development of educational objectives and implementing approved plans and programs for the university. In this capacity, he was Pres. Flemming's principal assistant for academic affairs and faculty matters.

During his tenure at the university Pres. Clark was instrumental in adoption of the Advanced Placement Program.

University of Oregon Pres. Flemming, upon learning of Dr. Clark's appointment to SJS last June, said, "The University of Oregon extends to Dean Clark its best wishes as he undertakes his new responsibilities. Our loss is San Jose State College's gain. I know that he will be recognized as one of the nation's superior college presidents."

The president is a graduate of Pasadena College, where he received his A.B. degree in 1931. He was awarded his M.A. and Ph.D. at the University of Southern California.

Before going to Oregon, Pres. Clark was on the faculties of Pasadena College, Stockton Junior College and College of the Pacific.

FELLOWSHIP

Following a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1950-51, Pres. Clark wrote "The Life of Matthew Simpson," a biography of a Methodist bishop and orator, published by Macmillan and Co. in 1951.

Members of the Clark family include his wife, Mrs. Opal R. Clark, and three daughters, Mrs. Suzanne C. Gillespie, wife of a Marine officer stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif.; Virginia, a graduate student at the University of Oregon; and Laurelle, a Del Mar High School student.

Many Presidents Have Led College

During its 108-year history, San Jose State College has had 17 presidents. In the early days of the college as Minns' Evening Normal School and California State Normal School, the top administrators were called principals.

Of the 17 presidents only four served more than 10 years. The longest tenure of service was that of the late Dr. Thomas W. MacQuarrie, who was president for 25 years, 1927-1952.

Five of the presidents served for only one year, and three of the presidents were designated as acting presidents.

In the 20th century alone, seven men have served as president, although three of these were acting presidents. Three of the presidents—Morris E. Dailey, Dr. MacQuarrie and Dr. John T. Wahlquist—have a combined total of 56 years service in this century.

Volleyball Deadline Approaches

Tomorrow noon is the deadline for all intramural mixed doubles volleyball entries. Participants are requested to take entries to MG 121.

Friday morning at 10:30, 132 golfers will begin teeing off in the Annual Intramural Golf tournament at the Santa Teresa Golf Course. All participants are asked by Intramural Director Dan Unruh to check the intramural board in the Men's Gym for playing times.

Noon Friday May 7 is the deadline for all intramural individual and team entries.

David Campbell pitched his third shutout in four games Thursday as Pi Kappa Alpha defeated Sigma Pi 16-0, and Jim Pryor hit a bases loaded single in the first extra inning to give Alpha Tau Omega a narrow 5-4 win over Theta Chi.

In other fast-pitch games, Theta Xi defeated Phi Sigma Kappa 5-1; Delta Upsilon shut down Sigma Chi 16-9; Lambda Chi Alpha overpowered Sigma Alpha Epsilon 7-4 and Sigma Phi Epsilon scored 14 runs in the third inning to upend Delta Sigma Phi 17-3.

Four scores were reported in the slow-pitch fraternity league—Delta Epsilon 7, Pi Kappa Alpha 3; Theta Chi 5, Kappa Sigma 1; Sigma Alpha Epsilon 5, Sigma Nu 3; and Alpha Tau Omega defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon 6-1.

Shooting Stars Descend on Farm; Indians Say 'Ugh'

Thursday afternoon the San Jose State rifle team pulled a surprise upset by defeating Stanford 1380 to 1367. This would have been its last meet of the season but the victory put the San Jose team into a tie for third place with U.S.F. A sudden death shoot-off will be held this week to decide the third place winner.

San Jose marksman Ron Tambussi led the team with a 284, high score of the match. Anchor man John B. Ankunding posted a 281. George Harmon and Gary Ogley both shot over their average and scored 280 and 269 respectively. Bob Leverton filled the team score with a 266.

Long Baseball Season Finally Comes to an End

By KEN ALLAN

San Jose State's varsity baseball team winds up the 1965 season this afternoon at 3 with righthander Gary Strom scheduled to pitch against the San Diego Marines at Municipal Stadium.

The game marks the end of a long season for the Spartans who got off to a slow start and played just below the .500 mark throughout the rest of the year.

SJS will take a 12-22 record with them going into this afternoon's game, far off the 1965 finish of 20-20.

Friday the Spartans traveled to San Francisco for a two-game set with the Dons. SJS lost 'em both, 5-0 and 1-0. It was a sunny day for the Spartans until the Dons climbed aboard the bandwagon for four runs in the fourth inning of the first game. In that game, USF took advantage of four walks and two errors to tally four unearned runs at the expense of pitcher Frank Pangborn.

Spartans in the final game, 1-0, by combining a single, a throwing error and another single to score its lone run.

San Jose's freshman team finished its season Friday on a rather sad note, losing to Santa Clara 7-1 on the Bronco's field.

The Spartababes, who were flattened by Santa Clara 19-0 earlier last week, collected eight hits but were unable to get any mileage out of them.

McPherson New WCAC Chairman

Walt McPherson, chairman of the SJS Men's Physical Education Department, former Spartan Athletic director, and head SJS basketball coach for 17 years, was unanimously elected Commissioner of the West Coast Athletic Conference (WCAC) at the annual WCAC league meeting held last Thursday and Friday (April 22-23) in Santa Barbara.

McPherson succeeds Bob Burnett who resigned due to outside business pressures.

As commissioner, McPherson's first duty will be appointment of a Supervisor of Officials, a post newly created by the league.

CHRISTMAS BASKETBALL
The Christmas basketball tournament which enjoyed its greatest success at SJS was again awarded to SJS on Dec. 27-30. Discussion of the adoption of a letter of intent (early indication of where a student plans to attend school) was postponed for one year.

Officials salaries were increased to correspond with current salaries of the Pacific Intercollegiate Officials bureau.

Weed Runs Top U.S. Time

Despite a slow track and a nagging wind, Spartababe George Weed ran the best freshman three-mile time in the nation (14:22.7) and Wayne Hermen in the 220 (21 flat), Mike Gibeau in the mile (4:08.7) and Joe Neff in the 880 (1:50.5) all set stadium records as the Spartan tracksters swamped Hayward State and Sacramento State in a non-scoring triangular at Sacramento Saturday.

The track conditions were so poor that the water from the steeplechase event overflowed and washed out the baton exchange in the 440-yard relay. Consequently, SJS overran the line and was disqualified.

Neff, performing in front of his home crowd, also anchored the winning mile relay (3:18.4) in 48.3, holding off the surge of his friend and former teammate at American River Junior College, Al Biancani.

Neff and Gibeau, rated by coach Bud Winter as equals in the 880 and mile, now have both run 48.3 for their fastest mile relay legs.

Gibeau, whose 1:49.3 880 is the third best time in SJS history, is now the second fastest miler in Spartan history.

Tom Smith, Terry Doe, and Craig Fergus didn't compete in the meet. All had minor injuries and will be ready for the West Coast Relays next weekend.

Phil Darnall won the steeplechase in 9:37 and Dave Steeplechase in 9:38. Clyde Wooten was third in the 440 at 50.2.

Hermen won the 100 in 9.6 and Lloyd Murad was second in 9.9. Tim Knowles was second in the 220 at 22.5 and Tom Gardner was second in his heat at 22.4.

Bud Noether was third in the high hurdles at 15.2 and had his best-of-life in the 330 intermediate, 39.1. Ken Shakelford was second in the steeplechases at 38 flat and Bob Baughman, who won the javelin (216-6½), was third at 38.5. Bob Brown was second in the javelin (201-10).

Spartababe Walt Channels was second in the 880 at 1:53.8 and Owen Hoffman was fourth in 1:54.9.

Lester Bond, who didn't compete in the long jump, suffered his first defeat of the season in the triple jump, as Sacramento State's Henry Lawson won with a leap of 50-6. Bond was second, jumping 49-10. Bob Akers won the discus at 169-8½ and John Thompkins was third at 156-3.

Spartababes Bill Fowler and Jim Fort won the high jump (6-4) and broad jump (23-2), respectively. Roger Werne won the pole vault, leaping 14-6.

Pat Kelso was the winner in the shot put at 54-2½ and Charlie Hahn was second at 52-4.

The tracksters will participate in the 440 relay, 880 relay, mile relay, and distance medley at the West Coast Relays in Fresno next weekend. Students interested in attending the relays will have to send for tickets if they wish to have good seats.

Political Party Guilty; No Penalty for Violation

ASB Chief Justice Clifford Steele said Friday that the "ASB Judiciary decided that UNICOL (United Collegians, campus political party) has violated the letter of the election code but not the spirit."

ASB Judiciary reprimanded UNICOL "but," said Steele, "there will be no formal penalty."

UNICOL was found guilty of violating section IV, D, 2 of the election code, April 20, by the ASB Election Board seven days before the election.

That section of the election code states that campus political parties must notify the Student Activities Board (SAB) of their intention to distribute political handouts.

ASB Judiciary is writing a letter to ASB Election Board recommending an interpretation of the word "notify." "This should mean," said Steele, "a personal contact."

UNICOL representatives felt that SAB was notified of its intention to distribute handouts when the party filed a registration form with the election board.

ASB Judiciary hopes their recommendation will set a precedent for future elections.

Tickets Available For Phi Kappa Phi Honors Banquet

Tickets are now available at the Student Affairs Business Office, B1, for a banquet honoring more than 150 students named to membership in the national honor society, Phi Kappa Phi. The banquet will be on Wednesday, May 12 at 6 p.m. in cafeteria A and B.

Initiation of the members will take place at 4 p.m. that day in Concert Hall. Dr. Robert D. Clark, SJS president, will also be initiated in the ceremony.

Phi Kappa Phi is a scholastic society founded in 1897. The objective is to honor graduate and under graduate members of all departments of universities and colleges and the emphasis is on scholarship and character.

The initiation is open to the public.

Speaker at the banquet is Dr. Peter Koestenbaum, associate professor of philosophy. He will speak on "et in Arcadia Ego."

'Spartan Songs' In Bookstore

"Spartan Songs," an 80-page collection of standard sing-a-longs plus San Jose State College fight songs and the Alma Mater, is now on sale in the Spartan Bookstore.

The pocket-size songbook was compiled by Dr. Forrest Baird, professor of music and education. The songs were selected by members of his recreational music classes.

Two Students Jailed In Combination Raid

Two SJS students were arrested early Friday morning and charged with malicious mischief, as the result of a combination of water fight-panty raid.

Jailed were Robert J. Milos, 22, a graduate student, and Ronald F. Bykowski, 21, a senior. Both live at 785 1/2 S. Eighth St.

Campus plainclothesmen who arrested them say they were dousing rooms in Hoover Hall with a fire extinguisher.

According to officers, Milos and Bykowski were among about 40 youths who milled around the rear of the women's dormitory at 325 S. Eighth St. About 100-125 youths were in the area, according to officers.

"Matters began to get out of hand as male students attempted to remove screens from windows and enter buildings," said SJS officer Louie Anderson. He added that the girls made matters worse.

"Numerous bras, panties, and other articles were dropped to the male students below," said Anderson.

Supervising Security Officer Frank Schoff said the girls "were begging for trouble." He termed the action of all involved "ridiculous."

Housing Coordinator Robert L.

Baron said he plans to discuss the matter with the chairman of the Inter-Dorm Council. "I don't object to the water fight," he added, "but the students don't know when to stop."

Schoff said shrubs were trampled and rooms damaged by water.

Linda McClure To Lead Women Students at SJS

Linda McClure, junior social science major, is new AWS president and Nancy Hanlon holds the first vice presidential position.

Second vice president is Julie Jones. Secretary is Pam Arlett, treasurer is Barbara Saunders and judicial board members are Louise Noble and Anita Kowan.

Miss McClure, 1,136, defeated Claire Border, with 639 votes. Miss Hanlon, 817, defeated Vicki Bergez with 791 votes. Julie Jones, 933, won over Sharon Guenzia with 668 votes.

Miss Arlett received 600 votes to defeat Judy Nielson, Judy Long, and Charmaine Warnock. Miss Saunders defeated Carol Palm and Cathy Buchanan with 745 votes. Judicial board winners Miss Noble, 1,051 votes, and Anita Cowan, 822 votes, won over Charlene Ciresse.

The new AWS President is from Montebello, and was a member of AWS community service committee. She served on the AWS judicial board this spring and is a member of Phrateres International, a service organization.

The new first vice president is a junior social service major from Upland.

AWS election results did not appear in Friday's Spartan Daily because of computer programming difficulties and the final counting was not completed until after deadline.

Student Receives Award for Mali Dance Program

Abitaye Traore, student from Mali, was presented with a gift certificate, and representatives of the top donor groups in the Campus Blood Drive received trophies at an International Talent Show held Thursday night.

Traore had performed two dances from his country and had sung a folk song during the program. Several other acts were featured, with special entertainment provided by the Shady Grove Singers, a folk quartet currently playing at Ricardo's pizza house.

Announcement of the winners in the Blood Drive contest was made by Al Massoni, drive co-chairman. Massoni stated that 315 pints had been donated in the drive, a record for spring semester donations.

Trophy for top dormitory donor went to Moulder Hall, while AFROTC took top honors in the non-fraternal category. Sigma Kappa had the highest percentage in the sorority division, and Alpha Tau Omega won in the fraternity division.

Faculty Members Schedule May 13 For Campus Rally

SJS faculty members of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) will conduct a three-pronged demonstration to protest "legislative indifference" Thursday, May 13.

The AFT is designating that day as "State College Day" and will dress in full academic regalia during the day, as part of the demonstration.

At 11:30 a.m. Thursday, the AFT faculty dressed in their robes, and any colleagues who may join them, will form a procession which will wind through most of the campus and end on Seventh Street with a rally.
