

Professors March Thursday; Support Rallies Start Today

By MARK THAYER
What may be the largest and most intense series of student-faculty demonstrations in SJS history start this afternoon at 2:30 on Seventh Street.

The demonstrations, in support of "State College Day" called by the SJS local 1362 of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) will end with a rally at 11:15 a.m. Thursday on the SJS campus and a demonstration at 3:15 p.m. Thursday on the steps of the capitol in Sacramento.

Dr. John Galm, secretary of the AFT College Council, predicted "at least 200" faculty members will wear full academic regalia Thursday to point up the problems faced by the state colleges.

MEET LEGISLATORS

Two meetings will carry students and faculty members to Sacramento for the rally and to meet with individual legislators later in the afternoon.

A booth, to be manned by AFT members, is set up today on Seventh St. to take the names of students interested in making the Sacramento trip.

This afternoon the principle activity will be dancing to the music of the G.D.I.'s and short speeches outlining the week's events.

The rally this afternoon is expected to last for about one hour. Tomorrow night SEE will sponsor a dance between the men's and women's dorms. The G.D.I.'s will perform.

Thursday a procession of faculty members will form at 10:30 in the art building quadrangle.

From the art quad the faculty will march to Seventh Street. They will turn right on Seventh Street to San Fernando and left on San Fernando to the walkway between the library and the speech and drama building.

The line of march will then proceed past Centennial Hall and the Spartan Bookstore to Seventh and right on Seventh to the speaker's stand at the south end of Seventh Street.

RALLY SPEAKERS

Among the faculty speakers at the rally after the march will be Dr. John Sperling, AFT President and associate professor of humanities; Dr. Roland Lee, professor of English; Dr. Gladys Gilmore, professor of history; Dr. Richard Tansey, professor of art; and Phil Whitten, president of Students for Excellence in Education.

AFT called the demonstration to get support for their program of quality education in the California State Colleges.

The AFT program includes free tuition for all students, unlimited enrollment for qualified students, a reduced student-teacher ratio, an adequate sabbatical program, and a binding contract negotiated through representative faculty members.

SACRAMENTO ACTIVITY

After small group discussions with the legislators SEE will organize a special program for the students. The faculty will attend a press conference.

A delegation of 20 representatives from Sacramento State will meet the SJS delegation along with faculty members from San Diego, San Fernando Valley and San Francisco State Colleges.

Cal State at Los Angeles and Long Beach are also sending representatives to Sacramento.

Hendricks Elected V.P. of CSCSPA

By MIKE NEUFELD
FULLERTON — ASB President-elect John Hendricks was elected vice-president of the California State College Student President's Association (CSCSPA).

Ernie Kinney, ASB president at Fresno State, replaced Bob Pisano, ASB president, as president of CSCSPA.

The student presidents heard an address by State College Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke. For more than two hours after his address Dr. Dumke answered questions from the ASB presidents.

On the possibility of a tuition in the California state colleges, Dr. Dumke said, "A full head of steam is being built up in favor of tuition."

"The Trustees are going to hold onto the no tuition status as long as they can," Dr. Dumke stated.

Considerable time was spent discussing Assembly Bill 853 which was introduced by Assemblyman Don Mulford (R) of Alameda County.

Mulford's bill would make using the name of a California state college without consent of the board of trustees a misdemeanor.

CSCSPA delegates passed a resolution opposing the adoption of AB 853 by the Senate.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to members of the Senate and to Governor Edmund G. "Pat" Brown.

The committee on student affairs introduced a resolution supporting the Coordinating Council for Higher Education's recommendation for a 6.2 per cent increase in non-student tuition.

In addition to the resolutions, CSCSPA members reorganized that body's structure by adding a vice-president in charge of coordinating state-wide programs.

CSCSPA also approved a higher membership fee for the coming year. A three-year plan to raise CSCSPA membership fees to set the total CSCSPA budget at $13,300 annually will be discussed at the group's next meeting in Fresno.

More Difficult

Chem Course Reorganized

By JERRY HENRY
Standard college courses of the future may be more difficult and complex if the new SJS pre-professional chemistry course presentation is an indication of how student interest and achievement picks up under such conditions.

The pre-professional chemistry course, for lower division biology, physics and chemistry majors, was changed three years ago to make the course more interesting to students and give them a better foundation in the subject. The change was initiated by Dr. Ruth P. Yaffe, SJS associate professor of chemistry, who wrote new lab books for both the first and second semesters of the course.

The changes were implemented mostly in the laboratory part of the chemistry class but lectures have also been reorganized to follow laboratory subjects. "The main problem with the old course was that it was too easy at first. Students became bored, developed poor work habits and a bad attitude toward the lab. When the work became more complex later in the semester, students did a poor job of keeping up," Dr. Yaffe said.

In reorganizing the course, Dr. Yaffe presented students with more difficult and complex lab problems which still covered the basic review of high school chemistry that previously had bored them.

"Another important change was to arrange the topics of study in a more logical order so the student could see the final goal or objective of study at the beginning of the class," Dr. Yaffe explained.

Students now start off the course by studying the elements

Fall Culture Plans Tonight At Meeting

A meeting will be held today for those who wish to help plan and be host for some of the proposed cultural programs for next fall.

It will be in CH162 at 7:30 p.m. Chairmen from the various ASB committees will be on hand to describe proposed programs and urge that enthusiastic students attend.

"There has been a problem getting people to join these committees," said Ronald Jue, chairman of the Visiting Scholar Committee.

"Many people aren't aware that these committees are open for everyone to join."

"People will especially be needed to host a possible symposium," Jue said. Possible symposiums would be on film-making and compulsory miseducation.

The symposium on film-making would explore the approaches which prominent independent filmmakers are taking to create an art form. Leading producers, directors, film technicians and movie stars would be asked to participate.

Dr. Peter Koestenbaum will be considered in giving a series of talks and films on "Existential Cinema."

The symposium on compulsory miseducation would explore the basic issues in education.

Pres. Robert D. Clark will be the guest speaker for the fourth annual Honors Convocation tomorrow in the patio area behind the Home Economics Building.

The event is scheduled to start at 10:30 a.m. and all classes meeting at that time are cancelled.

"Beethoven March," opus 144, by Beethoven, conducted by the SJS Symphonic Band under the baton of Vernon B. Read, assistant professor of music, will start the ceremony.

Dr. Pete Zidnak, professor of business, will then present the honor students.

This year, there are 347 honor students, 26 of whom are on the President's Scholars List. Those students are those who have maintained a straight 4.0 GPA. The remaining 321 are listed as Dean's Scholars with a 3.5 or better GPA.

The commendation of the honor students will be done by Vice-President William J. Dusel.

CER Members Mad At Pisano for Veto

We the undersigned protest the action of ASB President Bob Pisano vetoing the campus recognition of Collegians for Educational Responsibility (CER). We feel that CER would be a valuable addition to the campus community. To date it is the only organization of its kind to form on this campus which promises to give everyone, regardless of political affiliation, a chance to work for superior academic achievement through responsible cooperation with the college administration.

CER's purpose, as stated in the preamble to its constitution, is "to promote the improvement of quality in higher education through recognition of better educational methods and responsible academic freedom." Such a group certainly deserves campus recognition. Failure by the ASB to recognize CER would seem to demonstrate an apparent attempt to discriminate against an important segment of the student body in particular and the best interests of the campus community at large.

Demonstrators-To-Be Encouraged by SEE

Courage is something all men respect but very few can define. What we can do, however, is view a specific instance and ask whether the participants were courageous. Let us then apply this to those faculty members who will be demonstrating Thursday, May 13.

First, what are they demonstrating for? According to their only official announcement (the advertisement in the Daily of May 3), they list the most important points. In fact their demand for competitive salaries is FIFTH on the list. So, are their demands in their self-interest or rather that of the students and the system?

Then it might be said that it shows no courage to demonstrate for something that the vast majority supports. The truth is that although all faculty members support some or all of the points as stated in the advertisement, how many will be demonstrating? I am afraid that of these men (and women) we have revered and respected, only a minority will stick by their convictions.

There are members of our faculty who will sacrifice their time and energy, who will stick by their convictions, and believe it is time for faculty action. To these people I humbly offer my gratitude and respect. More important, the students of San Jose State must admire your demonstration of courage.

Professor Announces Address to Council

I have asked permission, which may or may not be granted, to address the Academic Council briefly at its next meeting regarding a proposal for fundamental rehabilitation of the Business Division.

Under our current rules as I understand them it is unprofessional conduct per se to report on the Council's meetings. Hence I here advise any interested colleagues of my intention to speak, since every faculty member is entitled to attend, to listen, and with the Council's permission to speak.

My own concept of democracy includes the importance of widespread dissemination of viewpoints, especially at times of crisis such as higher education now faces. Hence the present announcement of my intention to address the Council.

WEEKEND RIOTING PROTESTS ARREST
NEW DELHI — Life in the Kashmir capital of Srinagar was reported normal Monday after a weekend of rioting to protest the arrest by India of the "lion of Kashmir," Sheikh Abdullah. Six persons have died since the sheik was arrested early Saturday and accused of "hob-nobbing with China and Pakistan against India." Scores have been injured and about 100 of the sheik's followers have been arrested.

In Karachi Monday, 200 banner waving students and pro-Kashmir Moslim demonstrators called for the release of the sheik outside the office of the Indian high commission.

INVESTIGATION OF HATCH ACT WELCOMED
WASHINGTON (UPI) — John W. Macy Jr., chairman of the Civil Service Commission, said Monday he welcomed a study of the Hatch Act which governs political activity by federal employees. Sen. Daniel B. Brewster advocated fuller participation in political activity by federal employees. He said it would benefit both parties.

De Gaulle's Friendliness to USSR Is Met With Mixed Comments

By WELLINGTON LONG
United Press International
BONN (UPI) — French President DeGaulle's flirtation with the Soviet Union and certain East European Communist governments both frightens and fascinates his German neighbors.

Former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who spent 14 years trying to cement West Germany and France firmly together so one side could never again join the Russians against the other, feared his work will be undone. Adenauer's successor, Ludwig Erhard, shared Adenauer's concern. Yet Erhard was anxious to seek a tie up with Communist China and was restrained only because he doesn't want to appear to be undercutting

American President Johnson while the Viet Nam war is increasing in ferocity.

SEEKS MOSCOW TALKS
West Berlin Lord Mayor Willy Brandt, who hoped to lead the opposition Social Democrats to victory over Erhard in the September parliamentary elections, said if he does form a federal government he will immediately seek to talk with Moscow about German reunification.

They hope to convince voters they could succeed where others have failed.

NO ENCOURAGEMENT
So far the Russians have offered the Germans no encouragement. While flirting outrageously with France, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has not even replied to Erhard's suggestion that he pick up the invitation to his predecessor, Nikita S. Khrushchev, to visit Bonn this year.

Adenauer and Erhard were so concerned at De Gaulle's moves to improve Franco-Soviet relations that they wrote him letters about it. The French president replied he intended to carry on despite their anxieties because he believes that only thus can the division in Europe be healed.

Flamer and Lefler Tie for Golf Title

Defending champions had a tough time Friday in the annual Intramural Golf Championship at Santa Teresa Golf Course.

Not a single titlist repeated. Steve Flamer of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and John Lefler of Sigma Phi Epsilon tied for the low gross crown with 74's. No date has been set for the playoff, although Intramural Director Dan Unruh will try to get the pair matched this Friday.

Dave Means and Hank Korman of Delta Upsilon also tied for first place in the Low Net division with 70's. However, since both players are from the same house, no playoff will be needed.

Sigma Epsilon won the team championship with a low of 423. Sigma Nu placed second with 434 and defending all-college champion Hodas wound up third with a 443. The mixed doubles volleyball tournament continues tonight in the PER building beginning at 6:30.

"He was a good player in college," said Bronzan, "but had not yet reached physical maturity. I thought if he made the pros at all, it would be on defense, but he surprised everybody."
