Pisano's reasoning for the veto of the Homecoming budget was an $85 item for a homecoming awards banquet. The veto message pointed out that no other ASB committee has been allocated funds for an awards banquet and that the item should be deleted from the request.

The former president's veto of the $900 Recognition Banquet budget was due to a $100 item to pay for the dinners of the 50 outstanding women on campus. Pisano explained that a better means of announced this morning the ap- honoring the women would be in Luckman called on the legislators to consider the entire problem of fiscal flexibility for the state colleges at the next session of the legislature.

Luckman said the Board of Trustees would like authority to transfer funds between line items and give such authority to state college presidents.

Regarding the Free Speech Movement he said all those charged with responsibility must accept the responsibility for pro-viding an "orderly process of education for all who want it.

THE GUEST ROOM

By KIM MAXWELL

Past President of the Student Peace Union

The United States government has now narrowed its alternatives in Viet Nam to two: military withdrawal or military occupation of South Viet Nam. The resumption of attacks on North Viet Nam signals the implacable unwillingness of the Communist powers to accept anything less than the expulsion of United States influence in Viet Nam. A total breakdown in communications, caused in part by the impulsive use of military means for political goals, has reduced the struggle for power in Viet Nam to its military denominator, and all thought of securing an independent South Viet Nam can be forgotten.

Which alternative to choose depends on a long overdue reevaluation of our China policy, which ultimately defines our relationship with all other South East Asian countries. The China policy invoked for decision making today dates back to the days of Dulles, when the containment policy was extended to the Pacific theater. This policy was predicated of a stable balance of power in Asia, based on the allegiance of Japan, Thailand, Pakistan, the Philippines, New Zealand, and Australia, and the neutrality of India, Burma, Indonesia, Laos, Cambodia, and South Viet Nam. But the balance of power in Asia has changed. China exerts an ever increasing influence on all these countries without serious military threat because of her growing economic viability and tremendous geopolitical strength. Gradually most of these countries are being drawn to the Chinese sphere of influence and away from American dominance. This influence cannot be matched by the United States except through military confrontation, and thus it is by military means alone that the United States can hope to retain its power position in South East Asia.

But the logical extension of this policy, given its singular implementation, means war with China, which is at best highly undesirable and at worst disastrous. Therefore, the United States must withdraw from South Viet Nam.

One IBM Card— To Another

By LOU KING

The United States is presenting to the world a picture of corruption and immorality.

Not the corruption and immorality that Goldwater spoke of; but rather a corruption of our "American" ideals, and an immorality of our domestic and foreign actions.

At the base of most of our policies and actions lies one of the sickest moral diseases-the double standard. The U.S. is guilty of having two codes of ethics—one that it preaches and asks of others, but another code by which it acts.

For example, we heckle the Communist countries to run elections with more than one candidate; but we refuse to allow free elections in Viet Nam. (Even Eisenhower admits we would lose, but that does not make us any less hypocritical.)

A domestic example is our claim of the equality of man as compared to our actual treatment of the Negro, the Mexican, and

We claim political freedom, yet Communists must register. We claim a representative form of government, yet President Johnson not be "blackjacked" by the people to act

We claim religious freedom, but anybody pledging allegiance to the flag is forced to say that there is a God. We talk about fairness and management, but right here at SJS teachers will be docked double for time they miss because of a union strike.

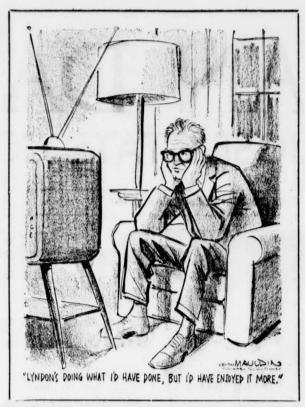

The hypocrisy of sex in the U.S. is a paranoia all to itself, Besides the "double standard," we have so many problems and phobias about accepting sex, that over half of the hospital beds in this country are occupied by mental patients.

We talk about losing face because of Viet Nam, but even this is hypocritical. A look at any of our recent actions abroad shows it would be hard for us to lose any more "face."

We praise democratically elected governments, but stop Dominicans from reinstating the only elected government in 36 years. preach against totalitarian states, but we support the Shah of Iran (as well as many others). We condemn brutal actions by the Russians and the Chinese, but we use napalm and gas.

Almost every foreigner knows, and has for a long time, that we buy our friends and allies. Yet we continue to condemn this type of action on the part of the Communists.

At the basis of all our problems in the U.S., is our hypocrisy, It is time, indeed long overdue, for us to reexamine our actions, policies, and beliefs.

Marathon Rally Shapes Up

Tomorrow at noon in the Sproul Plaza, University of California at Berkeley, students and faculty of colleges and universities throughout the West Coast will mount a massive demonstration protesting U.S. military activity in Viet Nam.

This demonstration could draw many times the 10,000 who participated in last fall's FSM uprisings, held in the same place.

The situation is different for this rally, however. Acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson and the university administration will not oppose the demonstration.

Chancellor Meyerson has lifted the U.C. ban on political activity for the duration of the rally and has authorized the removal of a fence between the plaza and an adjacent athletic field to accommodate the expected overflow crowds.

Sponsors of the demonstra-tion, the U.C. locals of the American Federation of Teachers and the Faculty Peace Committee, U.C. Berkeley, have planned 36 hours of speeches,

According to Richard Reeb, Professor True's basic misunderstanding of the nature of communism led him actually to write a letter critical of our government's action! Obviously he is another Communist dupe! Please, Mr. Reeb, tell us in the simple terms we beg for, what combative action to take! 'Daily' SEE Stand Surprises Professor

As secretary of the American Federation of Teachers, local 1362, I was surprised to see the Spartan Daily broadcasting charges that SEE (Students for Excellence in Education) is a front group for the AFT. We are not so timid or so surreptitious that we have need of front groups.

SEE was begun largely through the efforts of one hardworking student, Phil Whitten, who made a heroic effort to keep the group non-partisan. To that end, he has tried to work with all interested student and faculty groups. Of course, since AFT was finally the only faculty organization willing to join SEE in the demonstration last week, we made every effort to co-ordinate our plans. If that makes SEE our front group, the same reasoning makes CER a front for the

What is more distressing is that the Spartan Daily chooses to run an editorial attack on the front page as a news story. Your news blackout of SEE activities apparently is lifted only to allow sporadic revelations of the attempts of conservative lights to discredit SEE and its single "liberal" policy, its opposition to free tuition.

Faculty members who have followed the activities of SEE have nothing to offer but applause. These are students who are trying voluntarily to improve education at San Jose State and to publicize our current financial crisis. No other students have worked harder or more selflessly for the college; indeed few faculty members have shown such dedication.

Student Denies Truth In Professor's Fight

It would appear obvious to any thinking student who may have had Dr. Broyles for any length of time, that he is some what upset about his Tower List rating. To Dr. Broyles I would say, "do some soul searching, the students just may be right.

I believe that the Tower List is of great importance in enabling a student who wishes to obtain an education to place himself in the best possible educational atmosphere. As far as I can see, every rating that I have read concerning any instructor that I have had has been almost completely in line with my own opinions of these instructors. Perhaps Dr. Broyles should arrange a survey, conducted by interested students (I volunteer) to determine how many students

Rally Day Draws 430; Termed 'Great Success'

Day proved to be a "great success," according to Diane Cleary, Rally Day chairman.

The annual event, sponsored by the SJS Rally Committee, is held so that cheerleaders, song girls and rally committee members from various high schools may exchange ideas on rallies, cheers and spirit with some added tips on the subjects from SJS participants.

This year's Rally Day attracted 430 Bay Area students, eight of whom were males.

The highlight of the day's events was the all-school com-petition. Each school performed cheer and dance routine while the competitors voted. They were judged on personality, appearance, spirit and coordination. Washington High School, Fremont, won first place in cheerleading division, while Harry Ells High School, Richmond, took first place in the song girl

Other activities included discussion groups, workshops, lunch and a fashion show, staged by
