The fences are down and once again Tower Hall can be seen. The mud puddles that surround the Tower will soon be replaced by grass, trees and flowers in a landscaped park-like setting. Pres. Clark will be moving his office into the Tower in the very near future.

Book Talk Set Today

"Mankind Evolving" by Theodosius Dobzhansky will be reviewed today at the 12:30 p.m. Book Talk in Rooms A and B of the Spartan Cafeteria.

Jack Pierce, associate professor of sociology and anthropology, is the featured faculty reviewer. The talk is free and open to the public.

Pierce, who joined the SJS teaching staff in 1958, was educated at Willamette University in Salem, Ore., and the University of Oregon in Eugene where he received his B.A. He also did graduate work there as a National Science Foundation Fellow.

Pierce has served as instructor in the Peace Corps training program and has participated in ethnological field work in the Aleutian Islands and on a Klamath Indian reservation.

Council Expected To Discuss FAB Reorganization Proposal

Extensive legislative debate is expected today at Student Council on an amendment to reorganize student membership of the Financial Advisory Board (FAB). The meeting begins at 2:45 p.m. in the College Union.

At Monday's Campus Policy Committee meeting, the amendment, originally introduced by Senior Representative Jack Perkins, was revamped, calling for the addition of two council members to the board and the removal of the board's student-at-large.

PERMANENT MEMBER
The amendment calls for one council member to be elected from and by council as a permanent voting member. The other would be a non-voting member who could participate in debate, and who would be chosen each week.

Perkins' original amendment called for the removal of the ASB vice president and the student-at-large from FAB and the addition of two council members appointed by the ASB president. Perkins

City Offers To Help Pay Fuller Cost

San Jose City Council has agreed to provide the SJS College Foundation with $1,200 to help finance the two-month campus visit of R. Buckminster Fuller, internationally known architect and engineer.

Fuller, noted for his development of the geodesic dome and the dymaxion home and car, will live on campus as SJS' first Distinguished Scholar-in-Residence from Feb. 7 to March 30.

At a late December Council meeting, City Manager A. P. Hamann told councilmen it would be wise to take advantage of Fuller's presence in San Jose by acquainting him with all phases of the city and requesting a public lecture on improvements to San Jose.

The lecture, an idea originally suggested by Norman Gunderson, dean of the SJS Engineering Division, is scheduled for March 30 in the San Jose Civic Auditorium and is entitled "San Jose Tomorrow, the Fuller Version."

Hamann described Fuller as, "highly respected." Hamann added, "Planners throughout the world listen to him. He was featured in Time magazine on Jan. 10, 1964. He gets $10,000 a month. He is one of today's creative greats!"

was not present at Monday's meeting. He is chairman of the Campus Policy Committee.

The amendments are designed to improve communications between FAB and council. FAB makes recommendations on all ASB budgetary matters.

CLOSE DEBATE

After discussion of amendments on the measure, Council Chairman Jerry Spolter will close debate. Final voting on the amendment without any debate or discussion is slated for next week.

Current membership of FAB includes: ASB Pres. John Hendricks, Spolter, ASB Treasurer Bill Clark, Council Finance Officer and Junior Rep. John Bruckman, Prof. Jack Holland, chairman of the management department, Dr. Richard Elliott, assistant professor of drama, Dr. Ray Wilkerson, associate professor of chemistry, Dr. Stanley C. Benz, dean of students, and Dr. Cornelia Tomes, associate dean of students for activities.

Library Extends Hours for Finals

An experimental extension of SJS library hours during final examinations has been arranged by the college's head librarian, Dr. Stuart Baillie.

Senior Representative Gil Lowry sought the extension, claiming student use would justify it.

Dr. Baillie announced the following days and dates:

RESERVE BOOK ROOM
Friday, Jan. 14.....
7:30 a.m.-midnight
Saturday, Jan. 15.....9 a.m.-10 p.m.
Sunday, Jan. 16.....10 a.m.-10 p.m.
The sixth floor study area will be open from 5-10 p.m. on Jan. 14, Sunday through Thursday, Jan. 16-20 and Monday through Wednesday, Jan. 24-26. Dr. Baillie announced in the letter to Lowry,

Landmark Reveals New Look

Tower Hall, the 53-year-old ivy-covered symbol of SJS tradition is again a part of the campus on the removal of the fence surrounding the entrance to the complex.

The fence was constructed in October, 1964 as a protection for the contractors' equipment during the reconstruction of Tower Hall and Morris Dailey Auditorium.

The Tower at present is being readied for occupancy by President Robert D. Clark and his executive staff. The president had planned to move in before Christmas, but some finishing touches still remained.

The landscaping for the quad area has not been started, but Sasaki, Walker and Lakey Associates of San Francisco have designed the proposed landscape idea.

LANDSCAPING BIDS

Bids for the actual landscaping will be called for in April, according to Executive Dean C. Grant Burton. Total cost of the reconstruction of the Tower and landscape will be an estimated $613,500 for reinforcement and $125,000 for landscaping.

The eventual landscaping plans and reopening of Tower Hall three years ago was just a dream. A major earthquake which weakened the structure of the Tower forced officials to order its closing.

The announced closing of the 53-year-old building was made in April, 1963, by Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, state college chancellor following a report submitted by state engineers on the condition of the building.

REINFORCEMENT NEEDED

Engineering reports on the building said it would take a minimum of $757,725 to reinforce the structure and bring it up to the state's earthquake standards.

They stated that if Tower Hall was to be renovated it would require major structural and electrical improvements, underpinning and concrete strengthening would be necessary. There would also be minor miscellaneous structural and architectural improvements.

These were just some of the few suggestions made by the State Division of Architecture on surveying Tower Hall conditions.

The final decision came on the future of the Tower when Executive Dean C. Grant Burton announced that the building would be torn down around November, 1964. Destruction of the complex was awarded to Herwig of California, Campbell.

On the announcement of the proposed destruction of the Tower, students and the Alumni Association started a "Save the Tower" campaign. Booths were put up around campus to get students to sign a petition to be sent to Governor Brown in favor of saving the Tower.

3,000 SIGN

The final petition had more than 3,000 students' names. Former President, John T. Wahlquist along with student body officers made oral and written pleas to Board members and legislators to save the Tower.

Adding great strength to the effort was the Alumni Association under President William Eckert and Executive Director Richard Buxton. The group worked hard to get support from local legislators, SJS alumni and other influential persons.

SUPPORTERS

Because of the large school backing on the restoration of Tower Hall, it gained the support of Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, Congressman Charles Gubser, Assemblymen George Milias, Al Alquist, William Stanton and Senator Clark Bradley.

Restoration of Tower Hall was announced Jan. 24 by State Board of Finance, State Board of Trustees.

The efforts of these people is being shown today with the Tower Hall and Morris Dailey Auditorium still standing and soon to be open again to SJS. In memoriam of their efforts, the telegram sent to Governor Brown has been enshrined in Tower Hall.

The College Tower Speaks

I stand four-square upon the ancient earth, and keep my hold upon the solid real;
yet, like a soul that seeks a newer birth
I climb in joy unto the high ideal.
My guardian walls shut lurking evil out, lying and hatred and the hidden sin;
and cheer and grace and encompass me about;
my doors are open to let honor in.
I am not one of those who only seem,
steadfast am I and destined to endure,
and yet my greatest glory is to dream—dream of the youth who seeks the true and pure.

Coroner Rules Apparent Suicide In Local Death

The Santa Clara County Coroner's Office has ruled the death of Mrs. Jean Ann Luebben, 43, Gamma Phi Beta sorority house-mother, an apparent suicide.

Her body was found Dec. 22 in a bedroom at the sorority house, 189 S. 11th St., by friends who had been trying to contact her for two days.

Mrs. Luebben's death was attributed to barbiturate and alcohol poisoning, according to the coroner's report.

Capt. William MacKenzie, San Jose Police Detective Division, said yesterday a note was found addressed to one of Mrs. Luebben's three children. He said the note gave no reason for her action. Police reported Mrs. Luebben had been ill and was under the care of a doctor for some time.

Funeral services were held Dec. 24 at the Chapel of the Hills followed by interment in Los Gatos Memorial Park.

State Senator Talks On City Government

Local government in California is on a higher standard than any other state, according to State Senator Clark Bradley, R-Santa Clara County.

Speaking before a political science class yesterday, Sen. Bradley discussed several facets of municipal and county government including revenue and finance, property assessment and annexation.

The senator explained that the cost of government has gone up because of inflation and that new sources of revenue must be adopted to meet the spiraling costs.

Bradley said that upon returning to legislative session of Feb. 7, he anticipated the re-introduction of bills seeking uniform cigarette and hotel-motel taxes for the benefit of local government.

Bradley described the present scandal in which San Francisco and San Diego county tax assessors have been indicted for lowering property estimates, as "very unfortunate and disturbing."

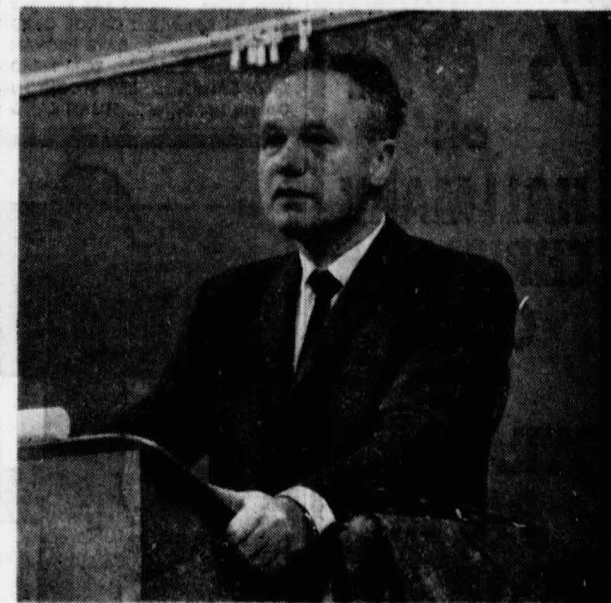

"This doesn't mean the whole system (of property assessment) has to be thrown out; some of the suggested cures are just as bad as the scandal itself."

The senator said that annexation is one of the major problems still confronting local government. He noted that this problem is apparent in Santa Clara County where great growth has resulted in formation of new cities and enlargement of existing cities.

Bradley has been a member of the Senate since 1962 and is a member of several municipal and county government committees.

Before his Senate election, Bradley was an assemblyman for 10 years, San Jose mayor for two years and a councilman for eight years.

Committees Give 'In'

The opportunity for students who are discontented with ASB government to do something constructive about it has been around for quite a while. Numerous positions on ASB committees are constantly open and challenging. There are many committees of diversified interests providing students the opportunity to select the group which appeals to them. Being a part of an ASB committee gives the student a chance to see how the system works and to do something about it. Often holding a committee position lets one in on "inside" information useful in constructive criticism. Additionally, experience with a committee, even though it may be a minor one, often can lead to responsible positions with more important committees. Recently, for example, an article in the Spartan Daily publicized interviews for the Library Committee, Research Committee, Loan and Scholarship Committee, and ASB Recognition Committee. All these groups seek at least one member. Also available are counselor positions next semester for Spartacamp, and occasional Student Council vacancies. Students unhappy with the ASB system would do well to volunteer for committees and investigate the programs before they criticize.

Thrust and Parry Pledging Revamped

Kappa Sigs First To Change-Writer

In the Dec. 15 issue of the Spartan Daily, there appeared an article concerning Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity's new, liberal policy change toward treatment of pledges. I would like to congratulate Lambda Chi Alpha on its mature, open-minded decision, for it is no secret that change within the Greek System is needed if it is to survive. However, the article erroneously gave the impression that Lambda Chi Alpha is responsible for initiating this new attitude. As a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity for the last two semesters, I have been aware of and exposed to this type of policy. At the time I pledged, I was told that Kappa Sigma was founded on the principles which Lambda Chi Alpha takes credit for initiating. As yet, Kappa Sigma ideals have not faltered, and it is intended that they do not. Credit should be given where it is due, and Kappa Sigma is certainly deserving of the credit. It is my hope that more fraternities on campus will follow in Kappa Sigma and Lambda Chi Alpha footsteps toward a more definite improvement within the Greek system. A. J. Azevedo Jr. A1648

Eligibles Run To Beat Draft

By CARY KOEGLE Here we are, safe after the holidays and closer by two weeks to our local draft board's "lucky" list. Some of us, that is those who are married and their wives are expecting a blessed event sometime soon—are smugly secure, knowing the selective board doesn't have a list for them—yet. But, before you do something rash, take heart. A colleague of mine has uncovered a plan guaranteed to permit at least a temporary reprieve from a fate worse than enlistment. File for and seek election to one of the newly created California Senate seats. That's right—filing for elective office grants you temporary asylum from induction. And there is a small bonus. Just suppose you won the election? (Who could possibly turn down a clean-cut, young, all-American type who wants only to serve his country to the best of his natural ability?) Think of it—the excitement of campaigning. The thrill of election eve. Getting to stay up until 3 a.m. to deliver your acceptance speech. And if you lose, well, that will be in November and you will already be back in school and hopefully eligible for a student deferment of some type. But, alas, no gift comes without a package around it. For instance, it might get rather sticky trying to explain why you got the urge suddenly to run along with 7,000 other eligible males in your district at the same time. Naturally, the real rub comes at filing time. Filing fee is somewhere in the neighborhood of (hold on to your work-study program cards) $200. You must admit, however, it was a nice thought. As for me, I guess I'll go back to something more steady. I'll have to dust off my "I am not now nor have I ever been..." buttons and posters. They are already paid for.

Campus Morality

A recent study by 260 psychiatrists advises college administrators how to deal with the sexual behavior of students. It advocates that officials state explicitly their "expectations of acceptable behavior on the campus." So far so good. For the time they are there, the institution is in a certain sense their home. For this reason we question a further contention of the psychiatrists that the students' private heterosexual and homosexual activities, if "practiced with appropriate attention to the sensitivities of other people, should not be the direct concern of the administration." Thousands of teen-age students, living away from home for the first time, are thrown together in social situations often presenting extreme temptation. Reacting to the illegitimate birth problem, the report goes on to advocate that colleges provide students with birth-control information. But if universities were to take this position, it would be easy for students to assume that the authorities were endorsing or encouraging premarital sex. We doubt if administrators would wish to give that impression. In church and home lies the primary responsibility for inculcating a deeply rooted, broadly applicable moral sense. But in addition, educational institutions play a major role in shaping the attitudes and convictions of the young. If academic authorities are not to fail the society and individuals which they exist to serve, they will continue to maintain and develop character in the interpersonal and social relationships of their students. Cagers Experience Dismal Vacation

By PAUL SAVOIA
Daily Sports Writer

The Christmas vacation was anything but joyous for the Spartan basketballers. Going into the vacation, the Spartans enjoyed an unblemished record in three games, including a prestige win over powerful Stanford.

When the Spartans returned to school, their record was 4-5, losing five of six holiday games.

Included was a road trip that saw the men of Stu Inman drop contests to Utah, Arizona State and the University of Arizona.

FOURTH PLACE

Next came the West Coast Athletic Conference Tournament, with the Spartans coming in fourth place, winning one and losing two.

Despite this poor effort record-wise, Inman believes his squad gained experience, with "many players seeing a lot of action."

The first loss was decided early, as Utah hit eight of its first nine shots in jumping to an 18-5 lead and coasting to an 86-57 conquest. For the game, the Utes hit 57 per cent.

Arizona State, which later went on to upset nationally-ranked Michigan, used free throws to advantage against the Spartans, converting 31 fouls into 31 points and a 67-62 victory. The Spartans outscored the Sun Devils 52-36 from the floor.

LOWEST TOTAL

Arizona stopped SJS 56-47, the lowest point-total of the season for the cold-shooting Spartans.

As a whole, the Spartans averaged a poor 38 per cent from the field and were outrebounded an average of 14 retrieves a contest on the road trip.

Inman felt the Spartans "played too soft a defense. It was improved, but not tough enough considering our height factor."

In the tournament, comprised of all eight WCAC squads and won by favorite USF, the Spartans defeated Loyola 67-62 in their opener at the San Jose Civic Auditorium.

S. T. Saffold was the difference here, making 21 points, grabbing 13 rebounds and coming up with key baskets.

The second night, the favored

Spartans could hit only 28 per cent of their shots from outside a surprise zone of the University of California at Santa Barbara. And UCSB cashed in on 50.9 per cent of its attempts for a 69-56 upset.

SJS' best game of the vacation came in the third place playoffs with University of the Pacific, but the physical Tigers wore SJS down for a 75-68 win.

LOSE LEAD

SJS was leading 53-50 when Saffold picked up his fourth foul and was taken out of the game with 12:33 remaining. When Saffold returned four-and-a-half minutes later, the Spartans were down 64-57.

UOP outrebounded SJS 53-37, including a 30-11 advantage on the offensive boards. Keith Swagerty scored 24 points and collected 20 rebounds—17 of them offensive—for the Tigers.

USF didn't break away from UCSB until the final three minutes to win the championship tilt 86-79.

Santa Clara beat St. Mary's 75-65 for the consolation title, and Loyola became the third consecutive team to score 100 off Pepperdine in whipping the Waves 108-80 for seventh place.

Two Spartans Make Soccer All-American

The SJS soccer team's disappointment at failing to successfully defend their Northern California Intercollegiate Soccer Championship was eased considerably by the naming of two players to the All-American squad.

"This is my biggest thrill in soccer," said inside right Lou Fraser, a first team choice. Spartan goalie Frank Mangiola was named to the No. 2 contingent, losing out by a whisker to Tim Tarpley of Cal, a repeater from last year's squad.

The only other NCISC performer named was Cal's Scott Canchois, who received honorable mention. League champion USF was shut out in the balloting.

"I was pleased to see both of them make the team," Spartan coach Julie Menendez said. "Lou switched from right wing to inside right this season, and I feel that this helped his chances a lot. He was our top scorer."

"Frank is one of the best goalies I have ever seen. He has a great future," Mangiola is just a sophomore.

The soccer All-American team is decided by NCAA officials from votes cast by referees and coaches. Players are rated on a game-by-game basis. The strength of his team within its league and caliber of competition are also taken into consideration.

Grad Student Report Points Out Library Inadequacies

To Discuss Atmosphere

A study of the effects of land-sea distribution and the air circulation over the San Francisco Bay Area will be described by Woodrow Williams, graduate student and teaching assistant for the Meteorological Department.

The talk will be presented at Tuesday's meeting of the SJS chapter of the American Meteorological Society, 7:30 p.m. E329.

Williams will discuss a layer study of the air over the Bay Area involving a series of measurements of the wind and temperature variations of the horizontal and vertical air currents. He will also describe air current trajectories obtained by radar tracking of constant level balloons and moisture and temperature distribution data obtained from airborne instruments.

According to the speaker, preliminary results of the atmospheric measurements will be discussed as well as the results of hundreds of vertical soundings which measure wind speed and the strength and frequency of large "drafts" which rise and fall over the area.

Education Act Changes Eligibility For College Jobs

Students from other than low-income families are now eligible to receive jobs under the Work-Study Program, Donald R. Ryan, director of financial aids, has announced.

Students from low-income families will still receive first preference, Ryan said, but eligibility has been extended as a result of the Higher Education Act of 1965 to students in need of financial assistance to continue their college education.

Students are allowed to work 15 hours per week while classes are in session, and 40 hours per week during vacation periods, under the program. Several part-time jobs are available.

Clearance for participation in the program may be made in ADM201.

Group Schedules Training Session

The orientation committee will hold its second training session tonight at 7 in cafeteria A and B.

The training session will be held in order to select students wishing to serve as new student orientation leaders during orientation week in the spring 1966.

Interested students must sign-up before the training session in the College Union, Richard Wolfe, orientation committee spokesman said.

Deadline for entries in the 1966 All-Campus Photo Contest has been extended to 5 p.m., Monday, Jan. 24, according to an announcement by Paul Sequeira, Kappa Alpha Mu vice president and contest director.

Contest rules and entry blanks are available in J-112, the photojournalism laboratory office. Cash awards, merchandise certificates, and plaques will be awarded to contest winners. First, second and third place awards will be given for black-and-white photos. A first place award will be given for color.

Entries must be a minimum of 8x10 inches or 80 square inches in area and may be mounted on any size board appropriate to accommodate the contributor's entry, not to exceed 16x20 inches.

Coro Foundation Sets Interviews

The Coro Foundation will conduct internship interviews in the Placement Center, ADM234 on Thursday, Jan. 13.

Interviews are open to all 1966 graduates in any major, although the program would be of particular value to those preparing for careers in government, public relations, politics and civic affairs.

Scholarship awards of $2,250 to $2,700 are granted to each intern selected for the program.

Selected interns in Public Affairs will participate in a nine month practical training program in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

Interested students should make appointments now in the Placement Center, ADM234, said Mrs. Mary Schaaf, business industrial placement supervisor.

Tryouts Scheduled Tomorrow Night For Cheerleaders

Tryouts for four male SJS cheerleaders and two alternates will be held tomorrow night at 7 in TH55.

Jim Conklin, who will be the new head yell leader, urged all interested students to try out. "It's really hard to lead 20,000 people so we need dynamic and outgoing cheerleaders," he said.

Conklin explained that tryouts are open to all male students.

"SJS cheerleading has always been Greek-dominated but that's because very few independents try out," he said.

Those trying out for a cheerleading post must have had a 2.25 GPA last semester and an overall of 2.0.

New yell leaders will participate in basketball and football games and rallies.

The five present cheerleaders, Ray Terry, Jim Grace, Rich Kuechle, Bruce Krogstad and Conklin recently held three workshops to prepare students for the tryouts.

Students need not have attended the workshops to attend the tryouts.

Aviation Program

An information team of the United States Navy air arm is presently on hand to explain the Navy's Aviation Programs in front of the Spartan Bookstore and in the Placement Center ADM234, today, thru to Friday.

Information on the three programs which are offered to college men, Naval Aviation Cadet; Air Officer Candidate and Naval Flight Officer; flight training and instruction during the pre-flight which covers flight theory, navigation aerology, aviation communications, as well as basic military subjects and athletics will be available.

Library planning, resources and serviceability of the University of California are significantly better than in state colleges and junior colleges, according to Dr. Clark. Nevertheless, UC also has major library problems, says Dr. Clark.

State college libraries are "limited" for use by advanced undergraduate and graduate students.

"This limitation becomes critical when regional resources are also limited," says Dr. Clark.

Also criticized in the report are variations in junior college libraries which are often unrelated to age or size of the institutions.

Dr. Clark calls for "meaningful and qualitative standards not only at the junior college level, but also at the state college and possibly the university levels as well."
