Engineer Division To Show Exhibits

The eight departments of the SJS Engineering Division will be on display tomorrow through Saturday in observance of Engineering Week.

"It's going to be a good size show with an even balance of student projects and department displays," according to Derek Johnson, event chairman.

Departments on display include the automotive and aeronautical, chemical, civil, electrical, industrial technology, mechanical and material sciences.

The event will open tomorrow at 6 p.m. with a faculty-student dinner and public viewing of projects, 8 to 10 p.m.

FULLER SPEECH

Friday, the exhibits will be open during the day through 8 p.m. when presentation of awards will be made. At 8:15, there will be a speech by R. Buckminster Fuller, SJS' distinguished scholar in residence.

Public viewing of projects will continue 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Tickets for the dinner, $1 apiece.

Tatum Speaks To Street Crowd On Draft Dilemma

About 50 persons, mostly men, turned out Monday to listen to Arlo Tatum speak about "The Dilemma of the Selective Conscientious Objector" at the Seventh Street Forum.

Tatum, executive secretary for the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors, outlined procedures for obtaining classification as an objector and answered questions from the draft-age audience.

COUNSELING PERIOD

Tatum's other activities on campus Monday included a luncheon address and an individual counseling period.

"A serviceman becoming a conscientious objector has about 100 per cent more impact than a civilian becoming a CO," stated Tatum. The procedure, Tatum points out, takes about three months, and only 20 per cent of the servicemen's requests for the conscientious objector classification are successful.

WRITE DRAFT BOARD

A person wishing to be classified as a conscientious objector should write his local draft board, Tatum suggests, and request selective service form No. 150. The form should be returned to the board within 10 days, accompanied by references and letters, Tatum said.

In board consideration of the request, Tatum said, "The same preference is given to the town preacher as to the town drunk." He paused a second, and the crowd laughed as he added, "... if they happen to be different people."

News Briefs

SAB Chairman Needed

Interviews for the post of chairman of Student Activities Board will be held Friday at 2 p.m., in the College Union sub-committee chambers, according to Clark Heinrich, ASB personnel officer.

ASB Judiciary Interviews

Students interested in serving on the ASB Judiciary as a justice are asked to sign up before tomorrow in the College Union.

Interviews for two posts on the Judiciary will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the College Union sub-committee room.

will be on sale in the lobby of the Engineering Division until 5 p.m. today.

DEPARTMENT AWARD

Awards will be made to the best department overall, best three projects in each department and the best three projects overall for the whole division.

Exhibits to be included are a music-speech discriminator able to detect the difference between speech and music and a color organ used to translate audio-frequency signals into a multi-colored light display.

Book Thefts On Increase, Says Manager

The ASB Judiciary will be occupied in the next few weeks handling cases of an increasing number of thefts in the Spartan Bookstore.

About a dozen students have been picked up by the campus police in the last three weeks. They have been charged with thefts of pens, padlocks and occasional textbooks.

The number of thefts is higher this year than the last few years, according to Harry Wineroth, bookstore manager.

'ELIMINATE TEMPTATION'

Eighteen bookstore theft cases have come before the ASB Judiciary since September, Wes Watkins, ASB attorney general, revealed.

"We are more interested in keeping people from stealing rather than catching them. The store is patrolled by plainclothes and uniformed campus police," Wineroth revealed.

"We try to eliminate temptation areas, such as partially hidden corners. If the areas are not eliminated, they are under close scrutiny by the officers," he emphasized.

Wineroth revealed that one student allegedly stole books worth $143 from Spartan and Roberts Bookstores and attempted to sell them to Cal Bookstore when he was taken into custody. "This shows that the bookstores work together on matters like this," Wineroth said.

THEFT PENALTIES

Students charged with bookstore thefts are interviewed by a member of the Division of Student Personnel and the ASB attorney general, who presents the case to the Judiciary.

The judiciary makes recommendations to Dr. Stanley C. Benz, dean of students, who makes the final decision.

The judiciary can recommend either dismissal of the charges or penalties including service to the college community, restriction of privileges or action by the administration.

Campus Landscaping Project Awaits Approval of State Public Works

PLANS TO LANDSCAPE the area surrounding Tower Hall and Morris Dailey Auditorium are now awaiting approval of the State Department of Public Works. The project has already been approved by the State Department of Finance. College officials hope to have the job completed by summer or fall.

A $125,000 project to landscape the barren area surrounding Tower Hall and Morris Dailey Auditorium will move into the final planning stages if approved by the State Department of Public Works at its meeting next month.

"We hope to have it completely finished by summer or fall. It will take about six weeks to complete the working drawings after the project is approved," Dr. C. Grant Burton, executive dean, said.

The project has been approved by the State Department of Finance.

BRICK WALKWAY

Construction work will take several months after the working drawings are approved, Dr. Burton estimated.

Key design feature of the landscaping project is a 250-foot-long brick walkway to the main door of Tower Hall.

The walkway was a source of controversy earlier this month when a legislative analyst for the State Department of Finance charged the project was too expensive.

Controversy also evolved around the extent of the brick in the project and material used for the base under the brick.

The dispute evidently has been resolved as State Finance Director Hale Champion confirmed Thursday that the project was "off and running."

LAWN AND ARCADE

Actual specifications of the walkway will be left up to the architects.

The design calls for a three and one half acre expanse of lawn and a brick arcade reminiscent of the former wings of Tower Hall, in addition to the walkway. There will be two depressed concrete areas at the entrance to Morris Dailey Auditorium.

The landscaping plans have previously been approved by the state college Board of Trustees and the chancellor's staff.

R. B. Fuller To Lecture On History

"Speculative History," will be discussed by SJS' first scholar-in-residence R. Buckminster Fuller at a Concert Hall lecture this morning at 10:30.

Students and faculty members are invited to this morning's lecture, according to Dean Norman O. Gunderson of the engineering division.

The 70-year-old scholar who rightfully claims title to author, architect, poet, mathematician, inventor and engineer holds nine honorary doctoral degrees and is a full-time research professor at Southern Illinois University.

Fuller has visited over 147 colleges and universities throughout the world in his lifetime. His two-month stay at SJS is jointly sponsored by the Associated Student Body and various college departments.

Following the lecture, a reception for Fuller will be held in the Seventh Street geodesic dome. Students and faculty members are also invited to attend, according to Dean Gunderson.

Student Council To Discuss Hendricks' Services Proposal

ASB Pres. John Hendricks' plan for governing student services heads the list of matters to be considered by Student Council today.

The meeting is at 2:45 p.m. in the College Union.

The proposed resolution, submitted at last week's council meeting and since endorsed by all of council's three standing committees, will be defended today for the first time by Hendricks.

Last week Hendricks was in Washington, D.C., attending the Presidential Prayer Breakfast.

The proposed resolution would recommend to Pres. Robert D. Clark a proposition for governing Spartan Bookstore, Spartan Cafeteria, the College Union, and the college residence halls.

Hendricks' plan recommends a coordinating board which would have policy control over all four services. The proposal differs from a similar one already submitted to Pres. Clark by the Student Activities Committee of Academic Council, which recommends separate boards governing each of the four services.

Steve Larson, graduate representative, said at last week's meeting he was in favor of the plan because the coordinating board would tend to consider the interests of the college as a whole. The separate boards, he said, would consider only the interests of their own areas.

Dr. Harold DeBey, chairman of the Student Activities Committee, agreed the coordinating board would be more efficient, but insisted the separate boards recommended by his committee would better represent the individual interests of the four services involved.

Also today the remaining parts of Hendricks' legislative reorganization will be discussed for the last time, with a vote coming probably next week.

'Let South Viet People Decide On Cong Role'—White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said Monday that the South Vietnamese people — not the United States — must decide whether, as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., has proposed, to give the Communists a role in a future Saigon government.

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers commented obliquely on Kennedy's weekend suggestion as President Johnson conferred in his office with U.N. Ambassador Arthur J.

Goldberg — a key figure in the administration's bid for a peace settlement in Viet Nam.

Moyers declined direct comment on Kennedy's call for U.S. acceptance of the Communist Viet Cong as a party to any peace talks and as a power in a postwar government in Saigon.

But he noted administration support of free elections in Viet Nam.

"The President's view, and the administration's, is that it is up to the people by free election to select their government," Moyers said.

He referred newsmen to Saigon authorities for answers to whether South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky would be willing to take part in popular elections he has promised for 1967.

Classic Films To Resume Today

The spring semester Classic Films series resumes today with shows every Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. in TH55.

Today's Classic Film is, "A Night At The Opera," featuring the Marx Brothers, Margaret Dumont, Kitty Carlisle and Allan Jones in one of the most complicated feature-length comedies ever filmed.

Dr. Rosenberg Speaks On Kopit's Play Today

Dr. Albert Rosenberg, associate professor of English, will present an existential interpretation of the play "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad" at 12:30 p.m., today in Cafeteria rooms A and B.

The semester's Faculty Book Talk series will open with Dr. Rosenberg's review of Arthur Kopit's three-scene play, first published in 1960.

A Harvard graduate who majored in engineering, Kopit describes his work as "a pseudo-classical tragic farce in a bastard French tradition." The drama will be released as a motion picture in the near future.

Dr. Rosenberg received his A.B. and M.A. from the University of California at Los Angeles and his Ph.D. from the University of London. He is presenting conducting sections of contemporary literature and composition, as well as a seminar in literary history.

The weekly discussion is open to the public, and those interested are welcome to bring their lunches to the informal meeting.

Lists of copies of the books to be reviewed this semester may be obtained from the Humanities Division desk on the fifth floor of the north wing of the Library.

Hustlers To Hop Tonight

Bouncing balls, splashing swimmers, batted birds and stomping students are expected to appear tonight as the 38th semester of Co-Rec begins in the Women's Gym from 7:30 to 9:30.

Music for "Hustler's Hop" will be presented by the "Laymen," a group which includes SJS students.

Dancing will take place in the room just north of the recreation department patio.

Athletic events will include swimming in the women's pool, badminton and volleyball in the PER gymnasium and table tennis on the patio.

Chess, checkers and many other table games will be available in a room near the patio.

During the band break at 8:30, a special contest, not yet announced, will be held with prizes awarded to the winners.

"Attendance at Co-Rec," said committee member Joan Ferguson, "is limited to SJS students. Those attending should wear tennis shoes."

We Believe

Thinking Is Healthy

One author wrote: "He who has never doubted has never thought."

Many individuals—blinded either by the desire to be patriotic or the desire to be liberal and humanitarian—have made it wrong to doubt, ultimately to think.

One of the saddest things about communication on the war in Viet Nam is the lack of communication. People talk, but they don't communicate. They adopt one idea, one opinion and refuse to think on the questions or claims of the opposition.

Some persons, probably sincerely believing themselves patriotic, wish to make it illegal to doubt the wisdom or legality of U.S. foreign policy. In such a "patriotic" gesture, there is far more danger than security.

The American people have traditionally distrusted the concentration of power in one area and thus have welcomed a system of checks and balances. It would seem that most Americans would accept dissent and debate as a healthy sign—even though they might personally find the attitudes of dissenters distasteful. This is not to say that citizens must approve of illegal or harmful acts on the part of fellow citizens. But every individual owes it to himself to listen and examine both sides of an issue.

I dare say that should Congress contemplate making it illegal to speak out against big business or "creeping socialism" in the Great Society, many who favor silencing foreign policy dissenters would themselves rise up in wrath.

Looking at both sides of the situation, we often find others so determined to be liberal and humanitarian that they refuse to listen to any practicalities or legalities. In their effort to establish an ideal freedom and peace, they ironically interfere with the laws meant to maintain order and freedom for both majorities and minorities.

Since when is it unhealthy to doubt? Since when is it unhealthy to ask questions, to seek a clear conscience, to seek the truth in as concrete a form as possible?

Just think. It's a unique and invigorating experience.

In the Dark

Active, practicing scholars rarely are considered "in the dark," but such is the case of night students who traverse the SJS campus. While many inter-building walkways have insufficient lighting for night safety, the problem increases on key, adjacent streets.

San Carlos Street and connecting blocks of student housing on Fourth through Twelfth Streets not only are poorly illuminated, but also are badly in need of sidewalk repair for safety in the dark.

If a Seventh Street mall were established, it would feature adequate lighting to show off the area. Let us hope that college and city officials will "see the light" and approve as soon as possible nighttime illumination on campus side approaches as well as intersections.

A Balance of Scales

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in justifying U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, said before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that he pictured America not as the "policeman of the universe" but as a driving force for creating "the political structure of the world."

This is an ironical statement inasmuch as in a democratic nation, a divergence of ideas and philosophies balances the scale between anarchy on one side and totalitarianism on the other.

Secretary Rusk implies in his statement a foreign policy that undercuts the basic ideas and philosophies set down by our forefathers.

Uniformity among political structure leads to status quo in ideas and philosophies. When a government purports to be a driving force, totalitarianism is just around the corner.

U.S. Choice 'Strange'

By AL MASON

When the chiefs of the tribes, the black peoples of the villages and cities and the white colonials who hacked their homes out of the uninhabited jungles decades ago all chose to support one leader—and that leader declared his Rhodesia to be a free and independent republic—that was a cry for real freedom.

Student Sees New Trend In Business Recruitment

Editor:

I felt some general reply must be made to the recent Guest Room article, "Professor Defends Business," by Dr. Porter. As a former business major (now economics), I have discovered some interesting information which should be considered by every business major.

In the last seven years, a new trend has emerged in the recruiting of college graduates by business. Formerly, business sought business majors exclusively, for they were the ones who would do well in the Organization because of their vocational training in college.

Recently, the trend has been reversed. Recruiters still accept business majors, but the "big catch" is the liberal arts major who has proved himself in an "academic" major, usually in the social sciences, the area of great concern of today's business community.

Business training has advanced to the Graduate Schools of Business Administration, leaving the undergraduate years for the broad education of the Humanities, Arts and the Sciences. The successful executive of the business organization of the future is the man with a B.A. in the liberal arts and an MBA in business. Is the undergraduate business program obsolete? It well may be.

And when the Communist nations and the half-savage African dictators, all with their political opponents rotting in the people's prison, cry for the demise of the Rhodesian Republic, that's the voice of tyranny.

In this choice between Rhodesian freedom and black nationalist tyranny, the United States has made a strange choice. We, that is, President Johnson, have chosen to impose economic sanctions against Rhodesia and join the forces of tyranny trying to topple the Rhodesian Republic.

Now, of course, economic sanctions won't topple Rhodesia because Rhodesia has free enterprise and doesn't depend on the rest of the world to feed it. That, of course, annoys the leftists, including British socialist Prime Minister Harold Wilson. But the issue here is not a question of economics, but a question of principle.

I look at what 13 little colonies on the eastern seaboard of North America did in 1776 and what the Rhodesians are doing today and I see a host of similarities too obvious to catalog here.

The principles for which the people, white and black, in Rhodesia are declaring their independence from Britain are similar to the reasons for our own independence struggle from Britain. Yet today we betray our founding heritage by attempting to injure another nation acting on the same principles.

In keeping with President Johnson's attitude against Rhodesia, perhaps it would only be logically consistent for the U.S. to scrap its Declaration of Independence and ask if Her Majesty will take us back under the protective British wing.

HUCK Battles 'HARM' Man

By PAT HEFFERNAN

Holy hotwires!—HUCK has flushed a double agent of HARM.

The conspirator who finally succumbed to the tremendous pressures and fiendish tortures of HUCK's finest is Steve Larson, who publicly confessed in a "column" in Monday's Spartan Daily.

Not only did Larson cop out to being a HARM conspirator, but he tried to whitewash the whole thing by telling the students the HARM plot to control SJS is for their own good. How dumb does he think they are?

WELL BRIEFED

Larson was well briefed for the job in the huge HARM training center on 11th Street.

He began the whitewash by introducing the housing bill he bragged about in Monday's column. He wants to appoint a committee to recommend fair housing standards to campus-area owners.

Now who can object to that? Everybody is for improving housing, and SPUR will be only too glad to take the credit from everyone . . . even if the committee can only make recommendations.

REORGANIZATION

The same goes for the reorganization bill concerning Spartan Shops and the College Union. Everybody wants to insure that the students have control of the union . . . even if the ASB president in turn controls these students, as is implied in the council bill.

The other bills are fine, especially the Viet Nam debate. I doubt if it will get any left-wing votes, but you never know what these HARM agents will try next.

One way to find out is to stake out today's Student Council meeting and watch the agents and double agents and secret agents shoot it out with one another.

AIR FORCE COLONEL Vernon Head, professor of aerospace studies (AFROTC) at SJS beams as his wife, Dorothe Ann pins on the rank device for full colonel Monday morning in MH422. Col. Head is a veteran of World War II and the Korean War. His rank promotion was effective Monday.

Aerospace Professor Wins Colonel's Birds

Former Air Force Lt. Col. Vernon Head became SJS' highest ranking professor of aerospace studies Monday morning when he was officially advanced to full colonel.

His wife Dorothe Ann and Air Force Major Charles McCloskey, associate professor of aerospace studies, "pinned on the birds" in a 9:30 a.m. ceremony Monday in MH422. The rank device of colonel is a spread eagle, hence the expression "pinning on the birds."

Col. Head became an SJS professor of aerospace studies last July and was notified by Air University, which operates the AFROTC program; that he had been selected for colonel last semester. The colonel said he was told at that time he'd be officially promoted sometime early this year. "I was notified last weekend my new rank would be effective Monday," the beaming veteran of World War II and Korea said.

Col. Head entered the service in 1941 and flew 86 combat missions in the South Pacific theater.

He was discharged and transferred to the reserve following the war and returned to SJS where he graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in industrial arts in 1949.

Recalled to active duty in March, 1951, Col. Head was sent to Japan.

"By the time the Korean War was over, my combined time in World War II and Korea made it desirable to stay in the service," the Air Force command pilot explained. "I've been on active duty since," he added.

Col. Head served one year in Viet Nam before being transferred to SJS last summer.

He again demanded an end to foreign intervention and the neutralization of all Viet Nam.

De Gaulle announced he will continue pulling France's armed forces "progressively" out of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) command between now and April 4, 1969, the date when the Atlantic alliance expires or can be renewed.

April 1 Last Day To Apply For $3 Million in Student Aid

More than $3 million will be available to SJS students in the employment and loans during the next academic year, according to Don Ryan, director of financial aids.

To apply for financial aid for fall and spring semesters of 1966-67, students may obtain applications in ADM201 and must return them before April 1.

Ryan said the Higher Education Act of 1965 has given the college financial aid program a new look, which promises to make more money available to more students than ever before.

Next semester, the first grants from the new act will be offered, and Ryan said, "I'm afraid if more students don't apply for them, we will not even use the money available to us. Fifty per cent more students could qualify for aid if they would only apply," he said.

Under the new act, federal scholarships varying from $200 to $800 will be awarded students, depending on their need. These scholarships, or Economic Opportunity Grants, must then be equally matched by one of the college's aid programs.

SJS presently offers two main types of aid: the Work-Study Program and National Defense Student Loans.

The Work-Study plan was established under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 and began last year. More than 900 students are now employed in jobs paying from $1.25 to $2.50 an hour. Ryan said nearly 2000 jobs will be offered next year. Full time summer jobs also may be obtained under the program.

National Defense Student Loans have been available for the past seven years. They are long term, low interest loans, which are not repaid until the student graduates.

Before 1958, short term loans up to $400 and payable within 90 days, were the only type of monetary aid for students.

"Let's unplug the computer, boys! Start thinking!"

A lot of people believe that someday computers will do all their thinking for them.

Well, a funny thing is going to happen on the way to the future:

You're going to have to think harder and longer than ever.

Computers can't dream up things like Picturephone service, Telstar® satellite, and some of the other advances in communications we have made. Of course, we depended on computers to solve some of the problems connected with their development. But computers need absolutely clear and thorough instructions, which means a new and tougher discipline on the human intelligence.

And it will take more than a computer to create a pocket phone the size of a matchbook, let's say... or find a practical way to lock a door or turn off an oven by remote telephone control, or to make possible some of the other things we'll have someday.

It takes individuals... perhaps you could be one... launching new ideas, proposing innovations and dreaming dreams.

And someday, we're going to have to find a way to dial locations in space. Makes you think.

Personal objectives are about as varied as viewpoints on what constitutes success.

Consciously or not, a man's goals are modified from time to time. Even so, the man who can set his sights early and stay on course is a good deal better off than the man who wavers.

Wrestlers Conclude Oregon Travel; Netmen Open Season Begin Another Jaunt in SF Today In Berkeley Tourney

By LEE JULLERAT
Daily Sports Writer

No relief is in sight for SJS wrestlers, who face a tough three-meet schedule this week after completing a four-day road trip last Friday.

San Francisco State provides the opposition tonight as the Spartans visit the Gators for a 7:30 encounter.

Weekend matches against Cal Poly (Pomona) and UCLA will close out the road travel. Coach Hugh Mumby remains uncertain about the Pomona bout because the Cal Poly coach claims schedule conflicts.

Although San Jose has not lost to San Francisco since Mumby's arrival in 1952, the mentor refuses to take the Gators lightly. Last year the Spartans battled for a draw with the Citymen.

Pomona is an unknown team, while UCLA is the object of revenge for a 21-14 beating they handed SJS on Feb. 5.

Oregon State and Oregon handed defeats to the grapplers to close last week's road junket. Oregon State dumped the matmen 22-9 and Oregon eked to a narrow 17-14 decision.

Loren Miller and Ron Matheson led Spartan wrestlers on the tour, both going undefeated. Miller's victories leave him undefeated in dual competition.

Foothill transfer Cy Lucas added three wins, including a decision over Oregon's Bob Mitchell, 157-pound AAWU champ last year.

Gary Scardina defeated 137-pound AAWU champ Bob Mitchell at Oregon. Scardina expects to join the Air Force shortly, causing a re-shuffling of talent. Mumby plans to move Miller to the 152 division, shift Lucas to 160 and have Mike Herschfelt return to his 167 spot.

Skiers in Far West Meet

Spartan ski bunnies and snowmen are sloshing the snow at Mammoth preparing this weekend's Far West Collegiate Championships at Donner Ski Ranch and Boreal Ridge.

SJS Ski Club members are among the groups entered in the competition, scheduled for Friday through Sunday.

Among the events on tap for the three-day affair are the slalom, downhill or giant slalom, jumping and cross-country. The first two events are to be held at Donner and the latter pair at Boreal.

Expected to lead the snowmen are Gary Dillon, Dennis Koehn, Dave Degenhardt, Mike Derouin and Bruce Bain. Joe Platsis will carry Spartan hopes in the grueling eight-mile cross-country trek.

joined the Navy. Mumby displayed satisfaction despite splitting the four matches last week. San Jose lost the Oregon bout in the heavyweight battle and kept close in the losing matches.

Intramural Announcements

TABLE TENNIS

All persons signed up for the intramural table tennis tournament should check the intramural board for match schedules. First round matches will be played tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday.

BASKETBALL

In independent basketball action, the Awful-Awfuls have dominated "A" league play with victories over SACES, the Bandits and Soul Bros. Basketball Inc. remained right behind the leaders with wins over SACES and TWIMC.

After an opening round loss to the Awful-Awfuls, the Bandits rebounded to stop TWIMC.

TWIMC did get into the win column with a forfeit victory over the luckless Soul Bros.

A six-man delegation packs off for Berkeley today to open the SJS tennis season in the four-day Northern California Intercollegiate Tournament.

Spartan mentor Butch Krikorian expects the tournament to give a good indication of the squad's abilities. He rates Stanford and California, who tied for third nationally last year, as teams to beat.

All tennis teams from Northern California colleges are expected to attend the Berkeley bash.

Rodney Kop, Bob Murio, Raul Contreras, Yit Louie, Gordon Miller and Bob Skinner are San Jose racketeers slated for action.

'WELL-BALANCED'

Krikorian ranks the top five of near equal ability. "We have a well-balanced team—one of the better squads since my arrival in 1953."

The bronzed coach foresees a successful season although the Spartans face a tough schedule. He expects the netmen may gain the best record since Whitney Reed led SJS in 1959 and 1960.

Reed was the intercollegiate singles winner and No. 1 seeded U.S. amateur. Home matches against Stanford and Cal will highlight the 21-match schedule. Also included are three additional tournaments.

The WCAC tourney, tabbed for May 6 and 7, will be held on the San Jose courts.

SENIORS SET PACE

Seniors will lead the Spartans, according to Krikorian, paced by Kop, a returnee hailing from Hawaii. Other senior lettermen include Murio, from San Francisco, and Louie, from Hong Kong.

Contreras, a senior transfer from Foothill, was a state junior college singles finalist and state JC doubles winner last season. Mexico City is his hometown.

Miller, a junior, sat out last season after transferring from the University of Mexico. Skinner, also a junior, is a transfer from Vallejo J.C.

Others expected to aid the Spartans are San Francisco City College transfer Mike Price and Ron Klyce, up from the 1965 frosh squad.

USF's Joe Ellis and UOP's Keith Swagerty were named Northern California basketball's co-players of the week at a luncheon of area sports writers Monday.

Judokas Face Pair

The SJS judo team is in Berkeley today to compete in a triangular match with University of California and Stanford.

Competing for San Jose will be Jim Hart, Roger Miller, Dick Peaseley, Keith Pickart, Bill Gowin, Masa Nakao, Irwin Kawano and Nash Hunkle.

Last Saturday the Spartans won the seventh annual Parmler Invitational Tournament. Pickart and Howard Fish both won individual victories for SJS, while Gowin, Larry Dobaski, Jim Pennington, Kawano, Jay Lewis and Ron Asai all contributed points to the Spartan cause.

Also on Saturday, the Island Judo Club captured the P.A.A.U. Junior Championship tournament at SJS with 10 points followed by the San Jose Buddhist Judo Club with 9 and SJS with 7.

Deinne Chikami, from the University of California, captured the 205-pound division with Peaseley and Miller finishing second and third.

The Old Perfeessor

BY PAUL SAVOIA

With nine minutes remaining in Friday night's basketball game and SJS behind by 12 points, Spartan coach Stu Inman lifted his entire first team, save center Frank Tarrantts.

Immediately cries of "quitter" and the like arose from the fans, and a local sports writer accused him of "conceding" the contest.

The next night against USF in San Francisco, the Spartans were behind 28-26 against the nationally-ranked Dons when Inman inserted four substitutes, with only forward S. T. Saffold remaining among the starters.

Again, the question was raised, "What is he doing, giving the contest away?"

As long as I have followed SJS basketball, Inman has been criticized for his substituting policies.

The critics never see the reason behind his frequent and mass substitutions.

Against Santa Clara, Inman was not conceding defeat, but was trying to prevent another loss.

First of all, the Spartan regulars were in foul trouble. Jack Gleason and John Keating both eventually fouled out and Saffold was in foul trouble the majority of the fray.

Besides this, the regulars were not sharp—other than Tarrantts, the shooting was poor and the general floor play was sloppy.

Under these circumstances, the reserves couldn't do much harm. Inserting the reserves also allowed the regulars to get additional rest for the important USF tilt the next night.

Against USF, Inman put in his four substitutes with six minutes remaining in the first half.

They went in two points behind, quickly fell to a seven point deficit, but battled back to within four at halftime.

So, while the reserves were holding their own, the Spartan regulars, sans Saffold, were resting.

Rest is especially important to the Spartans against San Francisco, as the Dons are a more physical unit than SJS.

Erwin Mueller, Dennis Black and Russ Gumina are strong players who know how to use their strength to good advantage.

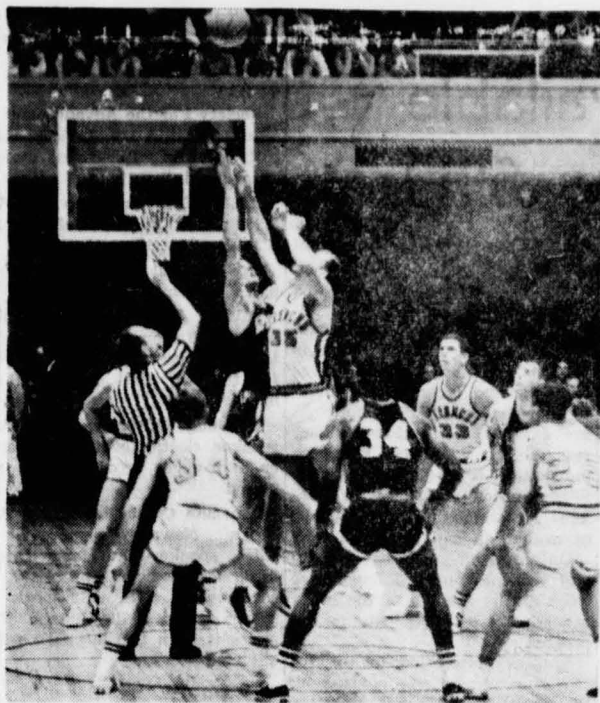

Such players as Tarrantts, a 170-pounder, guarding the 220-pound Mueller, need some rest to stay physically even with their opponents.

At the end of the game, Tarrantts was still able to keep up physically with Mueller—a big difference from the first game when Mueller destroyed the Spartans almost single-handedly.

As for playing his reserves as a unit, Inman realizes that all week they practice together—as a unit. They are used to one another and know what responses to expect of one another.

Therefore, he feels they are more valuable if they are playing together, rather than being mixed one at a time with the "unfamiliar" regulars.

Inman always has been respected as a coach who gets the utmost from his material, and his substituting technique is one of his ways of achieving this.

BEGINNING OF DISASTER—Spartan center Frank Tarrantts jumps against Santa Clara's Rich Levitt to start a 94-72 defeat. Spartan No. 34 is S. T. Saffold, while SJS' Pete Newell is on the right.

Cagers Battle Waves; Saffold After 1,000th

Spartan cager S. T. Saffold will be after the coveted 1,000-point career scoring mark as the Spartans continue West Coast Athletic Conference action tomorrow night and Saturday.

After being virtually eliminated from title contention last weekend with losses to Santa Clara and USF, the Spartans will be trying to gain third place with wins over Pepperdine tomorrow night and Loyola Saturday.

Going into last night's contest with the University of California at Santa Barbara, the Spartans were one game behind third place Santa Clara.

Results of the UCSB tilt were not available at press time.

Saffold, before the UCSB fray, had scored 942 points in his career, and should surpass the 1,000 mark before the season's closer March 5.

If he increases his current scoring rate of 16.3 points per game, he can move into second place in all-time Spartan scoring leaders. Currently, Carroll Williams—the Spartan trackmen will receive their toughest test of the year in Friday night's fourth annual Golden Gate Invitational track meet in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Tough Test for SJS At SF Indoor Track

The meet, which has been growing in stature since its inception, will include most of the top indoor performers in the nation.

Final events begin at 8 p.m.

Bud Winter, head track coach at SJS for 21 years, will become the meet's first honorary referee.

The Spartan mile relay squad, SJS' most powerful entry in the meet, is unbeaten on the year. The quartet is composed of Wayne Hermen, Ken Shackelford, Tim Knowles and Tommy Smith.

Stiffest competition for the Spartans in this event should come from California, anchored by Forest Beatty.

Other SJS entries in the meet are Joe Neff in the half-mile, Terry Doe and Gene Zubrinsky in the high jump, Craig Fergus in the triple jump and Pat Rose and Larry Dixon in the weightman's relay.

Winter has yet to pick Spartan entries in the Devil-Take-The-Hindmost relay.

Hermen will also compete in the 60-yard and 160-yard dashes. In the former, he will face, among others, Darrel Newman, former Fresno State sprinter and coholder of the world record in the 60 at 5.9 seconds.

In the high jump, Zubrinsky and Doe are matched against Nevada's Otis Burrell, who has the best mark in the world to date this year with a leap of 7-2 1/4.

Knowles must run against a fine field of quarter-milers, headed by 1964 400-meter Olympic Champ Mike Larrabee.

Fergus will challenge the best of indoor triple jumpers when he meets Art Walker, the indoor holder at 55-8 1/2.

Smith is not competing in an event other than the relay.

SJS Freshman Nine Bows To Powerful Stanford Frosh

SJS freshmen try to nab their first baseball win of the season today when they entertain Hartnell Junior College at 3 p.m. on the frosh field.

The Spartababes will open with almost the same line-up that dropped last Friday's season opener to a powerful Stanford frosh, 6-1. The only change will be on the mound, where lefthander Bob Grover will start in place of Pete Hoskins.

Last Friday the Spartababes played the Paposos on even terms until the sixth inning when a two-run outburst assured Stanford the victory.

Stanford took a quick one-run lead in the first inning on an error, two walks and a fielder's choice, but SJS tied it in the second on a walk to Stu Thomas, a handle hit to left by Greg Michaels and Benny Matsura's two-out single up the middle.

Errors by shortstop John Morgan paved the way for Stanford to score single runs in the third and fourth frames, while co-captain Bob Boone's double sparked Stanford's game-clinching sixth inning rally.

From the second inning on, the Spartababes were at the mercy of Stanford hurler Sandy Vance, a pro prospect already being scouted by the Philadelphia Phillies and the Baltimore Orioles.

Vance fanned 16 and walked only four in going the distance.

Indoor Net Match Slated for SJS

Pancho Gonzales and Pancho Segura headline a special indoor tennis exhibition March 11 in the Spartan Gym.

Rod Laver, current world professional champion, may be added to the program, notes SJS net tutor and match promoter Butch Krikorian. Laver's availability is expected to be announced within the week.

Other netmen scheduled include Dick Garied, Foothill College tennis coach, and Don Hamilton, tennis pro at the Los Altos Golf and Country Club.

Former Professor To Talk

Former SJS history professor Lewis Mangani will open a two-part lecture series on the social problems of Latin America tomorrow in CH226 at 2:30 p.m.

He will hold a follow-up lecture on Tuesday. An expert in Latin American history, Mangani is presently working on his doctoral degree at the University of California at Berkeley.

His first lecture will be entitled "Crisis and Conflict," and will highlight sociological conflicts between the ruling classes and the poor of Latin America.

Application forms and instructions for faculty research grants and student research fellowships for 1966-1967 will be available after Tuesday, March 1, the College Research Committee announced Friday.

The College Research Center and division offices will have the forms. Proposals must be submitted to the College Research Center by Wednesday, March 30, the committee said.

The Faculty research grants provide $100 to $400 while the student research fellowships range from $250 to $400 for significant studies conducted for the expansion of knowledge in every field of learning.

The college research grants program includes creative work in the arts and humanities as well as scientific and technological investigations. The studies, however, are expected to lead to further research, have potential value for publication, bring possible scholarly recognition, and deal with problems for which a clear standard of evaluation can be established.

Only full-time resident faculty and students enrolled for course work during the life of the grant are eligible to participate in the programs.

Students interested in the research programs are advised by the College Research Committee to contact faculty members under whose supervision they may wish to work.

Persons with questions may contact the College Research Center in ADM159.

SJS Journalism Grad Describes Peace Corps

If you aren't looking forward to that 9 to 5 job right after graduation, journalism is looking for people with a pioneer spirit like that of Miss Marilyn Anne Bell, 1965 graduate of the SJS Department of Journalism and Advertising.

The 1964 Tappe Award winner is now serving with the Peace Corps in San Jorge, El Salvador.

In a recent letter to the department, Miss Bell described El Salvador as "a pretty lively country."

"A few months ago," she writes, "the Diario ran a huge photo of a man killed in a machete fight, which is very common here."

The volunteer highlighted her journalistic training when she received the Tappe Award for her series of articles on the FSM demonstrations at U.C. Berkeley in 1964.

Miss Bell is one of 50 volunteers in El Salvador including three from SJS.

"Californians outnumber any other state group," she noted, "much to the despair of the Texans."

The graduate journalist traveled widely in Europe and studied at the University of Caen, Rouen, France, for two months.

She has also toured Italy, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, The Netherlands, and Great Britain, where she stayed with her pen pal, Miss Jacqueline Scofield, of Kent.

The journalists of El Salvador are mostly concentrated in the nation's capital.

"I don't get to spend much time in the capital," writes Miss Bell, "but most of us would like to meet some of the Salvadorean journalists, just to find out why they do some of the things they do."

Even in the coastal San Jorge, part of the American "old west" is seen by the SJS volunteer.

"We have regular shoot-em-ups on Saturday nights along with the machete fights," she writes.

The problems of El Salvador are largely economic, and always evident.

"The people are fairly hard-working," she observes, "although bound by an unfair economic system."

"The cotton and coffee harvests were both poor this year, so things are really sad," she said, "the children didn't have Christmas this time."

Miss Bell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bell of San Jose.
