Pre-Game Dance Tomorrow In Girl's Gym

Roland Band's Music, Prizes, Comedy By D.T.O. Neophytes

As a prelude to the Santa Barbara excursion this week-end, there will be a student body dance tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6 in the Women's gym, according to Ham Hodgson, chairman.

With Roland Band and his swingsters, and the DTO pledges entertaining, who could possibly mind plunking out ten cents and student body card to attend?

Ronnie promises to have a variety of arrangements on hand for you who still like truckin' or better yet—the Lambeth Walk, which has taken the country by storm.

With Hell Week in full swing, the goats of Delta Theta Omega will provide good intermission numbers—who knows, maye they'll give a demonstration of the Lambeth Walk.

Door prizes are to be given to the lucky persons. They will be provided by the Co-op and the State Theater.

So why not take a chance and join the fun?

YW, YM Sponsor Transfer Party Tomorrow Night

Honoring transfer students, a "How Not To Dress" party will be held Friday night at the Lion's Den, sponsored by the joint YW and YM announced Bea Barnard, publicity chairman, yesterday.

Theme of the affair will be carried out in incongruous costume, for example, a football helmet to top off a Shakespearean costume, a formal with garden gloves, the upward hair trend with riding pants. Prizes will be awarded for the "worst" costume, Miss Barnard announced.

Games and dancing will be featured on the program, and tickets are on sale for 25 cents in the Y room. Transportation will be provided for those not able to bring a car.

Jitterbugs Invited To 'Truck On Down' At Commerce Party

Calling all jitterbugs! Calling all radio script writers! Calling all golfers! Calling everybody who likes a good time!

The time is seven-thirty Friday night, the place is the Men's gym, the event is the Commerce club party, the price of admission is microscopic, the opportunity for fun is terrific.

GOLF CONCESSION
Just so that you golfers who've been giving all your time to math or chemistry can get back into practice, there will be a miniature golf concession. The gym provides space to limber up any number of stiff wrists.

Then, there's Cecil Polson, the

Poytress Slams Ham And Egg Arithmetic

"The figures that the 'Ham and Eggers' have presented are utterly ridiculous," Dr. William Poytress declared yesterday.

Poytress explained that in 1929 the turnover of the United States was 50 billion dollars. "Pensionites have 'proven' that California will be worth more in buying power than the entire United States," he asserted.

He pointed out that 75 per cent of all the warrants will be spent with retail trades, and because of that, only these figures can be applied to the plan.

"And what the effect of adding one billion dollars to California buying power will be, only time will tell," Poytress added.

WEIGHT GUESSING

Mr. Meadows plans to spend the evening guessing the weights of the various guests. If you see him between now and Friday, wandering about the Commerce wing staring critically at the population of said wing, scratching his head, don't be worried; he is merely getting his weight-guessing talents into trim.

Wouldn't it be foolish to stay home or go to a movie Friday night?

Rally Prepared For Spartan Invasion By Gaucho Rooters At Station, Says Late Wire

SWIM PARTY FOLLOWS BLUE CARD DELUGE

"Swim-a-Nic", the quarterly after-blue-cards swimming party, will be held Wednesday, November 9 in the college pool.

Following the swim, an Italian dinner will be held at the Hotel D'Italia on Market street. The swim party, dinner, and entertainment will be over at 7:30.

Women who are interested regardless whether or not they have had swimming, are invited to come any time during the swimming hour of 4 and 5:30. Students who do not have an O.K. from the Health department, must have one in order to go into the plunge.

All students who wish to stay for the dinner must sign up on the bulletin board in the pool as soon as possible. The "Swim-a-Nic" is free. The dinner is 50 cents, payable at the hotel.

Oh Day Of Woe! Blue Cards Sent To 1276 Students

The day of suspense is over and the victims are known. Yesterday 1276 students received a total of 1827 blue cards, according to figures given by Joe West, college registrar.

ONE, TWO, MY GOSH! SIX!

"This is slightly more than one and a half cards to each individual receiving such a notice," stated West. "Number per person varied from one to six cards."

All students who received more than one notice are required to report to some member of the personnel committee. Junior college academic students must see Dr. J. C. Elder, technical and terminal, Mr. Harrington Health; upper division, Dr. James DeVoss; and lower division degree students, Mr. West.

START TALKING

"If a student received one blue card, he should talk over the matter with his instructor, and if the work can not be made up satisfactorily, he should see a member of the personnel staff also," declared West.

"A blue card is a warning notice, which shows a student he is not up to standard in his work, which must be improved if he wishes to get an acceptable grade in the course," he explained.

Utility Commission Opposed By Broyles

Mr. Owen Broyles, economics instructor, announces that he is AGAINST Proposition Number 13, instead of in favor of the proposal, as was erroneously reported in the Open Forum articles earlier this week.

College Fund For Chest Is Short Eighteen Dollars

The college Community Chest contributions, according to figures received from the controller's office yesterday, are still short of its three hundred dollar quota.

"Eighteen dollars and 23 cents are needed before Friday to fill that quota," stated Bob Work, college Chest chairman, yesterday.

"The large part of this amount must come from the campus organizations who have until 5 p.m. Friday to turn in their donations, said Work.

Chest officials report that if the twenty-two campus groups who have not yet turned in their donations, do so before Friday night, the college will be able to report a one hundred per cent response for the first time in years.

To these organizations the request of campaign officials is: "Please turn in your quota as soon as possible. Don't leave your name blank as a 'non-giver' on the 'quota graph'."

Visitors Invited To Homecoming Game-Dance

By JACK BALDWIN

An exchange of telegrams between the Spartan Daily and Santa Barbara State late yesterday afternoon indicated that the Gauchos had ignited their battle fires and take arms in preparation for the Spartan invasion of the southern bay region on Saturday.

Other news report from Santa Barbara reported a rally planned to meet the San Jose State special train and welcome the team, band, and rooters.

WIRE RECEIVED

The telegram from Walt Bradbury, director of publicity at S.B.S., read as follows:

Jack Baldwin
Spartan Daily
San Jose State College

Welcome rally planned for Spartan Special at station. Spartans invited homecoming dance at National Guard Armory following game. General admission to game one dollar. San Jose students free with student body card. Spartans enter NY gate on south bleachers. Stadium located due east of train station.

Walt Bradbury.

SCHEDULE CHANGE

Another slight change of program came through that should meet with the approval of everyone taking the San Jose State special. The time of departure from San Jose has been moved up one hour making the new time for leaving at 8:15 a.m. instead of 7:15 as previously announced. The train will arrive one hour later and will leave Santa Barbara at 1:30 Sunday morning rather than 2:00 a.m.

Spartan Knights Name 13 New "Squires"

Thirteen squires, initiates of the Spartan Knights, campus service society, were accepted into the organization during their regular business meeting Tuesday noon.

Honored students are: George Latka, Ed Crotser, Bob Horall, Harlan Wilder, Leroy Hill, Carlton Peregoy, Tom Bohnett, Gene Fisk, Joe Bohnett, Clarence Russo, Jack Baldwin, Harold Samuelson, and Ted Wilson.

Members of the campus honorary service fraternity will put the new squires through their "Hell Week" paces within the next few weeks.

"Duke" Ham Hodgson is making preparations for an informal get-together and lunch honoring the new squires, to be held Tuesday noon at 12:00 in the Spartan Knight room. All squires are asked to be present, as the affair is being held in their honor.

'WITH MALICE TOWARD SOME'

By Margaret Halsey

To take a trip to England is not at all uncommon and to record your travels in a diary is still less unusual but to write with such daring originality as Margaret Halsey's book, "With Malice Toward Some" is another thing again.

WHAT HAPPENED

It all happened as a result of a young professor's opportunity to do exchange work at a small college in England. His wife had looked forward to such a trip for many years. So they hopped aboard a liner and she begins to describe the voyage and England with the thoroughness of a fine-toothed comb. Nothing escapes this keen observer. The bad food, the tricky weather, the dullness of English conversation all come under the observation of Miss Halsey who seems addicted to humorous, witty and somewhat pointed thrusts.

Even the professor seems singularly gifted with a deliciously witty disposition. What one does not laugh at the other does and one wonders occasionally if there is anything under the sun these two hold sacred.

FORMER TITLE

The book originally held the unpromising title of "The Travel Diary of A Professor's Wife", but it was later changed to "With Malice Toward Some" when the publishers found that the malice decreases decidedly as the couple visit Sweden.

The book left the reporter with a desire to meet Miss Halsey and a determination to proceed with much haste to buy a personal copy. Simon & Schuster, New York, 1938, $2.00. (Coming— a re-

Stooges Favored To Win Intramural Cage Crown; Schedule Starts Today

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA,

FRED MERRICK, Editor

Seals Vie With Stanford Poloists

Kickers Prepare For Muddy Game With San Mateo

Preparing for another wet and mud covered field, the Spartan kickers are working out on the San Carlos turf this week in preparation for the invasion of Washington Square by the Men From San Mateo (Not Mars).

Reports from the peninsula city which have drifted into the Spartan camp indicate that the junior college team is "hot" and ready to take the second-place Joseans down a notch or two.

Although the locals already hold a 4-2 decision over their next foe the game promises to be one of the best yet played on the local turf. Coach McDonald was entirely pleased with his "mudders" last week when they downed the highly touted Stanford eleven and thinks his boys have finally reached their peak, and will give California a real run for first place honors in the second half of the loop starting this week.

With Marsh now playing center-forward where he can capitalize on his ability to shoot goals and "Mighty Mite" Martella back in the starting lineup, Coaches Mac and Martin Olivari look forward to rounding out the season with a high scoring combination.

Still holding down the defensive half of the field are the two full-backs who should come through with all-conference recognition, Ham Hodgson and Ed Crotser. These two rugged individuals have proven themselves capable of giving the best in the league trouble when they start to advance the ball into scoring territory. In the goal for the Spartans is Leroy Hill, rangy guard who has stopped many scoring thrusts poured at him so far this season.

INTRAMURAL CAGERS OPEN TOURNEY TODAY

Eight Quintets Seek Basketball Pennant

Intramural basketball competition swings into action today at 11 o'clock when eight well balanced teams prepare to start the first round of the fight for the coveted class title.

With the highly touted Stooges favored to win in a walkaway, other teams are expected to point for the favorites and seek upsets. Pre-schedule information gives the mighty Midgets the best chance at stealing the crown from the Stooges. With Kotta and Carruth

Hubbard Issues Call For Varsity Hoop Candidates

Spartan Basketball Practice Next Week

With the Spartan football season entering the closing part of the 1938 schedule, Coach Bill Hubbard yesterday issued his first call for varsity basketball candidates.

Practice for the San Jose quintet, which is defending champions of the Northern California Intercollegiate Basketball Conference, will open some time next week. However, Hubbard is interested in having candidates contact him before next week. Appointments for physical examinations and the issuing of equipment will be made next week.

Practice will be held two or three days a week, starting around four o'clock in the afternoon.

Frosh, Varsity Septets Travel To 'Indian' Farm

Again the water polo championship of the peninsula is at stake, and again the participants are San Jose State and Stanford, the latter being defending champions.

Striving to gain position of the coveted title, Coach Charlie Walker will take off from San Jose with his freshman squad this afternoon at 2:15, and the varsity squad will leave an hour later under the leadership of Skipper Martin Wempe.

Coach Walker is definitely in favor of winning these two games, and optimistically thinks that if the locals get off the well known "dime" they can turn the trick.

Of the two teams, it is generally conceded that the frosh have the best opportunity of accomplishing the difficult task. John Hood has been the sparkplug of the team all season, and should give the Paposes something to think about tomorrow afternoon.

For the varsity, Coach Walker is still in the dark as to whether his "ace in the hole" Frank Savage will be in condition to play. Savage has been out most of the week with a boil, and until the Dr. takes a peek today, no one knows.

As a result, the starting lineup is in great doubt. Captain Martin Wempe, Jack Windsor, and Jim Curran seem to have a good chance of opening at forwards, although no definite announcement has come from the Commodore. At guards Horan looks like a cinch at center back, while the other two positions are a toss-up between Leon Sparrow, Dean Foster, and Fred Duttweiler.

John Hatch will open at goalie for the frosh, while the ever reliable Dick Savage will start for the varsity.

Unknown Team Grabs Nation's Scoring Lead From Sparta Gridmen

San Jose's "highest scoring team in the nation" cognomen was surrendered to previously unpublicized Central (Mich.) Teachers this week when word received from the Great Lakes state revealed that football's new scoring juggernaut had rolled up a total of 250 points as against Sparta's 229.

The scoring record of the touch-down-hungry Michigan gridders far surpasses the efforts of the Spartans, having chalked up their amazing total in six games, while the locals' sum has been registered over a seven game route.

Food-Handlers Given Health Examinations

In order to safeguard the health of the students of San Jose State college, all of the 73 food-handlers on the campus have been undergoing physical examinations in the Health office for the last few weeks.

According to Mrs. Sarah Dowdle, head of the college cafeteria, which has approximately 60 food-handlers, "This is the second year that my food-handlers have had such extensive physical examinations. We are very appreciative of this service and feel that it is a very worthwhile step toward protecting our customers and raising our standards. I firmly believe that these physical examinations should be required for all food-handlers in the commercial field

Melzer, Work, Bailey Hired To Conduct "Jitterbug" Contest

For successfully producing the recent "Swing Concert" Jim Bailey, Ben Melzer, and Bob Work have been hired by a downtown organization to conduct the first San Jose "Jitterbug" contest to be held this Sunday in the Civic auditorium.

Fred Nagle and his orchestra will play for the "Jitterbugs".

State college students are being invited to the dance and to compete in the contest which starts at 11 p.m. A number of cash prizes will be given to the winners. Bailey will act as master of ceremonies during the show in conjunction with Melzer and Work, who will act as official judges.

BLACKOUT IS END OF FROSH VIGIL

A freshman elbowed and "excuse me'd" his way through the crowd in the inner quad determined to set up his camera and catch with magic eye the spectacle of a pledge of the Tau Delta fraternity being forced to walk the plank that so often hangs from the tower. If he was unusually lucky, he might even snap a tumble.

For several hours the freshman photographer kept his vigil behind his ground glass and focusing cloth waiting . . . waiting.

When he finally emerged, he was amazed to find the sun had set and he was trying to photograph the tower in the darkness of the night.
