S.F. MAN ARRESTED AS CITY HAS WORST FIRE IN 10 YEARS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5, (UP)—San Francisco police and fire officials tonight questioned a Chinese merchant seaman suspected of arson in connection with a raging five-alarm fire which gutted a Market street office building late today, injuring at least 31 fire fighters.

The fire, described as San Francisco's "worst in 10 years," roared through the three-story Hanford building in downtown Market street, causing damage estimated at "more than $200,000" before it was quelled after several hours' battle.

The suspect, Robert K. Lee, 54-year-old merchant seaman, was arrested a block from the scene after he was assertedly seen turning in a false alarm and "acting in a suspicious manner."

Fire authorities said the fire was of incendiary origin and started by the same arsonist responsible for a series of six minor fires in the downtown area during the past two weeks. Two of the minor fires were reported today before the major blaze broke out.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Social Affairs first meeting of this quarter will be held today, at 4:30 in the Student Union.

Bea Hohman, chairman of the committee, said that attendance at the first two meetings will make a student eligible for membership.

The play ran for a year in Paris in 1938-39 and is full of laughs, tears, and fights.

The plot unfolds when the young children are left alone. One of the girls tries to help her cousin win back the affections of one of the young men by making him jealous of an imaginary aviator.

To the girls' surprise the "imaginary" aviator appears on the scene when he crash lands his plane on the estate. This leads to a near tragedy especially as

ENROLLMENT IS NOW 5618

Registration totaled a 139 increase over Thursday, Friday afternoon bringing the total enrollment figures to 5618 with 2943 veterans. Although late registration will continue throughout the day the enrollment is not expected to top the fall quarter sign-up of 5741 students, Registrar Joe H. West declares.

With the completion of the barracks, overcrowded class room conditions have been alleviated. "A shortage of desk chairs has necessitated the use of straight chairs in many of the barrack rooms, but a new supply of chairs are expected in the near future," says West.

CREW FIGHTS TO KEEP SHIP AFLOAT

NEWPORT, Jan. 5, (UP)—A 35-man crew fought desperately tonight to keep the freighter Kotor afloat as a Coast Guard cutter towed it toward Newport and three other rescue ships stood by in case of emergency.

The cutter, Algonquin, which was towing the Kotor, reported at 9 p.m. EST that it was some 34 miles off Point Judith, south of Newport. The condition of the freighter was described as "getting steadily worse."

The Kotor's pumps were unable to keep up with the water which poured through a damaged bulkhead. The cutter Hornbeam was directed to pull alongside the stricken ship and pass portable pumps.

Beverly O'Connor, 1943 graduate from the Spartan Home Economics department, is in charge of the housing for the university.

All vets who move into the housing units must have the unqualified endorsement of Dean Pitman's office. The housing consists of a furnished apartment which will rent for $30 a month.

COACHES PROPOSE NEW GRID RULES

NEW YORK, Jan. 5, (UP)—The Rules committee of the American Football Coaches' association today adopted five suggestions for rules changes and will offer their recommendations to the association as a whole tomorrow.

The proposed changes: 1—Declare the ball dead when a kick for extra point is blocked, and prohibit the kicking team from advancing the ball.

2. Move the ball 20 yards in from the sidelines instead of 15.

3. Soften wearing apparel of players.

4. Re-word rule concerning offensive shifts obviously designed to draw opponents offside.

5. Change substitute rule so that substitution may be made without a penalty or time out while clock is running.

CAGE CLINIC

SPARTANS WIN CASABA HI-LO SCORING HONORS

By ABNER FRITZ

Seventy tired hoopsters gathered in the Napoli Cafe late Saturday night to partake of a midnight snack and receive rewards for their efforts in last week's Cage Clinic.

Chunky Hank Moroski, Cal Poly guard, received the "Best All-Around Man" award. The San Luis speedster richly deserved the honor, but the coaches who did the picking surely must have given some thought to the outstanding play of COP's Hank Pfister, and Spartans' Hal Sonntag and Bob Hagen.

John Burton, San Francisco stater received the award for individual scoring honors, setting a new record of 56 points for the three nights of play. H bettered by six points the record set in 1938 by Tom Collingwood, also of San Francisco State.

DEFENSIVE HONORS

San Francisco State took defensive honors too, when it was Norm Keller who was voted outstanding defensive man. We can't quite agree with the choice of Keller over the fine defensive play of Quentin Sims of Santa Barbara, Vern Reggins of Fresno, and again we come back home, Stu Inman, bulwark of the Spartan defense.

Free-throw champ of the tournament was Hal Sonntag, who edged out another San Josean, Ralph Romero, after winning a thriller in the semi-finals from John Burton of Frisco State.

SPARTANS HELD BACK

San Jose was held below 30 points in both games last night, winning their first game against the Gauchos of Santa Barbara, 22-17, and coming back in the final game of the Clinic to dump COP 27-18. The Spartans set a new record for offensive play, scoring 183 points in their six games, and the local hoopsters

FOOTBALL TEAM MAY GET AWARDS FROM COUNCIL

Bill Felse, graduate manager of the college Athletic department will be present at tonight's meeting of the Student Council when its members discuss the possibility of giving awards to members of the football team as further recognition of their fine play last season.

According to Student Body president Marty Taylor, the appropriations for the suggested awards will have to be made from the funds set aside for student athletic activities. Commenting on the issuance of these awards Taylor said that the biggest factor to be considered is the cost. Whether or not they will go to all the players or only to outstanding members of the team is a problem that must be decided when the executive committee discusses the quality and number of awards to be obtained.

Also to be heard at the meeting of the student officers will be the reports of the progress of the various committees appointed at last quarter's Gripe Dinner for the investigation of Student Body problems.

ENGLISH EXAM STUMPS MANY

Only 24% of those who took the English A examination last month passed. This is the lowest figure since before December, 1943.

Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the English department, says that the reason for the decline in those who pass is due to two main reasons: poorer college material is coming from high schools now, and most of the returning veterans have been away for so long that they have forgotten a lot of the English fundamentals.

Largest number to take the English A examination in the three year period was in September, 1946, when 1523 took the test. Large classes emphasizing such fundamentals as spelling, grammar, and punctuation have been initiated to eliminate the deficiency in English.

BABE RUTH TO UNDERGO SURGERY

NEW YORK, Jan. 5, (UP)—Babe Ruth, Baseball's home run king, will undergo a "serious" operation tomorrow morning, authorities at French Hospital announced tonight.

They did not disclose the nature of his illness, but said the operation would be performed on his neck for the relief of "intractable pain."

BOOK SALES REMAIN OPEN

"Because some students were unable to obtain information as to what textbooks they were going to need this quarter, the Student Book Exchange will sell books today," says Harold Riddle, Alpha, Phi Omega president.

"Students who have deposited books with the Exchange for sale, are advised to wait until tomorrow to call for their books."

The Book Exchange is operating in the Student Union from 8:30 to 4:30. It is a non-profit organization, conducted for the purpose of aiding those students who are going to school on their own funds and are not receiving textbooks from the government.

THREE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

VINELAND, N.J., Jan. 5, (UP)—Three persons were reported killed and 16 injured tonight when a nationwide air transport service plane crashed during a heavy snowstorm about two miles from here.

The DC-3 airlines, carrying 20 passenger and three crew members, was enroute from Miami to Newark, N.J. It crashed in a densely wooded area near Carmel, N.J., but did not burn.

Local police and about 100 volunteers cut a path through the thick woodland to open an avenue for ambulances to reach the wreckage.

COUNTRY CLUB COLLEGES

Where has the expression, "country club," with reference to certain schools of higher learning gone? Not so long ago it was a common charge made against many educational institutions. Could it be that students have suddenly become serious about education, that even the athletes can no longer be classified in the "coaster" class?

When the war ended and veterans began to storm schools to renew their interrupted pursuit of knowledge, there was much doubt expressed as to whether or not they would be able to make the grade or the grades. Now, the situation has changed radically and the by-word seems to be, "pity the new student." This trend indicates that age has a lot to do with who can and who can't in college.

The days when students attended classes armed with a golf bag and a ticket to Friday Night's basketball game are gone. School is a battle from start to finish—no quarter is asked and none is given. Yet there seems to be the feeling that college is the same, just as much fun, just as much doing in the social circles.

The country club is still here, but it's in its proper place, hidden behind a serious intent to put first things first.

'Les Hommes Des Distinction'

By ABNER FRITZ

A three act opera presented in Coronet form (condensed). Instead of three acts, this takes place in two and a half.

List of Characters:

- Lord Calvert.....A Good Joe
 - Lord Highpockets.....A holdover from "Forever Amber"
 - Lady Windemere.....A Schizophrenic
 - The Earl of East Brooklyn.....A Bum
 - The Earl of West Brooklyn.....ditto
 - The U. S. Ambassador.....Da Heero
- Assorted Bums, lords and ladies, plus two traveling salesman from the United States.

ACT I

Scene: The palatial estate of Lord Calvert, somewhere in Europe. It is early in the year 1846, and Lord Calvert has just published news of his great discovery.

He has found a new type of mineral water on his estate which he has bottled in bond and calls Lord Calvert's Reserve.

The curtain rises disclosing Lord Calvert and Lord Highpocket sampling some of Lord Calvert's Reserve.

Lord Highpocket turns to his host and sings "Bring Another Drink." Calvert hits the buzzer and a flunkie comes staggering in under a heavy load.

He sings "I'll be Sober for Christmas" and is rewarded by a kick in the pants from Highpocket who admonishes him to "Straighten Up and Fly Right."

Lady Windemere appears. She has a double barreled personality. Right now both barrels are empty, she looks like and is a mess. While she is the wife of a wealthy and titled Englishman (not be confused with present day radio characters) she also doubles in brass at the local girlie show.

She claims to have lost her fan (from the play of the same name) and thinks the Earl of East Brooklyn took it.

Lord Calvert is annoyed, and Lord Highpocket is even moreso. Highpocket grabs some food from the pantry and some Reserve from Calvert's private stock and shoves off to sell the Earl of East Brooklyn.

Highpocket is in sad shape, so Calvert calls East Brooklyn (collect) and warns him. This is on the first of May, when East Brooklyn is out in its annual May day parade.

ACT TWO

Highpocket arrives in East Brooklyn eight months later singing a medley of "It's a Long Long While From May to December," and "Give Me the Moon Over Brooklyn."

There is dissension between the Earl and Highpocket. They wrangle and rattle, and are interrupted when a gust of air followed by Al Hoisch of UCLA scoot through on their way to break the world's record for the longest run with a football.

They follow the dust to West Brooklyn where all three finish off the remaining bottles of Lord Calvert's Reserve.

There is cross-Brooklyn rivalry between the two Earls. It seems that someone is supporting the New York Giants and each suspects the other.

Finally the feud is patched up and they meet two traveling salesmen from the U.S. They tell them about the show downtown. They go to the show and find Lady Windemere about to lose her last fan. She has been touring the U.S. with the Ambassador that had been recalled for shooting craps with loaded dice and spiking Zombies with Gin.

Everybody falls over everybody else crying and singing, "It's a Wonderful Life." Lady Windemere goes back to finish her act. They sing the "Drinking Song" while the cops beat down the door.

As the door gives way, the stalwart policemen break into the room and the curtain falls to save us all further embarrassment.

ACT III?—Forget it.

THRUST and PARRY

'WISE UP'

Dear Thrust and Parry and Professors:

Once again a new quarter has rolled around. Let's all get together and understand each other.

We students are here to study. You instructors are here to teach. More will be studied, more will be learned, and more will be taught if all of you instructors stop adopting the idea that that course in Elementary adjustment to College Economics isn't the only course which your students are taking. Don't all of you expect your little darlings to study your sixteen REQUIRED texts every day for your class, because an awful lot of people will fall to get the required grades on that one.

You've done it ever since January 1945, for Pete's sake, as well as every one else's, think it over and realize that there are probably twelve units of assorted other subjects which the student will be required to keep up with too.

Wise up, wise birds, you know the subject from years of study, please don't expect each and every Jane and Johnny to put that much into your one unit course.

We wouldn't be taking courses from you, if we knew the subject that well! And we won't be taking the courses from anyone at all if you don't get together with the other instructors.

Whistleful Women--Where?

Spartan Revelries Chiefs Plead For Pulchritude

By PAUL HURMUSES

"We need women . . . and more women . . ." screams Ed Kinkaid, assistant dance director for the 1947 mammoth Revelries show. "And they gotta have legs, eyes, lips, and . . ."

The kid was desperate in his impassioned plea for female pulchritude. The kid then pulled out sketches of parts of this year's extravaganza . . . gowns, scenery . . . all fine and dandy—but still no women.

Bower Returns To Daily's Staff From Alaska

Dale Bower, senior journalism major, has returned to Washington Square from Petersburg, Alaska, where he took his newspaper internship on the Petersburg Press.

Dale flew from San Francisco to Alaska in September to begin his internship and returned on the Canadian ship S. S. Princess Louise.

One highlight of Dale's trip was the meeting and becoming acquainted with the Alaskan shrimp king Earl N. Omher. Dale says that Omher's dress is his trademark, for he dresses in the picturesque manner of the old West—complete with leggings, breeches, fringed buckskin jacket, cowboy hat, and Van Dyke beard.

Since Petersburg is in the southeast section of Alaska, Dale missed out on the proverbial Alaskan icelands. He said that the weather was very nice although it did rain quite a bit during his three month employment.

MP's--Bless 'Em!

COPS TO FORM MP COMPANY

Members of the police school will staff an MU company of the California National Guard, the first of its kind to be formed since the end of World War II.

Willard E. Schmidt, head of the police school, has been appointed company commander. Police students James Oliver, Richard George, and Gregory Sargent have been named lieutenants. Oliver, Goerge, and Sargent have all had war training as MP's, according to Mr. Schmidt.

The company will be formed from men of this area, who will have an opportunity to be commissioned as lieutenants, or appointed non-commissioned officers.

Mr. Schmidt feels that the MP training will be helpful in the following ways:

Special courses will probably be made available for which college credit can be given. Students will have an opportunity to add to their income. Officers receive $7.50 for each drill day, enlisted men are paid according to their grade.

Should there be another war, the men will be specially trained and equipped. In any event the MP training will give them adequate training should they wish ganza . . . gowns, scenery . . . all fine and dandy—but still no women.

"Get a load of this little job," he beamed, as he spread out a gorgeous creation which was a mummy-fitting drape with a slit up the leg. "See what I mean. I got to have a babe to fill it up . . ."

"Doc" Arends, producer and director of Revelries, was standing by thumbing through part of the script. "Yep," he mused, "we have to have women, and now."

FIVE NIGHTS

The boys have put in time and talents on this show, which is going to run for five consecutive nights . . . the longest Revelries has ever been put on. There won't be anything fourth rate about the deal.

But . . . you can't put on a show without women. And here is something else that the boys said to pass on . . . you won't have to be talented. Acting ability? forget it. Blondes, brunettes, red-heads, all come out to rehearsals. There's bound to be a spot in the show for you—and you—and you.

BEST SHOW YET

So, gals, if you can spare a few nights from now until February 10, which is when revelries opens, if you want to get out and do your stuff, and if you want to help make this the best doggoned show to ever hit this campus . . . then act now.

Get in quick touch with either "Doc" Arends or Ed Kinkaid. They're a couple of good boys who will give you a break and they know their stuff.

Let's make Revelries of '47 something that all San Jose will be talking about and won't forget for a long time.

MOVIE SERIES OFFERED CLASS

The motion picture appreciation class, given by the speech department, will be supplemented this quarter with a series of movies, according to Dr. Hugh Gillis, department head. The class includes a study of the art and technical forms of motion pictures, giving the students a basis upon which to form critical appreciation.

The first of these series of movies will be shown next Wednesday in the Little Theater at 7:30 p. m. There will be no admission charge, but class members will have priority of seats. This first show will include eight shows, all of them short features, including: The Execution of Mary Queen of Scots, Wash Day Troubles, The Great Train Robbery and others.

On January 22, the class will see "Intolerance," a two hour show which according to Dr. Gillis, is probably the most influential movie ever produced. It was in this movie that the practice of moving the camera was first used. Up to this time, the camera was always held steady, and the actors did all the moving.

Other schedules of movies will be announced by the Spartan Daily.

CCF HOLDS FIRST MEETING

DAILY COVERS TWO COURSES

Starting this week, the Spartan Daily will run a series of articles covering two courses in the college curriculum for the winter quarter. Problems of Peace, Social Science 11, by Dr. William Poytress, and News Events, Journalism 101, by Mr. David MacKaye are the courses to receive special attention with regard to current news value.

Dr. Poytress' class is a follow up to a course given at San Jose State college in the fall of 1942 in which the members of the Social Science department lectured on backgrounds, historic, geographic, and economic, for World War II under the title, "War Aims."

Mr. MacKaye, in his second quarter of News Events, will continue to discuss subjects of national and international interest with regard to their lasting news value. Mr. MacKaye is not interested in incidents in the news of today, but rather with items which will become part of the history books of tomorrow. Visitors are invited to attend any of Mr. MacKaye's lectures in room 39 at 12:30 on Fridays.

The first article in this series will appear in Wednesday's issue of the Spartan Daily.

ED CLUB MEETS ON WEDNESDAY

The Education club will hold its first meeting of the quarter at 3:30 Wednesday in Room 1A. All teacher training students are invited to attend the get-acquainted affair.

The organization is affiliated with the California Student Teachers Association.

Present plans for the quarter's activities include a potluck dinner and meetings with various educators, including Ralph Fields, Superintendent of Schools.

The couple is living at Stanford Village, while Barbara continues her studies at State, and Don does graduate work at Stanford.

Jane Potter, big sister chairman, is in charge of general arrangements with Barbara Moore heading the refreshment committee.

The tea will take the place of the regular Wednesday meeting.

COED SHINES WITH SHINER

The reason La Torre editor Phil Clayton is wearing dark glasses these days is due to a very black eye. And it happened very innocently.

It seems that Miss Clayton was indulging in an old sport known as "jumping for balloons" at a New Year's eve party in the Sainte Claire hotel. She jumped up, but coming down she landed against a stair post. The result was the aforementioned shiner, and a pair of glamorous sun glasses.

SPINNERS RESUME DANCE MEETINGS

Spartan Spinners, the campus folk dance group, will resume their dance meetings this Tuesday night at 7:15 in the Women's gym. There will be a beginners group and at this meeting the members will discuss the organization of a work shop for the more experienced dancers.

The Spinners have big plans for this quarter with a trip to the Palo Alto Veterans' Hospital and participation in a San Francisco folk dance festival scheduled for January.

Mrs. Sarah Wilson, club adviser, invites anyone, experienced or not, who is interested in folk dancing for fun to attend the weekly Tuesday night meetings. Those interested in the work shop group should wear tennis shoes.

FORUM HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

The Current Events Forum will hold an open house meeting in the basement of the Methodist church on the corner of San Antonio and Fourth street at 12:30 today.

Dr. Dudley Moorhead, Dr. Ezekiel Bogosian, Minister of the church, and a member of the group yet to be designated will be the main speakers of the afternoon. All members of the school faculty and student body are cordially invited to attend.

GEORGE LINK IS NEW VET PREXY

George Link, a sophomore advertising major from Salinas, was elected winter quarter president of Mu Delta Pi, veterans' organization, at its first business meeting of the quarter, Thursday night in room 24.

Other officers elected for the quarter were: vice president, Clifton Hurt, sophomore engineering major; secretary, Barton Johnston, sophomore chemistry major; treasurer, Rex Parrish, sophomore advertising major; and sergeant-at-arms, Bob Carroll, a freshman P. E. major.

It was announced at the meeting that plans are now under way to hold a get-together and smoker Thursday evening, so that all veterans who are interested in joining that organization can get acquainted with what its purpose is and what it has to offer. The time and place of the smoker is to be announced later.

"We have a fine schedule of events for this quarter," Link explained in accepting the presidency, "and I hope that all veterans here will take advantage of what we have to offer them as the only veteran's group of this kind on the campus."

The Navy is urging veterans entitled to terminal leave pay to make their claims immediately instead of waiting until the deadline of September, 1947.

THE HOT CORNER

By DICK FRY

From the spectators standpoint, the Raisin Bowl game last week was the same type of football that the Spartans have been playing all year. Again, line play was the leading factor in a San Jose victory. They can develop a thousand new systems, even trickier than the T formation, but it will still be up to the line to make them click. Coach Bill Hubbard had the forward wall this year, and the T worked just like Shaunessey intended it to.

With nine wins, one loss, and one tie on the record books for the 1946 season, the Spartans appear ready for Pacific Coast Conference football next year. That is, if they want it. St. Mary's and Santa Clara, to mention a couple, have done right well for themselves for a number of years as independents. There is no reason why San Jose State college cannot do the same thing.

Basketball coaches are characters—but this doesn't mean that Walt McPherson is not a basketball coach. Walt just seems to be the exception to the rule. Two of the best examples of what we mean by characters could be seen at the basketball clinic in the Men's gym last week. Art Acker, ageless mentor of the Chico State Wildcats, is the Babe Hollingberry of the hardwoods. How Acker has lived so long the way he cavorts around that bench during a game, and considering the temperature under his collar is unbelievable. How Dan Farmer, the S. F. State coach, ever played four years of basketball under Acker way back when at Chico State and came out as cool and collected as he is will never cease to amaze me.

While Acker is the athletic type, the bounding boy, Hal Beatty, head man for the Fresno State quintet, is the Stetson-stomper. Beatty's hats look bad, but they should look a lot worse considering the beating they take when Hal has a cage team in action.

Maybe McPherson will acquire some of these tendencies with age, for it's unbelievable that he can get such good results from the Spartans by sitting quietly and unconcerned in the heat of battle.

FRIDAY NIGHT CLINIC SHOWS SPARTAN QUINTET IN TOP FORM

Immediately following a thrilling last minute tie between Cal Poly and COP, San Jose State College's Spartans literally fought their way to a 36-15 win over their Raisin City rivals, the Bulldogs of Fresno State in Friday night's session of the Basketball Clinic.

It was San Jose all the way, as Ivan Robinson, Hal Sonntag, Bob Hagen and Stu Inman outmaneuvered and outscored the Fresnoans.

In their second game of the evening, the Spartans took on undefeated San Francisco State and edged the Hilltoppers 31-19.

Chuck Hughes, Hagen and Inman were instrumental in the San Jose victory, while Norm Keller, Al Rossi, and Mel Martin tried their best to little avail to stem the scoring of the towering Spartans.

Trailing 21-4 at the end of 10 minutes of play, Cal Poly's little Mustangs came from way behind to tie the Tigers from up Stockton way.

Behind Jack Toomay, lanky COP center and Hank Pfister, deadeye forward, the Tigers had the first part of the contest their own way.

75 MEN IN BASEBALL SIGNUP

By TOM ROWEN

Coach Walt McPherson announced that seventy-five ball-players will be on hand to battle for positions on the Spartan nine when practice starts in February. Returning lettermen include Wayne Krouskup, all-conference second baseman last year, Hal Sonntag, pitcher-first baseman; Pete Denevi, catcher; Stu Inman, outfielder; and George Wehner, first baseman.

NEW TALENT

The Spartans finished third in conference play last year and with the array of talent that will be available this year, they should be in the fight for top honors.

Prominent newcomers include Bob Pifferini, outfielder; Jack Marcipan, outfielder; Jack Kakuchi, catcher-infielder; Phil Nell, catcher-pitcher; Bob Wuesthoff, outfielder; and Bill Breedon, shortstop.

BASEBALL ROSTER

This is the roster of players who have signed up: Bob Edminster, Bob Pifferini, Chuck Hughes, Jack Marcipan, Sam Lugonja, Al Malato, George Miskulin, Verdi Johnson, Jack Kakuch, Phil Nell, Tom Rowen, Ken Preminger, Al Raffacilli, Vic Larcher, Bob Meusel, John Nordhausen, Hal Sonntag, Tom Okagaki, Connie Maloney, Bob Santos, George Smith, Al Pinard, Harold Sousa, Frank Vizza, Bob Stiffler, Pete Denevi, Bob Schatzo, Wayne Krouskup, Jim Taylor, Ralph Romero, Don Taylor, Orlando Tambinino, Mario Valdastr, Don Krouskup, Bob Wright, George Wehner, Bob Wuesthoff, Don Atlas, Rudy Andrade, Harold Phillips, Chuck Adams, Stan Peterson, Gale Wetterstrom, Howard Best, Bob Abler, Ray Whitlock, Martin Sullivan, Jack Burtner, George Brown, Bill Breedon, Jim Abler, Stewart Clegg, Elwood Clark, John Donovan, Fred Daring, Murray Dill, John De Figh, Joe Antuzzi, Don Foster, Bob Gillies, Louie Harris, Harry Forbes, Clayton Groelling (manager) Harry Forbes, Bob Grappi, Joe Granada, Marv Hogan, Lou DeBari, Stu Inman, Jim McCarty, Joe Delucchi, Al Lamboy, Don Lopes, Carl Ketchum, Rafael Jimenez, and Bill Mears.

They completely dominated both backboards due to their advantage in height.

Midway through the game, Cal Poly's high scoring trio of Hank Moroski, Ray Ball, and Roland Tillstra began to connect, and aided by the fine defensive play of Moroski and Lee Rosa came from oblivion to tie the score and almost go on to a win.

San Francisco State in their first game of the evening was saved from a tie, when Chico State's Don Wuestenberg missed a layup under the bucket with only three seconds left to play. This left the boys from the city with the hills out in front by a narrow margin of 22-20 which was the score when the gun went off. Burton led (you see Mr. Gould) the San Franciscans with 12 points, more than one half of their total.

Hamerstrom and Wuestenberg led their Wildcat teammates in a vain attempt to overcome the Hilltoppers.

Jack South led the Wildcats to their first win, 23-16, by scoring 10 points, while Bud Proulx of COP scored a like amount for his team.

SPARTAN MERMEN HOLD FIRST PRACTICE; FROSH GIVE ADDED STRENGTH

San Jose State college varsity and freshman swimming teams held their first practice last night in the local pool and Coach Charlie Walker was well pleased with the turnout. Returning from previous year's teams were George Rudloff, Don "Scoot" Thomsen, Gordon Phillips and James Fenton, who came to State in the Spring quarter of last year.

They will be strengthened by sprinter George Hodgins and diver Leo Gaffney, both former mermen from Fullerton Junior college, and Tudor Bogart from Sequoia high school.

Coach Walker also has a large turnout of freshman aspirants who will be able to compete on the varsity squad if they can make the grade. Among these newcomers, who are expected to bolster the varsity team, are Pete Wolf, Richard Kidder and Pat McConnell.

Wolf, who swam at Sequoia high school for three years, is a much needed breast stroke swimmer. McConnell, from the local high school, is a good diver and will team with Fenton and Gaffney on the spring boards. In the distance events Kidder, who comes from Palo Alto high, will be greatly needed.

Other freshman include sprinters Robert Iliff and David Moore, backstroke Grass Wilmer, Hugh Wood, Robert Hemstreet, I. J. Hopkins, William Peckham and Gerald Ward.

The schedule for the coming season has not yet been completed but will include the major schools and swimming teams in the bay area, according to Walker.

MATMEN BOAST STRONG SQUADS; BEARS FIRST FOE

Fifty-eight men have been signed up for the Spartan varsity wrestling squad which opens its first post war season against the California Golden Bear's matmen here January 17, announced Wrestling Coach Ted Mumby who is planning a tough schedule for the squad.

The Junior varsity squad has attracted another 40 men, and they will probably start their year against the California Jayvees the same day.

Spartans will tangle with San Francisco State college the night of the 18th—also in the Men's small gym. They also have a tentative date with the UCLA Bruins which will be announced at a later time.

April 11 and 12 have been selected as the dates in which the matmen will probably participate in the national championships to be held in San Francisco.

Coach Mumby named Benn Capp as manager and Bob Tobin the assistant manager.

SPARTAN SKIERS MEET FOR SIGNUPS TODAY

Tryouts for the Ski team will be held at Badger Pass (Yosemite) on January 18 and 19. Times will be taken on two slalom runs and the downhill.

All students who have had competitive experience in the downhill, slalom, cross-country, and jumping events are urged to try out. A meeting will be held for students who are interested in competing in winter meets in room B2 (barracks in east quad) this afternoon at 3:30.

Tennis Team, Intramurals Have Signup

More than 40 men have signed up for the second annual post war San Jose State college tennis varsity team which are the defending 1946 CCAA champions with a record of 12 wins and three defeats. Coach Ted Mumby the new mentor announced.

Don McKenzie, who is a first string letterman of last year, and Bud Heffner, who is regarded as a promising candidate, are among those who are trying out for the squad. Coach Mumby is the successor to Bill Felse who is now Athletic graduate manager.

Among the Spartan victims were COP, Fresno State, Alameda Naval Station, and Santa Clara. They also lost to Santa Clara and COP.

INTRAMURALS PLANNED
Tennis will play an important role in Coach Mumby's intramural plans this quarter. The tourney will start sometime later this quarter. Contests will include lobbing, backhand, and serving.

Coach Mumby also announced that five teams have signed up for intramural basketball which will consist of two leagues. They are the Monday-Wednesday loop and the Tuesday-Thursday league.

The names of the squads include the fall quarter champions, the Unknowns, the Unmentions, Tuffey's Big Five, the Newman Club and an unidentified casaba quintet.

There are also two teams which have signed up for volleyball. Coach Mumby invites everyone who is interested to sign for intramural activity in his office.

S.J., 'FRISCO WIN CAGE HONORS

were the leading defensive team by virtue of allowing the opposition only 10 1/2 points.

In Saturday night's opener, San Francisco State took an early lead and was never even threatened by a hard-fighting, but outclassed Cal Poly outfit that never gave up. Johnny Burton of 'Frisco scored 16 points, 8 of them in the last 45 seconds of play, while Hank Moroski of Poly also tanked four buckets in the last minute of play.

COACH BEATTY

College of Pacific, led by the deadly accurate shooting of Hank Pfister and fine play of Bud Proulx and Louis Franz routed Fresno 28-11 despite the frantic efforts of Bulldog coach Hal Beatty, who sent in everything he had in a fruitless effort to win a ball game.

The two Jacks, Staples and Squth, found the bucket for Chico State and once again the hard-fighting midgets from Cal Poly tried unsuccessfully to salvage a ball game. Lee Rosa of the Mustangs played a whale of a defensive game, and dropped six points through the hoop, but the towering Chico team had backboard control to offset Poly's sharpshooters.

'Frisco State was held to 21 points in their finale against Santa Barbara, Gauchos Sherman and Sims tried to stave off the inevitable, but the 'Frisco lads, showing nice teamwork by Martin, Burton, Rossi, and Callas, were too much for the boys from down south.

JACK AND JACK

Chico's two Jacks, South and Staples, teamed up again to hand Fresno its sixth consecutive setback 24-19. By this time there were only basketball fans left in the gym. Everyone else had seen enough.

One purpose of the Clinic is to give the conference coaches a look at what their rivals have to offer, and the CCAA visitors got an eyeful. The local quintet was without doubt the best five on the floor.

PRAISE FROM OPPOSITION
Johnny Burton of 'Frisco State remarked, "They're in their hustling all the time, and never give up. You've got a smooth outfit."
