STUDENT COUNCIL SETS DATES FOR ASB, CLASS REPRESENTATIVE NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS

Candidates for executive student body offices for the 1947-48 school year will be nominated Monday, April 28. Election will be held May 2, and the run-off election May 7. The Student Council reached this decision at last night's regular meeting.

The nomination assembly April 28 will determine candidates for Associated Student Body President, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

The council also set May 28 as the date for the nomination assembly for class council representatives. The election will be June 4, and the run-off election June 6.

Other decisions reached by the council included:

Recognition assembly to be held June 9, date and hour subject to the approval of the administration; appointment of council members June Robertson, and Jim Gualtieri to investigate the possibilities of holding this quarter's gripe dinner in the Student Union; approval of the appointment of Glenna McQuiston as editor of the spring edition of Lycurgus.

RALLY GROUP PLANS FOR USF ROOTERS

Don Titcomb, rally committee chairman, presented plans for a rooters' section for the USF football game at the first meeting of the committee yesterday.

The Don game, September 19, is the first game of the season for the Spartans, and the committee plans to have a large rooting section. Card stunts will be presented if enough students are back and cards are available for the game.

Anyone interested in joining the rally committee should attend the next meeting which will be held at a date to be announced later, according to Titcomb. Students serving on the committee this spring will be asked to help out with the committee's work during the coming football season.

The committee bulletin will announce the next meeting, and tell of various events coming up on the program.

Titcomb presented the committee's budget for the coming quarter at last night's Student Council meeting.

Placement Office Has Openings

Several full-time secretarial and teaching positions now are open, according to Miss Doris Robinson, director of the Placement Office.

Many types of teaching positions are listed with the office, and some of those in remote places offer salaries over $3000 for beginners. Shorthand is required for the secretarial jobs. One of the stenographic positions is on campus. Anyone interested should apply immediately.

Miss Robinson reminds seniors who desire any type of placement to fill out programs in the Placement Office. Those who have not completed registration also should report to that office.

PROGRESS MADE IN SETTLEMENT OF PHONE STRIKE

WASHINGTON, April 7 (UP).—Government mediators announced after a 31-hour conference with Bell system union and company representatives today that "good progress" had been made toward a settlement of the day-old national telephone strike. They hinted at a new compromise formula which might end the walkout in 24 to 48 hours.

After the three-way conference broke up, it was announced that President Joseph Beirne of the striking National Federation of Telephone Workers, and members of his policy committee would meet with Federal Conciliation Chief Edgar L. Warren. Speculation stirred that Warren might be ready to hand the union leaders a compromise formula, acceptable to if not actually proposed by, the American Telephone and Telegraph company, parent organization of the Bell system.

Warren and Assistant Secretary of Labor, John W. Gibson acknowledged at the close of the meeting with union and company officials that some such formula was in the making.

While indicating that no overnight settlement was expected, the two federal mediators expressed cautious optimism over the progress made so far. Sources close to the negotiations hinted that the deadlock might be broken by today or tomorrow if the conferees continued at their present rate of progress.

In San Jose, telephone service was only partially crippled as all toll boards and long-distance operators reported for work and long-distance calls were being placed from here. Dial telephone service, which covers residents of East San Jose, Campbell, Saratoga and Santa Clara, were unaffected.

Commerce Profs Attend Convention

Dr. E. W. Atkinson, Commerce department head, and Mr. M. D. Wright attended the annual convention of the California Business Educators' association at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles Wednesday.

Talks were given by leading Commerce educators on teaching methods in the field of Commerce. Fundamentals of teaching typewriting, bookkeeping, and selling were discussed at the convention.

Dr. D. D. Lessenberry from the University of Pittsburgh, who spoke on the teaching of typewriting at the convention, visited San Jose State Friday and sat in on a class in Secondary School Business.

Convention members toured various places in Los Angeles including the Federal Reserve bank, Los Angeles stock exchange, and the Los Angeles harbor.

By PAUL VON HAFFTEN

A great Southwestern College of Technology team from Weatherford, Oklahoma out-fought Coach Ted Mumby's hard fighting wrestlers to win by the score of 30-0 in the Men's gym last night.

The Oklahomans took the lead in the first bout and were never headed thereafter. Southwestern's AAU champ and star, Ted J. Snyder pinned Leland Chew in 20 seconds of the third round of the 121 pound match.

SIX STUDENTS ENTER HEARST SPEECH CONTEST

Six students will compete in the annual Hearst Newspaper Oratorical contest today at 3 o'clock in the Little Theater, according to Mr. Wilbur Luick, instructor in charge of the contest.

The contestants, Norman Ansley, Bruce Scidmore, Paul Gormley, John Gothberg, Mary Emory Dunn, and Daniel Weck, will speak on "Patrick Henry, Patriot and Statesman." Speeches will be limited to six minutes, and will be judged on content material, originality, style and delivery, according to Mr. Luick.

Today's winner will represent San Jose State college in the bay area contest April 18 at the University of San Francisco. The regional contest will be held in Los Angeles April 24.

Judges of today's contest are Dr. Hugh Gillis, head of the Speech department; Dr. Edgar Willis, speech instructor, and Dr. George Bruntz, political science instructor. The winner will be announced immediately after the contest.

"All students are invited to the contest," said Mr. Luick, "and we especially hope that students now taking speech courses will attend."

The San Francisco Call-Bulletin and the Oakland Post Enquirer are co-sponsors of the college-university division in the bay area.

BABE RUTH NAMED CONSULTANT IN BASEBALL PROGRAM

NEW YORK, April 7 (UP).—Home Run King Babe Ruth, weak and wan from a recent operation, was named today as a consultant to the Ford Motor company in connection with its participation in the nation-wide American Legion junior baseball program.

On the eve of his departure for a Florida vacation, the Babe attended a press conference at which his new post in baseball was announced.

And as he returned to baseball for the first time since 1938, the Babe picked the St. Louis Cardinals to retain the National League pennant and asserted there would be four "tough clubs" in the American League race—Boston, Detroit, New York and Cleveland.

"But I am really happy to be back in the game, no matter what the capacity," the shaky Bambino said. "You know how I've always felt about kids playing baseball. For the first time in my life I feel that I have a chance to put a lot of my ideas into action through an organized junior baseball program sponsored by the American Legion."

MISS McQUISTON NAMED EDITOR OF SPRING LYCURGUS

Glenna McQuiston will be editor of the spring edition of Lycurgus, by an appointment at last night's meeting of the Student Council.

Miss McQuiston, junior journalism major from Redwood City, was ad layout editor of the quarterly campus magazine during the winter quarter.

She graduated from Sequoia union high school in 1943, where she was a staff member of the Sequoia Times, school newspaper. She specialized as a sports writer, which by her own smiling admission, is an unusual, if interesting occupation for a girl.

Miss McQuiston's experience with publications work also includes work as an editor of Blue and White, Kern county union high school newspaper, and society editor of the school's year book.

Before entering San Jose State college, she was associate editor, at San Bruno, of the EIMAC News, a weekly trade magazine. In 1945 she was editor-in-chief of the Salt Lake branch of the same publication.

The new editor of Lycurgus will announce appointments to her staff within the next few days.

DR. REITZEL, ART HEAD, WILL ATTEND POMONA CONFAB

Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, Art Department head, will attend the American Conference of the Western Collegiate Art association at Pomona College in Claremont on Saturday, April 19, according to his announcement yesterday.

"Current Art Problems in Colleges" will be the theme of the conference. Dr. Reitzel is secretary-treasurer of the association. It is comprised of representatives from colleges and universities in Washington, Oregon, and California that offer an A.B. degree with a major in art.

Purpose of the association is the advancement of fine arts teaching in colleges and universities on the West coast.

After the conference, visiting representatives will tour Pomona college, and will make trips to Scripps and Claremont colleges where special art exhibits will be on display. President pro tem of the association is Thomas M. Beggs, head of the Pomona Art Department.

Juniors to Select Queen at Prom

A Fairy Queen and two attendants will be selected from among those present at the Junior Prom, Fairyland Fantasy, announces Sal Millan, class president.

"A committee of prominent people will judge the young ladies who are present Friday, April 25, at the Palomar ballroom, which has been designated as the site of this year's prom," states Millan.

Bids to the prom are being sold by officers of the junior class and members of the junior class council. "Bids are $2," continues Millan, "and the affair is semi-formal."

Plans are being made to give each of the attendants and the reigning queen a bouquet of flowers, and also to award the queen with a new wardrobe. However, plans for the wardrobe are not yet complete.

A PLEDGE

Easter morning, some of the stars on the service flags that hang in Morris Dailey auditorium came out in the inner quad to commemorate the first sunrise service held at San Jose State college since the war. Those blue stars came out to observe, in the cool of early morning, just how things were going in the world they fought to preserve. They came out to pray for the gold stars that must remain forever symbols even in a world at peace.

The service was developed from an idea proposed by the Spartan Knights who sought to renew Easter programs especially for the students of the college. It was planned to appeal to those with no particular religious affiliation. Something which anyone could attend and where he could meditate in his own way.

This is an important factor in our world today, and San Jose State is approaching the problem from the right direction. The Memorial Chapel will be built on a non-sectarian idea, with reverence the main feature. J. Roger Deas, the layman speaker at the sunrise service in the quad Easter, illustrated this point perfectly when he pointed out how Edward R. Steffinius started the UN convention in San Francisco two years ago. "Mr. Steffinius asked for one minute of silence before officially opening one of the most important diplomatic conferences in history even though he knew that there would be no uniform pattern of thinking," Mr. Deas said.

Easter made us all humble. For one day, big and small were all on the same level. People were willing to put aside petty grievances because it was Easter.

We owe it to those gold stars to make every day Easter in spirit.

CHICO STATE

Several weeks ago, Tony Novak, Chico State Wildcat sports editor, informed this column that he was a rugged individual, even though he did wear a tuxedo when he had his picture taken to appear in the Wildcat.

This column had suggested that Novak and John Keith Pope, last quarter's Spartan Daily sports editor, get together for a fashion show.

Since then, Pope has departed to bigger and better ventures on Washington Square, and Tony has grown a beard to prove he is a rough customer.

We regret the present Spartan Daily sports editor can't stand up to Novak when it comes to growing a beard or being a Beau Brummel, but the Spartan Daily doesn't discuss local radio entertainment on the sports page like Novak did in his column recently.

Better stick to sports, Tony!

Ed's Note: Tanforan, Mr. Austin, is easier.

Down With Spartans

Dear Thrust and Parry:

San Jose State students are, as a general rule, sloppy and rude. They are thoughtless.

The reasons for the above statements are as follows:

- 1. SJS students are sloppy.

Every day the walk between the Quad and the Coop starts out fairly clean. By 10 o'clock the supposedly mature college students have covered it with candy wrappers, gum wrappers and waste paper. There is really no need for a person to go to the Coop to find out what kind of sweets are for sale for the day. Just look on the ground.

- 2. SJS students are rude. This is proven every day when the bell rings. It makes no difference to you students if the prof is in the middle of a sentence. You hear the bell and immediately start to close your books, put away pencils, and zip your binders. What if the prof doesn't get to finish his sentence, you'll get to the coop and act collegiate if it kills you.

Well, there's certainly a lot more to say against you, but why rub it in? You can't improve. You're just plain thoughtless.

SPEAKER TELLS OF WASTE LAND IN AMERICA

By PAUL VON HAFFTEN

"Fifty million acres of land in the United States have been ruined for further crop production in the past 200 years, and another 150 million acres are in the process of becoming extinct," stated Mr. W. G. Scott of the Department of Agriculture in his address to Dr. Wayne Kartchner's conservation class yesterday morning. His topic was entitled "General Problems of Soil Conservation."

Mr. Scott declared that the United States is the greatest exploiter of land in the world, but at the same time it is doing pioneer work in the field of research and conservation.

The speaker also pointed out that one of the main problems of conservation is the coordination between the government and individual farmers throughout the country. He said this was one of the main reasons behind the formation of the Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service district which was first started in South Carolina in 1937, and now has grown to more than 2000 districts throughout the United States.

He pointed out the dangers of man's careless farming methods as the main cause of the destruction of the once fertile lands of the Bible in Mesopotamia and the Garden of Eden. Floods, soil erosion, and man's careless planting also were cited as the causes of the ruin of fertile lands.

The conservationist declared that our country had over 400 million acres of productive land, but that it has now whittled down to a mere 275 million acres.

Two other noted scientists are slated to speak before Dr. Kartchner's group this week. The first speaker will be Mr. H. G. Hopper who will discuss types of soil and soil classification. Mr. Glen Brown, who is a well-known soil conservationist, will give a talk Friday on the problems of soil conservation as applied to the farmers. The talks may be illustrated.

Next week, Mr. Walter Hunt

WHAT'S IN A NAME, HUH?

If your name were Elizabeth Ann Brown, or Robert David Stone, you'd have to be careful when reading notices, letters, or blue cards.

Among the 59 sets of people with identical first and last names, there are two pairs with middle names alike. Both Elizabeth Ann Browns are education majors, but E. A. Brown number one is studying for a general elementary credential, while E. A. Brown number two is trying her luck with a kindergarten primary ticket.

Robert David Stone, is an architectural major, and his namesake, is a commerce major, so that helps somewhat in alleviating the confusion.

If your name is William Walker, or Albert Smith, Robert Moore, Barbara Peterson, Robert Johnson, or Wallace Johnson, as far as the Registrar's office is concerned, you're triplets, except in the case of the Moores, and then you're quadruplets.

These statistician's nightmares of duplicated names for the most part have middle names that don't match up with their counterparts, for which Joe West's staff and all the other bookkeepers and office workers who keep tabs on student doings say, "Thank gosh!"

NO BIRDS AND BEES OR GIRLS FOR ME

By BOB KREUTZMANN

I overheard a couple of the local queens discussing life in general the other day. One was saying, "It's simply terrible, absolutely horrible, just devastating. I have a 1:30 class twice a week. It's simply ruining my afternoons, these beautiful Santa Cruz afternoons."

"Yes, I know what you mean. I have a physics lab Monday afternoon myself," said the other. "Just think, all afternoon. It is most excruciating."

Well, buck up, honeys, life isn't stepping on you too hard. You want to hear real tragedy? Well, just listen. I saw this guy sitting alone, a most dejected creature he was, humped over a closed book with a sad, miserable look upon his rather pleasant features.

'TIS SPRING

It was a wonderful day, birds singing, bees buzzing, flowers pollinating, and girls walking about in their spring attractions. But this character did not seem to be enjoying these things. I stopped near him, "What's the matter Joe, lose your place in the book?" He glowered at me, clouds of sorrow and depths of despair lining his face. But spring was in my blood, and I was going to cheer this man up, or find out why.

"How do you like the weather? It's swell isn't it?"

"I hate it, I hate the sunshine," he snarled at me.

Taken aback somewhat, I ventured the remark, "It's good weather for the beach."

"I hate the beach," he said, I hate the warm sand and rolling breakers."

WHAT, NOT EVEN A BEER?

Trying again I said, "Well the sun brings out the best in the girls."

"I hate the girls, at least in the afternoons."

"Well Joe," I tried again, "it's at least good beer drinking weather."

"I hate beer, the cold glass in my hand, the layer of foam on top. I hate it."

"You sort of hate everything, don't you?"

"Yeh, that's right. I hate the birds singing, the bees buzzing, the grass growing. I hate all these happy, free people. I wish it would rain, that it would be cold and damp, and wet and windy. Yeh, I wish it would be like that for the next twelve weeks."

"That's a pretty tough order, Joe," I said. "Just what is the trouble?"

FATE DIGS DEEP

He looked at me, a hangdog, beaten, misery-filled look and said, "Guess I am the only guy in the school who has classes from 12:30 until 5:30 with a one hour break in the middle of the afternoon for five days a week."

I gasped, tears welled in my eyes, mumbled words of condolence to him and staggered away to weep in a corner for one of my poor, tortured fellowmen.

And that, girls, is tragedy, real human tragedy. Your 1:30s are nothing, nothing at all.

FROSH PLAN SPARDI GRAS 'SUPER SHOW'

Freshman council members will meet outside the Publications office today at 12:20 for their La Torre picture appointment, class president Ray Bishop announces. He added that all class officers are to meet at the office at 11:20 for the same purpose.

At a special meeting of the council last week, plans were formulated for a frosh-sponsored student body dance later in the quarter, and the first year concession for Spardi Gras. It was decided by the council that the freshman class will stage a quiz show along the lines of "Truth or Consequences."

"It will be a super show, complete with mikes, stages, and stoges," Bishop said. "We intend to make this the biggest production ever staged by a first-year group on Spardi Gras day."

State-Stanford

The Spartan track team will invade the Farm cinderpaths Saturday afternoon to engage the Stanford Indians. However, it should be just another track meet for San Jose with the Indians on the short end of the scoring at the conclusion for the third straight time. Predicted final score 76-55.

San Jose will win the 100 and 220 yard dashes, 880 yard run, broad jump, high jump, and discus throw. Clean sweeps could be made in the broad jump and the discus events.

The Indians will be favored in the 440 yard run, pole vault, 220 yard low hurdles, and relay.

In doubt as to the outcome are the 120 yard high hurdles, mile, two mile, shotput and javelin. From Saturday's comparative times against similar competition Al Snyder, Stanford's ICAA hurdle champion, has the edge over John Passey. Snyder's time was 15.3 while Passey posted a 15.4 over the 120 yard course.

In the two mile Stanford's Frank Ganahl posted a better time than Eugene Haynes but the latter was not pressed. Could go either way. Both Woody Linn of San Jose and Otis Chandler of the Indians tossed the shot 48 feet 7 1/4 inches. However, on previous performances Linn has the edge. John Held, Stanford javelin tosser, threw the spear 188 feet Saturday but San Jose's Bob Likens is capable of doing better

Spartan Mermen Meet Conference Foes This Week

Coach Charlie Walker's varsity swimming team will be kept busy this week meeting two conference foes in two days. The Spartans will play host to Cal Poly in the local pool Thursday afternoon at 4 and they journey to College of Pacific, Friday afternoon to face the Tigers.

The Spartans defeated the Mustangs in San Luis Obispo in February by a 61-13 score and expect little trouble from them in the return match although the Mustangs have improved.

However, Friday afternoon will be a different story for the Spartans. The Tiger mermen are boasting a strong team and the meet could go either way, according to Coach Walker. It will probably be the closest meet of the season for either team, Walker stated.

The outcome of this meet will go a long way in determining the outcome of the conference swim meet in Fresno May 10. The Spartans have dominated the CCAA meet ever since it was started.

The Spartans will be somewhat handicapped by the absence of Leo Gaffney, top diver, who is doing his student teaching in Long Beach this quarter. To fill in either Al Johnson or Jim Fenton will team up with Pat McConnell.

George Hodgins, one of Coach Walker's top sprinters, may be out of both meets due to a back injury.

San Jose's other spear tossers, Elwood Clark and John Phillips will probably be out of Saturday's meet with pulled back muscles which will give the Indians a third in the javelin.

Connie Varnick pulled a leg muscle Saturday and this will allow the Indians a probable second in the high jump. Billy Rhyne fell during the running of the 220 yard low hurdles, but managed to take second after leading all the way, and will probably not see action Saturday. This gives the Indians another probable first place.

BASEBALL TEAM HAS SIX GAME SCHEDULE AHEAD

Coach Walt McPherson's Spartan baseball team will be busy this week as they travel to Fresno for a double-header on Wednesday with Fresno State and then on Saturday tangle with Santa Barbara State in a twin bill at Washington Park.

Due to the Spartans' idleness, the Gauchos are currently tied with San Diego State for league leadership and San Jose State will be battling to get back in the race for the CCAA crown. The Spartans are now in second place as the Aztecs won a double-header from Cal Poly Friday.

George Smith, Spartan third sacker, was elected Captain of the 1947 baseball squad yesterday.

Ralph Romero and Roy Duarte probably will be on the hill for the Spartans in the Fresno State double-header with Con Maloney and Bob Pifferini being available for the first Gaucho double-header. Romero looked impressive against San Diego State in the game that was called off at the end of the fourth inning.

Softball League Starts on Turf

Anyone interested in entering a team in the 1947 independent softball league should see Tom Rowen in the Publication office this afternoon. The Spartan Daily will sponsor the league and will play the winner of the inter-fraternity league for the championship.

Coach Ted Mumby will run a noon league under the Intramural program and those interested should see him in the physical education office.

The San Carlos turf again will be the scene of the games this spring, and with the number of students presently enrolled, this year's softball league should produce a fast brand of ball.

RADIO AMATEURS

Radio amateurs will hold an important meeting in room S104 of the Science building tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, according to Carl Hubbel, president of the group.

It will be a business meeting. Plans for this quarter will be discussed and an election of officers will be held.

State Netmen Try For Comeback At Menlo JC Today

Coach Ted Mumby's varsity Spartan tennis squad hopes to break back into the win column this Thursday afternoon when it invades the Menlo JC tennis courts.

The Spartans showed much improvement in the matches with the strong University of San Francisco squad last Saturday and nearly upset the Dons. Coach Mumby's netmen put up a game battle and were beaten in the final doubles set by a 5-4 score. They hope to avenge the defeat by the brilliant Dons' squad when they tackle them again later this quarter.

Dave Parnay, Bob Brokop and Don McKenzie showed excellent form in winning their singles matches Saturday and should make life miserable for the Menlo Acorns this Thursday. Gene Franco, Ed Terry, and Greg Sargent also turned in top performances and are likely to see plenty of action against the Acorns on Saturday.

The Spartans to date have won two and lost three. Their victims have included San Mateo JC and San Francisco JC. They have lost to USF, Santa Clara, and UCLA.

Coach Mumby will enter four men in the Ojai Valley Tennis Tournament which takes place around mid-term week. He is uncertain as to whom the four will be. The netmen are also looking forward to participating in the CCAA tennis tourney which will be held in Fresno this year. The Spartans won the tournament last year.

GOLF TEAM PREPARES FOR SALINAS MATCH

Showing a world of power over the weekend in the Northern California junior golf championships and the Northern California intercollegiate tourney, the Spartan golf squad went back to work yesterday in preparation for their match with Salinas junior college in San Jose Thursday.

Led by Morgan Fottrell and Bob Harris, the locals will be heavy favorites over the Panthers this week. Coach Bill Hubbard has the makings of the best team in Spartan history and is already looking forward to the first dual match with Stanford April 18. This match may decide the Pacific Coast championship since San Jose already holds a win over the University of California and the Indians are rated the other team to beat on the coast.

Hubbard will send Fottrell, Harris, Eli Bariteau, Warren MacCarty, Ross Smith, Dick Voris, Howard Verutti, and Jay Hopkins Jr. against Salinas.

Fottrell defeated Harris in a special match played over the Pasotiempo course in Santa Cruz Sunday as a sequel to their winning the intercollegiate and junior titles last week. Fottrell turned in another sensational performance on the tough layout for an easy win. Harris added new laurels by taking the Blossom Festival tournament at La Rinconada country club last week shortly after taking the junior title.

FLYING CLUB PURCHASES PLANE

The Spartan Flyers Incorporated otherwise known as the "Spartan Flying club" will purchase a plane this weekend, announces Thomas E. Leonard, aeronautics instructor. The club under the leadership of President Norman Doyle will make a trip Saturday to inspect the possible contacts already made and to select the suitable plane, stated Mr. Leonard.

Doyle, an aeronautics major, is a former PBM pilot for the Navy.

At the present time the club membership is complete with 20 members but there is a possibility of openings occurring next year, according to Mr. Leonard.
