SJSC Launches Air Raid; Set For COP Invasion

SIGN MYSTERY PARTLY CLEARED AT COP RALLY

Half of a mystery was cleared up Wednesday night during the exchange rally at College of Pacific when one of the missing signs which identify San Jose State college was lowered onto the stage behind the Spartan performers, by person or persons unknown, announced Al Raffaelli, assistant Rally Committee chairman.

The two signs disappeared when a paint smearing raid was made on Washington Square by a group of Pacific students. When apprehended, the culprits confessed to the "art work," but denied any knowledge of the missing signs. The whereabouts of the other sign is still a mystery.

Raffaelli also called attention to the twelve new card stunts prepared by the Rally Committee for tonight's halftime activities. "The stunts will be coordinated with the marching band, under the direction of Jim Gillem," said Raffaelli.

Betty Louthan, Rally Committee chairman, reminds rooters of the following seating regulations for the game.

1. All students in rooters' sections I, J, and K must wear white shirts.
2. All students in section J must also wear rooters' caps.
3. Students sitting in any other section must sit in the seat specified on their ticket.

Y Members Plan Weekend Retreat

A retreat, the first of the season, will be sponsored by the Student Y, Saturday, November 8, at Boulder Creek, according to Malcolm Carpenter, executive secretary.

Students may sign up for the two-day retreat at the Student Y, 220 So. 7th street. A list of equipment needed will be mailed to the students.

The program includes dancing, discussion group, volleyball, softball and campfire, says Co-chairmen Artie-Jo Price and Bill Dunlavy.

DRIVE CONTINUES

The clothing drive will be continued until Monday, reports Vic McLane, drive chairman. Results are so encouraging the Student Y is extending the drive to enable students to help those abroad who need clothing and footwear this winter.

ALUMNI DANCE

The Santa Clara County chapter of the Alumni association is holding its dance tonight immediately following the football game.

The time: Anytime after the game till 1 a.m. The place: The main ball room of the De Anza hotel. The orchestra: Ken Taix. The price of admission: $1.25 per person.

STUDENT WORK

Accomplishments of beginning students in the jewelry 56 course are now on exhibit in the main library. The project includes what can be done through use of scrap material with a little ingenuity on the part of the student.

Civic Aud Hosts Dance Tonight

A combination football and Halloween dance will be held in the Civic auditorium tonight from after the game until 1 a.m., announces Dot Pedersen, chairman of the Social Affairs committee.

Music will be furnished by Tommy Pratt and his orchestra. Says Miss Pedersen, "Music will be dreamy and danceable."

Dave Down and Marion Gilbert, decorations committee members will have the hall resplendently bedecked with pumpkins, corn stalks, footballs, witches, and Halloween colors orange and black.

Patrons' committee chairman, Bobby Rodendorf, states that admission will be free with a student-body card and card-holders will be entitled to bring one guest.

ALUMNI ANSWER PLEA FOR AID

Miss Doris Robinson, head of the Placement office, stated yesterday that two boxes were mailed Wednesday to the Laudencia family in Manila who recently appealed to the Alumni association for aid.

"The boxes contained shoes and clothing," Miss Robinson said, "and we are planning a third box with blankets shortly." She gave special credit to Miss Lois Bowman of the Health office, for the work and material she donated.

Laudencia, a graduate of San Jose State college, was killed during the Japanese occupation, leaving his wife and two small children in need of material aid.

PROPER RESPECT

For the information of the few who do not know the correct procedure—and they stand out glaringly during this moment of homage—it is proper and correct for everyone to face the colors if they are visible when the band plays the Star Spangled Banner.

When the colors are not visible, the band should be faced.

We, as civilians, should render the civilian counterpart of the military salute. All persons should rise and stand at attention; women place the right hand over the heart and remain covered; men remove hats and place the right hand over the heart.

Vet ASB Refunds Will Start Soon

Typing of veterans' ASB card refund checks will begin Monday, according to Edith Graves, cashier in the Graduate Manager's office.

"Checks will be made out in alphabetical order," Miss Graves said, "and will be mailed to recipients as rapidly as they are made out."

ASB Cards Honored

San Jose State college student body cards will be honored tomorrow at Stanford stadium due to the Indian-Sparta frosh football game. The contest is a preliminary to the Stanford-Oregon State game. Students will enter gates D or I. Seats are in the end zone and are located in the south end. Admission with student body cards is $1.

GOLD AND WHITE UNDEFEATED IN FIVE STARTS

By TOM ROWEN

San Jose State college's great football team faces its toughest opponent of the season tonight when Hubbard's crew battles COP, a traditional rival, at Spartan Stadium before an estimated crowd of 17,000 fans. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

Spartans elected Bob Pifferini and Billy Parton as co-captains for tonight's battle.

The Gold and White varsity is riding the wave of a five-game winning streak while the Tigers have won four, and dropped one encounter.

TITLE AT STAKE

This season's "Big Game" probably will decide the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship and subsequent bid to the Raisin Bowl on New Year's Day. The Spartans have yet to play Fresno State college and Cal Poly, while COP has Santa Barbara college and the Bulldogs remaining on their conference schedule.

The Tiger forward wall averages 209 while the San Jose line tips the Fairbanks at an average of 202 lbs. The Orange and Black also outweigh the Spartans in the backfield.

PIFFERINI TOPS

Hubbard plans to open the game with Mel Stein and Herm Knupper, ends; Val Marchi and Jack Faulk, tackles; Joe Juliano and Chuck Blackwell, guards; and Bob Pifferini, center. Pifferini is rated best center on the coast by many of the experts.

Against this San Jose forward wall, Siemering will throw John Rohde and Jean Ridley, ends; Don Campora and Ed Cathcart, tackles; Bob Franceschini, Stan Goldman, guards; and Collie Kidwell, center. Rohde is a local boy, having played for Lincoln High school in San Jose.

The Spartan backfield probably will open with Jim Jackson, quarterback; Billy Parton and Billy Elam, halfbacks; and Jack Donaldson, fullback. If the Spartans kick off to start the game, Fred Silva or Bill Perry will start at quarterback; Parton and Fred Mangini, halfbacks; and Pete Denevi, fullback.

AERIAL ATTACK SMEARS COP--- WITH LEAFLETS

By KEITH ALWARD

Entirely unopposed, a detachment of Flying Spartans bombarded the College of Pacific campus with several thousand propaganda leaflets at 9:30 this morning, according to Bob Johnson, flight commander.

A second attack is scheduled to hit the Tigers' lair at 12:30 today, said the chief tactician.

The raiding force consists of two Ercoupe, led by chief pilot and part-time drum major Bob Reid. Bob Wyckoff and James Marble are piloting the other plane. More than 10,000 pamphlets will have been dropped when the second wave is completed, said Johnson.

A similar raid took place just prior to last year's "big game" with Pacific, when Reid and Johnson, in an Ercoupe, made three runs over the Stockton school, dumping nearly 5000 leaflets. This aerial invasion was climaxed with a ground invasion by Spartan students, which ended in a 32-0 triumph for the San Jose grid squad.

Content of the leaflets is the following, verse, written by members of the Rally committee: Drop dead COP, drop dead, Or just stop breathing' instead. In case you find that hard to do, The only thing left is, turn blue.

Signed:

Flying Spartans
As in most forms of warfare, however, victory will not be decided until the ground forces (in this case, two tough football team) have met and unleashed their respective attacks.

CSEA MEETING

Mr. Guy G. George, associate professor of commerce at San Jose State college, will be chairman of the State college committee of the California State Employees' Association when it meets in Sacramento, November 8.

Representative from the SJSC chapter will be Owen M. Broyles, associate professor of economics. Broyles asks CSEA members to inform him or George of problems or policies which should be brought before the committee.

"MY SISTER EILEEN" IS SMASH HIT

By JACQUE WOLFF

Last evening Little Theatergoers viewed an extremely well done performance of the famous Broadway comedy hit, "My Sister Eileen."

An excellent cast headed by Joan Buechner and Roxana Hildreth presented the almost farcical comedy with the ease and brilliance that the humorous and clever dialogue required.

Hilarity ran rampant as the Misses Buechner and Hildreth fought off a variety of pests (mainly males), both well meaning and vicious, in their realistic Greenwich Village basement apartment.

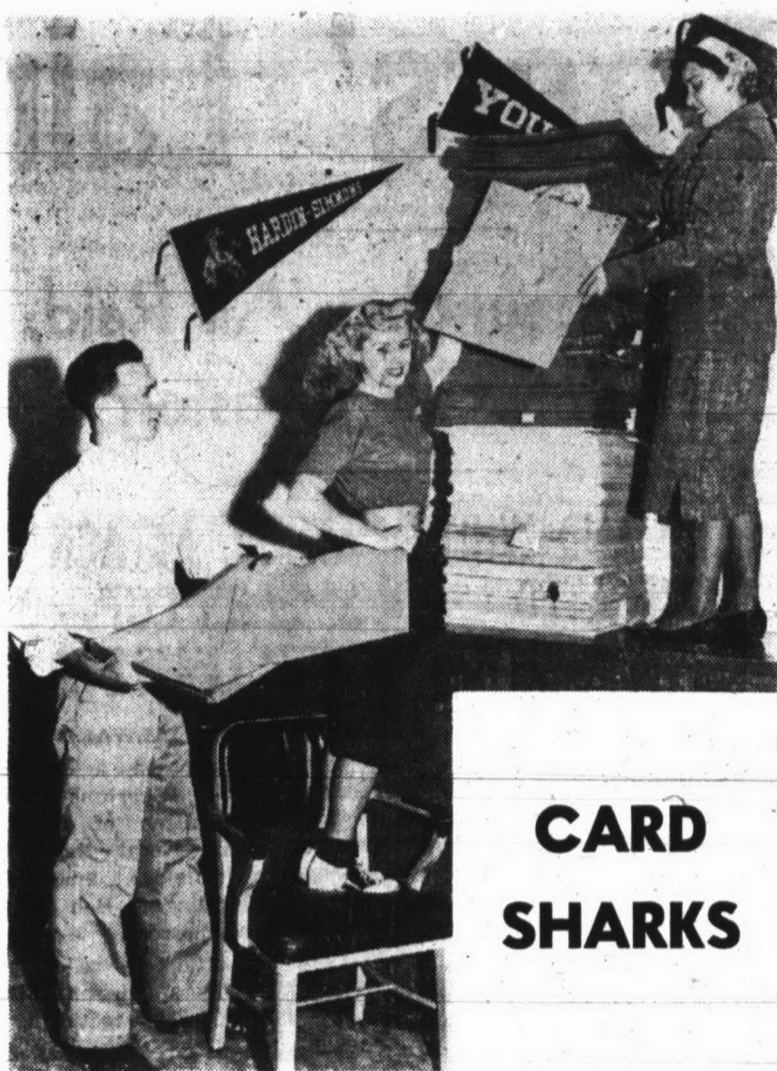

Miss Buechner was very well suited for the part of the vivacious and beautiful Eileen. The witty and caustic remarks of Miss Hildreth were exceptionally well delivered.

There was not a single weak character in the production. The entire cast did a superb job. Therefore, it is difficult to single out any one individual to give special credit. However, it was the general opinion of first nighters that James Forster as the landlord, Appopolous, who speaks with a foreign intonation—possibly East Side, possibly Greek—was outstanding.

Orchids to John B. Kerr, director, and stage designer J. Wendell Johnson, technical director James Liot, and Ward Rasmus, voice, diction, and dialect instructor.

CARD SHARKS

'READY, UP' COMMAND FOLLOWS INGENIOUS WORK BY CARD MEN

By KEITH ALWARD

It's half time at a football game in Spartan stadium. Bob Johnson gives the command, "reeady, up," a colorful card picture flashes for a few moments and is gone. The opposite side of the stadium takes it all for granted as part of collegiate football pageantry, makes a few critical comments, then settles back for the remainder of the game.

But what of the preparation for these card stunts? The men behind the scenes who dream up the ideas and lay the groundwork for their enactment.

RAFFAELLI KEY MAN

Al Raffaelli, sophomore chemistry major, is the key man in the preparatory work, assisted by Keith Melton, Walt Jenvey, and Jill Lutz, as well as more than twenty members of the Rally committee. Al and Jill were working on the Hardin-Simmons series as far back as spring quarter, and Keith and Walt joined in this fall to help polish off the rough edges.

Approximately 180 man hours are expended in preparing the card stunt series for just one game. First comes the idea, and according to Al, the toughest part is in making the idea work out on paper. An example of this is a stunt planned for the Santa Barbara game, which failed to materialize. A series of three, the first picture was to show Santa Claus, the second a barber pole, and lastly a big block A. Santa Barber-A, y' get it? Metoo, on the third explanation.

ALL NIGHT DUTY

Getting back to the Hardin-Simmons encounter, the card stunt committee worked from 6 p.m. till 2 a.m. the night before the game just stapling the instruction sheets to the benches.

Besides this part of the night's entertainment, the Rally committee, under Chairman Betty Louthan, is responsible for many other colorful activities. The sensational Song Girls, Ann Corwin, Shirley Hankins, and Barbara Rodenborn, acquired their positions through an idea supplied by Pauline Dardorff, the pert little drum major-ette.

Pre-game rallies are also a function of the committee, as well as providing the huge cartoon at the north end of the stadium through which the Spartan varsity crashes before every game, and the coordination of the yell leaders and the marching band.

All this and much more is done by a group of unselfish students, for no more than the satisfaction of having helped San Jose State college maintain their prominent position in the periodical madness known as collegiate football season.

SJS-COP FEUDIN' TOOK PLACE IN DAYS OF YORE

By DAVE LEONARD

When questioned on inter-school relations prior to gridiron battles in the good old days of yore, Dean Paul M. Pitman wrinkled his brow and recalled, "It was rough when I went through."

On past feudin' and afightin' with COP, the good Dean looked at me as if to say, "I may look my age but I haven't been here long enough to be classified as a historian." At any rate he went on to mention that the 1947 escapade was the most extensive and expensive since his association with the college.

OOPS, WRONG SCHOOL

One year, not too long ago, he recalled, lack of geography on the part of COP students resulted in the nearby San Jose high school being hit with the full blast of their fury.

There were bells in the tower before the chimes and on the nights of a week before the big game, a stalwart Spartan would be posted to give the alarm in the event of invasion. Caught in the act of their dastardly deeds, the villain would be chastized properly and sent home to explain how their hair was so aptly parted from their scalp.

HAPPY MEDIUM

Dean Pitman doesn't believe that we should take on a pantywaist attitude and refrain entirely from using excess energy. Nor does he go for the idea of out and out belligerence. He suggests tempering the times with a happy medium—some symbolic object on which the pent-up rage might be released and which, rather than vandalizing the campus, would be directed towards more constructive channels and have the purpose of bringing the two schools closer together in a true spirit of competition.

SYMBOLS

For instance, USC has "Tommy Trojan" in front of the Administration building, on which symbol rival UCLA desperately strives to plaster artistic endeavours in blue and gold.

California has the big "C" which Stanford students paint up in a faded red, when they can afford the paint.

DRUM MAJOR JIM GILLIAN PLANS LAW CAREER

By ALICE JOY GOLDER

Head organizer and drum major of San Jose State college's marching band, senior Jim Gilliam, is a living paradox. And he says it doesn't hurt a bit.

Jim, who plans all of the formations and drills which the band performs on the football field, is a music major. He plays the clarinet and plans to graduate in March with a teachers' credential in music. But he's going to be a corporation lawyer.

"I know it sounds crazy," smiled the 24-year-old band dynamo, "but it's what I'm going to do. It'll take about two and a half years of law school with summer sessions."

He explained that teaching was fine but he's always wanted to go into law. "I get a little of both," he went on, "because I plan to teach for a while before I enter law school."

Jim interrupted his college career in 1942 to join the Navy V-12 program. He admitted that he "Joined the day after I saw a terrific Armistice Day parade. Guess I was inspired or something."

While stationed at Valley City, North Dakota, Jim conducted the midshipman's band. Then off he went to Harvard where in his spare time he played with the Harvard university symphony orchestra. Then came Notre Dame where he was commissioned as ensign and assigned to the duties of communications officer aboard a destroyer.

Ex-lieutenant (jg) Gilliam was discharged in June, 1946, and came back to resume his studies at San Jose State college in October of the same year.

Jim, who has amassed the starting number of 241 college credit units, of which only 180 are necessary for graduation, delights in taking all kinds of courses. "They've been trying to figure me out in the personnel department since I was a freshman," the band leader said with a mock frown. "Guess I'm a problem to them."

Gilliam, a native Californian from Tracy, takes most of his college time, when he's not student teaching, figuring out band formations and setting them into command.

FORMATION ON PAPER

"I just go home, take out a piece of paper, figure out a band formation, and then figure out the quickest and most efficient manner of getting the band members into that formation," related the head drum major.

"Pretty soon it's all drawn up and ready to try out," said Jim. Adding a few x's to represent band members, Jim handed over the piece of graph paper with the whole explanation illustrated. "It's as simple as that," he smiled.

"The cooperation of the band is superb," he proudly stated. The band organizer described the members as "Always in there pitching and giving it everything."

SCIENCE PROJECTS WILL AID MAJORS

A new planetarium and other improvements at the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco will be of considerable benefit to science majors at San Jose State college, John F. Landis, academy public relations representative, said here yesterday.

In a conference with Dr. Gertrude Cavins and Dr. Carl Duncan, of the Science department administration, Landis explained that the academy is embarking on a million-dollar expansion program.

He urged the department to make greater use of the new facilities. At present only six planetariums are in existence in the nation, and there are no large planetariums in northern California.

Dr. Duncan and Dr. Ralph A. Smith, of the zoology staff, have taken their classes to the academy on field trips in the past. Dr. Smith's zoology 117 class will visit the academy on November 29.

Funds for the planetarium building have been raised by public subscription from people in San Francisco, San Jose, and the rest of the Bay Area, according to the zoology instructor.

Ground will be broken for the new building in about two or three months. It will be located between African Hall and the Steinhart Aquarium.

The building will cost $700,000 and will accommodate 500 people.

New Police Prexy

Spencer Vay, sophomore police major from Berkeley, was elected president of Chi Pi Sigma, police fraternity, Monday, according to retiring president, Joe Rowan.

Forrest Tittle will assist Vay as vice-president. Eugene Clark is secretary; Howard Best was re-elected treasurer; and Gordon McCarley is the new sergeant-at-arms. Keith Wilson was appointed house manager for the fraternity's new house.

The new officers will officially take over their duties in winter quarter. This quarter they will work with the old officers to gain experience.

Flyer Fraternity Views Two Movies

Two movies, "1000 Bombers Over Europe" and "Fly and Live," highlighted a smoker given Monday night by Alpha Eta Rho, flyers' fraternity. The meeting was held at the Valley Flying School, according to Bill Klinker, president.

George Genevro, senior, was congratulated by members for his recent solo flight in the Spartan Flyer Taylor-craft.

Guests included Howard Stepp, Ray Macway, Bernie McNow, Al Riemer, Al Rosonga, Leonard Schwind, Bob Gaudy, Nick Milichovich, and Tom Tanna.

PE Club Social Set

Physical Education and Recreation Club will hold a social meeting Tuesday night, November 4, at 7:30 in the Student Union, asserted Marilyn President Casstevens.

Guests from San Francisco Junior college will be entertained at the meeting with movies on tumbling, baseball and diving, according to Miss Casstevens.

GRAD AT GUMPS'

Patricia King, graduate interior decoration major, is now taking her professional training at Gumps' in San Francisco.

As part of the program of the interior decoration course at San Jose State college, students go out and observe methods used in wholesale and retail stores.

Science Students See Chemical Show

Bio-chemistry class members, students from the San Jose State affiliate of the American Chemistry Society, and several science instructors attended the Pacific Chemical Exposition in San Francisco recently.

Hugh Barrett and Theodore Lindner, bio-chemistry students, were part of the group of 37 which visited the exposition and the California and Hawaiian Sugar company refinery with their instructor, Dr. Elton Stinson.

Barrett and Lindner felt that the refinery, where the class received a chicken dinner, was the most interesting part of the trip. They described the plant as very clean, modern and efficient.

Dr. Ben Naylor supervised a group of 25 members of the ASC on their trip to the exposition. Among the exhibits was a robot, a large fractionating column, a film on Redwood forests, a film on finding oil, and scores of other films and exhibits.

Dr. Albert Schmoltdt, associate professor of chemistry, and Mr. William Sutphen, chemistry instructor, were among the faculty members who attended the exposition.

Dr. Schmoltdt noted that more Pacific coast scientific companies were operating at present, and Mr. Sutphen remarked that the show tended more towards the industrial side of chemistry.

MAKEUP ROOM

Students are welcome to use the entomology lab, Room 213, of the science building to make-up assignments, if the lab is empty or if a class is in session with some unused chairs, Dr. Carl D. Duncan, professor of entomology reported.

Students using the lab when another class is in session must not disturb the other students, Dr. Duncan cautioned.

PARTY HAS SURPRISE

Lola Partal and Ruth Peters, doing a novelty number and reading respectively, furnished part of the surprise entertainment at a party for music majors and minors in the Student Union Friday evening, according to Colleen McCann.

The party was co-sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu Alpha, music societies. Dancing and refreshments concluded the annual event.

Visitor On Campus

Dr. Evelyn Steel Little, librarian at Mills college, Oakland, and Clarence Mayhew, San Francisco architect, visited the San Jose State college campus yesterday to inspect the Library building.

Miss Joyce Backus, who conducted the visitors on a tour of the library, reported that Dr. Little and Mr. Mayhew were interested in obtaining information relative to planning a new library for Mills college.

ON THE SPORTS TRAIL

By TOM ROWEN

This is "Big Game" day. The day that Spartan grads throughout the world will be thinking about and wishing they could make the trip once again to Washington Square to see San Jose play the Tigers from COP tonight at the Stadium.

There will be a lot of color and excitement at the game. Once again, grads from the two schools will be betting their last dollar on their favorite eleven and hoping their team will come out on top.

MEMORIES

The Spartan coaching staff remembers a lot about previous COP-San Jose contests.

Bob Bronzan probably remembers when he held down a tackle berth on the Spartan dream teams of 1937, '38, and '39. Maybe Walt McPherson recalls his days when he was a star fullback for the Gold and White.

We imagine those days recall a lot of memories to the board of strategy.

HOMECOMING

However, this is not only "Big Game" night but it is also football homecoming night. There will be a homecoming dance after the game at the Hotel DeAnza.

This will bring Sparta alumni together from all over the country. All that can make the trek back to the Garden City will be on hand to watch the Spartan tangle with the Striped Cat on the South Seventh street greensward tonight.

SOME GAME

Yes, we agree football is a great game. It is an American institution. It is something that brings out so clearly the American way of life.

We were thinking Sunday afternoon on the way home from San Diego about what this game of football does to people. We've seen 20,000 fans trying to watch a game at Balboa stadium through a dense fog on the previous night. No matter how thick the fog was, these 20,000 spectators wouldn't be convinced that they should go home early.

They still believed that Mother Nature would take away this mist and they could see what was going on down on the turf.

We came to the conclusion that this game played with a piece of pigskin a la flying disc style is like a drug. It gets under your skin. People crave excitement and football supplies the magic potion which takes care of this drive.

ALUMNI SPIRIT

SPARTANS AND TIGERS WILL BATTLE FOR CROWN

STATE SPARTANS, PACIFIC TIGERS RENEW TRADITIONAL RIVALRY

By PAUL VON HAFFTEN

The College of Pacific Tigers and San Jose State college Spartans renew their traditional gridiron rivalry for the 20th time this evening at Spartan Stadium. This probably will be the most important battle in the history of the two schools, as they will be fighting for the CCAA championship and the coveted bid to the Raisin Bowl.

This football rivalry began when the two schools were local foes back in 1898. The Spartans won that first game by a 18-0 count. They also won in 1899. It was an era when the locals had such players as Captain Q. Heston, Estes, and Ulrich.

During this gridiron rivalry, the Spartans have won 13, lost 5, and tied twice against the Tigers. Football relations were not renewed again until 1921 which was an era of Tiger supremacy.

TIGER'S SUPREMACY

The Tigers won three straight. They also rolled up the highest score ever made between the two schools. The Stockton squad tallied 46 points in 1923. Among the Spartan stars of this age were Al Saxe at left end and Pancho Thompson.

The two squads didn't meet again until 1929 when the game ended in a six to six tie. COP beat us the next two years by identical scores of 27-0. Captain Howard Hornbuckle, now sheriff of Santa Clara county, starred for the Spartans in those contests.

San Jose, however, has had things pretty much her own way since the lean twenties, and the Tigers haven't won a game since 1931. The Spartans also fielded three championship squads in the old Far Western Conference during the years of 1932, 1933, and 1934.

Our Golden Era of football, however was not reached until 1937 when Coaches Dud de Groot and Bill Hubbard, along with Pop Warner, won 35 games in three years, while they lost but two and tied once.

WARNER VS. STAGG

The most famous tilt between the two institutions was in 1939 when Coaches "Pop" Warner and Amos Alonzo Stagg matched wits in a game which attracted nationwide interest. COP took an early 3-0 lead; however, the Spartans won, 13-3. The next year the two coaches met again with the Spartans winning again, by a 28-7 margin.

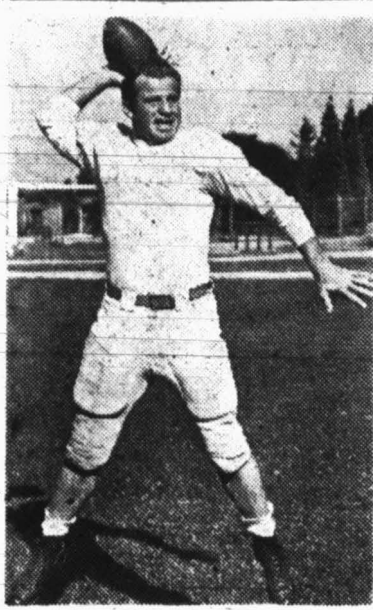

This was the period when the Spartans had such stars as Bob Bronzan, Dave and Bob Titchenal, Leroy Zimmerman, Carlton Perego and other stars too numerous to mention.

The squad in 1939 allowed but four touchdowns and a field goal. San Jose also went undefeated that year and gained national prominence as the highest scoring team of the nation. They swamped both San Diego and Fresno State colleges by the score of 42-0.

RECENT SPARTANS

Since the 40's, the Spartans have dominated the CCAA conference and have lost the title only once since they entered the association. This is the Tigers' second year in CCAA competition, and they are gunning for their first conference title and win over the Spartans since 1931.

It is also the first time since 1935 that the Tigers have competed without the beloved "Grand Old Man of Football," A. A. Stagg, at the helm. Their new coach is Larry Siemering, who has done a superb job at Stockton this year. His team has lost only to Santa Clara and that by one point. Stagg never has won from San Jose.

JIM JACKSON

Jim Jackson will vie with Eddie LeBaron for passing honors tonight.

HARRIERS GO TO BERKELEY

The Spartans crosscountry team will open its season Sunday at Edwards field in Berkeley. The harriers will compete in the Big C meet. The meet with Modesto JC, scheduled for today, has been postponed and will be held November 21 at Spartan stadium, according to Winter.

Wilmer Grass, known better as Al, is seeing a lot of action on the Spartan water polo team this year. He was high scorer for the J-V's last year. He played the sport while at San Jose High School as well. He is a physical education major and will be seen splashing away for the State swimmers next spring.

"BENGAL WEEK"

The gridders seem to be higher for this COP game than they have been for any contest since the Hardin-Simmons upset. While running through a practice session earlier in the week, a hustling backfield man suggested "Bengal Week" as an appropriate title for the pre-game skirmishes.

Euthusiasm such as this is contagious. It attacks one player after the other.

We think that the Spartans, a very good football team, will need that enthusiasm tomorrow night at the local grid emporium, for the Bengals, unvictorious over San Jose State since 1931, have convinced themselves that they are going to win this one.

Believe us, those Stockton boys aren't betting even money because they want to go down in history as philanthropists!

NATATORS MEET AGGIES TODAY

By JOHN GOTHBERG

San Jose State college water polo varsity will clash in a return game with the California Aggies at 4:30 this afternoon.

In an early season engagement the Spartans defeated the Aggies at their home pool in the rain, 14-6.

Experts say that the splashers from Davis have one of the best teams they have ever produced. "Mannie" Manaringa, a South American, is their fastest forward and an excellent ball handler.

The Spartan mermen should give one of their top performances this afternoon. Ed Rudlof's scoring accuracy has been improving of late, and he will be one of the San Jose players most feared by the Davis aggregation.

Captain Tudor Bogart and Otis Keeler have been playing exceptionally well of late, and they can be expected to turn in outstanding performances today. Howard Ruweler, another really great back, played a splendid game against Cal Wednesday and should be in top condition for the Aggies.

Other men who can be expected to aid considerably in an effort to down the Davis men again are Bill Monahan, Dick Bartels, "Red" Foley, George Hodgins, and Dave Thomson.

The Spartan mermen have really been playing some thrillers this fall. Their early season victory over the Stanford Indians saw the San Jose boys putting in one of their finest performances of the season.

JAYVEES PLAY MATHER FIELD

The San Jose junior varsity will meet the Mather Field eleven Saturday afternoon at Sacramento. This is the Jayvees' only scheduled game of the season.

The squad, under the tutelage of Coach Walt Williams, has been used chiefly to run against the varsity. However, a good many of the men have seen some action in varsity games to date.

JACKSON-LEBARON DUEL EXPECTED TONIGHT IN GRID TEST

By PAUL CANE

When Bill Hubbard trots his Gold and White eleven out on the Stadium turf tonight at 8 p.m., an expected 17,000 partisan football fans are going to become tense in anticipation of the Jim Jackson-Eddie LeBaron aerial duel which a dry sky promises.

In the event that clouds fill the heavens and begin to weep, not only will the passing competition between the Spartans and the Bengals be foresaken, but the overflow crowd of 17,000 will be cut to an assemblage of 3,000 of the football faithful.

Using the optimistic view, we'll go on record as predicting a rainless evening with flying pigskins floating all over the turf.

EDDIE IS EXCELLENT

College of Pacific, as the record shows, has just one passing threat but he, LeBaron, can really toss that oval. A press release from the Bengals shows that "Excellent Eddie," as he is called in Stockton, throws one touchdown pass out of every seven times that he flips the pigskin.

More relevant to our provincial analysis is the fact that Eddie has had one out of every four of his pass attempts intercepted by the opposition's secondary.

This item could be of terrific importance in tonight's game. It doesn't drain too much on the imagination to picture speedster Billy Parton gathering in one of LeBaron's stray tosses and carrying the pork back into Bengal territory.

HECK AND BROWN RUN

It is true that the condition could occur in reverse, Jackson having his aerial bombs snared by either Don Brown or Bob Heck, COP's main ground threats.

Off the dope sheet, however, the San Jose quarterback stands less chance of having his passes garnered into jerseys other than white, Jackson's completion average (prior to the San Diego game) stood at a very respectable 488.

JIM HAS 50-50 CHANCE

The 22 completions necessary to make this average were responsible for the very high net gain of 424 yards. In plain language, Jackson has proved that every time he tosses a pass he has a 50-50 chance of having it completed, and that when completed, it means a 20-yard gain.

Statistically speaking, the Spartan air offense seems to have a decided edge over what Coach Larry Slemmering and his Bengal lancer, Eddie LeBaron, have been able to muster.

On the ground, the Stockton backfield will place their 4.5 composite ball carrying average against a 4.73 record for the Spartans. Evidently San Jose superiority lies in the air, Eddie LeBaron to the contrary notwithstanding.

Figures show that the best chance of sending the Bengal home toothless is to meet him on a dry, lightning-fast turf.

San Leandro's contribution to the freshman football squad is the 220 lb. tackle Mitchell Kanalakis.

Mitch saw a little duty with the Navy, and says that it doesn't compare with San Jose State college.

SPORTS TRAIL

back and remember what happened on previous "Big Game" nights.

This will bring back a lot of memories. We talked to a San Jose graduate while in the southland who told us quite a lot concerning San Jose football history.

We were amazed to hear of the tremendous spirit this graduate had towards San Jose State college.

He told us that he always gets back for one game a year. Last year, it was the Fresno State game. He sat through the entire game in the rain. He wouldn't leave because he had driven over 500 miles to see his Alma Mater play and was going to stay to the finish.

This year, he told us that he was coming north for the COP contest.

We hope this sort of spirit prevails throughout the ranks of Sparta alumni because it is a wonderful thing when a school has tremendous backing. If everybody had the college spirit that this San Jose grad has, the football palace in the south end of town always would be full of Gold and White alumni.

FROSH PLAY STANFORD FROSH

The Spartan freshmen put the finishing touches on the week's work today in preparation for tomorrow's invasion of the Stanford tepee.

Coach Bud Winter's warriors will probably meet their toughest opponent of the season when they tangle with Chuck Taylor's papooses. The little Indians of Stanford are undefeated this season, having trounced Santa Clara's frosh 6-0, USC's Trojans 19-7, and held a powerful UCLA freshman squad to a 13-13 standoff.

The Papooses are reported to have a fast and powerful first string line but weak on substitutes. However, Coach Taylor is said to have two equally strong backfield units. Taylor can either use a left or right handed passer in the quarterback role. Roy Dodson, a punter of the coffin corner school, is also available for action.
