MERLE KNOX SMASHES TURKEY TROT RECORD AS LARGE CROWD VIEWS PRE-THANKSGIVING CLASSIC

BY BOYD SCHULTZ

Merle Knox rambled home in record-breaking time yesterday, leading a field of 32 over the three-mile course in the fourth annual Turkey Trot.

Knox crossed the Fourth street finish line in 15:40.5, clipping nearly 45 seconds from the old record as a crowd of approximately 1200 lined San Carlos street, from the Men's gym to the Women's gym to watch.

Murray Collins followed Knox in 16:22, giving evidence of the extreme pace of the contest. Collins' time also was faster than the mark set last year by Eugene Haynes.

Fontes Third

Finishing a surprise third, was Wayne Fontes of Dee Portal's boxing team. Fontes, who is a stranger to long distance running, displayed a lot of heart and natural ability. He finished in 16:33.3.

Charlie Townsend, popular lightweight Spartan boxer, was awarded an appropriate crutch for finishing last. Charlie accepted graciously and made immediate use of the instrument.

Prizes

A large crowd grouped around the winner's circle to watch auring Adele Thompson present the assorted Thanksgiving dinners. A thoroughly unhappy, but healthy turkey went to Merle Knox. Collins received a complacent Fontes, still very tired from the long race, accepted the third prize duck, and to Ken Cayacea, fourth place man, went a chicken.

Woody Linn, pre-race sentimental favorite, did not suit up for the big event. Woody explained to disappointed backers that he was suffering from a slight throat infection. He threw a lot of weight around at the race, however, as he acted as official timer for the event.

Thelno Knowles was also unable to run because of a slight leg injury, sustained last week in a cross country meet.

DEBATE SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Wilbur F. Luick, director of the Forensic Squad and instructor in Speech yesterday announced the balance of the squad's schedule for the fall quarter.

Mr. Luick stated the squad will debate against the Stanford University Debate Society on Monday, December 1, before a meeting of the International Relations Club. They will debate the proposition, "Resolved: That A Federal World Government Should Be Established." Stanford will uphold the negative side of the question, and San Jose State college, the affirmative.

Two members of the Spartan team are being selected this week from the Forensic squad, which includes the following: John Cazzza, David Cassin, Bob Eckstein, Laverne Galecner, Rudy Gerken, Paul Gormley, Prescott Kendall and Bill Swasey.

On December 11, a negative team will travel to Modesto Junior college. The possibility of sending a team or delegation to the Speech Association of America, Student Congress at Salt Lake City, Utah, during December 29, 30, and 31, is being considered.

Mr. Luick also stated that negotiations are underway for a meeting with the debating team from the College of Pacific.

Flying Girls In Levis Study Aero Course

Ciad in levis or coveralls two young girls, Ada "Lou" Reed, from Clearlake, and Colleen Johnson of San Jose, are battling their way through the Aeronautics course at San Jose State college.

Contrary to popular tradition, the girls are not finding the course a "strictly man's world."

"We take a lot of kidding, but it's all in fun," they both agreed. "The fellows really have been very nice to us."

Colleen already has a private flying license, and she hopes to qualify for a commercial license. Lou is doing her solo work at present for a private license.

Karl B. Justice To Speak Today

Karl B. Justice will deliver a short talk today in the Little Theater at 12:30 as part of a Thanksgiving observance for all students. Mr. Justice is associate director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews in San Francisco, according to Malcolm Carpenter, Student Y executive secretary.

"All students are invited to attend and spend a few minutes in serious thought," said Mr. Carpenter.

MORE SUPPORT SOLICITED FOR FLYERS' FUND

Funds contributed to meet the expense of the $100 fine imposed on Bob Reid and Dilmas Rosenberg as a result of a pre-game flight over College of Pacific have lagged behind expectations, Bob Naughten, chairman of the drive, indicated today.

While contributions have been arriving steadily at the Spartan Daily office, their collective total has been disappointing, Naughten said, as he reiterated an appeal for more whole-hearted support of the cause.

To date, the bulk of the contributions have come from the Business office, the Spartan Daily, the Engineering society, the Catholic Women's Center, and the office of Miss Josephine Roese. Individual contributions have been relatively few, Beatrice Dooley, drive treasurer, reported.

Emerson "Doc" Arends, Student Body president, led in aiding yesterday's activities by making the largest individual contribution of the day.

Funds collected in excess of $100 will go to the Chapel fund, Naughten reports.

ATTENTION VETS

All veterans enrolled under Public Law 16 who have not received a letter of award are urged to report to room 16 as soon as possible, according to Mrs. Mary Sullivan. A list is now being prepared for the regional office of VA.

All those who have applied for certificates of eligibility or supplementary certificates and have not received same are requested to report to room 16 at once, according to Mrs. Erlene Elam.

OFF THE WIRE

Lake Success, N.Y., Nov. 25—(UP)—The United Nations' Palestine Committee approved partition 25 to 13 today in an historic ballot which left final United Nations action hanging on a single vote.

Los Angeles, Nov. 25—(UP)—An ordinance banning drinking at the Coliseum was being rushed through today in the chance it may be in effect for the Southern California Notre Dame football game Dec. 6.

A large truckload of whisky bottles and beer cans is hauled out of the 102,000 seat Coliseum after each football game, Coliseum officials said.

Redwood City, Calif., Nov. 25—(UP)—A Redwood City high school teacher today filed a $35,233 damage suit here in Superior Court against a crayon manufacturer.

Donald Brown, English instructor at Sequoia high school, said he gave his son, Harold, aged three, a package of crayons to "make marks on the walls of his room." Instead, he said, Harold chewed and swallowed them.

Brown said his son's body turned blue, his blood chocolate brown and blood transfusions and an oxygen tent were needed. He ascribed the ailments to aniline and other toxic dyes he claimed were present in the crayons.

The instructor claimed that the Binney and Smith Co., makers of the crayons, should have known children might eat the colored crayons. He asked $25,000 general damage for the child, $10,000 for himself and his wife and $234 for doctor bills.

Steffy, Army; guard, William Fischer, Notre Dame; center, Charles Bednarik, Penn.; back, John Lujack, Notre Dame; back, Robert Chappuis, Michigan; back, Robert Layne, Texas; back, Doak Walker, Southern Methodist.

STRAYER GROUP SEEMS PLEASED BUT STAYS MUM

"The Strayer Committee did not come to any definite conclusions, but the members seemed quite pleased with our school," President T. W. MacQuarrie declared yesterday.

The committee is studying the State colleges and junior colleges and will release a report with specific recommendations to the State Legislature next March. Whether state colleges will give master's degrees is also involved.

"Dr. Strayer said our library was organized to meet the needs of the school, and he liked the separate sections for art, science, music, education and psychology," Dr. MacQuarrie added. "I have a feeling that the committee saw enough of the college to make a favorable report," he said.

"The committee seemed most interested in the library, the science building, the health department, our industrial arts courses and the engineering section," the college president remarked.

The members of the committee are Dr. George D. Strayer, the chairman, from Columbia University; Dr. Arthur J. Klein, formerly dean of Ohio State; Dr. Monroe E. Deutsch, from University of California, and Dr. Aubrey A. Douglass.

CHI DELTS INITIATE THREE MEMBERS

Three new members were named to Chi Delta Phi at a recent formal initiation and dinner, according to Chi Delt publicity man, Ed Brajenovich.

O. C. Williams, fraternity advisor, was chief speaker at the dinner. Chuck Towner was pledgemaster and in charge of the affair.

Don De Geller, Les Penterman and Ben Pettis were the three pledges formally initiated into the organization. All three have been active on the organization's football squad this season.

The engagement of Chi Delt Brother Dick Thorn was announced recently, and he and his betrothed, Vonnie Hughes of Palo Alto, will wed early next fall.

TEA TO FETE NEW STUDENTS

All women students new to the campus are invited to a Silver Tea, to be given by Inter-Society and sponsored by Zeta Chi, on Thursday, December 11, from 3:30 to 6 p.m. at the San Jose Woman's Club, 75 S. 11th St.

Assistant hostesses will be at the tea to represent each women's social organization on campus, according to Betty Sills, president of Zeta Chi. "Also acting as hostesses will be the presidents of honorary women's organizations." Voluntary contributions of silver coins will be received at the door. The proceeds will become part of a special Library fund for the purpose of obtaining outstanding books in a special field, explained Miss Sills.

The purpose of the Silver Tea is to give all new women students a chance to meet representatives of the various social and honor organizations on campus.

FINAL FOOTBALL RALLY PLANNED FOR QUAD TODAY

Presenting their final effort for the current football season, members of the Rally Committee will lead a short pep rally at 12:15 today in the outer Quad, announces Chairman Betty Louthan.

Serving in a double capacity, "the rally will be a spirit-booster for the Fresno game tomorrow as well as a sendoff for the gridders' jaunt to Hawaii," said Miss Louthan.

Coach Bill Hubbard and members of the team will once again be honored guests of the Rally Committee. As an added attraction, Jules "the jeweler" Bozsl will present his "Player of the Week" awards for the past two games.

Recipients of the gifts will be Pete Denevi for his outstanding performance against B.Y.U. and Billy Elam for his plural touchdown runs against Cal Poly.

"Band, yell leaders, and song girls will provide the usual pep for the rally," said Miss Louthan and urged students to cooperate in making a good showing in the last football rally of the year by presenting a mass turnout for the event.

Buses going to Fresno will leave from the Student Union at 8 a.m. tomorrow, states Sal Milan, co-director of the convoy. Approximately 1600 rooters are expected to be in the Spartan section, along with the Marching Band, Drum Major Jim Gillen, Majorette Pauline Deardorff, and Baton Twirler Bob Reid. Exhorting the fans on to greater straining of the vocal chords will be the Song Girls, Huber "Bones" Thornber, and Glen Stewart.

UNUSUAL DRILL SET FOR GAME

"The marching band will present some unusual formations at the Fresno game Thursday," announces Barbara Jenkins, publicity chairman.

Ninety members of the band will go to Fresno on chartered buses and in private automobiles, said Miss Jenkins.

"Before the game, the San Jose State college band will take the field and form a shield. Then the Fresno band and glee club will march into the shield and form the letters, USA. Both bands will play, and the glee club will sing the national anthem," stated the publicity chairman.

Music Appreciation

That musical hilarity coming from Dr. James Wood's 8:30 English Literature class was caused by a "platter party" of Shakespearean love songs and modern singing commercials.

Shakespeare's "Sylvia," and "A Lover and His Lass" were followed by Noel Coward rendering "Mad Dogs and Englishmen" and some modern singing commercials.

TURKEY FOR VETS

Veterans who signed up for turkey dinner meet Mr. William Hermanns in room 25A between 12:20 and 1:30 today to make arrangements for time and transportation.

WE GIVE THANKS

"We thank with brief thanksgiving."

—The Garden of Proserpine (Swinburne)

Tomorrow is that special day of thanks which has been observed by Americans annually for the past 326 years. We, here on Washington Square, have as much to be thankful for today as did the Puritans in Plymouth so long ago.

A comfortable life with opportunity to pursue the objectives selected by each individual is closer within the grasp of each of us today than ever before. This is exemplified so well by the swarming college campuses where thousands are trying to better themselves by taking advantage of all educational facilities available.

Many of us may be inclined to be thankful that we have a four-day holiday from the grueling text-books. That isn't enough for which to be thankful, however. There are some among us who may be thankful that they have been able to complete their college educations, for the President's tea is but less than a month away for Fall quarter grads.

We can be thankful that we have the high type of educational facilities that are afforded on this campus; that our student government is so free from faculty or administration constraint; and that we do not have to suffer the pangs of hunger and the internal strife in which so much of the world is consumed.

We thank with brief thanksgiving by setting aside this one day to be devoted to praise for our good fortunes. Is one day enough to show our thanks? This is something that shouldn't be brief, for we should be thankful throughout the year.

NSA ISSUE UNDER DISCUSSION IN SEVERAL COLLEGES

By JACK SILVEY

(This is the fourth in a series of Spartan Daily articles designed to acquaint students with the National Student Association prior to this college's approval or rejection of NSA affiliation in May.)

"This college should not join the National Student association just to keep up with the Joneses," was a bit of the thoughtful advice offered during a Student Council discussion of NSA earlier this quarter.

Such advice recognizes that colleges, as well as individuals, often join an organization with no more important purpose in mind than to ride the "bandwagon." On the other hand, it must be recognized that consideration of who the "Joneses" are is a necessary aid in evaluating the organization in question.

ENDORSEMENTS

Who then, has endorsed NSA? President Truman, while not positively endorsing the group, stated in a letter to the NSA constitutional convention on August 18, "We should therefore welcome hopefully the formation of any organization that has as one of its prime objectives a constructive effort to improve the quality of the services in institutions of higher education."

Dean Newhouse, director of student affairs, University of Washington, has stated, "I hope the NSA can prove to be an effective force for making student government appreciated for its true significance and worth to the cause of democracy."

UNIVERSITY ACTION

The University of California at Berkeley, and Stanford university approved the NSA constitution recently and have already engaged in some of the group's activities. Other institutions, including the University of Santa Clara, College of Pacific and Fresno State have not approved NSA as readily. Latest reports indicate that they still are holding the issue under discussion.

The first college to accept NSA was Antioch college, Yellow Springs, Ohio. Mundelein college of Chicago was second to affiliate, with the University of Baltimore joining third on October 17.

LYKE TO SELL FOR 25 CENTS

"Only two-bits for 'Lyke' again this quarter," says Al Campbell, business manager for the campus publication.

Yes, you will pay only 25 cents for a copy of Lycurgus. This year, despite higher printing costs, the price will remain at the mark set last quarter.

Members of the staff have been working hard on this quarter's issue, and the magazine will have many new features and lots of pictures.

An "exciting" cover has been designed by Art Editor Bill Wagner and his art staff. You will also see the work of this staff in illustrations and in the fashion layout.

Featuring the "New Look," the fashion section will include more pictures in this issue, promises Mary Price, fashion editor.

A number of student contributions have been included under the direction of Associate Editors Marian Ellis and Lee Stronach.

According to Sal Millan, publicity director, "You will get all this and a great deal more for 25 cents—only a quarter of a dollar."

OH, HAIL, WRIGLEY OR OH, MY ACHIN' JAW

By MARIE HOULE

"Gum! Thousands of wads of gum. Enough to hold a building together. Just look under the tables in the Reserve Book room. There are an estimated number of 727 pieces which students surreptitiously have placed under them.

If there are 727 pieces of gum in the book room, and each student had spent an estimated 30 minutes of physical effort chewing each piece, the time spent would equal 21,810 hours or 908 days. This is equivalent to almost two and one-half years in chewing gum—this is more than one half of the time a single student would spend in college—in a four year course.

Combined Chewing

To carry the survey even further, let us consider the amount of gum chewed by the combined student body in just one quarter. There are 7,000 students enrolled in San Jose State college. Let us assume that each student chews two packs of gum per week. This would equal 14,000 packs of gum consumed per week, times 12 weeks in a quarter equals 168,000 packs of gum or $8,400 worth per quarter!

Multiplying the number of packs (168,000) times five gives us the huge number of 840,000 which equals the number of sticks of gum chewed. Assuming again that students chew each stick of gum at least 30 minutes, we get the number 420,000, which equals the number of hours that San Jose State college students spend in one quarter just chewing gum.

My Achin' Jaws

Dividing 420,000 hours by 24 we get 17,500 days or over 50 years. This enormous amount of time is spent by Spartans for merely chewing gum — in one quarter!

Therefore, during one college year the students of San Jose State spend around 150 years chewing gum.

The amount of gum found in the Reserve Book room is trivial as compared to the amount being chewed by 7,000 students.

Think of all the hours, days and even years, poor toiling students have spent in chewing gum! Think of the hours that worried manufacturers have toiled getting this gum to the students!

Is all this effort to be lost? Or will the 20th century yet produce some brilliant scientist who will save all the wasted energy that goes into gum chewing?

Radio Club Has Dinner

Ken Iwagaki, secretary of the San Jose State Radio club, announces that the club will hold a dinner for its members on December 4, at the Italian restaurant.

"A great time is promised," said Iwagaki. The theme of the event will be 'Eat, Drink, and be Merry.'

The club is trying to get back into its pre-war stride of activities, says Iwagaki.

SCIENCE CLASSES CONTINUE TRIPS

By DICK COX

Dr. Matthew F. Vessel has announced that there will be no more Nature Study field trips this quarter, but Drs. Carl Duncan, G. A. McCallum, Ralph A. Smith, and James P. Heath still are making excursions with their students.

Rocel G. Pisano, who remarked that he is "only a poor bachelor," declared today that it is no use taking his biology classes on field trips in the hills because "that Doc McCallum brought back half of the hills the other day."

Meanwhile Dr. Vessel reported that "Bachelor" Pisano is failing in his responsibilities as chief rat catcher of the science building and that the Nature Study lab is being taken over by rats. The furry ones seem to have a preference for "corn" seeds and bean seedlings.

Dr. Smith took the Zoology 117 class in mammals to the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco Saturday. The class toured African Hall, North American Hall, and the Steinhart Aquarium.

Alum Rock was combed by Dr. Heath's General Ecologists Friday in their study of life zones. Dr. Heath also announced that Tri-Beta has purchased an album of records which will be presented to Dr. Louis E. DeLaney, former adviser, now instructing Notre Dame university.

Dr. Duncan and the General Entomology class searched the waters of Alum Rock park last week for horseflies and water-dwelling insects.

Dr. McCallum was giving his Biology 20 classes a "breather" during the past week, but this week will bring more trips.

'48 LA TORRE HAS SHY ART EDITOR

By JEAN STEVENS

It's like pulling the proverbial tooth to get Bob Moon, La Torre art editor to talk about himself.

Bob did finally reveal that he came to San Jose State after graduating from Quincy, California, a little town about 350 miles north of San Jose. His choice of this school came about after Bob decided that it has the best Commercial Art department on the coast. "Cal and Stanford," he added wryly, "stress fine art."

During the early part of World War II, Bob was on the baseball team here, that is, before Uncle Sam picked him up and set him down again as a sergeant doing court-martial work at a desk in Fort Ord.

Bob lists his fraternal affiliations as Alpha Gamma and Delta Phi Delta, national honorary art fraternity.

When asked if La Torre is designed along the lines of modern art, he replied that although the art would be modern, it would not be abstract, and added "we want to achieve unity through simplicity and smartness."

As if to forestall further interrogation, Bob said, "Just tell 'em that the La Torre is going to be exceptional—you don't need all that stuff about me."

CAMERA FANS

When Dwight Bentel, professor of journalism, decided to snap some pictures of the new Spartan Daily office last week, something "very odd" happened.

All the "front porch reporters" and unofficial advisers to the student sheet came trooping in to sit at a typewriter and look busy. Five minutes later with the deadline drawing close, the office virtually was a tomb!

PLAQUE BRINGS BACK MEMORIES

By JOHN GOTHBERG

"An unwanted bronze plaque that has been displayed at Fresno State for the past year will remain at the Central Valley institution following Thursday's annual classic," Emerson "Doc" Arends, ASB president, states hopefully.

The history of this platter dates back to 1939 when San Jose's gridiron greats trounced the Bulldogs, 2-7. The Spartans had the pleasure of leaving the plaque with the Fresnoans that year.

In 1940 SJS had trouble in downing the Raisin City boys, 14-7. The following year found the Red and Blue team again forced to retain the unwanted guest. That was the occasion when the two teams met in the Spartan "fog bowl" and ended up in a scoreless tie.

BREAK JINX

In 1942 the Bulldogs broke the jinx and eked out a 6-0 victory. Tom Taylor, student body president that year, was presented with the horrible thing. It remained here until the two schools renewed relationships last fall.

Marty Taylor, Tom's brother, had the pleasure of giving it back to the Fresnoans after the Gold and White team crushed them, 13-2, in a terrific downpour last November.

DIRTY DORA

On Thanksgiving Day the two teams meet once again. This is the first year that the game will not decide the outcome of the CCAA race. Obviously, then, 1947 marks the first season that another conference member, other than Fresno and San Jose, has won the championship.

Nevertheless, the contest is still one of the big events on the gridiron calendar. "Doc" Arends is especially anxious to see the Spartans win this one. He does not want the misfortune of being presented with the "Dirty Dora."

The bronze plaque which goes to the loser of the San Jose State college-Fresno State college football game. The plaque now is in the possession of the Bulldogs. The Spartans defeated Fresno, 13-2, last year in a game played in a downpour at Spartan Stadium.

CASABA PLAYERS PREP FOR OPENER

Next week the Spartan basketball five open the season in a contest with Stanford at Palo Alto. Coach Dean Everett's aggregation are said to be much improved over last year.

San Jose suffered a defeat by the Indians on their home court last year but triumphed over them later in the season in the Spartan pavilion.

Coach Watl McPherson believes that the Red and White will win without much difficulty. The absence of Junior Morgan and Chuck Hughes from the lineup will weaken the Spartans considerably. The boys will finish out the football schedule before turning to basketball.

The following men may very possibly make up the starting lineup: Ron Staley and Swift Wunker at forwards; Ralph Romero and Bob Wuestoff at guards; Stu Inman will most likely hold down the pivot spot.

Grapplers To Meet San Quentin Team

Fresh from scoring their first victory this season over San Francisco Central YMCA and San Francisco State, the Spartan varsity matmen are preparing for their next match with San Quentin.

Last year the Spartans defeated San Quentin in a hard and rugged duel. This year the Spartans have won and lost one meet each.

The matmen looked good Friday and wrestled under Olympic Games' rules for the first time in San Jose's wrestling history. Among the men who went to San Francisco were Ray Miser, Sam Lawson, and Fred Albright.

While the varsity matmen are preparing for their annual tussle with San Quentin, the novices are getting set for the Northern California Novice Wrestling tourney which will be held in San Francisco this year. Last year, the Spartans copped the tourney. Men who are interested are invited to sign up in Coach Ted Mumby's office.

SPARTAN AND BULLDOG SERIES BEGAN IN 1921

By PAUL VON HAFFTEN

San Jose State college and Fresno State college meet tomorrow in their 16th renewal of a gridiron series which commenced in 1921. The Spartans won that contest by a score of 14-2. San Jose also won last year by a 13-2 margin.

Both teams have won six contests and have tied three times since the rivalry began. The Bulldogs have scored a total of 171 points, while the Spartans have garnered 160. There have been two nothing to nothing ties and a seven all affair.

Traditional History

Probably the most important battle between the two institutions was fought last year when the squads fought for the CCAA championship and the coveted Raisin Bowl bid. For many of us it will be an unforgettable game because it was played in a torrential downpour and was climaxed by the Spartans taking the CCAA championship.

The hardest battle was fought in 1940 when the Spartans took a gruelling 14-7 decision and the CCAA title. In 1939 the Spartans attained the highest score of the series when they downed Fresno to the tune of 42-7.

The series has seen many of its famous players come and go. For Fresno State, Ernie Poore and Jackie Fellows stand out as her heroes. Then we cannot forget Fresno's coach Jimmy "Rabbit" Bradshaw, who was a great All-American at Nevada. He won't be there this year, but the Bulldogs have a capable coach in Jim Gleason who starred for Fresno before the war.

Dream Team

Many stars have performed for the Spartans. No one can forget that great "Dream Team" of 1939 which rolled up the highest total of points in the nation that year. Among members of that team were Leroy Zimmerman, Carleton Peregoy, Dave Titchenal, Bob Bronzan, Bob Titchenal and Ken Cook. Other players since have included Alan Hardisty, Bill Perry, George Terry and Bob Hamill.

Among the coaches who have been at the Spartan helm during this series have been: Pop Warner, Ben Winkleman, Bill Hubbard, Dud deGroot, Walter Crawford and Glen "Tiny" Hartranft.

Who will be tomorrow's heroes? We expect that the Spartans will win tomorrow; but, then, upsets have happened before in "Big Games."
