

Football Notebook:

Rogers ready to lead SJSU against SMU

Human Service Connection Day: Potential employers meet students

Page 6

SERVING SAN JOSE STATE UNIVERSITY SINCE 1934

SPARTAN DAILY

VOLUME 123, NUMBER 18

WWW.THESPARTANDAILY.COM

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 2004

SJSU grad passes away

Cause of death unknown

By Jennifer McLain Daily Executive Editor

Raymond Ruiz Carrico Henley was not only loved by his mom, brothers and sisters, but was appreciated by everybody he came o contact with.

"He was just a magnet. He was

"He was just a magnet. He was very shy but everybody just wanted to get to know him." said Jennie Henley, Raymond, who passed away Sept. 11 due to unknown reasons, graduated from San Jose State University last spring, earning a Bachelor of Fine Arts.

Raymond, who often dyed his long hair to prevent his incessant gray hair from showing, was an astounding cook, a passionate artist, great at applying eyeliner and extremely good looking, friends and family members said.

At the service, held in held At the service, held in Anderson, near Redding, Calif., Anderson, near Redding, Calit., Jennie said there were more people outside the funeral than inside, estimating that there were more than 300 people at his service.

Raymond's mother, Loretta Carrico, was not surprised at the amount of people because he was always so propular among.

was always so popular among everybody in high school. She was surprised, however, at the distance that people who attended the service traveled to pay their last respects to him.

"I was floored. People from
New York, San Diego, Texas and Indianapolis came to celebrate his life and to mourn his death,"

Loretta said. Raymond was Raymond was born in Indianapolis on March 11, 1979, eventually moving to Shasta County in 1988, and later to Santa Clara County where he was a student at SJSU.

The cause of death will not be known for eight to 10 weeks, Raymond's older sister Lore Carillo said.

Several possibilities were ruled out, including suicide, an overdose, heart attack and an aneurysm,

Lore said.

Raymond's classmate and triend Stuart Mahoney, however, has come up with possible theories about why he passed away, and he said he has been thinking about it non-stop.

"He was not taking care of himself — wasn't eating or anything. It's a possibility that his body just shut down," Mahoney said, adding that he did not expect his friend to pass away at such a his friend to pass away at such a young age.

Raymond's friend Mahoney found him during the afternoon on Sept. 11.

"We really don't know what happened," Errol Ozdalga said, Raymond's best friend and Sigma Chi fraternity brother, noting that he remembered Raymond saying he didn't feel well.

"There was a little bit of

see RAYMOND, page 3

Movin' on up ...

Robert Sparling / Daily Staff

Workers paint the outside of the new San Jose City Hall as work progresses on the building. The new building between Fourth and Santa Clara streets is sched-

A.S. approves 'pride' committee

By Monica Lauer Daily Staff Writer

The Associated Students Board of Directors approved the formation of the Spartan Pride Ad-Hoc Commit-tee on Wednesday at the bi-monthly

The Spartan Pride Ad-Hoc committee will work on promoting campus pride in the short and long term.

This campaign will coincide with the opening of the Campus Village Community Housing Project due to open in the fall, A.S. President Rachel Greathouse said.

think the (Spartan Pride oc Committee) will be very Ad-Hoc Committee) will be very effective and active because we have committed group of directors who campus," Greathouse said. Greathouse doesn't expect to see a sudden rise in pride just because the committee was formed, she said. A.S.

see PRIDE, page 3

Campus furniture piles on miles

noto illustration by Cara Bowyer / Daily Sta

By Leah Nakasaki Daily Staff Writer

Wobbly desks, broken chairs and defaced tabletops are just some examples of the pieces of furniture

"We have had a couple of class-rooms replaced with desks but they were just hand-me-downs," said Jim Thomas, a staff member who works in the office of the school of music

San Jose State University not only recycles aluminum cans and plastic bottles, they also recycle furniture.

Roxanne Hood, a senior buyer for Procurement Services said, "There is kind of recycling component to

she said when other schools are renovating their buildings, they will often donate their old classroom furniture to other departments at

Old furniture in classrooms is an ue that many faculty members at

Margaret Carlson, administrative analyst in the school of art and design, said, "Some of our classroom equipment dates back to the '50s and

Funds available to each depart-ment are a determining factor in the furniture they are able to acquire, said Hood, a senior buyer in Procurement

Each department is responsible for purchasing their own furniture, Hood said.

"We don't have the budget to buy new furniture," said Thomas, a staff member in the school of music and

Hood said procurement regula-

see FURNITURE page 3

Academic Integrity welcomed

Rascoe, Goodman praise new policy

By Emmanuel Lopez

San Jose State University marked the intro-duction of its new Academic Integrity Policy Wednesday with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at Caret Plaza in front of the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Joint Library.

The ceremony was part of the school's week

Monica Rascoe, the vice president of student affairs, opened the ceremony with words about the policy as a declaration of SISUs stepped-up.

"This policy is the school's public statement of commitment toward academic integrity."

'It tells everyone that we won't tolerate

Annette Nellen, chair for SJSU's Academic Senate, spoke after Rascoe. Nellen applauded the school's redoubled effort to uphold academic integrity and said the new policy is a critical stepping stone.

"This policy is a major starting point for us," Nellen said. Nellen continued, adding that academic integrity should be a emphasized heavily in all

"We should make (academic) integrity more than a point on a class green sheet," Nellen said.

see INTEGRITY, page 6

SJSU professor awarded Fulbright Scholar grant

By Amaya Wiegert Daily Staff Writer

Assistant Professor E. Michael Gorman was awarded a Fulbright Scholar grant by the U.S. Department of State and J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board this August.

"I am very flattered and feel very honored to receive this award," said Gorman, who teaches in San Jose State University's College of Social Work.

The Fulbright Program is a U.S. government program in international educational exchange, according to the Council for International Exchange of Scholars Web site.

The program received its name because Senator J. William Fulbright of Arkansas proposed it to the U.S. Congress in 1945.

With this award, Gorman will travel to Tunisia in the spring of 2005 for six months, he said.

"This award provides an invaluable opportunity for Dr. Gorman to conduct international research and to teach

"This award provides an invaluable opportunity for Dr. Gorman to conduct international research and to teach abroad, which is in keeping with the university's focus on global studies and issues that involve global studies," said Joe Merighi, a fellow social work assistant professor.

"It will provide him with a valuable opportunity to expand his research in HIV/AIDS and to enhance his teaching in an international context."

Gordon, who did some preliminary work to prepare for his stay in Tunisia by visiting the country last June, said his decision to apply to the program had to do with the events of 9/11.

"It was in part because of the events of 9/11 that I decided that I really wanted to learn more about what the events of 9/11.

"It was in part because of the events of 9/11 that I decided that I really wanted to learn more about what was happening in Islamic societies and also to understand more about what was happening in Arab countries,"

Gorman said

Because Gorman's background is in social and medical anthropology as well as social work and public health, he thought these two viewpoints would go well together for the program.
"It seemed to me that the Fulbright offered a wonder-

see FULBRIGHT, page 6

OXYMORON

Giving in to America's obsession with television

OPINION

To an extent, I used to believe this. I've boycotted television for the past eight years, in part because I didn't have time and money to waste, but also in part because I did not want to be just like every other American.

So, I refused to watch television It was not until recently that I realized this plan has seri-

On the second day of classes this semester, during a Media and Society lecture, the professor went around the class asking the mostly freshman and sophomore class about cur-

"What's the latest with Kobe Bryant? The Laci Peterson case? The Olympics? Who watched 'Fahrenheit 9/11?' " he

Well, for those who have no television, I know you can understand the agony of not knowing what's going on with the latest controversies.

So, when the professor got to me and I said I didn't know the current events, I felt stupid. All of my years I've tried to be unconventional — learning by reading books, reading newspapers, talking to people and seeing things for myself.

Apparently, this just doesn't cut it.

It was surprising that in the class everyone knew, for the ost part, what was going on. How can this be? Is everyone reading the newspaper?

Is everyone on the Internet? No, everyone watches television

In hopes of receiving a good grade in the iss, I decided it was time to get hooked up

Three weeks ago, I got 77 channels, including HBO. This was a monumental decision that will have a lasting affect on my life, indefinitely.

I am now going to be like everyone else.

I pledge to find a favorite television show. I pledge to join in on conversations about topics like seeing Janet Jackson's nipple. I pledge to en-America's favorite pastime.

But my birth into this nation of television

But my birth into this nation of television

But my birth into this nation of television

JENNIFER MCLAIN

I have, however, watched countless episodes of "Blind Date," "elimiDATE," "The 5th Wheel" and "The Fresh Prince of Bel Air."

people and to reflect.

After the first three days of getting cable installed, I had a few bones to pick about the boob tube

The first problem is that it is so impulsive.
Viewers see a brief clip or a one-hour show and consider themselves experts about that subject.

Another issue I had with cable is that the shows were often dull and the commercials were disputive.

were disruptive.

But the biggest issue I had with television is that I convinced myself I did not have enough time to watch it because I had far better things

It took about one week before my relationship with the TV got spicy, but I since have learned to either ignore or embrace the issues I had at the start of our relationship.

The reason I got cable was so that I could watch the news watch the news well, after more than two

After watching a few documentaries, I am also quite the ex-pert on Osama bin Laden, World War II and M-16s. The commercials and I definitely have a love-hate rela-

I am waiting to see if, once again, the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences is going to stumble around and make a fool of itself. Movies are advancing — will the Acad-

World of tomorrow scares

Hollywood establishment

tionship, but by now I do have a few favorite commercials, including the Juicy Fruit mannequin-CPR one and the Burger King, guy-in-the-bed-with-the-King one. It's all part of the television experience.

As for time, you can always make time for television. When I get home after work, I often sit with my boyfriend, exchange a few words and focus on whatever late night movie might be on.

I used to enjoy striking interesting conversations that did not sound something like, "Are you going to watch the last ep-isodes of 'Friends?' " or "Who is going to get fired from 'The Apprentice?' " but now I want to be part of that conversation who would have thought that for those eight years I tried so hard to be an individual and to be totally separate from American life, it would just take $80 a month to completely

"Oxymoron" appears every Thursday. Jennifer McLain is the Spartan Daily Executive Editor.

SPARTA GUIDE

Sparta Guide is provided free of charge to students, faculty and staff members. The deadline for entries is noon three working days before the desired publication date. Entry forms are available in the Spartan Daily office in Dwight Bentel Hall, room 209. Entries can also be e-mailed to spartandaily@casa.sjsu.edu titled "Sparta Guide." Space restrictions may require editing of submissions. Entries are printed in the order in which they are received.

TODAY

School of Art

An art exhibition of student galleries will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Art building. For more information, call the Gallery Office at 924-4330.

The "Bridging Borders Project" will be recruiting members to serve educational needs in immigrant communities from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. outside of the Student Union. For more information, call Carlee Howie at 924-5441.

A student workshop titled "What is plagiarism and how to avoid it" will take place from noon to 1 p.m. in the Peer Mentor Center in Royce Hall.

Catholic Campus Ministry
A daily mass will take place at 12:10 p.m. "Faith Formation" will take place from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.
The Alpha Omega Student Fellowship will meet at 8 p.m. All events will take place in the Catholic Campus Ministry. For more information, call Father

"The Listening Hour" concert series featuring guest artists from Opera San Jose will take place from 12:30 p.m. to 1:20 p.m. in the Music Building Concert Hall. For more information, call the Music

Feminist Majority Leadership Alliance A general meeting will take place from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in the Montalvo room in the Student Union. For more information, call 924-6500.

Society of Latino Engineers and Scientists A general meeting will take place at 6 p.m. in the Costanoan room in the Student Union.

Financial Management Association A bowling night will take place from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the bowling lanes in the Student Union For more information, call 674-1599.

Black Alliance of Scientists and Engineers A general body meeting will take place at 7 p.m. in the Ohlone room in the Student Union. For more information, call Akili at 644-0572.

Anthropology and Behavioral Science Club Amorie viewing and discussion of "Outfoxed" will take place from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the Pacifica room in the Student Union. For more information, call Andrew Ryan at 999-0225.

FRIDAY

An art exhibition of student galleries will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Art building. For more information, call the Gallery Office at 924-4330.

Catholic Campus Ministry A daily mass will take place at 12:10 p.m. in the Catholic Campus Ministry Chapel. For more information, call Father Mike Carson at 938-1610.

SATURDAY

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Joint Library A book sale will take place from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Caret Plaza. All proceeds help fund literacy programs. For more information, call Nancy S. Freeman at 287-2529.

SUNDAY

SJSU Catholic Campus Ministry "Faithful Citizenship" will take place at 6 p.m. at the SJSU Catholic Campus Ministry. For more information, call Sister Marcia Krause at 938-1610.

Catholic Campus Ministry A daily mass will take place at 12:10 p.m. in the Catholic Campus Ministry Chapel. For more information, call Father Mike Carson at 938-1610.

Department of Recreation and Leisure Studies "A 'Time Out' to Tailgate" will take place from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. at the barbecue pits in Paseo de Cesar Chavez. Prizes, games and free food will be included. For more information, call Shira Howerton v. 510.673, 2074.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Joint Library A documentary titled "Every Mother's Son" will be A documentary fined Every Mothers son win be shown from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Joint Library, room 255/257. The film explores the involvement of the New York City police department in high profile cases of three slayings and mothers working to bring the cases to justice. For more information, call Library General Collections at 2002-23:27

TUESDAY

College Democrats

A meeting with California State Assembly candidate Joe Coto will take place at noon in the Almaden room in the Student Union. For more information, call Ahmad Chapman 510-754-9648.

Catholic Campus Ministry A daily mass will take place at 12:10 p.m. in the Catholic Campus Ministry Chapel. For more information, call Father Mike Carson at 938-1610.

"The Listening Hour" concert series featuring guest artist Alpin Hong on the piano will take place from 12:30 p.m. to 1:20 p.m. in the Music Building Concert Hall. Hong was the first place winner in the 2001 Concert Artists Guild International competetion. For more information, call Joan Stubbe at 924-4649.

Ice Skating Club

I meeting will take place at 9 p.m. at Logitech Ice For more information, call 650-996-8489.

tain's headquarters or the villain's secret base.

Instead, the actors were placed in front of blue screens with a few props. Everything else was filled in by computer.

We are now so familiar with CGI effects,

emy lag behind?

they barely deserve mention.

From one side, their use in movies started small but grew to the point that computers became the standard tool for creating special

RON PANGRAC In 1991, "Terminator 2: Judgment Day mazed audiences with the fluidity of the T-

1000. Only three years later, computer-based effects were used throughout "Forrest Gump," which won Best Picture.

From another side, entire worlds were being created digitally. They may have started with video games, but beginning with 1995's "Toy Story," these worlds quickly became staples in the multiplex. While not a commercial hit, the 2001 digital-animation move "Final Fantasy: The Spirits Within" was noteworthy for attempting to portray a realistic world and to populate it with realistic humans. The filmmakers may have had limited success at achieving realism, but it was obvious they did not want the cartoon quality of a "Monsters, Inc."

In its way, "Sky Captain" follows that same path. Assuming that humans are the most complex and most difficult creatures to depict through animation, it is logical to use real people but to then let the computer handle all the other elements. And so the two sides have come that much closer togeth-

Two occurrences show that Hollywood does not always think creatively.

In the mid-1970s, the blockbuster phenomenon erupted, blindsiding the industry.

Three of the earliest blockbusters were "Jaws" (1975),

Rocky" (1976) and — to an unprecedented degree -Wars" (1977).

Not knowing how to handle such huge hits, the Academy responded with what it had at hand. It gave each a Best Pic

Arguably, "Rocky" could have lost by decision to "Taxi

The competition for "Star Wars" was interesting: four chick flicks — "Annie Hall," "The Goodbye Girl," "Julia" and "The Turning Point." Some might have expected the four to water down each other's chances, but Woody Allen beat out George Lucas. And the Academy's upper echelon could sleep easy, knowing it had at least tipped its hat to the new force in

Driver," "Network" or "All the President's Men."

"Jaws," though, never threatened "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

Soon after that, Hollywood accepted blockbusters for their money-making power, but decided it had no obligation to recognize them with prestigious

When those first Godzilla-size hits struck the town, the Academy felt overwhelmed and looked up in awe, just like the masses did. It was a different story with the digital-movie invasion. Rather than being caught off-guard, Hollywood saw the future coming and began making prepa-In 1991, Disney's "Beauty and the Beast" was the first animated film nominated for Best Picture. Fans of animation lauded it as a mile-

A few years later, though, someone at the Academy noticed an influx of CGI movies — "Toy Story" was followed by "A Bug's Lufe," "Antz," "Final Fantasy," "Shrek" — and perceived a threat.

So, in 2000, a new Oscar category was created. Best Animated Feature. Many animation fans were thrilled that the art form was finally receiving its due. To me, though, it was a reaction by the Hollywood establishment to ensure that no animated (read digital) movie would ever again have the chance to be considered for Best Picture. Live actors could breath easy.

The scheme might even have worked — if it was easy to

The scheme might even have worked — if it was easy to delineate a live-action movie from an animated movie.

Now, however, "Sky Captain" is blurring the lines, and I wonder what definitions Hollywood will come up with.

Granted, "Sky Captain" itself will stay under the radar. It aims not only to be a crowd-pleasing blockbuster, but one that is a blatant homage to the movie ghetto that science fiction was in the "30s. Technical awards aside, it has no aspirations for post work."

But a critical question is: If Academy Award-winning ac tors Gwyneth Paltrow and Angelina Jolie are willing to appear in an otherwise digital movie, what Best Picture -caliber stories will be told in a digital format?

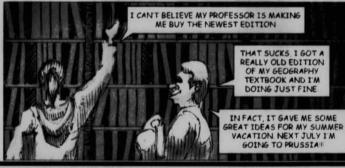

I worry that Hollywood will continue relegating animatio its own ghetto and that a deserving film will get the shaft.

(Hey, I didn't even comment on George Lucas's never-ending digital tampering with movies the rest of the world

Ron Pangrac is a Spartan Daily production editor. "Reloading" appears every Thursday.

THOUGHT CRIMES

KONSTANTIN ABADJIEV

SPARTAN DAILY

JENNIFER McLAIN Executive Editor Managing Editor Opinion Editor ERIK LACAYO MARK CORNEJO Sports Editor A&F. Editor JOHN MYERS KARIN HIGGINS Photo Editor ELIZABETH NGUYEN Production Editor/ Culture Editor

RON PANGRAC Production Editor RAYCHELLE GARCIA Assistant Production Editor CARLY RODEN Copy Editor CLAIRE TAYLOR Copy Editor

JANINE STANHOPE Online Editor GIANNI P. GUERRIERO Advertising Director MELISSA BOWDOIN Creative Director STEFANO GIRIMALDI Art Director

NINA HURD

THE SPARTAN DAILY | ONE WASHINGTON SQUARE | SAN JOSE, CA 95192 National Director (408) 924-3281 | SPARTANDAILY@CASA.SISU.EDU, SPARTANDAILYADS@CASA.SISU.EDU

ADVISERS | Richard Craig and Jan Shaw, News; Dennis Dunleavy, Photojournalism; Tim Burke, Production Chief; Tim Hendrick, Advertising

STAFF WRITERS | Joe Amaral; John Paul Arde; Monica Lauer; Emmanuel Lopez; Mansur Mirovalev; Yasuyo Nagata; Leah Nakasaki; Anna Molin; Dan Reyes; Stacey Ruesch; Kenneth Seli; Sara Spivey; Maria Villalobos; Ling-Mei Wong; Ruth C. Wamuyu; Amaya Wiegert; Nami Yasue; Kevin Yuen

SENIOR STAFF WRITERS | Janet Pak; Jan Ross

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHERS | Catherine Burmeister; Cara Bowyer; Amanda Brittingham; Ashley ess; Shaminder Dulai; Benjamin Favela; Jason Fithian; Eliza Gutierrez; Adam Heyman; Don Hoekwater; Megan Kung; Robert Sparling; Lorry Thomas; Tomomi Tsuda; Julia Weeks

ADVERTISING | Sarah Cruz; Dana Eugenio; Brian Freia; Andrea Goakey; Michel McCammon; Canh Nguyen; Uyen Nguyen; Angela Scully; Robert Soto; Shigeyo Suzuki; Matthew Tichenor; Mangee Wong

ARTISTS | Konstantin Abadjiev, Cartoonist; Aidan Casserly, Cartoonist; Kevin Nguyen,

NEWS ROOM 408.924.3281

ADVERTISING 408.924.3270

FAX 408.924.3282

SPARTAN DAILY (USPS#509-480) is published every school day for (full academic year) $40 and (semester) $25. Periodicals postage paid at San Jose. Mail subscriptions accepted on a remainder of semester basis. Spartan Daily, San Jose State University, One Washingto Square, San Jose, CA 95192-0149

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Spartan Daily, San Jose State University, One Washington Square, San Jose, CA

OPINION PAGE POLICY | Readers are encouraged to express themselves on the Opinion page with a letter to the

A letter to the editor is a response to an issue or a point of view that has appeared in the Spartan Daily.

Only letters between 200 to 400 words will be considered for publication. Submissions become property of the Spartan Daily and may be edited for clarity, grammar, libel and length. Submissions must contain the author's name, address, phone number, signature and major. Submissions may be placed in the Letters to the Editor box at the Spartan Daily office in Dwight Bentel Hall, Room 209, sent by fax to (408) 924-3237, e-mail at spartan daily@casa.sjsu.edu or mailed to the Spartan Daily Opinion Editor, School of Journalism and Mass Communications, San Jose State University, One Washington Square, San Jose, CA 95192-0149. Editorials are written by and are the consensus of the Spartan Daily editors, not the staff.

Published opinions and advertisements do not necessarily reflect the views of the Spartan Daily, the School of Journalism and Mass Communications or SJSU

RAYMOND | Known as 'charismatic' and 'giving'

continued from page 1

recklessness with him, but I couldn't see (death) was in his near future," Mahoney said. "He's just a wonderful

Sister Lore shared her memories of her late brother.

"He was the guy all the guys wanted to be in high school and the guy all the girls wanted to be with in high school. He was addictive," she said.

nd,

did

ep-The

ried

tely

the

r to out eep e in heir

uck and ion.

Raymond was working part time at Stanford Medical Center as an art therapist.

"At Stanford, he could go into a room, spend time with a patient, take what he could from the patient and put it in art," his mother described.

put it in art," his mother described.

His mother was very proud of his job at Stanford.

"I was so stunned to learn how much he had embraced and taken what he learned — he actually listened to me," his mother said, explaining that she told him in high school that he should use his artistic talent positively.

action that he should use his artistic talent positively. Lore, Raymond's 26-year-old sis-ter, said the one lesson she will take with her from Ray is his selflessness, as shown through his volunteer work at Stanford Medical Center.

"I will make time for people. He went out of his way to volunteer. He gave time to people who needed it, whether he could make rent or not. I'm going to get more involved in the community," said Lore, a high school teacher in Roseville.

Jennie also admired Ray's selflessness and compassion.

"With me, he was always a very selfless person. He was always putting his family first," said Jennie, Raymond's 23-year-old younger

Loretta, Raymond's mother, remembered what Raymond was like as a child

"Raymond was one of those children that took everything apart.

For whatever reason, I appreciated that and encouraged that," his mother

When Raymond was a child, he when Raymond was a child, he put clay in the microwave to soften it so that he could mold a blue bird, but the plan backfired, Loretta said.

"It blew up the microwave," she

Though Raymond was a very confident man, he also had personal struggles as well.

"He had his own insecurities,"

"He was the most charismatic, giving person. He was loved by all."

Mel Adamson, lecturer

Classmate Mahoney said that Raymond struggled with addictions, both drug use and alcohol use, but after joining Alcoholics Anonymous was improving his life. Raymond also battled with the relationship with his father.

"He had a lot of demons he was "He had a lot of demons he was battling. Because he was an artist, you're a lot more sensitive, and it's heightened. You dwell on things a lot to produce works or get it out of his system. He couldn't release it as much as he tried," Mahoney said.

Though Raymond did have his many partonal struggles he made own personal struggles, he made everyone feel good when he was around them, Lore said. "He was the most charismatic, giving person," said Mel Adamson, an art and design lecturer at SJSU. "He was loved by all," she said. Ray often intertwined his two oves together.

NEWS

"That's what influenced him most his family and his artwork," Jennie

— his family and his artwork," Jennie said.

Jennie, who said her apartment in Roseville is covered with Raymond's artwork, went to his artwork exhibition at SJSU last spring.

"One of the comments I kept hearing was that the room was filled with love," Jennie said.

In the middle of the gallery was a rocking chair, the same rocking chair in which Raymond and his five siblings were rocked by their mother. There were paintings of each of the family members in a dimly lit room.

"I love him so much. He was just a beautiful guy. Ray was truly amazing. He was very unique and very genuine. He was a genius," said Edwin Chaney, a student at Stanislaus State University who pledged Sigma Chi in 1999 with Raymond.

Chaney said that Raymond's unconventional ways grew on him.
"Raymond had a way to brush his teeth. He would use baking soda and hydrogen peroxide. I asked him once, 'How come your teeth are so bright' and he told me his recipe. He was real anal about having bright teeth," Chaney said.

"He wouldn't be confined to real anal about having bright teeth, Chaney said.

"He wouldn't be confined to structure," Chaney said.

"His hair was just about shoulder length. He had really long, really beautiful hair," Mahoney said.

Though his life was cut short, Raymond's mother thinks he reached his bidest potential in life.

Raymond's mother thinks he reached his highest potential in life.

"When a person has learned to overcome obstacles, it's not unusual for people to pass on because they reached their level of perfection.

When that happens it's not uncommon that they assee on to the next. mon that they pass on to the next level ... Apparently, the kid pulled it off," Raymond's mother said.

No more library fines ...

Tomomi Tsuda / Daily Staff

Above: Students grab books Wednesday in front of the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Joint Li-brary. The books were donated and sold for $3 for a bag and $5 for a box. The money raised goes to the library.

Left: Students rummage through a large bin of books in front of the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Joint Library on Wednesday af-

Catherine Burmeister / Daily Staff

"I think that in order

for us to be strong

students, we need to acknowledge those

that fought for us in the past."

Rachel Greathouse.

Associated Students

Greathouse said

FURNITURE | '... terrible, old, outdated, falling apart ...'

continued from page 1

tions are set by the Chancellor's of-

Kathy Rott, director of Academic Planning, said SJSU is the oldest campus out of all the California campus out of all the California State Universities, and is aware that furniture replacement and upkeep is furniture replacement and upkeep is a cause of concern.

Rott said at one time, the provost of SJSU set aside some funds for this reason, but this isn't the case now.

"In order to get anything new anymore, the state puts up some of the money and you (the department) have to put up the rest," Rott said.

She also said some departments are able to pick out the kinds of furniture they want, if they come up with some of the funds, such as the Boccardo Business Complex and the

with some of the funds, such as the Boccardo Business Complex and the Engineering building.

Rott said this is because, "Both the College of Engineering and Business, privately raised money to refurbish classrooms."

She wasn't sure how they raised the money to the money to the proper of the pro

the money.
"In the past, it seems that when (a department) reaches a crisis, somebody comes up with money," Rott said.

Some faculty and students on campus said other buildings are not

Terry Christensen, a political science professor, said old furniture remained in Dudley Moorhead and Hugh Gillis Halls for quite some time before it was replaced.

"We are so passive at San Jose State, we will often push the broken chair out of the way and go about our business," Christensen said. The Art building has some of the oldest furniture on campus, said some students and faculty members. In reference to the overall status of furniture in the Art building, Carlson, administrative analyst in the school of art and design, said after laughing of art and design, said after laughing to herself, "It's terrible, old, outdated, falling apart and uncomfortable." Some students, however, prefer older furniture rather than new

Comfort is also a cause of concern

"We are so passive at San Jose State, we will often push the broken chair our of the way and go about our business."

Terry Christensen, professor

"The older furniture is more plush and has better cushioning than the newer furniture," said Wilfred Castillo, a junior graphic design major. He said some of the new stools brought into some of the classrooms in the school of art and design were n the school of art and design were hard and rigid, making it difficult for art majors to sit on and draw. Leanna Sumabat, a junior child development major, said, "The better than hard chairs in classrooms."

The cleanliness of the furniture on campus is also an important issue to some students.

"Some of the chairs in the Student Union could be a little cleaner," Sumabat said. In reference to the tables located outside, between the old Cafeteria building and Student Union, Karen

Hodsdon, a graduate student said, "The tables out here are usually pretty clean."

pretty clean."

Although she said they appear to be clean, she will not rest her food on top of the table without a tray underneath it.

In regard to the physical appearance of furniture on campus, vandalism, both intentional and unintentional, is an issue in some buildings.

"Vandalized desks in the Art building is a common thing because everyone wants to draw," said Greg Surat, a senior marketing and finance major.

Surat, a senior marketing and finance major.

Castillo, the junior graphic design major, said in an art history class he had taken on campus, there was stadium seating in the class, and all the seats in the back had writing on them.

"I wouldn't say that the desks are vandalized to the point where we couldn't use them, it is just a little distracting when you are sitting at a desk with profanity on it," he said.

Carlson, administrative analyst

Carlson, administrative analyst in the school of art and design, said, "Vandalism is not a horrendous problem. If a desk is vandalized, it is usually because of carelessness by

PRIDE | Committee will try to sustain campus pride

continued from page 1

wants to sustain campus pride in the long term and the committee is the first step in establishing it, Greathouse

The committee will consist of seven A.S. Directors and five ex-officio positions, Greathouse said.

The ex-officio positions will be broken down into two positions for student affairs, one for faculty, one for alumni and one for advance
"I the

Any interested members of the A.S. will be allowed on the committee as a member-at large, Greathouse said.

The committee will meet the second and fourth Friday of every month, Greathouse said.

The campus-wide voter registra-tion drive is part of the A.S. Spartan Pride campaign, according to the report by Mike Nguyen, director of legislative affairs.

The A.S. approved Nguyen's resolution to launch San Jose State University's 2004 campus-wide voter registration drive and get-out-the-vote efforts.

Although the drive started on Aug. 22, the resolution was a general statement on what the drive is about, why it was important and background information, Nguyen president The voter registration drive has been going great and this year is an important election that students need to get involved in, said Jennifer Lam, director of governing affairs.

Every CSU campus has an individual voter registration goal. Our goal at SJSU is register 1,000 students, Lam

The board also watched a short DVD presentation for the proposed Cesar Chavez Memorial that will be created on campus. The artist of the memorial, Judith F. Baca, was the key speaker in the DVD presentation.

"A key element to the monument is to teach the next generation how to choose to live a life in the center of your values and beliefs as Cesar Chavez did," Baca said in the DVD presentation.

The location of the memorial arch will be by the fountain near the Marker Cate and

Market Cafe and

Market Cafe and
Student Union.
The arch will take the place of the pillars that are currently at the entrance of the walkway.
The project will cost at least $110,000 but additions to the memotial will increase the cost. But a said.

rial will increase the cost, Baca said. A fundraising campaign collected a little more than $60,000, said Gabe

Reyes, project leader who was present at the board meeting. More contributors are lined up provide funds, such as PG&E,

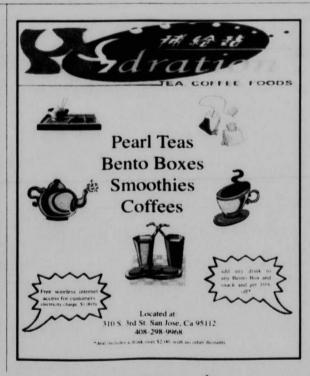

The Cesar Chavez Memorial is good step toward honoring him,

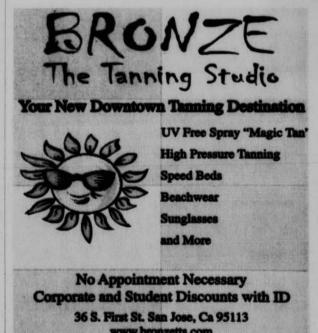

Lam said.

"I think it is an excellent project. I think that in order for us to be strong students we need to acknowledge those that fought for us in the past,"

The next A.S. Board of Directors meeting will be held Oct.13 at 3 p.m. in room 203 of the A.S. House.

Rogers named Spartan's No. 1 QB

By Kenneth Seli Daily Staff Writer

San Jose State University foot-ball head coach Fitz Hill has named quarterback Dale Rogers to direct the Spartan offense.

> SPARTAN FOOTBALL IN THE RED ZONE

Rogers hopes to lead the 1-1 Spar-tans past the 0-3 Southern Methodist University Mustangs in their Western Athletic Conference opener at 5 p.m. Saturday at Gerald J. Ford Stadium in Dallas

Hill, who made Rogers the starter ver quarterback Adam Tafralis, said both of his quarterbacks had good per-formances in their first two games.

"I thought that (Rogers), once gain, played very effective," Hill said. (Tafralis) did some good things as

Hill said Rogers distinguished himself through a better pass comple-

"I think the last few weeks, though, that (Rogers) played 20 out of 24 (completed passes) with two drops," Hill said. "He has a very high pass efficiency rating. He's really executing very, very well."

Rogers, who passed for 115 yards completing eight of his 10 passes with one touchdown against he Morgan State University Bears, said he is ready to start against the SMU Mustangs.

"It feels good, a lot of hard work paid off and I'm just excited to get started and play and hopefully bring some wins for the team," Rogers said.

Making his first WAC start on the road, Rogers said he is looking for-ward for the chance to help his team

"It's just another game for me," Rogers said. "It's an opportunity for me to get out there and execute the game plan Coach gave us, so I'm pretty excited about that, and I'll do my best."

Opening up WAC play

Coming off a 47-28 win in its home opener against Morgan State University, the SJSU football team ventures to Texas to SMU.

Hill said he was excited to begin conference play.

"We have a big challenge every week," Hill said. "Every conference game is step number two ... to get to our goal of a WAC championship. The Spartans will face a Mustang team that has 15 consecutive losses, dropping its last two games against Texas Christian University and Oklahoma State University.

"We've been gone for two weeks playing two good teams," said Phil Bennett, head coach of the Mustangs. "The biggest thing is getting some of our guys back."

Bennett said his team, which was missing five starters in its last game, expects three of the injured Mustangs to return to the field against the Spartans, who are injury free.
"We didn't take five of our starters over with us to Oklahoma State, and hopefully we get three back," Ben-

Bennett, the third-year head coach of the Mustangs, has yet to win against the Spartans, but feels his team can get first win of the season against

"Both teams feel like they have a chance of winning," Bennett said. "It should be a fun game."

Hill said the Spartans WAC open-would be a good test for the team.

"Anytime you go on the road in our conference, it's always tough," Hill said. "But we're looking forward to actually going on the road with the team to keep our focus and keep us to-

Homecoming for Thompson

After a Spartan win that featured tailback Tyson Thompson rushing for 158 yards with two touchdowns, roots in Texas.

With less than 15 miles separat-ing the Mustangs home in Dallas and Thompson's home in Irving, Texas, Thompson expects most of his family will come to support him.

"I really can't count — more than 20 (family members may come)," Thompson said. "There's going to be a handful."

Hill, who said he had family in Texas and has recruited football players for Dallas-area schools, said Thompson is expecting a supportive homecoming after sitting out the 2003 season.

Thompson was unable to play last season because of his redshirt status. "I think he's excited about going home," Hill said. "He should be getting ready to get into form by game number three after not playing for a year-and-a-half.... I know he has a lot of people coming out to see him play."

coming out to see him play."

Thompson, who played for Irving High School and participated in a California-Texas all-star game in 1999, has a connection with Mustang coach Bennett.

"My brother coached him," Bennett said. "My brother (Jim Bennett) was the head coach at Irving High."

Bennett said that along with Ar-kansas, Florida, Nebraska and Texas Christian University, he had tried to recruit Thompson.

"I think (Thompson) had enough of the Bennetts," Bennett said.

Thompson said he picked SJSU because of his mother's vision for him.

"A couple other programs I was looking at were talking to me about football and what was going on in football,"Thompson said. "Coach Hill recruited me and he was talking about basically more academics. Football is great, but graduating was one of my mama's main things for me, and that's what I want to do."

Hill said he is looking forward to what his tailback can do against an SMU defense that gave up 299 yards against the run when the Mustangs squared off against Oklahoma State.

"People still tell me they didn't realize how fast he was," Hill said. "The longest run we had from the line of scrimmage was 30 yards. Within the first two (games), we've already had a touchdown for 42 yards. ... Even with him, when you are watching the NFL ple break 60 and 70 yards. That's what see him being able to do because of his speed.

Hill said he expects to give Thompson many carries against the Mustangs.

SPORTS

"(Thompson) is the package you want to go with," Hill said, "and (we need) to keep him fresh as much as possible, but he should be able to carry the ball 25 times a game easite."

Thompson said he looks at his ex-panded role as a supplement to the progress of the team.

"Anything I can do to contribute to the team is great, so if 25 carries is my role, then that's what I'm going to play," Thompson said.
Thompson said he knows he still

Thompson said he knows he still has room for improvement.

"I'm not to my full potential — I feel that I have some things to work on." Thompson said. "I feel like we have something to prove every week, we're just going to take them like we play any other team, and play hard and come out with a victory. That's how I feel."

Protecting the football

Pressing on the minds of both Hill and Bennett are their teams' abilities to keep possession of the football. In the Spartans' game against the Bears, SJSU fumbled the ball three times, resulting in three turnovers.

Hill said despite the team's win against Morgan State, the turnovers committed were on his mind.

"The most disappointing thing of-fensively was the three turnovers," Hill "Those three things are correctable. It really felt like without those turnovers we would have taken control the game early." Hill said this was the most negative aspect of the last game.

That was the most frustrating to me, that after not having any turn-overs (against Stanford University), to put the football on the ground three times," Hill said.

Hill said Thompson, who fum-bled once, made an uncharacteristic mistake when he failed to protect the

"I think that might be the first time I've seen (Thompson) put the ball on the ground this (season)," Hill said. 'That's not something he does a lot Benjamin Fayela / Daily Staff

Spartan tailback Lamar Ferguson, left, receives a hand off from quarterback Dale Rogers, right, during the football team's practice Wednesday. Rogers was named the Spartans starting quarterback earlier this week.

On the other side of the field, the Mustangs are also struggling with protecting the football.

Bennett said the Mustangs, like the Spartans, lost three fumbles in their loss against Oklahoma State, needs to improve on their turnover

"We've given the ball up — it's pretty simple," Bennett said, "We dropped interceptions and we haven't made anybody fumble yet, which is disappointing. Those things come in bunches and I hope it happens this

Both Hill and Bennett said they are looking forward to their meet-ing in hopes of correcting their teams' common problem in protecting the

We don't want to be known as a team that does not take care of the football," Hill said, "but we do want to be known as the team that takes away the football."

Spartan Outlook

Football Saturday Southern Methodist University 5 p.m. @ Gerald J. Ford Stadium

VINGS 131 E. Jackson Street 6 Blocks North of San

294-3303 or 998-9427

party platters

Open 7 Days

Between 3rd and 4th Street

TENGU SUSHI

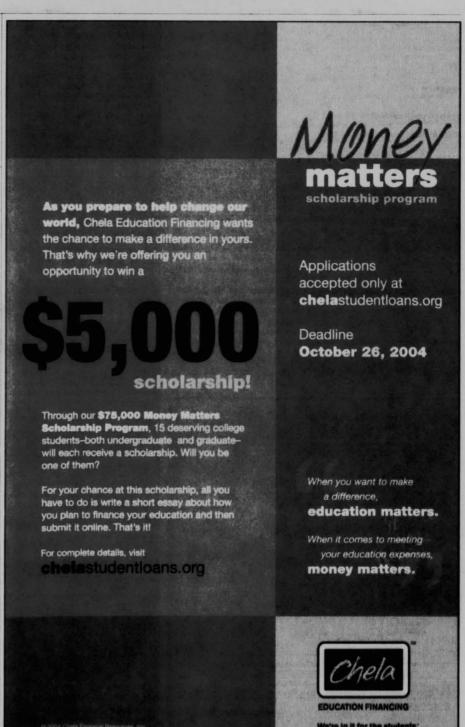

HOT & COLD BEVERAGES BREAKFAST & LUNCH SPECIALS 1

BUY 1 GET 1 for 59¢

Volleyball overwhelms UC Davis

By Emmanuel Lopez Daily Staff Writer

The San Jose State University volleyball team cruised by UC Davis in a 30-19, 30-18, 30-16 sweep in its home opener Wednesday night at the Event Center.

The Spartans improve to 9-3 for the

The Spartans improve to 9-3 for the season and the Aggies fall to 1-11.

Freshman middle blocker Jennifer Senftleben led the Spartans' charge, posting 14 kills on 26 attempts.

Sophomore outside hitter Sarah Christensen chipped in with 12 kills on 31 attempts and sophomore defensive specialist Jessie Shull notched 12 digs and three service aces in the three-game victory.

The Spartans came out firing in the first game, rattling off eight straight points, prompting the Aggies to call a

Aggies head coach Stephanie Hawbecker said her team had trouble estab-becker said her team had trouble estab-lishing its offense early.

"We didn't have our ball control go-ing and that put us in a hole," Haw-becker said. "We got off to a difficult start and gave SJSU some momen-

The Aggies were also hounded by errors, recording 12 in the first game

Spartans head coach Craig Choate said the team was able to settle down early on.

Jessie (Shull) served the ball nicely and we were able to get into a comfortable rhythm early in the game," Cho-

The Aggies battled back, but were unable to overcome the Spartans.

The second game started more closely and the Spartans clung to a slim

San Jose State University sophomore outside hitter and middle blocker Sarah Christensen attempts to block a shot from UC Davis opposite hitter Mary Gaber in Wednesday night's match at the Event Center.

9-8 lead before breaking off a 21-10 run to close out the second game

Senior outside hitter Carrie Nash, who tallied 14 digs in the game, said it was tough having to rebuild the first game's momentum.

to work to regain the momentum you had from before

Choate said the Aggies' style of play posed problems early in the second out the team was able to work

"You're starting from scratch in the second game," Nash said. "So you have early on, but we figured a way to slow them down later on," Choate said. Senftleben, who hit for .500 in the Senttleben, who hit for 500 in the game, agreed and said the team seemed to loosen up a bit before it broke through and pulled away.

SPORTS

"We slipped and they came back on us a little," Sentfleben said. "But we pushed harder and came out on top."

UC Davis showed signs of life in the beginning of the third game, running to a quick 3-0.

ning to a quick 3-0.

Choate said he was confident the team would pull through the rocky

"Our team's playing well and we were going to work through an early deficit," Choate said.

Nash said the team seemed to relax stranglehold on the match early in the third game.

"It happens sometimes," Nash said.
"We couldn't stabilize our passing early in the game."

Nash added that it wasn't a concern at the moment, but it might be against stronger opponents.

"Going down three points wasn't a big deal tonight," Nash said. "But against a team like Santa Clara (University) it might be a little bit harder to Senftleben said the team is extremely satisfied with the effort it put forth.

"We wanted to come out and hit hard early," Senftleben said. "We played really hard."

Hawbecker gave credit to the Spartans' tenacity.

"They dominated us, especially on the front line," Hawbecker said. "SJSU played a tough physical style and we didn't have an answer for it."

SJSU will host Santa Clara University at 7 p.m. Friday night at the Event

Rogers wins 17th, Rangers beat A's 5-3

Associated Press

ARLINGTON, Texas — Kenny Rogers matched a career high with his 17th win and Eric Young hit his first homer in more than a year, a three-run tiebreaker, leading the Texas Rangers over Oakland 5-3 Wednesday night to move three games back of the Athletics.

games back of the Athletics.

Texas will try to complete a threegame sweep Thursday in its last meeting against the Athletics. The Rangers have 10 games left after that, six against Seattle and four at home against Anaheim. The Angels, who played later Wednesday against Seattle, began the day 2 1/2 back of Oakland.

Rogers (17-2) was pulled after

Rogers (17-8) was pulled after giving up a walk and single to start the sixth, but allowed just three runs and matched the 17 wins he had for Texas in 1995.

The 39-year-old left-hander returned this season for his third Rang-ers stint. Rogers has spent 11 of his 16 major league seasons with the team that drafted him in the 39th round in 1982.

Francisco Cordero put runners on first and second with one out in the ninth before extending his team re-cord with his 47th save in 51 chances.

A quartet of relievers combined for three scoreless innings before that. Young connected with two outs in the fourth off Barry Zito (11-11) for a 5-2 lead. His first Rangers home run came in his 305th at-bat — the most this season by any player in the majors without a homer. It was his 95th game, his fifth straight start at second base in place of injured Alfonso Soriano.

Zito lost for the first time in 11 career starts in Texas, and to the Rangers for only the second time _ both this season. He is still 13-2 with a 2.97 ERA in 21 career starts against

2.97 ERA in 21 career starts against the Rangers.

The left-hander gave up five runs on seven hits and four walks while throwing 117 pitches in five innings.

In the same inning that Young homered, Zito got three of his six strikeouts. The called third strike against Michael Young that ended the fourth was his 100th pitch.

Oakland had tied the game 2-all in the third when No. 9 hitter Marco Scutaro had an RBI triple and Mark

Scutaro had an RBI triple and Mark Kotsay followed with a double. Bob-by Crosby's sacrifice fly in the sixth, the first batter after Rogers left, made

Kotsav was 3-for-5, his sixth multihit game in a nine-game hitting

Eric Young walked to start the first, then scored on Hank Blalock's double for a 1-0 lead. Rod Barajas had a double in the second to drive home Chad Allen, who also walked.

The Rangers started the series Tuesday with a three-run first and went on to win 9-4, beating Mark Mulder for the third time this season. Tim Hudson (12-5) pitches Thurs-day for Oakland against Chan Ho Park (3-6).

Texas has won nine of its last 12 games, with four wins against the Athletics in that span. The teams split four games in Oakland last week.

dd Flavor to the partu!

a taste of the sweet life, try our new White Peach hookah tobacco

FREE!

Shop Fumari.com for quality hookahs, exotic flavored tobacco, and accessories.

CLASSIFIEDS

The SPARTAN DAILY 'makes no claim for products or services advertised below nor is there any guarantee implied. The classified columns of the Spartan Daily consist of paid advertising and offerings are not approved or verified by the newspaper.

EMPLOYMENT

GENERAL HELP: Small Mattress Store close to SJSU FT/PT/Flextime Will train Informal atmosphere. Jeans OK Computer skills a plus. Steady Work Steady Pay. Ed 984-4086

CASHIER: P/T Flex Hours. Chevron Station 1151 Tully Road Call 998-9247

LOS GATOS SWIM & RACQUET CLUB is currently accepting applications for the following positions: Front Desk & Childcare Assistants. Flex. Schedules, Facility Usage. Great Work Environment. PT. AM/PM shifts. For more into or to apply, visit our web site @ lgsrc.com, call (408)356-2136 or fax resumes to (408)358-2593

INSTRUCTIONAL LIFEGUARDS
Part or Full time in San Jose.
Flex hours/days, Mon-Sat.
Call Peter, Jacob or Crystal @
408-295-0228. Email resume to jobs @esba org or Fax 408275-9858 or US mail to 730 Empey Way San Jose 95128.
Must have current lifeguard,
first aid & CPR certifications.

DELIVERY DRIVERS

Party rental business.
Perfect for Students!
Earn $250 every weekend!
Must have reliable truck or
van. Heavy lifting is required.
408-292-7876

Certain advertisements in these columns may refer the reader to specific felephone numbers or addresses for additional information. Classified readers should be reminided that, when making these further contacts, they should require complete information before sending money for goods or services. In addition, readers should carefully investigate all firms offering employment listings or coupons for discount vacations or merchandise.

09/23/04

ATTENTION: SJSU STUDENTS

PART TIME OPENINGS

HIGH STARTING PAY

FLEXIBLE SCHEDULES

Interships possible
All majors may apply
-Scholarships awarded annually
-Some conditions apply
-Gain valuable experience in sales/customer service
-No experience necessary
-Training provided

!FALL EXPANSION! Must fill 10 positions immediately! No phone work!!! Great money/paid weekly No Exp. Nec. Training provided Call now for an interview. 1-408-377-0777

Local Valet company needs enthusiastic & energetic individuals to work at nearby malis private events & country clubs. FT/PT available We will work around your busy school schedule. Must have clean DMV. Lots of fun & earn good money. Call 408-867-7275

Earn income & gain experience CALL 615-1500 9 am - 5 pm

MEDICAL RECEPTIONIST Cupertino. PT. Prefer Mandarin speaking. Fax. res to 252-0431

RECREATION JOBS AT THE LOS GATOS-SARATOGA REC DEPT. Positions Open Now For Leaders. Afterschool Elem. Sch. Age Child Care Recreation/Enrichment

PROGRAM COUNSELOR I Counselors for after-school outreach programs. Facilitate curriculum based activities. curriculum based activities. Alinqual a plus 10-15hr/ik $10/hr Visit www.girlscoutsofscc org for info. Send cover letter & res: Marisa Cidre, Girl Scouts of Santa Clara County, 1310 S. Bascom Ave., San Jose, CA 95128 or FAX (408) 287-8025 or moidre@ girlscoutsofscc.org. AA/EOE

THE OLD SPAGHETTI FACTORY We are currently hiring for P/T positions. We offer a great working environment with day & evening shifts for responsible & energetic people. Apply in person, 2:30-4:00 Mon-Fri. We

THERAPISTS/TUTORS FT/PT needed to work w/children w/special needs. Flex hrs. Competitive pay Exp. preferred but not required. Fax Res. to Kathy 408-254-1802

P/T STUDENT WORK $14.50 to START No Exp./ Will Train Suits All Majors Great Resume Exp. F/PT START IMMEDIATELY Call: 408-436-9336 FunStudentWork.com

HR COORD: Student Union, Inc. SJSU P/T 25-30 hrs/week. $10.00(start)/No benefits. Process full-cycle payroll for 150 staff. Excellent admin/ computer skills + 3-5 yrs exp required. Call HR Office (408)924-6378 or apply online www.union.sjsu.edu.by 9/27/04

NANNY WANTED MTW 1-6pm to care for two kids ages 2 & 5. Duties also include transport toffrom activities, meal prep. & light cleaning. Good DMV record & previous exp regid. Call Holly at 408-807-5995

No exp. nec. Will train. Must be 21. Great $$. PT. Flex. hrs. Call 408-292-3445 after 2 PM.

TEACHERS/INSTRUCTORS P/T instructors, Elem. schools Degree/Cred. NOT required. Oppty for teaching exp. Need car. VM 408-287-4170x408 EOE/AAE

GROOMER'S ASST/KENNEL help needed for small exclusive shop & kennel P7T, Tues-Sat. Must be reliable, honest, able to do physical work. Prefer exp working w/ dogs, but will train. Great oppty for dog lover. Can Fax resume to 408-377-0109 or Call 371-9115

COMPENSATION $5,000

SERVICES/ INSTRUCTION

818-832-1494

SMILE CHOICE DENTAL PLAN ncludes cosmetic) $69.00 per ye. Save 30%-60%. For info call. 1-800-655-3225 or www.studentdental.com or www.goldenwestdental.com

vate FREE BO

BARTENDER TRAINEES NEEDED!! Make Up to $300 Per Shift! No Previous Experience Required Flexible Schedules Available FUN & UPBEAT Environment. Call Now 1-800-714-4060

STAY IN FOR A GREAT NIGHT Out. Host a Girls' Nife Out with The Body Shop(R) at Home & earn lots of free & discounted products, too! Jamie Ellis, Independent Consultant (805) 720-2675

$450 GROUP FUNDRAISER SCHEDULING BONUS

SCHEDULING BONUS
4 hours of your group's time
PLUS our free (yes, free)
fundraising solutions EQUALS $1000-$2000 in earnings for your group. Call TODAY for a $450 bonus when you schedule your non-sales fundraiser with CampusFundraiser (888) 923-3238, or visit www.campusfundraiser.com

VOLUNTEERS

HELP KIDS GET A BETTER EDUCATION School Attendance new Board. SJ Uni. Sch. Dist ocy535-6595/Margarita535-6722

SHARED HOUSING

RENTAL HOUSING FREE/ FIRST MONTH RENT!! 2 bdrm/2 full bath apts. start-

2 bdrm2 full bath apts. start-ing @ $995/mo. WILL WORK WITH YOU ON DEPOSIT 2 blks from $JSU. Water/Trash paid. Prking avail. WD on site Cats OK. Great for roommates Well managed student building 408-378-1409

ROOMS for RENT. Convenient location. We are taking applications for rooms available on $0.13th $5 thear Alum Rock Ave This is close to $an Jose $13te University near the heart of $an Jose $10th $10t ROOMS for RENT. Convenie

Downtown San Jose home 4BD/2BA with yard. Lots of barking. Nice neighborhood. I lock form SJSU near the busi-ness classrooms. $2200/mo-includes gardener & garbage 2000 dan required. One year. lease Call 408 978-2064

PHN: 408-924-3277 FAX: 408-924-3282

Email: classified@casa.sjsu.edu Online: www.thespartandaily.com

SJSU STUDENTS 25% OF

Rate applies to PRIVATE PARTY ADS ONLY Student ID Required.

TODAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE

check 29 Cheap

34 Roadside guide.
36 Leaf vein.
37 Teachers' org.
38 Show indifference.
39 El Dorado loot.
40 Truckers' radios.
41 'Fargo' director.
42 Nile dam.
44 Mini-pet.
47 Prim and proper.
48 British compose.
49 Get. of that juy.

of that junk!

49 Get — of that jun 50 Ploy 53 Compromise 58 Eddie Murphy's - Foley 59 Le words

DOWN

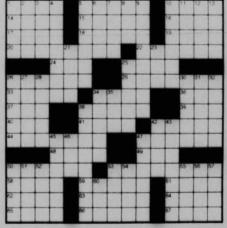

PREVIOUS PUZZLE SOLVED

4 Type of case
5 Mollycoddied
6 House wings
7 Veer off-course
8 Swimming pool
tester
9 Going off
on a tangent
10 Elegant
11 Stellar review
12 Becomes mellow
13 Gazzara and currency

32 Plano-key wood
34 Riverbank
35 High dudgeon
38 Perfurming
42 Lacking viriagination
43 Pistol or sword
45 Soft, dark turs
46 Part of TNT
47 Keeps yakking
50 Knife wound

50 Knife wound 51 Auto rod 52 Feeding 13 Gazzara and

(2 wds.) 26 Sure thing 27 Microscopic plea 55 Drop 56 Helsinki citizen 57 G-men 60 German article organism 28 Muscle cramp 30 Emulates a rooster 31 Old Italian resume to 408-247-0996 RECEPTIONIST/OPTOMETRIST ASSISTANT: PT, Excellent people skills a must. Good career starter. Will train, no exp. nec. Call 408 956-0731 FITNESSAANQUARS DAILY CLASSIFIED - LOCAL RATES FOR NATIONAL/AGENCY RATES CALL 408-924-3277

Print your ad here. Line is 30 spaces, including letters, numbers, punctuation & spaces between words.

Encounter: Decounts:

20 + consecutive issues: receive 20% off.

40 + consecutive issues: receive 20% off.

50 + consecutive issues: receive 20% off.

Local rates apply to State Clare County advertisers and 8JSU students, staff & feculty.

First line in botal for no extra charge up to 25 spaces.

Additional words may be set in botal type at a per ad charge of $3 per word.

Send check or money order to: (No Credit Cards Accept Spertan Delty Classifieds San Jose State University San Jose, CA 95192-0149

Classified desk is located in Dwight Bentel Hall, Room 209.

Deadlins: 10:00 a.m. two weekdays before publication.

All ads are prepaid. B No refunds on canceled ads.

Rates for consecutive publication dates only.

GUESTIONS? CALL (408) 924-3277

Please check one classification:

SJSU STUDENT RATE: 25% OFF - Rate applies to private party ads only, no discount for other persons or businesses.

Ads must be placed in person in DBH 209 from 10am to 3pm. STUDENT ID REQUIRED.

ases $2 for each add

* Lost & Found ade are offered free as a service to the campus community.

NEWS

Career Center hosts 'Connections Day'

By Joe Amaral Daily Staff Writer

San Jose State University students San Jose State University students had a chance to check out career options on campus Wednesday and explored what job opportunities they might have with their specific majors. The Human Service Connections Day was held Wednesday, outside of Dudley Moorhead Hall and Hugh Gillis Hall. The event was hosted by the Career Center and it allowed students to check out possible careers or internships, such as social or health

Some groups that were at the event were Eastfield Ming Quong Children and Family Services, U.S. Army Health Care, Stars Behavioral Health Group, Seneca Center and Jesuit Volunteers International.

"It's bringing some employers to campus that are really interested in hiring our students, specifically in the areas of social science and social work," said Anita Manuel, a career consultant for the Career Center. Manuel said the Career Center is hosting the event to give students an hosting the event to give students an opportunity for jobs.

Some students had a positive out one students had a positive out look on the event.

"I think it's a great event," said Eric Covotta, a graduate student with a concentration in clinical psychology. "It allows students to meet the ogy. "It allows students to meet the companies that they may be working for in the field and provide some job opportunities that they may not know about, "Covotta said.

Ine Williams, a graduate student in counselor education, said the event helps students discover what choices there are there are.

"I think it is a real good op-"I think it is a real good op-portunity for students to connect with the employers that are around and maybe some places that they didn't even know about." Williams said. "For example, the Army, I never even would have considered the military as place to look for social kinds of organization in psychology,"

continued from page 1

SJSU Provost Marshall Good-

Goodman said the policy was key in building a "platform of values" that students need in order to be well-rounded, productive citizens.

Goodman also added the new policy was a step toward helping the school's reputation.

"The moment students set foot on campus, they know that we are committed to upholding integrity," Goodman said.

Goodman ended the speech by saying the school will do its part and

"We will vigorously enforce this policy," Goodman said.

"And we will not stand for less than what we have set out to do."

Onlookers in the plaza erupted into applause as Goodman snipped a red ribbon fastened between two

After the ceremony, students were encouraged to browse the tables lined along the plaza, which highlighted available resources students could use. Cindelle Leyso, a freshman computer science major, said she checked out the Muse table after the

I just wanted to see what they're

INTEGRITY

Williams said.

Manuel said this is the first time the Career Center has held the event. This is first time we're doing a human service focused event, Manuel said. She said the event would focus on most of the majors on campus, such as social sciences. as social sciences.

"Usually we do the bigger job fairs but what we want to do is really focus on some of the colleges that are not tech related and really let them know that there are opportunities for them.' Manuel said.

Manuel said.
"We're really working to bring those employers on campus as well,"
Manuel said.
She said the Connections Day

would promote job positions and internships.

Some jobs that were there were in counseling, family therapy, teaching and community outreach for social service agencies.

Manuel said she is also trying to draw students' attention to possible

"We're just trying to build awareness and also really let them know that there are other positions outside of the technical field," Manuel said.

Denise Minana, a senior psychology major, said she enjoyed Connections Day

I think it is really cool," Minana

Minana said she found it interesting and wants to know what kind of job she can get in psychology.

Jose Macias, a senior psychology major, said he made contacts with everyone at the event.
"Well, right now, I just pretty much made contacts with everybody that's here," Macias said.

"Simply just ask questions, find out what their doing," Macias said. Manuel said she was really pleased with the results of the event and would definitely do the event again in the future.

"I'm really happy with it and I hope students are too," Manuel said.

all about and how it related to the ceremony," Leyso said. Several students praised the new Academic Integrity Policy.

Karen Ilagan, a sophomore biology major, said the administration did well in publicizing the new ceremony as part of an assignment in her science class. "We had to attend and observe an -campus event and write about it,'

Campus Recreation Manager Randy Saffold, who was representing Associated Students at the ceremony, aid academic integrity is closely

People will know that SJSU stands for something."
Satfold said enforcing academic integrity is an endeavor that will benefit students greatly in the long

Employers will know that SISU graduates they hire are honest and trustworthy people who know their stuff," Saffold said.

"A degree from this university will mean a lot more."

related to raising campus pride "Integrity is definitely tied to school spirit," Saffold said.

"I think they did a good job of letting students know about (the ceremony)," Ilagan said. Ilagan said she heard about the

FULBRIGHT | 'We're very proud of Dr. Gorman's accomplishments.'

continued from page 1

ful opportunity to bring together these varying perspectives — a cross-cultural perspective informed by social anthropology, as well as issues relative to public health and social work, as those disciplines and fields are emerging in a developing country like Tunisia."

e Tunisia. Gorman said his decision to go bish is located in North to Tunisia, which is located in North Africa, had to do with the fact that Africa, had to do with the nach the had become interested in the Mediterranean and North African part of the world several years ago.

Corman said he belongs to a part of the world several years ago, Gorman said he belongs to a social work organization called the Inner-University Consortium for International Social Development, an organization that SJSU faculty member Peter Lee, was very much involved in involved in.

"Dr. Lee had encouraged me as other social work faculty (did), to become involved in international social work," Gorman said.

"I had traveled to Istanbul, Turkey, in 2001 and attended a development conference in Istanbul and met a number of people," said Gorman, adding that he became interested in learning more about these countries.

He said his interest had peaked before 9/11 but after the fact, he felt it was very important and compelling for Americans to understand what for Americans to understand what was happening in the Arab world and in the Middle East and the Near East and North Africa.

"So I already had some interest in the region and then I applied (for the award)," Gorman said.

When asked if he had a say as to which country he availability in Gorman which country he could visit, Gorman said that you apply for a specific coun-try at the beginning of the application process.

"The Fulbright goes through several steps," Gorman said.

"The application is reviewed in Washington, D.C., and then it is passed on to the country (you want to go to) for review in the country. Then a determination is made," Gordon

Gorman said there is a negotiating process that goes on so the applicant has some say in where they will be

"In this case, though, since I didn't "In this case, though, since I didn't know the country very well, the state department took the lead in identifying this program at El Manar University, which is a graduate program in the social sciences," Gorman said.

Carmen Sigler, interim dean of the College of Social Work, said she was

llam

12pm

lpm

2pm

3pm

5pm

6pm

7pm

8pm

9pm

aware of how important the Fulbright award was.

"I do know it's very prestigious and quite an honor," Sigler said.

"That's something we should celebrate in the College of Social Work."

Sigler said going to Tunisia and sharing his expertise with the students, faculty and professionals there would allow Gorman to come back to SJSU with a more global perspective that he would be able to share with his

She said the trip would give Gorman an opportunity to learn about Tunisian culture and about the country itself.

When asked what he would be doing in Tunisia, Gorman said his duties would range from lecturing at the university in Tunis, which is Tunisia's capital, to assisting in the prevention of AIDS.

to teach a course in American studies and American social policy," said Gorman, who added that he teaches those two subjects at SJSU.
Gorman said he chairs the social

GORMAN

policy sequence within the College of Social Work's masters and social work program.

"I feel very comfortable talking about U.S. policy, U.S. history and U.S. culture," Gorman said, adding that as part of the program's exchange, he would go and work with Tunisian students and share with them his perspectives on American social policy.

He said his work would give Tunisian students an opportunity to meet an American citizen and hopefully they would benefit from that kind of interaction.

"In addition to teaching I'm also going to be working with Tunisian social workers and people in public health," Gorman said.

He said he would hopefully be working in a technical assistance fashion with the Tunisian AIDS organization.

"I spent a lot of my career in AIDS prevention," Gorman said.
"I am familiar with the kind of basic issues that come up."

Gorman said right now Tunisia has approximately 2,000 cases of HIV/AIDS, which he said is low for Africa. According to the Tunisia Online Web site, Tunisia's population is at approximately 9.6 million.

Gordon said the AIDS epidemic in Tunisia is a different kind of AIDS epidemic than exists in sub-Saharan Africa.

"Because the country is such a poung country and there is lots of energy and lots of movement and people work overseas and come back, it's a country that has a lot of travel and dynamic," Gorman said.

He said one-third of the popula-tion is under the age of 18 and well over half of the country is under the age of 30.

"What the AIDS organization was to do is develop a kind of comprehensive and state-of-the-art AIDS prevention program," Gorman said, adding that he hopes to be able to help them develop that program.

"I am really looking forward to the oppor-tunity of working there," Gorman said.

According to the Council for International Exchange of Scholars Web site, Fulbright grants are made to U.S. citizens and nationals of other countries for a variety of educational activities.

These activities are primarily university lecturing, advanced research, graduate study and teaching in elementary and secondary schools.

"The Fulbright program is probably one of the more well known and well thought of programs sponsored by the state department and focused on de-veloping international understanding with respect to education and cultural exchanges," Gorman said. He said there are about 800 U.S. faculty members each year who go overseas to foreign countries. Educa-tors and teachers can also travel from other countries to the U.S., Gorman

This is considered to be one of the most successful of our state department's initiatives from what I understand," said Gorman, adding that the program has a very good reputation.

When asked about the application process for such an award. Gorman said the whole process took about nine months.
"You have to write a proposal and

You have to write a proposal and you have to get references and send various information in," Gorman said, adding that the application goes through several levels of review.

Merighi, assistant professor in the College of Social Work, realized that Gorman had to work hard to achieve the word.

the award,
"As academics, we are familiar with the Fulbright program and we

with the Fulbright program and we understand the competitive nature of the program," Merighi said.

"That's one of the reasons why we're very proud of Dr. Gorman's accomplishments."

Gorman is the first member of the SJSU College of Social Work faculty to have received a Fulbright of this type, according to a press release type, according to a press release from the Council for International Exchange of Scholars.

"While I am the first full-time faculty member, there are a couple of other faculty members who received Full-rights of different kinds," Gor-

He said former Academic Vice President Peter Lee received one while in Taiwan to come to the United

And one of the college's part time faculty members, lecturer Frank Kushin received one to study in Italy.

Jan Lueck-English, anthropology chair, said SJSU has had a rich history of association with the Fulbright program.

A number of our faculty have had A number of our facuity have had Fulbrights as graduate students or have been part of the senior scholar program," Lueck-English said, add-ing that she had received a Fulbright

'That is a wonderful opportunity to bring international experience back to San Jose State," Lueck English said. "It really enriches our classrooms." Lueck-English was certain that Gorman would do a great job in Tunisia.

"I don't know that I have much Advice for him other than to be pre-pared from what we already know at SISU—that there are many different ways to learn," Merighi said.

Merighi said he was pleased that Gorman was chosen for the Fulbright program.

"I was delighted to learn that Dr. Gorman was honored with a Fulbright award because he is known internationally for his work on HIV/AIDS and I think he'll contribute greatly to the university in Tunisia," Merighi said.

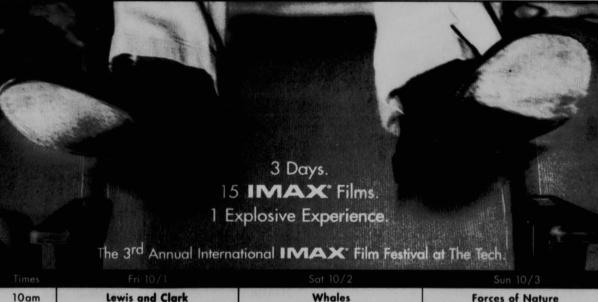

Merighi said the award was not

Merighi said the award was not only beneficial to Gorman, but also to the College of Social Work.

"It's a great honor for the College of Social Work to have one of our faculty members conduct research and teach in Turnisia," he said.

Sigler, of the College of Social Work weeks.

Signer, of the Coalege of Work, agreed,
"(The award is) something that will enable the college to assume a more international profile," he said.

10am Lewis and Clark Forces of Nature

Lewis and Clark

Ghosts of the Abyss

Blue Planet

Forces of Nature

Whales

Everest

SOLD OUT

Ocean Men: Extreme Dive

Pulse: A Stomp Odyssey

SOMETIMES THE YEAR'S FUNNIEST UP ON "A BLAST OF FRIGHT AND FUN! KEEPS THE BLOOD AND THE LAUGHS GUSHING!"

STARTS FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24 CENTURY 20 OAKRIDGE AQUARIUS

ROGUE

AMC SARATOGA 14 CAMERA 12 CENTURY CAPITOL 16 AMC MERCADO 2

With Zombies

Adults

DISCOUNTED Festival Pricing

Children/Seniors $7 per film

Forces of Nature

Thrill Ride

Ghosts of the Abyss

Mystic India

Straight Up!

Vikings

Ocean Men: Extreme Dive

Forces of Nature

Extreme

Pulse: A Stomp Odyssey

$8 per film

TheTech

Mystic India

Mysteries of Egypt

India: Kingdom of the Tiger

Straight Up!

Ghosts of the Abyss

Vikings

Ocean Men: Extreme Dive

Whales

Everest

Extreme

Pulse: A Stomp Odyssey