Tempus Fugit!
JANUARY, 1927. — Among the questions raised by the suggestions of adopting an honor system in this institution are the experiences of other schools with the system. One college replied to our query that the system worked well to some extent — in that the faculty seemed to have the honor while the students had the system.

FIVE S.J.S.C. STUDENTS TO PREPARE ANNUAL SAN JOSE CITY REPORT AS PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION INTERNES

By HARRY FARRELL

Five San Jose State college students yesterday landed the job of preparing the annual report of the City of San Jose for the year of 1948 — for credit!

They are May Gardner, Meredith Hughes, Louis Giffsm, Orin Wendling, and Raymond Clarkson, public administration students under Dr. Earl C. Campbell.

They will spend this quarter as internes in San Jose City Hall offices, and their specific job will be to compile the City's Annual Report, a widely-circulated pamphlet describing municipal activities, progress, and objectives.

Supervising the administration trainees in their project will be Mrs. Miriam Roher Resnick, nationally known expert in the compilation of government data in readable, understandable form.

Mrs. Resnick has been hired by the City on a part time basis for this specific report project. She is widely known as a writer of magazine articles on city government.

The report which the Spartans will prepare, though officially designated as an "annual" report, will actually encompass municipal progress for the past five years. Shortages of paper and labor prevented issuance of annual municipal reports during several war years.

San Jose's last annual report, issued in 1943, was a 40-page pamphlet abundantly illustrated with photographs of City activities.

Alumnus To Speak

Austin Warburton, San Jose State college alumnus, and now a practicing attorney, will discuss the relations between pre-legal training and the present problems of the legal profession before the Pre-legal club today at 3:30 in room 17, Club Advisor Owen M. Broyles announced.

As well as practicing in San Jose with the firm of Campbell, Hayes, and Custer, Warburton is a member of the faculty of the Santa Clara university School of Law. He has taught Sales, Community Property, Domestic Relations, and currently is giving a course in Mortgages and Bonds.

VETERANS SWAMP VA OFFICE TO REPORT NO PAY

By ABNER FRITZ

Large numbers of veterans flocked to room 18 yesterday to report long overdue subsistence, letters of eligibility and other red-tape foul-ups by the Veterans' Administration, announced Miss Josephine Roose, who is handling veteran affairs on campus.

Miss Roose stated that she was both shocked and dismayed at the numbers of vets who are either unpaid since the beginning of school, or who have received only one of the three subsistence checks due them.

"We thought we had the situation well in hand," said Miss Roose, "but now with so many more turning up, why it seems that there must be several hundred who are missing November and December checks."

"December checks are in the mail this week for many veterans. Those who haven't received their November checks should report to room 18 this week, and we will then be able to estimate the number who are not receiving their payments according to schedule," Miss Roose said.

Exchange To Close

"Tomorrow is the last day for students to pick up either their money or their books at the book exchange in room 8," Bill Lundy, chairman, said yesterday.

A large number of books are now on hand and students are asked not to put off asking for their books until the last minute Friday afternoon.

DIRECTOR PICKS '48 REVELRIES CAST

Deadline Set For La Torre Senior Pictures

January 16 has been set as the deadline for seniors to make appointments for 1948 La Torre pictures, announced Betty Patnoe, editor. "Please make appointments in the La Torre office, Barracks 95, as soon as possible," urged Miss Patnoe.

She listed the following organizations also required to meet the January 16 deadline: Student Council, Student Court, AWS, La Torre, Lycurgus, and Spartan Daily members.

The month of February has been set aside for all honor organizations, sororities, and fraternities, explained the La Torre editor. She stated that appointments will be made later this month for these groups.

All pictures will be taken at one sitting. Girls must wear round-necked blouses, and men must wear suits with white shirts and ties. All fraternity men will bring tuxedos to the studio.

Withdrawals

Girls who withdraw from school must clear through the Dean of Women's office, announces Miss Helen Dimmick, dean of women. In addition, girls must also get the signature of their department advisor and the Health department before they can officially drop, she said.

Frosh Down SC In Close Clash

The San Jose State college Frosh pulled away in the last five minutes to defeat the Santa Clara Redmen, 56-49, in the Men's gym last night.

Bob Bowles paced San Jose with 14 points. Don Wetterstrom followed with 13.

Ed Maggetti scored 13 points for the losers.

The score at half-time was tied, 21-21, but the Spartans grabbed an early second-half lead and maintained it throughout the contest.

It was the Spartans' third victory against as many defeats for the current season.

Election Sign-up Extended Today

Due to the large numbers who were unable to register yesterday for the bond election scheduled for February 17, a registrar will be on hand again today in the Dean of Men's office.

Dean Paul M. Pitman announced that the registrar was swamped yesterday by students and faculty who wished to register before the deadline, which is 9 p.m. tonight.

Registration will be possible between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the dean's office, for those who are 21 years of age, or will be 21 before February 17.

ANN HOFLING, TOM PRATT TO PLAY LEADS IN STUDENT PRODUCTION

By ALICE JOY GOLDER

Ann Hofling and Tommy Pratt, juniors, will play the lead singing-speaking roles in the Revelries of 1948, heading a cast of over 28 speaking parts, announced Joe Juliano, director, yesterday. Supporting the leads in the comic parts will be Shirley Tallman and Cliff Roche.

FLUNKS AWAIT UNWARRANTED CLASS DROPPING

A student who drops any course without official approval will be credited with a grade of "F" for each such drop, according to information released yesterday by Joe H. West, registrar.

This action, voted at a recent meeting of the Personnel Committee, was decided upon in the face of an increasing number of students making unofficial drops.

"Our former method of handling an unofficial drop has permitted many students to get by with it when a formal request for dropping a course might not have been approved.

"While the details of the plan are yet to be determined, it can be announced now that students who normally would get a report of "dr" or no report at all will be assigned marks of "F" or some equivalent mark," Mr. West said.

He went on to point out that it is most important for a student to have an accurate study list on file in the Registrar's office, and that attendance at any class is not to be discontinued until a change of program card has been filed.

"This action applies to all students in the college and will become effective this winter quarter," Mr. West concluded.

Rushing Rules

All girls who do not have a "C" (1.0) average are ineligible for rushing, according to rules released by Inter-Society.

Announcement of the parts came after over 120 students met in the auditorium Tuesday night for an intensive five-hour tryout period, said Juliano. Rehearsals are now under way for the student production scheduled for February 16-20 in the Morris Dalley auditorium.

Ann Hofling, who will play the role of Elyse, the love interest, is a Speech and Drama major from Los Gatos. She has appeared in several productions at the college.

PRATT DEBUT

Tommy Pratt, who heads a college dance band, will make his initial appearance in a college production as Thom, the singing fisherman's son. Pratt is from Chertonton, California, and is a music major.

Shirley Tallman and Cliff Roche, who play the comic leads, are both from San Jose. Miss Tallman is a teacher training student and has appeared in rallies and plays in the Little Theater. Roche, a Speech and Drama major, also has had experience in many college shows.

SUPPORTING PLAYERS

Others chosen for parts in the "musical with a story," according to Juliano, are: Betty Louthan, Doris Perry, Nick Lickwar, Tom Triena, John Ickes, Ed Dickenson, Bern Bernadini, Ditz Webster, Roy Bertorelli, Bill Russell, Bill Logan, and Ivan Van Perre.

The remainder of the cast includes: Sally Colorado, Jackie Steneshem, Ruth James, Barbara Jacobson, Barbara Sheets, Auddie Wallace, Lavonne Peter, Dolores Arnold, Eugene Foley, Bob Barmettler, Dick Clark, and Tia Van Der Wal.

Other appointments for production and technical staffs will be announced soon, according to Sal Millan, publicity chairman of the show.

SILVER SABER HAS INSTALLATION

By HAL SNOOK

Major Earl R. Kingsley, of the Military Science department, conducted a formal installation of the Silver Saber society, academic ROTC organization, in an impressive ceremony at Lou's Village Tuesday night.

After taking his oath of office, Al Rosenga, chaplain, installed the remaining officers in the ritual of the saber.

Jack Fowler, first president of the society, received the saber as the symbol of his office. Assisting Fowler this quarter will be Robert Barmettler, vice-president; Max Burchard, secretary; Frank Henry, treasurer; and Norman Schmitt, sergeant-at-arms.

Short addresses by President T. W. MacQuarrie; Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman; Colonel John H. Pitzer, Military Science department; and Colonel Lester A. Daugherty, Santa Clara university ROTC, followed the banquet dinner.

Guests who witnessed the installation were: Major William Abdallah and Captain Peter Palmos, USAF officers attending San Jose State; Colonel John H. Pitzer, Lt. Col. James K. Watts, Captain John H. Babel, Master Sergeants H. M. McCartney, J. R. Lumley, H. L. Klemetson, and A. E. Ousey, of the Military Science department; President T. W. MacQuarrie; Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman; and Col. Lester A. Daugherty, Santa Clara university PMS and T officer.

Top priority on the newly formed organization plans goes to a Military Ball planned for spring quarter, according to Fowler.

President Truman yesterday asked Congress to free 10 million low-pay individuals from income taxes and to impose new levies on corporations to offset an estimated revenue loss of more than three billion dollars. In addition, he appealed for limited rationing and price-wage controls to fight inflation, universal training for American youth, a long-range housing program, and a national health insurance program.

In Chicago, yesterday, the National Labor Relations Board drew up a list of names, dates, and places to reinforce its charge that the Printers' Union violated the Taft-Hartley law in a nation-wide dispute with newspapers and publishers.

AFL President William Green yesterday lined up with Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers (CIO), and Jack Kroll, director of the CIO political action committee, to oppose Henry A. Wallace as an independent candidate for president.

The State Department announced yesterday the United States has warned Bulgaria and Yugoslavia that recognition of the new Greek government "would be clearly contrary to the principles of the United Nations charter."

Pro-government reports admitted yesterday the Chinese Communist siege of the Yangtze river was gaining strength with shipping disrupted by day-long attacks.

Federal authorities today investigated charges by a 23-year-old Scot that he was shanghaied into the U. S. army in England, then brought to this country, where he was discharged and paid $2500 for wartime service he never performed.

IT'S THE NEW LOOK

Even a constitution can have the New Look these days.

Our Student Council has set up a constitution revision committee, and there are going to be some changes made, but unlike the latest styles in women's suits, the results won't be long and narrow. "Keep it short and simple" is the slogan, but it will be broad enough to gather in areas of concern not touched in the old edition.

Striving for a superior instrument adequate for a college of our size and complexities, the revising group will make a step by step analysis. Beginning from the first page, the group plans to discuss each article to determine whether it should be strengthened, mended or deleted. Past experience will be a main factor in testing the need for a change.

San Jose State College is growing. New laws must be made to embrace new problems which arise out of our new post-war status.

So when that constitution is ready for the vote, let's don that New Outlook and go to the polls.

HAVE YOU HEARD

By BEE KAY

Wedding bells will ring in August for June I. Ross and Dave Fraley, both from Alameda.

June was a student here last year, when she majored in pre-nursing. Dave, former president of the Collegiate Christian Fellowship on this campus, is majoring in physical education.

Pat Yates, freshman chemistry major from San Jose, recently announced her engagement to Hal McVay, sophomore business major, also from San Jose.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Now living in Santa Cruz, following a Carmel and Southern California honeymoon, are Mr. and Mrs. Denoyer F. O'Laughlin.

Mrs. O'Laughlin is the former Nancy O'Neill, of San Francisco. Her husband is a sophomore here, majoring in commerce.

They were married in a formal ceremony at Holy Cross Mission in Santa Cruz.

Ruth Elizabeth Stevenson recently revealed to her sorority sisters her betrothal to John Wilson III, of San Jose.

The bride-elect, from Pacific Grove, is a junior and a kindergarten-primary major, holding membership in Delta Phi Upsilon. The future bridegroom is attending the University of Santa Clara, where he is majoring in business.

Jerrie Jurras, former State student from San Jose, has announced a spring wedding. Her fiance is Calvin E. Thomas, engineer major from Palo Alto and a member of Sigma Gamma Omega fraternity.

Jerrie was a member of Black Masque and president of AWS while attending State. She is now teaching at Sequoia Union High school.

THIRD PARTY MAY CLEAR ISSUES, BUT VICTORY CHANCES SLIM---SAY PROFESSORS

The Third Party and its Presidential candidate, Henry Wallace, appears to hold great significance as a key to the country's political condition, and, at the same time, almost non-existent chances of gaining popular election support. This seems to be the consensus of opinion of Drs. Bruntz, Poytress, and Campbell of the Social Science department, during recent interviews.

According to Dr. George G. Bruntz, if the Third Party clarifies the confused issues of today, and, he added, this is the traditional function of third parties, then it is a good thing. "But," he said, "they don't have a chance in the world."

When queried about the current conflicting rumors about the Communists favoring Taft because the people would soon tire of a reactionary government, and the Communists favoring Wallace because he advocates a soft attitude toward Russia, Bruntz shook his head and replied, "All this is a figment of people's imaginations."

EXIT CRUM

About Wallace Crum's recent exit from the P.A.C., Bruntz expressed the belief that Crum probably wants to further the Roosevelt tradition within the Democratic party.

"On the whole," he stated, "I regret Wallace's action because a third party is going to split the progressive vote," this he continued, "probably means that California, for example, will go Republican."

Dr. William H. Poytress, head of the Social Science department, named as Wallace's main obstacle his thus far lack of a really popular support. Poytress said that even though Wallace may have the necessary number of names on his petition, this is no indication that all those people who signed will vote for the Third Party ticket.

He cited California as an example, saying in the last election, the majority of this state registered as Democrats, but judging by election results, the majority voted Republican. Commenting on the California situation, Poytress said the Democratic party has undergone a serious cleavage here, and that there are enough California groups of all shades "left of center" as to do almost anything.

When queried about his opinions

'DISASTER' HITS SCRIBES

By KEITH ALWARD

All was still in the pub (for publications office) other day, except for a few clattering typewriters and the monotonously regular clicking of the United Press ticker over in the corner.

Wire editor Jacque Wolff was listlessly poring over the reams of yellow copy streaming out of the fabulous gadget when suddenly a piercing scream emitted from her delectable lips.

Neophyte reporters milled around shooting questions in rapid-fire order. "Are the police students firing real ammunition now?" demanded Abner Fritz, preparing to pull the cap on a "paste-pot" grenade. "Is it one of Herman Wedemeyer's fans?" bellowed Paul Von Hafften, barricading himself behind his typewriter.

Pale and shaken, the lovely Miss Wolff handed two UP releases to the nearest staff member and weakly stumbled over to a chair.

A brave soul, unidentified due to the confusion following, read the bitter news that the price of beer is going up. Tremendous increases in the price of barley, hops, and labor has necessitated a price raise which will amount to one cent per bottle in bars and two cents in grocery and package stores.

Sad and dolorous lamentations filled the offices of the Spartan Daily as student journalists checked over their budgets, pruning and paring to re-balance their standard of living.

Barney Barnett looked up from his budget sheet and announced to the world at large, "I can just make it if I cut out breakfast."

THRUST AND PARRY

The deadline for Thrust and Parry letters is 1:30 p.m. All letters must be signed and ASB card numbers must be listed with the signature. Letters should not exceed 150 words.

on Crum's disaffiliation with the P.A.C., Poytress advanced the theory that Crum may believe that Wallace is a "stalking horse for Communists."

Poytress reiterated his belief that Wallace has insufficient support, saying that in Labor, Wallace is backed by only a few left-wing CIO unions such as the San Francisco Longshoremen, and that even the New Republic, of which Wallace is editor, tried to dissuade him from running.

HEALTHFUL

The Social Science head did say however, that the Third Party is "healthful and desirable" if its purpose is to give the Democrats a good scare; to force them to adopt a more liberal policy than they appear to have been following.

Dr. Earl C. Campbell termed the Third Party ticket a "hopeless gesture, with no evidence of broad mass protest for major significance." "However," he said, "Wallace may be trying to capture the Democratic party if not directly, then indirectly by forcing them to adopt a more progressive line in the future."

REVELRIES

CABLE CAR; FISHERMAN'S WHARF FEATURED IN '48 STUDENT SHOW

Revelries of 1948 was born in San Francisco many long years ago. Its creator, Joe Juliano, was also born in the big coast city. And ever since then the city of glamour, excitement, earthquakes, cable cars, flower vendors, and fishermen's wharf has fired the imagination of this San Jose State college speech and drama major.

"Someday," said Joe, "the drama and intrigue of this city are going to be put into a swell musical extravaganza. Someday..."

The idea was shelved for a while.

Juliano went into the war and served in the army for a few years, later got married, and then came back to San Jose and to college. The musical and San Francisco were still in his mind.

Joe then decided to dig into reference books and learn in detail the history of the Big City.

"What if, around the 1875's, an Italian boy from the waterfront (Fishermen's wharf) were to fall in love with a beautiful girl whose father owned the controlling interest in the discovery of the age, the cable cars," he mused one day.

The plot for Revelries was born. For two years Joe worked on it. Then he brought the idea over to the college and things began to happen.

Dave Wight, junior, saw the musical possibilities in the show and began to work on an original score. Ed Kincaid, senior, eagerly dreamed up some dance routines. The idea for a singing chorus was worked in.

The Revelries script was ready at last!

"It's the story I've always wanted to do," smiled the director. "We've done a lot of work and now at last it's ready for rehearsals."

The hero and heroine, he explained, are called Thom and Elyse. "Boy meets girl stuff, it's true, but in our show you'll also see re-creations of scenes from the old waterfront, the Coit Tower, International Settlement, and an actual Cable Car on its first trip down to the wharf."

Costumes for the show are all coming from San Francisco, he said and added that the scenes will be built here at the college.

"The title of the show and development of the plot are still a secret and will be sprung when the publicity hits the campus," related Juliano with a twinkle in his eye.

SEEKERS' PICK OFFICERS

Norman Robertson is the newly elected president of the Seekers Club (Methodist Youth Fellowship), according to Bill Walker, acting publicity chairman.

Other officers elected at last Sunday's meeting, held in the First Methodist Church, are W. O. Walker, vice president; Marcia Royce, membership chairman; Louise Wurfer, secretary; and Tony Pirlaria, treasurer.

Marian Swanson, community service chairman; Jim Huntley, worship and evangelism; Lenore Stats, recreation; Jean Sharpe, institute; and Glen Eglinton, publicity.

Officiating at the installation of officers was Dr. J. W. Farr of the First Methodist Church. Also present was the group's councillor, Rev. Gordon Wilson.

At next Sunday's meeting, John D. Crumme, prominent San Jose businessman, will give the second in a series of lectures entitled "Love and Marriage." The meeting will start at 6:30.

'OH, MY ACHING HEAD,' MOANS GUZZLER PREXY

By RETLAW DREW

In reply to the question, "What does this statement mean to you?"

"When in the course of human events," answers were few and far between at a meeting of the Upper San Jose State College Trenchermen's and Bock Guzzlers' association.

Horace Q. Touchbottom, president of the organization was heard to counter with the brilliant remark, "We don't like the course, the guy who's supposed to teach it is a hamburger, and besides pass the vodka."

It turned out that this was the wrong beverage for him to request, as one of those present was a shmoe named Jay Pahrul Thomas, and his old man immediately summoned Horace to Washington, to be investigated for un-American activities.

Poor Horace was flabbergasted. Here he was a patriotic young red blooded (95 percent alcohol) American boy, a veteran of World War II, his office in the USJSCT-BGA was taken from him, his friends avoided him on the street, and he received a subpoena summoning him to the nation's capital, to submit to a senatorial third degree, from which there was no recourse.

Oh woe. Poor old Touchbottom could hardly touch bottom, so deep was the pool of his despair. He was determined to see it through to a successful finish though and after making reservations under an assumed name quietly planned his trip to Washington. (For further details of what happened to Horace on the train and on his arrival, see tomorrow's issue of the Spartan Daily.)

Two Week Vacation—Next Year

Have a hard time getting back to school so soon after New Year's eve this year? Was one day in between long enough for you to pull yourself together and get back into the old grind?

According to information received from the Registrar's Office the dates for Christmas vacation next year will extend until after New Year's Vacation will run from December 17 to January 3, thus giving the student more time to recuperate.

SJ RIFLE SQUAD SLATES TEN MATCHES; JOINS NEW CALIFORNIA SCHEDULE

By DAVE PARNAY

San Jose State and the University of Santa Clara meet for the first time in many years in what might be called athletic competition when their respective rifle teams shoot it out on the Bronco's range, March 3.

This will be State's first match in the newly formed Northern California conference which also included California, Stanford, USF, and the California Aggies. The Broncos defeated the Spartans in a scrimmage match earlier this year, but Sergeant Alvin E. Ousey, coach of the San Jose riflemen, predicts a Spartan upset.

TWO TEAMS

State will enter two teams in competition. One will be a unit composed of ROTC men and the other will be called the Varsity Rifle team. Members of the Varsity will be eligible for the ROTC team if they're good enough, according to Coach Ousey.

Top men on the ROTC team are Leonard Hawthorne, Daniel Hernandez, James Riley, and George Steele. Two former members of the Hayward Rifle Team, Arthur Bayley and Harvey Felt, lead the Varsity. All firing in competition will be with .22 caliber rifles at fifty feet.

The first three months of this year will be devoted to Postal matches and individual instruction. The team is now preparing for the Hearst Trophy Matches.

The schedule:

March 3—Santa Clara at San Jose.

March 10—San Jose at Santa Clara.

April 7—San Jose at California.

April 14—California at San Jose.

April 21—Stanford at San Jose.

April 28—San Jose at Stanford.

May 5—San Jose at USF.

May 12—USF at San Jose.

May 19—San Jose at Cal Aggies.

May 26—Cal Aggies at San Jose.

MUMBY SEES BIG ENTRY

Coach Ted Mumby predicted today that over 80 men will compete in the first annual San Jose State College Novice Wrestling Tournament. Elimination rounds are scheduled for 3 o'clock in the Spartan gym starting February 1. Finals are slated for 7 o'clock Friday evening, February 5.

Formation of teams will be entirely of freshmen and junior varsity men only. These men must never have competed in high school or college wrestling tournaments of any kind. Separate competition will be held in both groups. Directing the various teams will be varsity wrestling stars, Freddy Albright, Ray Miser, Pat Felice, and Sam Lawson.

The novices will follow the practice of using Olympic rules in an Olympic year. The weights will be as follows: 114, 119, 125, 130, 136, 141, 147, 154, 160, 165, 174, 182, 191, and 200 or over.

JOE SIGNS

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (UP)—Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio bumped into each other's headlines today in an off-season journalistic crack-up by which, through somebody's bad timing, they both came to 1948 salary terms on the same day.

Students of San Jose State who are taking courses in German will have a definite advantage when it comes to deciphering stories on the Spartan Daily sport page.

Besides sports editor Paul Von Hafften two other teutons will be covering the doings of Spartan athletes this quarter. Sidebar Schultz and John Gothberg are also of Teutonic descent.

SIDELINE SLANTS

By BOYD SCHULTZ

The Spartan basket flippers spent an enjoyable week-end, having as their guests San Francisco State and the San Francisco Athletic Club respectively. The big city boys helped the Spartans win and lost percentage no end.

The most improved player on the squad from where we sat was Bob Wuesthoff. The lanky guard tallied 12 points against the Gators and 15 the following evening against the Athletic Club.

NEVADA NEXT

This week-end the fast moving Spartans will travel to the land of discarded wedding rings for a modified football series against the University of Nevada. Those who remember the series at the Men's gym here last year probably suggest a starting line-up of Denevi and Allen forwards, Hughes center, and Pifferini and Keene guards.

OLYMPIC PROSPECT

Bud Winter will have his track squad out early this year with the Olympic games scheduled for this summer. Woody Linn, the weighty weight has been toying with the 56 pound hammer, and it wouldn't surprise us if he showed up in London this summer with that little gadget.

The All College Boxing tournament will be held in the Civic auditorium this Friday night. You will see at least two potential national collegiate champions in Wayne Fontes and Bob Anderson. They missed by an eyelash last year, both reaching the national finals at Madison, Wisconsin. They probably will fight in an exhibition bout.

NCAA MEET IN NY CITY

NEW YORK, Jan. 7, (UP)—Twenty of the nation's top collegiate football coaches went into a huddle today to sift the rules of the game and determine what's needed to make it better than ever.

Matty Bell of Southern Methodist wants to eliminate the point after touchdown. Jimmy Phelan of St. Mary's thinks the team trailing in a game should be given the option of kicking off or receiving after a score has been made rather than giving the option to the team scored against.

More than a dozen other suggestions also came out of a survey by Lou Little of Columbia, Chairman of the Rules Committee of the American Football Coaches association. Committee will decide which changes to recommend.

Other suggestions included a proposal to widen the goal-posts to increase field goal kicking and conversion percentages; elimination of the free substitution rule in effect for the first time last season; making a "T" formation quarterback eligible to receive a pass, regardless of whether he stands one yard behind the line of scrimmage as required at present; clarification of the kickoff rule; permitting either team to run with a fumble instead of limiting it to the offensive team.

SPARTANS LEAVE FOR RENO TO PLAY NEVADA CAGE TEAM TWO GAMES

By JOHN GOTHBERG

Coach Walt McPherson and 10 Spartan casaba tossers leave this morning for Reno where the local five clash twice with the University of Nevada Wolfpack. Friday night, the two teams meet in their first contest, while the final game will be played Saturday.

Nevada has one of its strongest aggregations in years. Victories over Nebraska and Brigham Young are the most recent accomplishments of Coach Jake Lawlor's quintet.

The Blue and White first unit averages over six feet in height. Dan Oglich, first string center, stands six feet five. Grant Davis, Lou Joseph, and Jim Mackey are outstanding players who can be expected to give the Spartans much trouble. Mackey gave the BYU Cougars considerable difficulty in their recent contest and made the winning basket against the Cougars.

The local five has won three in a row including the Nebraska Cornhuskers, San Francisco State, and the San Francisco Athletic Club. Out of their 10 games thus far, the Gold and White quintet has captured six victories. Considerable improvement has been made since the opener against Stanford.

Stu Inman, Bob Wuesthoff, and Bob Hagen have been the most consistent scorers for San Jose. Chuck Hughes, All-CCAA center last season, was the outstanding scorer in the game against the Clubmen. Ralph Romero has been doing an excellent job at his guard spot and has shown improvement with each succeeding contest.

Coach McPherson will very likely start the following men against the Wolfpack: Chuck Hughes at center; Stu Inman and Bob Hagen at forwards; and Bob Wuesthoff and Ralph Romero at guards.

Following this week-end's games all attention will be focused on the Santa Barbara College contest scheduled for January 16 in the local gym. McPherson states that the Gauchos have one of the toughest teams in the CCAA this year.

LOUIS HAS TWO BIDS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7, (UP)—Joe Louis today had his choice of two arenas 3000 miles apart to decide in which to meet his next opponent this spring.

While the 20th Century Club was announcing that Louis would defend his title in New York in June, Lou Costello, radio actor, assured the Memorial Coliseum Commission that the world's heavyweight champion would fight here April 3.

The commission granted Costello the use of the Coliseum to stage the fight for his youth foundation but reserved the right to approve his opponent and the price scale of tickets.

Marshall Miles, Louis' manager, said in New York there was "absolutely nothing to a report that the champion would fight in Los Angeles. We're leaving for London Feb. 19 for exhibitions and won't leave there until April 7."

22 MEN ARE NAMED FOR FIGHT MEET

Heavyweights will open tomorrow night's All-College Boxing tournament in the Civic auditorium according to Coach Dee Portal. Don Sheaffer and Rod Richardson are slated to open the fistic festivities, squaring off at 8 p.m. for the first bout of the evening. The second bout of the program will bring together Arvid Naslund and Jack Scheberies, who are also campaigning in the unlimited class.

The winners of the two opening contests will clash in the final bout.

The complete card, as presented by Portal, follows:

- 118 lbs.—Noel Frank vs. Joe Di-Benedetto.
- 125 lbs.—Mike Rivera vs. worthy opponent.
- 130 lbs.—Charles Townsend vs. Rudy Aguirre.
- 135 lbs.—Dale Bryan vs. Ken Cayocca.
- 145 lbs.—Jim Shouse vs. J. A. Jackson.
- 155 lbs.—Jack Nelson vs. Jim McDonald.
- 160 lbs.—Jim Nutt vs. Nick Diez.
- 165 lbs.—Dave Releis vs. Bob Postle.
- 175 lbs.—Pete Franusich vs. Raul Diez.

KSJO WILL BROADCAST

Ralph Rogers, who is a well known local radio announcer, will broadcast tomorrow's All College Boxing tourney over KSJO, according to Tom Rowen, Spartan athletic publicity man.

Broadcast time is set for 8 o'clock in the evening.

HUNGARIAN PROFESSOR TO SPEAK AT COLLEGIATE FELLOWSHIP MEETING

Dr. F. Kiss, professor of anatomy and histology at the University of Budapest, Hungary, will be the speaker at the Christian Collegiate Fellowship meeting in room 116 today, according to Bob Baylis, CCF president. His theme will be "Christianity Under Fire."

Dr. Kiss is at this time on leave from the university visiting the United States. He has experienced two occupations in his native country during the last few years. First the Nazi occupation of the country during the past war and now the Russian occupation.

He is an outstanding authority on the European continent in the field of anatomy. His text books are standard in Hungarian universities at the present time.

Besides his professorship at the University of Budapest, he has until recently headed the free church movement in Hungary.

DR. TIEDEMAN IS MILLS SPEAKER

Dr. Ruth M. Tiedeman, assistant professor of psychology, will discuss the topic "Realism in Children's Experiences" Saturday at the Founder's Day observance in Mills college, Oakland, according to a report from Delta Phi Upsilon, honor society.

President of the Zeta chapter at San Jose State college, Dorothy Azevedo, will introduce Dr. Tiedeman. Members of the San Jose Alumnae association also will be present on the campus.

Students in the kindergarten-primary department high in scholarship are entitled to membership in Delta Phi Upsilon.

Too High?

Something has to be done about that non-gate fence which ends by the Women's gym on San Carlos street.
