No Smoking In Union; No Coking At Games

Council Passes Clean-up Edicts

Smoking in the Student Union was abolished and coke concessions at basketball and boxing events were banned in a sweeping clean-up movement inaugurated by the Student Council last night.

TO IMPROVE UNION

Hal Riddle proposed the non-smoking ordinance in an attempt to improve the appearance of the Union, and eliminate the danger of fire.

On recommendations from Byron Bollinger, superintendent of grounds, Riddle presented the banning motion to cut down extra clean-up expenses.

Jack Silvey, Spartan Daily editor, will be called before the council at its next meeting to answer charges of insufficient coverage on news events and to make a statement of policy concerning notices and advertising.

TREASURER RESIGNS

The resignation of Charlotte Harder, treasurer, was accepted. She resigned because of ill health. Council members will present names to fill the vacancy next week.

Possibility that a scholarship fund for San Jose State college students will be started from the general fund was discussed. It was decided to delay investigation of the matter until a financial statement could be obtained.

Doug Morrisson moved that the council investigate the advisability of making an ASB contribution to the chapel fund from the general fund.

Pat Polk was appointed to check cards filled out registration day to determine if there are members of campus organizations who do not have ASB cards.

LYCURGUS SHOWS PROFIT

Financial statement of Lycurgus, presented for approval, revealed a profit of $149.05 on the December issue. This figure was in direct contrast to the deficit of $18.07 chalked up November 1, 1947.

Beverly Clay promises a report on the Constitution Revision committee January 26.

Council accepted Silver Saber constitution, reinstated Pegasus society, heard a report from WSSF, and sent out letters of appointment to the Publications Advisory board.

Tower Chimes Pretty Accurate

E. S. Thompson of the Business office stubbornly refused to retract his statement, "You can set your watch by the tower chimes—as time signals they are pretty accurate," even though the chimes were 15 minutes off yesterday. His statement was made in a recent issue of the Spartan Daily.

Mr. Thompson explained that the chimes were 15 minutes late because the electricity was off for a while over the week end, necessitating a manual resetting of the chimes.

Byron Bollinger, superintendent of buildings, could not be reached for a statement concerning rumors that a sun dial would be placed in the Quad to inform students of the correct time.

Student Court Meets With Daily Editor

In response to the invitation of Chief Justice Bill Logan, Spartan Daily Editor Jack Silvey and several members of his staff attended last night's meeting of the Student Court.

Purpose of the gathering, according to Logan, was to "foster better relations between the

All organizations on campus, old or new, are reminded by Chief Justice Bill Logan to comply with Article 5, section 4, of the ASB constitution by January 31.

The chief justice also stated that notices would be sent to each organization. He asked organization secretaries to reply to the notice, even if there were no new members to report.

Court and the Daily," and as he stated at the conclusion, "the meeting was quite successful."

Led by the chief justice, the student jurors tendered several questions in regard to deadlines, advertisers' demands and the policy of the publication. Editor Silvey answered in detail, explaining the more technical aspects of the paper to his interrogators.

On a thoroughly friendly basis, the meeting took the better part of an hour to clear away the doubts and misunderstandings of the court members in relation to the Spartan Daily.

CULP TO USE FINDINGS OF INQUIRY

BOB CULP

Bob Culp, newly appointed chairman of the Rally committee, said yesterday that he planned to use any available findings of the Administration's investigation to improve the Rally committee.

When approached on the matter by the Spartan Daily, Culp made the following statement: "I believe that the recent investigation was for the good of the Rally committee, and it will be our aim during the ensuing quarter to work in closer harmony with the council, the Administration, and the student body."

Dean Paul Pitman revealed Friday that he had been conducting discreet inquiries about the group's fall quarter activities. Dean Pitman said yesterday afternoon that he expected the entire Rally committee situation to be cleared up by this afternoon.

Air Force ROTC Inspected Here

Majors George K. Sandman and Keith P. Seigfried, from Headquarters 4th United States Air Force at Hamilton Field, conducted an informal inspection of the Air Force ROTC unit here yesterday.

According to Major Earl R. Kingsley of the Military Science department, the first major inspection of the ROTC units here will be held in May.

Exchange Closes For Quarter

The student book exchange, room 8, is open today for the last time this quarter, Chairman Bill Lundy said yesterday. Books not called for by their owners will be sold and the money deposited into a chapter fund.

The exchange will accept only The Essentials of American Government by Ogg and Riggs. Students should call for their texts before 3 p.m.

Writers, Coaches And Fans Endorse New Clock

By PAUL VON HAFFTEN

"We would like to have Coach Dee Portal's new boxing time clock and scoring system used at the San Francisco State-San Jose State college boxing matches Thursday evening," stated Coach Lee Alderman of San Francisco State. Coach Dee Portal revealed that it would be used during the Gator-Spartan boxing match to be held in the Men's gym.

Dean Of Men Reaffirms Aid To Vets

No veteran will go hungry on this campus if it possibly can be avoided, stated Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman Friday afternoon.

The dean wishes to correct an erroneous rumor about loan funds which has been circulating about the Spartan campus. "There is money available to loan veterans who have not received subsistence checks, or who are financially embarrassed for one reason or another."

"However, we don't want everyone who suddenly feels like taking a trip to the snow to ask for a loan," he said. "We'd like to help them out too, but our funds are limited."

Dean Pitman also stated that the only way the new program initiated here by the Veterans' Administration will work, is that any and all non-payments, or any other matter that goes wrong, should be reported immediately to Miss Josephine Roose in room 18.

Miss Roose was commended by the dean for her efforts on behalf of veteran-students here. It is largely through her efforts that much more confusion has been avoided.

Miss Roose requested veterans not to report missing checks for the month of December for another week, as the holidays have delayed them somewhat.

Sophomores Plan Merry Time In Union Tonight

Members of the sophomore class will have a merry time in the Student Union tonight when they hold their quarterly get-together from 7 to 11.

Off-the-record dancing is on the schedule planned by Chairmen Maxine Cordrey, Betty LeValley, and Pat Trotts. To further highlight the evening, refreshments will be served.

Prior to the party, class members will discuss business in their regular weekly meeting.

The coach was one of the witnesses Friday to the new time device, temporarily known as "Honest John," and became enthusiastic about the innovation.

An unofficial endorsement comes from the University of Santa Clara. The Associated Press is also becoming engrossed with the clock.

A late article by Glenn Stackhouse, United Press writer, was received yesterday, stating that if Coach Dee Portal would have his way, the new scoring system would be the greatest revolution in boxing history since the Marquis of Queensbury wrote his boxing rules.

The UP writer quoted Coach Portal, "My system is an objective method of judging fights to replace the subjective method now used. It shows both fans and fighters who's ahead at all times and gives the battlers a good reason to stay in there slugging."

FANS LIKE IT

Turning to Friday's opinions of the fight and Portal's new clock, 88 per cent or 626 out of 706 votes tabulated stated that the right man won. There were but two doubts; the Shouse vs. Jackson "family fight" and the Diez-Nutt fight. Yet 56 per cent voted for Shouse, while 71 per cent felt that Nutt should have had a draw. The other 29 per cent picked Diez.

The fans also stated that the fights had better and faster action under the new clock, while 96 per cent favored the clock.

Several names have been offered for the Portal clock and also the system. These will be run in the second round of the contest either Thursday or Friday.

SUGGESTIONS PLENTIFUL

Coach Portal is still seeking suggestions for improving the system and states that the operation of the clock will be changed from week to week as these suggestions are given by the fans.

Several suggestions already have been made. Among them were that three judges be used—each with an electrical button. It was suggested that the clock be stopped when bout is even. The addition of three judges will ease the work of the referee, who by the way did a great job Friday evening, and will shift several responsibilities from him.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Morrisson, following a Christmas holiday wedding and San Francisco honeymoon, now are living in San Jose.

Mrs. Morrisson is the former Margaret Price of Puyallup, Wash., which is Doug's home town also. The new bridegroom is a senior in the Speech department.

The couple were married in the home of Mrs. M. Healey, mother of Deane Healey, who acted as best man. The bride's sole attendant was Mrs. Ellis Berry.

Wedding bells rang on December 20 for the former Ariene Ross and Neall Strand.

Mrs. Ross, a senior in the Social Science department, hails from San Mateo and is a member of Tri-Sigma. Her husband, now locally employed, will resume his studies in the Mathematics department next quarter.

Gerry Faber, senior psychology major from Palo Alto, passed chocolates to her sorority sisters at the same time that Lou Caligaris, her fiance, passed cigars to his Sigma Gamma Omega brothers.

The future bridegroom, a senior in the Advertising department, hails from San Luis Obispo. Gerry served as Pharmacist's Mate, 3/c, in the Waves during the war.

The wedding has been set for April.

At a tea given Sunday afternoon, friends learned of the betrothal of Jackie Popp, from Saratoga, to Stan Parton of this city.

Jackie graduated last June, and is now teaching in San Carlos. Her fiance, a former Spartan, is majoring in business administration at Cal.

While at State, Jackie was member of Spartan Spears, president of AWS, president of Black Masque, and was voted outstanding graduate of her class.

The wedding has been set for June.

BITS OF BANTER

By ABNER FRITZ

..... Like so many others at this institution of higher learning, we too, have passed through portals of other halls of knowledge and beg to be permitted to go semi-literary with a few definitions of the college level.

At the University of Redlands, which nestles in the valley of the oranges some 500 miles south of here, an economics professor once delivered the following definition of knowledge:

"It is the inculcation of the incomprehensible by the incompetent to the impenetrable."

All of which has nothing to do with you, or does it??

..... A former student at Oregon State college, Gordon Hay by name, handed us a little freshman handbook issued by that worthy institution which includes several definitions that should be of interest.

A 7:30 CLASS—the first period in a series of siestas which occur throughout the day.

BLIND DATE—The first blind date recorded in American history was the episode concerning John Smith, Priscilla and John Alden. That didn't work, and they never have since.

BULL SESSION—a group of students promulgating their cogitations or articulating their superficial sentimentalities on how to be lucky at love, win the peace, make a million, or settle any other type of disputes in 10 easy, compact lessons.

CLASS LECTURE—the procedure whereby notes are transferred from a professor's card to the notebook of a student without having passed through the brains of either.

PREREQUISITES—What you have to take for the privilege of flunking other courses at some later date.

LIBRARY—A very efficient date emporium.

FINALS—Some of life's darker moments.

FATHER—A branch of the First National bank.

CURRICULA—A cross between a Chinese puzzle and faculty ideas. Object: to solve before graduation.

DOUBLE-DATERS—In spite of what they tell you, girls, there's no protection in numbers.

..... This concludes our lesson from Webster's Much Abridged dictionary for today. If any of you have heard other definitions (they must be untainted of course), kindly deposit them in the Thrust and Parry box in the Spartan Daily office addressed to this column.

If we get enough replies, and they let us out of our cell long enough some day, why we'll print some more.

Thrust and Parry

The condition of the grounds is "horific" now, as can be easily seen. Cars now park all over the turf and campus, as at the Coop and Spartan Shop drive, and also at the Music building entrance. They also can be seen "tearin' the turf" behind the aeronautics quonset. Oh, it hurts to see it!

When the Spartan calendar was placed on sale, it depicted many beautiful scenes of our campus—long ago. One view showed the lawn in front of the science building fenced off—and it looked good! Why not erect the hurdles again? There are certainly enough service organizations on campus to help. Let's try to beautify our campus!

These hurdles should be placed around all turf, perhaps alternately leaving a different patch "open" at times. If students want more walks, then the clubs should donate a few of the more strategic ones, but keep our campus pretty! Keep out cars!

NEW GADGET FOR AERO BOYS

AERONAUTICS DEPARTMENT GETS LINK TRAINER

By DAVE LEONARD

About the only plane a pilot can "spin in" with and not get hurt is the link trainer. San Jose State college advances another step forward and has acquired a link trainer.

The purpose of the trainer is to acquaint the student pilot with the flight instruments under actual flying conditions—including both contact and instrument flight. All of the instruments operate exactly as those on a real plane in flight and can be followed by the instructor, who has a dual set of instruments on his desk.

In practicing instrument flight conditions the hood is closed over the cockpit and from then on the pilot must depend entirely upon his instruments in maintaining the proper flight attitudes. A radio contact is maintained between the student and instructor over which the courses are plotted and general radio procedure work is given. As the student flies the trainer the course is marked by means of an electrically operated pen, on a chart on top of the instructor's desk. This means that at the close of the flight the instructor can talk over the entire period's work with the student.

The subject is titled "Instrument Flight-Technique." The only requirement for aero students is completion of "Aircraft Instruments"—for non-aero students, to be soloed in any type of plane. Appointments are by arrangement only, according to Tom Leonard, aero lab instructor.

Scholar Group Extends List

The Society of Academic Scholars will hold its first meeting of the quarter Thursday, January 22, at 7 p.m. in the Student Center, Third and San Antonio streets.

In an effort to extend membership to students who may have recently attained eligibility for membership, Mrs. Ada Carver, Phi Beta Kappa secretary, asks that students whose records meet the following qualifications sign a list at the Personnel Office before Wednesday, January 14:

1. 90 or more units of college work completed;
2. Grade-point average of 2.0 (B), or better;
3. Objective officially stated with a major among the departments of English, mathematics, modern languages, natural science, psychology and philosophy, and social science.

Students whose names were included in last quarter's membership list are not asked to sign the list, Mrs. Carver added.

The Academic Scholars society is sponsored by faculty members who have won Phi Beta Kappa honors. A committee composed of Dr. Brant Clark, chairman, Miss Winifred Ferris, Dr. Carl Duncan, and Dr. R. H. C. Dieckman is working with the students in planning this year's activities.

CAMPUS BIRDS ON DISPLAY IN NATURAL SCIENCE EXHIBIT

There are 19 different species of birds in residence on campus, yet most of us, excluding some Natural Science majors, who have seen them about do not know what most of them are.

A display near Room 210 in the Natural Science building, arranged by Epsilon Delta chapter of Beta Beta Beta, has stuffed specimens of these birds. They vary in size from the tiny hummingbird to the giant barn owl.

The birds in the exhibit are divided according to where seen about campus.

For example, Western Flycatchers, Screech Owls, Barn Owls, Red-shafted Flickers, and Black Phoebes prefer the higher altitudes, namely the tops of the buildings and trees. When at home, these are their quarters. The owls, who are habitual night-lifers, do their sleeping during the day while their feathered brothers and sisters are out looking for their daily bread and attending to the other necessities of their fold.

The distance between a turret-lathe and a Methodist pulpit may seem great, but it wasn't too great a gap to be bridged by Raymond E. Balcomb, a former Spartan.

Balcomb graduated from San Jose State college in June, 1944, with great distinction in the Industrial Arts department. During his four years here, he worked as an apprentice and later journeyman machinist at Hendy's Iron Works.

Dr. Heber A. Sotzin, head of the Industrial Arts department yesterday received a letter from the Rev. Raymond E. Balcomb, minister of the Methodist Church of Holbrook, Mass.

Brewer's Blackbirds, White-crowned Sparrows, Song Sparrows, Kildeers, English Sparrows, Oregon Juncos, and Brown Towhees establish their homes in the lower shrubs and about the ground.

GRAPHIC ART PRINTS IN LIBRARY

Several original graphic art prints by eminent twentieth-century experimental artists now are on exhibit in the Arts Reading room of the Library.

Included in the display is an etching by Tanguy in which lines and spaces are related through color, and two etchings by Hayter. One etching in color re-interprets in terms of modern aesthetics the poetic Chinese idea, according to which writing is mind painting.

FIELD AND GYM

Coach Dee Portal's "Honest John" clock seems to have been a successful experiment. The clock was operated Friday night without any previous experience. Several good suggestions were given Friday evening and some of these will be published later this week along with the second round of Coach Portal's contest.

OTHER EXPERIMENTS

This hasn't been Coach Portal's only experiment in boxing. He is the inventor of the thumbless glove, protective headgear, ambidexterous style of boxing and other boxing innovations. His boxers get the first taste of collegiate competition this Thursday evening in the local gym against the San Francisco State Gators. The Spartans won easily last year but may face a stronger squad this year.

Coach Ted Mumby's wrestlers open their home season against the Gator matmen Wednesday evening in the local gym. More than 80 men are reputed to have signed up for the first annual Novice Wrestling tourney to be held here in February. His men lost a tough one to the Olympic Club Saturday. They showed much promise in their defeat.

OPEN TITLE DRIVE

The basketball squad, fresh from their two victories over Nevada in Reno last week, will open their CCAA drive Friday evening in the Men's gym. Coach Walt McPherson's men are red hot now and should do well in the conference. They face powerful opposition from the Gauchos of Santa Barbara who won their last game Saturday. It looks like an exciting race for the CCAA flag this year.

See where Phog Allen of Kansas, the "Pop" Warner of basketball, has been attacked again for "blowing off steam." He was the same gentleman who exposed the Brooklyn cage scandal a few years ago in which Alvin Paris was the central figure. This time he was accused of talking out of turn because he contested the eligibility of an opposing player. Coach Allen, however, has seldom done any talking; unless he has had the goods to back him up.

SPARTAN CASABA FIVE TO OPEN CCAA TITLE DRIVE AGAINST SB

By JOHN GOTHBERG

The Santa Barbara College and Fresno State cagemen proved Saturday night that they are definitely in the running for the league pennant this year. The Gauchos downed the defending CCAA champion College of Pacific five, 52-48, while Fresno crushed Cal Poly, 62-47.

The Tigers edged out the Mustangs Friday night, 57-55. Santa Barbara, however, proved too much for the Stocktoners on the following night.

GAUCHOS

The Spartans who meet the Gaucho cagers Friday night in their first league tilt, won a pair of victories last week end over a weakened University of Nevada team. Without the services of three first string men, the Wolfpack played a closely fought battle Saturday night and lost by only three points.

Stu Inman, Chuck Hughes, and Bob Wuesthoff were standouts for San Jose against the Silver and Blue quintet. These three, together with Bob Hagen and Ralph Romero, will make up the starting unit to face the Gauchos here Friday.

Because of their 62-47 triumph over Cal Poly Saturday, Fresno State shares first place honors with Santa Barbara in the CCAA standings.

CAL POLY

The Mustangs find themselves at the bottom of the heap in the standings. They lost to Fresno Saturday and Pacific took a one point victory over them the preceding evening.

Neither San Diego State nor the Spartans played any league contests this past week end. CCAA competition for these two schools gets underway this week.

Two of the games to be played this Friday should prove good indications as to how the final association standings will turn out. Fresno's strength will be tested when the Bulldogs meet the Pacific Tigers at Stockton.

The San Jose-Santa Barbara contest here this Friday should prove a good gauge of the comparative strength of these two aggregations.

DREW SUPERB AS OLYMPIC CLUB WRESTLERS WIN

The San Francisco Olympic Club defeated the Spartan wrestling team 33-14 in San Francisco Friday night. Outstanding in the series of close hard-fought matches was the struggle between State's Will Drew and Doc Northrup, Olympic Club's former three-time national champion. Northrup, with an edge of 15 years of competitive competition, had to go all the way to pin Drew in the last second of what Spartan coach, Ted Mumby, termed a brilliantly offensive match.

Mumby was not at all discouraged by the results. Points were scored for varsity, junior varsity, and freshmen competition. On a varsity basis the Spartans would have scored a one point victory.

Other winners for San Jose were Bill Rothwell who pinned Rico Di Augustini, Captain Freddie Albright, and Co-Captain Sam Lawson.

According to Mumby the whole event was not conducted too successfully. In the 114 pound class Rothwell was outweighed 15 pounds and Olympic men had weight advantages in practically every division.

The Spartans meet San Francisco State Wednesday. With San Francisco's permission Coach Ted Mumby's new system for judging wrestling may be used. The method involves radio transmission to a master scorer who tabulates the results.

BASEBALL NOTICE

There will be an important meeting of all baseball candidates in room 17 tomorrow afternoon at 4:00. Coach Walt Williams revealed. Practice is expected to get underway in a few days.

York, which Athletic Director Tiny Hartranft is a representative of the CCAA, will conclude this week with adoption of the Sanity or Purity Code with "teeth in it." We suggest that they look into the proselyting of the Big Nine conference. This conference has been accused by such prominent coaches as Clarence Munn of Michigan State. He should know what the score was. He was an All American guard from Minnesota, a member of the same conference.

HE-MEN TO GIVE CASABA 'T' SHOW

The "T" formation as applied to football will be demonstrated by the Dangerous Marauders when they tackle the Newman Club quintet in a contest slated for the men's gym at 7:30 tonight.

SOME LINEUP

Bob Hagen, coach of the Marauders, claims that he can field a beef trust lineup of men who will average around the 250 pound mark. Stars on his squad include Woody Linn, Bob Likens, Glen Smith, Jack Faulk, Ken Blue, and Roy and Fred Mangini.

Scrappy Squatrito, coach of the Newmanites, counters with the fact that while Hagen's men have the brawn, his squad has the brains and the game will turn out with a "mind over matter" decision.

Newman's starting five will probably consist of Al Pinard and Len Frizzi at the forwards, Bob Kinnear at center, and Don Lopes and Dean Sophia at the guard spots.

Library File Of Past Exams Now Complete

Files of past examinations from all courses now are on file in the Education Reading Room of the Library, revealed Elmo A. Robinson, faculty head of the Examinations Fairness committee.

"Instructors have been very cooperative in placing either their past examinations or lists of potential questions in the Library where all students may have access to them," Mr. Robinson said.

Individual cases of cheating probably will be handled by the Fairness committee, but as yet no one has been appointed to pronounce the final decision on the student's fate. Members of the committee met Friday in Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie's office and have scheduled a meeting for Friday, January 16.

A faculty session will be held January 23 to discuss the fairness situation in regards to notebooks as well as examinations. Their suggestions will be considered by the committee, Mr. Robinson added.

The problem of cheating came to a head last quarter when two students protested to Dr. MacQuarrie and faculty members about the amount of it going on throughout the college. A committee of five faculty members and five students was formed as a result of the protest.

Spartans Air New Shows On Radio KSJO

Two new dramatic radio programs, recorded in the campus studio, are to be broadcast over the air for classroom listening, announces Dr. Edgar Willis of the Speech and Drama department.

"The School Spotlight" will be heard every Tuesday on Station KSJO at 1:45 p.m. beginning today. This program will feature stories of great people, dramatizations of important scientific discoveries, and current problems.

Dramatizations of the great children's stories are to be presented on "Story Time" every Thursday at 1:15 p.m. The character parts will be portrayed by students who are members of the Radio Guild.

Hugh W. Gillis, executive head of the Speech and Drama department, will narrate the "School Spotlight." "Story Time" will be directed by Dr. Willis.

Scripts to be used are selected from files of Detroit schools which have been broadcasting to other schools for the past twelve years.

Teachers may obtain a schedule and description of the broadcasts by writing to the Department of Speech and Drama.

Juniors Work On Decorations For Class Hop

"The Civic auditorium as you have never seen it" was the expression used by Tom Wall, junior class president, to describe the elaborate decorations planned for the Junior Prom.

Bob Keller, chairman of the decorations committee, has had his group working for several months on the star-studded ceiling that will be put up for the dance, February 28.

Tickets will go on sale February 1 at various places on the campus. The semi-formal dance is open to the student body and any student enrolled in this college may attend.

A popular band leader, his name to be released soon, and his orchestra, have been engaged to play for the prom, Wall said.

"I guess it began when I was just a kid, making non-stop flights around the dining-room table. Later on, the town got an airport. I got to know every plane, right down to the smallest bolts and screws.

"During the war I took off with the Aviation Cadets. The folks were all for it. They figured—correctly—that it was the best way to get me into the air where I belonged.

"I made it all right. Trained in the best planes the Air Force has, and now I'm heading for transition work in jets. The pay? Now that I'm a pilot, $336 a month, plus $500 for each year of active duty. And there's plenty of room for promotions.

"But that's not the real point. Some men belong in the air. They were born wanting wings—with the action, the pride, the freedom that go with them. There's no better way to have all that, along with the world's finest flying training, than to join the Aviation Cadets. And the future—in civilian aviation or in the Air Force—is as wide open as the horizon. If you want the fast-moving life, why not drop around to the Recruiting Station in your community or the nearest Air Force installation."
