

ASB Card System To Undergo Change, Says Wall's Preview Of Council's Winter Activities

"San Jose State's ASB card system is being readied for revision by the Student Council this quarter," ASB President Tom Wall revealed in a preview of Winter quarter council activities yesterday. He added that details of the changes being considered cannot be disclosed as yet. In relation to the ASB card question, Wall said that he is sending a questionnaire to student presidents of other Coast schools in an effort to determine how they handle their student body card difficulties.

"Confusion and overlapping of campus activities has become a definite problem," Wall stressed, "and will be subject to change by the Council this quarter. A possible solution would be the appointment of a co-ordinator of social affairs whose efforts would be directed toward keeping student body functions on a highly organized level."

Next year the Freshman camp will become a college-sponsored activity if the Student Council approves, Wall indicated. Formerly, Freshman camp was a function of the Student Y, but student body funds were used to underwrite budget bulges.

Tentative plans for the Freshman camp, in the event that it becomes a college function, call for a change in Freshman pre-registration schedules. This, as well as the financial situation, indicates the desirability of Council consideration toward making the camp a student body function, according to Wall.

Spartan public relations with other coast schools are due for a substantial boost this quarter. Wall explained that inter-school relations were neglected during the Fall quarter in order to allow the Council to clear up pressing campus problems. The ASB president explained that one step toward improved relations will be accomplished by an exchange of Council members as visitors on an inter-school basis.

Spartans' Autos Liable To Towing

Spartans who park their automobiles in the seven spaces reserved for disabled veterans near the Industrial Arts building now face the prospect of having their automobiles towed away and impounded by the San Jose Police department.

Miss Bernice Van Gundy released this information to the Spartan Daily Friday, and added that the matter will be turned over to the San Jose police if the publication of this warning does not produce the desired results.

In history swept over Southern California Monday, forecasting a disastrous new freeze.

Mitchum Guilty On Dope Count

By United Press

Actor Robert Mitchum pulled a surprise move today when he refused to defend himself on charges of conspiracy to possess marijuana and listened nonchalantly while a judge pronounced him guilty.

He and two co-defendants, convicted on the same charge, were ordered to appear for sentence Feb. 9.

At that time the droopy-eyed movie he-man could be hauled away to county jail for 90 days to a year; to the state penitentiary for three years, or fined $5000.

Jerry Giesler, Mitchum's attorney, said he would ask for probation. That is permissible on a conviction of conspiracy to possess the narcotic.

But Mitchum's marijuana troubles with the law are only half over.

The other count, which was postponed until Feb. 9, accuses him of actually puffing a "reefer." If found guilty of that he could not ask probation.

Dean Drifts In After Four Days In Frigid Air!!

Dean Paul M. Pitman hung an "Open for business as usual" sign on his office door early this morning after an unanticipated four-day battle with mid-western snow storms.

The popular Dean of Men, who is Washington Square's answer to the Army chaplain, arrived in San Francisco Monday morning on a train that was only 127 hours late.

Dean Pitman attended a meeting of the Danforth Foundation council in St. Louis, Mo., last week, and had planned to return last Friday, but "ole" man winter, running rampant, put a definite stop to the dean's plans.

Campus Issues Hanging Fire

By BOB BODEN
Spartan Daily Editor

With some hot issues still hanging-fire in the conference rooms and in the minds of San Jose State Spartans, winter quarter may well bloom into one of far-reaching consequences.

Late last quarter the Student Union board promised to review the Student Union card playing ban following a substantial cooling-off period. Members of the board wanted to see how the ban was received.

Spartan Daily investigation brought both sides of the controversy before the student body, but pointed to general dissatisfaction with the ban which reigned on campus. Now an occasional Monopoly board makes its appearance, Chess experts vie in silent struggle, checkers click and other time-killing pastimes swing into view.

The question may well arise: "Are card players being discriminated against?" or "What is the difference between cards and other games?"

Anti-Discrimination

Nearly a year old is the flare-up of anti-discrimination sentiment which shook the campus in spring quarter of '48. Appearing on a ballot, the constitution-amending measures were narrowly defeated. A critical ASB turned thumbs down because of freedom-restricting qualities of the propositions.

There was both good and evil in the proposed amendments. Both were lost!

Even as if the controversy on Washington square had ignited a fuse, events in the fight against discrimination swept across the nation, resounding in the news columns of many a city newspaper. Several fraternity chapters rebelled against anti-negro clauses. Even the annual conference of more than 50 national fraternal organizations raised a weak voice against discrimination.

Biggest news along the firing line came recently when brand-new Brandies college, named for famed Judge Brandies, announced a stern policy against discrimination on campus. There also will be no limiting registration, or no closing of classes.

College Life Committee recently indicated its members were nearing completion of a study of discrimination on campus. When the committee reports, it may provide the basis for sound student action to save the good and destroy the evil of anti-discrimination legislation.

Growing Pains

Sparta is growing out of its shoes. With the 1949 football schedule completed it becomes obvious that Spartan stadium no longer will accommodate everyone who wishes to attend. The athletic department expects to turn the fans away at more than one game next season.

With this situation in the offing the controversy over non-transferable ASB cards may rear its head once again this quarter. When there were plenty of seats no matter how many non-students attended on a "card" there wasn't much of a problem.

The dollar signs now loom in gigantic proportion to previous years. "Take" at the game may well mean the maintenance of hard-won SJS supremacy in other sports. For instance, we cannot draw big game basketball teams without substantial financial guarantees. Spartans may well see the clamps screwed down tight on transfer of ASB cards.

May Be Momentous

This quarter may be a momentous one. It demands an informed student body, a thinking student body. In this interest the Spartan Daily pledges accurate presentation of the facts. Every possible attempt will be made to present all sides of controversial subjects.

Thrust and Parry columns are open to any ASB member who can speak his piece in 250 words or less.

Geology Professor Has Varied Career

Marking his 19th anniversary as a faculty member, Dr. Wayne E. Kartchner, associate professor of geology, says that he's just on the first lap of his teaching career. He's taught all kinds of people, from ordinary students to nature lovers to prisoners of war, "Studying rocks is a lot more fun than most people think and it turns out to be very profitable at times," states the husky six-footer.

Sunny California?

POMONA, Calif., Jan. 10—(UP)—Mt. San Antonio college and Bonita High school today planned to close because of the cold wave as most students tended smudged pots in citrus groves during freezing nights.

The college will be shut Tuesday and Wednesday, and the high school closed today for an indefinite time.

Pomona and Claremont public schools, which granted a two-day holiday last week, were open today, but authorities were considering shutting down again.

Aly Files As London Paper Claims Insult

GSTAAD, Switzerland, Jan. 10 (UP)—Indian Prince Aly Khan has ordered his Paris lawyers to draw up a divorce application to free him from his English wife, Princess Joan, and presumably pave the way for his marriage to movie star Rita Hayworth, a source close to the prince said today.

The globe-girdling romance of the curvaceous dancing star and the son of the fabulous Aga Khan has taken them to this Swiss ski resort, where Miss Hayworth emphatically denied a London newspaper report that she preferred a movie career in Europe to continuance of her film work in the United States.

"Of course I want to go back to Hollywood and I am looking forward to it," she said in a telephone interview.

LONDON, Jan. 10—(UP)—An influential British newspaper pledged itself today not to report further the global romance of film star Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan on grounds that "this affair is an insult to all decent women."

The pledge was made by the newspaper The People, circulation 5,000,000, which joined the Sunday Pictorial, circulation 4,000,000, in a sweeping denunciation of the romance.

"This is the last time this newspaper will report in its columns the squalid love affair of film star Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan," The People said. "We have taken this decision on grounds of public decency because we believe that the extravagant expeditions of this colored Indian prince and his 'friend' have become an insult to decent-minded women the world over."

Dr. Kartchner's interest in geology began when, as a boy in Provo, Utah, he became acquainted with a neighbor who was a geologist. He has carried this interest all through life and now sports a sizeable collection of practically every type of rock known.

He received his A.B. at Brigham Young university in 1927, his M.A. at Stanford in 1936, and his Ph.D. at the University of Arizona in 1944. He came to San Jose State college in 1929.

Lived in Germany

From 1922 until 1925 Dr. Kartchner lived in Germany as a missionary for Church of Latter Day Saints, which gave him a valuable knowledge of Germany and of the German people, as well as serving the church.

Apparently the Army didn't need many geologists, for when the war began, Dr. Kartchner served in the Army Air Corps as an instructor of aero-equipment for his first year and a half. His knowledge of German was realized for he was transferred to Phoenix, Ariz., to help in the educational processing of German prisoners of war. There were 3500 prisoners at this particular camp, most of them being former naval personnel captured during the early phases of the war.

Certain individuals were selected by Army officials as good prospects to receive education on the principles and application of a democratic form of government. "These men were supposed to have been returned to Germany to help establish a new German government," states Dr. Kartchner, "but circumstances have prevented this plan from being realized."

He was then moved to Ft. Eustis, Va., to help finish the indoctrination process. "Those men were shipped back to Germany, some to the Soviet zone, thus temporarily halted in their political and economic rehabilitation," he said.

Returns to State

After four years of service, he was discharged from the Army in 1946 with the rank of captain and returned to teach geology in San Jose.

An ardent family man, Dr. Kartchner hates to be separated from his wife, Leah, and his three daughters, Joyce, 19, Wynette, 17, and Beverly, 10. Their home is at 142 N. 7th street, San Jose.

Grief can take care of itself; but to get the full value of joy you must have somebody to divide it with.

Stronger Sex Weaker Sex, Experts Agree

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—(UP)—Women should give up their seats in buses to men and should marry husbands younger than themselves because the female of the human species really constitute the "stronger sex," two experts agreed today.

Dr. Edward Stieglitz, a specialist on the problems of old age, said on the University of Chicago Roundtable that the average American woman spends eight years of her life as a widow.

He said the average woman marries a man five years older than she is and who is likely to die three years before she does.

George Lawton, a consulting psychologist, said women could avoid the eight years of widowhood in two ways.

He said women should baby men along to keep them from growing old. This could include, he said, giving the men the seats in crowded street cars and buses. It would also help, he said, if they married men younger than themselves.

Hoax On Veterans Is Revealed By VA

A hoax which often results in the disillusionment of a disabled veteran has been tried in many parts of the country with varying degrees of success, according to local officials of the VA.

Briefly, the gag consists of telling the intended victim that, by collecting some specified number of red tear strips from cigarette packages, he will become entitled to some prize, according to the VA.

Prizes offered are usually a seeing-eye dog, a wheel chair, or some other device associated with infirmities or physical disabilities.

Students knowing of persons collecting the red tear strips are urged to inform the victims of the hoax as to its nature, VA officers said.

SJSC Grad Lands Germany Air Job

David R. Thompson, who was graduated from San Jose State college less than three weeks ago, is now holding a civil service job as a junior airport manager in Germany, according to Donald L. James, assistant professor of aeronautical engineering.

Thompson, whose home is in Ben Lomond, majored in aeronautical management. He is a former Army pilot.

The department's only other December graduate, Nick D. Milchevich of Cupertino, has enrolled for post graduate work in commercial and aeronautical courses.

Military Science Colonel Hea Answers Student Queries About Reserve Commissions

Col. James J. Hea, head of the Military Science department, says he is deeply concerned about the large number of students asking for information regarding Reserve Officer commissions.

Reacting from the flood of students answering a recent article in the Daily, Col. Hea said that most of these students are overlooking a very important fact. Upon receiving a Reserve commission, the man must go on active duty for two years immediately.

"I have studied the Army's bulletin at great length," the colonel said, "but I can find no ruling whereby a student can accept a commission and continue in college."

"Besides," Col. Hea said, "the Army's aim in this program is not at the college student. The Army has no intention of raiding the American colleges; that would be defeating our own purposes. The Army wants college men, but only after they have their degrees."

"This present program is for the immediate procurement of young men who are qualified and who are not in college. I think the thing that caught the students' eyes in the Daily article was that to be qualified one only needed to have completed two years of college."

"Or perhaps," Col. Hea concluded, "some of our students are getting just a little weary of the rigors of college life and would welcome Army life again."

Spartan Head Is On The Way To Campus

At a meeting of the rally committee held last night in the Student Union, it was disclosed by assistant chairman, Walt "Bud" Jenvey, that the long-awaited Spartan head was at last on its way. Jenvey said that a famous sculptor was designing the head, and that the only copy to be made of it was to be sent to San Jose State college.

The usual price for such a product would be $200 or $300, but the sculptor took a fancy to the project, and the college will get the head for only $60, which is the sum appropriated by the Student Council last quarter. The original of the head will go to an art museum.

The head, which is three times normal head size, will be used during half-time in much the same manner as the University of California's famous "Oskie" is used.

Jenvey dubbed the head, "The head with the distinguished appearance."

Reserve Room 'Singstunde' Gets New Look Holds Meeting

The reserve book room is sporting a new look these days. $8668 of comfort has been added to that room in the guise of a new cork tile flooring.

Students would have enjoyed this innovation at the beginning of last quarter but the waterfront strike intervened.

"We had to send men from the college to San Francisco to pick up the tile," said Miss Madge Jennings, assistant in the reserve book room. Miss Jennings went on to say, "The new covering is a mahogany-colored cork composition. Each square is separate, and if damaged can be taken out and replaced readily."

The tile has been on order for some time, the money being appropriated in 1941, but due to the war, lack of materials, and the shipping strike it was not made available until late last December.

Singstunde, which translated from German means "sing hour," is a group which sings German folk and popular songs each Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 in room 21, according to Mrs. Barbara Butler of the Modern Language department.

Any interested Spartans are invited to the Singstunde to participate in the activities.

Phonograph records will be played, and song books are available to the singers. There will also be a piano for accompaniment.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

THE hair that bothered this tortoise didn't run him a race, as they "tort-us" back in school. His hair just kept getting in his eyes! Hartranft Heads SJSC Athletic Delegation To NCAA Confab; Winter Sports Schedule Made

By GEORGE LAJEUNESSE

Representatives of San Jose State's athletic department present at the National Collegiate Athletic Association annual meeting held in San Francisco's Hotel St. Francis last weekend included: Glenn S. Hartranft, director of athletics, Bill Hubbard, football mentor, Walt Williams, baseball coach; Danny Hill, director of athletic news, and Lincoln Kimura, trainer.

The times and places of winter and spring athletic activities of the California Collegiate Athletic Association were among the many varied topics under discussion, according to Hartranft.

CCAA Sports Calendar

Sports calendar for the California colleges in the association is as follows: boxing, wrestling, and gymnastics at San Diego, March 11-12; the conference track meet at Fresno, May 7; swimming meet at College of the Pacific, May 6-7; golf matches also at COP on the same date; and the tennis tournament to be held this year at Santa Barbara on May 6-7.

NCAA Golf at Iowa

In the national sports picture the annual NCAA track meet will take place in Berkeley, Calif., Hartranft said, and the national golf tournament under the auspices of the NCAA will be held on the Iowa State college courses, Ames, Iowa.

Baseball's end of the NCAA program, according to Coach Williams, included three main projects: 1) to build up a co-operative atmosphere between collegiate and professional baseball; 2) setting the date of the national baseball tournament; and 3) a clinical meeting in which baseball training films were shown, including batting, infield practice, fielding and highlights of last year's world series games.

Kimura sat in on the first annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Athletics Trainers Association, held in conjunction with the NCAA conference. Purposes of the gathering were to discuss locker room facility improvement in certain western stadium and sports auditoriums and to advance the prestige of the professional trainer.

Felice To Lead Spartan Matmen

Pat Felice, senior P. E. major, was chosen captain of the San Jose State varsity wrestling team in an election held last Friday.

Teammate John Jackson was elected co-captain and Leo Raiche was voted honorary co-captain.

Felice, a 175-pounder, is a two-year varsity letter man. He competed in tryouts for the U. S. Olympic wrestling squad last year, advancing as far as the eliminations at Ames, Iowa.

Fox (Grey) Hunt In Reverse

The Spartan Daily would be the last sheet on the peninsula to buck the gun, but a certain coach of a play-for-pay eleven in and around the bay area was seen in the gym yesterday chatting with Coach Bill Hubbard and San Jose's prize catch of the season, Center Bob Pifferini. Nobody signed nothin', or rather, nobody said nothin'; but indications look like San Jose has graduated another success into the world of sports.

Williams To Call Baseball Meeting

Spring comes a little early to Sparta this year with the announcement made today by Coach Walt Williams, Spartan baseball mentor, of the first meeting of all baseball candidates on Monday, Jan. 17.

Followers of the national pastime are urged by Coach Williams to be present at the important first meeting. Time of the meet will be 3:30 p.m. in room B60 and the date, Williams repeated, is Monday, Jan. 17.

The meeting is open to all freshman and varsity candidates of the Spartan baseball team, Williams emphasized, and a large turnout is expected.

New York District Attorney Frank Hogan (right) congratulates Dave Shapiro, co-captain of George Washington University basketball team, after arrest of four men on charges of attempting to bribe Shapiro to "throw" a game with Manhattan College. They wanted George Washington to lose "by about 18 points," but the team won, 71-63. Hogan's office said Shapiro had been working with the police for some time.

Local Cagers Home First Time In 1949

By HAL SONGER

San Jose State's basketball forces will attempt to put an end to San Francisco State college's winning ways tonight when the two quintets tangle in Spartan gym. In the preliminary tilt starting at 6:30 p.m. Coach Tom Cureton's Spartan Frosh cagers trade baskets with the Gator Bakes. Boasting a record of nine cage victories this season, the Gators are out to make it two in a row over the Spartans. However, the bay city five will be playing without the services of their ace forward Johnny Burton, who has been suffering from a stomach ailment.

Coach Dan Farmer has revamped his hardwood squad to cope with the gap left by Burton. In their last outing, minus their star forward, the Gators downed the California Aggies by a 56-46 score. Reserve guard Leon Williford tanked 13 tallies to pace the state five over the Aggies.

Burton's place will be filled in by little Jimmy Wong, who has been outstanding in recent tussles. At the other forward spot will be Dick Jaensch, a veteran hoop artist. Jaensch was as hot as the proverbial firecracker last week when he racked up 33 digits during one evening's work.

Gators Are Well Balanced

Moving up from his usual guard position, Bud Callas takes over the starting center assignment. Angelo Maestri, the regular pivot man, has been shifted to guard to add height for backboard control. Coach Farmer has selected Gus Scoufus to open at guard along with Maestri. Despite the loss of Burton, the Gators will field a well-balanced team.

San Jose State will be battling to hit the coveted .500 per cent circle this evening. So far this campaign the Spartans have won six contests in 12 outings.

Spartans Had Hard Weekend

Coach Walt McPherson's hoopmen had a grueling weekend in southern California, where they successfully opened defense of the CCAA cage crown. The Washington Square boys showed plenty of never-say-die spirit in the conference opener against San Diego.

On the brink of defeat twice, the Gold and White clad casaba men came back to defeat the Aztecs 55-52 in two overtime periods. Stu Inman and Don McCaslin hit the net for five points to insure a conference victory in the final overtime.

Apparently weakened by the great exhibition of basketball in the Aztec city, San Jose State could not keep up the pace and lost to the Pepperdine Waves on the following evening. The final box-score read Pepperdine 53 and San Jose 49, but only after the Spartans went ahead 44 to 43 with five minutes remaining in the game.

Inman Paces Locals

Sharpshooting Stu Inman paced the locals in their southland invasion, ringing up 33 tallies in the two tilts. Don McCaslin and Bob Wuesthoff followed with 20 and 16 points respectively.

Bothered by a charley-horse, Bob Hagen will see limited action tonight. The speedy forward has received treatments for his leg and should be ready to go. However, his able replacement Bob Crowe is in tip-top condition.
