Eta Epsilon to Host Workshop Of Home Economics Delegates From 12 Campuses March 4-5

Varied interests centering around the field of home economics will be the theme of the 1949 convention of province 15, when San Jose State college's chapter of Eta Epsilon will host the workshop for the group, composed of college home economics clubs from all of Northern California and Nevada. Alida Morse, province president, said yesterday that Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie will give the welcoming address when the group convenes Friday evening, March 4, for the first in a series of activities at the two-day conference.

At a banquet in the college cafeteria, Dr. Margaret Jones, head of the home economics department, will present a summary of all the important phases of home economics which will serve as a basis for discussion groups at the convention.

Tours Local Plants

Activities planned for the conference period include a breakfast to be held at the Ste. Claire hotel Saturday morning, March 5, and a luncheon to be held the same day on the campus.

Miss Morse said that the program will include group discussions, addresses by speakers representing various fields of home economics, and tours of the Eggo foods products plant, the Chase Candy Co., the Levi Strauss Co., and the California Prune and Apricot Growers association plant. Programs of music and entertainment will also be included. The group will tour the San Jose State college campus under the guidance of Delta Nu Theta, honorary home economics society. An enumeration of individual club activities and an evaluation of the workshop will conclude the convention.

12 Schools On Hand

Representatives and advisers from the University of California, the college of agriculture at Davis, Chico State college, Fresno State college, the University of Nevada, Humboldt State college, Mills college, College of Pacific, Visalia junior college, Modesto junior college, Hartnell college, and San Jose State college will attend the convention.

Officers of province 15 are Alida Morse, San Jose State college, president; Althea Benedict, University of Nevada, vice-president; June Jorgenson, Humboldt State college, and Ariel Erickson, University of California, secretaries.

San Jose Student Calvin O. Carter Claimed By Death

Calvin Osborne Carter, 23-year-old junior merchandising major from Hayward, passed away from a prolonged illness yesterday morning at 8 o'clock.

Carter is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carter and an older brother Sidney Carter.

While a student at San Jose State for three years, Carter was a member of Delta Sigma Gamma fraternity and a member of the inter-fraternity council.

Carter served 27 months with the postal unit of the U.S. Army. He had attended Abraham Lincoln high school in San Jose before entering the service. Upon his discharge from the Army, Carter entered San Jose State college where he was in attendance until the time of his illness.

Funeral services will be held in Hayward.

Prom Queen Judge Has Been Named

George M. Downing, former Spartan, will be one of the three judges for the junior prom queen contest, March 5, Carl Holmberg, queen contest chairman, said yesterday.

Miss Trula Hart, women's commentator for radio station KEEN, will be another of the queen contest judges for the junior prom, "Jardin du Soir."

Holiday Issue Of Daily Was Badly Jinxed

Tuesday was Feb. 22. We on the Spartan Daily staff know this because it was George Washington's birthday. Most normal people took a holiday Tuesday. We didn't. We should have and might as well have. As far as we on the Daily are concerned, Tuesday, Feb. 22, was Friday the 13th.

Anyone who scanned the Wednesday edition of the Spartan Daily—and not too closely—can see why.

It all started out when the printers of the daily found that they had misplaced some copy. With due haste Editor Bob Boden sped between the Spartan Daily office and the Globe Printing Co. tracking down the missing literature.

Then there was the transposition on page six. We wish to correct the hurried (and harried) printer's error on the two lead stories.

Mrs. Anna Louise Strong was not one of the four mysterious projectiles—jet-propelled or otherwise—to have landed "in the U.S. zone of Germany since October, 1948." The stories following the leads were switched and officials of the Globe Printing Co. have red faces today.

If the above were not enough, the press caught hold of some defective paper and was forced to shut down for minor repairs. This necessitated the Spartan Daily's being tardy to some of its readers yesterday.

'48 Spartan Grad Gets 'Times' Job

Veronica Baker, former Spartan Daily staff member, has taken a position with the San Mateo Times editorial department, according to word received recently.

Authors Discuss Their Specialties

The Teaching of Social Business class heard a discussion conducted by four authors Tuesday, according to Commerce department sources.

The guest speakers included Ernest H. Crabbe, Cincinnati, O., who wrote a junior business training text series. W. Harmon Wilson, author of a text book on consumer economics and one in business organization and management, and Pat Curry, author of a book on business arithmetic, also attended. Dr. Earl W. Atkinson, instructor of the class and an author in his own right, moderated the discussion.

Instead of the usual reports on teaching these subjects, the authors summarized the highlights of their specialties. They discussed reasons for teaching commercial subjects, what to teach as material for a given course, and how to teach it.

New Housing List

New application forms for housing in Spartan City are now being accepted from married veterans, according to Miss Bernice Van Gundy of the Dean of Men's office.

Miss Van Gundy revealed that, "although 14 names remain on the Spartan City waiting list, a new list will be compiled so that we may be prepared for unexpected vacancies which may arise."

Veterans may obtain application forms in the Dean of Men's office, room 1.

Hold Interviews

Elementary teaching candidates who would like teaching positions in Kern county should sign up for interviews to be held Feb. 28, stated Miss Doris K. Robinson, director of placement, yesterday.

'Club Parisian' Is Pronounced Social Success

The Frosh Hop, "Club Parisian", was a success financially as well as socially, according to John Steele, dance chairman.

"The crowd seemed to enjoy everything. Sheldon Taix and his orchestra provided very fine music. The decoration committee went all out to give the gym a night club atmosphere which included a marquee at the door, tables, soft lights, crepe paper elephants and champagne glasses on the walls and refreshment bar. Coke and cakes were served as refreshments," Steele said.

The entertainment, which included Jim Wright as MC, a Spanish dance by Vivian Haggood, songs by Greta Cannon, and artistic caricatures by Barney Luce, was very well done and appreciated by all in attendance, Steele concluded.

A Phi O Requests New Project Ideas

Suggestions for service projects are requested by Alpha Phi Omega, national service organization, according to Dale La Mar, president. Students and faculty who see a need for a project are invited to place their ideas in box "A" of the student organizations mail, in the Coop.

One of A Phi O's past projects has been the construction of two picnic tables and a barbecue pit for student body use. Another was the recent installation of pencil sharpeners.

Money for these service projects is derived from student book exchange profits. Proceeds from the sale of advertising on binders go into a scholarship fund, La Mar explained.

Candidates' Views

Candidates nominated for ASB and class offices at Tuesday's assemblies are invited to drop in at the Spartan Daily office in B93 today at 1:30 p.m. for interviews with Daily reporters.

Only candidates who appear for interviews can be given space in Friday's Daily to outline their platforms and political opinions. Reporters George Stratton, Speed Geduldig, and Len Kreidt will be available for the interviews.

Seniors Hear ASB Politicos Give Speeches

Candidates for senior offices will be introduced to the 11:30 senior orientation class in Morris Dailey auditorium today, according to Bob Sampson, senior class president.

Each candidate, as a part of his introduction, will be required to give a short speech, Sampson continued. Those to be introduced include George Link and Bob Barmettler, president; Bill Swasey and Dick Mitchell, vice-president; Glenna Shaw, secretary; Joan Polek and Bobbie Rodenborn, treasurer, and Rhoda Anderson and Jean Giles, council representative.

The junior class will present a skit at the meeting. Short information films and a cartoon will conclude the program, Sampson said.

Seniors to View Prom Queen Prizes

Prizes for the queen of the Junior Prom, "Jardin du Soir", will be modeled today at 11:30 a.m. before the senior orientation class, according to Carl Holmberg, queen contest chairman.

Any ASB co-ed is eligible to win the prizes that will be given to the queen and her attendants. Three judges will choose the winners from among the dancers on the floor at the Junior Prom, March 5, in the Civic auditorium.

Bishop's Three-Hour Satire Displays Spots of Sparkle In It's Initial Performance

By BOB BODEN

Spartan Revelries of 1949 dragged its way across the boards of Morris Dailey auditorium last night. Sparks of brilliant satire kept the show from being a flop.

The ponderous production staged by Ray Bishop was a valiant attempt at an extravaganza, but it was too long, nearly falling on its "ganza."

Starting off slow the action built up through four numbers to hit a sudden burst of audience enthusiasm in the Rally Committee sketch. Ed Klien did a terrific job as the frustrated yell leader. He couldn't draw a yell until Fifi Le Flume, burlesque baby, flounced on stage.

Spartan Spinners whirled through a rousing Spanish dance production number. They were a well drilled team, marking them as one of the top acts.

When the big wheels get together something is sure to pop, and plenty did in the Student Council act. From the time Tom Bulkhead, ASB president, called his crew, Dopey Arnold, Don Waterman, Roy Chevrolet, Pat Welcher and Ester Strongly to order, until the meeting adjourned in confusion there was one long howl from the first-nighters.

The Council satire was the ultimate of the entire show. Joe Juliano as the domineering president turned in an inspired bit of acting.

Sparkling across the stage as one of the other high spots of the show was the "Registrar's Office" sketch. Marve Braunstein, as Gibbon Simmon, led the hilarious action with his outstanding flare for natural comedy. As the Frustrated Frosh, Ed Klien, followed a close second, making the sketch one of the top items.

Main failure of the show was its length. An hour of the three might have been cut. The music was especially fine, but the vocalists lacked enough volume to "reach" the audience.

The short blackout type gags packed a solid punch. Orchids for top performance go to Jack Brassill as Dean Seedman.

"Heider is well-known in San Francisco," Miss Rodenborn said. "I am sure that students will find his music very 'danceable'. Students who would like to request songs should contact Duke Deras, entertainment committee chairman."

A nangel motif is being used in the dance decorations and publicity posters placed on the campus. Large paper angels will decorate the Civic auditorium, reported the dance chairman.

The annual Revelries dance is sponsored by the student body and is planned by the Social Affairs committee.

Committee chairmen for the dance are Joan O'Neil, patrons; Pat Gardiner, police; and Duke Deras, entertainment. Miss Rodenborn is also in charge of decorations.

Betty Brisbin is chairman of the Social Affairs committee.

Education Majors Investigate Secondary School Conditions

Four secondary schools in Santa Clara county and one in Centerville underwent a thorough study last week, according to Dr. Henry C. Meckel, associate professor of education.

The investigators were a group of 60 secondary education majors from San Jose State college who, under the supervision of Dr. Meckel, observed the schools from the viewpoint of communities they serve. Emphasis was laid on the student body, administrative and curricular organizations, and educational facilities, Dr. Meckel said.

Schools visited were Washington Union high school at Centerville, Live Oak Union high school and Fremont Union high school in Sunnyvale, Mountain View Union high school in Santa Clara, and Roosevelt junior high school in San Jose.

Dr. Meckel praised the principals, counselors, and curriculum directors of the schools and said that "through their efforts our students were given a very complete picture of the various phases of secondary school organization."

For convenience, the students were divided into seven groups of about eight students each. A chairman was appointed to lead each of the groups. These were Melvin Blomquist, Frank J. Kennedy, Douglas Haukins, James Schwartz, Charles Blackwell, James Hall, and Mary Ellen Parsons.

Ben Pettus, junior journalism major, was chosen Jack of Hearts at the AWS traditional valentine dance, Heart's Delight, held last Friday night, according to Marilyn Zeller, acting president.

Pettus was awarded a merchandise order from Hart's department store by Betty Tonkin, hostess at Hart's, and with fan fare and spotlights, the blushing Jack of Hearts was crowned by Nancy Etherton.

Miss Zeller expressed her appreciation for the help of all committee members, who were responsible for the successful dance. Co-chairmen for the affair were Rhoda Anderson and Joan Merritt. ## 'Federal Aid' Is Recommended By Schoolmen

SAN FRANCISCO.—(UP)—The regional conference of the American association of School Administrators late yesterday urged the President and Congress to act immediately on federal aid to education.

The educators said in a telegram to the President and congressional leaders:

"Communism thrives on ignorance. In these critical times, the schools must be strengthened to teach youth effectively the rights, privileges and responsibilities of living in a democracy."

"Federal aid would eradicate substandard schools in the poorest states and lift the quality of teaching in all states," the statement said.

The new conference statement was prepared by Willard E. Goslin, superintendent of schools, Pasadena, Cal., and president of the association; Miss Mabel Studebaker, Erie, Pa., president of the National Education association; Dr. Edgar Fuller, Washington, D.C., executive secretary of the National Council of Chief State School officers; Arthur F. Corey, San Francisco, state executive secretary of the California Teachers association; and Dr. Worth McClure, Washington, D.C., executive secretary of the School Administrators association.

Skiers' Party Is Spring Plan

"Five big days of skiing, dancing, card-playing, singing before a roaring fire-place, and having a rollocking time in general," will be offered to any member or prospective member of the San Jose State college ski club during the between-sessions vacation, according to Publicity Manager Bobbie Brown.

Site of the proposed "grand time" is the Cal ski lodge near Norden on Donner summit. The lodge has been borrowed from the University of California for the week of Monday, March 28, through Friday, April 1, Miss Brown revealed yesterday.

Three dollars a day will provide trip members with food and shelter, Miss Brown said. She added that those who go on the trip need not stay for the entire five days, but may stay only one or two days.

While only club members will go on the trip, anyone may go by simply joining the club, Bobbie explained. All members must sign up for the outing at one of the weekly meetings, and reservations are made on a "first-come, first served" basis.

Attorney A. Brigham Rose filed the claim for Dillon who recently was arrested but cleared of any connection with the murder of Elizabeth Short. During his questioning, Dillon "fingered" another man, who was quickly absolved.

Spartans Battling Pasadena Cal Aggies in Ring Tonight

The undefeated Cal Aggie and improving Pasadena City College boxing teams invade Spartan gym tonight to take their best shots at San Jose State's perfect ring record. The first bout is scheduled for 8 p.m.

The Aggies hold convincing wins over Chico State and Nevada, and a narrow decision over UCLA, but will run up against a Spartan juggernaut tonight that has been making noises like a national contender. Coach Dee Portal's San Joseans got their dander up last week and trimmed UCLA good and proper, 7-1. The Aggies eked out only a 5-4 win over the same squad, and hence will be underdogs this evening.

Brown Leads Aggies

Top man for the agricultural pugilists is 155 pounder Don Brown, who has two wins over San Jose's Bobby Anderson. Brown took a disputed decision from Anderson in the Pacific Coast 145 pound finals last year. Tonight, however, he draws hard punching Wayne Fontes. Fontes has stowed his last two opponents away with TKO's in the first round, but may have to go the route with Brown tonight.

Mac Martinez, Portal's tripphammer punching 125 pounder, meets Bernard Callahan of the Cal Aggies in the fourth bout of the evening and will be out after his second straight TKO. Martinez tossed so many punches at UCLA's Hideo Tanaka last week that he has been suffering a slight case of arm weariness as of late. Callahan is rated on a par with Martinez, however, and should give the Spartan featherweight considerable competition.

San Jose's Raul Diez, and Aggie Del Watterson, both 165 pounders, shape up as the two most evenly matched punchers on the card. Watterson is clever, but Diez packs the harder punch of the two.

Bulldogs Return

Coach Gerald "Getzie" Harris will return with virtually the same crew that dropped a 5-3 verdict to Portal's men last week in the Southern California Invitation Tournament. San Jose will counter with a complete change in all weight divisions.

Leiser Boosts Spartan Daily Circuit Plan

The San Francisco Chronicle's famous sports editor, Bill Leiser, yesterday endorsed the new athletic conference plan suggested on the sports page of the Spartan Daily.

Leiser in his column stated, "We think the universities are missing a most important impetus by ignoring the possibilities of either a six or eight-team playing conference."

The conference was first suggested by Arnold B. Wechter in his column, "Press Box Chatter." The league as suggested would include eight teams; San Jose State, University of Utah, University of Nevada, University of San Francisco, Santa Clara, St. Mary's, College of Pacific and Loyola.

Leiser went on to say, "It wouldn't even have to be a conference with eligibility rules. It wouldn't need a czar, just a recording secretary, who could be the publicity man of any of the colleges included."

Oregon State Mat Team in Prelims

San Jose State's varsity wrestlers will trade holds with the Oregon State Beavers at 6 p.m. tonight, preliminary to the scheduled boxing card in Spartan Gym.

Coach Bob Antonaccl's northeners are composed mostly of first year men, but veteran Paul Buhler, 175, is one of the better light heavyweights on the Coast.

Buhler will probably face Dick Campbell, recent 175 pound champ of the Novice Wrestling Tournament.

Eight bouts are scheduled.

Tonight's Card

SJS Batmen Meet Alumni in First Ball Game of '49

In the first outing of the year, Coach Walt Williams will pit his varsity baseballers against their older brothers, the alumni, this Saturday afternoon at Spartan field.

Williams intends to use three pitchers in this initial game of the 1949 season. Bob Santos, varsity holdover from last year, will open the game and will pitch the first three innings. Cliff Craig, southpaw from last year's frosh team, will take the next three and Pete Mesa, fireball right-hander from

State Swim Team Dunked by Classy Indian Pool Crew

Ralph Sala skippered his Stanford swim mates to an expected 58-17 victory over a green San Jose State team Tuesday before 200 fans in the local pool.

Sala set two pool records—the 220 and 440-yard freestyle races. In the 220 his mark of 2:13.7 erased the old time by one-tenth of a second. Sala chopped several seconds off the former quarter-mile record with a 4:49.8 performance.

San Jose's star of the evening was Captain Pat McConnell, ace diver, who was an easy victor in the springboard event. His teammate Bob Edminster added the final punch by placing second ahead of a pair of Indians.

Stanford graduate Bob Anderson, NCAA and PCI champ, demonstrated his famous flip turns in an exhibition.

last year's frosh, will wind up the game.

State Hoopmen Meet with COP Tigers Friday

College of Pacific cagers move into Spartan gym Friday night with their sights set on halting San Jose State's bid to capture the second straight CCAA basketball crown.

A victory over the Tigers from Stockton would give the Spartans undisputed claim to the conference title. However, a San Jose defeat would make the Santa Barbara contest Saturday the "big game" of the season. The Gauchos with a record of five wins and three losses remain as the lone threat to the McPhersonmen.

COP comes to town fresh from a 60-52 win over Santa Clara's Bronco Tuesday evening. Big Bill Wirt was the spark in the triumph with 17 points, mainly via the hook shot route. The 6 ft., 4 in. forward also boasts considerable experience at the center post.

Phil Ortez and Bud Proulx also enjoyed at big night with Santa Clara, dropping in 13 apiece. Sophomore Howie Pearce, 6 ft., 6½ in. center, displayed plenty of ability in the previous meeting between San Jose and Pacific.
