EARTH SHOCKS FELT HERE

'Peaceful Waters'

"Peaceful Waters" reads the sign some prophetic owner painted on this garage at Sugar Lake, Mo. There's plenty of water all right, but not much of it is very peaceful, as the Missouri River loosed from its winter-long ice-jam, ran wild in the area.

San Andreas Activity Jars SJS, Bay Region

SAN FRANCISCO. (UP)—A sharp earthquake jarred millions of Californians awake in the San Francisco Bay region yesterday and caused some minor damage in shattered window panes, dishes and broken water pipes.

There were no injuries reported although the quake rattled windows like drums beating, tumbled canned goods and dishes from shelves and was felt distinctly in a 200-mile area.

The temblor was recorded at 4:29:10 a.m. (PST) and lasted about 30 seconds. It apparently centered on the San Andreas fault, the long earth flaw which cleaves California from the Oregon border to Mexico and was responsible for the historic San Francisco earthquake of April 18, 1906.

The University of California seismographs picked up two separate shocks. The first, recorded at 4:28:59 a.m. (PST), was described by Professor Perry Byerly as being "a good quake."

He said it lasted 11 minutes on the record of his machines, but pointed out the shock might have been felt for only a few seconds.

collapsed in downtown Hollister. Two chimneys tumbled and the elevator in the county court house refused to work after the quake. No estimate was placed on damage but there was a "good amount of loss," mostly through breakage and damage to store merchandise.

Pirandello's Play Begins Run at 8:15

"Right You Are, (If You Think You Are)" fourth Speech and Drama department production of the season, opens tonight in the Little Theater. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Young will portray Lamberto Laudisi, Mrs. McCurdy will play Signora Frola, and Williams will play her son-in-law, Ponza.

Commendatore Agazzi, mayor of the little town in which the play is set, will be played by Don Holladay; his wife, Amalia, will be played by Shirley Wilber; and their daughter, Dina, will be played by Gwen Dam.

Stanley Schwimmer and Rizza Ellis will be seen as Sirelli and Signora Sirelli; Marie Guzzetti will play Signora Cini; Bette Rehorst will play Signora Nenni. Signora Cini and Nenni are the town gossips.

On Lewd Pictures

James Taylor and Audrey Auerbach, newly elected junior justices, assumed their positions at yesterday's meeting of the Student Court. Chief Justice Tom Eddy announced that it was the last meeting of the court to be held this quarter, unless they were requested by the Student Council to sit again next week.

Dick Robinson, prosecuting attorney for the court, presented a report of his findings in the matter of the indecent pictures which appeared on campus during the recent elections. His report stated that at the request of Dean of Men Paul Pitman, he had made an investigation into the matter, but thus far had been able to make no headway.

"I feel that it would be next to impossible to locate the culprits," Robinson said.

His report stated further that he hoped, during the next elections, the privilege of political advertising on campus would not be misused by posting lewd or indecent pictures around the campus.

At the request of the Student Council, Chief Justice Eddy appointed Don DeGeller to check the Spartan Daily to make sure that no off-campus organizations were given free advertising in the paper. The constitution, according to Eddy, absolutely forbids such practices.

Reitzel Gives Out End-of-Term News

The following end-of-the-quarter announcements were released by Dr. M. E. Reitzel, head of the Art department, according to Clara Bianchi in the Art office.

Students who receive incomplete grades in I.A. 56, jewelry, last quarter should make up their work before final week, Miss Bianchi said. The lab, B53, will be opened Tuesdays and Thursdays by special arrangement. Mrs. Wennberg will be in room B53 at 11 a.m. to make arrangements.

Senior students who must fulfill an art requirement for graduation are asked to make arrangements in the Art office immediately. Arrangements for pre-registration will be made.

Those wishing to take advanced jewelry next quarter are asked to sign in the Art office also. A class is tentatively scheduled for 2:30-4:30 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and will be offered if enough students sign up. Miss Bianchi said that students who fail to sign up now will not be admitted to the class.

Oldest Grad Age 102 Dies Monday

Evan T. Pettit, 102-year-old graduate of San Jose State college, died at his Cupertino home Monday following a short illness.

Prior to his death Monday, Pettit was the oldest living graduate of San Jose State college.

The centenarian plus was born in Pennsylvania in 1846 where he began teaching school at the age of 17. Later he moved to Missouri.

He was lured to California in 1876 by reports of high wages—$70-$90 a month.

Upon arriving in California Pettit found that he had to have a teaching license. He enrolled in the State Normal School, now San Jose State college, from which he was graduated in 1878.

pointed out the shock might have been felt for only a few seconds.

Office Buildings Sway

Byerly said a second shock was recorded at 4:57 a.m. Center of the first temblor was about 35 miles from Berkeley, he said, while the second was about 75 miles away.

Normally deserted downtown streets in San Francisco were filled with hundreds of curious persons who dressed hastily and dashed outside to see if the shocks caused noticeable damage.

Newspapers and radio stations were swamped with hundreds of telephone calls from sleepy citizens, jarred awake by the shocks.

Downtown office buildings swayed and chandeliers swung as much as six inches.

One family in the Mission district reported to police the water pipes in its home were ripped apart by the shock.

Center at Hollister

The quake apparently centered at Hollister, Calif., about 95 miles south of here. Chief of Police Roy K. McPhail said "it was plenty strong" and said it probably caused some damage in the area although police had no immediate estimate of damage.

Palo Alto police said the temblor was accompanied by a "rumbling noise."

A total of six store windows

No estimate was placed on damage but there was a "good amount of loss," mostly through breakage and damage to store merchandise.

Some buildings in town have "appreciable cracks," the police chief said, but none was considered unsafe.

No Injuries Reported

No one was injured in the quake although police said "considerable minor" damage was reported. Hollister, which is 95 miles south of San Francisco is located atop the "San Andreas fault," which has been responsible for previous earthquakes.

In San Jose police described the quake as "strong" and said all the prisoners in the red brick city hall had been awakened.

Police stations and newspaper offices throughout the area were swamped with telephone calls from citizens whose sleep had been disturbed by the shocks.

The temblors were felt as far east as Stockton, 80 miles inland.

Elementary Grade Teachers Needed

Too Many Exams? See Heath Now

Students who have four final examinations scheduled for the same day may petition to have their final schedule changed, Dr. Harrison F. Heath, chairman of the examination committee said yesterday.

Petitions may be obtained from Dr. Heath in room 120A. They should be signed by the instructor and returned to Dr. Heath at least four days before the exam is to be taken.

Students who find it necessary to change their exam schedule for other emergency reasons are asked to see Dr. Heath about the validity of their requests.

'Miss Who' Contest Winner Is Announced

Marion Hugasian, junior physical education major from Los Angeles, is the winner of two free tickets to "Right You Are", which opens tonight in the Little Theater.

Miss Hugasian guessed correctly the identity of "Miss Who No. 2", who is Iris Elwood, student and part-time secretary to Lowell Pratt, public relations man.

Field Jaunt Shows Davis' Science Work

Science's importance to California agriculture was graphically demonstrated to the 600 biology 21 students who traveled to Davis Saturday, according to Dr. Robert Rhodes, biology professor.

"No one came back without the realization that the state is maintaining an impressive agricultural research institution at Davis," the professor claimed.

Highlight of the information-packed tour was an illustrated lecture on selective weed control presented by Division of Botany staff members.

"Slide after slide demonstrated the importance of scientific weed control to California farms," Dr. Rhodes said. "Over one million acres in the state were sprayed last year, with sprays developed by scientists at the College of Agriculture."

Other lectures attended by the group included a talk on bee keeping, one on poultry husbandry and a third on sheep, swine and cattle.

The telling clue was the hair style and style of the blouse Miss Elwood was wearing.

Miss Hugasian can get her tickets by calling at room 57, the speech office.

The winner of the first "Miss Who" contest was Ardith Totten, who guessed the identity of Pat Friar.

Tickets for the production may still be obtained in the speech office, according to Miss Helen Mineta, department secretary.

The price is 60c for holders of ASB cards, and 90c for the general public.

Men To Circle Globe With Roulette Loot

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio. (UP)—Operators of gambling places in Las Vegas and Reno, Nev., may not know it, but they are financing a scientific cruise around the world.

Albert Hibbs Jr., and Dr. Roy Woolford, San Diego, Calif., who used science to beat the roulette wheels in Las Vegas and Reno last year, have started a scientific cruise around the world in a sailboat, Hibbs' father said here today.

The 24-year-old University of Chicago graduates and Navy veterans are financing their venture with $12,000 they won while "experimenting" on roulette wheels in Nevada, Hibbs said.

The two sailed from Miami, Fla., last week for Key West and Cuba. The father said his son and his partner are sailing a 40-foot cutter originally designed as an English channel pilot boat. It is equipped with an auxiliary gasoline engine.

Small Town Plot

Signora Ponza, around whom the story is based is played by Carol Strong. Milo Long plays the butler.

The plot of the play concerns the inhabitants of a small town who are in a hubbub to discover whether or not Mr. Ponza has remarried his first wife or married another woman.

Ponza, the court secretary, believes he has married a new woman when he marries his second wife, but the mother of his first wife believes it is her daughter, who Ponza claims was killed in an earthquake.

In spite of all the claims Ponza makes, the old woman swears that the woman in question is her own daughter. Who is right will be revealed in the course of the play.

Ultra Modern Sets

"Right You Are," although written in 1916, will be presented in ultra-modern settings as designed by J. Wendell Johnson. The whole living room scene is built on a large oval truck and will have none of the conventional angles of a box set. It will have curving walls and ceiling.

When the curtains part, the entire stage set will be moved out onto the forestage.

Doug Morrison is in charge of construction. Ivan Van Perre is stage manager.

The costumes, as created by Mr. Chez Hachl of the costume department, will be imported prints.

Tickets are still available in Room 57, Speech Office.

Russ Cabinet Shakeup

Russian personalities hit the headlines again the other day when the Kremlin announced that V. M. Molotov had been replaced by Andrei Vishinsky as Russian Foreign Minister. Speculation has run rife as to the possible implication of the switch on the international scene and in Russia's domestic politics.

Any major political shuffle in Russia immediately brings up the question of the possible successor to Josef Stalin as head of the Russian state. Speculation in this country always has conceded Molotov a leading position in the race for several reasons. Most important, he is a member of the Politburo, which would seem to be a requirement. His close association with Stalin would seem to be another point in his favor.

Vishinsky is best known in this country for the vitriolic quality of his speeches in the UN. It is impossible to infer his personal attitude toward the West from these speeches since they follow perforce the line originating in the Kremlin. He is not a member of the Politburo, but, according to certain authoritative commentators in this country, has extensive factional backing which makes him a powerful contender for the mantle of Stalin.

Dr. Cyril Bryner, professor of Russian history and language at State, says the change of positions is not significant, due to the nature of the Foreign Minister's position. He says that the duties are technical rather than political and are not concerned with the formation of Kremlin foreign policy. If Molotov had been ousted from the Politburo the move would have had drastic significance for the succession to Stalin's seat and it would have meant the end of Molotov's influence and power, according to Dr. Bryner.

If Dr. Bryner's analysis of the situation is correct we may assume that basic Russian policy will continue on the same broad lines, only replacing the familiar figure of Molotov with that of the vituperative Vishinsky.

Time will answer the question regarding Vishinsky's effect on future international relations. It is to be hoped that his policies will not keep pace with his tongue.

Janet Anderson Likes California

By PATRICIA ROAN

The slender, attractive young woman who spends most of her time in the Student Y lounge is not a local co-ed, although she fools many of the students. She is Mrs. Janet Anderson, executive secretary of the Student Y.

Janet as she is called by young and old alike, has been with the local Student Y since September when she became associate secretary to Mac Carpenter. When Mac left for a leave of absence, the job was capably filled by his small assistant.

With a high honorary college record behind her and four years work in the field of psychology and counseling, Janet is more than able to direct the many activities of the Y group.

She is a graduate of Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pa., where she majored in sociology and psychology. She holds membership in Phi Beta Kappa, and while in college, she was active in many groups.

Worked With Y-Teens

Following her graduation, Janet worked two years as program director for the Y-Teen department of the Camden, New Jersey, YWCA. She then held a position as psychometrician with responsibility for vocational counseling at the Bucknell University Guidance Center.

Janet reports that she enjoys living in California very much.

"The West coast definitely has something to offer me," Janet says. "My husband and I spend most of our spare time viewing the excellent scenery." Janet's husband, Burk Anderson, is studying for his PhD degree in English at Stanford university.

Janet Praises Students

"I am very pleased with the Y program here," Janet commented. "The students have done a terrific job in digging the basement and in completing the other work on our lounge. We feel it is quite comfortable now, and a good many students come in daily to enjoy it."

Janet's plans for the future are uncertain, but she said:

Result of 25 Years' Research

By BOB HEMINGWAY

This summer will mark the end of more than just another school year for Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the English department at San Jose State college. At that time he will send to the publishers the result of a quarter-century of study, research, writing and re-writing—a history of American literature.

Since 1924 the greying, erect, distinguished-looking educator has been haunting libraries throughout the United States, gathering more than 40 notebooks of material for his forthcoming book. The 1200-page college text will include representative American authors from the founding of the colonies to the present time.

Born 54 years ago in McConnellsville, Ohio, Dr. Barry spent his boyhood on a farm. After high school, he entered Ohio Wesleyan university with no particular aim in mind. He earned his way by working at various jobs, ranging from electrician's helper to representative for a breakfast food concern and book salesman.

Became Teacher

Upon the death of his father, he decided teaching would offer the quickest and most steady returns to help support the fatherless family. Consequently, he creed that German could no longer be taught in California high schools.

He switched to English, and in 1924 joined the faculty of San Jose State college. In 1925 he obtained his Ph.D at Stanford and the following year was appointed to his present position.

Son Goes to Stanford

Dr. Barry was married in 1922 and has one son, George, a freshman at Stanford university. "I tried to get him to go to San Jose State," Dr. Barry said, "but he wanted to take electrical engineering and work under Dr. Frederick Terman at Stanford."

During the past year the Barrys have moved to Palo Alto. "We felt that 1½ acres in Saratoga was a better place for us."

Time will answer the question regarding Vishinsky's effect on future international relations. It is to be hoped that his policies will not keep pace with his tongue.

On the Russian domestic scene, the effects of the shuffle probably will not become apparent, if any effects are produced at all, until Josef Stalin passes out of the picture. If this is a minor action in the battle to succeed Stalin it presages a major factional eruption in the future which may well have unpredictable repercussions both in Russia and in world politics.

Expose 993 Jekyll and Hydes

Spartan swains who are worried about competition for the favors of their on-campus Dulcineas may be reassured by the figures released by Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman recently.

It seems that 1218 of the 4260 men students at State are married, a fact which may give undergraduate gallants a feeling of buoyancy, and make our coeds yield to despair.

Further breakdown of the figures, without the aid of chemistry, shows that 1414 men are living at home or with relatives, thereby increasing the population total of neighboring cities and preventing eviction by angry landlords.

Six hundred and ninety-six men are boarding, and 956 are commuting.

Number of men keeping house (married) is 1191.

Men who are rearing their own ulcers in rooms with kitchen privileges number 222.

Males rooming and eating out at bistros, cafes, hamburger stands and other eating establishments total 597. These men don't trust their own efforts but prefer to let others engender their ulcers.

One hundred and twenty-six industrious souls are working (ugh!) for board and room, and 51 are staying at fraternity houses.

Perhaps the most interesting thing about these figures is that the above numbers add up to 5253 which might indicate that we have 993 men living Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde double lives.

Eager... But Not on the Alert

Dick Schefsky of Burlingame is an eager pupil in one of Dr. Rhodes' Biology 21 classes. So eager is Dick that he stayed in San Jose Friday night so he wouldn't need to get up at the crack of dawn in order to make the Biology field trip to Davis last Saturday.

Eager as he was, he overslept. The train left at 6:40 Saturday morning . . . without Schefsky.

With coolness and logic so typical of this part-time used car salesman, he remembered that the train was going to stop for a few minutes in Oakland. He broke all existing records driving up there. Better a few speeding tickets than the 2000 word paper his absence would necessitate.

Dick made the trip. On the way back he became engrossed in a stimulating game of hearts. The train was to stop in Oakland again to change crews. Schefsky would pick his car up there and drive on home. Oakland came. Oakland went. The heart game continued in high fever. Four miles out of the Oakland station, while the train was in the yards changing crews, Dick Schefsky got off the train, hailed a cab and consoled himself with the fact that it had been a good heart game.

Machine vs. Dog Curl Ends Tale!

RICHMOND, Cal., March 8. (UP)—Mrs. Nell Garver has a Pomeranian pooch with a "new look." The dog's tail curls down instead of up.

The alteration took place this morning when "pooch" ran under

A policeman came and removed the motor, but it didn't do any good. The tail didn't end there. Finally a washing machine service man succeeded in freeing the distressed animal by completely disassembling the machine.

OS College Dismisses Alleged Commie Prof

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—The Oregon state Board of Higher Education today upheld the dismissal of Dr. Ralph Spitzer, associate professor of chemistry at Oregon State college who was described by President A. L. Strand as an active follower of the Communist line.

The Board's decision was announced in a letter to the Progressive party of Oregon, which had protested the dismissal of both Dr. Spitzer and L. R. La Vallee, assistant professor of economics as a "violation of academic freedom."

The Board's letter, addressed to Thomas G. Moore, Oregon Progressive party secretary, said:

"Your communication was presented to the state Board of Higher Education at its regular meeting. The Board has directed me to inform you that it has given consideration to the matter and confirms the action of President Strand in not renewing the yearly contracts of Dr. Spitzer and Mr. La Vallee."

Disputes Scientific Fact

Strand previously said Spitzer "has lost the freedom that an instructor and investigator should possess" by choosing to follow the Communist party line against scientific fact.

Dr. Strand specifically charged that Spitzer had supported the "Charlatan" Soviet geneticist, Lysenko against the leading world geneticists. He said Spitzer had endorsed Lysenko in a letter appearing in the Chemical and Engineering News.

"Taken by itself," Dr. Strand said, "Dr. Spitzer's letter in behalf of a completely discredited effort on the part of the Soviet government to subjugate science to its own political ends might be excused as an unfortunate mistake in judgment."

Shows True Light

"But taken along with his pro-Soviet propaganda, the letter shows up in its true light and its import cannot be overlooked."

Both Spitzer and La Vallee had protested the termination of their

Colleges To Issue MA Skins

"There is no question but that we will be issuing Masters degrees in our state colleges," Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, told a group of San Jose State college students and faculty members Tuesday afternoon.

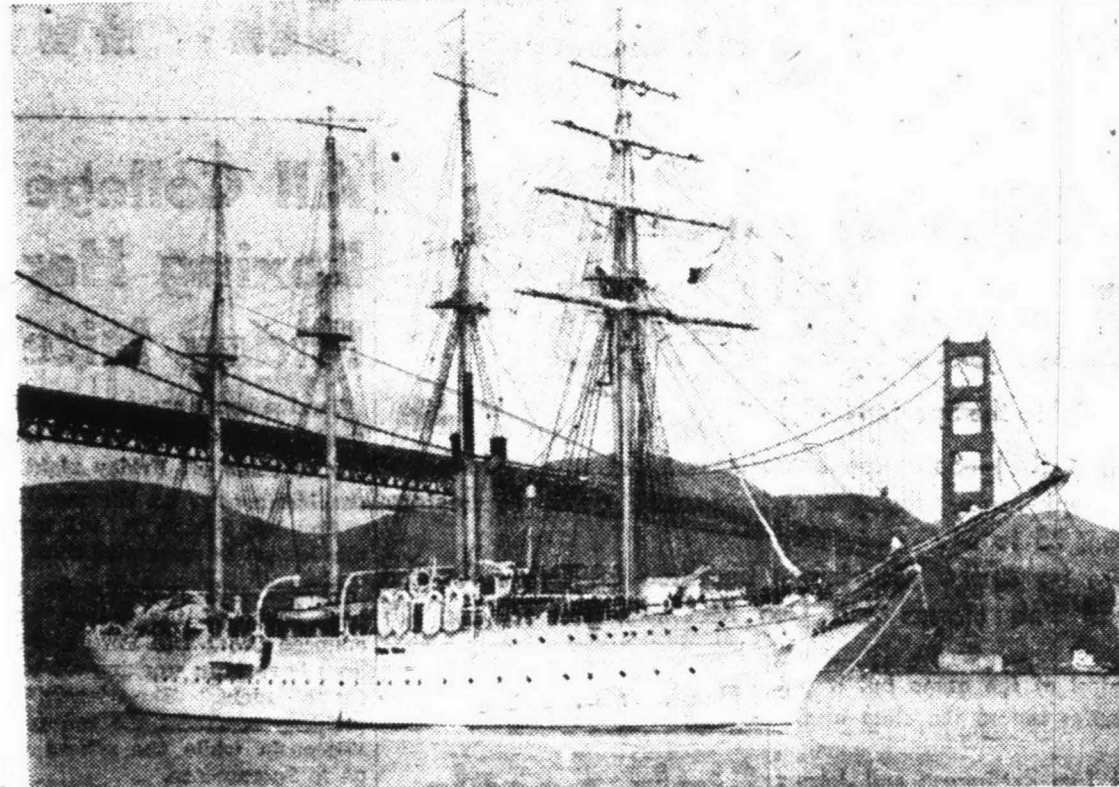

Mr. Simpson made the prediction in a speech before the local chapter of the California Student Teachers association at a meeting in the Science building. He made a special trip from Sacramento for the talk, and was introduced by Dick Bartels, president of the local CSTA chapter.

A need "as urgent as ever" for graduates in most phases of teacher training was cited by Mr. Simpson. There are 16,000 persons teaching in California schools who hold only emergency credentials, and 5000 new teachers are needed annually, he revealed.

Simpson commended the press, particularly the New York Times, for bringing to the public a realization of the worth of the public school teacher. "While this promotion by the papers has helped in securing substantial salary increases for our educators, the pay level is still low in rural areas," he said.

He pointed out three major problems facing the California education system: lack of adequate housing, a shortage of teachers, and the lack of money. He predicted that Congress will

SJS A Cappello Choir Sings to Full House

By BEN PETTUS

San Jose State's reputation as having one of the best a cappella choirs in the nation was given added emphasis in last Tuesday's concert which was presented to a "standing room only" audience in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Wesley Walton's baritone solo was so good that Vaughn Williams's "The Turtle Dove" had to be repeated before the audience would let the show continue.

Ex Airmen Form New Group Here

Former members of the U. S. Air Force announced plans for the formation of a San Jose Squadron of the Air Force association here yesterday.

Heading the squadron in its organizational phase will be Bernard Barrett, 661 Emory Ave., Campbell. He is employed as a photographer in aeronautical research at the Ames Aeronautical Laboratory, Moffett Field. He announced the first meeting for Thursday night, March 31 at 7:30 p.m. in Dunne Hall, Civic Auditorium, San Jose.

At the request of local members who asked assistance from the State organization in launching a San Jose unit, Tom Stack, Commander of the California Wing of the AFA, will be present at the meeting to aid the organization.

A feature of the meeting will be the showing of a sound-color motion picture "Ames In Action," produced by the Ames Aeronautical Laboratory.

The Air Force Association, under the presidency of C. R. Smith, former Deputy Commander of the Air Transport Command, has its national headquarters in Washington, D. C. It is now engaged in sponsoring formation of state Wings and local Squadrons.

AFA was organized in 1946 with Jimmy Doolittle, the famed Tokyo raider and later a lieutenant general in command of the Eighth, Twelfth and Fifteenth Air Forces,

A good bass section provided excellent support for the mellow alto section and the soprano section's light quality of tone throughout the concert.

Audience Favorable

The legato and sostenuto effects in Vitoria's "O Vos Omnes" were very good. After a warm ovation from the audience on this number, someone was heard to exclaim, "Such wonderful shadings!"

Erlendson's use of the antiphonal (one voice following another in exact repetition) in Bach's "All breathing life, sing and praise ye the Lord," was extremely effective.

Very good diction was evident in the choir's rendition of Vaughn Williams's lively and light "Was-sail Song." This drinking song was well received by the audience, with exclamations of "good, very good," and "wonderful" heard throughout the auditorium.

Too Much Humming

The only criticism might be that Erlendson uses a little too much humming. Effective lighting could have added something to the concert, as many of the audience were heard to complain of the blinding effects of the brilliant yellow stoles worn by the choir.

After the concert the audience applauded so enthusiastically that "My spirit sang all day," by Finza, was repeated. The deep organ tones in this number were particularly effective as was the excellent phrasing.

Inman Scores 28 As Staters Lose 81-75

(Special to the Spartan Daily)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 9. (UP)—San Jose State bowed out of the 11th annual N. A. I. B. basketball tournament today, losing a second-round game to Eastern Illinois State college of Charleston, 75 to 81.

But the Spartans didn't give up easily. Stu Inman bucketed 28 points for the game's high scoring honors, and Bob Hagen and Don McCaslin got 16 and 15 respectively.

San Jose jumped off in fine control of the game but it got away from the Californians a few minutes before the close of the first half.

What happened, mainly, was that Tom Katsimpalis and Johnny Wilson burst into flames for Eastern Illinois. Katsimpalis got 26 points, to go with the 34 he netted Monday in his team's first round, 89 to 73 win over the University of Miami.

Wilson was almost as hot with 23 points. Between the two of them, they simply shot San Jose out of the running.

Don Glover was another reason for San Jose's defeat. His rebound work for Eastern Illinois outshone any similar efforts by Spartan backboard workers.

San Jose knotted the score three times in the second half. The Spartans slipped out front at 65 to 64 at 12:39 of the second half but gave up that lead in the next few seconds on a tip-in by Katsimpalis.

From that point on, Eastern Illinois held the game in good control.

The box score:

(E. Illinois State 81)	g	ft	f	mf
Glover, f	3	1	3	0
Wilson, f	10	3	0	2

Groza, the outstanding choice on the squad, was placed at center, Lavelli and Jones at forwards and Beard and Macauley at guards. The three Kentucky stars played on the victorious United States Olympic team last summer. All five all-Americans are seniors.

All College Boxing Here Friday Nite

Twelve bouts are scheduled for the Post All College benefit tourney to come off Friday night in the Men's gym, as the members of San Jose State's five full teams aim leather at respective chins.

"These will probably be the best bouts of the season," announced Coach Dee Portal. "The boys have been working all term for this night." The winners will probably represent the college at Wisconsin while the others will go to Sacramento.

The "benefit" in the title is for the payment of the new indicator. "Everyone should see the indicator," says Portal. The idea is that each time a judge declares a point he presses a button and a light on the board, or indicator, lights up thus showing the choice and number of points he has awarded to a fighter.

Before the bouts Portal will explain the new point system that will be used from now on. As far as Portal knows this is the first time the system has been used. The point method was made up by the NCAA. Briefly it is, one mark for a light blow, two marks for a solid blow and three marks, or a point, for a knock down.

To stimulate interest in the new clock and point system Portal has announced that the admission fee has been lowered to fifty cents per, and kiddies free with parents.

San Jose Invades Bear Lair Today

Coach Walt Williams will lead his Spartan baseball team to the University of California campus to meet the Bears this afternoon at 3:15 on Edwards field, weather permitting. Bad weather has forced Williams to cancel the first three games of the year.

Hartranft To Give Intramural Medals

Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft, director of athletics, will present the trophy and medals to the champions of the intramural tournament tonight in the men's gym.

Tonight's cage battle will be between Delta Sigma Gamma and the Modesto Pirate's.

DSG, inter-fraternity champs, have won most of their eight straight with a methodical attack. DSG features a strong defense and a sharp-shooting offense.

Modesto upset the apple-cart Tuesday by beating the Yellow-jackets. Art Allen, Oroville Young, and Vico Bondiotti are the stalwarts in the Modesto offense.

Lanky Charlie Clapper, Fred Allred, Dick Grant, and Don Jansen are point getters for the fraternity champs.

Pete Mesa, sensational frosh star last year and recent fireball artist in the winter league, will get the call as starting moundman for the Spartans with Con Maloney pulling the relief job if needed.

For the Bears, Clint Evans has several good prospects to draw from to pull the pitching stint. Wimpy Jones, former San Jose high star, may get the nod. If Jones isn't called upon, Evans has Bob and Dave Anderson, Hal Oxsen, and Jackie Jensen—all right-handers—to draw from. Lefty Cone and Dave Anker are the two port-siders the Bear mentor has to draw from.

Saturday afternoon the Spartans are scheduled to open their home season against a powerful Moffat Manteca nine at Municipal Stadium.

Portalmen Face Cal Poly for CCAA Boxing Crown at San Luis Obispo

The California Collegiate Boxing tournament, scheduled for Saturday evening at San Luis Obispo, has turned into a dual meet between Cal Poly and San Jose State. Both schools will field full teams, no other conference member has entered a team.

Spartan Coach Dee Portal is sending the following men to the meet: Mac Martinez (125 lbs.), Al Tafoya (130 lbs.), Ted Rattliff (135 lbs.), Jim McDonald (145 lbs.), Wayne Fontes (155 lbs.), Fred Ross (165 lbs.), Pete Fransulich (175 lbs.), and Don Schaeffer (Heavyweight).
