New Rule May Halt Sunday Campus Events

College Presidents Adopt New Policy

A rule adopted last week will prevent California state colleges from holding any event for which admission is charged on the campus on Sundays.

The new rule applies to college plays, which have been held on Sunday evenings, and to motion pictures sponsored by Blue Key, also shown Sunday evenings. Sunday athletic events for which admission is charged are also barred under the ruling.

Presidents of state colleges adopted the rule on the recommendation of the state department of Education. Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie approved the rule.

It will not be put into effect on the San Jose State college campus until the beginning of the 1949-50 college year, he said.

The state department of Education also has approved the addition of courses for sanitarians and conservationists. Dr. MacQuarrie was informed at Sacramento.

Ovanin Lauds SJS Orchestra Interpretation

Composer Hears His Own Work

By BEN PETTUS

"The best college orchestra I've ever heard," said Nikola L. Ovanin, in an interview following last night's "Festival of American Music" by the San Jose State Symphony orchestra, given in the Morris Dailey auditorium before a packed house.

"They did an excellent job," was Ovanin's enthusiastic reply when asked how he liked the orchestra's rendition of his Second Symphony's first movement. "They played it better than any other orchestra he has done it," he added for emphasis.

Audience is Enthused

Murmurs of awe passed through the audience when after the concert, Dr. Lyle Downey, conductor, asked the audience's permission to repeat "the Ovanin number," as Ovanin came in while they were playing it, and added "if anyone deserves to hear it, he does."

Ovanin's Second Symphony, written as a protest against war,

The Mail Must Go Through

(Acme Telephoto)

He's heard, of course, of his department's classic tradition that the mail must go through, but Postman Ronnie Erickson honestly hadn't expected anything like this on his route in San Mateo, Calif. The flood was the result of heavy rains in Northern California. The Weather Man predicted several more days of rain, so Ronnie had better keep his hip-boots close at hand.

William L. Cox, 30, lies on seat in cab of his truck (arrow) with only water-soaked canvas separating him from roaring flames of burning gasoline. Two firemen were burned when they braved the heat to throw him the canvas and then played streams of water on him to keep him alive. Cox, his leg caught in floor boards, crashed his gasoline-loaded truck-trailer when he swerved from highway to avoid hitting an auto. He suffered a twisted leg, second-degree burns, and shock.

Shorthand Display Is Shown in Library

Currently displayed in the Library is an exhibit arranged by the Commerce department depicting the shorthand methods of writing.

One of the more prominent components of this display is Lincoln's address at Gettysburg written in his own hand, and the same written in Gregg shorthand. Below this is a picture of the audience, with mention of the fact that the leading New York newspapers of the day did not recognize the significance of the "remarks" of the President.

Photographer Too Slow

Also, that a photographer who was sent to get the picture was slow in setting up his camera, and Lincoln concluded his famous speech in 135 seconds . . . with no picture having been taken.

Showing that shorthand knowledge has a wider application than merely that of taking notes in a business office, another display is a few selections from American literature written in shorthand.

Professor J. A. Burger of the Commerce department pointed out that "some newspapers encourage their reporters and some police forces require their officers to use shorthand for on-the-scene recording of events."

Four Shorthand Systems Shown

A page of shorthand notes from the notebook of Martin DuPraw is also exhibited. DuPraw, world's champion shorthand writer, has written ordinary material at 246 words - per - minute, and Jury Charge material at 260 words-per-minute. These are speeds faster than the reading rate of most persons.

Other phases of the exhibit show the shorthand materials provided for service men in the Armed Forces Institute program during the recent war.

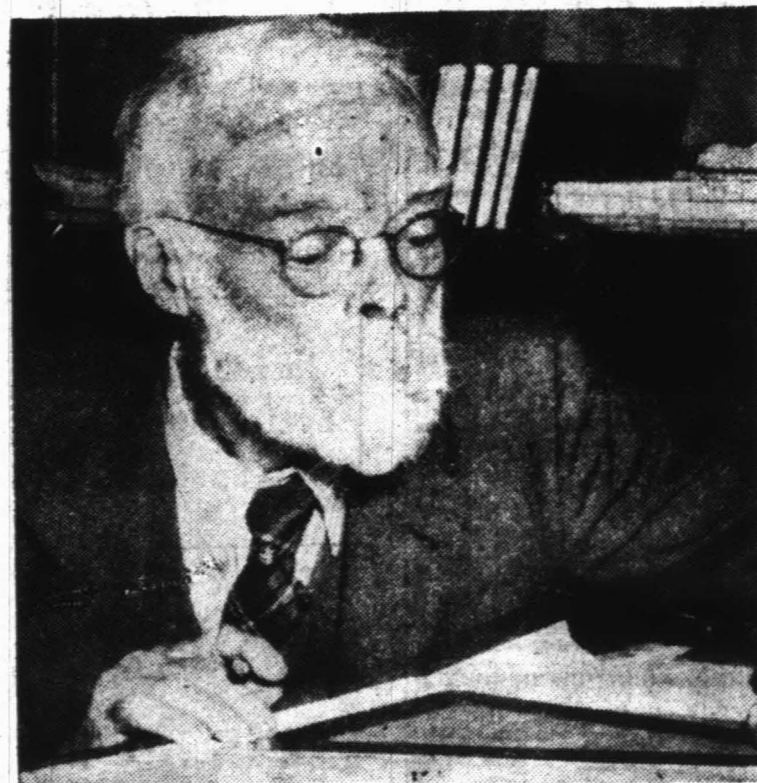

Examples of the four different modern shorthand systems are shown as they are used in the country today. Byrne, Thomas, Pitman and Gregg; and complete manuals of shorthand for various foreign languages including Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, French, Polish and Russian.

Of special interest are the examples of the new simplified Gregg system that will not be seen on the market anywhere before April, 1949.

The rest of the display concerns a pictorial story of the history of shorthand, and a business record more than 2000 years old.

Proud Father at 87

(Acme Telephoto)
Dr. Andrew C. Lawson (above), professor emeritus and leading geologist at the University of California in Berkeley, is the proud father of a son at the age of 87. The boy is the first child of Dr. Lawson's 18-year-marriage to this second wife, Isabel, 39. The baby has two half-brothers, aged 50 and 57. "It's nothing," said Dr. Lawson. "It happens all the time."

The state department of Education also has approved the addition of courses for sanitarians and conservationists. Dr. MacQuarrie was informed at Sacramento.

The new courses will be included in the Natural Science department.

Upon completion of such courses students will be awarded bachelor of science degrees.

Southern Solons Reject Northern Compromise Plan

WASHINGTON. (UP)—Southern senators yesterday formally rejected a compromise formula advanced by administration Democrats and Republicans in an effort to settle the senate's anti-filibuster fight.

Senate Democratic leader Scott W. Lucas told reporters after another peace parley that the southerners had given a "firm rejection" to the latest settlement bid.

"He didn't make much progress," Lucas said. "The thing is just where it was last night."

Lucas said he would withhold a move to abandon the battle for tighter curbs on filibusters until Republican senators confer.

Roosevelt Heir Enters Politics

NEW YORK. (UP) — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., yesterday became the first son of the late President to seek public office by agreeing to run for the Congressional seat vacated by the death of Rep. Sol Bloom.

The 35-year-old Roosevelt, who resembles his father in looks and manner, will be supported by both the Democratic and Liberal parties, according to political leaders of the (west side Manhattan) 20th district.

Robert B. Blaikie, Democratic leader of the district, said he was sponsoring Roosevelt's candidacy.

For Roosevelt to become the party's standard bearer it will be necessary to obtain the approval of a caucus of district leaders and approval by the Democratic county committee, but Blaikie said he did not expect any opposition in either group.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has not yet set a date for the special election to choose Bloom's successor. Bloom died last week.

33-Year Teacher

Funeral services for Dr. Karl S. Hazeltine, professor of nature study, who died yesterday after suffering a heart attack, have been set for Friday at 1 p.m. from the Roger Darling Mortuary.

The professor, a member of the San Jose State college Science faculty since 1916, was conferring with Mr. John Harville, biology instructor, in his office when he was stricken. He suffered a similar attack several years ago, and was under medical care for some months then.

His sudden death, however, came as a shock to his many friends among faculty and students.

Great Loss to College

"The college suffered a serious loss with the passing of Dr. Hazeltine," President T. W. MacQuarrie said. "He as a scholar and a gentleman, interested not only in the scholarship of his students; but in their personal welfare as well."

"I can't think of anyone who has contributed more to the college," Dr. MacQuarrie added. "He always carried more than his share of the load."

Dr. Hazeltine was characterized as "outstanding as a teacher and inspirational leader for countless students" by Dr. Carl Duncan, acting Science department head.

Influence Was Extensive

"His influence has been extensive," Dr. Duncan continued. "Active in his field of science education and as a personal counselor, he had a warmth of personal character few men could equal." Born in Arizona in 1888, Dr.

Hazeltine graduated from the University of California with a B.S. degree in 1914. Following his graduation, he taught science for two years at San Jose high school. In 1916 he was appointed to the San Jose State Normal school science faculty.

Dr. Hazeltine received an M.S. from Stanford in 1926 and his Ph.D., in nature study education, from Cornell in 1930. He was a member of the West Coast Nature school staff from its inception in 1931.

Active in religious work, the naturalist was a member of the First Presbyterian church and adviser to the Student Christian fellowship. He was chairman of (Continued on Page 3) anyone deserves to hear it, he does."

Ovanin's Second Symphony, written as a protest against war, is a very powerful and stirring number. The imagination seems to be intensely activated by the swift changes from the gentle strings, to the powerful trombones and other brasses.

To quote Ovanin on the work: "The feeling of 'protest' pervades the whole Second Symphony. The dynamic impulse generating war can be heard throughout. The main theme with its soft contours, represents, in a sense, what things could be.

"But war conditions never allow it to achieve serenity. It tries mightily to assert itself without success . . . there is, however, no definite program . . . each listener creating his own images."

Delores O'Neill Gives Good Solo "Wonderful," and "very good," were typical of the remarks heard from audience members during the terrific ovation given Delores O'Neill for her violin solo in Jules Conus' Concerto in E minor for Violin and Orchestra.

After completing this very difficult number, Miss O'Neill, senior student in Art and Music, received two bouquets of flowers.

"Old California" by William Grant Still, featured the beat of Indian drums, the Spanish theme with the castanets and tambourines, a struggle, and finally merged all these themes.

Link Advances Announcement Deadline To 4:30 P.M. Thursday, Friday in Union

So that all seniors will have a chance to order graduation announcements, time for ordering them has been extended to 4:30 both Thursday and Friday of this week.

It is emphasized again by George Link, class president, that this is absolutely the last chance for seniors to order announcements and personal cards.

Link said that the orders are being taken at the desk in the Student Union lounge. The necessity for ordering this far in advance of graduation, Link said, is that announcements will not be made up until orders are received, and time for engraving and printing must be allowed.

He took part in the translation of the New Testament into Maninka, one of the trade languages of French West Africa. He now is working on a translation of the Old Testament.

Ekstrand said that all students and faculty members are invited to hear the missionary.

Campus Ethics Class Ready for Freshmen

"Campus ethics" is one of the new courses to be offered by the Philosophy department next quarter, according to department sources.

Elmo Robinson, who will instruct the class, announced that it will be a freshmen course. "Campus ethics" evolved from Robinson's work on the Fairness committee.

The Philosophy department also has planned to give two upper division courses in religion and democracy, the latter designed to fulfill requirements for American constitution.

Chinese Students' Plight Critical

The plight of many Chinese students studying in colleges and universities of the United States is becoming desperate.

Headquarters of the U.S. National Student Association (NSA) has issued a special appeal to muster aid for these students. Their financial situation is critical in numerous cases due to government regulations which require that holders of student visas can accept employment only when it does not interfere with carrying a full course of study in day classes.

In the face of the high cost of living, this regulation is unrealistic. It is restricting these students so they cannot take employment to adequately provide for their needs. Small allotments from the Chinese government are not enough.

The U.S. office of Immigration and Naturalization has reported to NSA that nothing can be done to waive the restrictions so Chinese students can take adequate employment to get on their feet.

These students are guests in our country. It is up to the students of the nation to get behind NSA in the fight to help relieve this unusual situation.

NSA student governments have been asked to find part-time employment for the Chinese students, seek scholarships, acquire loans for emergency cases and solicit community support. There is no reason why non-NSA schools should not aid in the crusade.

Critical situations exist in our own backyard, if not at San Jose State. California and Stanford are on the list of schools where the situation is desperate. Attempts are being made to get financial aid but that is only short-range help.

This is a situation where student pressure on Congress can help to relax the regulations. If every thinking college man and woman would send a letter to his or her Congressman, something could be done.

Quick humanitarian action is needed.

Thrust and Parry

Ambrose a Sadist?

Dear Thrust, Ambrose, and Parry:

It is obvious that you, along with Charles Adams, and others of a like ilk, belong in a mental hospital. You, sir, are a sadist. Your conception of humor is sadly misplaced. Indeed, sir, you are an idiot. My wife became sick to her stomach, in fact, overwhelmed with nausea, at one glimpse at your "cartoon." Hereinafter, kindly confine your abortive attempts at humor within you.

You were undoubtedly an unusual child. You probably were not content to pull the wings from flies. I haven't the slightest doubt that you drowned kittens, and tied cans to tails of wee dogs.

In short, damn you, sir!

ASB 13.

Ambrose Says 'No'

Dear "Thrust and Parry":

I would not have this work considered as a rebuttal to the letter of John Angam which appeared in yesterday's publication. Rather it is an expression of my humility and gratitude. It is flattering enough having someone notice that there are cartoons in the Spartan Daily. My joy knows no bounds when any of the student body displays the condescension to criticize a drawing.

Morality is a thing ill-defined in our society. It would take some conceit upon the part of a human being to declare that ours is the supreme specie, and that the moral right lies upon our side in any argument with the swine concerning whose young should be roasted. Our superiority is not so clearly established.

The flesh of the human infant would seem as delectable to pigs as any superbly barbecued suckling is to man. We, with the swine, seem to be the only animal group

Defend Cartoonist

Dear Thrust and Parry and John Angam:

Unless the size of your body is inversely proportional to your obvious mental capacity, do not attempt to throw cartoonist Ambrose out of the Daily office. While Ambrose is usually a gentle, easy going fellow, we are not certain that he would not be goaded into employing his 220 pounds of bone and muscle to place such as you in a position comparable to the baby being roasted on the spit.

Since this is the 20th century, we do not believe that Ambrose's career will suffer because one, or even "at least a dozen," persons think that his sense of humor is "morbid." Amongst the masses, there are surprisingly many whose sense of humor is deep, although "morbid."

Act Professional

Dear Thrust & Parry and ASB's 128-5202:

Instead of addressing your "Staffers Rebuff" to the authors of critical letters, you might well have told the entire Student Body to "read the Beacon, or Drop Dead."

The grievances set down by those four students represent not a minority but a majority of your readers, and the sooner you realize this the better.

We're told that the Spartan Daily is a professional paper. Then act like one! Editors all over the country become targets for reader gripes, but they don't dispatch the matter with an indignant "Drop Dead." Generally they'll try to meet the demand, and it doesn't take any more time to draw an acceptable cartoon than this "snake kills baby" stuff.

If you can't take criticism and

A Voice In Education

The United States National Student association (NSA) was recently voted to associate membership in the American Council on Education.

NSA is the only student organization to hold membership in the Council. It long has been influential in the shaping of educational policies and practices of U.S. schools.

Last year, students of San Jose State college voted down by a narrow margin the opportunity to get in on the ground floor of NSA activities. Now Spartans may well look on with envy as NSA schools take part in the annual conference of the Council on Education to be held in Washington D.C., May 6-7.

Ever-expanding, NSA now represents more than 800,000 students in 281 colleges and universities in the United States. Pacific coast membership numbers such schools as Santa Clara, Stanford, Cal., U.C.L.A., University of Southern California, Fresno State and others.

NSA is the only student organization which has been granted membership in the National Education association and the U.S. commission for UNESCO. The NSA representative recently was elected to a position on the executive committee of UNESCO.

Through its far-reaching activity in the field of education, NSA is making a great contribution to the prestige of college students.

The organization is a non-partisan, non-sectarian representative intercollegiate association formed two years ago to serve the needs of students of the U.S., and to promote their interests.

It is not too late. Under future progressive student government, San Jose State students may be given another opportunity to have a voice in the future of American education.

NSA can give that voice.

Peddle to Willie

Dear Thrust and Parry and Bob Boden:

Thank you very much for your fine editorial on "Religion: Target for Tomorrow." But it seems as if you are defending a lost cause. For, although America has a freedom of worship clause in its constitution, it has very little religion.

I grant you America has a large number of churches; but even though, the majority of the population are not church members. I have no statistics, but I believe I am safe to say that San Jose State students on the whole are not religious.

Therefore, why defend something we (America) don't believe or practice? If you want to defend a noble cause, get it and then it will be worth while.

If you dont want to help preach and educate for religion, go peddle your wrtings to Willie Randolph Jr.—he will love your stuff.

The flesh of the human infant would seem as delectable to pigs as any superbly barbecued suckling is to man. We, with the swine, seem to be the only animal group whose entire life is spent in the pursuit of sensual pleasure. This much for the provincialism in morality apparent in reader Angam.

We may differ as to the propriety of theme in cartoons. This one of the pigs was an obvious satire upon the emotions of the reader. It intended to say that emotions are not often the most desirable of human traits, and to have selected the most tender of human emotions, that of parental affection, as a target does not necessarily brand me a sadist.

It seemed to be the most proper vehicle to convey my intentions to the public. That emotional people such as Angam can be provoked into such unwholesome outbursts as his letter to "Thrust and Parry" is a perfect testimonial for the plea advanced by the cartoon; that there be emotional moderation in our society. Ambrose Haggard, ASB 4987.

Out the Window

Dear Thrust and Parry:

One of the two plaques embedded in the masonry of the College Tower, a memorial to Edwin Markham, has gained little recognition.

This poem, "Outwitted," is destined to become an American classic because it exemplifies the American way of "understanding fellow men."

Discrimination goes out the window after memorizing and understanding this bit of classic verse:

He drew a circle that shut me out,
Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout.
But love and I had the wit to win,
We drew a circle that took him in.

Different Viewpoint

Dear Thrust and Parry and Bob Boden:

Your editorial in regard to atheism and communism demonstrates a sad lack of ability to think clearly. You demonstrate perfectly the principle that one should not say, much less write, anything in the heat of passion. I have no doubt that you meant well by your spiel. However, I would suggest that you look at the matter from a different point of view, or rather, two different points of view.

First, communism has to do with political and economic ways of life. Secondly, atheism is a matter of belief, and has no connection whatsoever with the first. It is true that the countries presently dominated by the communists are acting against the church, but only to strengthen their political and economic hold on those countries, and not because atheism is part and parcel with communism.

Hollywood Scientists Crack Down On Killer

Team of 'Big League' Doctors Fight High Blood Pressure

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 15 (UP).—In a laboratory of a skyscraper hospital here where movie stars go for their operations, may come the first real break in the solution of the problem of high blood pressure in man.

The laboratory is the new spic and span institute for medical research, a part of the swank cedars of Lebanon Hospital just off Sunset Boulevard.

Financed partly by a wealthy movie producer, the laboratory now only eight months old, is functioning at top speed with priority given to the problem of hypertension, or high blood pressure, a disease that is a contributing factor to heart ailments.

Big League Team

While movie stars may be occupying hotel-like rooms or suites in the hospital proper, "a big league" team of research doctors in white coats is working in the laboratory, using the latest tools and machines to find cures to what causes high blood pressure in man.

The scientists in this laboratory are pursuing the theory—confirmed by tests both in animals and man—that probably the main cause of hypertension is in the kidney. According to the tests, when the flow of blood in the kidney is interrupted, the organ apparently produces a substance which is known as renin, a protein. An interruption like that can be caused by an abnormal functioning of the kidney and the symptoms might not be recognized at first.

For some years scientists have been able to cause hypertension in experimental animals by interfering with the kidney blood supply. Such hypertension has proved to be similar to high blood pressure disease in human beings who were found to have an abnormal amount of renin in the blood stream.

Seek the Answer

There has been some discussion whether the kidney damage

CSTA Will Install Officers, Offers Student Discussion

Installation of new officers will precede a panel discussion at today's meeting of the local chapter of the California Student Teachers association, according to Kenneth Gass, program committee member. The meeting will be held in room A1 at 4 p.m. today.

The discussion, on "The Gaps Between my Teacher Training and my Teaching Career" is expected to be "of vital interest" to education majors, Gass asserted.

Gass, a teacher training student, will moderate the discussion. A five-member panel will consider the teacher training program from the viewpoints of students, teacher, and school principals.

Music Sorority Has Formal Initiation For 8 New Members

Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary music sorority, held its formal initiation ceremony Sunday, March 13, at the Hotel De Anza.

New members are Ilene Sandberg, Alice Blair, Charlotte Dehay, Jean Welch, Barbara Zinn, Norvella Pitney, Mariene Metcalf, and Carol Hubbs.

Following the candlelight ceremony, new members were presented with corsages of violets, the sorority's flower, and refreshments were served.

Interviews Open for Women Counselors At Summer Camps No Experience Is Necessary for Job

All women students interested in serving as counselors at summer camps are asked to make appointments for interviews to be held next quarter with camp directors, according to Mrs. Lenore Luedemann, of the Women's PE department.

All types of counselors are needed, and experience is not generally required. Most camp sessions begin the last week of June or the first week of July, and last for six weeks. Pay is based on experience and type of counseling, Mrs. Luedemann said.

Miss Joyce Kentworthy, director of Berkeley Campfire girls, will interview applicants for counselors at this summer's session of Camp Lassen by Butte Meadows. Mrs. Kentworthy will be on campus April 21, at 1:15 p.m.

Miss Lois Young will interview applicants for counselors at Camp Minaluta, Lake Vera, on April 22 from 11 to 1:30. The Campfire girls' camp is located near Nevada City.

Applicants for the San Jose Girl Scout camp located in Big Sur will be interviewed next quarter by Miss Gertrude Di Santo.

Counselors are also needed by three day camps in and near San Jose, Mrs. Luedemann said. Application also may be made for a camp in the Bridgeport, Conn. area.

Requests for applicants for camp positions in the Oakland Recreation department have been received.

Drama Production Tryouts Are April 6

John R. Kerr of the Speech and Drama department announced yesterday that tryouts for the department's next production, "Margaret Fleming" by James Herne, will be held the first week of spring quarter.

Tryouts will be held April 6 only, at 4:30 p.m. in the Little Theater.

Recital To Feature Original Minuets By Local Composers String Quartette To Present Works

Original compositions by members of Harold Johnson's elementary composition class will be featured on today's noon recital program given in room 108 at 12:30, Erik Petersen said.

Minutes by Alfred Vines, Joseph Cathey, Claude Traylor, Phillip Anderson, and Richard Payton, will be played by a string quartette composed of Warren Van Bronkhorst, violin; Wallace Johnson, violin; Dennis Barrett, viola; and Allan Gove, cello.

Also on the program will be Marian Stewart, soprano, accompanied by Helen Kimzey. Miss Stewart will sing "Tell Me, O Blue, Blue Sky," by Vittorio Giannini, and "Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind," by Quilter.

Bentel to Speak On 'Libel Traps' To Newspapermen

"Libel Traps and How to Avoid Them" will be the subject of an address to be given Friday evening, by Dwight Bentel head of the Journalism department. Bentel is scheduled to speak at a dinner before the Central Coast counties unit of the Newspaper association at Rickey's in Palo Alto.

The dinner, which 50 persons are expected to attend, is to be sponsored by the Palo Alto Times. Fred McPherson, of the Santa Cruz Sentinel, will preside over the meeting. Bentel is secretary of the association.

Gubitchev Says Arrest Fires War Mongering

Refuses Representation by Council In His Trial in N.Y. Federal Court

NEW YORK, March 15 (UP).—Valentine Gubitchev, 32-year-old Russian engineer accused of espionage, said today that the charges against him were "started for certain dirty political purposes to fire the feelings of this country against my country."

He refused in Federal court to be represented by counsel.

When Gubitchev, a wispy man with a stolid face, refused to answer a question on how he pleaded to espionage charges, Judge Simon H. Rifkind directed that a plea of innocent be entered in his behalf.

Rifkind set April 1 for Gubitchev's trial, the same date as was set for Brooklyn-born Judith Coplon, his co-defendant who pleaded innocent last week.

Bail $100,000

The court continued the bail of Gubitchev, a suspended United Nations employe, at $100,000 and dismissed a court-appointed attorney, Fowler Hamilton, who never had a chance to serve his client.

As he stood before the bench today, wearing a topcoat and holding his hat behind his back, Gubitchev was asked again by Judge Rifkind if he would accept Hamilton as an attorney. The question and answer were given to an interpreter.

Questions and Answers

"Is that the only question?" Gubitchev said.

"Tell him I'd like an answer," Rifkind replied sharply.

"I consider my so-called case a most flagrant provocation which was started for certain dirty political purposes to fire the feelings of this country against my country," Gubitchev said.

normal amount of renin in the blood stream.

Seek the Answer

There has been some discussion whether the kidney damage results from high blood pressure or whether the high blood pressure results from kidney damage. The scientists here believe that the kidney damage comes first. In tests in experimental animals it has been shown that the renin substance can be neutralized by the injection of antibodies specific against the kidney substance. On the basis of the tests, the day may come when the abnormal amount of renin in the human body may be neutralized by anti-renin agents.

Thus would come probably the greatest break in the high blood pressure problem. The scientists here do not believe renin is necessarily a cause of arterio-sclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, but they seek to determine the relationship. A break-through into the high blood pressure problem might well open new ways to handling the whole heart disease problem, No. 1 killer of man.

the Student Loan Fund committee.
Dr. Hazeltine was an authority on nature study education. He was the author of a number of texts in this field, and a contributor to the Western Nature Study series, edited and published here by Dr. Gayle Pickwell.

In addition to nature study, Dr. Hazeltine taught a number of agriculture courses, Dr. Duncan said. He was a past president of the Santa Clara valley chapter of the National Audubon society.

The professor belonged to a number of national scientific and educational organizations.

Dr. Hazeltine is survived by his wife, Rachel, three sons: Howard and Karl, Jr., SJS graduates; William, a junior student here, and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Williams and Mrs. Margaret Palmer.

How Modern can Jazz get?

Listen to Skitch Henderson's latest waxing of "CRAZY RHYTHM"—a Capitol Recording . . . and you'll know the answer!

One of the hottest of the oldies, "Crazy Rhythm", comes back with a sock, the way Skitch and his band revive it! Skitch Henderson is great at putting a smooth-modern touch on an old favorite. And when it comes to cigarettes, Skitch has another long-time favorite—Camels! Here's how Skitch plays it: "Camels are mild and full flavored. I've smoked Camels for years."

How Mild can a cigarette be?

SMOKE CAMELS FOR 30 DAYS

State Netters Meet San Mateo

After swallowing defeat administered by the University of San Francisco and tasting victory at the expense of Salinas J.C. the San Jose State tennis team will vie with the San Mateo J.C. net men tomorrow at 1:30 in a practice match to be played at Spartan Village.

"San Jose has a fine tennis team in spite of their loss to USE," stated Ted Mumby. The windy city boys won the National championship last year and are even stronger this year. San Jose lost all of their matches with them but took all of the Salinas sets.

San Jose will be heavy favorites over the San Mateo team with such men as Chet Bulwa, Gene Franco, Ed Terry, Jim Cruze, Dave Parney, Bob Phelps and Don Gale up in the front ranks.

These men are all ranked about even according to the team chart, affording excellent depth for Coach Mumby. Also there are nine men participating in a play off to decide the rest of the first team. There are some promising men in this group and winners of the play off should furnish extra strength for the net team.

Later on in the season the Spartans will send four men to the ICC tourney. The men have not been chosen; with the stiff competition it is anyone's guess.

Frosh Swim Meet Today

Coach Charlie Walker's freshman swimming team initiates a busy week of the pool sport when the frosh tangle with the California Cub mermen in Berkeley this afternoon.

A frosh meet Friday, a PAA meet Friday, and a varsity CCAA conflict Saturday will furnish the swimmers with a busy schedule. Freestyler George Haines, who is destined to break many Spartan pool records, will spearhead the Walkermen's attack on the Bear Cubs. Diver Rees Knight and George Sheets in the breaststroke are strong contenders for the Spartan frosh.

In the relays Walker has two possible quartets to carry Sparta's banner through the waves. Bruce Titus, Terry Worden, Bob Uphoff, Bob Broadus, John Jacobsen, Francis Lai, and Richard Rafloski could be called upon for the starting squad.

Backstroker Dick Lebedeff, a winner in several races this season, will be expected to take first in his specialty.

SPARTAN BASEBALL NINE COPS FIRST WIN

LOPES AND DENEVI LEAD HITTING ATTACK OF SAN JOSE STATE

By WADE WILSON
S. AN FRANCISCO. — The San Jose Spartan baseball team started the 1949 season off with a bang yesterday by blasting the San Francisco State Gators, 8-4, in a three hour long slugging battle.

It was the heavy sticking of Don Lopes, shortstop, that spelled the difference of a win or loss for the Spartans. Lopes connected with a booming double with the bases loaded in the big sixth inning to sew things up for the visiting San Jose State club.

The Gators pitcher was having trouble with his control and loaded the bases when Lopes poled his tell-tailing hit. San Jose scored five runs on two hits in this frame.

Cliff Craig, starting on the mound for the Spartans, had trouble finding the plate and was relieved by Bob Santos in the fourth inning. Santos worked for three innings and got credit for the win. Pete Mesa, fireball strikeout artist for San Jose State, lived up to his advance billing by whiffing five opposing batters.

The Spartans outhit the Gators, 8-6, and capitalized on the breaks to go ahead and win themselves a ball game. Both Lopes and Catcher Pete Denevi got two hits for three times at bat and scored one run to lead the hitting attack.

San Francisco started out to win the game by collecting two runs for one hit in the first inning while blanking the Spartans. San Jose roared back with one run off of two hits in the second to show they were in the ball game. The Gators added another run in the third and went scoreless until the eighth when they tallied once more.

Coach Walt Williams' team scored one in the fifth, five times in the sixth, and garnered one more run in the eighth.

SJS Boxers Tangle with Modesto JC

Dee Portal, the Branch Rickey of college boxing, will send one of his many "farm teams" to the city of Modesto tomorrow to do battle with the gladiators of Modesto JC.

The team that is being sent will probably form the Sacramento contingent of the Spartan boxing team, and will represent the college in the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate tournament.

Modesto will face the Spartans with a strong squad and will give the Washington Square mittmen a rough evening.

Wilbur Owens, colored Bulldog light heavyweight, will see action against Ray Grove. Owens made a hit with the Spartan fans when he went three rounds with PCI champ Pete Franusich earlier in the season. While he never had Pete in serious trouble, Wilbur made a nuisance of himself in the ring.

The line-up for the bouts is as follows:

Modesto	San Jose

Peachy Poll Board Debut Friday Eve

By GEORGE LAJEUNESSE
"Professor" Portal's Peachy Point Poller will be used for the first time in official college boxing history Friday night when the Spartan punchers take on the rugged Vandals of Idaho.

After a trial run last Friday night at the all-college matches in the local gym Dee's Peachy Point Poller, was pronounced by the public, a popular success.

The Spartan boxing coach's pride and joy is something radically new in the annals of pugilism, and is designed to take the guesswork out of close decisions.

If future boxing fans are observed booing light bulbs instead of referees, praise or blame can be placed on Portal for the mighty little incandescent lamp is the backbone of the scoring system.

Friday night the ringside in Spartan gym will take on all the appearance of the infield at Tanforan with the Tote boards lit up and odds changing at rapid fire pace.

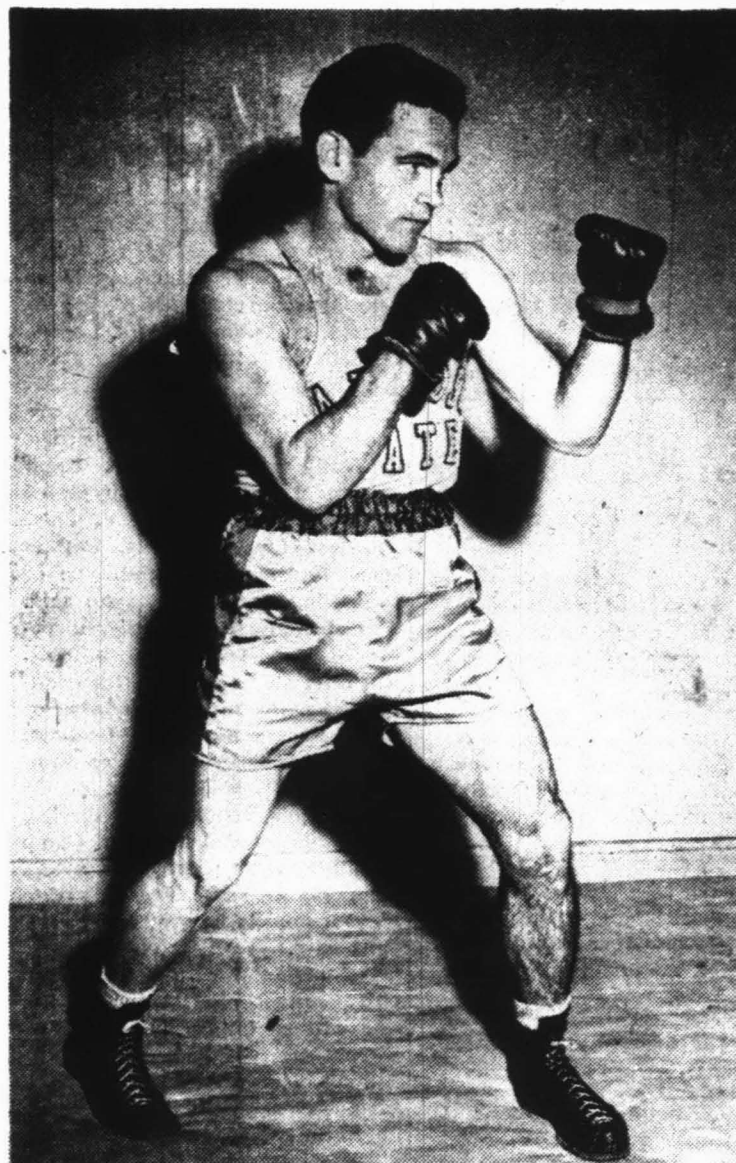

Three judges, named A, B, and C, respectively, will control a lighting board hanging over the ring that has three rows of red and blue lights, also named A, B, and C, respectively.

As a boxer lands a blow, he gets a light on the board. That is, if it is a "staggering blow." If not, he has to land three light blows to get the point, or one light on the board.

Just like a Tote board it is extremely simple in operation, merely being a process of keeping one's eye on the horse, err, boxer.

The boxer in the red corner is credited on the red side of the indicator; the boxer in the blue side corner that is, gets all the blue lights.

At the end of each round the spectators haul out Marchant calculators, plug them in at handy,

Spartan boxing fans will have chance to see the pride and joy of San Jose, Wayne Fontes, in action Friday night. The locals will face the very tough Univ. of Idaho in the college gym. Fontes is undefeated this season, but will meet a tough Vandal in Vern Bahr. The Idaho toughie will have a rough evening if he meets one of the solar plexis punches of Mr. Fontes.

Meet Opens On Thursday

More than 150 trackmen, a record field, will open competition tomorrow on Spartan Field in the annual San Jose State Interclass Track meet.

Tomorrow's events will see last year's Spartan CCAA track and field champions exhibit their prowess for the first time in 1949. Also included in the spike-event will be a freshman and novice division, which in the past, has had performances that in some cases equaled or bettered varsity standards.

Five teams are entered in the affair and are captained by members of Coach Lloyd "Bud" Winter's varsity tracksters. Each captain has received the backing of a campus organization.

Woody Linn's squad will be plugged by the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Stu Inman's outfit by the Sigma Kappa sorority, and The Passey brothers by SAE, men's fraternity. Fred Mangini's team will be boosted by the DSG fraternity and the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, and Steve O'Meara's squad by the Alpha Phi sorority.

The Interclass Track Meet records follow:

- 75 yard dash—7.5, Don Smalley.
- 352 yard dash—38.1, Thelno Knowles.
- 660 yard run—1:25.6, Thelno Knowles.
- 1320 yard run—3:11.5, Thelno Knowles.
- 1½ mile run—7:22, Eugene Haynes.
- 70 yard high hurdles—8.7, Jack Passey.

- Javelin—187' 3", Bob Likens.
- Shot put—47' 3", Woody Linn.
- High jump—6' 3", Mel Martin.
- Discus—141' 10", Grant Denmark.

A bitter feud is brewing in both dashes, 75 and 180, where CCAA sprint champ Don Smalley, Steve O'Meara, runner-up to Smalley in last year's conference 220-yard dash, and the veteran Bob Bingham will battle it out.
