Student Teaching Set-up Means Better Teachers — Emily Devore

By DICK WATRY

That SJSU teaching-credential candidates embark on their careers with a good knowledge of what to do and how to do it, is attested to by Miss Emily DeVore, associate professor of education.

The reason, Miss DeVore explained, is the experience novice educators receive under the student teaching program. Fifteen units of credit are awarded student teachers upon satisfactory completion of their quarter's internship. The student receives a passing or failing grade. This simplified grading system, Miss DeVore believes, helps the student to apply himself with an easier mind.

Assignments are given according to the students' preference as far as possible. They may list their first, second, and third choice of schools. An effort is made to locate them as near the college as possible to facilitate use of the library and keep traveling expenses at a minimum.

Fifty-eight GE and KP majors are currently concluding their internship, according to Miss DeVore.

It is a source of surprise to Miss DeVore that few male students are interested in the elementary field of education. "Men teachers are in great demand to go into administration work at this level, and they are missing a good bet by not doing so," she asserted. "It is not unusual for men to become principals with but two years of elementary school teaching," she added.

Student Teachers Listed

The following are student teachers concluding practice teaching. School and grade taught follows name.

Thieves Unseat Bench Warmers

Who stole the bench from Father Kappen's Carnival?

Above the din of clattering typewriters, echoes the chant of Kreidt-ers and oversized writers: "Return the bench; return the stool—why seek revenge, why play the fool?"

Since the green, lengthy bench disappeared a week or so ago, several heavy sifters, who can't analyze the situation, have found it necessary to plant their bulky bodies on feeble, skinny chairs, ordinarily used by pint-sized writers built straight up and down like six-o'clock.

The journalism department doesn't plant the finger on anyone—not even the police school next door. But, won't somebody please return the bench stol—er—appropriated from Kappen's Klever kids?

Court Finds Three Guilty

Lovell, Monroe and Spoon Have ASB Privileges Suspended Two Quarters, On Probation One, in Closed Trial

Glen Lovell, Jack Monroe, and John E. Spoon lost student body privileges for two quarters and were put on probation for a third, by virtue of Student Court action yesterday.

Chief Justice Tom Eddy disclosed that in a closed trial, the court found Lovell, Monroe and Spoon guilty of three of four points included in the charge of conduct detrimental to the best interests of the student body. They were found guilty of (1) being under the influence of alcohol, (2) taking a sign from the Chi Pi Spardi Gras booth, and (3) taking slats from the Chi Pi booth.

The court found the men not guilty of taking the limber from the college grounds. The limber had been used to mark off the Spardi Gras area for booth construction.

The verdict handed down by the court means that the defendants will not be eligible to participate in any sports activities, belong to on-campus organizations, or realize any of the benefits of ASB membership.

The trial lasted 45 minutes, and the court deliberated for nearly an hour before reaching its verdict.

Dr. Leo Kibby, Student Court adviser, attended the trial.

Library Hours Set For Finals Week

The library will close at 5:30 Thursday of finals week, according to Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian.

On Friday, June 24, the reading rooms in the main library will stay open from 8-1; the circulation desk and the reserve book room will remain open until 3 p.m.

Library hours on Saturday, June 25, will be the same as usual.

Tuesday, June 21, is the deadline for the return of library books and the payment of fines and lost book fees, according to Miss Barbara Wood, in charge of the circulation desk.

Failure of students to clear records will result in grades being withheld, she added.

Librarian Attends Los Angeles Meet

Miss Helen Olseen, librarian in charge of the Science room, is in Los Angeles this week attending a meeting of the Special Libraries association, according to Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian. Miss Olseen returns to the library next week.

Miss Backus also stated that Miss Janice Lowry, formerly with the library's circulation desk, is now a dietician at Fort Miley in San Francisco.

Nurses' Head Plans New Fall Course

"In line with our plans for broadening the curriculum of nursing education, we plan on giving a course in ward management fall quarter," announced Miss Pauline Davis, head of the Nursing Education department.

"This course will be listed as Nursing Education 125 and will be a three unit upper division course. This class is tentatively scheduled for 10:30 a.m., but if we find that an afternoon hour is more convenient for students, the time can be changed," she added.

Miss Davis urges nursing majors interested in this course to contact her at her office as soon as possible.

Announcements

Any seniors who have not ordered graduation announcements may do so at the Graduate Manager's office before noon tomorrow. Finished announcements will be available there Friday.

Spring 'Lycurgus' Remains on Sale

Copies of the spring issue of Lycurgus are still available, according to Mary Price, sales and promotion manager.

Persons who failed to get their copy of Lyke on previous sales days can obtain the magazine at the Spartan Shop and the California Book Store.

The price for the quarterly campus periodical is 25 cents.

Initial Rehearsal For Senior Class

All seniors are expected to attend the first Baccalaureate rehearsal scheduled tomorrow at 11:30 in Morris Dailey. Those who have conflicting class schedules will be excused, according to George Link, senior class president.

Caps and gowns will be available this afternoon in the Spartan shop for seniors and faculty. They can be picked up through Friday.

Seniors to Picnic at Santa Cruz

By PAUL DAVIS

Sandwiched neatly between Senior Day at Old Hearst Ranch and the Senior Banquet is Senior Day at Santa Cruz next Wednesday. Bill Swasey, chairman, says that nearly 100 per cent of the class of '49 will attend.

Swasey has reserved the beach from the west side of the Casino to the boardwalk. The area will be blocked off by ropes.

Another novel aspect will be legal baseball playing on the sand. City authorities lifted the ball playing ban as a special consideration to seniors, Swasey explained.

Caravan Leaves in Morning

The great day will begin at 9 a.m. as the car caravan leaves from the Seventh street side of the Women's gym. After descending on the beach, seniors will find all concessions open. Dinner is free at 5:30 p.m., but students must provide their own lunches.

Dinner will be served in the garden of Casa Del Rey hotel. Tickets may be obtained in the Graduate Manager's office upon presentation of the graduation fee receipt. They will be collected at the door.

BILL SWASEY

The meal will be served buffet style, with seating on the lawn, so seniors are urged to dress casually. Menu includes salad, spaghetti, ice cream, and cookies.

Dancing In Evening

The day will close officially after dinner, but festive-minded seniors will find dancing in the Garden room of the hotel for evening entertainment, Swasey said.

Chairman Swasey is a native of Santa Cruz. He is a history major. During his four years at San Jose State college he served on the senior council, was senior representative to the Student Council, and is now vice-president of the senior class. He is a member of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Get Activity Tabs

Seniors have until 5 p.m. today to pick up tickets for activity week events, says George Link, class president. Tickets are available in the Graduate Manager's office upon presentation of the graduation fee receipt.

Senior Ball bids will go on sale today to the members of the student body. Price is $2.40, tax included. Bids are in the Graduate Manager's office. There are 100 bids left.

Banquet Honors 100 College Girls

Approximately 100 women students attended the annual Activities banquet given Wednesday night by AWS at Lou's Village.

The banquet was given to honor the 100 most outstanding girls on campus.

Dr. Gertrude Cavins, member of the Science department faculty, spoke following the banquet. Dr. Cavins gave an amusing and interesting speech on the history of SJSC, tracing it back to the founding in San Francisco. Her talk was supplemented by slides, comic and factual.

New officers of AWS were administered the oath of office after the banquet by Barbara "Jeff" Brewster, outgoing president. New officers include: Marilyn Zeller, president; Joanie Hale, first vice president; Marilyn Russell, second vice president; Marian Bell, secretary; and JoAnn Keeler, treasurer.

Outgoing officers commended by Miss Brewster for their excellent service, to the campus through AWS this year were: Marilyn Zeller, first vice president; Carolyn Hackman, second vice president; Peggy Etherton, secretary; and Dot Pedersen, treasurer. Committee heads and committee members also were given a pat on the back.

Newly appointed officers for next year's AWS include: Melba Sills, publicity; Lynn MacDonald, Big and Little Sister chairman; Elaine Williams, Campus Compass editor; and Shirley Crandall, of the Science department faculty, AWS lounge chairman.

Nancy Etherton, Beverly Busch, Greta Cannon, Fred Baumberger, and Bob Rankin provided the entertainment for the banquet.

Miss Cannon, vocalist from this year's Revelries, sang "Stormy Weather" and "Don't Blame Me."

Two piano selections were Bev Busch's contribution to the entertainment. She played "Rhapsody in Blue" and "The Very Thought Of You."

Miss Etherton played two numbers on her accordion, "12th Street Rag" and "Tumbling Tumbleweeds." Rankin and Baumberger represented the otherwise absent sex and entertained with several Spanish selections played on the electric guitar and piano.

"The past year has proven to be a busy one for AWS, with all of the activities we sponsored and participated in," Miss Brewster said.

"In fall we gave our Jinx Bandwagon for all women students, our Big-Little Sister tea for new women students, had several prominent guest speakers at meetings and had a Christmas Party. In the winter, we began work on our service project, which this year was a clothing drive to send clothes to English schools.

"In February we gave our annual "Heart's Delight" dance for the student body. This quarter we sent delegates to the national AWS convention in New Mexico, gave our "Burger Bake" for new women students, held our annual Fashion show in conjunction with Spardi Gras, and wound up the year with this banquet," she concluded.

The 1948-49 cabinet of AWS presented "Jeff" with a bracelet in appreciation for her outstanding service as AWS president.

Guests of honor were: Miss Helen Dimmick, Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, Dr. Gertrude Cavins, Miss Margaret Twombly, Miss Viola Palmer, Miss Marie Carr, Miss Mary Hooton, Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, Mrs. Edith Germane, and Dr. Irene Palmer.

Dr. Gertrude Cavins Traces SJS History

'Jeff' Presides for Last Time

This afternoon at 4:30 Barbara "Jeff" Brewster will preside over her last AWS meeting, and Marilyn Zeller, president elect, will officially take over.

This will be the last meeting of AWS for this quarter. All interested women students are invited to attend, and refreshments will be served, Miss Brewster announced.

CROWE-CASTLE CLASH

Ridgerunners vs. Happy-Swatters In Softball Finals

By CLIFF MINNERS

Chuck Hughs and Bud Castle will be opposing pitchers today as the Happy Swatters and Ridgerunners square off in the intramural softball "Sudden Death" tournament championship game.

The Swatters continued to happily clout the ball as they racked up a 13-1 victory over Delta Upsilon in Monday's semifinals. The Ridgerunners moved into the final round by defeating Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 11-4.

Today's contest will be played at 5:30 p.m. on the diamond near the home economics building.

These same two teams met in the championship contest last year, and the mountaineers eked out a 4-3 decision to capture the crown. Today could be a different story, however, as the Swatters have picked up several key men to bolster last year's weak spots, and enter the game as slight favorites to dethrone the Runners.

In addition to Bobby Crowe, who apparently is a sports jack-of-all-trades, they have secured the services of Bob Pifferini, Hal Phillips and Jim Waterman, all seasoned campaigners. Pifferini, Stu Inman and Bob Hagen lead the challengers' hitting attack.

The defending champs cannot match the all-around hitting power of the Swatters, but boast such consistent sluggers as Vico Bondi-etti, Dean Sophia and Ralph Kling in their lineup.

Ridgerunner supporters, however, are basing their predictions of victory on the sturdy right arm of bonus pitcher Castle. The Satchel Schnoz has hurled two no-hit, no-run games this season, and has been extremely stingy with base hits in all contests.

So this afternoon's contest should provide an answer to the question: Can a good defensive team beat a good offensive team?

'Friendly Athletic Relations' Between SCU-SJSC Is Sought

Bronco Officials Address Spartans

(Editor's Note: The following statements regarding athletic relations between the University of Santa Clara and San Jose State college made by Pat Walsh, University of Santa Clara student body president, Dennis A. Heenan, general manager of the board of athletic control, and Rev. W. C. Gianera, S.J., University of Santa Clara president, were sent to Spartan Daily Editor Leonard Kreidt, upon his request.)

By Pat Walsh

We, of the Santa Clara student body welcome this opportunity to express our desire and confidence that relations between our two schools will continue on the same plane of friendship as that which exists between the vast majority of the individual members of our student bodies.

I have been in contact with Don Schaeffer on several occasions and the student councils of both schools are working in close cooperation in attempting to achieve inter-school harmony throughout the coming year. Friendly rivalry should be the keynote of our athletic functions and I know that both schools, anxious as we are to maintain relations, will cooperate fully in achieving this end.

By Dennis A. Heenan

The growing Santa Clara valley will some day be a great football center. The Broncos and Spartans can lay the foundation for a tremendous public interest based on true sportsmanship and intense, but friendly rivalry. This problem faces not only the students of both schools but is also a challenge to every man, woman and child in the community. With good spirit and charity it cannot fail.

By Rev. W. C. Gianera, S.J.

On September 24th the University of Santa Clara and San Jose State college meet on the gridiron. I feel it important that this contest, and all activities pertaining to it, should be conducted on a high plane. The alumni, students and friends of the two schools should do all in their power not to have anything mar the splendid relationship that exists between the two institutions in other respects. The feeling of competition in athletic contests between neighboring schools is apt to run high and small incidents may give rise to consequences which often do harm. Therefore, I urge all to exercise caution so that no misunderstandings can possibly arise.

Sparta's Most Versatile Athlete Bob Crowe is Potential Record Breaker: Winter

By HANK PLYMIRE

"Bob Crowe can achieve track immortality within a year," says Bud Winter, San Jose State track and field man. The mentor predicts that the versatile athlete will run a 9.4 or 9.5 hundred, a 20.6 or 20.7 furlong and broad jump 25 ft. next year.

What are the indications which give Winter the idea that Crowe will turn in such performances? It's a long story and takes us back to a Franklin, Indiana, high school, where Bob was quite an all-around athlete. He participated in football, basketball, track and softball, earning three letters in the cage sport, two on the gridiron and three in the thirled sport.

Crowe's prep cinder marks weren't outstanding, but they were good and especially were they VARIED. Bob clocked a 10.2 century, a 22.0 furlong, placed third in the state 440-yard dash, high jumped 6 ft. 1 in. and broad jumped 22 ft.

Navy Petty Officer

The trackster's education and athletic career was cut short by the war when he joined the Navy in 1942. Discharged in 1945 as a gunner's mate second class, Crowe entered Compton college in 1946.

At the southland J.C. Bob really came into his own as a star athlete. His record reads like this: 100 yards, 9.8; 220 yards, 21.4, a 47.8 relay lap, plus a 48.0 quarter-mile stint. A sort of a grand climax was reached when the Compton mile relay quartet, of which Crowe was a member, set a new world's junior college mark of 3:16.4.

As though these honors weren't enough, Crowe made the '47 junior college all-American basketball squad while playing a torrid cage game for Compton. He also won the national junior college 440-yard dash in 1947.

Cage Player

Enrolling at San Jose State college in the fall of '48, Bob wasted no time in becoming a well-known athlete, proving himself a vital cog on Coach Walt McPherson's 1948-49 CCAA championship and NAIB contender casaba squad.

When spring rolled around, the Compton transfer joined the Winter-coached cindermen and almost immediately showed his worth as a track competitor.

He chalked up an impressive record of firsts and seconds this season and now looms as a contender for national honors in the dashes. Winter announced recently that he's entered his star sprinter in the NCAA 100- and 220-yard events. Crowe, who broad jumped 24 ft. 1 in. in the San Jose State Pentathlon contest, won't enter that this year. However, he is toying with the idea of competing in the leap in the 1950 season.

Bob won the college's first Pentathlon championship and posted the best marks in three of the five events. He registered his terrific broad jump, ran a 9.6 century, and threw the 16-lb. shot 36 ft. 5 1/2 in. His weak events proved to be the high jump and half mile, with standards of 5 ft. 9 1/2 in. in the former and a 2:12 in the latter.

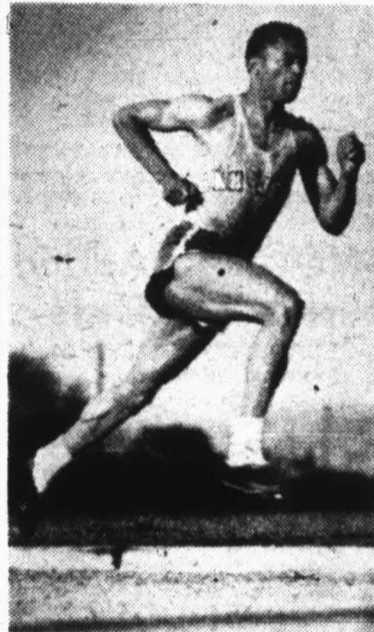

However, he has attained a much higher mark in the high jump event and is capable of a faster 880, as attested to by his best '49 time in the 440—48.0.

Sets Records

His other best mark to date is a 21 flat 220. This is a new Spartan record and also set a new CCAA standard. His 9.6 century was also good for a new conference mark. According to Coach Winter, Bob's broad jump of 24 ft. 1 in. is the best leap by a local athlete since Billy Smith got out 25 ft. in 1942.

Crowe is a recreation major (P.E.) and doesn't know yet where he'll be going to work after graduation. He says he has no hobbies.

Some sports writers have referred to Crowe as being a picture runner and in regard to this Winter says that Bobby is the smoothest man off the blocks that he's ever seen, including Jesse Owens, former 100-yard world record-holder.

Industrial Models Shown In IA Dept. Inner Quad

Seventeen models of industrial art classroom buildings and shops, representing some 2550 man hours of work, are now on display in the inner quad of the Industrial Arts department.

Models depict woodwork shops, metal shops, drafting rooms, instruction rooms, auto shop, general shop and storage sections.

Several models show drawing boards and T-squares used in drafting. Others display desks for left handed students. Industrial arts machinery is represented.

Most of the rooms and buildings are of the secondary level. There are a few representing junior high schools.

Some of the models are based on plans of the State Department of Architecture. Others are built according to the student committee's plans. The project was undertaken in I.A. Ed. 312, "Content and Procedure." Sixteen student committees worked on the models for three weeks.

Seven Days Left To Claim Articles

The information office reports that there are still many articles in Lost and Found. With only seven more days of school, the office would like to clear out as many articles as possible.

It is open from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. on week days, and from 9 a.m. - 12 noon on Saturdays.

Pens, pencils, note books, rings, keys, textbooks, jackets, ASB cards, wallets, purses, glasses, combs, pins, rulers, and articles of clothing are being held.

Information office personnel suggests that students who have lost anything come in to check.

New Twist Added In Hit, Run Case

LOS ANGELES, June 14 (UP)—Police today marked down on the record books a "hit and run" case where the victims, instead of the driver, ran away.

Dudley Campbell, 8, and his brother Michael, 5, ran away yesterday after being knocked down by an automobile, driven by David Chapman, 30.

Chapman got out to help the boys but they jumped up and started running. He caught them a block away and had them treated for brush burns and cuts.

English Office Has 25 'Reeds' To Sell

Twenty-five copies of "The Reed" still are available in the English office, Mrs. Bobbie Waddington, English department secretary, announced. These will be sold on a first come, first serve basis, she said.

"The Reed," English department annual, edited by members of Pegasus, student literary society, contains many prize winning stories from this year's Phelan competition.

Students who did not get a copy when they were on sale, or who wish an extra copy, are urged to take advantage of the present sale.

Music Dept. to Present Instrumental and Voice Recital Today at Noon

A noon recital is on the music menu of the San Jose State college Music department today in room M-108 at 12:30 o'clock.

Katherine Fuller, flutist, opens the program with Ibert's "Concerto." "Sonata No. 4 in D" by Handel is the next number, which will be played by violinist Robin Graaskamp and pianist Nettie Woodward.

Mezzo contralto Carol Mosher steps to the stage to sing two selections. Her offerings will be "When I Have Sung My Songs" by Ernest Charles and Del Riego's "Homing."

"Suite Modique" by Porsch will feature an instrumental quintet composed of Marjorie Kline, Karl Bruhn, Alice Blair, Joseph Graves, and Jack Russell. The program comes to a close with the playing of Chausson's "Poeme" by Warren van Bronkhorst, violinist, and Mrs. Edith Eagan, pianist. Mrs. Eagan replaces Mary Sanfilipo at the keyboard.

ASB Rep Needed

Any student interested in representing the Associated Student Body at Junior Chamber of Commerce meetings should apply to the Student Council in writing before the final council meeting Monday.
