Lawmakers Cut SJS Building Fund; Site Clearing OK'd

"We will submit our $3,561,000 building request to the state legislature again in January", Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, college president, told the Spartan Daily Friday.

San Jose State failed to receive approval of its building request last week when the Education committee of the legislature voted to allot San Jose State only $125,000 of the amount requested.

The committee agreed to give San Jose State the $125,000 in order to complete acquisition of five parcels of land at S. Seventh street and E. San Carlos street.

The original bill, introduced by Assemblyman Jack Thompson, called for additions to the Natural Science building and the Men's gymnasium and for completion of the Library.

In other developments last week the State Public Works board authorized $25,000 for clearing of sites for the Music and Engineering buildings. The Music building will be located across the street from the Home Economics building, and the Engineering building will be built near S. Seventh street and E. San Fernando street.

Governor Earl Warren, the State Department of Education, and other state agencies and officials have assured Dr. MacQuarrie that funds for the two buildings are included in the 1950-51 budget and will be available later this year. Cost of the two structures is estimated at $1,441,700.

Dr. MacQuarrie believes that construction on the $860,000 Speech building, to be located between the Student Union and San Jose high school, will get underway this summer. Construction should also start this summer on the $24,000 archway between the Natural Science building and the Commerce wing, the president said.

Daily Sports New Masthead; Next Edition on Friday

The Spartan Daily, in keeping with new Spring fashions, blossoms forth today with a brand new masthead. The new mast is the product of Editor Bob Skillicorn and the engraving department of the San Jose Mercury Herald.

Next edition of the Daily will be published on Friday. Regular publication begins next week on Monday.

Former Staffer Begins New Job

Earl R. Crabbe, recent graduate and Spartan Daily News Editor during winter quarter, today begins reportorial work on the Salinas Daily Californian.

Crabbe served his internship on the Californian last summer and because of his outstanding work was assured a permanent job on the paper following graduation from San Jose State.

While previously employed at the Californian Crabbe won first prize for a feature article submitted in the Speidel newspapers monthly contest.

La Torre Ticket Sale Opens Today

La Torre tickets will go on sale today and tomorrow during registration in the Men's gym Editor Lou Frangione announced Friday.

"More than one-half of the 2250 1950 editions are already sold", declared the editor. Price of the annual is $5.

The 1950 annual will have 272 pages, 44 more than 1949's. Sports covers 34 pages, with 112 to organizations, 25 to seniors, 20 to the "life" section and 10 to campus life.

The theme of the La Torre is: "California Statehood and the Growth of San Jose State". Eight colored pictures of both the campus and students are included.

Treasurer's Call

The treasurers of Beta Phi Sigma, Delta Sigma, Phi Lambda Epsilon, and Delta Phi Epsilon are requested to contact Mrs. Helen Riley in the Graduate Manager's office, Room 16.

College Makes Few Personnel Changes For New Quarter

Personnel changes at San Jose State college are at a minimum this quarter with only two new instructors hired, according to the office of Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie.

In the Women's physical education department, Mrs. Leila E. McBride, instructor, replaces Mrs. Helen Perkins who resigned. Mr. Everett M. Montague, part-time instructor in the Engineering department fall quarter, will return to replace Mr. William A. Wolff who was on a part-time basis fall and winter quarters.

No one has been named to replace Mr. Peter Kristovitch, former police school instructor, who resigned to take a post as security officer with an Oakland department store.

Entrants Needing Physical Can Sign Registration Day

All entering students required to take physical examinations should sign a list posted during registration at a designated station in the Men's gym, according to Miss Margaret Twombly, head of the Health and Hygiene department.

Examinations will be given Saturday morning, April 8, in the college clinic, Room 31.

Need Helpers

Dick Russo, homecoming chairman for 1950, announces that applications are now open for students who wish to participate on the "annual celebration" committee.

Spartans wishing to apply are asked to notify Russo through "R" box in the coop. Meetings will be announced in the Spartan Daily.

Journalism Prof Sees Ill Mother

Carl R. Hoffmann, assistant professor of journalism, was called to Waupacka, Wis., during spring vacation due to the illness of his mother. Upon his arrival Mr. Hoffmann found that his mother's condition was somewhat improved. He is expected to return to the campus in time for registration today.

Approximately 7200 persons will register for spring quarter classes today and tomorrow in the two gymnasiums according to estimates based on past enrollment figures.

Registration for the following departments will be conducted in the Women's gym: Art, Commerce, Health and Hygiene, Home

Registrar Viola Palmer announced Friday that 7200 students are expected to register today and tomorrow for spring quarter classes. Miss Palmer said that State's largest class of World War II vets will register for their last quarter on Washington square.

Economics, Industrial Arts, Journalism, Librarianship, Military Science, Music, Nursing Education, Occupational Therapy, Women's Physical Education, Police, Psychology and Speech. Other departments will be located in the Men's gym and all registration booklets, regardless of department, must be completed and turned in at the Men's gym.

Students will register in the following order:

Monday, April 3
Mac, Mc, M	7:30
N, O, P	8
Q, R	8:30
S	9
T, U, V	9:30
W to Z	10
A	10:30
B	11
C	1:30
F	2:30
Tuesday, April 4
G	8
H	8:30
I, J	9
K, L	9:30
Last Group	1:30

Last group consists of students whose registration booklets were not included in the hour-group to which they belong because of late applications for admission or re-admission, unpaid fines or fees which had not been cleared by Friday, March 31.

San Jose State college enrollment hit a peak fall quarter when 8019 persons registered, according to Miss Viola Palmer, registrar. College officials hope that the student body can be pared down to 6000 by next fall quarter, the figure set by the state as the ceiling for state college enrollment.

The largest veteran class enters its last quarter this week. In the fall of 1946, 2846 ex-G.I.'s registered. Last quarter 2624 vets still were in attendance. The percentage of veteran students has decreased however. In the winter of 1946-47, one out of every two students was a veteran. Last quarter, about one in three were vets.

CBEA Starts Convention Today

San Jose is the site for the annual convention of California Business Education association, being held today and tomorrow in Hotel Sainte Claire. More than 400 teachers of business subjects from all parts of California will attend.

The local committee in charge of the convention consists of Milburn D. Wright, San Jose State college, general chairman; Earl W. Atkinson, SJSC, program chairman; George Kemp, Campbell High school, publicity; and John W. Aberle, SJSC, exhibits chairman.

This will be the first CBEA convention to meet in San Jose. Delegates will represent colleges, universities, high schools, and junior colleges. Panel discussions on various problems of business teaching, a "Business Machines Room and Laboratory Exhibit", and a "Business Teachers" banquet, to be held at the Hotel Sainte Claire, will complete the convention agenda.

Registrar Asks Students to Check

Upper division students whose booklets are marked "with deficiencies" are advised by the Registrar's office that this notation may not be correct.

Checking of deficiencies is somewhat behind schedule and where there is need for a clarification of status students may inquire in Room 100.

Fairness Group To Discuss New Penalty Measures

New disciplinary measures, other than grade penalties, will be discussed by the Fairness committee in their meeting tomorrow afternoon in the Philosophy office.

The possibility of adding hours needed for graduation, or of assigning manual labor on campus to offenders are two of the suggestions to be read in a report by Dr. Donald Alden of the committee.

The Fairness committee has just completed a survey to find out what disciplinary actions are possible for cheating under the state law. The committee has also investigated methods used by other universities and colleges.

Johnson Plays At Reg. Dance

Spartan students weary from standing in long registration lines will be able to relax and forget all about it at the "Reg Dance" tonight in the Civic Auditorium Social Affairs Chairman, Duke Deras announced Friday.

The dance is scheduled to last from 8-12 p.m. Admission is by student body card. Sport clothes will be the dress, as the theme is simply one of relaxation from the rigors of registration and "Easter week at Santa Cruz".

Boyd Johnson and his progressive jazz outfit will provide the live music for this first school get-together of the spring quarter.

It's Up To You

Will San Jose State college take another step forward in its drive for national recognition in the athletic world or will the sports picture here remain status quo?

That question is one which YOU are being asked to help answer.

More than a month ago, Athletic Director Glenn (Tiny) Hartranft told the Student Council of his plan to charge students an admission fee to basketball games and boxing matches in order that San Jose State teams could meet outstanding intersectional opponents in Spartan gymnasium. The admission fee would be necessary, Mr. Hartranft explained, so that the Athletic department could meet the financial guarantees which intersectional teams would demand.

Mr. Hartranft made it plain at that time that he wanted to hear student opinion on the matter before proceeding with any definite plans.

Since that time, however, there has been virtually no expression of opinion from YOU the students.

Mr. Hartranft and the other gentlemen in the Athletic department are not mind readers. They are attempting to handle this situation in a democratic manner, but the lack of student interest has proved a stumbling block for their well-meant plans.

Therefore, the Spartan Daily, in order to assist Mr. Hartranft as well as the entire college sports program, is giving YOU a chance to let him know your opinion.

Immediately below this editorial you will find a questionnaire on which YOU may indicate your approval or disapproval of Mr. Hartranft's plan.

San Jose State's athletic situation has reached a crossroads. Whether we advance into national prominence or whether we remain a good, but little-known small-college sports school is up to YOU!

Fill out the following questionnaire and return to the Spartan Daily office at your earliest convenience.

- I approve of the Hartranft student-admission plan _____
- I disapprove of the Hartranft student-admission plan _____

Keep It In Mind

San Jose State college revives one of its newer traditions Sunday when Blue Key organization will sponsor the 1950 Easter Sunrise services.

The services, to be held in the Inner Quad beginning at 6:30 a.m., are designed to enable State students who aren't familiar with local churches to attend an inter-denominational service.

Back in the spring of 1947, the Blue Key group, then known as the Spartan Knights, held the first Sunrise service, but during the past two years the services were not held.

Marsh Pitman, chairman for the event, has worked hard to prepare a program that will be in keeping with the deep religious significance of the day.

In the hectic rush of registration week, and with thoughts of coastside holidays ever prevalent in our minds, we should not fail to remember Easter week.

Your college is offering you an opportunity to take part in what rightfully should be one of the finest and most outstanding of Sparta's traditions. Before you make any definite plans for next Sunday, think about attending the Easter Sunrise services.

Keep it in mind!

Information Office Lists Many Items

The Information office again reports that a large number of lost and found articles have piled up. Items ranging from books and binders to note paper and photo albums fill the shelves and book cases. There is a rack literally filled with sports coats, rain coats, jackets and shoes. In addition to all of this there is the usual collection of pens, pencils, and pins. The Information office wishes to remind the students that most of the articles lost on campus are turned in to the lost and found department. If some of the stuff is not picked up soon it will overflow into the hall.

ON THE SQUARE

By JACK RUSSELL

Spartan Daily News Editor
Spartan boxing fans saw more than just a series of athletic contests in the PCI trials two weeks ago. They saw human drama and sportsmanship at its highest peak.

Two senior boxers who have been working and training for four years toward that very moment lost their chances on hair-line decisions. Both boys wanted to compete for Coach Portal at Sacramento so badly that they could taste it.

Those three or four minutes in which the ballots were collected from the varsity members—who cast the deciding votes, rather than regular ringside judges—were undoubtedly the longest minutes that either Jim Nutt or Pete Fransulich had ever experienced.

When the decision was announced, Nutt, in a moment of emotion, flung his headgear to the floor and kicked it. Then just as suddenly his sportsmanship came back and Jim rushed over to his opponent, newcomer Stan Marciel, hugged him and wished him all the best of luck in the tests to come.

Pete Fransulich, who had even a stronger incentive to compete in the PCI for the last time—his home is Sacramento, also walked over and congratulated his conqueror, Raul Diez. Both fights could have gone either way, so close were they. Both Pete and Jim thought they had won. Whether they actually did or not, the important thing that will be remembered is how they took their disappointments.

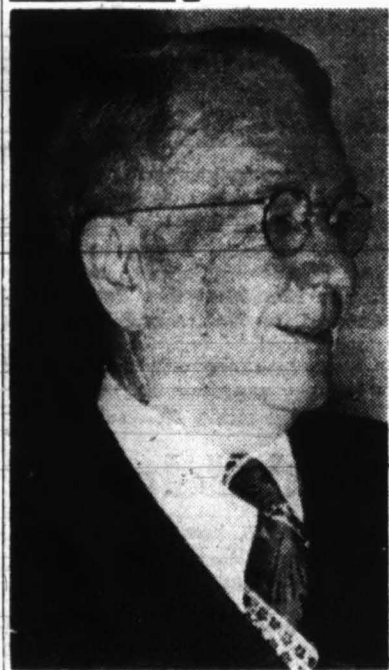

We say with all sincerity that both Jim Nutt (1948 CCAA champion) and Pete Fransulich (1948 PCI champ) were greater in defeat Friday than they ever were in victory.

We also say that the college or high school that gets either one of these Spartans as athletic instructors will have one of the finest gentlemen and competitors that ever wore the Gold and White.

Just Among Ourselves

By PRES. T. W. MacQUARRIE

Spring is the hardest quarter—warm days, week-ends at the beach, weddings, jobs—the old scholastic average gets the jitters. It's a time for clear thinking, balance and common sense. In the college administration, we are having our own troubles—land purchase, new buildings, crowding, disqualified students, reducing enrollment.

By June the Speech building should be started and the Arch between Commerce and Science, possibly the Memorial Chapel.

We hope to have all of the land by that time for Music and Engineering. The buildings should be started soon after that, but, ah me, it takes a long time for government to move.

Pitch in, folks—it will be June before you know it. Come in and see me if you get time.

"Think of it—and der we wuz—locked in each other's arms!"

Have You Found the Secret Beyond the Door?

By JEANNE THOMAS

Spring quarter . . . dream-time weather, new chapter in your college career, the desire for adventure, an awakened interest in your ivy-covered surroundings . . . here's a tip to test your focal point. You may have ambled down the winding corridors of this institution for years without realizing the hidden prisms of interest that greet you at every turn. Don't remain untouched by it all, investigate the "Secret Beyond the Door."

Here's the advantage of a lifetime—cross section-State campus, to be found by all, merely by walking through one of the many blank-looking portals to SJSC offices. First there is the glassed-in easement of the Dean of (we laughingly call them) Men's office.

This entrance leads to "Pitman's Paradise", where the elite meet and are never seen again. After spending a few minutes observing the mad stream of men, passing through like so many city-line buses, you will conclude two things: a) This place is more like Grand Central Station than an office retreat, and b.) Gads, what a lot of men!

Info Gals Busy

Across the raging abyss from the Dean's Den, we find the "Madcap Martyrs" of the Information office. What a life these gals lead. Here you will determine that people are not only funny, but downright shaky in the frontal lobe.

Not only is information about straying soulmates and elusive canines dished out across the counters of the "Info Please" place, but a staggering success has been established in their lost and found department, motto: "If we haven't got it, you never had it."

Perhaps the most efficient office is the one with HEALTH spelled out decisively on the door, a warning to all that enter. (Ah to be able to read). They waste not a minute in preliminaries, here. You walk in at 10:30 with a clear conscience and a naive conception of the place. You make your exit at 11:02 with the assistance of two of the patients who still can navigate.

They have taken your temperature, given you three inoculations, and the offer of a blood transfusion. You are minus your peace of mind and the information you were seeking. (Note: when visiting this particular den of medicinal iniquity, wear a sign depicting the fact that you are sound of mind and body, and wish to remain that way).

Men Run Rampant

Of course you can't forget the office of the Dean of Women, where women are scarce but men run rampant morning, noon, and night. If it wasn't for the sign on the door one would think it was Pitman's Paradise all over again. What is the magnet that draws strong mates through these portals?

Well, it seems there is a certain file available here, complete with addresses and telephone numbers, that rates high with the boys. You know, in case they need a baby sitter, or a typist for their term paper. Of course there are a few who want to contact the girl just because she is a girl. These cases, however, are few and far between at San Jose State college, where man's only interest lies in academic research and intellectual awakening. This last bit of information I obtained from a short interview with a psychology major, who had a forehead high enough for three sets of eyebrows and no teeth.

Next time you are speeding on your way into the afternoon, seeking release from the grind of terror and adversity that is college life, drop in on one of the above-mentioned ports in the storm and get a kick out of the life in these h'ar hills.

State Debate Team Competing at Stockton

A delegation from San Jose State college's Forensic club is in Stockton today participating in the Pi Kappa Delta Provincial Invitational Debate tournament. The tournament is an annual affair, sponsored this year by the College of Pacific. It will last three days, through April 5. Those entered in the contest from SJSJC include Leslie Groshong, Bob Whittall, John Mix, Sam Datri, James Dittmer, Glyndon Riley, Willis Morris, Jim Maynard, and Lois Walker. The students are entered in team debate competition and individual impromptu speaking divisions.

Subject for debate is the national debate proposition. Resolved: "That the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries."

In the impromptu speaking contest, students are allowed to designate a subject field in which they are interested. Specific topics for speeches are drawn from this subject field.

Topics chosen by local students include Groshong, personality adjustment; Datri, travel; Dittmer, automobiles; Morris, retailing; Riley, religion.

Following Monday's debate session, students will take part in "Forensic Follies," inter-school variety show which includes skits, novelty acts, and song numbers.

Participating in the inter-school debate are schools from this area including Stanford, San Francisco State college, and San Jose State college. Also taking part in the debate activities will be San Diego State college, Pepperdine, and University of Southern California.

IEC Adopts Regulations Governing Use of Liquor Here

The Inter-Fraternity council at San Jose State college recently adopted a group of regulations governing the use of liquor in all member houses. The regulations were adopted formally at a meeting of the I.F.C., with President Bob Baer presiding.

No fraternity will serve any alcohol beverage, including beer, at any function attended by women and none of the members may bring liquor to any fraternity house or function.

Doris Hildebrand To Wed D. Azevedo

Miss Doris Hildebrand recently announced her betrothal to Dewain Azevedo, a junior radio major at San Jose State college.

The bride-to-be is a junior journalism major, and will serve a three month internship on the Los Gatos Daily Times during spring quarter. She was a society reporter on the Spartan Daily winter quarter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Azevedo of San Francisco are parents of the benedict-elect and Miss Hildebrand is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Tole of San Jose and Mr. Ray Hildebrand of San Francisco.

The couple haven't set a wedding date.

R. A. Kelly Tells Local Students Of NSA Plans

Robert A. Kelly, president of the United States National Student Association, spoke to 10 San Jose Staters in the Student Y Lounge last week.

The NSA membership totals about 900,000 students, or about half of the undergraduates in the United States. Three hundred and twenty American schools, ranging from a junior college of 55 students in Memphis to the University of California, are members. San Jose State college has not affiliated.

Purposes of NSA, as outlined in the preamble of the organization, are: "maintain academic freedom, stimulate and improve democratic student governments, develop better educational standards, improve student welfare, promote international understanding, guarantee to all people equal rights and possibilities for education, and foster the recognition of the rights and responsibilities of students to the school, the community, humanity and God, and to preserve the interests and integrity of the government and constitution of the United States."

New Social Science Courses Slated for Summer Sessions

Many new social science courses are being planned for the 1950 Summer Sessions at San Jose State college, according to Dr. William Poytress, head of the department.

A new type of upper division history course is being inaugurated for next year during the first Summer Session, Poytress reveals. Instead of studying history straight through, upper division social science majors will be able to study periods, such as the "Jacksonian Period", from 1812 to the Mexican war, and "Colonial America." These courses are open to any student during the summer.

In political science the following courses will be given at the first session: "Soviet Union Today," dealing with the internal structure and relations of the Soviet union to the rest of the world; "International Organization," a course designed for seniors on the structure and function of the United Nations; and "History of American Political Thought".

In sociology, "Social Aspects of Health," "Social Science," and "World Resources and Population" will be given. Three graduate courses are also on the schedule.

A new course entitled "Geography of the Pacific Coast" will be given during the second summer session, Poytress reveals.

"American Political Parties" and "Contemporary Political Thought" are slated for the second session in political science.

Poytress states that "Youth Problems of Today," a very popular course given last summer, will be repeated again at this year's second session.

"Community Organization," dealing with the problems of the city and community, will also be presented for the first time this year.

In economics, "Current Problems of Public Finance," dealing with taxation and government financing, also will be slated.

Dr. Poytress reveals that the social science department is stressing graduate and senior work.

Dr. Layton to Go To San Diego Meet

Dr. Anita Layton of the Health department, will be one of the delegates to the annual conference of the State Tuberculosis association in San Diego during the spring vacation, it was announced Friday.

Dr. Layton is president of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis association, Miss Margaret Twombly, head of the Health and Hygiene department, said.

In addition to the TB convention, Dr. Layton will represent the Health department at a pre-conference meeting under the auspices of the State Bureau of Health Education, Physical Education, and Recreation. The

Two Students Represent SJS at AWS Convention

Associated women students Joan Hale and Jo Ann Keeler leave today for the University of Oklahoma, at Norman, Okla., where they will attend the National Intercollegiate AWS convention.

Miss Hale, temporary president of the local AWS group, is a junior commerce major from Morgan Hill. Miss Keeler is a sophomore general elementary major from San Jose, and is AWS treasurer.

University of Oklahoma hostesses will greet representatives and advisers from colleges and universities all over the United States, according to Publicity Chairman Melba Sills. Purpose of the convention is to create a closer relationship between AWS organizations.

Discussions, displays of AWS projects and activities, and round table talks compose the convention agenda. San Jose State college delegates plan to participate in discussions concerning improvement of orientation programs, closer student-faculty relations, leadership training, and services offered by AWS to campus and community.

Spartan Alum Seeks Office

R. O. Del Mutolo, who has recently announced his candidacy for the office of 29th District assemblyman, attended San Jose State college and is a graduate of the University of Santa Clara, class of 1936. He holds a BA in political science.

The aspirant is a native of San Jose and a veteran of World War II. Before entering the service he served a clerkship in the State assembly in 1940 and 1941.

He worked on local farms and canneries as a youth, learning the problems of the small businessman, farmer, and the working man. He is married to the former Helen Zeller, who also attended this college.

Del Mutolo, who is seeking both the democratic and republican nominations, has come out against "bossism" and "special interests inimical to the people's welfare."

Gloria Surian To Be Soloist

Gloria Surian, the advanced music major from Los Gatos who made such a hit when she sang with the a capella choir recently, will be soloist for the 1950 Easter Sunrise services, April 9, it was disclosed yesterday. The services will be held in the inner quad at 6:30 p.m. and are sponsored by Blue Key, mens' national service fraternity.

Invocation at the services are to be given by the Rev. James Martin, executive secretary of San Jose Student Y and benediction by Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman, a former minister. Former Blue Key President Phil Ward will read the scripture and Toni Pitman will play the carillon chimes.

SJSC Nine to Open Against San Diego

By ROSS MASSEY

Heading into the "meaty" part of their tough schedule, the Spartan horsehiders send "Pistol Pete" Mesa against the Aztecs of San Diego at Municipal stadium, tomorrow, April 4, at 3 p.m. San Jose also meets Compton J.C. Thursday, April 6, at the same place, same time.

Coach Walt William's nine now is sporting a .500 won-lost average. The Joseans have lost the "toughies" to Stanford, St. Mary's, and twice to California. Their wins were against San Francisco State, Camp Pendleton, and two wins over Moffett Field.

Mesa, who starts against San Diego, is the tough-luck hurler of the local nine. His last outing was a neat four-hitter against Cal but weak hitting and fielding lost the game 4-0. Only one of the runs scored were earned.

The game with Compton probably will find Ralph Romero, a fluid-working, curve ball artist, taking the mound for San Jose. St. Mary's college knocked Romero out of the box earlier in the year for his only setback.

Weak stick work has been the vexatious problem of the Gold and White nine so far this season. The team batting average is .203 and only one regular is batting over .300. Will Concklin, third sacker, is hitting .348.

San Diego has a record of eight

Frosh Baseball

Coach Tom Cureton's frosh baseball charges return to their diamond wars Thursday as they take on the Buccaneers of Campbell high school in a local game.

The Spartababes have lost only one game to San Jose high in a thriller. Pitcher-outfielder Manny Ferguson has led the squad in its victories to date. The frosh will play 14 more games, finishing against St. Mary's frosh on May 18.

wins and three losses this season. One loss was a 15-4 shellacking by USC, but they have beaten Whittier college, Loyola university, and several naval teams. A right-hander, Harry Ohlson who has won one and lost one, will take the hill against Mesa.

Boxers to be Feted Tomorrow Night

Hal Moore, wrestling impresario of San Jose, and noted sportswriters of the Bay area will be guest speakers at the Boxing Team banquet, Vahl's Restaurant, tomorrow night. The affair is being sponsored by the Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

The Spartan boxing team will be feted at the event and pictures of the Pacific Coast Invitational will be shown.

Ed Everett, chairman of the banquet, revealed that tickets for the event may be obtained at the Graduate Manager's office, radio station KIBE in Palo Alto, and from members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

McCarty Sparks Golfers to Victory

Sporting victories over the University of Colorado, 11-7, and the Bears of California, 20½-6½, the SJSC golf team moves into Pasatiempo Country club to play the best in the west at the Northern California Intercollegiate matches.

Warren MacCarty led San Jose to victory in both matches against Cal and Colorado. Joe Zakarian, Leo Foley, and Ken Venturi also shot very good games. It was the Golden Bears' first loss.

Both the Colorado and California matches were played in miserable weather as a light drizzle and strong wind hindered the golf competitors.

San Jose State has produced two NCAA boxing champions prior to this year's meet. Dick Miyagawa and Wayne Fontes are the two Spartan champions.

'LITTLE MAC' GOES ALL THE WAY

Modestoan Hammers Out Only SJS Division Title

By Dan Hruby
Spartan Daily Sports Editor

Mac Martinez, a college student who never learned the meaning of defeat, Saturday night slashed his way to the 125-lb. championship of the National Collegiate Athletic association's tournament of 1950. The little Spartan dynamo, San Jose's only entry in the finals, racked up a unanimous decision over Henry Amos of Michigan State before 5000 excited fans in Penn State's recreation hall.

Martinez' triumph, however, was the only bright light for the Californians, who finished fifth in the tourney. San Jose notched second place last year. Idaho and Gonzaga saved face for the Pacific coast in tying for the championship with 18 points apiece. They were followed by Michigan State, third with 13; LSU and Penn State, fourth with 12, and SJSC with 10 points.

Firing from a southpaw stance, the automaton of Spartan boxing won his 13th straight bout in topping Amos. In a bloody slugfest, Martinez dropped Amos to the canvas late in the second round with a right to the head.

'Little Mac' left no doubt in the judges' minds as to the winner, in direct contrast with last year's fiasco. The Modestoan threw more leather than a bucking bronco with five saddles in winning the PCI and NCAA titles, and proving his heart bigger than his stature.

Martinez, fighting with instinct and visceral valor, showed a cheering crowd that courage and condition pay off. In his toughest bout, he conquered Milton Pastor of LSU in the semifinals Friday night. Pastor, a clever puncher and ring-wise veteran, entered the fight with supreme confidence.

Departing from his unusual style, the Gold and White battler answered the bell with dazzling footwork and caution, and three minutes later found himself losing. But in round two, the red flag was thrown to the winds and Pastor was hit by a paddlewheel attack he never had seen before. Martinez snared the final two rounds and won a unanimous decision, in addition to the hearts of an obstreperous crowd.

The competition as rugged all the way for the 125-lb. Spartan, who met Steve Gremblin in a thrilling first round bout. Gremblin of Wisconsin sported a NCAA title won in 1948, but the invincible Martinez handily took the decision. Gremblin was hanging on to the referee, the ropes and his opponent at the final bell.

Hard-luck Don Schaeffer, capping a four-year fistic career, smashed out a decision over Pete Monfore of Army in the opening round and looked a good bet to take the 175-lb laurels, but his old nemesis, Carl Maxey of Gonzaga, beat him in the quarter-finals. Maxey later won in the finals.

Trojans Trounce Spartan Cindermen; Martin, Mattos, Relay Quartet Shine

Setting a new school record and surprising the experts, the San Jose State college mile relay team scored a big upset by nosing out the University of Southern California foursome in 3 min. 18.6 sec. in a three-way meet with the NCAA track champions and Fresno State college at the Los Angeles coliseum Saturday. Otherwise, USC won pretty much as expected with 115 points, followed by the Spartans with 30 3-4 and the Bulldogs with 16 1-4.

San Jose's anchor man, Don Davis, personally led the relay team to its triumph. Davis started even on the last lap with the old iron horse, Bob Chambers, and outran the Trojan ace in the last 20 yards. San Jose's team was composed of Owen Moore, Rueben Derrick, Bob Nicolai and Davis.

Three events were won outright by the Spartans while a fourth was shared four ways. Reliable Mel Martin turned in a creditable performance in the high leap, jumping 6 ft. 5 in. Dore Purdy was the only local athlete to cop a flat race. He toured the 2-mile in 9 min. 48 sec. George Mattos equalled his top mark of 13 ft. 6 in. for the season in the pole vault, but had to share it with three rivals.

Other San Jose point-makers were: Boyd Porch, second in the javelin at 188 ft. 4 1-4 in.; Davis, third in the 220-yard dash; Jim Gillespie, third in the 220-yard low hurdles; Owen Moore, fourth in the 440 yard dash; Frank Johnson, fourth in the mile run; Dan Sawyer, fourth in the 880 yard run; Ron Maire, fourth in the broad jump, and Marion Day, fourth in the 2-mile run.

Two meet records were broken, both by Trojans. Dick Attlesey, the only double winner of the day, bounded over the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.1 sec., lopping a half second off the old standard. NCAA point-maker, Bob Pruitt, made the second new time with his 1 min. 53.8 sec. in the 880 yard run.

The San Jose freshmen were beaten soundly in their first test of the season, 90-41, by College of Sequoia (Visalia) on the Spartan field Saturday.

Maurice Alsop of San Jose won the shot put and the discus, tossing the iron ball 42 ft. 1 in. and slinging the platter 138 ft. 3 in. Clifton Paregien (COS), a double winner in the sprints, churned the furlong in a fast 21.5 sec.

Veni, Vidi, Vici!

The good citizens of Ceres, Calif., located three miles south of Modesto, now can roll out the carpets and call out the bands to honor a native son, MAC MARTINEZ, who captured the 125-lb. NCAA boxing championship over the vacation at State College, Pa. The rugged little pugilist, a 22-year-old junior at San Jose State should be ready to defend his newly-won title, come next boxing season.

rainbowed hooks and punched well in close but Maxey's longer reach and incessant jabbing pyramided points and gave the northern ace a unanimous decision.

Santa Clara's Al Tafoya, always coming, always the aggressor, chased LSU's Tad Thrash all over the ring in a 130-lb. Thursday night joust, but the referees chose the southerner in an unpopular decision. The crowd, predominantly Pennsylvanian, booed the result lustily as everyone thought the Californian had won.

San Jose's chances of copping the NCAA plummeted with an ominous thud in the opening round when Heavyweight Jack Scheberies and 165-pounder Raul Diez followed Tafoya over the vanquished trail.

Decision Nips D. Schaeffer, Gives Idaho PCI Title

By JACK RUSSELL, News Editor

175-lb. Finals: Carl Maxey (Gonzaga) dec. Don Schaeffer (San Jose State).

Those simple lines spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the San Jose State boxing team at the PCI tournament in Sacramento. They also revealed, unknowing to many, how much a boxer can improve in two years.

Behind those results was a story that began two years ago. At Spokane, Wash., in 1948, Carl Maxey met Don Schaeffer in an exhibition bout. The Gonzaga battler was ineligible and reports stated that he was too good for any college-trained boxer. For three rounds, he completely out-classed the Spartan as Schaeffer hardly landed a punch.

Last week, two years later, these two met again in the crucial bout of the finals. If Schaeffer won, San Jose State would be PCI champions. If Maxey got the nod, Idaho would be victors. It was a different Schaeffer who entered the Memorial auditorium ring from the sophomore of two years ago.

The Spartan light-heavy fought the best fight of his life. Maxey was no longer invincible. The PCI champ was tired and floundering at the final bell. The bout was very close but most ringside observers gave Schaeffer the edge. The official verdict, however, was Maxie by a decision.

Maxey's win ended Spartan hopes as Idaho finished with 25 points, three more than State's 22. Gonzaga, with three champions, scored 21, followed by WSC with 19, and UCLA with 14.

The Spartan boxing team went into the finals three points behind Idaho. Both teams had four men in the final evening's program.

Mac Martinez started the Portal-men on the victory road by taking a gruelling three-round decision from Idaho's sophomore whiz, Frank Echevarria. It was Martinez' toughest fight of the season, but the Modestoan proved to be a real champion by stopping Larry McLaughlin (WSC) Thursday night and scoring another two round TKO over Gordon Seamonon (Gonzaga) on Friday.

Idaho's next two battlers also lost, giving the Spartans the advantage. Things looked good at the intermission since only a single victory in any of the next three bouts would give State the title.

Stan Marcell, who had entered the finals by taking decisions from Milt Wilson (WSC) and Thane Johnson (Idaho), faced Eli Thomas of Gonzaga. The fight was a slugfest from the opening bell with Thomas, who was K.O.'d by Wayne Fontes here last season, earning a slight margin of victory.

This set the stage for the feature match of the evening between three-time winner Herb Carlson and Raul Diez at 165 lbs. Diez entered the championship flight by stopping Charles Morgan (WSC) in two rounds on Friday. Against Carlson, Raul boxed beautifully in the first two stanzas, but in the third they elected to slug it out, Diez pitching them long and Carlson whipping them in from 10 inches out. The Spartan was sent staggering into the ropes from a right cross but he recovered and was matching Carlson blow for blow when the referee suddenly stepped in and halted the contest, awarding it to the Vandal on a TKO. He explained after the matches that he didn't want to see anyone get hurt.

Jack Scheberies was the only State battler to fail to get past the opening round. Scheberies dropped a split decision to Don Ellis of Idaho after chasing the lighter Vandal all over the ring trying for a K.O. smash.

Al Tafoya defeated Phil Largent (WSC) in bout number one and then lost to DeForrest Tovey (Idaho) in the semis. Tafoya was the aggressor but Tovey caught the judges' eyes with classy footwork and boxing skill.

Jim McDonald fought the best battle of his three-year career when he apparently beat defending champion Nip Long (WSC) at 145 lbs. It was the worst decision of the three evenings as the nod went to the northern scrapper.

State's lightweight Ed Martin looked great Thursday in decisively whipping Wes Langford (Gonzaga), but he was stopped in one round by Norm Walker (Idaho) the following night. Martin was dropped for a nine-count and couldn't recover from the Vandal's flailing attack.

McConnell, Walt McPherson Journey East

Two San Jose State college "Macs", Coach Walt McPherson and Swimmer Pat McConnell, spent the holidays with business jaunts into the Midwest and East.

McConnell sojourned to Columbus, Ohio, to compete in the NCAAA swimming and diving championships March 24-25. The husky Irishman, a graduate of San Jose high, finished 20th in a field of 32 of the nation's best collegiate divers. Operating on an unfamiliar board, McConnell lost the half-twist dive early in the meet and had trouble getting back into form.

Basketball Mentor Walt McPherson still is in New York City attending the NCAA basketball coaches convention. The genial Spartan coach is making his first visit to the meeting and should come back with some new opponents for the Spartans' next caba season.

Future trips to the Midwest and possibly Madison Square Garden are in prospect for SJS teams, in view of their impressive record this year. McPherson will return April 9.

Spartan Mermen Drown Arizona

Fresh with three straight victories over the holidays, the San Jose mermen engage the tough San Francisco State pool team in the Spartan pool Friday, April 7. The boys from Washington Square beat the University of Arizona twice, and the California Aggies. The Wildcats went down 60-15, and 50-25 respectively. The Aggies surrendered 54-21.

Pat McConnell, crack diving star, who flew in from the NCAA meet held in Columbus, Ohio, led the Spartans to victories over Arizona. McConnell won in both matches at Tucson.

Other stars for the Gold and White mermen were Don Lee and George Haines; both won double events. Lee captured the 220 and 440-yard events, while Haines won the 50 and 100-yard events.

Haines was the individual star against the Cal Aggies also. He won the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events. His time for the 50-yard swim was a remarkable 25.5 seconds. He churned the 100 yards in a fast 57.7 seconds.

Spartan Netsters Meet Californians

After finishing fifth in the NCI tennis tournament, the SJS netmen will engage the strong Bears Wednesday at Berkeley. The NCI meet ended in a tie for the championship between USF and COP.

Krikorian and Bulwa went to the quarter-finals before being beaten by Catton and Roach, respectively, of USF.

On Friday, April 7, the squad will cross rackets with the Washington State college team, of which little is known. The matches will be held at 1:30 p.m. on the Spartan Village tennis courts.
