Voters Mark Ballots Today At US Polls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—Voters will mark ballots today on an assortment of proposals dealing with legalized gambling, veterans' bonuses, poll tax repeal, Communist controls and world government.

And some states and communities will vote on such perennial questions as liquor control, the size of old age pensions and more money for schools.

While electing members of the next congress, many states will settle some internal arguments by voting on constitutional amendments, initiative and referendum proposals and bond issues. A survey by the Commerce Clearing House at Chicago showed more than 200 proposals to be put to a vote in 34 states.

California and Arizona will vote on proposals to legalize and tax gambling in casinos licensed by state agencies. Pension groups are supporting the California plan because the tax income would go into state welfare grants. But all major candidates oppose it.

HONG KONG, Nov. 6—Communist China was going on a war footing today to support North Korea in defiance of the United Nations.

The official radio at Peiping, capital of Red China, disclosed that air raid shelters are being dug throughout Manchuria and all factories are put on a war basis.

It claimed thousands of volunteers were clamoring to go to the Korean front to fight the "American Imperialists", but did not mention that Chinese forces already are in action there.

Council to Discuss SJS College Flag

A high school orientation program for schools in the San Jose area will be discussed by the Student Council this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Student Union.

The program, requested by several high schools in the area, will consist of speakers from the college visiting the high schools and speaking at assemblies.

Also on the agenda is the question of the value of the inter-class council, a report on the campus chest drive, and discussion on the idea of designing a college flag for San Jose State college.

Tickets Available For 'Scandal' Play

By NANCY LOUGHLIN

Tickets for "School for Scandal" which opened Friday night for a successful six-night run are still available for tonight's and tomorrow night's performances, according to Mrs. Verda B. Jackson, secretary of the Speech and Drama department.

"The selection of seats for tonight's performance is limited, but there are quite a few good ones left for tomorrow night. Tickets can be purchased in the Speech office, Room 57, said Mrs. Jackson.

"School for Scandal" has been drawing full houses since it opened Friday night in the Little Theater. A colorful production, it can point to several good performances for reason of its capacity crowds.

Warren Blomseth and Gloria Pitcher are outstanding as Sir Peter and Lady Teazle. Fred Adair and Martha Bowline share honors as the two lovers who, until the final scene, are thwarted in their interests toward each other. Adair, in his excellent performance, makes this a top role while Miss Bowline interprets her role with an air of cool detachment which makes it outstanding by way of contrast to the more rollicking type performances in the play.

James Jensen plays Sir Joseph Surface, the hypocrite of the play, with his usual virtuosity Stanley Schwimmer delivers a highly convincing performance as Sir Oliver Surface. Betsy Smith as Lady Sneerwell, Judith Levy as Mrs. Candour, and Jack Byers and Ron Sego as Mr. Crabtree and Sir Benjamin Backbite, respectively, are amusing as the four scandal-mongers. Also amusing is Richard Risso as William, servant to Joseph Surface.

The rest of the cast in order of their appearance are John Allegretti as Snake, Alewah Leidig as servant to Lady Sneerwell, Bert Graf as Rowley, Robert Collins as Moses, Thomas Patterson as Careless, James Breton as Sir Harry Bumper, Byron Rose as Trip, and Enid Cardena as servant to Lady Teazle.

Students living in the area directly east of San Jose State college, Naglee park, were almost given a dubious Christmas gift last night by San Jose Councilman Robert Doerr. The city council passed unanimously a resolution repealing the emergency measure taken in 1946 allowing 10 boarders per house in the residentially zoned area where law provides usually only five.

The council ruled the repeal should take effect July 1, 1951, allowing students to live in present housing until then. Councilman Doerr, however, wanted the ruling to take effect at Christmas.

Action stems from complaints made by householders in Naglee park who say students there cause a disturbance. Owners feel the housing situation in San Jose is no longer serious and the emergency measure should be lifted. Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, college housing administrator, told reporters that the reduction would be a definite set-back in the just recently ease-up in student housing immediately surrounding Washington Square.

Gloria Cathey, recreation major who suffered scalp injuries Thursday in a jewelry lab accident, was discharged from the Health cottage yesterday, according to Dr. Fleta Williams, college physician.

Miss Cathey is feeling well now, Dr. Williams reported, and the condition of her scalp has improved.

The present arrangement also encourages a high standard of instruction since it carries a stipulation that a minimum of 80 per

Alumni Homecoming Features Bonfire Rally

By JACK GALLAGHER

Sparta's younger set, from 16 to 66, that is, will have the opportunity to air its noisier and more spectacular skills this week as the 1950 Alumni Homecoming activities get under way, according to Homecoming Chairman Dick Russo.

The bigger and better (quote: Parade Chairman Jerry Schmidt) downtown parade which will be staged tomorrow night, will be the first event in a program that was not designed for the inhibited.

The parade will begin at St. James park at 7:30 p.m., and will feature 35 colorful floats. It will proceed south on First street, turn left at San Carlos street, and disperse at S. Seventh street.

Thursday morning fraternities and cooperative living groups will decorate their houses along the Homecoming theme of Recall, Re-live, Re-capture, or along lines suitable to the SJS-St. Mary's football rivalry.

On Thursday evening things will really warm up at the bonfire rally for the Spartan-Gael Homecoming football game. A two-hour program, to which alumni over 66 will not be admitted unless they bring a bass drum, policeman's whistle, political candidate, or similar noisemaker, will start at 8 p.m.

Ten city buses have been chartered for transporting students to the fairgrounds for the rally. The buses will leave the Student Union at 7:30 p.m., according to Dick Russo.

Russo stated that social fraternity pledges will clean up the fairgrounds both before and after the rally, and that the student police will donate their services to police the rally.

The Ditz Bros. will donate the use of a tractor to move a portable stage for the rally. The service would cost $50 otherwise, Russo added.

The huge bonfire will be built by the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity. The rally has been insured by Lloyds of London, he said.

Climaxing the featured event of the week will be the gridiron battle between the Moragans and the Spartans in Spartan stadium at 8 p.m.

Before the game, at 7:45, Jack Faulk, co-captain of the 1949 team, will bestow a crown of flowers on Homecoming Queen Patty Burke, and the alumni association will present souvenir gifts to the queen and her attendants, and the five perpetual trophies will be awarded to the winners of the float and house decoration competition.

Tau Delta Phi Holds Smoker

The second of two get-acquainted smokers for prospective members of Tau Delta Phi, national honorary fraternity, was held Thursday evening at the De Anza hotel. About 40 members and non-members attended.

The smoker was held in conjunction with the laying of plans for the informal initiation ceremonies, of which walking a plank extending from a third-story window in the Tower is a principal part. A December date has been set for the formal initiation and banquet, according to Rob Pettegill, TDP grand magistrate.

The Weather

"Fair, fair and twice so fair, As fair as any may be."

Unless, of course, it will be wet, wet and twice so wet, as wet as any rain may be.

We would like our readers (Hi, Sam, Howza wife, Tex?) to bear in mind that a goodly number of future days will be heralded by morning fog, so watch it kid, hold your expletives to post meridian.

In case you missed it in the first canto because you're used to seeing it in the last, it will be fair today.

CAA Approves Aeronautics Dept.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority recently has recognized San Jose State college in an approval of its training program for aircraft engine mechanics, according to Prof. Thomas E. Leonard of the Aero department.

This action places SJS among California's 30 schools to be recognized by the CAA.

Now, says Mr. Leonard proudly, students completing our two-year technical course in aircraft engines, or the four-year course in air transportation, will be eligible to take their examination for a CAA engine mechanic's rating without first fulfilling the requirement of a year's specified experience in that field of aeronautics.

This approval, dated Oct. 10, has long been the objective of the Aeronautics department, according to Mr. Leonard, who reports that an inspection leading to this progressive step was made by the CAA at the beginning of this quarter.

He further points out that such recognition will be a great help to our aero-graduates in seeking employment in the field. Employers, he says, prefer to hire men who hold CAA mechanics' ratings. According to previous standards, graduates were unable to qualify for this rating examination until they succeeded in gaining sufficient employment to meet the year's experience qualification.

The present arrangement also encourages a high standard of instruction since it carries a stipulation that a minimum of 80 per cent of the students applying for the examination must pass the test or the school will be faced with the threat of losing its long-sought rating.

According to Mr. Leonard, the aero staff, not content to leave a job half finished, is looking forward to the time when it will be able to receive a similar approval for its courses in aircraft structural mechanics, and much has already been accomplished toward this second objective. The only remaining obstacle, Prof. Leonard says, is the problem of acquiring enough indoor space to assemble a full-size airplane.

Health Office To Offer Flu Immunization

By JIM DOWNS

With Christmas vacation and the flu season looming near at hand, the San Jose State college health department announced yesterday that immunization against influenza will be offered Thursday, Nov. 16.

Miss Margaret Twombly, head of the health department, stated that any student registered for six or more units is eligible to receive the immunization. No student body card will be necessary.

The material to be used for the shots will be provided by McFadden Health cottage funds from student body fees. The shots will be administered by the college health department personnel.

Students wishing to receive the shots are asked to sign on the bulletin board outside of the health office, Room 31, before 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10.

Those persons who sign for the immunization should appear at the health office between 11 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. on the aforementioned date, Nov. 16.

Miss Twombly stated "this immunity as produced is thought to be at its height between the second and the third weeks following administration of the virus. It is effective for approximately three months.

"Because the immunity persists for a relatively short period, those who were immunized more than three months ago might well consider re-immunization at this time."

Inasmuch as the immunization will be offered two days before the College of Pacific football game, many students fear taking the shots because of probable sickness, according to Miss Twombly. However, she went on to say, "No severe generalized reaction would be expected in any one taking the small amount of material administered.

"Those known to have allergies are advised not to take it. Blood donors are not acceptable for a period of two weeks following the immunization. Also, we can't guarantee that this immunization will stop the flu, but it is very effective in a majority of cases."

San Jose State college is one of the few colleges in the state to offer this type of immunization.

Frosh Squad Is Proving Ground for Varsity

Teaches Game Fundamentals

By TOM MARQUIS
Frosh football holds an important place in the athletic structure of most of the country's sports-minded colleges.

With San Jose State college now in the process of becoming nationally known in college football circles, the need for developing a strong frosh team is being stressed more and more. For from the school's frosh team will come many of Sparta's future grid greats.

On the freshmen team, players are first introduced to the rugged play used in college games. No matter how much they may have learned about the sport in

The freshman football team takes time out from scrimmage to pose for a formal portrait with their coach and his assistants. Although they have yet to win their first game, they have steadily improved since the season opened. Coach Tom Cureton and his assistants, Jack Faulk, George Keene, Max Coley, Marv Johnson, and Marino Mangiola have the double task of trying to produce a winning team and preparing their charges for future service with the Washington Square varsity.

Raiders Face Gallopin' Gaels Friday Night

By FERMO CAMBIANICA

John Henry Johnson, sensational sophomore St. Mary's fullback, will lead the Gallopin' Gaels into Spartan stadium Friday night to meet San Jose State college in the Spartans' 1950 Homecoming game.

The Gaels are just fresh from a 25-14 victory over Nevada, who has been everyone's cousin this year.

The visitors from Moraga cannot be taken too lightly, having beaten Oregon, 18-13, and tied a strong Georgia team, 7-7. They also managed to score 25 points against California, but have been rudely treated by independent Bay area colleges this season.

Although the Spartans had an easy time in subduing Fresno State Friday night, 33-7, Quarterbacks Gene Menges, Max Houlihan, and Dean Sensenbaugh at times were rushed off their feet by the oncoming Bulldog linemen.

Backs Lose Yards

The three were responsible for losing 79 out of the 85 yards lost by the Raiders, especially the latter who was tackled five times behind the line of scrimmage for a total loss of 47 yards. However, when the passers did get rid of the ball, it spelled trouble for the visitors.

Fresno found itself with its back to the wall right off of the bat when Menges hit Billy Wilson with a pass that covered 46 yards to the 16-yard marker. The Bulldogs never did recover from that one.

Harry Beck had another field day when he scored three touchdowns, one of them being a beautiful quick opener down the middle that covered 43 yards. The hard charging fullback carried the ball 14 times for 114 yards and a 8.2 average.

Bondelle, Wilson Star

Dick Bondelle and Bill Wilson were the standouts on defense for the Spartans. Bondelle made plenty of tackles from his line backing position during the evening.

Wilson kept a couple of drives alive as he was "Johnny on the spot" when the San Jose runners fumbled. His bobble recoveries, however, were exceeded by his pass receiving and defensive line play.

Fresno had the edge in the ground attack, picking up 231 yards to 198 for the locals. In the passing department, Fresno high school, they are bound to find out new methods used in college ball.

Many men who were high school stars don't make the grade when they move up the football ladder; others become just another name on the roster or another figure on the bench. A few keep right on starring on the gridiron.

The freshman team is the proving ground where all these things are found out. It is a sort of farm system for the varsity.

Varsity Coach Bob Bronzan has been keeping his eyes on the State frosh. When asked about the freshman team, Bronzan said, "Sure we'd like to see them win. But more important than wins or losses is that team members become good college students, that they improve on game fundamentals, and that they reveal a desire to play the game."

Mermen Clash With SC Today; Meet UC Thurs.

San Jose State college varsity water-poloists will journey cross-town this afternoon to engage the Santa Clara seven at 4:30.

This will be the second pool meeting between the two teams this season. The first, a home game for the Walkers, saw the Spartans swamp the Broncos 10-3.

On Thursday, the water-wing followers will have a chance to see the varsity and frosh teams take to the water against the highly rated University of California aggregations Thursday night, Nov. 9, in the Washington Square pool.

An early season clash between the Bears and Spartans at UC saw the local varsity go down 10-5, while the SJS yearlings fought the Cubs to a 9-9 tie.

Spartan Iron-Lungers Take Third Straight

San Jose State college cross country team continued on its winning ways Saturday morning when the Spartans defeated Modesto junior college, 17-38, at Spartan field. The victory marked their third consecutive win in three starts for the locals this season.

Dore Purdy again paced the winners as he edged his teammate Paul Jennings by a couple of yards at the finish line, with Al Weber placing 15 yards behind the winner to give the Spartans the first three places.

The winning time was 19:13.9 for the 3.4 mile course.

Modesto's little chief, Indian Warren Emm, came through with a good time of 19:21 to take fourth. His performance is even more amazing when one stops to consider that the Modesto runners have been running on a 2.5 mile course all season.

Season Mark Beaten

Purdy, Jennings, Weber, and Emm all bettered Ellwin Stribling's 1950 season mark of 19:34.9, but fell short of Purdy's course record of 18:36.5, which was set last year.

Stribling did not compete for Coach Don Bryant's crew Saturday, and the Spartans were without another top performer when Bob Weber didn't run.

The Raiders pulled some strategy that almost blew up in their faces when Frank Johnson was sent out to set a terrific first mile pace to force the Buccaneers to extend themselves in trying to keep up with him.

However, Johnson covered the first mile in 5:30, while the rest of the team thought that he was going faster and hung back.

If the Spartans' top three had could only muster 52 yards.

The Spartans took to the air lanes for 152 yards to give them a total net yardage of 284 to 236 for the team from the Raisin city.

Dates for the Novice boxing tournament have been moved up one day and are now slated for Nov. 14, 15, and 16, according to boxing coach Dee Portal.

The tournament was originally scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 15, 16 and 17, but a freshman football game with Fresno on Friday has necessitated the change.

Junior tournament boxers are still slated to exchange leather on Nov. 28, 29 and 30, and the cream of Sparta's pugilistic crop will vie in the All-College tournament on Dec. 7 and 8.

Foreman Says Walks Can Be Used This Week

Students will be able to use one portion of the new sidewalk now being laid in front of the Inner quad on Thursday or Friday, Jack Woodcock, foreman in charge, reported yesterday.

The portion to be ready soon is the half running from the Library arch to the large concrete apron in front of the Inner quad. Mr. Woodcock also gave assurance that the sidewalks from Fourth street to the entrance of the Inner quad will be in use on Thursday or Friday.

Pictured above is Robert G. Wilhelm who will speak tonight to members of the Eta Mu Pi, national merchandising fraternity, at 8 p.m. at the Hawaiian Gardens. Mr. Wilhelm, whose subject will be "How to Get Along with your Boss", serves with the San Francisco Emporium as personnel and service superintendent. The banquet is Eta Mu Pi's formal initiation. Attending the banquet and the talk will be members of Eta Mu Pi, initiates, and alumni. Twenty-four students will be initiated.

At the end of the week the walk from the northeast door of the Science building to the concrete apron in front of the Inner quad will be blocked off, Mr. Woodcock indicated, to enable workmen to lay the walk to the new Commerce wing arch.

Because of the difficulty of obtaining certain materials and because of weather conditions, the foreman was not able to predict the time when all the walks in the area will be laid.

PE-Rec Club To See Movies

The physical education and recreation majors club will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Women's gym, according to Miss Lloyd Thompson, publicity chairman of the group.

Sports movies will be shown, to be followed by Miss Ruth Laine and Miss Lloyd Thompson, presidents of the WAA and Tau Gamma, respectively, who will present to the members the functions and activities of their clubs.

Entertainment will be given by junior class members, under the chairmanship of Miss Kay Arnett. Refreshments will be served, planned by Miss Dorothy Wellar.

Frat to Play Host

The third annual "get together" dinner for police students will be held Nov. 16 at the Fior D'Italia restaurant, according to Chi Pi Sigma representatives, sponsors of the affair.

The eating place is located at 101 N. Market street, San Jose. The sponsors promise a fine chicken meal to all attending.

Tickets for the event can be bought from any Chi Pi Sigma member, or from Miss Ruth Marsh, Police school secretary.

Tickets Free For Ball Game

Student and faculty members with ASB cards may obtain tickets for the SJS-St. Mary's football game free of charge in the Graduate Manager's office. No tickets will be available at the stadium gate before game time, the Graduate Manager's office said yesterday. Deadline for getting tickets is 4 p.m. Friday.

Tickets for the general public are on sale for $2.40. All seats for the game are reserved.

SJS Ski Club To Plan Trips

Henry Wallace's 'Democracy Reborn' Is Among New Additions to Library

By JOE SHEEHAN

Henry A. Wallace's "Democracy Reborn" leads the list of new additions to the library. This work, published in 1944, is a statement of New Deal philosophy, with special reference to agricultural economy as practiced in the early years of the Roosevelt administration.

The reader today, even with an eye to Wallace's drift to the left following the death of Roosevelt, and his subsequent blanket rejection of the Truman Fair Deal, cannot see the political firebrand in any part of the work. There is no obvious sense of the author's deep feeling either for the party or for the consonant philosophy.

The same presidential administration is discussed in two other new volumes, "From Versailles to the New Deal", by Harold U. Faulkner, and "Roosevelt's Good Neighbor Policy", by Edward O.

Guerrant. Of similar nature, but more general in scope, are two works by Allan Nevins, "The New Deal and World Affairs" and "The United States in a Chaotic World."

Henry F. May's "Protestant Churches and Industrial America" is an extension of the thesis that there is a cause and effect relationship between Protestantism and American industrial growth—a thesis that is gaining wide acceptability.

As a complement to his "Elizabethan Bibliographies", Samuel A. Tannenbaum's "Supplement to the Bibliography of Ben Jonson" has been added. In all, the set comes to about 40 separate pieces.

Other new works deal with physics, engineering, chemistry and mathematics. There are books on basketball, golf, design, gardening and photography.

Editor Asks For Contracts

Organizations which have contracted for space in the 1951 La Torre, and have not made other arrangements, must return their contracts before tomorrow to the La Torre office, B95, or the Graduate manager's office.

While making this announcement, Miss Iris Elwood, co-editor of the yearbook, said, "Payment for space is due before January 15. If there are any questions concerning the amount of space you might wish to have, contact Bill Lytle, business manager, at once."

"There is still time for new organizations to secure space contracts if they wish to be represented," Miss Elwood stated.

Since San Jose State college students are not given credit for spending a noticeable amount of money in local stores, (as brought out by the recent parking meter controversy) why not show the worth of the college by surpassing the goal set for Community Chest drive?
