Rooters' Train to COP Has Various Features

Thursday at 12 noon is the deadline for purchasing tickets for the COP rooters' train, according to John Melendez, chairman of the train committee.

Some of the features of the train as listed by Melendez are:

1. There will be two snack bars on the train, one in front and the other at the rear. The Southern Pacific's "Suntan Special" observation car will house the rear snack bar.
2. An empty car for dancing to music "off the record" has been provided.
3. There will be a rally at Stockton on arrival of the rooters' train. The rally will be in the form of a parade from the railroad station to the civic auditorium. The marching band and song girls will lead the parade.
4. First aid facilities will be provided on the train. There will be a medical center on the train and one nurse will be provided for each 500 students participating in the event.
5. Of the five cars reserved for organizations so far, one will be for Rally committee members, and one for each of the four classes.
6. Buses will be provided for transportation from the Stockton Civic Auditorium to the stadium. Also buses will be available for transportation from the San Jose station to the various living centers about the campus.
7. Price of the round-trip ticket is $4. Tickets may be purchased at the Graduate Manager's office.
8. Only ASB card holders will be allowed to purchase tickets for the activity.

State Plan Keeps Dean of Women, Men Titles Here

Titles of Dean of Men and Dean of Women will be retained at San Jose State college under the new state-wide reorganization plan.

College President T. W. MacQuarrie revealed this upon return here from Sacramento where he had spent a three day conference with California educational heads.

There had been plans to consolidate the two dean posts under a college counselling division. Dr. MacQuarrie also announced that the reorganization plan now calls for ten divisions at San Jose State rather than the 20 departments that exist today.

Another interesting sidelight brought out at the meeting was the fact that San Jose State with the largest enrollment of the state colleges is the most economical. It costs less on a per student basis to educate a collegian here than at any other college in the system. Humboldt State with the smallest enrollment is the most expensive.

Kerr Names 19 To Appear In 'Golden Boy'

Rehearsals are progressing according to schedule for the Speech and Drama department's second production of the season, "Golden Boy", to be presented Dec. 7 through 12 in the Little Theater, Mr. John R. Kerr, director of the play, said yesterday.

Starring Richard Risso in the lead role of Joe, the play will feature 18 other student actors.

The cast is as follows: Joe, Richard Risso; Moody, William Furnell; Lorna, Betsy Smith; Tokio, Warren Blomseth; Mr. Carp, Stanley Schwimmer; Anna, Dolores Ceraso; Siggie, Harry Santi; Frank, Thomas Patterson; Mr. Bonaparte, Edwin Klein; Roxy, Joe Juliano; Fuseli, William Kenney; Pepper White, William Coleman; Mickey, Peter Hartman; call boy, Bert Graf; Drake, Don Martin; Lewis, Robert Collins; and Barker, Byron Rose.

James Jensen will play Driscoll, and George Spelvin will play Sam.

Get COP Tickets!

Tickets for the SJS-College of Pacific football game still are available in Room 16, according to the Graduate Manager's office. They are on sale for the general public also at $2.50.

Tickets for the train trip to Stockton are $4, round trip fare, and $2.02 one-way trip. Students are requested to secure their tickets as soon as possible.

Novice Matches Begin Tonight in Men's Gym

By GLENN BROWN

San Jose State college's 14th Annual Boxing tournament will be launched in Spartan gymnasium tonight at 7:30 when some 58 squared-ring beginners lace on gloves and step from their corners before fraternity-sorority rooters and other student enthusiasts.

This three-day extravaganza of boxing, now one of the biggest sporting events on the campus, is the outgrowth of a one-night stand in 1935 when a handful of fans turned out to watch some students "mix it."

An innovation to this year's tournament will be the no-knockout rule recommended by the National Collegiate Boxing Coaches association. Under this ruling, a knockout or technical knockout will end the bout, but victory does not necessarily go to the man who scores the knockout. Points accumulated up to the KO or TKO will determine the winner, although additional points are added to a man's score on the strength of the knockout.

A mismatch, when stopped by the referee, does not fall under this ruling.

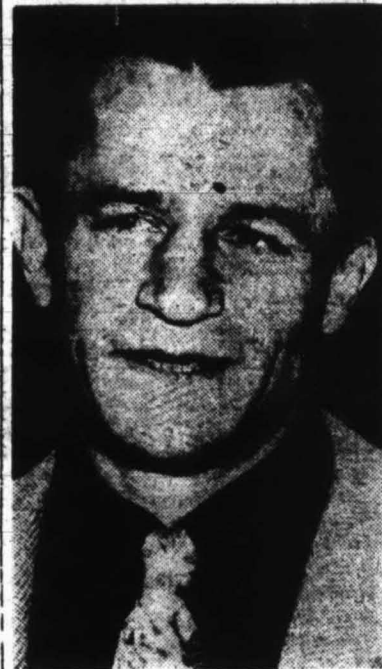

The great enthusiasm of novice boxers was brought to light Friday afternoon, when drawings for bouts revealed 11 participants in two weight classes.

This situation will demand, of necessity, that some men box two bouts tonight.

In addition, the over-all growth of the tournament to 29 bouts in the quarter-finals will force the officials to run two bouts at once tonight.

Opponents of two bouts will enter the ring at the same time and occupy all four corners.

DeWitt Portal.—Tournament director of this year's boxing extravaganza, "Dee" has been the major factor in harnessing ring enthusiasm at San Jose State college and elevating the school to a major opponent in this sport.

Conservation Film Shown

William Bostwick, director of conservation education for the California Fish and Game Commission, will appear tonight at the first monthly meeting of the Wildlife Conservation club. Meeting time is 8 p.m. in S112.

Bostwick will show a film, "The Warden and Wildlife". One Tuesday each month the club plans to meet and conduct lectures and films on conservation, says Frank Sturges, president of the Wildlife Conservation club.

The public is invited to attend the meetings and participate in the forum discussions which will be held each time. The only requirement for entrance into the club is an interest in conservation.

Yanks Gain Four Miles

TOKYO, Nov. 14—American forces pushed forward cautiously for gains up to four miles in their northwest Korean offensive Monday, but at the northeastern end of their 250-mile line the Reds were counter-attacking sharply, using tanks and the cover of a snowstorm.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Henry A. Wallace believes the United States must arm "as fast as possible" until Russia and Communist China prove they really want peace.

The former vice-president said last night in a speech at the Community church that the Communist invasions of South Korea and Tibet made it "clear, to me that Russia is eager to use other people to heat up the cold war."

SANTA FE, N.M., Nov. 13—A brilliant woman doctor who confessed kidnapping a nine-year-old girl for $20,000 ransom will enter St. Joseph's hospital at Albuquerque today for medical treatment.

"Silk Brocade" will feature Lois Blair, Jim Hughes, Nicholas Andrews, Donna Wegner, and Joy Lee Maynard.

Japanese Educators Visit Here During Tour of US

By ED ROPER

Two Japanese educators toured the college yesterday to observe the aspects of American education at San Jose State college.

Shigero Kuroha, professor of history at Tokoku university at Sendai, Japan, and Hideshi Maki, lecturer and 1940 graduate of the University of Southern California, met with Administration heads and spoke before two of Dr. William Vatcher's social science classes.

The two educators are part of a group of eight Japanese spending eight months touring the various educational facilities of the United States. They are studying all phases of education from grammar school to the university level.

According to Maki, spokesman for the group, Japanese education has gone through a radical change since 1945. Co-education was non-existent in Japan prior to the war. Since its introduction by the U.S. it has met with wide acceptance by the students who were formerly separated in school after the sixth year of age; but it has caused concern among parents.

This is one of the problems that the new Parent Teachers Associations hope to settle. The group of educators is particularly interested in studying the PTA organizations in this country. Before the war formal education was little entered into by the parents of the students; but since their introduction the PTAs have had wide popularity.

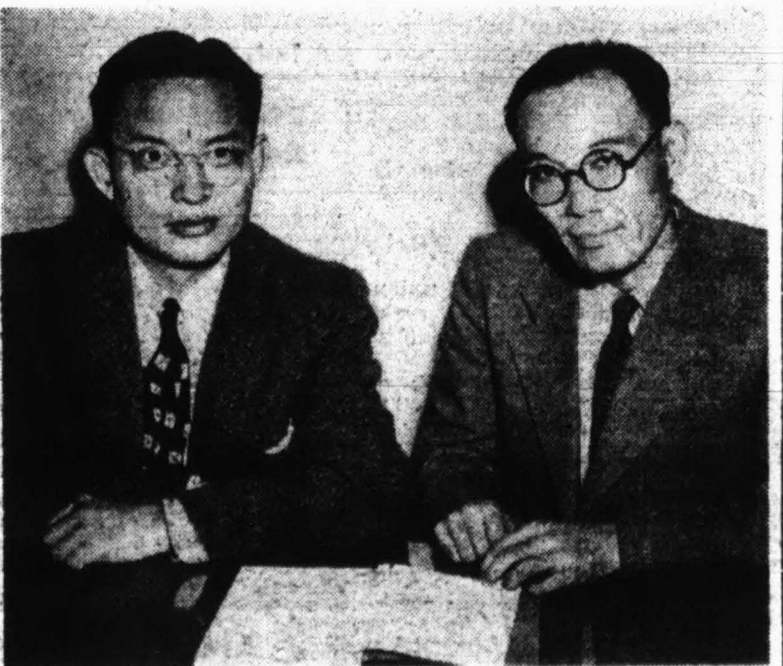

Sex education is another innovation in Japanese education since the end of the war. This subject along with co-education was one of the problems that have met with opposition among the older Japanese. The educational group is paying particular attention to the schools where this subject has been most successfully taught in this country.

Maki and Kuroha appeared before Dr. Vatcher's classes in International Relations in the Far East and History of Japan. Maki answered student questions of Japanese economics, politics, geography and education. He expressed concern for the trouble Japan is having in finding markets for industrial output. "I do not see any future prospects for Japanese markets", he answered to one question.

When questioned by a student in Dr. Vatcher's History of Japan class about the effect of the Korean war on Japan, Maki said that the situation has caused much concern in the Japanese mind. "Korea points to the heart of Japan and the presence there of an aggressor power presents a definite threat to Japan which constitutionally has no armed forces," he stated.

Hideshi Maki, left, lecturer, and Shigero Kuroha, professor of history at a Japanese university, yesterday toured SJS as part of their nation-wide tour to study American education facilities.

Weather

Grab onto your seats, gang; comes an innovation.

IT WILL RAIN TODAY!!! There, you skeptics, you have it in black and an off-shade of white. We can't get out of that; we committed ourselves right in front of your nose.

And when it rains, YOU'LL GET WET!! Unless you have enough sense to stay in out of the rain; and we doubt it. Yaaah, your fadda's mustache! Your mudda wears army shoes! Yeaah, your sistah wears flour-sack undewear.

(That's the only compensation to this thankless job; we can say all sorts of nasty things to 7000 people.)

Never Again

Dear Thrust and Parry:
Well, we have attended the first bonfire rally in 11 years, and we hope it will be 10 times that many years before we attend another; that is, if it will be as big a flop as the last one.

The students responsible for the rally should pat themselves on the back for producing one of the worst rallies in the history of college life.

What is the matter with the Rally committee of this college? All season they have produced one big flop after another. The cheering sections aren't led properly, and we never see all three song-girls at the games and rallies.

In a sentence, everything connected with the Rally committee has been handled so haphazardly that they could take lessons from even the smallest and most backward high school on the topic of how to produce a good rally!

We know that the heads or members of the Rally committee will answer us back and say that the cheering sections just don't cooperate and that it's not their fault. But it is their fault and they can not justify themselves by saying it is not.

We don't want excuses or cute back remarks, but we want action and results, or else get someone at the head of the organization who will get results!

Misplaced Talent?

Dear Thrust and Parry:
I have never seen such a display of misplaced talent in my college career as that displayed at the Homecoming rally last week.

The only thing to be said in its favor is that Dick Russo "bravely" admitted that he was responsible for "anything which went wrong." Apparently the only thing which "went wrong" was that there was no organization behind the whole affair.

If San Jose State college, with a population of more than 7000, cannot produce more talent than that displayed at said affair, it's time that students here faced the fact that State is not just not the "big-timer" it's trying to be.

We talk a lot about "national prominence," but when a Homecoming rally cannot even hold the attention of its own students, there is something sadly lacking.

I almost wish we could blame only a few people—it then would be easier to remedy the situation. The fault lies deeper, however. The entire student body is at fault when there are so few people around who can get excited enough about activities to do something about them. I guess San Jose State is composed of just a bunch of prune pickers after all.

Senior Council Writes Grads About Events

Seniors being graduated in December will receive letters this week from the Senior class council asking them to approve or reject a plan for graduates' activities near the end of the quarter.

December graduates before have never had activities other than the President's tea. This will be held as usual. Last Spring Seniors suggested planning at least one event for the graduates.

Ed Gasper, Senior class president, said in an interview last week that most of the graduates have approved and have suggested having a banquet.

A definite date has not been chosen yet but Oliver Dibble, chairman of the committee in charge of the letters, stated this week that it will not conflict with the President's tea or finals.

The cost of the event probably will be less than that for June activities.

Gasper urges all December graduates to attend council meetings held each Monday at 4:30 p.m. in the Student Union. Definite plans will be made then.

Pi Omega to Hold Dinner Tomorrow

Pi Omega Pi will sponsor its annual Business Teacher Training dinner Wednesday, 6:45 p.m. at O'Brien's Banquet Room, according to Walter Boock, president of the group.

All students who are taking, or are interested in taking business teacher training are invited to attend the dinner, Boock announced.

Cost of the dinner will be $2 per plate, and reservations should be made in the Commerce department office, Room 137A.

Council will Appoint Permanent Committee

A permanent Homecoming committee will be appointed at today's Student Council meeting at 3:30 o'clock in the Student Union building, according to ASB President Dave Down.

The purpose of the new type committee, besides planning the activities for Homecoming week, will be to study the problems encountered by the previous committee and to try to solve them.

This group will be appointed immediately following the Homecoming week each fall to enable them to effectively erase the errors made by the previous committee, Down says.

A report on the parking situation around the San Jose State college campus will also be given at the meeting. Mike Barchi, council member, was appointed at last week's meeting to investigate the problem and report on possible solutions.

Also on the agenda is a high school orientation program to be enacted by the Student Council. The plan calls for student speakers from SJS to appear at high school assemblies throughout the area. The plan was requested by several high schools in the San Jose area, according to Down.

A parliamentary law demonstration will be given the Student Council before the meeting. Members of the San Jose State college debate team will perform the demonstration to acquaint council members with parliamentary procedure.

Three Attend Cal Poly Meet

Representatives from the San Jose State college chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, returned recently from San Luis Obispo from a three-day regional conclave at Cal Poly.

According to Bill Starrs, publicity director of the organization, the convention, which ended Sunday, Nov. 12, was attended by Gene Schwab, Garrett, McClung, and Bill Starrs.

While at the conference the SJS representatives made a report on the 17 items of service projects inaugurated on this campus during the last year.

Raiders Ready To Trap COP In Traditional

A traditional battle will run its course Saturday night as the San Jose State college Spartans journey to Stockton, meeting a tough College of the Pacific eleven.

Both teams have an identical win-loss record of 5-3.

St. Mary's Galloping Gaels were the latest San Jose victims. They were toppled by an 18-6 count last Friday night in a rugged homecoming game that saw the Spartans putting forth their second best performance of the season.

Coach Bob Bronzan was highly pleased with the team's defensive performance in the Gael contest. Gene Menges masterminded the Spartans to their last home game win, getting excellent protection for his 13 completions and 114 passing yards.

Big gun in the Golden Raider victory Friday night was Boom-in' Harry Beck who broke the team rushing record set by Harry Russell last year. Beck now has 674 yards in eight games. Russell had 668 yards in 13.

Bronzan was particularly pleased with the team's performance Friday night, especially with the 474 yards amassed against the Gael effort of 152.

The Spartan coaching staff worked overtime this week-end getting ready for Larry Siemering's Bengals. The Raider squad also held a practice session Sunday afternoon, concentrating on COP's vulnerable air defense.

Harry Beck sat out the session because of a charley horse. Bob Amaral, Buddy Traina and Dick Bondellie are on the injury list with minor ailments but are expected to go against Pacific.

COP lost their third tilt of the year Saturday when they were upset by University of Cincinnati, 14-7.

Cards Beat SJS Gals

The women's hockey teams of San Jose State college and Stanford met in three games last week at Stanford. SJS was defeated in two games.

The sophomore-junior team of SJS, captained by Miss Shirley McClure, played Stanford's advance team Thursday. Score: Stanford 6, SJS 0.

A senior-freshman team, which played on Thursday also, met Stanford's intermediate team. Score: Stanford 5, SJS 1.

Saturday, in a third game, San Jose defeated Stanford, 4-1.

Next Saturday morning, one team will play San Francisco State college at San Francisco.

The SJS teams, part of the Women's Athletic Association, are headed by Miss Joan Chambers,

Frosh Lose, 20-14

A San Jose State college frosh team hampered by penalties went down to a 20-14 defeat at the hands of unbeaten Monterey Peninsula college on Saturday.

The Spartababes put on a flashy aerial attack that brought them two touchdowns and kept the opposition worried throughout the game. Frosh backs tossed 25 passes during the contest.

The first State score came on a 35-yard pass tossed by Dick Hinman to Walt Barnes, who carried the ball the remaining 15 yards into the end zone. The second tally was made when Barnes took a 30-yard pass from Maurice Duncan and rambled 40 more yards to score.

The outstanding boxer of the tournament will be awarded a trophy, and another award goes to the outstanding rooting section.

Officials for the tournament will be: DeWitt A. Portal, tournament director; P.E. majors, referees; Dr. W. R. SJS Engineering Staff Modifies Building Plans

Final desired alterations in the planned new engineering building have been incorporated into a series of 12 sketches and submitted to the state architect in charge, according to Dr. Ralph J. Smith, Engineering department head.

The entire staff of the department has been working on the building plans since the set of drawings arrived at San Jose State college a few weeks ago. The instructors have been trying to modify the proposed construction according to need as found by the three years existence of the department.

State architect H. H. Eichler will use the sketches as a guide in completing the set of plans which were left at the 90 per cent completion stage in 1947. Eichler also will have to layout plumbing, heating and power designs on the drawings.

Specifications for construction bids are scheduled to be released on Dec. 19, Dr. Smith said. He expressed the opinion that work would not be able to begin on the $650,000 structure until next January or February.

When the building is finally completed students will be able to enjoy the finest in laboratory facilities. The structure will contain a number of labs, specifically placed according to type of work.

Included will be space allotments for television equipment, although Dr. Smith stressed the fact that no immediate plans have been made for the use of TV or its reception on campus.

Air Arm Picks 12 Candidates

Interest in Air Force recruiting at San Jose State college remained high throughout the final day of the campaign which ended Friday, with about 100 inquiries being received by the recruiting team, according to Capt. Donald Nelson.

A total of 12 applications were completely processed, and the men signing up will go into the regular Air Force following graduation, providing physical and review examinations are passed.

Thirty-five men began processing operations with the recruiting team during the three-day visit near Washington Square. However, all but 12 were ruled out with sight and hearing deficiency.

All men who attempted the mental tests passed with high scores, said Lt. Raymond Hutchins.

The dozen students who completely passed have made appointments to visit Hamilton Air Force base in the near future to appear before the officer review board. At such time, providing the student is successful, he will choose a date for entry into the Air Force.

The majority of those enlisting will graduate in June, while several will receive SJS diplomas earlier. In all cases, the men have a choice of from one to three months following graduation in which to enter the service.

Response at the showing of "Flight Plan for the Future," Thursday morning was good, both recruiters claimed. There were about 30 students present to view the 20-minute film, and also to hear a short talk about the Air Force by Capt. Nelson.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 7...THE RAVEN

Nobody's pulling the feathers over this bird's eyes!

He's spent too many semesters in Psychology I. He knows — as any smart smoker knows — that you can't make up your mind about cigarette mildness on one fast puff or a quick sniff.

A one-inhale comparison certainly doesn't give you much proof to go on.

That's why we suggest:

THE SENSIBLE TEST... The 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed.

After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
