Senior Ski Trip Deadline Nears

Tomorrow at 5 p.m. is the deadline to register for the Senior Overnight at San Jose State college, according to Duke Deras, Overnight chairman. All reservations must be placed in the Graduate Manager's office accompanied with $4 to cover reservations. No refunds will be made after tomorrow, Deras said.

More than 30 seniors have signed to go to snow-covered Donner summit Jan. 13 and 14, a Graduate Manager's office report states. All seniors and spouses are invited to go on the Overnight, Ed Gasper, senior class president, has stated, whether or not they know how to ski.

"Many other activities are available at the summit," Gasper explains, "including indoor swimming, ice skating, and tobogganing." All seniors will be housed at the Cal Ski lodge where planned Saturday evening and Sunday activities will make it "one big week-end of fun", according to Deras.

Along with the four-dollar registration fee there is a one-dollar fee to cover cost of using ski tows and of all lodge facilities during the stay. The San Jose State college Ski club has made available a temporary membership card, at a cost of one dollar, according to Bill Cancilla, Ski club president.

Skis may be rented in San Jose or at Donner summit, according to Gasper, but he stated that they usually can be rented more cheaply here.

Transportation will be by car pool. Students may register for it in the Graduate Manager's office and should do so when they sign up. A meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon, according to Gasper, to make final arrangements.

ELIZABETH LOEFFLER

Actors Work On Production Of 'Pygmalion'

Rehearsals are under way for the Drama department's forthcoming production of Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion", according to Miss Elizabeth M. Loeffler, assistant professor of speech, and play director.

The five-act play will have a six-day run in the Little Theater beginning Feb. 1.

"Pygmalion" is one of Shaw's most popular plays," Miss Loeffler said, "but it is a difficult play to act." Fifteen San Jose State college students will appear in the production.

Leading the cast is Mr. Alden H. Smith, assistant professor of speech, who will play Henry Higgins. Others in the cast are: Betsy Smith as Eliza Doolittle, Fred Adair as Col. Pickering, Joseph Roberts as Alfred Doolittle, Evelyn McCurdy as Mrs. Higgins, Norma Welch as Clara Eynsford Hill, Marilyn Coates as Mrs. Eynsford Hill, and Bruce Payne, Marjorie Brown, Robert Dietle, Jack Byers, Elaine Geuy, and Bob Collins.

Gasper Gets Post Of Daily Manager

Ed Gasper, advertising major from Merced, has taken over the top position of office manager for the Spartan Daily business department this quarter. He was appointed by Bill Ernst, new business manager. Gasper is president of the senior class, and a member of the Order of the Golden Shovel, Kappa Alpha and Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary advertising fraternity.

Space salesmen for the winter quarter are: Julius Baldini, Albert Hoening, Taylor Chambers, Ken Churma, Peter Edmondson, Mary Braunstein, Bill Cain, Tom Ellis, George Pizante, Frank De Mayo, Jim Taylor, Bob Carlton, Ray Di Piazza, Wilma Loomis, and Margurita Crawford.

Dean Dimmick Heads Group

Miss Helen Dimmick, dean of women, has been named chairman of the nominating committee of the California Association of Women Deans and Vice-Principals.

Miss Dimmick recently presided over a meeting in San Francisco at which a slate of prospective officers was prepared. The slate will be presented to the association at its biennial meeting in Santa Barbara, March 8, 9, 10, and 11.

The Weather

"It wasn't as foggy outside yesterday as it was inside my head," says "T". "That Saturday night tour of 'Gin Mill Run' left me with quite a pain in this bird brain of mine."

"T" stuck around long enough to make his daily report on the weather. "Little change in temperature with a high between 54-58 degrees. Foggy again this morning," he says.

The Idea Is Simply Shake Hands & Smile

More than 6000 San Jose State college students will be asked to shake more hands than a hopeful politician during "Hello Days", the get-acquainted project slated for tomorrow and Thursday on Washington Square.

The Student Y, instigator of the two-day feature, and the ASB literally want everybody to get into the act. It won't cost more than a cheerful smile and a little interest in "who's who" on campus.

"The idea is simple," according to Ron La Mar, Student Y president. "Most State students are lost in the shuffle of busy campus pursuits. Most of us don't have time to get acquainted. 'Hello Days' gives students the opportunity to step up and exchange greetings."

To facilitate the process, the Student Y will hand out identification tags to students from points throughout the campus. Students are advised to affix their names and majors to the rectangular tags.

Recorded music, featured by the keystone song, "Bout Time We Got Acquainted", will emanate from a booth in the library arch on both days. La Mar and Gordon Shoultice will introduce the above mentioned song which they composed for the occasion, by singing and strumming ukeleles. The pair composed the song after ten minutes of thought last week.

A variety of popular tunes will help to create a friendly atmosphere.

Dave Down, ASB president, in designating "Hello Days" urged all students to take part in the spectacle. The idea is something new and certainly worthwhile, Down said.

Army Reports MP Student Missing

Lt. Patrick E. Parkes, honored as the outstanding Military Police student last spring, has been listed as missing in action in Korea since Nov. 28 by the Department of Army.

According to Col. James J. Hea, head of the college ROTC unit, Parkes' wife, Mrs. Jewel Parkes, received the notification Saturday. Lt. Parkes previously had been wounded in combat three times and was sent to a hospital in Japan to recover from shrapnel wounds, before he returned to the front.

He was assigned to the Far East shortly after transferring from military police to infantry this summer. Lt. Parkes received his commission upon graduation in June.

Parkes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Parkes of Pomfret, Conn. A son has been born to Lt. and Mrs. Parkes since he left for the Far East.

Get Your Money

Today is payday at the A Phi O book exchange. Students who have sold books through the book exchange can start collecting the loot at 10:30 o'clock this morning but any green stuff left after 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 12, will be forfeited.

The book exchange has handled over 2200 books in their quarterly sale with the goal being a new parking lot at the corner of Eighth and San Carlos streets.

Richard Vaum Bids College Adieu, Enlists

Richard Vaum, junior representative to the Student Council since spring quarter last year, sent a letter of resignation to that governing body this week, announcing his enlistment in the United States Air Force.

The council, which meets this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the Student Union, will consider the vacancy immediately. The position will be open to all who can qualify.

Vaum, an interior decorating major before he decided to switch to khaki, currently is awaiting his orders to report to Ellington field, Texas, for training as an aviation cadet. He will become a navigator and second lieutenant following 11 months' training.

A resident of Oakland, Vaum was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and active in class affairs. His term of office would have expired in June.

Another item on the Student Council agenda today will be consideration of the Ski club's 1950-51 budget.

Fewer SJS Students Enroll In Winter Quarter Courses

San Jose State college now has a student body of 6349 for winter quarter as compared to the 7041 who attended last quarter, according to the figures of Mr. Glen Guttormsen of the Business office.

The loss of 692 students from last quarter is somewhat less than what was expected. Of the total 6349 who registered this quarter, 5417 are in the state college and 932 in the junior college.

There are a total of 1722 veterans attending under either the G.I. Bill or the California State Education Bill. One hundred and twenty-one veterans are in junior college and 1601 in state college.

Non-veterans total 3816 in state college and 811 in junior college. There are also 106 limited students registered at San Jose State college this quarter. Of these, 15 are veterans registered under one of the public laws.

This quarter's registration is the lowest at SJS since spring 1948, when there were 6062 students. At that time veterans totaled 2957, almost half of the entire student body.

Spartan Spinners To Meet Tonight

Winter quarter folk dancing will begin tonight in the YWCA gymnasium when the Spartan Spinners hold their regular meeting, according to Robinette Woodside, publicity chairman.

Dancing will begin at 7:30 p.m. with emphasis on the needs of the beginners, she said yesterday. The program will be planned to give those who wish to join the group for the first time a chance to participate in the dancing.

For the second half of the meeting time, the more experienced dancers will have the opportunity to dance their old favorites and learn some new dances.

An outline of the quarter's plans is scheduled for the intermission between the beginning and advanced sections, according to plans made at last night's executive meeting, called by President Ted Gove.

VIOLATORS

Any violations of campus parking regulations will be promptly prosecuted, according to the San Jose Police department.

Students are reminded to make sure that they park their vehicles in the proper places surrounding the campus.

Accommodations?

Homeless? Spartan who are looking for a place to live this quarter are advised to contact Mrs. Izetta Pritchard in the Dean of Women's office. Although inexpensive apartments for couples are scarce, many accommodations now are available for single students.

Hot off the wire

Washington, Jan. 8 (UP)—Calling for a banding together of all democratic nations, President Truman yesterday told Congress in his annual State of the Union address that the free nations of the world must have strength by preparing for a possible "full scale war" against Russian aggression.

"If we build our strength—and we are building it—the Soviet rulers may face the facts and lay aside their plans to take over the world," according to the president, who called this the only realistic road to peace. Mr. Truman presented a program that is expected to call for the biggest peacetime budget in history by appropriation of billions for defense and expansion at home and abroad.

More ROTC Units
Washington (UP)—The Army yesterday ordered establishment of 36 new ROTC units at 33 colleges and universities in 22 states. Starting operation fall term, the additional units bring the total to 235 colleges and universities with ROTC programs.

Draft Changes
Washington (UP)—Congress went to work yesterday on prospective draft law changes to enlarge the manpower pool for swift build-up of the nation's armed forces. Means are under study by which the association wants to draft into the reserves men in the 19 through 25 age group who now are exempt. This group includes students, veterans and men with dependents.

The Reserve Officers association suggested that one step should be that veterans be subject to draft into the reserve, whence they would be eligible to be drawn into active service.

Territory Bills
Washington (UP)—Two bills concerning both Alaska and Hawaii were introduced yesterday in the senate. Sen. Hugh Butler (R., Neb.) asked that people of the two territories be given power to elect their own governors, while Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney (D. Wyo.) introduced bills to grant statehood.

Gets Degree
Long Beach (UP)—Frank Merriam, one of California's two living ex-governors, was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws yesterday by the California college of commerce.

Thrust and Parry

Blasts Art Test

Dear Thrust and Parry and Dr. Lyle Downey, Dr. Richard Tansy and Mr. Aiden Smith:

Concerning the final examination in the course (so called) Introduction to the Arts, we should like to make a few comments.

First, what is the object in teaching or trying to teach, a course of vague abstractions, contradictions and meaningless redundancies?

Second, can a class be graded fairly by the giving of one examination, which is so abstract and complicated that even the best of students could do no more than guess the meaning of the questions?

Third, the type of questions in the one examination given was the apex of ambiguity. Some of the questions in this farcical test of knowledge would not have been answered the same by any of the three instructors involved in drawing it up.

Fourth, we feel it was rather confusing to the student to have the form of the examination and the method of grading changed twice. On the course's green sheet these factors were explained one way; the last lecture period they were explained another way and a few days later when the exam was given it had been changed again.

Fifth, we feel that three instructors teaching as closely allied courses as art, music, and drama cannot possibly co-ordinate the histories without a great deal of contradiction.

Sixth, returning to the questions on the final, it was pointed out during the quarter that no outside reading was required and yet there were questions given in the exam that could not possibly

Club Picture Dates Are Set

All members of San Jose State college honorary organizations must have their individual pictures for the yearbook taken at Angelo Butera's photography studio between Jan. 8 and 22, according to Thea Pellegrino, La Torre photo editor.

Letters and schedules of appointment times have been sent to each campus group.

Organizations must send a representative to the La Torre office, in B95, to pick up appointment cards. These cards must be filled out in duplicate. One set of cards must be returned to the La Torre office several days before the appointment.

Each picture costs $1.50 for four proofs.

Reprints of pictures used in last year's yearbook cost 50 cents, and they are available only to the men because of the new attire for women.

Faculty advisers are asked to have their pictures taken with their organization.

Faculty women are requested to wear a light-colored dress or blouse of their own choice.

Any student who is unable to make an appointment between Jan. 8 and 22 must call at the La Torre office for a later date.

have been answered without an outside source.

We feel, therefore, that this course is less than worthless to the hapless student who unthinkingly registers with the idea of gaining some knowledge of the arts from the instruction of the worthy professors: Dr. Downey, Dr. Tansy, and Mr. Smith.

Respectfully,
Bill Chambers, ASB 3416,
Fermo Cambianica, ASB 2335,

Linda Darnell States Dates Hard to Get

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON
UP Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 9. (UP)—Linda Darnell, looking beautiful but lonesome, said today the male shortage is so bad in Hollywood she had to ask the man she's about to divorce for a date.

"Honest," she sighed, "it started those reconciliation rumors again, but I had to go to a premiere and I didn't know a single man I could go with."

So she called up cameraman Pev Marley and he gallantly obliged. The fact that Miss Darnell's going to file for a divorce any day now didn't bother him at bit.

"There wasn't anybody else I could ask," the gorgeous brunette wailed. "My phone hasn't rung since late in November. I think all the eligible males have forgotten about me."

This is a little hard to believe, because the luscious Linda's been one of Movieland's most celebrated beauties for 11 years now. She can even take your breath away in bright sunshine — and that's something not very many famous ladies can do any more.

"Oh, I get asked out," she shrugged. "But only by jerks I wouldn't be seen with. Now and then some nice man takes me to dinner, but it causes so much talk I don't do it very often."

She had a few dates with Producer Bill Dozier, Joan Fontaine's ex, Linda added, and everybody added it up to "a big thing."

"They were just friendly get-togethers," she said, "but people got so excited about it we decided to call it off."

"I can honestly say there's no man in my life right now. But I sure wish there was."

This no-romance slump is even creeping into her career. She's made five pictures in a row, Linda has, with no clinches in 'em.

"No big kisses in 'The 13th Letter,'" she sighed. "None in 'No Way Out,' either. In fact, lately the actors have been fighting me off. It's ruining my reputation."

"I'm going to New York pretty soon and have a little fun. That's the only place where a girl can go out with a man and nobody thinks a thing about it."

NOW WHO'S BOSS?

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (UP)—Mrs. Wesley Stewart scored a triple victory when she shot a 17 lb. 10-point buck near Cloverdale, recently. It was her first deer, and the biggest of five shot by the hunting party. Her husband's was the smallest.

SJS Students To Vie for Six Fellowships

Fellowships of $2000 in creative writing are being offered by Stanford university, according to a bulletin released by the English department. The six fellowships will be limited, except in unusual cases, to one year. Applicants may submit work in fiction, poetry, or drama.

All grants are awarded on a competitive basis. Applicants need not be candidates for an academic degree, and preference will be given to applicants under 30.

Previous publication is not necessary, although some publications may strengthen an applicant's qualifications. Candidates granted a fellowship will be expected to enroll in advanced writing courses at Stanford in their special field of interest.

All applications must be submitted to the committee of selection by Feb. 15. Further details may be obtained from the English department of San Jose State college.

Many Playwright Awards Are Open

Budding playwrights at San Jose State college are invited to enter the 16th annual competition in dramatic forms at Stanford university, according to a letter from the university.

The competitions, sponsored by the Dramatists' alliance, give awards as follows: $100 in cash, and recommendation to producers and publishers of the West for a serious drama of full length under the provisions of the Stevens award, or for a full length comedy eligible for the Etheridge award; $50 and recommendation and introduction to acting groups for short plays, as provided for under the Alden award.

The most immediately producible of the leading plays, whether or not they win the competitions, will be presented by Bay area theaters during the Peninsula Drama festival.

Writers who wish to enter the competitions, which close March 25 should write Dramatists' alliance, Box 200Z, Stanford university.

Illinois Chemical Scientist Speaks

Dr. C. S. Marvel, past president of the American Chemical society, will speak at the January meeting of the local subsection of the nationwide organization.

The meeting will be held in Santa Clara valley members in Dinah's Shack, Palo Alto, on Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. Preceding the meeting, dinner will be served starting at 6 p.m.

Subject of Dr. Marvel's speech will be "Progress in Polymer Chemistry." The scientist is an instructor at the University of Illinois, and has been with the college chemistry department there for the past 30 years.

Civil Service Positions Open

A civil service examination for information specialists is being offered to qualified San Jose State college students according to a bulletin released by the English department.

The examination is for positions of writer, editor, producer, and broadcaster in various fields of public communications. The positions pay from $3825 to $6400 a year and are located in the Department of State and other federal agencies.

To be eligible to take the examination, students must have had responsible experience in public communications, including or supplemented by courses in English composition or journalism. Such courses may be substituted for part of the experience. Applications may be obtained from the local post office.

Vets Must Meet Jan. 26 Deadline

"Veterans must make their purchases at the store indicated on their authorization cards before the Jan. 26 deadline. This deadline is at the end of the fourth week of school," Miss Edith Graves of the Veterans' office said.

The ex-G.I. will be required to pay for general purpose purchases in excess of the $3.50 limit per quarter set by the Veterans' administration. According to Miss Graves, this free purchase privilege is extended to general supply items such as pencils, notebooks, filler paper and typing paper, and does not include material not actually used in the classroom.

She added that only one binder per year and one combination lock may be purchased while in college by the veteran under this authorization.

Trackmen Are Asked to Meet 7 pm Thursday

The annual signup rally for track will be held at 7 o'clock Thursday night in the Student Union according to an announcement by track coach Bud Winter.

All men who have previously signed up for varsity or frosh track must attend this rally. Winter added, "All men regardless of previous experience in track are encouraged to sign up."

The rally will end at 8 p.m. in order that those who attend will be able to witness the YMI-SJS basketball game the same evening.

Entertainment will be provided and motion pictures of track will be shown. Ice cream will be served.

Winter stated that all freshmen are particularly urged to turn out for the frosh team. Several events are weak. Team managers also are wanted according to the Spartan coach.

"Prospects look good for a well-balanced team," Winter stated, "and we have one of the finest schedules in the school's history."

The Spartans will participate in the Santa Barbara, Fresno, and Coliseum relays, and the Compton invitational. They also will have meets with Stanford and the Olympic club of San Francisco.

SJS will meet College of the Pacific and Fresno State in dual meets.

Bronco Frosh Play Cureton's Crew Tonight

The San Jose State college freshmen basketball team faces its toughest opponent of the season tonight without the services of three of its first-string players.

The Spartans meet the Santa Clara Frosh, reputed to be one of the best first-year teams ever to cavort on the hardwood for the Broncos this evening in Seifert gym, Santa Clara.

Coach Tom Cureton announced that Larry Brenner, the local's top scorer, has left school. Dick Hinman, the team spark plug at either guard or center, joined the Armed Forces.

Stan Van Deventer, the other starting guard, followed suit and entered the Navy during the winter holidays.

Although Cureton's crew is sporting a pleasant seasonal record of nine wins and only one loss, the yearling mentor sees nothing but trouble as the year continues.

"It'll be a rough season from now on," he said.

To bolster his charge that the Bronco frosh are as potent as advertised, Cureton said that they habitually beat their older counterparts, the varsity.

Cureton announced his starting line-up as follows: Joe Burrieschi and Steve Burnett, forwards; John Martini, center; James Vettel and Doug Miller, guards.

SJS Five Tangles With YMI Quint

By BOB QUINLAN

After a strenuous 6500 mile tour of the East, the Spartan cagers return to the local hardwoods at 8:15 Thursday night when they face one of the Bay Area's top club quintets, the YMI.

The YMI, which is composed of former college stars, is headed by such heralded performers as Bill Rose, Stanford; John Burton, SF State; Gordon Cuneo, California; and Hank Moroski, Cal. Poly. San Jose fans are well acquainted with Burton's jump shots and Moroski's long two-handed set shots which have always been a thorn in the Spartan's side.

In their first game of the season the YMI cagers eked out a 35-33 victory over USF, and against other college quintets they dropped a 52-49 encounter with COP and lost to Santa Clara, 53-37.

The locals return from their road trip in good physical condition, although Forward Bob Crowe suffered an inflamed tendon sheath in his right foot and was forced to retire from the Beloit game after a minute of play. Crowe will be ready Thursday night, however, and Coach Walt McPherson will probably go along with his same lineup of forwards Crowe and Dean Giles, center George Clarke, and guards Chuck Crampton and Bob Enzensperger.

Although the swing East did not help the squad's season record, Coach McPherson believes the experience of playing the nation's top teams may benefit them for the rest of the season.

Coach McPherson was exceptionally pleased with the Spartan's morale on the trip and the fact that they played best in the last game against Hamline. After losing four straight, most teams would be "down." He was also pleased with the improvement of Clark, and the quality of play of Sophomore Lee Jensen showed before 8000 fans in mammoth Madison Square Garden.

The Spartans still lack a defense. Although they spend a majority of practice time on this phase of the game, it is still their main weakness. This year's squad is scoring as many points as last year's winning team, but the opposition is tallying much more. Coach McPherson is planning to move up Jack Avina to bolster the defense.

Ducat Deadline

Tomorrow at 5 p.m. marks the absolute deadline for the purchase of tickets for the Santa Clara-San Jose State college basketball game scheduled for Saturday night at the Cow Palace, San Francisco.

Students intending to buy tickets at the Palace are warned that they will be hit for full general admission price.

Matmen Face SD NTC Tomorrow

Coach Ted Mumby's San Jose State college wrestling team makes its 1951 dual meet debut against the strong San Diego Naval Training center squad in Spartan gymnasium at 7:30 tomorrow night. The Spartan junior varsity tackles the Alameda Naval Air base in a 6:30 preliminary.

San Jose expects nothing but trouble against the southern gobs whose roster includes everything from state high school mat champions to senior AAU titlists.

Best match of the evening could be the 157-lb. airtair which pits Spartan Co-captain Frank Waxham against San Diego's John Prewett. The sailor is only 17 years of age, but won the Iowa State AAU championship last year.

Probable starters for the San Jose meet include 115 lbs.—Billy Rothwell; 123 lbs.—K. Toyota; 130 lbs.—Ben Ichikawa; 137 lbs.—John Jackson; 147 lbs.—Ray Bunnell or John Melendez; 157 lbs.—Waxham; 167 lbs.—Co-captain Lee Jordan; 177 lbs.—Lou Menghini; 191 lbs.—Dale Maynard, and heavyweight Al Cadena.

The Tars are expected to send their full 22-man squad. Mumby says, "they can use only 10 of them against us, so we aren't licked yet, we'll give a good account of ourselves."

Possible Spartan entrants for the Alameda matches include Lou Calvetti, 137 lbs.; Dwayne Armstrong, 137 lbs.; Melendez, Bunnell or Gerald Boyd, 147 lbs.; John Jagger or Joe Thornley, 157 lbs.; Ralph Morocco or Jim Van Houten, 167 lbs.; Frank Lawrence or Jim Eliot, 177 lbs.; and Jean Snyder or John Anderson, heavyweight.

San Jose's grippers conclude a busy week with a dual meet at San Quentin Friday afternoon and the Junior Northern California Wrestling championships at Berkeley on Saturday.

Class Discussion Leads Graduate to Write Book

A class discussion is giving birth to a book.

John Keith Pope, who was graduated from San Jose State college in 1948 with a major in journalism, visited Washington Square recently. He is now editor of the Courier Journal in Walnut Creek.

During his stay at SJS Pope became involved in a discussion concerning police and press relations. He first began thinking about the subject when it was discussed in a course on libel taught by Dr. Dwight Bentel, head of the department of Journalism.

"I began trying to dig up information, but found that there were no books on the subject," said Pope.

After he was graduated and entered professional journalism he began thinking about writing a book. Memories of the class discussion back at Washington Square gave him the inspiration. After checking into the subject more thoroughly, he found that there was a definite need for a good book on this subject.

"I am now in the process of writing the book and will soon submit it for publication," he said.

While at SJS he served on the Spartan Daily staff as sports editor. He first entered college in 1939-but his education was interrupted to serve in World War II as a gunner in the Navy.

Speech Students Plan Playreadings

The first in a series of play-readings conducted by students of oral interpretation will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 11 in L210, according to Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, professor of speech.

Four students will take part in the initial reading. Barbara Champion and John Piotti will read scenes from Philip Barry's "Philadelphia Story," and Merle Rossman and William Woodfint will read scenes from the Rogers and Hammerstein play, "South Pacific," and Arthur Laurents' "Home of the Brave."

Dr. Kaucher stated there will be no admission charge, and the public is invited to attend.

CSTA Holds First Social Gathering

The California Student Teachers' Association will get together for an informal party tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Catholic Women's center.

Co-chairmen Ron Lamar and Oliver Ostlund are in charge of the affair, which is CSTA's first social function of the quarter.

The party, held in conjunction with the education clubs, is being held to form better relationships and understanding between faculty and students.

Co-rec Dance Lessons Begin This Evening

Tonight's the night for Spartans who have difficulty navigating around a dance floor to brush up on their technique "The Co-Rec Way," according to Bill Ernst, co-chairman of the group. This evening's program will begin at 7:30 o'clock in the Women's gym.

Jeanne Empey, assisted by Andrea Kriege, Lois Weaver, Marcia Kasimire, Charlotte Maloyan, Laverta Raley, Dan Sawyer, and Don Gale will direct the class. Those taking part in the instructions must possess an ASB card and pay a 75 cents fee. They will receive, in turn, 10 dancing lessons.

Also on the program following the dancing class the social dancing, canasta, ping pong, shuffle board, and other games.

Part of Student Jaunt Includes Local Excursion

Twenty-year-old Horst Dietz, exchange student from Bavaria, Germany, and a sophomore physics major at San Jose State college, will be one of 42 foreign students from 20 nations who will make a 1500 mile tour of California cities Jan. 26 through Feb. 4.

The ten-day tour, sponsored by the United States Student association, UCLA chapter, will make an itinerary from Los Angeles to Sacramento, beginning in the southern city.

Key idea of the trip is to give the students from other lands a cross-sectional view of American community life and institutions. The traveling party will examine the overall aspects of civic life in their journey from the state's largest population center to the historic state capital.

Although the 42 students will travel extensively, individual expense will be slight. Each student will contribute $30 for transportation and insurance fees. Host communities have pledged to donate food and lodging to their visitors. College students and residents in cities to be visited currently are making arrangements for special tours in their respective areas.

San Jose State college student government leaders are planning a local excursion for the group's visit to San Jose on Tuesday, Jan. 30. Dave Down, ASB president, indicated Friday that plans are being made for a two and one-half hour tour of the city to include views of the Santa Clara valley's highly-reputed prune and grape industries and the legendary Winchester Mystery house.

"This tour is designed to promote increased exchange of international good will," Down explained. "By visiting these various cities the students will get a good idea of the American way of doing things. This should work as a welcome supplement to their academic studies in this country."

Dietz, a guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, will meet the entourage in Los Angeles on Jan. 25. He plans to return to his native Bavaria in August to continue his undergraduate work at the University of Munich.
