Holcomb Wins Police School Honor Award

James W. Holcomb Jr., fall quarter police school graduate, received the W. H. Parker award April 6 for being chosen the honor graduate of the Los Angeles Police academy, according to Prof. Willard Schmidt, head of the San Jose State college police school.

Holcomb was accepted in the academy along with 62 other students. Over 2000 persons petitioned for admission to the 13-week course, sponsored by the Los Angeles police department.

Prof. Schmidt regards this award as the highest recognition any police student could receive. "Naturally, we are proud that Jim received the award," he said.

Selection of the outstanding student is entirely competitive in nature. The student's grades, notebook for the course, gunnery, personality evaluation by the students and faculty, are all considered in making the selection.

"What is most important is that the students themselves take part in the selection," Prof. Schmidt said.

Holcomb worked part-time with the Palo Alto police department during his years at SJS as part of his field work.

Upon graduation from San Jose State college in December, Holcomb was called by the Army for immediate duty. "I had to get a postponement from the Army to participate in the academy's program," Holcomb said.

Mac's Boys Report

Any student who landed in the Philippine Islands with General Douglas MacArthur is asked to come to the Spartan Daily office immediately, according to Jack Gallagher, editor.

SJS to Enroll D.P. Students

"San Jose State college will have three D.P. students in September," Katie Lambert, chairman of the D.P. committee, announced yesterday.

She received word Monday from the New York office of the World Student Service fund that the students have been chosen.

The Student Y's D.P. program will bring Miss Vija Lejnicks of Latvia; Miss Helen Pigarow, of Munich, Germany; and Mr. Viktor Vaits, also of Latvia, to SJS for fall quarter registration.

Miss Lejnicks plans to major in chemistry; Miss Pigarow, in music; and Vaits, in engineering.

IRC Sponsors Pamphlet Shop

The "Pamphlet Shop", sponsored by the International Relations club, now is open to the student body, according to Maurice Duke, IRC vice-president.

The shop, located in the newspaper reading room, features pamphlets of the United Nations, foreign countries, and up-to-date information on pertinent subjects.

Material for the shop was received from the World Affairs Council of Northern California, the Institute of International Relations at Stanford, the United Nations, the Carnegie and Endowment Foundation, and other foreign affairs circles.

Call for Choristers!

All students who are to sing in the Choral Ensemble's presentation of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and who were in the Choral Ensemble during Winter quarter are to report to Mr. Gus Lease, Music department, 198 S. Eighth street.

The oratorio will be presented Sunday, April 29, at 3 p.m. in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Hearings dates are April 26 and 27, 7 to 10 p.m.

Junior Prom Decorating Work Continues; Orchestra Named

Howard Frederic and his orchestra will provide the music Saturday night at the Junior Prom, Chinese Moonmist, according to Marion Huttman, prom chairman.

The 12-piece orchestra has completed a series of Bay area engagements, Miss Huttman said. His list of recent appearances include the Rose Room, at the Palace hotel, the Mural Room at the St. Francis, Hobergs, Lake county resort; and the Marin Town and Country club.

Junior Prom bids are on sale in a special oriental booth near the inner quad for $2.75 per couple. The prom is open to the student body and not just the Junior class, Miss Huttman emphasized.

Students Prefer Secretarial Work

Many future SJS students will seek secretarial careers, according to Dr. E. W. Atkinson, professor of commerce.

"Of the 165 local high school seniors who visited the college commerce department Thursday, 115 expressed a preference for stenographic work," he said.

One reason he cited for this preference is the opportunity for employment. There are numerous jobs with high salaries available in the field.

"Seldom does a day go by in which the commerce department doesn't receive a call for a secretary," he said.

In previous years, Dr. Atkinson pointed out, most interest has been in the accounting field.

Opportunities in secretarial work and the training required will be discussed by Dr. Atkinson, Yvonne Anderson, and Dolores Chasuk at Mountain View high school today.

Credential Fees Still Being Taken

Attention candidates for June credentials!

Bring your money orders for the $4 credential fee to the Registrar's office immediately.

"We cannot assure the students their credentials will be ready by June, since the deadline for the fees was Monday," said Mrs. Margaret Henningsen in the Registrar's office. "However, we will accept late money orders now."

Work will continue on the elaborate oriental decorations this week under the leadership of Jack Larson, decorations chairman. The decorations group has been working nights and weekends preparing the unique setting. Barren fruit trees decorated with artificial fruit and flowers have been completed while work on the remainder of the Chinese gardens is continuing, Miss Huttman continued.

Other decoration plans include a Chinese pagoda, a dragon, trellis work and running water. Decoration committee members are Carol Whitman, Winkie Teague, Flo Flickenger, Jackie Peterson, Marilyn Ahlenius, and Lita Howard.

Scene of the Prom will be Mary Ann Gardens. Three halls and a large patio will be utilized for the dance.

Los Gatos Art Exhibit Here

Dr. Arturo B. Fallico, associate professor of philosophy, has brought an exhibition of paintings and sculpture from the Los Gatos Art association show to the reserve bookroom, and in exchange, the SJS faculty art show now is being exhibited in Los Gatos. Dr. Fallico founded the Los Gatos group last year.

Members of the group range in occupations from housewives to physicians to professional artists, Dr. Fallico stated.

"The intent of the organization is to liven interest in art in this region, and to make known the work of local artists," Dr. Fallico said recently. He revealed that this is the first traveling show of the group since its inception. Among the approximately 40 works on exhibit are a painting and a work in sculpture by Dr. Fallico.

STA Will Meet

The San Jose State college chapter of Science Teachers' association will meet tonight at 7 p.m. in Room S213 of the Natural Science building, Miss Jeanie Nieri, association secretary-treasurer, announced yesterday.

College Draft Test Application Cards Now Ready at Draft Board--Dean Benz

Application cards for the college qualification test now are available at the local San Jose draft board, Dr. Sanley Benz, dean of men, announced yesterday. The board is located in the Bank of America building at First and Santa Clara streets.

"Any student may obtain a card at the San Jose board," Dean Benz said, "no matter where his own board may be located. It is a must," he continued, "for every student who is planning on taking the examination, to fill out one of these cards and mail it in."

These application cards will determine where and when each student will take the test. Over 1000 colleges, universities, and high schools in the country will be examination centers for the tests which will be given on May 26, June 16, and June 30 of this year.

On his application form, the student must give one town or to score high enough on the examinations to win deferment will not be taking them until late in June. After completing the examinations, the report continued, it will take some time to rate the results and get them to local draft boards.

If, before the draft board receives the results of the tests, a student is faced with induction orders, Hershey said, "we might have to extend" his deferment until the tests have been processed and the results distributed to the local boards. The general said that such delays would not be very long.

This report should bring either joy or sadness to local collegians.

To those who are faced with induction before having taken the tests it should bring a note of hope for a delay in induction and perhaps a deferment until his studies are completed.

But the report emphasizes a point that is often overlooked by draft registrants.

The president's executive order directing the deferment of college students of a proven aptitude as well as every directive issued to date is entirely up to the discretion of the local draft board. None of these orders are mandatory but rather of a nature to leave responsibility for action, or lack of action, up to the local boards.

So a student high up in his class standing and having scored above the as-yet-unannounced prescribed score for deferment may still find himself in uniform regardless of these things.

As was pointed out in the initial report of the tests, any student may appeal the action on his case to the state draft board and even further to a higher federal level.

Datebook Entries Must Be in Early

A new rule requiring that each Datebook entry be made seven days in advance was passed by the Student Activities board recently, according to Jim Porter, board president.

This change in procedure was brought about by several Greek letter organizations entering the event on the day on which it was to occur, thus giving no one a chance to review it, Porter said.

Violations of this procedure will be brought to the attention of the Student Court, Porter added.

The Weather

"This business of 'morning high fog with little temperature change' is wearing pretty thin," Phil Phogbound, philosopher, remarked as he addressed a package containing a boobytrapped can of peanut brittle to the U.S. weather bureau in San Francisco.

After consulting his Rand McNally, the Daily Racing Form and Dr. Gundelfinger's Primer for Beginning Weather Prophets, Phogbound wrote, "Phil's Phearless Picks—Numb in Nome, Torrid in Toledo, and Firefly in the fifth."

Editorial

To Blast or Not To Blast

Prof. Elmo Robinson's Thrust and Parry provides the entree for a good editorial dish. It brings to mind one point with which most of us are not familiar,—the system established by the Fairness committee yields results. It suggests another,—instead of "blasting" a professor by means of an indignant letter, telling your troubles to Mr. Robinson's committee yields better, even excellent, results.

Many will remember the history of the case with which the philosophy professor's letter deals.

On Jan. 9, the SPARTAN DAILY ran a T&P submitted by three students who complained about the organization of and final examination for an Introduction to the Arts (Art 75) course.

The three wondered: "What is the object in teaching a course of vague abstractions, contradictions, and meaningless redundancies?" How can a class be graded on the results of one examination? they asked.

"We feel it was rather confusing to the student to have the form of the examination and the method of grading changed twice. On the course's green sheet these factors were explained one way—the last lecture period they were explained another way and a few days later when the exam was given it had been changed", the students claimed.

Professors Lyle Downey, Richard Tansey, and Alden Smith asked the Fairness committee to review the case.

After evaluating the student's criticisms, rejecting some as misrepresentations of the truth, and accepting others as facts, Robinson's group made its report, a copy of which was published in the Daily.

"Posted in most classrooms," the report read, "is the Fairness committee suggestion that any student who believes himself unfairly treated should discuss the situation with his instructor, with the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women, or with a member of the Fairness committee. No evidence has reached us that these students followed any of these procedures. Instead, they expressed their grievance publicly. This was, of course, their privilege, but in choosing this method they have made it more difficult for us to arrive at the facts."

The rest of the report censured both the professors concerned and the students, and made certain suggestions for correcting an obviously undesirable situation.

Judging from the professor's letter to Mr. Robinson, his committee's suggestions were heeded. A spot check with one of the authors of the T&P letter revealed that he deems it very desirable for any student in a similar situation to proceed through the Fairness committee.

We cannot remember when a case reviewed by SJS's unique committee did not turn out well for the persons who were more nearly in the right.

The point is this: You'll get results from the Fairness committee. Take your case to them. If, for any reason, your case is not given due consideration or you are not treated fairly, our T&P column is open. You can then do your blasting. As a matter of fact, we'll provide the dynamite.

THRUST and PARRY

Dear Thrust and Parry:

The Fairness committee was exceedingly gratified to receive the following letter concerning Art 75. Because of its friendly and cooperative attitude towards the Fairness System which we are gradually building together on this campus, we wish to share it with students and faculty. From Professors Downey, Smith, and Tansey, instructors in Art 75 and signers of the letter, I have permission to make it public.

"We have reviewed the copy of your report of the Fairness committee on Art 75 which was sent to us. We feel that the investigation has been fair and well carried on. A number of the points brought out we have discussed and we are replanning the course in the light of some of the weaknesses exposed. In other words, we are attempting to use the results of the examination to build a better course and we shall continue to make an effort to administer it fairly. We are willing to re-examine the case of any student with a legitimate complaint. If our findings indicate that any student has been unfairly treated, we shall adjust grades accordingly.

"Please express our thanks to the committee for the manner in which this complaint has been handled. We shall try to make the results constructive."

It is the hope of the Fairness committee that misunderstandings between students and faculty can be prevented. But should any arise in the future we hope that both students and faculty will seek to deal with them in the same spirit which this letter exhibits.

Elmo A. Robinson.

Thinclads Face Another Test; Meet OC, COP

"Try and try again." Coach Bud Winter's thinclads get another crack at the San Francisco Olympic club and College of Pacific squads next Saturday.

The Tigers host the Spartans and the Winged "O" in a night trackfest.

This season the locals have bowed to the Olympic club in a dual meet 66-65 and last Saturday the OC came out on top of a three-way clash with SJS and Stanford. In a five-way meet at the University of California, the Spartans won with 89 points followed by the Bears with 81 points and COP's 43.

Outstanding performances for the locals Saturday were Bob McMullen's win in the mile plus a second in the 880 and a fast mile relay run by Hal Frisch, Don Davis, Bob Nicolai, and Bobby Crowe. McMullen, who hadn't worked out all week because he had the flu, ran a 4:21.5 mile which is his fastest to date.

The 3:20.4 mile relay was anchored by sprinter Bobby Crowe who was clocked at 48.5 for the last quarter mile.

Frosh Mermen, Sequoia Tangle

Those always-trying San Jose State college frosh swimmers meet Sequoia high school mermen this afternoon at Spartan pool in search of their first win of the season.

The Spartan yearlings will be facing an outstanding high school swim team in the Sequoia squad as the visitors have been one of the top tank outfits in Peninsular Athletic League competition.

Spartan JV Golf Squad Plays Today

The San Jose State college junior varsity golf team, in hopes of continuing their winning ways, will attempt a repeat performance this afternoon when they meet the Modesto J.C. linksmen at the Hillview course.

Friday the Spartan junior varsity squad scored a 20½-6½ victory over the Modesto team at the latter's home Del Rio course.

Top match of the season for Coach Walt McPherson's San Jose State varsity golf team will be Friday. The Spartan regulars, headed by Ken Venturi and Jay Hopkins, will face Stanford university.

Earlier this season, the Indians defeated the Spartans by three strokes for the team title of the NCI at Pasatiempo.

Spartans, Bronco Nine Renew Rivalry Tonight

By CARL FERNANDES

Cross-town rivals, Santa Clara university and San Jose State college, meet tonight at 8 o'clock at Municipal stadium, hoping to add to their respective strings of victories in the baseball circuit.

The Santa Clara Bronco nine has a six-won, seven-loss record thus far this season. The Spartans have lost their last nine outings, but the Bronco game could be the "breaker" since rivalry between the two schools is always hot and furious.

Bronco Coach Patty Cottrell lost twelve baseball lettermen to graduation but has rounded his "leftovers" and newcomers into shape.

On the mound for the Santa Clarians will be either Eddie Chavez, fireballer from last year's squad; Pete Zasso, or Don Seybold.

The veteran Chavez was used mainly as a reliefer last year but has worked as a starter this year due to Cottrell's lack of experienced hurlers.

Other probable starters for the Broncs are: Mil Fore, catcher; Buzzy Harrington, shortstop; Ron Moberg, third base; Al Bertanga, second base; Curt Patterson, first base; and outfielders, Frank Lico, Jim McElroy, and Mike Virga.

Pitching chores for the Spartans go to ailing Glenn Davis. Davis has been bothered with a sore arm but appears to be coming around. This will be his second starting role this season.

Big sticks for the Spartan nine are Centerfielder Joe Bonfiglio and Rightfielder Andy Miller, who are clipping .324 and .313, respectively.

Other starters for the locals tonight are: Dean Giles, left field; Cookie Camara, shortstop; Dick Lane, second base; Bobby Graves, third base; Ed Hallberg, first base, and Walt Johnson, catcher.

Today's Mural Softball Sked

Independent league: Chi Pi Sigma vs. Music department, at Lowell playground. Grapplers forfeit to Newman club.

Inter-fraternity league: Delta Sigma Phi vs. Delta Upsilon, at Burnett; Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Pi, at Grant; Delta Sigma Gamma vs. Theta Mu Sigma, at Jefferson.

All games start at 5:15 p.m. and the fields must be cleared by 6:30 p.m.

The home teams are the last ones mentioned in the schedule. They are to get the equipment from the Men's gym and return it by 9 a.m., the day following the game.

Racketmen Meet University of S.F.

The Spartan tennis squad will attempt to continue its winning streak today when it plays host to the University of San Francisco.

A weak San Francisco State college squad bowed to the locals' powerhouse, 9-0, Friday.

Ted Mumby's men have dropped only one match this year. They lost to the University of California.

The University of Santa Clara racket wielders will face the locals on their courts Thursday.

Spartan Frosh, Willow Nine To Play Today

The San Jose State college frosh nine take to the field again this afternoon when they tangle with the Willow Glen high schoolers at 3:30 p.m. at Municipal stadium.

The Spartan frosh were moving ahead with a four-game win streak until they were downed 10-9 by Hartnell last week in an extra inning contest. Season record is four wins, three losses.

Either Claude Bolender or Rich Breen will handle today's pitching chores, according to Bill Hurst, assistant frosh coach.

Other probable starters for the local nine are: Jim Vettle, first base; Milt Mounakian, second base; Howard Rapp, third base; Allen Carter, shortstop; Toby Lombardi, center field; Bill Pitcher, or Bob Fitzgerald, left field; Maurice Duncan or Tom Bair, right field, and Manny Rocha, catcher.

Next opponent on the Spartan frosh books is the University of California freshman squad. The locals journey to Berkeley for this contest Thursday.

Spartan Gridders Hold Spring Drills

By BILL GOSSETT

Approximately 80 football candidates answered the call to the first official turnout of San Jose State college spring practice yesterday afternoon at Spartan field.

Head Coach Bob Bronzan and his coaching staff greeted 19 men from last year's Spartan squad with the remainder composed of junior college transfers, sophomores up from the 1950 frosh grid team, and new freshmen prospects.

At the first day's practice session, the large squad was separated into two groups, the majority comprised of new prospects and the minority consisting of last season's SJS gridgers.

The veterans from 1950 football campaigns ran through conditioning and offensive play drills in their gym shorts for a half hour.

However, the hopefuls seeking a berth on the 1951 Golden Raider grid roster found the going a bit rougher. They were dressed in full uniforms and engaged in contact work in addition to the conditioning drills.

Coach Bronzan plans to concentrate his attention to these new turnouts during the first week of practice. The veterans will not be called on for heavy duty until the second week of drills.

The major job confronting the coaching staff during spring practice will be to find capable replacements for the 17 graduated lettermen which included all the quarterbacks, all but one tackle, and all but three ends.

Nine candidates, tutored by Assistant Coach Gene Menges of the 1950 team, are battling for the first string quarterback position. Top prospects seem to be Lynn Aplanalp from Pasadena City college; Jerry Hamilton, a transfer from St. Mary's college; Dick Harrison from Citrus J.C.; and Larry Rice, up from the Frosh team. However, none of the nine prospects are a sure bet and the race for the position is wide open.

Only returning tackle is George Porter but the position should be bolstered by junior college transfers which include Sal Cardinelli of Monterey, Buford Edmonson of Fresno, Lou Heckler of East Los Angeles, Dan Leddy of Muir, Carl Matulick of Santa Rosa, and Bob Roebuck of Hartnell.

The three end returnees, consisting of Ray Poznekoff, Chuck Fitzgerald, and Jerry Perick, will receive help from Bob Hughes of East Los Angeles, Jim Cunningham of Monterey, Arnold Nelson of Compton, Bob Remerio of Muir, and Jess Holt of Hartnell.

Another veteran flanker, Bob Amaral, who played offensive left end last year, was switched to fullback at yesterday's practice session.

A tint of bad news hit spring practice as it was reported that two players will be sidelined by operations and another left for the armed services.

The quarterly business meeting of the chapter will be held at 12:30 Tuesday, May 8, in Room 122.

China Expert To Speak Here

Mr. Karl Robinson, international traveler and lecturer, will appear at San Jose State college Friday, April 27, to present a film-lecture on China.

Tentative time and place for the 50-minute program has been scheduled for 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon in Morris Dailey auditorium, Mr. William Vatcher, political science instructor, announced yesterday.

Mr. Robinson's color film on China was taken before the advance of the communist army. The two-reel movie of six Chinese provinces reveals why communism has over-run the country.

Mr. Robinson has spent 25 years living and working in foreign fields. The past 15 years have been devoted to photographic studies of Alaska, Austria, China, Japan, Germany, Greece and Switzerland.

Winston Creations in Jewelry Are Current Art Wing Exhibit

An unusual display of modern design in jewelry created by Bob Winston, instructor at the California College of Arts and Crafts, is currently on exhibit in the San Jose State college Art wing.

The display consists of rings, pendants, brooches, and necklaces wrought from gold and silver, some of which are startling in their departure from the conventional designs.

Mr. Leonard Stanley, instructor of design and composition, explained that Winston never made two pieces of jewelry alike. "He gets an idea, carves it in wax, makes a mold, and casts the final article in a precious metal."

Winston's work has made quite a stir in art circles, Mr. Stanley said. A large silver necklace included in the exhibition has been awarded three prizes.

Winston is a graduate of the University of California, and has been an instructor in jewelry and experimentation at the College of Arts and Crafts for eight years.

Other posts have been filled as follows: Bob Neal, business manager; Jim Johnson, art editor; Nancy Martin, fashion editor; "Doc" Gmelin, photography director; Harry Topoian, typography director; Bob Bassian, circulation manager; and Gangola, publicity manager.

Students are reminded that contributions to Lyke in the form of stories and cartoons will be accepted gratefully, Gangola said. Short stories of 2500 words or less, personal essays, and anecdotes can be turned in to the Lyke office in Room B95, he stated. Cartoon ideas in finished or unfinished form are wanted also, he reported.

Texas Community Named 'Truman' Considers Change

TRUMAN, Tex., April 16 (UP).—This hamlet was divided today on whether to change its name from Truman to, say, MacArthur.

No one suggested that it take back its original name, Mesquite Gap, but E. G. Cogburn was so upset by President Truman's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur that he considered petitioning for a change.

Cogburn said he had thought about changing the name of Truman to MacArthur, but he was not convinced it was a sound idea.

"There's a chance that MacArthur might be wrong in his dispute with Washington," Cogburn conceded, "and then we'd be out on a limb again."

Group Offers Scholarships

The Knights Templar of California is again offering two scholarships of $100 each to sophomore students enrolled at San Jose State college for use in their junior year. One of these must be a woman. In addition, one $100 scholarship is offered this year to a junior man for use during his senior year.

Selection is on the basis of financial need, scholarship, character and promise, keeping in mind the intent of the donors to make it possible for students of ability and sincere purpose, but of limited means to secure a college education.

Details may be obtained from Mr. Edward Clements, Room 114. Closing date for applications is May 1.
