SJS Prexy Returns To Campus

President T. W. MacQuarrie returned to the campus Friday from a four-day "civilian orientation cruise" to Pensacola, Fla., as a guest of the United States Navy.

Dr. MacQuarrie was one of the 28 civilians and five military figures who made the cross-country trek. Among the other notables making the journey were Lt. Governor Goodwin J. Knight, Dr. James H. Corley, vice-president of the University of California, and the college presidents of College of Marin, Fresno State college, Santa Rosa Junior college, Cal Poly, and the vice-president of Shell Oil company.

"The four days were a wonderful experience," Dr. MacQuarrie said. The trip was "just grand, just delightful."

The group left Oakland Naval Air Station Monday on a DC-4 transport plane and arrived in Dallas that night. They remained in Dallas all night and inspected the city's Naval training station.

The group left Dallas on the DC-4 and arrived in Pensacola Tuesday and during the afternoon inspected the whole installation at the Naval Air Reserve Florida training base.

Wednesday, the Navy's guests boarded an aircraft carrier, the USS Monterey, and went 30 or 40 miles out into the Gulf of Mexico, the president said.

The group watched new cadets making landings on the carrier, viewed exhibitions of catapult takeoffs from the USS Monterey, and inspected the vessel from stem to stern.

The return trip from Pensacola to the Oakland Naval Air Station Thursday was made with only a short stopover at Dallas and the plane landed at the local airport Thursday evening at 10 o'clock.

SJS Personnel In Art Exhibit

Included in the Society of Western Artists exhibit now on view in the Art wing are several works by SJS personnel, Miss Clara Bianchi, art department secretary, announced.

Milton Lanyon, associate professor of art; Eric Oback, instructor in art; and Helen B. Dooley, former art student here, are represented in the display of oils and watercolors. Landscapes, buildings, and portraits are the primary subjects of the paintings.

Other artists showing their work are Peter Blos, Laurence F. Hosmer, Maurice Logan, Frank H. Myers, Robert C. Richell, Thomas Soule, Meria von Ridelstein, A. G. Warshawsky, Chand Shu-Chi, Nat Levy, Othello Michetti, Anne K. Pennington, Elizabeth M. Polley, Paul A. Schmott, Arthur Stewart, Rene Weaver, Francis Woodcock, Cecil F. Chamberlin.

Ski Club Plans Christmas Trip

All skiers who wish to make the Christmas trip to Donner Summit must attend Tuesday's meeting of the college Ski club in order to make reservations, according to Bill Cancilla, club president. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Room S112.

"Snow conditions should be excellent for the trip," Cancilla said. "In fact, we expect the most successful ski season in more than five years."

The Christmas trip, Dec. 26 through 29, is open only to club

Mirthful Opening Night Is Sparked by Levy and Adair

By JEANNINE SHORT

An evening of laughs was enjoyed by playgoers Friday night as a fine SJS cast presented the first performance of Molnar's comedy "The Swan" in the Little Theater. John R. Kerr, assistant professor of speech, was director.

The spirited characterization of Judith Levy as Princess Beatrice, the scheming mother, and the usual excellent performance of Fred Adair, as the lovable understanding Father Hyacinth, highlighted the evening's entertainment. The Levy-Adair combination kept an appreciative audience in laughter with their skillful brother and sister interpretation.

Georgene Bowen, as Alexandra, made a charming princess, and Michael Casey, as the pleasant but cautious Prince Albert, was gracefully at ease in his role. Hugh Heller was a handsome and sympathetic figure as the frustrated young tutor, Nicholas Agi.

The vitality and realistic interpretation of the leading players backed by an unusually good supporting cast brought sparkle and humor to a play that can only be termed fair in comparison with some of the better plays staged in the past.

Shirley Gross as the flighty old-maidish Symphorosa, delighted first-nighters. Her entrance or first-nighters. The comic figure of Caesar, the butler, was aptly portrayed by Jack Byers. The regal figure of Princess Maria Dominica was realistically played by Carol Share.

Rounding out the cast were William Resch as Colonel Wunderlich, Laurence Sherrill as Count Lutzen, Bert Graf and Robert Dietle as the Princes George and Arsenic, Joan McKibbin as Countess Erdley, Carolyn King and Donna Wegner as the Ladies-in-Waiting, Clyde Allen and Leslie Riggins as Lackeys, Bruce Payne and Harold Weaver as Hussars, and Mary Calahan as the maid.

The stage settings of scenic designer J. Wendell Johnson were skillfully arranged for each of the three scenes to give the illusion of time and location. The reception setting in the second set was particularly striking for its eye-pleasing color. The colorful ultra-modern costumes by Berneice Prisk were in harmony with the light mood of the play.

Comedy Try-outs Commence Today

Tryouts for the third major dramatic production, "What Every Woman Knows," will be held this afternoon and tomorrow at 4 o'clock in the Little Theater.

The sparkling comedy will be directed by Miss Elizabeth Loeffler, assistant professor of Speech and Drama, and will be given Feb. 1 through 6.

The Weather

Went to see my doctor the other day. I have had the strangest feeling the past few days—seemed like my flesh was crawling slyly off my body. The Doc diagnosed my case in a flash.

"You have a case of perpetuistic-promitorial whatdocal'em. In other words—goose pimples!" And with this weather, it'll probably be fatal!

Cannibals, Show Boat Take Honors In Extravaganza

The Men's gym was turned into a three-ring circus Friday night as enthusiastic campus organizations appeared in full costume to support their entries in the Fifteenth Annual Novice Boxing tournament.

The Kappa Alpha-Delta Gamma "Showboat" sailed in for a first place tie with the "Cannibals" of Theta Chi and Alpha Phi. Each winging house will keep the coveted trophy six months because of the tie decision, according to Morris Goldner, who made the awards.

Tying for second place honors were the Pi Kappa Alpha-Kappa Alpha Theta Chinese and the Lambda Chi-Sigma Kappa Hawaiians. "This is the first time in the history of the novice tournament that organizations have tied for first and second places," Goldner said.

The Delta Upsilon and the Gamma Phi Betas, attired as clowns, were awarded the third-place rooting section trophy.

Paul Morgan of Kappa Alpha was selected as the outstanding boxer of the novice division of the tournament. The trophy for the outstanding boxer of the junior division was awarded to Joe Lenhardt, who was sponsored by Delta Upsilon.

The winning team, coached by Doug Wilson, was sponsored by Kappa Alpha fraternity and Delta Gamma sorority.

The television camera surveyed the gymnasium, catching the boxers and rooting sections in action.

Color and spirit dictated the tournament from the moment the costumed Spartans paraded into the gym until the final bell sounded ending this year's novice tournament.

Veterans May Have to Pay ASB Card Fee

Veterans attending college under Public Law 346, who do not have ASB cards, must be prepared to pay a $5 card fee at registration, according to Glen Guttormsen, accounting officer.

The Veterans Administration has not agreed to pay these fees and there is no confirmation that the V.A. will pay them, Mr. Guttormsen said.

He indicated that a final decision will be made by "top level" officials in Washington, D.C., but he could not say when it would be made.

Japanese Survey SJS Campus Today

Two Japanese educators, who visited San Jose State college Wednesday and Thursday and Stanford Friday, will return here today, Dr. James C. DeVoss, executive dean, announced Friday.

Eiki Yamamoto, director and professor from the Osaka Liberal Arts university, and Jiro Shimura, dean of the department of education at Gunma university, are studying educational systems of United States' schools, Dean DeVoss said.

According to Dean DeVoss, the two gentlemen joined three other educators, Mr. Usaburo Naito, Mr. Seihei Sakurai and Dr. Gohei Yamagishi, in a view of San Jose city schools Thursday.

The Japanese educators are visiting the U.S. through the Occupied Areas Educational program,

Cloud Seeding Untimely

As a supreme example of man's lack of faith in nature, we have the actions of the county rainmakers, who operated their cloud seeding generators at the height of the recent rainstorm.

At present, the rainmakers are trying to determine what percentage of the downpour was due to their cloud seeding operations.

It must be a great source of consolation to the citizens of Alviso, whose children went to school via boats, that they have contributed to the advancement of weather science.

But the type of thinking which brings about cloud seeding during the height of a natural rainstorm must be decried. Carried to its logical end, it would present a rainmaker, clinging to a housetop in the midst of a Noah-like flood, murmuring happily to himself, "Boo-oh-boy, what a success!"

Could the forest fires that razed our woodlands last summer have been caused by industrious scientists, testing the efficiency of the match?

Names Five Objectives

Dean Discusses Aims Of College with Frosh

"San Jose State college, located between two of the great universities of California, with other private institutions in the area, has a peculiar responsibility."

This was the statement Thursday of Dr. James C. DeVoss, executive dean of the college, as he discussed "San Jose State's Philosophy of Vocational Preparation," before the Freshman Orientation class in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

He added, "We have interpreted this responsibility as being that of meeting the needs of young people in this area. In the main, it involves training for occupational activity. In the early history of the college, teaching was the only occupational objective for which we trained students."

Dean DeVoss said that for various reasons we have broadened this objective greatly since the earlier days of the college.

Then he went on to explain briefly a philosophy of vocational preparation.

"First, we believe that a vocational objective is a cardinal point which prevents young people from wandering. From all we know about the psychology of learning, we believe that people learn better with a definite purpose in mind."

He commented that the second point is that occupational fitness is a primary responsibility in citizenship.

"Third, our life pattern seems to be that occupational activities are required. Cultural activities and avocational activities are elective. Therefore, in this college, we try to require a vocational pattern and to recommend a cultural supplement, hoping that the student will pick those aspects of culture for which he finds the greatest enthusiasm," he added.

On the fourth point, Dean DeVoss said that an occupational choice is a continuing process of selection. He added that on the fifth purpose occupational objectives should be integrated by one's philosophy of life.

He stated, "For true satisfaction, service is the prime requisite."

Juliano Addresses Group

Joe Juliano, director of the college alumni association, addressed the freshman class on the progress that his organization has made during the past year.

Dr. Vernon Ouellette, placement director, spoke on the college placement service and offered suggestions to students who are interested in obtaining part time positions.

Magazine Writing Course Is Offered

Ralph Westerman announced recently that he will instruct a course in non-fiction magazine writing during the winter quarter.

Mr. Westerman is a former English instructor at the college and currently is a member of the San Jose Department of Adult Education.

The magazine article writing course will be entitled Journalism 172 and will be open to all students in the college, he said.

"Each student in the course may write in his own area of interest," he added. He said all articles in this class will be written with "an eye toward possible publication."

He disclosed that the magazine writing class will be held from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, in B23.

Frat to Hold Cake Sale; Money Will Spread Yule Cheer

"A Christmas for Needy" will be the theme of the Kappa Tau fraternity cake sale to be held Thursday and Friday from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Library arch, according to Jim Nash, publicity chairman.

The proceeds of the sale will buy a complete Christmas dinner, a Christmas tree, and assorted Christmas presents for needy families in the San Jose area. The families to receive the sale's benefits will be selected by the Salvation Army.

If any college student knows of a family who would benefit from the sale, please put the family's name and address in the K box in the Student Union.

The cakes will be donated by local bakeries, and will sell at 10 cents a slice.

Kappa Tau's Jim Nash and Gene Stanfield are in charge of the charity sale.

CCA Official To Participate In Ohio Confab

After the Christmas holidays, the Rev. James A. Martin, executive secretary of the College Christian association, will fly to Oxford, Ohio, to attend the fourth national assembly of the Student Christian Association Movement.

The assembly, which is held every four years, will be in session at Miami university from Dec. 27 to Jan. 2.

More than 2000 students, representing YMCA and YWCA organizations throughout the nation, are expected to attend the assembly. Sue Allen of the University of Nebraska and William Banaka of Harvard university will be the co-chairmen of the week-long conference.

Sorority Fetes S.J. Children

Eta Epsilon, home economics sorority, held a Christmas party for approximately 30 orphans Wednesday afternoon at the Home of Benevolence in San Jose.

Gifts were presented to the children by the sorority women, who also provided refreshments and played games with the children.

Eta Epsilon is an honor society. Each year they hold a Christmas party and also make presents for the Spartan Daily Christmas tree in the Student Union.

Santa Claus Will Visit AWS Christmas Party Wednesday

Santa Claus will pause in his preparations for his annual tour of the world, and appear at the AWS Christmas party Wednesday in the Student Union.

All college women are invited to attend the event, which will begin at 3:30 p.m., according to Jo Ann Keeler, AWS president.

Entertainment, refreshments, and presents from Santa Claus to all, are to be featured.

At Wednesday afternoon's meeting, the door decoration contest, to be judged Dec. 17, was discussed. Decoration price limit has been raised to $2.50. A prize will be awarded to the winning house.

Chris Flynn is general chairman of the Christmas party. Jean Anne Bailey is head of the refreshment committee, and Janet Johnson and Jo Anne Moore will design posters.

Miss Keeler bid everyone goodbye as she will be student teaching next quarter and so will not lead another meeting until spring.

College Alumni Officers Attend Berkeley Meet

Joe Juliano and Mrs. Aileen Campbell of the alumni association are attending the District Nine conference of American Alumni council at the Claremont hotel in Berkeley, according to an alumni office release. The conference is scheduled to run Dec. 9 through 12.

Representatives from colleges and universities in the western states are attending the meet to discuss ideas and improvement of various alumni office activities.

Executive manager of the conference is Stan McCaffrey, alumni director of the University of California.

Mr. Juliano will speak at one of the panels. His subject is "A Membership Program."

Sunday evening, the Universities of California and Stanford Chinese alumni sponsored a tour, including dinner, in San Francisco's Chinatown.

Gets Chronicles

Copies of the San Francisco Chronicle for the years 1914-1919 were given to the college library Friday by the Hoover library at Stanford, according to Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian.

The bound newspapers may be seen in the fifth floor storeroom. Old issues of the San Jose Mercury Herald also are kept there.

KA-DG Entry Takes First With 46 Points; Lenhardt, Morgan Are Top Boxers

Novice Boxers Thrill Crowd

Except for the Monday morning reshapes in the Coop and the planning for next year, the 15th annual Novice boxing tournament is history.

The Novice gladiators put on a fine exhibition of boxing for the cheering spectators. It would be hard to single out any one boxer as outstanding. For the most part they were all in that category.

In the 115 lb. division, Frank Fuentes took a close decision from Yosh Uyeda. Both boys hit hard and often but little Frank's fast finish won him the bout. The next four divisions, 120 to 135 lb., were all fast matches which up until the final bell looked like they might go either way. Kim Kanaya decided Gil Sanchez in the 120 lb. match; Roger Fraser took a decision from Alvaro Campos in the 125 lb. class; Paul Morgan decided Phil Donaire in the 130 lb. class; and Joe Tiago beat Ron Yanez for the 135 lb. title.

Harvey Del Buono, representing Pi Kappa Alpha, and Eli Aguilar from Delta Sigma Gamma were the participants in the closest match of the evening with Del Buono grabbing the decision.

In another bout that could have gone either way, a tired and battered Joe Thornley copped the decision over Jim Downs in the 155 lb. class.

The free swinging windmill style of footballer Bob Osborne which brought him through the quarter and semi-finals won him the 165 lb. championship over Andy Rao. Garey Patrick decided Norman Carter to win the 175 lb. division.

The light heavyweight class featured a fast three round bout between Clift Ralph and Norman Yiskis with the latter copping the decision. In the heavyweight class Phil O'Connor took the championship with a win over Chuck Godshall.

Grapplers Defeat Alameda Sailors

Coach Ted Mumby's varsity wrestlers pinned the Alameda Naval Air Station grapplers, 25-15, Wednesday night at the air station.

It was the varsity's first dual match of the season, and Mumby used mostly his jayvees in turning back the strong sailors. The Spartans captured five out of eight decisions in the regular matches.

One of the top matches was between Spartan Nick Mayer and Sailor Richard Nusser in the 191-pound class.

Doug Wilson Is Top Coach

Paul Morgan, 130 lb. boxer from Palo Alto and Joe Lenhardt, 145 pounder from Berkeley were chosen outstanding novice and junior boxers, respectively, in the 15th annual tournament.

The entry of Kappa Alpha and Delta Gamma walked away with team honors with 46 points. Delta Upsilon was second and Theta Chi third.

Doug Wilson, coach of the winning KA-DG entry, accepted the award from Goldner. Wilson also was presented with a trophy for being the winning coach.

Tourney Features Many Close Bouts

Coach Dee Portal got some pretty good ideas on future varsity prospects as the 2nd annual junior tourney and the 15th annual novice boxing spectacle went into the records Friday night in Spartan gym.

Junior Joe Lenhardt of Delta Upsilon and Kappa Alpha's Chuck Amadeo put on a beauty in the 145-lb. division, Lenhardt getting a close decision.

Theta Chi's Al Matthews, the football halfback, had a bruising set-to with Delta Upsilon's George Coakley in the 155-lb. bracket. The latter's boring-in tactics earned him a skinny margin from the judges.

The Carl Anzalone-Ed Heinrich 165-lb. duel perhaps was the best belting contest of the entire card. A junior from Anaheim, Heinrich jabbed his way to an early lead but had to finish with a flurry to edge his dogged rival.

Delta Sigma Gamma's Richard Telles, a very classy and promising young man, showed some good ringmanship as he outboxed rough Dale Maynard of Delta Upsilon in the 175-lb. division.

The 125-lb. and 135-lb. bouts were fast and furious. Mike Guerro of Kappa Alpha and Jimmy Long of Delta Sigma Phi got together for three terrific rounds. Guerro hit the target more often to win the 125-lb. class victory.

Kappa Alpha's John Jackson switched tactics midway in his 135-lb. battle with Sigma Sigma's Don Hill. It paid off, Jackson changing to a southpaw stance to gain the nod.

The bigger boys also had their moments. J. C. Wilcox of Pi Kappa Alpha had too much artillery for grizzer Matt Vujevich in a rousing 190-lb. tangle. Heavyweight Ted Springton, a big sophomore, and Lou Agnelli, a senior, had a very close struggle, Springton getting the judges' verdict.

Spartans Dump Fresno 72-58; Jensen Hits 21

A redhot San Jose State basketball team, ignited by Forward Lee Jensen's 21 points, singled the Fresno State Bulldogs, 72-58, Friday night at Fresno.

It was the third straight 1951-52 cage triumph for Coach Walt McPherson's Spartans, who had to overcome a 16-15 first quarter deficit to win.

After trailing 16-15 in the first quarter the Spartans pushed ahead and at half time were leading by a score of 36-25.

Virgie Tillman Wins $25 Award for Oral Reading

Virgie Tillman, sophomore English major, won the $25 oral reading award at the final program given Thursday at the A Chi O house, 353 S. Fifth street.

Miss Tillman read "The Creation," by James Johnson, a modern myth of the world's beginning as a Negro preacher might describe it.

Judges were Dr. Edgar E. Willis, associate professor of speech; Mrs. Helen Hall, former speech instructor here; and Mrs. Celia Deanes, teacher of oral interpretation at San Jose High school.

Student chairman of the afternoon program was Kay Sproul. Others who participated were Charles Knowles, who read a group of poems by Robert Frost; Mary Fiori, with a humorous essay, from the Atlantic Monthly, "Sight Without Vision"; Ivonne Michi, with "The Littlest Angel," by Charles Taswell; Agnes Bolter, with Cornelia Otis Skinner's "The Body Beautiful"; Elaine Guey, with "The Terrible Miss Dove," and Norma Welch, with "Ode to a Nightingale," by John Keats.

The bi-monthly programs in literature interpretation were presented this quarter under the auspices of the Oral Reading staff, of which Dr. Dorothy Kaucher is chairman.

Doctors warn smokers about throats. Kaywoodie Pipes have Three Throat-Guards to give extra throat protection.

FIRST THROAT-GUARD: "Wider-opening" bit. Spreads out smoke, helps cool it. No hot smoke to irritate throat or "bite" tongue.

SECOND THROAT-GUARD: Exclusive, patented "DRINKLESS" device. Cuts down irritating tars... keeps every pipeful lit longer.

THIRD THROAT-GUARD: World's best imported briar. It's specially heat-resistant and porous. Makes smoke cooler... less irritating.

GUARD THAT THROAT, DOCTORS SAY!

Only KAYWOODIE pipes have these Three Throat-Guards for extra throat protection!

Don't gamble with your throat! Kaywoodie has three Throat-Guards working for you, protecting your throat as no other smoke can. They reduce tars and make smoke cooler.

And just hold that Kaywoodie! Feel the satin-smooth briar. It's the world's best. Admire it as you would the finest piece of sculpture.

And what a real smoke a Kaywoodie gives you... what a man's smoke! Plus so much extra throat protection!

Kaywoodie imports the finest briar—and then throws 90% of it away. Keeps only the finest 10%, the very heart, for cool, sweet smoking.
