Blomseth, Levy Cast In Comedy Production

Warren Blometh and Judith Levy have been cast in the starring roles for the forthcoming dramatic production, "What Every Woman Knows," Miss Elizabeth Loeffler, assistant professor of speech and director of the production, announced yesterday afternoon.

Blomseth will play the humorless young Scotsman, John Shand, who makes a strange bargain with a wealthy family. Judith Levy, who will be remembered as the vicious Princess Beatrice in "The Swan," will play Maggie Wylie, the plain daughter of the well-to-do family.

The comedy is a humorous study of Scotch character, as represented by the earnest young John Shand. Shand, determined to gain knowledge one way or another, sneaks into the home of the Wylie's in order to get books. The unusual situation that arises from this incident results in his marrying Maggie and becoming a great success in politics.

Other players are: Mary Haugum as Comtesse De La Briere; Ruth Dougherty as Lady Sybil Lazenby; Eugene Share as Alick Wylie; Laurence Sherrill as James Wylie; William Resch as David Wylie; Stanley Schwimmer as Mr. Venables and Joe LeBue as Mr. Feikie.

Mary Cahalan will assume the part of the maid, while electors will be played by John Rodrigues, Warren Ramsey, Jerry Huven and Charles Bucaria.

"What Every Woman Knows" will be presented in the Little Theater next quarter from Feb. 1 through 6.

The Weather

Well, my session as a weather woman is drawing to a close! I know that will be good news for those of you who are sincerely interested in the weather, but my mother will cry—she reads my column every day, bless her! I am interviewing applicants to take over my job for next quarter. Anyone interested should contact the raving maniac cutting paper dolls in the corner.

Button down your mustaches, boys, the wind is going to blow this morning—chilly in the wee hours, warmer during afternoon. (Just had an applicant—name of Pavlova from C.H.)

Police Majors Will Play Santa Claus

While his fellow police students are raising funds to give his two daughters a Christmas, Rodolfo S. Carrillo is in the County hospital recovering from back injuries he received Wednesday in a judo class.

By Friday night the future lawmen had collected $75 to make sure that the injured police major's family will not suffer because of his injury. "The boys want the children to have a true Christmas," Mr. Willard E. Schmidt, head of the police school, explained yesterday. "They started passing the hat last Thursday and they now have $75 and the donations are still coming in."

Announce Library Hours for Week

Following are the Library hours for finals week and the Christmas holiday as announced by Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian.

The Library will close at 5:30 p.m. Thursday. It will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday.

During the vacation period, the Library will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m. every weekday except Christmas day.

Placement Services Available Today in New Central Office

Complete placement services will be available today from the new, central office in Room 100, Dr. Vernon A. Ouellette, placement officer, said Friday.

The placement staff expected to operate from the sunlit green quarters Wednesday, but because of difficulty installing telephones, the move was delayed, Mrs. Florence Cardoza, part-time placement director, said.

Mrs. Cardoza and Dr. Ouellette moved into Room 100 from their respective offices, Room 1 and Room 108, Friday morning. Miss Doris Robinson, director of teacher placement, was scheduled to establish headquarters there Friday afternoon.

MacQuarrie Approves of New PCC Ruling

By WALT ROESSING

"I think that the President ought to be responsible for everything that goes on in his college,"

This was the statement of President T. W. MacQuarrie in an interview last week in which he commented on the recent move by the Pacific Coast conference officials, who have placed collegiate athletic policies in the hands of the college presidents.

He stated that the president should not be in immediate charge of athletics, but should have people in charge on whom he can depend. "A college president does not have enough time to devote to the details of the athletic situation," he added.

Dr. MacQuarrie stipulated that athletics must be handled on a strictly educational basis. If they are handled in any other way "you have the wrong man in charge," he said.

"Football is not overemphasized at San Jose State college and the sport doesn't run the school," he stated.

He added, "This school has never bought a football player. We have never paid our way in football. Our games don't pay their way at all. There is no outside money in football at San Jose State college."

Commenting on the financial situation at other colleges, he stated, "If anyone puts up money at other schools it would have to be the alumni."

He stated that we have tried to aid our football team by the Spar-Ten club, which donates money to assist the local eleven. When founded, it was hoped the Spar-Ten club would reach the size of the Stanford Buck-of-the-Month club. But this has not been the case, he said.

It was hoped when the college built Spartan stadium, that football would pay its way here, but that has not been the case, he stated. Although we have a student attendance at the games of 5000 or more, the Spartans have never been able to fill the 18,000-seat arena.

"Our teams just don't attract a crowd," he commented. "There just doesn't seem to be a logical explanation."

"If it weren't for our big student body, we couldn't support a football team, at least not in the way that we're presently doing," he stated.

Dr. MacQuarrie gave his views on the idea that the college should go "major league" and play "big-time" football elevens.

"We've tried it. Dud DeGroot, (gridiron mentor in the '30s), thought we could go major league, but we never have," he said.

"If we knew the solution of trying to succeed as a national football power we would have exercised it," he added.

The president said that in an effort to go major league we have built a stadium, have had prominent coaches like DeGroot and Pop Warner, and have played football powers like Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons, Marquette, Brigham Young, Stanford, Santa Clara and Utah State.

Questioned if the college might make money in football as a member of a Bay Area independent league he stated, "It might pay its way then." He added, however, that he doesn't think there will be any such league formed. "I have heard such talk for all of 20 years, and nothing has ever been accomplished."

Bay Area sports writers have envisioned a conference composed of Santa Clara, St. Mary's, College of Pacific, San Francisco, San Jose, Nevada, Loyola and possibly Fresno State, Portland or San Francisco State. Three of these teams are now out of the grid picture: Nevada, St. Mary's and Portland have abandoned the sport.

Style Conscious Coeds Live in Fashion World

By JOANNE PRATT

San Jose State college has a fashion world of its own made up of many style-conscious coeds. A "Miss Fashion Plate" may be your best friend, a classmate or a girl you study with.

When a pert young coed came into her history class five minutes late recently, several students, male and female, looked up from their notes. No wonder! She wore a toast-colored cashmere sweater, definitely not the sloppy-joe type of 1946, accented with a dark brown scarf. Her skirt of soft brown corduroy hung trimly about her slim hips. Suede shoes, belt and bag in a cinnamon shade completed her attire.

A member of the male sex was absorbing coffee in the Coop and seemed rather disinterested until a blonde sat down next to him. He liked the grey wool jumper with shoulder buttoning she was wearing. The ribbed collar of her gold lamb's wool sweater silhouetted the neck-line of the jumper. The push-up sleeves of the sweater were quarter length with ribbed cuffs. Having finished her coffee, the attractive student hurried to class, leaving the young man with only a fleeting glance of her grey suede shoes.

A pleated wool jersey skirt and matching blouse in mint green were in order for one coed at an informal after-game party. Brown flats, with a junior heel, made dancing a real pleasure for her that evening as she was with a short date.

Another fashionable Spartan selected a navy blue straight skirt and a red and blue plaid weskit as separates for a casual coffee date. Two campus favorites, red leather shoes and a red shoulder-strap bag, complimented her dating wardrobe.

A dark-eyed coed recently appeared at a fraternity dinner-dance in a party dress of forest green velveteen with a scoop neck basque top, full skirt and tight push-up sleeves. An air of foreign charm was added to her appearance by a dainty pair of striking new French heel pumps.

"She won't be ready, I'll bet," thought Joe College when he rang the doorbell of the boarding house. When his date answered the door, she appeared most perfectly attired in a dusty-rose knit suit, ready for any dressy affair they might attend. Before leaving, Joe, like a real gentleman, helped his date into her black shorty coat.

Dietetics Profession Offers Interesting Job Opportunities

By JOANNE WILSON

"Dietetics as a profession offers opportunity for constructive and interesting employment to properly qualified college graduates."

This opinion was expressed recently by Dr. Margaret C. Jones, head of the Home Economics department, in answer to a query concerning the nutrition and dietetics courses offered by the college.

"Dietetics is a diversified field of work, concerned with food and nutrition, and such related activities as diet therapy, administration and management," she said. "Its first responsibility is the application of the science of nutrition to the problem of feeding people."

Dr. Jones pointed out that opportunities for dietitians have developed rapidly in the last few years. "They are employed by the United States Armed Services, the Veterans' Administration, hospitals of all classifications, college and university food services, nutrition laboratories, manufacturers of food products and of food service equipment, school lunchroom systems, public health and welfare agencies, restaurants, cafeterias and other competitive food services," she enumerated.

The Home Economics department offers two courses in dietetics, "Advance Nutrition and Dietetics" and "Diet Therapy," Dr. Jones added.

"Diet Therapy" is a class which involves special dietary problems, Dr. Jones explained. It is required of students planning to continue professional training through a fifth year of hospital dietetics internship.

Both dietetics courses, although required for dietetics majors, are open to all students interested in the field, Dr. Jones concluded. "Advanced Nutrition and Dietetics" is offered spring quarter.

Poor Housing in San Jose Affects Spartan Students

By BARBARA RILEY

Lack of proper housing, according to a request made by the college in 1947 to the state legislature, affects the health, education and morals of Spartan students.

Dormitory plans have been discussed and promoted by the college administration for many years, said President T. W. MacQuarrie when interviewed recently regarding dormitories.

According to the request, which was made by the head of the Housing office and the Administration, "responsibility of the college for the education of the student is the heart of the problem."

Students here relates the report, are living in "drafty attics, damp basements, and dirty overcrowded rooms with inadequate heat, light and ventilation."

"Lack of sufficient sanitary facilities and poorly cooked, unbalanced, irregular meals," are ruining the health of many students, continues the report.

Indifferent landlords, who allow drinking, gambling and other evils, are "all too common," it says. The protective influence of home is not provided for students.

To alleviate the situation, the report and survey recommended that two dormitories, one for 200 men and the other for 200 women, be erected.

On the master building plan of the college, Dr. MacQuarrie related provision has been made for two dorms, to be built on Ninth street. The land already has been purchased.

Shortly after the request was made in 1947, the California legislature voted an appropriation of $2,000,000 to pay for the construction of SJS dorms. The money was given to the State Board of Public Works.

Because of increased building costs, however, the money for the dorms is being used instead for the construction of the Music and Engineering buildings, Dr. MacQuarrie explained.

"The expensiveness of the dormitory project," said Dr. MacQuarrie, "keeps the state from appropriating any more money."

"Our dorms," Dr. MacQuarrie stated, "would cost about $23 per foot. State specifications are so rigid that some private colleges in California could build dormitories at one-half of this cost."

Dr. MacQuarrie explained to state officials that, "All we want is some place for our students to lay their heads."

In spite of this, the combination of the Field law on construction materials, the State Fire Marshal's requirements and the standards of the American architects' association combine to keep costs high.

With the housing problem growing worse rather than better (according to the report, "living accommodations are deteriorating and prices are being increased with less return to the student"), it would seem that college students at SJS should either figure out their own solutions or resign themselves to inadequate housing for a good many years.

Dr. Verhaaren to Teach New German Literature Course

The English department will offer a new course entitled "Masterpieces of German Literature in English Translation" next quarter, said Dr. Raymond Barry, English department head.

Dr. Theodore Verhaaren, who will teach the course, was born in Germany and lived there for 18 years. He teaches German and the German novel in the original language in the Modern Language department.

The course is designed to supplement the study of European literature and will emphasize the 17th and 18th century periods. The class will study works by such men as Luther and Goethe.

"Faust," by Goethe, is considered by some critics to be the greatest novel ever written, according to Dr. Hugh Gillis, Drama department head.

Dr. Verhaaren mentioned that he will compare the German literature, architecture, philosophy and music of the periods. Examples of music are scheduled to be played with the corresponding literature.

"The German language loses some of its flavor in English, but more and more excellent translations are being made," Dr. Verhaaren stated.

Other authors studied in the course will be Lessing, Klopstock, Herder, Wieland and Schiller. "These five men and Goethe form the backbone of the great period of German literature during the 18th century," said Dr. Verhaaren.

German literature grew to such proportions that at the latter part of the 18th century, it influenced literature throughout the world, said Dr. Verhaaren.

HERE and THERE

Edited by BILL WELDY

The answer to how much pressure a group of businessmen can place upon a police department may be discovered in Fayetteville, Ark., soon. It seems the Fayetteville gendarmes picked up a University of Arkansas student, held him in jail overnight and denied him the right to post bond.

As a result of the incident, the University of Arkansas student senate has decided to make an investigation of the affair. A three-man investigating committee has been appointed to delve into and expose conditions, termed "worse than flagrant," existing between U.A. students and the Fayetteville police department.

Election Woes at U.C.

During the recent University of California campus election, 2646 votes were cast by the 2353 registered voters. Due to the fact 293 extra votes were cast, Dick Clarke, U.C. student body president, announced that the election will have to be conducted once more.

A group of University of Arkansas students, listening to a droll chemistry lecture recently, were awakened suddenly when a relaxed scholar reached the climax of a nightmare. Students in the class were taking notes, listening to the professor, staring out the window and doing other things that lecture class students do when the interference intervened.

The scholar jumped up in his seat, clutched at the two fellows sitting next to him, and yelled, "Save me! Save me!" When questioned afterwards, the red-faced scholar admitted that it wasn't chemistry he was so concerned about. It seems he had dozed off and dreamed he was falling out of an airplane.

Professor Blasts Student Cheating

Berkeley (UP)—After several outraged students reported to him that some other students had been cheating in examinations, a University of California professor devoted one hour to lecturing his U.S. history class on cheating.

The professor, John D. Hicks, stated, "Several students came to me and reported the existence of cheating. However, I already was aware that cheating existed on this campus.

"It is hard to believe," he continued, "that a large percentage of the best young minds in the United States could turn out to be a bunch of cheats."

Coffee Makes News; Texans Use Sale of 'Java' for Charity

Coffee, one of the favorite beverages of college students, received mention in several college publications during the past week.

The Daily Texan reported that the price of coffee in the Longhorn grill (equivalent of the SJS coop) was raised from a nickel to a dime for one day. During this day each extra five cent piece taken in was turned over to the Campus Chest fund.

At Michigan State, the Wolverine state Spartans have had a habit of heating coffee spoons with matches and then bending the stirring tools. To counteract this form of recreation, the campus dinery has switched to wooden silverware.

When a gas leak developed in the University of Bridgeport's snack bar recently, one student remarked, "I knew that eventually the coffee would eat through the pipes."

The Detroit Collegian printed the following bit of conversation.

First Student: "Looks like rain today, doesn't it?"

Second Student: "Yes, but it smells like coffee."

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 30...THE SQUIRREL

This nimble-minded nutcracker almost tumbled for those tricky cigarette mildness tests. But he worked himself out of a tight spot when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness just can't be judged by a mere puff or one single sniff. Smokers everywhere have reached this conclusion—there's just one real way to prove the flavor and mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

Members of Kappa Kappa Gamma joined with Theta Chi fraternity Saturday afternoon to present their annual Christmas party for the children of the Brandon Guest Home.

This is the third year that the two organizations have sponsored a Christmas party for underprivileged children. About 45 children were greeted by Santa Claus (none other than jolly Dick Bondelei) who presented the gifts.

The sorority and fraternity members canvassed neighborhoods, knocking at doors and asking for discarded toys. They then repaired, painted, and wrapped the several hundred presents which lay under the Christmas trees decorated for the occasion.

Cartoon movies were shown to the children, and ice cream, cookies and punch were served. Both young and old joined in playing the games prepared for the party.

The Brandon Guest Home is a Red Feather service of the Community Chest and is under the direction of Major Hazel Hayward, Bob Kempe and Jill Nelson were co-chairmen for the affair.

McKenzie Wins Death Valley Poster Contest

Allan D. McKenzie, 21, a senior commercial art major from Pendleton, Ore., was voted the winner Thursday of the West Coast School of Nature Study's Death Valley poster contest, according to Dr. Gertrude W. Gavins, registrar and secretary of the school.

For his prize-winning entry, McKenzie will be awarded a free trip to Death Valley session, March 16-22.

Selection was made from 14 posters submitted by students in Miss Marian Moreland's 107A Commercial Art class.

Judges for the contest were Carl R. Hoffman, associate professor of journalism; Dr. Carl D. Duncan, head of the Natural Science department and permanent member of the WCSNS; and Dr. Cavins.

"The work of the class was outstanding," said Dr. Cavins. "Quality of all the posters was so high that we had a difficult time choosing the winner."

Purposes of the contest were to publicize the Death Valley trip and urge student participation in the week-long session. To keep students reminded of the desert trek, all contest posters will be posted

Ex-Homecoming Queen Becomes Air Stewardess

Former Homecoming Queen Patricia Burke now wears the silver wings of a United Airlines stewardess, according to a recent United Air Lines release.

Miss Burke, who was Homecoming queen in 1950, was graduated in June of 1951. She now serves on mainliners flying in and out of Chicago. Miss Burke received her stewardess' wings after five weeks of training at the company's school in Cheyenne, Wyo.

While at SJS, Miss Burke served on the Frosh council and was ASB secretary. She also was a member of Delta Gamma and Black Mask. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Burke of Hollister, Calif. Before entering SJS, she was graduated from Hollister high school.

Ski Club Will Go to Donner

More than 100 skiers of the San Jose State college Ski club will make the Christmas trip to Donner Summit Dec. 26 through 27, Bill Cancilla, president, said last week.

Cancilla urged all who have signed up for the trip to check the Ski club bulletin board in the Student Union to find out where reservations have been made for them. Most of the reservations originally made for the Cal Ski lodge were cancelled.

Cancilla said that there are many members who are anxious to make the trip, but that all reservations now are closed. Anyone who wishes to cancel his reservation should contact either Cancilla or John Bishop immediately.

One of the features of the excursion will be a "Fun Race" for novice skiers. Prizes of ski clothing and equipment will be awarded to winners.

"Snow conditions are excellent at Donner Summit," Cancilla stated. "There should be some exciting skiing for all who make the trip," he concluded.

First Ski club meeting of next quarter is scheduled for Jan. 8 in Room S112. Movies and instructions will be offered.

I.A. Projects Are Now Being Shown

Projects of two I.A. classes, Beginning Wood, and Activity Lab 117A, were put on exhibit Friday in B30, according to Angelo C. Centanni, instructor in industrial arts. The projects will be on exhibit until Wednesday.

Students in Beginning Wood are displaying such things as ash trays, coffee tables, tiny chairs, book cases, record players, milking stools and modernistic lamps.

Dioramas (scenic representations) and toys were selected by Activity Lab students for their projects. Included are such displays as "Desert Scene," "The Night Before Christmas," "Story Book Land," "Circus," "The Battle of Bunker Hill," "Our School Camp," "Wildlife Conservation," and "Wild West Town."

Blue Key Duke Says Pamphlet Is Invaluable

"An invaluable document for the socially conscious student," Bob Custer, Blue Key Duke, observed Friday when queried about the forthcoming Blue Key directory.

"The directory contains the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all students and faculty on the campus," Custer explained. "Such information compiled into one booklet is worth its weight in gold."

The directory will be on sale Wednesday and Thursday at booths located about the campus. Price: 35 cents.

"More than two thousand copies were sold last year," Custer said. "If there are any copies remaining after Wednesday and Thursday's sales, they will be available on registration day for the winter quarter."

Work on Engineering Building May Linger Behind Schedule

Construction on the new Engineering building currently is "up to date," but will fall way behind schedule if the State Department of Architecture doesn't immediately decide what to do about the sewer, water and gas lines on S. Eighth street, Joe Olson, job superintendent, said Friday.

No excavation work can be done on the wing of the structure, which will be located on S. Eighth street, until decision is reached, he added.

He said work on the west wing, which is facing on S. Seventh street, is going along smoothly. Work now is being done on the foundation and foundation walls, he stated.

Mr. Olson said that the structural steel for the new Engineering building is being processed in Oakland at the present time.

San Jose Trounces Utah State for 5th in Row

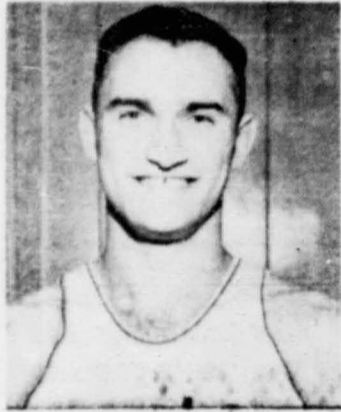

SJS Holds Off Ute Rally to Win, 59-54

By DICK RUTHERFORD

San Jose State got a scare before turning back a fast closing Utah State quintet, 59-54, Saturday night in the Men's gym.

In racking up their fifth straight win of the season, Coach Walt McPherson's cagers almost were beaten by a one-man Aggie rush in All-American Bert Cook. The versatile 6' 2" forward, who took over the post after the Utes' huge center, Bill Hull, had been sidelined late in the first half, proceeded to pour in 28 points, 21 in the second half, in a singlehanded effort to stem the tide.

The Utes narrowed it to 54-57 with two and a half minutes to go but George Clark, the big man on the boards, literally rammed a two pointer through the net to put the game out of danger.

After holding a 30-21 halftime lead, San Jose led by Clark and Elmer Craig, displayed their finest basketball of the season in a brief three minutes of the third period. Eleven points rattled in within that time to shoot the Spartans into a commanding 19 point advantage at 42-23, which proved too big a handicap, even for Cook, to overcome.

For the evening, Clark, turning in his best efforts of the season, garnered 17 points to follow Cook in the scoring parade. Mort Schorr, a demon floorman, was next with 12 for the Spartans. Also hitting double figures were Craig with 11, and Duane Baptiste with 10.

Literally speaking, San Jose State has boxed its way around the globe. In 17 years of intercollegiate competition, beginning with what could be termed the DeWitt Portal era in 1934, the Spartan boxing team has done enough traveling to circle the earth.

The highlight of San Jose State's meteoric rise to the top of the intercollegiate ring ranks occurred in October of 1939. This was the year Coach Portal's team was extended an invitation by the Japanese Boxing Federation to tour Japan.

It all started the previous year when Portal heard that the Japanese Boxing Federation was interested in promoting international bouts with American college teams. But, it was not until almost a year later that the dream became a reality.

On Oct. 3, 1939, a telegram was received from Ben Yahata, secretary of the Japanese federation, assuring Coach Portal that everything was in readiness to receive the San Jose State college boxing delegation. On the same day, President T. W. MacQuarrie issued a return telegram of acceptance.

The stage was set for the pre-invasion of Japan by the Spartan mittmen. The first international San Jose State representatives were named as follows: Bill Sellers, bantamweight; Conrad Lacy, featherweight; Charles Kerwin and Don Taylor, lightweight; and Jim Kincaid, welterweight.

The team accompanied by Portal sailed for Japan Oct. 12 on the longest single excursion of any San Jose athletic team. After a two week ocean voyage covering some 7000 miles they arrived in Japan.

Two matches were fought in Tokyo and then the team journeyed to Korea for one match with the Korean All-Stars. In their final appearance in Tokyo, the Spartans performed before a gathering of 30,000 people, which still stands as the largest crowd to witness an amateur boxing event.

Although failing to win a match while boxing to a pair of draws in four meets, the Spartans returned home on Dec. 12. The trip in all covered approximately 15,000 miles, spreading the merits of San Jose State boxing across half the world.

George Clark Halts Duggan

By BILL WELDY

Treating the great Kevin Duggan in a rude manner, the San Jose State cagers pulverized San Francisco State, 59-30, in Men's gym Friday night.

With George Clark turning in a sensational defensive performance, Duggan sunk a mere 10 points. Clark had plenty of help from several other Spartans. At times Duggan found himself guarded by three players. Fortunately, no other Gater was able to hit the hoop with any consistency. Clark scored 14 points.

Several new faces graced the Spartan lineup. Coach Walt McPherson was particularly pleased with the play of Center Stan Wacholz and Forward Glen Lovell. Wacholz played a good defensive game, snagging nearly every rebound that came his way. Lovell, also aided in the rebound department, and meshed four points on a set shot and a sensational hook toss.

Don Edwards played his top game to date as he paced the Spartans during the fourth quarter. Big Don hit for nine tallies. Reliable Duane Baptiste scored 11 points. Also scoring for SJS were Elmer Craig, 9; Jack Avina, 3; Lee Jensen, 3; Mort Schorr, 2; Bill Abbott, 2; and Wacholz, 2.

Craig, Avina and Schorr were bearcats on defense.

The score at halftime was 26-15 in favor of the Spartans.

Jayvees Keep Pace With Varsity Five In Sweeping Pair

Coach Bob Wuestoff's Spartan jayvee cagers swept a pair of week end games to keep pace with their undefeated varsity brothers.

The jayvees measured the SF State junior varsity Friday night, 59-44, for their fourth win and then came back the following evening to whip Monterey JC, 60-50, in their fifth victory in as many tries.

Forward Dick Brady sparked the Spartan juniors both games with 19 points against the Gaters and 21 digits in the Monterey tilt. Center Bub Hjelm was consistent with 11 markers each night.

Dee Portal Eyes Prospects For Varsity Boxing Squad

Every man out for varsity boxing at San Jose State is a potential first-stringer, according to Coach Dee Portal.

He offers this guarantee to all the boys he would like to have try out for the varsity boxing team. Portal has a lengthy list of boxers he would like to have out for the 1951-52 season.

The shrewd Spartan mentor has no less than 76 candidates in mind for varsity competition. Their names are listed on the bulletin board in the boxing room of the Men's gym.

No other college or university in the country can match SJS's practice of determining men for first-string varsity berths. Everybody gets a chance to box and go up the ladder here, with every boxer, be he novice, junior or veteran, rated potential first-string material. Challenge matches between boys in each division eventually determine who will be the top men.

The process of elimination for these first-string jobs comes to

PKAs, DUs Will Battle For Crown

Pikers Rare Up To Beat DSG, 13-0

With Pi Kappa Alpha acclaimed the champions of the inter-fraternity loop, the intramural football playoff between the PKAs and Delta Upsilon, independent titlists, will be played sometime this week, according to Bill Perry, intramural athletic director.

A definite date for the title play-off has not been decided as yet and Perry has requested the managers of both teams to report to the Men's gym today to decide on a suitable date and playing time. If a date is not decided upon the game will be postponed until after the holidays, Perry stated.

The two winners wound up their respective league schedules undefeated and untied. The PKAs had 11 victories, the DUs seven.

PKA sewed up the inter-fraternity league crown last Thursday with a 13 to 0 victory over Delta Sigma Gamma. The DUs had won the independent championship almost a month earlier and were idly waiting for the play-off struggle.

Following is the final standings in the inter-fraternity league as of last Thursday's results:

Pi Kappa Alpha	11	0	0
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	9	1	0
Delta Sigma Gamma	7	2	0
Theta Chi	5	2	0
Alpha Tau Omega	5	4	1
Sigma Nu	4	4	0
Sigma Pi	3	5	2
Phi Sigma Kappa	2	5	1

a peak on Jan. 10 and 11, the date of the All-College Tournament. Winners of bouts in this two-day stand will constitute the Spartan varsity team. Thereafter, the only changes in starting assignments will come from challenge matches.

The Olympics are next year, so all intercollegiate dual meets tournaments, the nationals and Olympic tryouts, will be contested at the ten Olympic weights. These weight divisions are: 112, 119, 125, 132, 139, 147, 156, 165, 178 and heavyweight. The regular intercollegiate weight divisions are: 125, 130, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175 and heavyweight.

Portal is quite happy over the addition of the two Olympic weights, 112 and 119. He thinks the change will offer a real opportunity for the little men, notably in these two brackets and also at 125.

The big problem now is condition. With the holidays coming on, his varsity candidates won't have much time to get in shape for the All-College Tourney which is just around the corner. The Spartans first dual meet is Jan. 18 against Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo. Then the sledding gets rough and rougher.

The space problem also is bothering Portal. The small gym where the boxers work out isn't adequate to accommodate the whole crowd of boxers, wrestlers, gymnasts and judoists. He hopes to find more room for his boxers.

Portal is negotiating for matches with strong service teams to add to his current slate of nine dual meets. The Spartans have two open dates on their boxing calendar. Plans are under way to book service foes on the same nights as some of the intercollegiate matches. This will give more men the chance to box competitively.

The current varsity has good men topping the 125, 130, 135, 145, 155 and 165 brackets. Portal is a little concerned over the 112, 119, 175 and heavyweight brackets, which are wide open.

Riflemen Outshoot Cal Aggies in Upset Victory

Firing the highest score that they have ever acquired in a conference match, the varsity rifle team upset the California Aggies by a score of 1381 to 1370 in Berkeley Thursday.

Despite predictions by local rifle enthusiasts that the Spartans would be defeated by at least 20 points, the locals came through with their first win over the Aggies since 1948.

Top men of the match were Aggie shooters Hall and G. West; both accumulated 282 points. Jack Raichart was tops for the Spartans with 281. Other high scoring SJS shooters were Walt Reinhardt, 276; Kay Tomlin, 276; Tom Willis, 276; and Bill Devine, 272.

The Spartans were surprised when they learned that one of the members of the opposing team was a girl. Miss Vernon finished among the top five Aggies with a score of 260.

The varsity squad's next match is against the University of California at the Spartans' rifle range on Thursday, Jan. 10. The Bear squad is undefeated in three conference matches with Stanford University, University of San Francisco, and, Thursday, University of Santa Clara.

In the three matches, the UC team has not fired less than a total score of 1400. Top Bear Shooter George Torus fired a high 291 Thursday to help his team defeat Santa Clara by a score of 1424.

Librarian Admits That 'Reading' Is Dull Work

By ORDEN ICHINAGA
 "Reading the shelves" is one of the most monotonous jobs in the librarian's work, in the opinion of Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian. This is the librarian's term for checking the bookshelves to make sure that all books are in their proper places. The time-consuming work is done, of course, for the benefit of students who have to find a certain book in a hurry.

Miss Backus recently calculated the time required to "read" all the shelves in the Library. She found the normal checking speed was 100 books every six minutes. Multiplying by 10 made it 1000 books per hour. Since the Library contains a total of 130,000 books, dividing by 1000 gives the total time required—130 hours.

A full-time librarian works eight hours a day. In other words, it takes a full-time librarian 16 days to straighten out all the books in the Library.

This is but a theoretical estimate, however, as the factors of fatigue induced by eyestrain moving from one floor to another and voluntary rest periods, are not taken into account.

In the past, the shelves were "read" once a week. All members of the Library staff did this work in their spare time. But it began

Aussie Team Will Debate Here Jan. 7

Two Australian students will be on campus Monday, Jan. 7, to debate with SJS students on the question, "Resolved: That the Intolerant Should be Tolerated," Wilbur F. Luick, director of forensics, announced recently.

The Australians, from the universities of Adelaide and Melbourne, will take the affirmative side of the resolution. The debate will be presented in Morris Dailey auditorium at either the 10:30 or 11:30 a.m. hour, according to Mr. Luick.

John F. Mix, graduate student in the general secondary education field, has been selected for the Spartan team. The other member will be chosen later, said Mr. Luick.

"This is the first time since World War II that a debate between students of different nations has taken place," Mr. Luick related. "We may reciprocate by sending our students to Australia this summer."

Trial debates with teams of other colleges will determine who will make the trip, he said.

The Australia-SJS debate is part of the program conducted by the Institute of International Education, which sponsors the exchange of students from various nations. Arrangements were made by Dr. William H. Poytress, head of the Social Science department and chairman of the college lecture committee.

Choral Ensemble Choir Has Party

The Choral Ensemble choir, which recently presented the "Messiah," held its first annual Christmas party Thursday night in the Women's gym, according to Gus Lease, choir director.

The party was held "in celebration of everyone passing the course," remarked Dr. Lyle Downey, head of the Music department.

Wording of the invitations described it as a "Chili" party with entertainment and dancing. Ginger Schroeder, Denny Patrick and Marilyn Willems were in charge of food for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Foote chaperoned the affair.

The Choral Ensemble had 258 members this quarter. Lease mentioned that he would like to have even more people sign-up for it next quarter. "Try-outs are not necessary," he specified.

Establish New Journalism Scholarship

Fresno, Calif., Dec. 14 (UP)—Fresno State college announced today that a $400 journalism scholarship award fund has been established in memory of Stanley Beaubaire, the late co-publisher of the Hanford Sentinel-Journal.

The grant was made by his father and present publisher of the newspaper, Samuel Beaubaire, and will be known as the Stanley Beaubaire Memorial fund.

Paul V. Sheehan, chairman of the Journalism department, said it will provide two $200 scholarships for outstanding high school graduates planning to major in journalism at FSC. Preference will be given to Kings county students.

Beaubaire was killed in 1949 when his plane crashed 20 miles northeast of Bakersfield while he was en route alone from Hanford to Burbank.

Foreman Expects Completion Of SJS Chapel in Three Months

"If there is no further delay, the Memorial Chapel should be completed in about three months," Fred Zeissler, foreman for Oscar W. Meyer, San Jose contractor, announced Friday.

The construction of the campus building is somewhat behind "our" schedule, he added, although there is no definite time limit.

Rain has held up the work on the Chapel for three weeks and the trusses are a month late in arriving, he stated. Mr. Zeissler is expecting the trusses to arrive from Los Angeles at any time. Trusses are "arched bracing for the building," he commented.
