

Spartan Daily March Commencement Goes Formal This Year

SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE

Vol 41 SAN JOSE, CALIF., THURSDAY, JAN. 15, 1953 No. 68

Russo Calls for Unity

Dick Russo, who directed the student petition on closing Seventh street, recommended to the Student Council yesterday that a liaison committee between the students and administration to promote closer action in the future, be appointed.

"This incident should show what the students and faculty can accomplish by working together, so why not take this opportunity to get student representation in some of the more important issues concerning the college?" Russo proposed.

In addition to the petition, with 2300 student signatures, a survey of the Seventh street area residents is now being conducted.

March graduates will have a formal graduation ceremony for the first time in more than 25 years, Dean James C. DeVoss, commencement committee chairman, said yesterday.

Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president of the college, is to be the speaker, Dean DeVoss said. Dr. Lyle Downey, professor of music, will prepare the music.

Ceremonies will be held in Morris Dailey auditorium at 3:30 p.m.

on March 12. Approximately 140 students are to receive degrees.

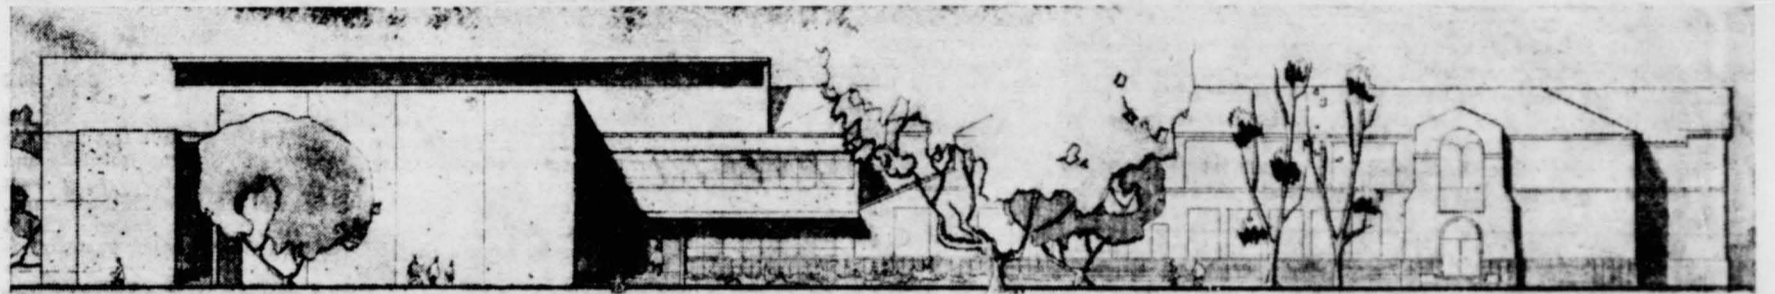

No formal mid-year graduation ceremonies have been held since the 1920's, Dean DeVoss stated.

"Formal ceremonies are to be held this quarter because many persons have felt that diplomas should be presented in a more dignified atmosphere than has characterized the teas and banquets in which mid-year diplomas have been presented in the past," Dean DeVoss said.

"This is not a criticism of the Senior Banquet," he said. "The banquet is scheduled to be held as usual."

Caps and gowns will not be worn by the faculty or the students, unless some later change is made, Dean DeVoss disclosed.

The answer to the question of holding future mid-year graduation ceremonies will be based upon the reception the students, faculty, and guests give this year's commencement, Dean DeVoss said.

Reason Shown For Revelries Support Vote

Tom Evans, ASB president, yesterday released the letter which prompted Revelries board to ask for an official vote of confidence from President John T. Wahlquist.

The letter, written to Evans by Ted Balgooyen, Revelries faculty adviser, warned the board that if certain conditions were not followed it would be necessary to halt all work on the show.

Balgooyen asked that each of the 13 board members fulfill their obligations; that each member read the script and present to the board his written approval or disapproval; and that the speak-easy setting be approved.

At present, five of the 13 board members have read and approved the script, Balgooyen reported.

He praised the members for the manner in which they conducted themselves before the administration. He also expressed hope that they will continue to take an interest in the progress of the show, so that students, the administration and the general public may be proud of "Hey Mac."

Printers Hear Talk Tonight

Dr. Dwight Bentel, journalism department head, will be the main speaker at an industry-wide dinner tonight, highlighting the observance of International Printing week.

More than 300 representatives from the printing and related industries are expected to attend the Hawaiian Gardens dinner.

Wintermist Dance May Have Whiting, Courtney As Stars

Margaret Whiting, singing with the Del Courtney band, appears as the most likely prospect for the Wintermist dance, according to Del Bowles, Social Affairs committee chairman.

Bowles' committee was granted a $100 addition to its budget by the Student Council at its meeting yesterday. A motion is pending to grant a further $900 to the committee, in view of increased costs, and additional functions assumed by the body this year.

Bill Eckert was appointed 1953 director of Freshman Camp by the council. Two assistant directors will be appointed at next week's council meeting, along with three representatives-at-large.

New SJS Building if $4,500,000 Budget Passes

The above modern building will be part of the campus in the near future if the $4,500,000 budgeted to the college by Gov. Earl Warren is passed by the State Legislature.

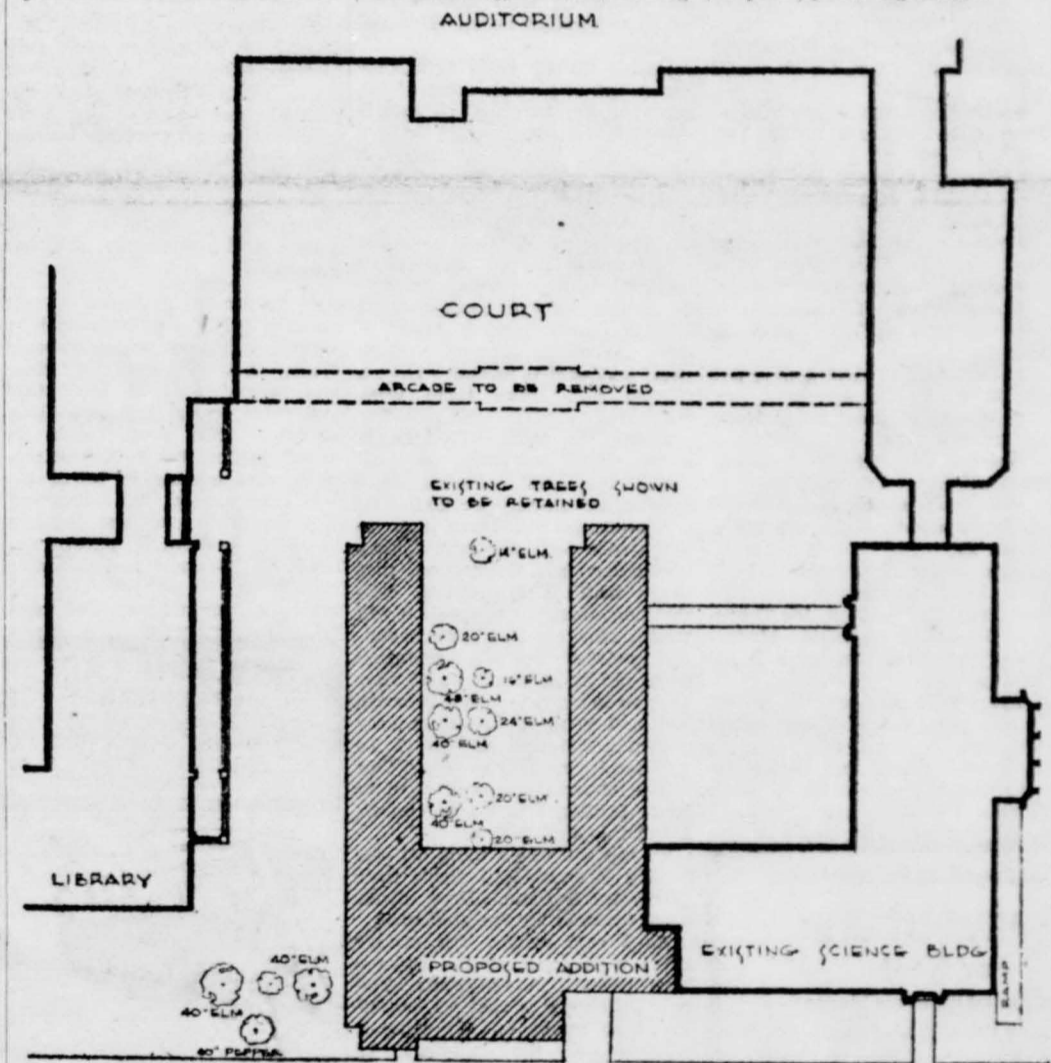

An addition to the present Science building, the three-story structure is one of three planned to be erected here. It would cost $1,783,000 and contain $454,615 worth of equipment. The building, as shown, fronts on Fourth street and extends into the present approach to the Outer Quad as shown in the plan below.

A Library addition, costing $1,350,000, and an addition to the Men's gymnasium, costing $618,000, also are included in the budget. Pictures of these two buildings will appear in tomorrow's Spartan Daily.

President John T. Wahlquist said yesterday that officials in Sacramento have advised him the chances are good that the governor's budget will be accepted by the legislature.

Poll Residents On Fate of S. Seventh St.

A survey is scheduled to be conducted Saturday among residents of the area around S. Seventh street to determine their feelings on the fate of the street. The survey is subject to administrative approval.

Four alternatives will be listed on the questionnaire, according to Dick Russo, chairman of the student committee handling the Seventh street controversy.

One alternative is the blocking of all traffic on Seventh street between San Carlos and San Fernando streets. The San Antonio street entrance to Seventh street would be left open to allow the use of the street for parking.

Another proposal is that over or under ground crossings be constructed for pedestrians. The third alternative listed is that signals be installed at the corners of San Carlos, San Antonio and San Fernando streets. The last proposal is that the street be left as is.

Flu Shots Today

Flu shots will be given today from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to all regular students and college employees who buy shot cards, according to Miss Margaret Twombly, Health department head.

All shots will be given in the Health office. The flu shot cards may be purchased today in the Graduate Manager's office for 60 cents.

Acting Class Plans Play Performance Friday Evening

The college's advanced acting class will present its actors' studio production of Henrik Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" on Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in Room 53.

The play is set in Norway. It deals with a man, who beset by inner conflict, settles matters by going "round about."

Cast members include: Joe Lo Bue as Peer Gynt; Patricia Coyle, Aase; Barbara Remelmeyer, Kari; Clyde Allen, the steward; Gerald Charlebois, Aslak; Lewis Campbell, the bridegroom; James Wright, bridegroom's father; Yvonne Cadwallader, Solveig; Mary Campbell, Helga; John Rodriguez, father to Solveig and Helga; Eleanore Floor, Ingrid; Virginia Grattan, the woman in green.

Admission is 30 cents. Tickets are on sale in the speech office.

Dance Lessons Head Co-Rec Get-Together

Charleston lessons will be featured at the Co-Rec get-together tonight in the Women's gym from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

The lessons will be given from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, and will be followed by social dancing. Also included in tonight's program will be volleyball, badminton, and table tennis, according to Bobbie Hoepner and Norm Hirschmann, co-chairmen of Co-Rec.

Admission is free with student body cards.

Bills Ask Tax Increase, Bonds for Vital Roads

SACRAMENTO (UP) — Sen. Randolph Collier (R-Yreka) introduced bills yesterday calling for a one and one-half cent gas tax increase and a $1,000,000,000 bond issue to finance construction of strategic highways.

One bill of Collier's would call for the gas tax boost and a corresponding increase of 33 1/3 per cent in all motor vehicle users fees.

Educators in Stern Rebuke
WASHINGTON (UP) — A group of educators issued a stern rebuke yesterday to those Americans who have called on U.S. schools to boycott the study of the United Nations.

The Educational Policies commission of the National Educational Association and American Association of School Administrators said public schools have a duty to teach the "facts" about the UN.

Korean Casualties Now 128,721

WASHINGTON (UP) — American battle casualties in Korea now total 128,721, an increase of 191 over last week's report, the Defense department said.

Revelries Decision

The recent decision regarding Spartan Revelries is a good example of democracy on the campus level and should portend better things for the college.

There was doubt in some minds that the present script of Revelries would be acceptable to the administration. Tom Evans, ASB president went to President John T. Wahlquist and frankly told him of this attitude.

As things turned out, these doubts apparently were unfounded. President Wahlquist expressed his confidence in the Revelries advisory board and stressed his belief in student responsibility. In other words he is not going to be the rigid censor that some persons seemed to imagine.

He has placed responsibility for the show on the students and their advisers. We think that this would indicate an over-all policy on student affairs.

Professors Search For Building Ideas

Five natural science professors will travel to San Francisco State college Friday morning to visit the new science building there. The purpose of the visit is to get ideas and suggestions for science building additions soon to be constructed on this campus.

Those making the trip are: Dr. Carl D. Duncan, head of the natural science department; Dr. Gertrude Cavins, professor of chemistry and science education; Dr. Benjamin F. Naylor, professor of chemistry; Dr. Albert F. Ellis, assistant professor of physiology; and Robert H. Patterson, instructor in bacteriology.

All CSEA members interested in the formation of a local credit union are invited by Mark Wyman to attend a meeting at the department of employment, 96 Santa Teresa, today at 5:15 o'clock.

THRUST and PARRY

More Temptations

Thrust and Parry,
Dear Sirs:

As a member of the student body of this fine (?) institution, I am greatly disturbed to find that the things I had left behind when I left high school are so very prevalent here. In every class we are reminded that we are college students now, and, as such, we should spend our time diligently trying to get an education. It is hammered at us that we should eat, sleep, study, and behave as college students at all times. May I ask, "How are we to do this when the administration still thinks we are high school students?"

We are told to examine all the facts and teachings of history and form our opinions. We are told to observe that which takes place about us and learn to judge. We are told to judge. We are told to absorb the meaning of the actions and incidents that occur, and from them learn the "why and wherefore" of life. May I ask, "How are we to do this when we can't even ascertain all the facts — through no fault of our own?"

Without committing myself too deeply, I would like to say that it certainly seems that the right of censure is overworked by the administration of this great and glorious institution of higher learning. I realize that the administration, which is entrusted with our well-being and moral upbringing, must eliminate any and all activities that might taint our dainty and pure little minds.

"Joe Sent Me?" Of course not. We can't allow our students to play gambling with play money. Someone might be an habitual gambler!

Spartan Gras? Gads and gad-zooks, can it be that some of the students are imbibers of intoxicants? Never let it be said that we at SJS are allowing our students to become winos! Eliminate it.

How about the pushcart relays? Aren't you afraid that some of our boys and girls will become exhibitionists if you allow them to dash about in public clad only in bathing suits or track trunks? I think that something should be done immediately to save these poor, uneducated juveniles from a wasted life. Make them wear longies!

Here's the point. The attitude of the administration seems to be that if they remove all chance of making an unwise decision, then the students will know how to make wise decisions only. If they ignore or ban everything that might instill temptation or evil-thinking, then the temptation will vanish. How can you learn to control yourself against temptation when you haven't run into it? How are you to learn to decide between evil and good if you have only known and tasted the good? To increase the number of people that attend church, you only have to make it illegal to go to church. Could this apply?

To top the whole thing off, the faculty is squawking about their academic freedom. How about some freedom for the students?

As I said before, this college rates with some of the stricter high schools in the state. The only difference is that we are allowed to smoke on the campus. (Outside of the buildings, of course).

Three Cheers,

started," it seems that the powers that be must have a closer look to see if it is immoral or detrimental to our school's good name.

However, if this is the case, why stop with the Revelries? Let's carry the investigation into the Greek societies. It is quite evident to anyone not deaf or blind that said organizations encourage the consumption of alcoholic beverages by under age students in an effort to win their choice when they select their affiliation. This is not only immoral, but it violates laws and contributes to the delinquency of minors. Is this necessary in education?

This situation can be corrected. There are two alternatives: first, and simplest—outlaw the Greeks! The second is merely to outlaw Greek organizations to all minor students.

Some of the carryings-on which have come to our attention are beyond the realm of decency and cannot be printed here. However, the present day Greek make Sappho look like a piker.

How about it, powers that be?

What Is Education?

Dear Thrust and Parry:
Education is more than a tool to dig out a niche or rut in life. The liberal arts may not be so effective as a means to dollar and cents but all of us do not think solely in terms of money. If 100 per cent Americanism is to be confined exclusively to those who are materially successful then we are sadly short of real Americans.

The Honorable Joseph McCarthy, formulator of that new interpretation of Americanism called "McCarthyism," has appointed himself as the judge of the qualifications of American citizenship. Fortunately, McCarthy is not yet the recognized arbiter of Americanism. We still retain the prerogative of pursuing "foreign ideas" and exercising personal judgment.

If we persist in supporting our national political philosophy, it is because it appeals to our personal reason—not because of the edicts and intimidations of McCarthys and demagogues. Education is a study of the accumulation of knowledge of the ages. The mature mind is able to select the best from all that has transpired. If Americanism is best it must be so by test, not by putting our heads in the sand and assuming it to be so.

Ring Tournament Here Tomorrow

An intercollegiate version of the novice boxing tournament presented here last month will be held in the Men's gym tomorrow night, with the first bouts scheduled to begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Stanford university has not yet submitted a list of entrants for the tourney, begun last year by Coach Dee Portal as a device for enabling inexperienced boxers to acquire ring "savvy." California and Santa Clara have sent a list of glovemen who will compete, to Chuck Adkins, acting coach of the Raider squad.

Tentative Bouts

Although the official matchings have yet to be made, Adkins has listed the following tentative meets:

Dick Londahl of Cal will meet Sparta's Jim Lung in the 139 lb. battle; David Van Etten, S.C., vs. John Freitas, 149 lb.; Skip Hensen, Cal., meets Joe Rodriguez of SJS, 132 lb.; Clarence Champlin, Cal., vs. Rod Etheridge, SJS, 143 lb.; Klavs Mortimer, Cal., boxes Jack Montgomery, SJS, 147 lb.; Ron Yanez, SJS, vs. Bob Shopes, S.C., 147 lbs.; Duane Fiorini, SJS, vs. Max Voshall, S.C., 156 lbs.; Ed Conny, S.C., vs. Al Nethercutt, 165 lb.; Pepi Salazar, S.C., vs. Sal Tedesco, S.C., 175 lbs.

These bouts are subject to change, Adkins said, but many of the pairings may remain the same.

The tournament is limited to boxers whose experience does not go beyond instructional or intramural competition within the college. Chief purpose of the tournament is to give ring experience.

Hope for Expansion

Portal initiated the tournament last year, in hopes that it would expand, as did his own program of boxing here.

Should teams from other schools develop interest in the tourney equal to that of the Spartans', it could develop into a large-size edition of the successful San Jose Novice event, with rooting sections wearing the full colors of their respective schools.

Cagers Engage Pepperdine in Saturday Tilt

Sparta's basketball team, unable to find the victory path in league play, will battle the Pepperdine Waves Saturday night in a non-league contest in the Men's gym. Game time is set for 8:15 o'clock.

But this will be no breather for the McPhersonmen, as Pepperdine has eight victories and only three defeats this season. Dick Alvord, the southern school's leading scorer until a recent injury caused him to take a rest, probably will be out of action.

The Raider cagers still are smarting from the 65-47 licking handed them by the Santa Clara Broncos Tuesday night. It was the second time this season that SJS had been defeated by their cross-town rivals.

The Spartans will resume CBA play when they meet St. Mary's Gaels on the latter's court Tuesday night.

Matmen Defend Title Saturday

Spartan wrestlers will trek to Berkeley Saturday night to defend the junior PAAU championship title they won last year.

Coach Hugh Mumby expects to enter a group of top wrestlers in an effort to retain the championship. He will announce his team tomorrow.

Upsets Featured in Initial Intramural Basketball Play

Intramural basketball got under way in the Men's gym last night with Sigma Pi upsetting Lambda Chi Alpha, defending IFC champ, 20-16, Delta Upsilon routing Theta Xi 44-15, the Music department waxing the Fizzles 60-44 and the Cowboys roping the Beaux 25-22.

Bill Tunnell paced Sigma Pi with 6 points, while Ken Mitchell tallied 5 for the losers, Lee Lagamour poured through 12 points for Delta Upsilon, while Bob Allen tallied 8 for Theta Xi.

Outstanding performances, however, were turned in in the Independent league, three men scoring over 20 points. Dave Boggini of the Fizzles scored 24 points, while Bloom and Saul Estrada scored 23 and 20, respectively, for the Music department.

John Freitas scored 8 in pacing the Cowboys to their win.

WAA Activities

Are you interested in swimming?

There still is time to join the Swim club, which practices Mondays at 4:30 p.m. The girls are practicing free-style, diving, and form swimming. They are also organizing a water ballet, which will be presented to the San Jose area high schools in the spring quarter.

Anyone wishing to volunteer her services should contact Nita Ruck or Mrs. Helen Cooperider in the Women's gym.

Mental Hygiene Course Approved by Officials

Plans for a new program in mental hygiene were approved Monday by Dr. James Enochs, specialist in state college curricula, Miss Pauline Davis, Nursing and Education department head said yesterday.

The new program, designed to train people to care for mental patients, is the first of its kind.

The approval was given when Dr. Enochs and Mrs. Katharine Steele, director of nursing services of the state department of mental hygiene, met with representatives of the college at Agnew State hospital. The group conferred for three hours with hospital officials.

Dr. Enochs gave his consent to include the program in the college catalog. It will be listed under psychiatric technology, department of nursing and education. It should be open to students next fall.

"As far back as 1945, mental hospitals have been urging us to include an A.B. program for psychiatric technicians," Miss Davis said. "There are nearly 6000 people in this field in California alone with no plan of study, and our new program is prepared to recognize this group and offer them degrees."

Attending the Agnew meeting from the college were: Miss Davis; Dr. Carl D. Duncan, head of the Science department; Dean Fred F. Harclerod; President John T. Wahlquist; and Lowell Pratt, college publicity director.

Agnew officials Dr. Walter Rapaport, medical director, Dr. R. P. Quirnbach, director of clinical services, and Mrs. Agnes Elmer, superintendent of nursing services, told the group of the psychiatric technician problem at Agnew.

Teaching Jobs Now Available

Miss Doris K. Robinson, director of teacher placement, reports that she has received a number of requests for teachers to fill positions available in February and at the beginning of the fall term.

The Darwin elementary school district will need two elementary grade teachers for the '53-'54 school year. Darwin is a mining community 40 miles east of Lone Pine. The school has an enrollment of about 65 children. A young man and wife are preferred for the positions, but two single girls will be considered, the communique stated.

Student Teachers May Obtain Loans On Basis of Need

Two service organizations have made available funds to be used as loans to teaching candidates engaged in student teaching, according to Dr. Edward Clements, personnel counselor.

The Beverly-Burbank Rotary club and the Rueda club have provided the money, Dr. Clements said.

Loans will be made on the basis of need. No interest will be charged.

Teaching candidates doing their student teaching during the winter quarter preceding graduation will have nine months to repay the loan. If the student teaching is done during the spring quarter preceding graduation, the student will have six months to repay the borrowed sum.

'Doll' Contest Is Subject of Cal Meeting

Representatives from the Sophomore council will travel to the University of California Saturday to discuss plans for a Sophomore Doll contest.

The contest will determine, from entries by various colleges in the state, the doll of sophomore classes. Life magazine is expected to cover the event, Tom Brown, sophomore president, reported.

Attending the Berkeley meeting will be Brown, Shunji Ito, Sue Fuller and Sara Cozad. If San Jose State college takes part in the contest, local judges will be selected to choose an entry, Brown said.

At the Monday council session, Art Lund was appointed sophomore chairman for the Sophomore-Junior council party, Mar. 6. The party will have a "crazy hat" theme and is tentatively set to be held at a council member's home.

Sara Cozad was elected by the council to serve as sophomore representative until the next student body election.

Movie on Today

Big Classes Bring New Instructor

James Lee Gilmore has been added to the college faculty because of increased enrollment in psychology classes, announced Dr. Charles W. Telford, Psychology department head.

Mr. Gilmore, who received his bachelor degree at Willamette university in Salem, Oregon, recently completed his doctorate work at Stanford and currently is writing a thesis. He also attended the University of Oregon.

The new faculty member has two year's teaching experience and will serve as instructor of psychology at the college.

Mosher Will Speak At Arts Meeting

Dr. Raymond M. Mosher, dean of educational services, will discuss the problems of college accreditation at the semi-annual meeting of the Western College Art association, to be held tomorrow and Friday in the Saint Claire hotel.

San Jose State college is host to the organization, which is composed of art department heads from colleges and universities of seven western states, according to Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, college Art department head.

Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president, will greet the group at noon Friday, Dr. Reitzel said.
