Wintermist Is Abolished; Big Day in Council

Wintermist is gone!

In a session which lasted more than seven hours, the Student Council yesterday abolished the winter quarter semi-formal and replaced it with a Coronation Ball, which will honor the Homecoming Queen yearly. The remaining three performances of "Under the Gaslight," are sold out, according to Mrs. Virginia Vogel, Speech and Drama department ticket manager.

The melodrama will run tonight through Saturday. It has played to standing room audiences since it opened May 29, Mrs. Vogel said.

Majorette Tryouts

Tryouts for a drum majorette will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, according to Chuck Wing, chairman of the Rally committee.

Interested girls are asked to appear in the Student Union at that time. Head majorette Norma Lieftrink will select the new majorette, Wing said.

David Elam and Robert Cline will guide the Spartan Daily through the fall quarter as editor and business manager respectively.

Their official appointment was made yesterday by the Student Council as it convened for its last meeting of the year. Acting upon the recommendations of the college Journalism department the council also appointed co-editors for the 1953-54 La Torre, and co-editors and a business manager for the fall quarter Lyke, campus feature magazine.

Lower Voting Age Defeated

SACRAMENTO (UP)—A proposal to lower the voting age to 18 was killed Tuesday night by the Assembly committee on constitutional amendments.

Truce Session
SEOUL, Korea (UP)—United Nations and Communist delegates were to meet at Panmunjom yesterday in a truce session which well informed sources believe may be decisive.

Sports Car Race
CHICAGO (UP)—Ben Harris, chairman of the Sports Car club of America said yesterday the "largest sports car race" in the U.S. would be held on the runways at Chanute Air Force base, June 14.

Harris said between 166 and 170 drivers were entered in the race.

Fall Campus Projects

Bucky Levin, new IFC president, is formulating plans he will attempt to put into effect when the IFC council meets in September.

In an interview yesterday, Levin disclosed that his first endeavor will be the setting up of some kind of recognition for council members.

"This will be accomplished by the wearing of a key to show that a man did engage in council activities," he said.

"We also intend to bring back the 'All Greek Show' with a supervisory board to look over the various plays before the night of the showing," he said.

Long lost Spardi Gras also will be one of the projects taken up by the IFC, Levin added.

"We will try to initiate a Spardi Gras with an educational theme that would have every department in the college participating along with the students. We know the administration will

La Torre will be Roger Flannagan, commercial art major from Redwood City, and Frances Rabanus, education major from Coalinga, Cal. Both have served in editorial capacities for the 1952-53 La Torre, Flannagan as art editor and Rabanus in charge of organizations.

Muriel Voight, a commercial art major from Killinsworth, Cal., and Duane Fiorini, sophomore public relations major from Mountain View, will direct the production of next quarter's Lyke magazine, while Richard Shaffar, psychology major, newly appointed business manager, will handle its business affairs.

Eckert To Aid In Reducing Theater Cost

ASB Vice President Bill Eckert was appointed by the Student Council yesterday to work with San Jose theater managers this summer so the college-sponsored plan for reduced ticket rates will be in operation by fall quarter.

Last week, three first run theaters, the U.A., the Studio, and the California agreed to reduced student rates for next year. Under this rate system, the student would purchase a theater identification card every quarter in the Graduate Manager's office.

Half of the proceeds would go to the student body and the other half to the theaters for printing costs. On presenting this card at the box office, the student would have 20 cents deducted from the standard ticket price.

Charles R. Helm, manager of the United Artist theater, yesterday said, "As soon as information comes from the college letting us know who is going to be responsible for the movie cards, we will take the movie rate proposal up with the movie exchanges. I am certain they will agree to the plan."

With Eckert's aid, the plan could be effective this fall. "Our companies agree to the plan," Helm said. "All that needs to be done now is to get the movie exchanges to agree. Our companies are optimistic that they will."

Dick Russo Quits; Council Votes No On Court Jackets

Members of the Student Court will not get jackets next year, the Student Council decided yesterday.

Sophomore Vern Terry was appointed temporary chairman of the Social Affairs committee.

Ted Faley, present Spartan Daily editor, was appointed representative-at-large to the Awards committee.

McFadden Health Cottage, busier than it has been for several years, was granted a budget addition of $300 to pay current bills.

Resignation of Dick Russo, Student Court prosecutor, was accepted. Since the school year is ending, no one was appointed to replace him.

Spring sports awards were presented to the council by the P.E. department, and approved.

Dave Caldwell was appointed Production Manager for next year's Revelries.

Members of the Lecture committee who were authorized to work with Dr. John T. Wahlquist are Joan Winterbotham, Barbara Rouch, Dave Doerr and Bill Kennedy.

A Community Service Council was approved, also. It will coordinate Red Cross activities, Campus Chest and World University Service.

The Student Council voted to buy blazers and jackets for council members who don't already have them. Two Rally committee members also were voted jackets. Members of both of these groups who already possess jackets were voted membership in the Alumni Association for a period of time to correspond with the price of a jacket.

Mr. Milton Lanyon, acting head of the Art department, was appointed faculty member of the Awards committee.

Use of ASB public address equipment off-campus will be at the discretion of the Student Union building director, the council decided.

Engineering Head Wins '53 Contest

Dr. Ralph J. Smith, head of the Engineering department, is the winner of the 1953 contest of the Pacific, Southwest section of the American Society for Engineering Education. Finalists in the contest, which was limited to young engineering teachers, included Dr. Smith and representatives from UCLA and the University of California.

Dr. Smith's winning paper was entitled, "Education for the Engineering Spectrum," and was based on the philosophy of engineering education as developed at San Jose State.

The most recent step in the development of the SJS engineering program is the completion of the new Engineering building, into which the department is now moving.

At the ceremony the senior cadets will turn over the battalion to the junior cadet class. After this, the graduating seniors will sit in the reviewing stand with the invited guests and a parade will be held in their honor, stated Capt. Donovan.

The Military Police statuette will be awarded to the outstanding graduating senior cadet of the year. Capt. Donovan said that the cadet's name will not be released until the ceremony.

Col. James J. Hea, former Army ROTC head, is expected to be present at the review. It will be his last ROTC drill before retirement in July, disclosed Capt. Donovan.

Guests invited to the review are President John T. Wahlquist, Dean James C. DeVoss, Dean Fred F. Harclerod, Dean Joe H. West, and Dean Stanley C. Benz.

The cadet staff for next year will not be selected until after the AROTC summer camp and fall registration.

IFC Stages Swim Meet

The first annual IFC swimming meet will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the men's pool, according to Bucky Levin, IFC president.

"Judges for the meet will be varsity swimmers, and although points will not be given for the large IFC trophy, a small trophy will be awarded," he said.

Events include: 50-yard freestyle event, 50-yard novelty race, 50-yard breast stroke and a 50-yard back stroke event.

These will be followed by relays in each of the above categories.

"The relay events will have each man wearing swimming trunks and a sweatshirt. Before a swimmer can continue the race, he must put on the sweatshirt worn by his teammate," he said.

Also to be included in the meet is a comedy diving act and diving competition among the fraternities.

'Twelfth Night' Begins Fall Plays

John C. Kerr, associate professor of drama, will direct the opening production of the 1953-54 drama season, according to Dr. Hugh Gillis, head of the speech and drama department.

Kerr will lead off the season with William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," Oct. 23-24 and 29-31. He directed the highly-successful closing production of this season, "Under the Gaslight."

Miss Elizabeth Loeffler, assistant professor of drama, will direct the second production, "The Winslow Boy," opening Dec. 4.

During winter quarter Dr. James Clancy, professor of drama, will direct Ben Johnson's "Volpone" and Kerr will produce "The Affairs of Anatol."

Miss Loeffler will open the spring quarter with "Hedda Gabler." A production of "The Theban Trilogy," directed by Dr. Clancy, will end the season.

Librarian Joins Scholastic Group

Gail Shields, library staff member, will be initiated into Phi Beta Kappa this weekend, according to Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian. Miss Shields was a student here for two years before transferring to Stanford to graduate with a major in archeology.

Thrust and Parry

Scrap Book Theft

Dear Thrust and Parry,
Attention: "H.H. and B.E."

This letter has been written to give you the type of attention and recognition you seem to crave. For some reason, known only to yourselves, you have taken the social scrap book from our house.

We heartily applaud your daring burglary — eat 'em up bravo! (nothing); but we are sorely disappointed in your very bad taste in things to steal (Robert E. Lee's picture or the Confederate flag would have been very much more Greek, don't you think?).

But if we consider the theft in bad taste, the retaining of the scrap book through a socially busy quarter reaches an all time low for a no-taste group. The possible reasons for keeping it has been left to our conjecture. But from the adolescent coquettishness of the postcard you have written (very poor doggerel, mind you) we realize the age you are going through and warped sense of humor that must go with it. So could you crazy, mixed up kids kindly send it back before the school year ends? Honestly, there are no more parties, or else we would invite you, really we would. It would be appreciated.

Sincerely,
THE BROTHERS OF

La Torres Go

There are now only 62 copies of La Torre left unsold, John Tillotson, La Torre business manager, has announced. As soon as these are gone the 128 books which are held by a $2 deposit will be sold. The $3 balance on these books must be paid in the Graduate Manager's office tomorrow.

Alumni Hear 'Future' Talk

An anticipated 350 to 400 alumni will hear President John T. Wahlquist speak on "The College Faces the Future" at the annual steak barbecue on Homecoming day, June 6, Peggy Major, alumni secretary, has announced.

About 250 reservations for the luncheon have been received by the Alumni office.

The following is a complete schedule of the day's activities.

7:45 a.m. The annual Golf tournament at Hillview Golf club. Trophies will be awarded the winners.

9:30 a.m. Reception and registration in the Outer Quad. There will also be a meeting of the "Golden Grads" in Room 1 of the art wing. Members of Black Masque will assist with the registration.

9:30 a.m. through 12:30 p.m. Exhibits of student and alumni work in the Library, reserve book room, art wing and Science building.

12 noon. Selections by the San Jose State Concert band in the luncheon area.

12:30 p.m. Luncheon will be served by The Spartan Spears at the barbecue pits behind the Women's gym.

1:15 p.m. Luncheon program will be presented with introduction of Emerson "Doc" Arends, out-going president; Arthur C. Heinsen, Jr., new Alumni president; and the featured speech by Dr. Wahlquist.

3 to 5 p.m. Open house at the sorority and fraternity houses.

First American Teacher With Berlin U. Retires

U. of Calif. Daily
By BRAD WALSH

The first American teacher to become a bona fide faculty member at the University of Berlin is currently a member of the English department.

He is Willard H. Durham, professor of English at the university since 1921. He will retire from active teaching at the close of the current semester.

"I taught a seminar at the University of Berlin in 1908," said Professor Durham in an interview recently with the Daily Californian. "At that time they invited only Englishmen to serve on the faculty but because of the mounting trouble between Germany and the English during the pre-war years, they weren't having anything to do with teachers from England. So I was taken on the faculty and became the first American faculty member."

The grey-haired 70-year-old professor from New Haven, Conn., received his B.A. from Yale in 1904 and his Ph.D. from the same university in 1909 although his work leading to the doctorate had been done in Europe.

"I'm retiring by requirement, not voluntarily," explained the ruddy-cheeked professor. "I've had a marvelous time here at the university and the people have been first rate. However, when I first came here 32 years ago, I thought I was going into exile, or even Siberia, because of the great distance between California and my native New England. But I've loved it here ever since the first day."

In reviewing his 47 years of teaching experience Professor Durham said the World War II veterans were by far the best students he ever had. He recalled one particular class in which two veterans asked him after a lecture on Greek drama what he thought a certain passage by the chorus in Aeschylus' Agamemnon meant.

"This course was not for English majors," the bespectacled professor explained. "The fact that these and other former GI's wanted to know the exact meaning of passages brought me to realize how much I owed these people.

Daily Report on Spartan Athletics

Cinder Stars Run In PAAAU Meet

By DON BLOOM

Fourteen San Jose State cinder stars — 10 varsity and four freshmen, will participate in the Pacific Association Amateur Athletic Union track and field meet in Stockton on June 13.

The meet will consist of all open events, so Coach Don Bryant's frosh trackmen will have to go up against the top varsity and club runners on the Pacific coast.

Co-captains Walt Burnett and Bill Priddy will lead the Spartans to Stockton in quest of the team title. These two men, along with sensational Lang Stanley, are conceded chances of finishing high in their respective events.

Burnett will by-pass his favorite race, the quarter-mile, to run the century and 220-yard dash. Reason for this change, on the recommendation of Coach Bud Winter, is to build up Walt's sprint speed for the National Collegiate meet in Nebraska on June 19.

According to the Spartan coach, Burnett has looked better in workouts this week than at any other time this year.

Priddy, last year's NCAA champion and member of the 1952 All-American Collegiate track squad, showed his old form recently at the Modesto Relays when he reached the 14-foot mark. Consistent at 13 ft. 6 in. and better, Priddy's main competition will come from George Mattos, Fred Barnes of Fresno and Roy Carter of Sacramento junior college.

Stanley will get his competition from California's three great 880-men, Lon Spurrier, Jim Hutchison and John Nelson. Stanley and Spurrier, 1952's All-American half-miler, are real rivals, as the two are ranked with the nation's best and both are given chances of winning the NCAA crown.

With Burnett in the sprints will be varsity dashmen Jim Burks and Don Cruikshank and freshman Val Daniels. Cruikshank has been clocked in 9.8, Burks in 9.9 and Daniels in 10 flat. This trio also will run in the furlong event.

Don Hubbard, frosh captain, will run in the two-mile race and Allen Dunn is scheduled to go in the four-lapper.

Stan Dowell and Jim Garcia will enter the javelin event, and John Slaughter will put the shot. Gene Denny and Jon Braun will high jump, while Owen Rhodes will be in the pole vault competition.

Get Measured Now

Coach Bud Winter has announced that all varsity track letter-winners are to get measured for sweaters in the Spartan Shop and at Leonard's Sporting Goods for jacket awards.

Music, Theta Chi Meet for Softball Title

The college intra-mural softball championship will be decided this afternoon as Theta Chi earned the right to meet the Music club by downing Lambda Chi Alpha yesterday.

This afternoon's contest will feature two fast-ball pitchers in Theta Chi's Dick Zimmerman and Music's Dutch Johnson. Both are hurlers for Leon Terry's city-league softball team.

Theta Chi lost only one contest this season, being beaten by ATO. ATO was dropped out of second spot Tuesday afternoon when Kappa Alpha posted a 20-0 win to replace the second place holders.

Music also lost one contest during the season, a 7-1 drubbing at the hands of the Collegians. They downed the Collegians on two other occasions to erase their threat.

Reuter Survives Sports Season But Luck Falters

Paul Reuter, wrestling and boxing stalwart at SJS, managed to escape the 1953 sports season with a minimum of minor injuries, but you can see him now hobbling around the campus sporting a pair of crutches and wearing a cast that extends from his ankle to his right thigh.

It all started when Reuter, who is graduating in June, was picked by his fraternity brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha to be taken on a sneak reserved for seniors.

In the act of fighting off his adversaries Reuter tore three ligaments extending over his right knee and was rushed to the hospital where the cast was placed on his leg the next day.

However, the crutches and cast have not dampened his enthusiasm about Senior Week. He plans to go to the Senior Ball Friday night and also attend the other activities.

"I intend to throw away these crutches at least a couple of days before the ball in order to get my leg in shape," he said.

Albert Signed By Stampeders

San Francisco (UP)—Frankie Albert, 32-year-old former quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers, has signed a contract to play football this fall with the Calgary Stampeders in the Canadian league.

Albert, who retired from the 49ers last December, said the deal "pays me considerably more than I ever received with the 49ers."

Terms of the one-year agreement were not disclosed. Albert's top 49er salary was about $22,500.

(Editor's note: Albert will be competing with Lynn Aplanalp, star quarterback on last year's Spartan football team, for the position of quarterback on the Stampeders team. Aplanalp is with the team on a "make the team to get a job basis.")

New Relay Mark

This year's frosh 880-yard relay squad—made up of Val Daniels, Dale Patterson, Owen Rhodes and Art Hilt, cracked a 12-year-old SJS freshman half-mile record with a 1:33.5 time. The previous record, established in 1941, was 1:34.7.

BUTCH KRİKORIAN, for whom this year's All-College Tennis championship tournament is named, will be graduated this June. Krikorian won the NAIB singles crown last season and has played first singles for the Spartans for two years. He is favored to win this year's tennis tournament.

Stanley Heads For Compton This Afternoon

Lang Stanley will leave for Los Angeles this afternoon to participate in the Compton Invitational Friday evening. He received a personal invitation because of his outstanding record this track season.

Stanley will be one of the entrants in the half-mile event in which Mal Whitfield has vowed to break the world's record of 1:49.2. Whitfield says he will run a torrid 1:47.5.

Stanley's best time this year has been 1:52.6, which has been recognized as a new San Jose State record. Coach Winter has stated that Stanley will give Los Angeles fans a surprise this weekend because he is "up" for the race and has looked great in recent workouts.

Clunie Meets Krikorian in Tourney Finals

Butch Krikorian gained the finals of the All-College Championship Tennis tournament Tuesday afternoon as he edged Keith Carver in two sets.

Krikorian, by virtue of his win, will meet Kent Clunie in the finals of Class A this afternoon at Backesto park. Also in the Class A doubles finals is the team of Jim Austin and Clunie. They will meet the winner of the doubles match between Ron Poindexter and Crony Reese and Krikorian and Don Straub.

In the B division, Bob Bell defeated Lee Sweeney, 6-2, 6-1 to gain the finals of that bracket. Bell will play the winner of the semi-final match between Poindexter and Charles Hall.

The tournament is expected to end this weekend and trophies will awarded.

Police Shoot Is At Range Today

The 14th annual Inter-Police school pistol shoot will be held this afternoon at the Fourth street firing range. Five matches will be held and first, second and third prizes will be given in each match.

According to Robert A. Chappelle, pistol team captain, more than 30 entrants have signed up for the shoot. He emphasized that amateurs and more experienced shooters all have a chance for the various match prizes.

Chappelle also commented that it was hoped the shoot could be broadened so that shooting clubs and organizations from outside San Jose could be invited. He pointed out that current plans call for the demolishing of the Fourth street range, and they will be completely without facilities. No immediate plans have been made for a new pistol range.

San Jose State's pistol team scored a recent victory over the University of Wisconsin's varsity pistol squad by a score of 1362 to 1316. High point man of the match was Spartan shooter Albert Suarez, who posted a score of 290 out of a possible 300 points.

Cross country matches are scored by mail. The coach of the Spartan team mails the targets to the coach of the opposing team.

Improvise in Ragtime? Lecturer Says 'Uh-Uh'

By GERRY GARBARINI

A Mr. Neshui Ertegun, lecturer in jazz at UCLA, recently corrected a Mr. Webster—a writer of some renown—on his definition of jazz. Webster said it was "music played in ragtime." Mr. Ertegun says, uh, uh.

"Ragtime has only a slight resemblance to jazz, since there is no improvising in playing ragtime. Ragtime music is entirely composed. Improvising on a rag generally spoils the effect," he believes.

We won't argue the point. Our insight into music is scant. We do confess though to getting a large kick out of a Louis Armstrong rendition—some call it "gargling"—and we do think he often improvises.

In fact, legend has it that Armstrong initiated "scat" singing, a form of yodeling that utilizes improvisation to the last degree. Words are largely discarded in this method, and the "scat" singer gives voice to almost any group of syllables that come to mind.

This implies that the lyric writer of a given ditty was a narrow-minded chap. But, the "scat" singers probably don't regard it in this light. To their way of thinking, they're altruistically aiding the cause. Or at least getting a big bang out of rupturing it.

Armstrong is said to have dropped his word sheet once during a recording session. This, says his devotees, left him no recourse but to throw back his head and utter his own peculiar brand of "scat" singing. Thus, a style was born or so the story goes.

It was impromptu, mildly satisfying to the ear, and immensely profitable. Armstrong has been "scatting" here and in Europe, ever since.

Portions of the American public think well of this form of singing. This doesn't necessarily canonize it. People pay money to hear, and profess to like many things. (For instance, radio's Ma Perkins has her cult.)

But, perhaps "scat" singing deserves an able analysis by some one interested in the matter. Someone with time on his hands and, who like Dr. Alder, abhors "killing" it.

Such an inquiry might disclose which of these "scat" singers are trying to get something important across to their public, as opposed to those who are merely suffering from dyspepsia.

'Movie Queen'

Cleveland (UP) — A television viewer apparently accustomed to vintage movies was puzzled with a presentation Tuesday night.

"I'm watching movies on TV," an unidentified woman told the Cleveland Plain Dealer switchboard operator. "Who's the star playing the girl in the coronation movie?" she asked.

Student Visits University on Cal-Indo Plan

U. of Calif. Daily

By PHYLLIS SOSNICK

A thin, smiling student from Indonesia is having the most unusual experience of his 28 years. Sadikin is the guest of the ASUC for six weeks.

President of the student body at the University of Indonesia, Sadikin is in California as the representative of the national student association of Indonesia, the PPMI. His visit here is part of the Cal-Indo project program.

The likable agriculture major had never met an American before coming to this country, but he will return to Indonesia in four weeks to report to his fellow students his opinions of American students, how they live, act and think.

Sadikin expressed his enjoyment in wandering through the university campus. "Your campuses are very beautiful. I envy your buildings and equipment," he said.

Sadikin spent about a week at the Davis campus. There he attended many seminars and talked with the professors. "But I lost much of what they were saying because they spoke too quickly," remarked the visitor.

However, Sadikin's command of the English language has amazed those who have come in contact with him. "All students study English in secondary school," he explained.

One of Sadikin's most enjoyable experiences so far in the United States was visiting San Francisco. There he saw many of the famous tourist spots, but the one place he enjoyed most was the planetarium. "We have no such spot like that at home," he said.

The vast majority of university students in Indonesia work their way through college by teaching in lower schools during the afternoons, Sadikin said. Mornings are spent in classes and seminars and doing so-called "practical" work. (Sadikin is working with soils this semester.)

Steel, Nylon Tennis Nets Cushion Jet Landing Troubles

Soul (UP) — The U.S. 5th Air Force announced yesterday that steel and nylon "tennis nets" are making life easier for jet pilots in Korea — and saving American taxpayers about $2,400,000.

The nets, of nylon webbing, steel cable and anchor chain, are being installed on emergency airstrips considered too short for normal jet landings. When a damaged jet has to use one of the emergency strips, a net pops up at the end of the runway to catch the plane and cushion its high-speed landing.

Already, 10 crippled Sabrejets, worth roughly $240,000 each, have been saved from what might have been destruction by the tennis nets, which cost $14,000 apiece. In each case, the pilot has been able to "walk away" from the landing.

Stanford Dean Leaves Post To Write

Stanford, Calif. (UP) — A. John Bartky, dean of Stanford university's school of education, said yesterday he resigned his position so he would have more time to write textbooks.

Dr. Wallace Sterling, Stanford president, said he accepted Bartky's resignation with "the greatest reluctance."

A university spokesman said Bartky's decision to resign was reached after the dean realized considerable success with a recent book, "Supervision and Human Relations."
