

Standing Throng Sees Spartans Lose

Division Heads To List Switch Difficulties

Division chairmen decided yesterday to gather a list of difficulties and problems in making the change-over to the semester system so "basic guidelines can be formed in changing curriculum."

According to Dean of Instruction Fred F. Harclerod, "Changes in one department affect other departments, since there are many overlapping courses."

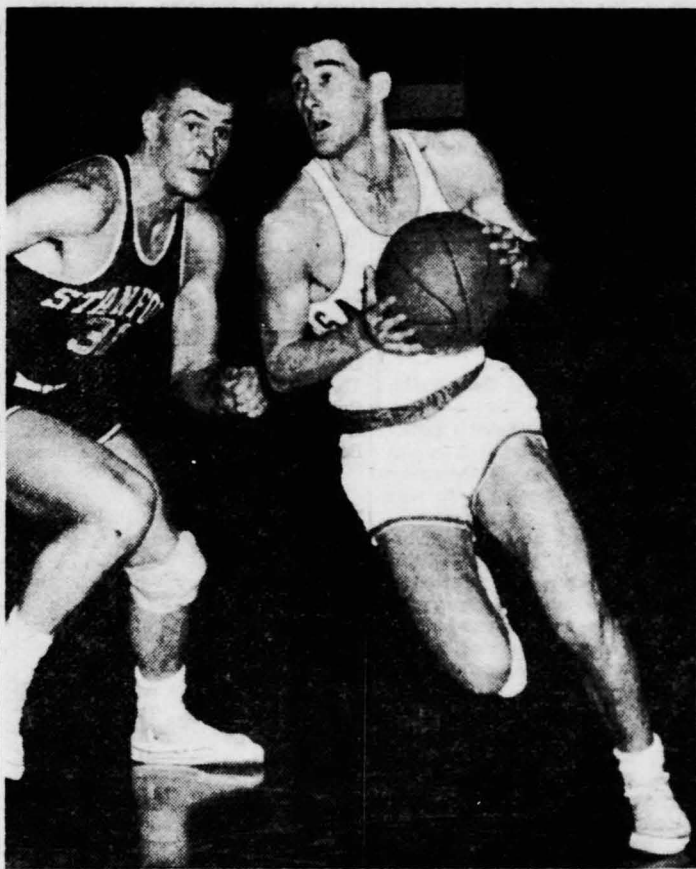

The dean said that there was no committee set up by the chairmen to work on the semester switchover.

"The division chairmen will submit recommendations to the President's Council. Final action on general problems will be decided by the council," Dean Harclerod said.

One problem cited by the dean was: "Should departments be allowed to increase or cut subject matter in their courses?"

"We're going to try to keep as much variety as possible when we make the semester change. Our efforts should be maintained to keep the good points of our curriculum," Dean Harclerod said.

One strong selling point of our graduates is their specialized field training, the dean added. "We want to keep this."

GOING PAST Stanford defender Bob DeLong for a San Jose State bucket is Bob Bondanza, Spartan guard. The Golden Raiders couldn't do this trick frequent enough, however, as the Indians trimmed State, 70-60, last night in non-conference play before a packed house.

Indians Triumph 70-60; Williams Leads Losers

By GIL CHESTERTON

Stanford's fire-house five handed the San Jose State cagers their seventh straight defeat, 70-60, in a non-conference game last night in the Spartan gym before a standing-room-only crowd of 2400 spectators.

Those in the audience who came to see the Golden Raiders attempt to end their victory famine had to be content to watch the home-town boys receive their 12th loss as compared with 4 wins. Stanford edged SJS, 60-58, Saturday night in a teevee thriller on the Farm.

The Indian triumph marked the first time in four attempts they have beaten the Spartans in the local gym.

Carroll Williams, Sparta's little man who always seems to be at the right spot at the right time, played his usual ball-hawking defensive game in addition to walking off the floor with 17 points, high for the evening.

Bud Hjelm, playing with his right leg wrapped in a splint, tallied 15 markers for runner-up spot. Bob Bondanza with 12, Don Fausset netting 10 and Tor Hansen with 6 points completed the scoring for the victory-starved Spartans.

Russ Lawler, Ron Wagner and Dave Epperson each dumped in 13 points to lead Stanford to their 13th conquest in 17 games. The Indians are currently resting in third place in PCC Southern division play.

George Selleck, Palo Alto's 5 ft. 8 in. terror, made 11 points but that was a cold night for him as he could only manage to salvage (Continued on Page 4)

Appointments Top Agenda For Council

Appointment of two students to the Activities Evaluation committee now in formation tops the agenda for the meeting of the Student Council this afternoon.

The two appointees, Bill Eckert, chairman of the Student Activities Board, and three faculty members are scheduled to conduct a long-range investigation into the existing system for handling campus activities.

Faculty members who will serve on the board are Dean of Women Miss Helen Dimmick, Dr. Murray Clark, associate professor of chemistry, and Miss Mary Wiley, assistant professor of physical education.

Other appointments include one to the Awards committee and three to positions on the Freshman Camp planning committee. Deadline for applications for the Freshman Camp posts is 2:30 p.m. today.

The opening of applications for seats on the College Health, Spartan Shop and Student Union boards is also scheduled. Reports listed include a complete review of the Revelries Board budget.

Discussion of New Dean Postponed

Discussion on the choosing of the new executive dean was postponed yesterday at the Faculty Council meeting because College President John T. Wahlquist was ill and could not attend the meeting.

Mrs. Roberta Stoddard, the president's secretary, said that Dr. Wahlquist had a sore throat and stayed home for the day.

La Torre on Sale

The 1954 La Torre will be on sale tomorrow from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at a booth located in the outer quad.

Thus far 1020 copies of the yearbook have been sold and the sales staff urges all students to order a copy as soon as possible.

Landau To Speak in Concert Hall on Comparative Religions

"Comparative Religions" will be the topic discussed tonight when British author and lecturer Rom Landau makes his second appearance in two weeks on the SJS campus.

The lecture will be given in the Concert hall of the Music building. The talk will begin at 8 o'clock and is sponsored by the College Lecture committee.

Landau will cover such topics as Islam mysticism, mysticism in general, Christianity and some of the modern unorthodox religions.

Landau, author of 28 books and a Royal Air Force veteran, traveled extensively around North Africa and the Middle East to get background for his lectures.

Approximately 500 students and faculty members heard Landau speak last Thursday in Morris Dailey auditorium on the topic "What Is at Stake in North Africa?" in which he discussed the conditions in Morocco and the

SJ Semester Plan Old Here

San Jose State's change from the quarter to the semester system, planned for the 1955 fall term, is not the first such switch for the school, a check of official records reveals.

The school operated on a fall, winter and spring term basis from 1904, 42 years after the college was founded, until 19 years later in 1922 when the first switch from the quarter to the semester calendar was made.

The school operated under the semester plan for five years until 1928, when the quarter system was reinstated by Dr. Thomas W. MacQuarrie, one year after he became president of the college.

The quarter system has been in effect at the college since 1928.

Summer Graduates Barred From June Commencement

Students planning to complete graduation requirements during summer session will no longer be allowed to participate in June commencement exercises, according to Joe H. West, dean of students.

West said that the basic policy which will prevail from now on is that no student may participate in commencement before he has completed all graduation requirements.

Formal commencement exercises will now be held for summer graduates at the end of the first six weeks session. Previously, summer commencement consisted merely of an informal tea at which diplomas were handed out.

Presumably, West noted, summer commencement will be on the same order as exercises held in December and March, with graduates wearing caps and gowns and appearing on the stage with members of the faculty and administration.

Those students who complete requirements at the end of the final four weeks of summer session must wait until December to participate in commencement, West said. They may, however, pick up their diplomas immediately after completion of the session.

Last X-Ray Today

All students who have not been X-rayed will be taken care of today, according to the Health office.

The unit has been X-raying all new students and all entering students not yet X-rayed. Hours for the unit will be 9 a.m. until 12 noon, and 1 to 3 p.m.

The practice of allowing summer graduates to take part in June commencement has been in effect for many years, according to West.

Frosh Sponsor Mixer Friday

The Freshman class is sponsoring this quarter's Frosh-Soph Mixer, scheduled for Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Women's gym. According to Al Behr and Noemi Baiza, chairmen of the dance, music for the affair will be furnished by Dennis Dunne's band.

The mixers are held each quarter and are conducted on a competitive basis. The two classes will be judged on attendance, entertainment, dancing and games.

The competitive activities will include a tug-of-war, talent show and speciality dance contest. Also there will be refreshments, other entertainment and dancing for the evening. Admission is to be free and the dance is date or stag.

According to the officers and past attendance records at the meetings, the freshmen have a good chance for taking home the plaque with the 25 points on the attendance to the affair.

The freshman class won the judging at the last mixer and "this time the plaque will be there," according to Bob Weiss, president of the freshman class. There will be more organization this year, he said, because all the activities will be inside the gym and student body cards will be checked.

1000 Wintermist Bids Distributed; Continues Today

More than 1000 bids already have been distributed for the annual Wintermist ball to be held Feb. 5 at the Civic auditorium, according to Vern Perry, social affairs chairman.

Bids will be issued again today from the booth in the Outer Quad. The black suede bids with a white snowflake design are free to ASB card holders.

The dance is formal this year. Social Affairs committee specified tuxedos or white dinner jackets as appropriate attire.

Jerry Gray and his orchestra will provide music for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Gray is a nationally known band leader formerly with Glenn Miller's orchestra. Probably his best known composition is "String of Pearls" which he arranged for Miller. Linda Lee is the featured vocalist.

Deadline Today For Applications

Today at 2:30 p.m. is the applications deadline for the two appointments scheduled to be made by the Student Council when it meets later this afternoon.

One student will be named as representative-at-large to the Awards committee. The student will replace the office previously held by the editor of the

This afternoon is also the closing date for applications for the planning committee of the Freshman Camp board. Students who have served as counselors at the camp are preferred, according to Sam Yates, camp director.

Students who have worked with awards or served on the Constitution committee will be given preference for the post, according to Juanie Green, council secretary.

'Affairs of Anatol' Needs Ushers

Ushers are needed for the Drama department's next production, "The Affairs of Anatol," according to an office announcement.

The play will be presented Feb. 5, 6, 11, 12 and 13 in the Little Theater. All interested students are asked to report to the Drama office as soon as possible.

Ignorance Is Not Strength!

The semester system change came as a surprise to most of us. It wasn't exactly the decision of the President's Council that hurt. It was the fact that we didn't have any say in the matter.

As students we like to think that we are a part of the college and that our voices can be heard sometimes. Evidently, whatever we had to say on the semester matter meant nothing. They weren't interested in what the average student thinks.

They weren't interested in knowing that some students can't afford to attend semester colleges. Under the quarter system they can drop out of school for three months and get a job to carry them over for another quarter.

It was of little concern to the educational executives that the semester system will cost these students time and money.

They didn't look at it from the student angle. All they were interested in was relieving the "work load" and making the job easier for the administration.

It isn't the students' business, the council said. What have they got to do with it? They don't set the policy.

No, they don't set the policy, but they do have to think. That's what we came here for, isn't it? To think. Not to blindly accept on the principle that we don't know what's best.

Maybe sometimes we don't know what's best. Maybe sometimes we go off half-cocked without really understanding or thinking. Maybe sometimes. But that's what we're here for . . . TO THINK . . . and we'll never learn how unless they give us a chance.

We suggest that in the future they ask us when decisions concerning students are on the fire. At least tell us what's coming off without breaking the news to us after decisions already have been made. Maybe they'll go ahead and make the decisions no matter what we say, but at least they'll have given us the chance to think and talk about it.

You can't educate people by keeping them in ignorance.

Thrust and Parry

Formal Reg Hop Yet!

Dear Thrust and Parry:

We not only disapprove of Wintermist being formal, but also can't agree with the reasoning used by the BTO's of the Social Affairs committee in their attempt to justify the action.

In the T&P of Tuesday, Jan. 25, they stated that since there are so few ASB dances they thought one should be a formal. We agree that there are too few ASB dances but feel there should be nothing about them that would in any way limit the attendance. Making the dance formal will limit attendance.

The SAC made a big concession in allowing fellows to attend in dark suits but then in their T&P contribution point out that the wearing of dark suits is only for those with financial difficulties. This will tend to discourage fellows from attending the dance without a tux or dinner jacket.

Since the Reg dances are always overcrowded it might be advisable to make them formal, too.

SEMESTER WHOOP - DEE-DOO—No matter what it is you are doing in the forthcoming SJS semester system, you will do it longer.

You will look at the same instructor longer, you will sit in the Coop longer, you will listen to the same subject longer, you will keep the same books longer, you will wait longer, and, in the opinion of some, your face will be longer.

TANGLED PROBLEM—I've got a problem," Jim Faletti, decorations chairman for Social Affairs committee, told the group Thursday evening. "A big problem," he insisted.

"We've got 5,000 stars to tie strings on for Wintermist." He frowned, hesitated a moment, and then inquired, "Now what the heck are we gonna do with the strings between now and the dance to keep 'em from getting twisted together?"

Ah, yes, it's the little things in life that are so perplexing.

THE BIG STORY—The editors of the Spartan Daily have hit upon a new way to get the best out of their reporters.

Each week a collection is taken among the Daily executives and a carton of Pall Mall cigarettes is purchased and awarded to the reporter who turned in, in the eyes of the editors, the "Story of the Week."

"YOU ARE THERE"—Looks like attendance at class meetings is picking up.

Dave Doerr, senior class representative to the Student Council, made sure that everybody knew his information was first-hand when he submitted his last written report to the Council and carefully printed "I WAS THERE" across the top of the page. Sophomore Sue Chapman headed her report with "I did attend this meeting." Now the only one we're not sure about is the Junior class representative.

This thing that's come from Lilliput.

If only he were on the isle of Brobdingnag, I'm sure he would not let his heart sag.

'Tis said a dram cup three gallons does hold.

Even coffee for those who are so bold.

With a thing in front so tall, Do you think you could be seen at all?

Now to complain is not my practice, But I wish to tell you what the fact is, For in a few more verses, I'm sure I can tell you what the worst is.

Let's not be so happy to read, Something that's not developed from seed,

By this I mean not a person, But his thoughts that have not much reason.

Day after day in Thrust and Parry,

Are read laments from every Tom, Dick or Harry.

About little things that hardly make a difference,

Like a cup of coffee that's been upped a few cents.

Now if in your few moments to spare,

You'll look for good things, which aren't rare,

I'm sure the many things which cause you grief,

Will change to grand feelings of relief.

Now I'm not a doctor of psychology,

But this thing I can clearly see,

That people who are happy and without remorse,

Are usually those who have found the source.

Dr. Atkinson Foresees Recession in Future

By JOHN STORMER

Over supplies of everything, particularly consumer credit, is driving the United States into a recession, according to Dr. E. W. Atkinson, Business division head.

"Washington economists and business leaders who have been evaluating the future business outlook foresee a 10 per cent reduction or recession within the next several years," Dr. Atkinson stated.

However, he went on to state that a general reduction of 20 per cent in the price of everything should occur within the next several years.

"We are in a period of recession now, and have been for the past year," the Business division chairman said, citing examples of declines in the stock market among the industrial, steel, and rail issues on the stock market.

Dr. Atkinson does not look for the recession to become as pronounced or prolonged as the Great Depression of the 1930's.

"American banks and large businesses are in better shape to withstand the recession now than they were in 1929," he said. "Federal regulations on control of bank deposits, the stock market, and general business will tend to have a stabilizing effect."

As to the future for students now in college who will be looking for jobs in industry and business within the next few years, Dr. Atkinson stated that there have always been plenty of jobs for anyone who can do anything well with his hands or his head.

The best way to combat the recession is for everyone to buy only what they need and can afford, he said.

Planes, Boats Used to Teach Technology

Models of transportation vehicles now are available to the public in the education department of the library, according to Dr. Frances E. Gulland, associate professor of education.

Airplanes, trucks and boats were made by the primary teachers in Santa Clara County. The teachers evaluated the project and found that the following steps were necessary:

1. Find out what the object being made actually looked like.
2. Read books.
3. Select material and make the object.

4. Have the object evaluated by a committee helper (such as a fireman if a fire truck was made).

"The main purpose of the project is to see if projects made or attempted to be made by children in the kindergarten stage are too hard for them. These types of projects are being used, however, to help the child gain an appreciation of our modern technology," concluded Dr. Gulland.

Veterans Club Plans Meeting

The newly organized Vets club announced a successful get-together and business meeting, which was held Friday at the Towns-men's Cove. The club constitution was adopted and the officers elected are Gil Hilbert, president; Reg Swanson, vice president; and Pat Bromanage, secretary-treasurer.

According to Hilbert, the club is open to all veterans, both men and women. Among its purposes is "helping new veterans in administrative affairs with their college curricula."

The next meeting will be held on Feb. 3 at 3:30 p.m. and the place on campus will be announced at a later date. All interested veterans are invited to attend next meeting when they plan to work out their business and social program, Hilbert said.

Tallulah Bankhead Will Star Today In Little Theater

San Jose Players are sponsoring the showing of the motion picture "Lifeboat" this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Little Theatre, according to Jim Bernardi, president.

An evening show also is scheduled for 8 o'clock. Tickets are 35 cents, Bernardi said.

All money raised by ticket sales will be used for a drama scholarship, he added.

"Lifeboat" is a Hollywood movie production under the direction of Alfred Hitchcock and starring Tallulah Bankhead, John Hodiak and William Bendix.

WUS Officer To Talk Today

Richard Thomas, World University Service regional secretary, of Los Angeles, will be on campus tomorrow to speak to all interested students and faculty at 4:30 p.m. in Room 25, according to Dolores Mathias, chairman.

Thomas will provide detailed information concerning WUS, stating its functions and its importance, she said.

World University Service is the channel through which the students of the world unite to help each other help themselves. Thirty-two national branches are at work in Asia, the Middle East, Western Europe and North America.

Letters have been sent to several organizations asking them to send representatives to this meeting, Miss Mathias said.

Marine Biologists To Give Program

Marine biologists from the California Department of Fish and Game will present a natural science program in Room 210 of the Natural Science building tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Al Alpin will talk on the program of the Fish and Game department and James Squires' topic will be "Shrimp, a New Resource."

Open to the public, the program also will include a film, "California Deer."

China Missionary To Address Group

The Rev. Hal Leiper, associate director of Westminster House Berkeley, and former missionary to China, will speak at an all-Presbyterian student-faculty dinner tomorrow evening.

The get-together, which is to be held from 6 to 8:30 p.m., will take place at 60 N. 3rd St.

Dinner will begin at 6 o'clock and will be followed by the Rev. Leiper's speech. His topic will be "God Calls Students Through Contemporary Events."

Vets See Adviser

The "Fern Breuner Case" will be McKay's topic. He will be introduced by Dr. William Ford, acting chairman of the Education division of San Jose State College, according to Clyde Williamson, president of CSTA.

Glover was appointed with eight others from West Coast schools.

Chairman of the committee is Dr. R. W. Sorensen, head of the Electrical Engineering department of California Institute of Technology and a member of the state board of registration for civil and professional engineers.

The purpose of the committee is expressed in its report. "The committee believes that professional attitude can be taught by the example of engineering teachers and reference to the relation between curricula courses and professional engineering rather than by special classes describing professional engineering conduct."

Frietas Takes Mitt Job As Montgomery Leaves

In meeting Cal Poly tomorrow night, the Spartan boxing squad will be without the services of Jack Montgomery, 147-lb., who is slated for induction into the Army. Montgomery, a sophomore from Half Moon Bay, is the Spartan ringman who put on a game showing against Idaho's great Lynn Nichols in the first meet of the season.

In Montgomery's place will be John Frietas, another sophomore, from San Leandro. Both Frietas and Montgomery were members of last year's Frosh team.

In a challenge match held before the Idaho meet, Montgomery won the right to go against the Vandal's Pacific Coast Intercollegiate champion, Nichols, when he took a decision from Frietas.

The bout with Nichols was the first time in the ring for Montgomery in varsity competition. The Spartan showed great promise in his aggressive style against the veteran from Moscow, Idaho. However, the contest was halted in the second round when Nichols' experience proved too much as he belted around an outclassed Montgomery.

Frietas will have his work cut out for him tomorrow night in San Luis Obispo. John will battle the Mustangs' Jack Bettencourt, a veteran who was a winner in last year's first annual Northern California Invitational tourney at San Francisco State college.

Members of the Spartan ski team will meet today at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Union to discuss plans for its first meet, Feb. 6-7 at Snow Valley.

The event is sponsored by UCLA and will include Spartans Ken Kaneda, Doug Fox, Dick Bodreaux, Jim Triplett, Ted Engelbrecht and Jon Lowe. Alternates are George Bailey, Terry Taugner and Len Rhodes.

Following the UCLA meet, the Golden Raiders will compete in one sponsored by College of Pacific and Modesto Junior College at Donner Summit and a contest with Stanford at Yosemite.

Wrestlers Pin Foe

Spartan wrestler Jerry Ruse pinned Stanford's Carl Hullick in the last match last night to give San Jose an 18-16 team victory over the Indians at Palo Alto.

The Spartans trailed, 13-16, going into the final round.

Pacific Coast Intercollegiate champ Dick Francis remained unbeaten for the Spartans as he decimated Pete Pearce in the 177-lb. class.

The Washington Square hoopsters were never in the game after the first period. They trailed 12-11 at the conclusion of the initial stanza but a barrage of 6 straight points by the Indians midway in the second quarter helped them to a 34-27 half-time lead.

The Spartans found the going even tougher in the initial part of the third frame, trying 10 field goal attempts before connecting with enemy netting.

Intramural Hoop Games To Start In Gym Tonight

Tonight marks the beginning of the 1954 intramural basketball schedule with six games on tap in Spartan gym.

In 7 o'clock tip-offs, Phi Epsilon Kappa meets 101 Manor, and the Royal Hawaiians battle Westwood Apartments. Alpha Chi Omega plays the Wetbacks, and Theta Xi starts against Phi Sigma Kappa in 8 o'clock contests.

In final encounters, Sigma Nu will oppose Lambda Chi Alpha while Delta Upsilon is slated to go against Alpha Tau Omega.

In the fatal third, San Jose collected only a pair of free throws before Mighty-Mouse Williams layed one up with 5½ minutes gone. The scoring remained at an even pace as Bob Burnett's Palo Alto crew enjoyed a 54-40 advantage at the end of three quarters of play.

All-Coast candidate Williams came to the aid of the party in the final period but even his brilliant play wasn't enough to pull the game out of the bag for Walt McPherson's charges.

Williams ran wild accounting for 9 points as he and his teammates outscored the visitors 20-16 but it wasn't enough to overtake Stanford.

In the shooting department the Indians made 28 out of 67 field goal attempts for a very respectable 41.8%. San Jose was also outscored here, as the Spartans connected 17 times in 56 tries for 30.4%.

The Spartan junior varsity salvaged some glory for San Jose by coming from behind to edge the Stanford Braves, 61-59. Wes Juhl with 19 and Bill Brunberg with 12 led the local scoring column.
