Dr. Mary G. Hamilton Dies During Vacation

Services were held Saturday for Dr. Mary Grace Hamilton, 63, professor of English at San Jose State College, who died unexpectedly Wednesday, apparently of a heart attack, in the home of a friend, Mrs. Gwendolyn Cooke, 1530 Mariposa St., Palo Alto.

Mrs. Cooke said Dr. Hamilton had retired early Wednesday evening after complaining of illness. A short time later she said she found her ill in bed and called a doctor. Before the physician arrived, Dr. Hamilton succumbed.

Dr. Hamilton had been an instructor at the college since she came here in 1946. She received her doctorate at the University of California in 1931. She previously had won a scholarship at Oxford University in England and a teaching fellowship at the University of Chicago.

She taught at the University of Chicago from 1917 through 1922 and at the University of California from 1924 through 1926 when she became a professor of English composition at Dominican College, San Rafael. In 1936 she became head instructor of the humanities at Dominican, in which capacity she served until coming here eight years ago.

The professor was sponsor of the International and Canterbury clubs at State and a member of the YWCA board, the women's Faculty club and the Trinity Episcopal Church. She made her home at 19450 Valley Vista, Saratoga.

She is survived by a brother, Dr. Andros S. Hamilton, and a niece, Miss Ashley Hamilton, both of Monroe, La., and a cousin, Mrs. Floyd Schaap, of Sacramento.

The Rev. Stephen Peabody, Auburn, officiated at the services held in Sacramento. Interment was in East Lawn cemetery of that city.

Editors Report On La Torre

Larger than previous editions, the 320-page La Torre is over 50 per cent completed.

Sales of the 1954 college yearbook have passed the 1,500 mark, according to co-editors Roger Flanagan and Frances Rabanus.

The book is on sale today and tomorrow at a booth near the rear door of the men's gym.

Marking the booth is a six foot replica of the 7½-inch, 45 r.p.m. record that will be included with copies of La Torre.

The record, carrying the sounds of the 1953-54 school year, is only one of the new features of the yearbook.

For the first time it will contain pictures of Master's degree candidates.

The graduate section has been completed and living group photos have been taken and are being assembled.

Recent coop activity and a choir concert have been tape recorded for the disc.

Photographers are concentrating on campus activity shots. The colored cover printing plates have been made. The covers are being printed in Los Angeles.

Full price of the yearbook, including the record is $6.00. A copy can be reserved at the booth with a $3.00 deposit.

Daily To Publish

Two additional issues of the Spartan Daily will appear this week, according to Ed Pope, acting editor.

The paper will be on the stands Wednesday and Friday, and regular publication will resume next Monday, Pope said.

UCLA Prof To Speak Here

Dr. Henry Schnitzler, member of the Theater Arts department at UCLA and son of Arthur Schnitzler, the famous playwright and novelist, will speak to San Jose students Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the Engineering auditorium, according to Hugh W. Gillis, head of the Speech and Drama department.

Title of Dr. Schnitzler's talk will be "Aspects of Modern Austrian Drama."

Dr. Schnitzler, who has traveled and studied abroad, will expose the misconceptions in thinking on modern Continental drama and will suggest other ways of approaching the subject.

President Makes Radio Appearance

President John T. Wahlquist and Dr. Roy A. Simpson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, appeared on radio KEEN Sunday night to discuss the "Battle of the Bulge," the problem of rising enrollment at San Jose State College.

Last week President Wahlquist attended a meeting of the San Jose Rotary club at which he introduced Simpson, who spoke on "American Freedom in Public Schools."

Special guests at the meeting were Executive Dean James C. DeVoss and O. S. Hubbard, county superintendent of schools.

In his speech before the club, Dr. Simpson declared "American public schools must be protected from people on both extremes."

'Moonlight Girl' In National Finals

Marjel McKinnon, who last fall was chosen "Moonlight Girl" of Phi Sigma Kappa at State, has been voted to be one of six finalists in the national "Moonlight Girl" competition, according to Tom Wilberding, fraternity president.

Miss McKinnon, a sophomore member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, vied with contestants from more than 100 chapters of Phi Sigma Kappa.

Registrar Sees Slight Drop In Enrollment

Spring quarter enrollment at SJS is expected to drop to the lowest point of the 1953-54 school year.

"There always is a normal drop between winter and spring quarters," Registrar Leslie W. Ross points out.

Estimated enrollment for the quarter is 6573. This is 135 less than the 6708 students enrolling for winter quarter.

Winter quarter 1952-53 there were 5790 students enrolled at SJS, spring of the same year 5666, excluding junior college students.

Of the expected 6573 enrolling today and tomorrow, an estimated 400 will be new students. The Admissions office expects 143 high school graduates and 257 transfer students to enter this term.

The six thousand plus estimated enrollment is still higher than any quarter's enrollment last year. Excluding junior college students, the 1952 autumn enrollment was 6197.

High for SJS was autumn quarter, 1953. Registrar's figures show that quarter's enrollment was 7113.

Four Instructors Named to Faculty

Four new part-time instructors have been added to the San Jose State College faculty this quarter, according to Miss Muriel Clark, secretary to President John T. Wahlquist.

The instructors and the departments in which they will teach are: William Reed, education; Mrs. Gertrude Murphy, journalism; Miss Annemarie Steinbiss, women's physical education; and Clark Sullivan, police.

Vet Deadline Set

Vets enrolled in college last quarter under the Korean GI Bill should sign March attendance forms at a table in the Reserve Book Room either today or tomorrow, according to Mrs. Janet Ashley, veterans counselor.

The attendance forms must be signed before April 5 or the Veterans Administration will not pay March subsistence until May.

Knight's Budget Passes Assembly

The 1954-55 Governor's budget including allocations to San Jose State College for the 1954 fiscal year passed the State Assembly Thursday and is slated now for action on the Senate floor.

The budget included $3,880,895 for SJS for 1954-55, which is $358,000 over the amount asked by Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

The increase, as proposed by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, would give the college a 7000 ceiling for Full-Time Equivalent students (FTE).

Included in the Governor's Capital Outlay budget were construction of a new $1,283,700 classroom building at the college and $97,225 to equip it. In addition the budget included $59,500 for an additional boiler.

A recommendation of the Senate Finance Committee, however, has set the ceiling at 6100 FTE, an increase of $158,000 over the original allocation in the Governor's budget. The Governor had asked for a ceiling of 6000 FTE.

With passage in the Assembly, President John T. Wahlquist said that indications were favorable that the 6000 ceiling will be broken. He said however, that if the Senate recommendation passes, the college will still have to turn away 700 or 800 students next year. Even with the 7000 ceiling proposed by the Assembly the president said about 200 students would be refused admission to State.

The Capital Outlay budget passed the Assembly by a 35-34 vote and increased the Governor's budget by nearly $13,000,000, which is slated to go to the state colleges for their building programs. Included in the increase was allocation of an additional $123,000 to SJS.

The money budgeted to State from the Capital Outlay budget has been approved by the Department of Finance, the Department of Education, the Assembly, the Senate Finance Committee and the legislative auditor.

Included in the Capital Outlay budget is $571,000 for a modular addition to the Library. The figure originally asked was $746,000. According to the American Library Association, a library should seat one-fourth of the student body. The present facilities at SJS allow for seating of only 600-700 students. The $571,000 addition, which has been approved by the Assembly and the Senate Finance Committee, would raise the library's capacity to the recommended 1500.

Placement Office Announces Fall Openings for Teachers

A varying number of fall openings for teachers are available through the college placement office.

From five to 300 openings at one time have been listed from eight states, 51 counties, Hawaii, Guam and South America, according to Miss Doris K. Robinson, placement director.

In addition she reports missionary school openings throughout the world.

Beginning teacher's salaries range from $3400 to $3500, Miss Robinson says. Those wanting the highest pay will have to leave the Bay area.

Positions that have been listed range from nursery school spots to professor and demonstration positions in out of state colleges.

Salaries for the latter are lower than California beginning teachers receive.

School administrators have been listing their openings with the office at the rate of 15 to 35 a day. Interviews have already been set by 27 administrators for April.

Miss Robinson urges that all spring quarter student teachers list their assignments with the placement office. She will be available for interviews with position candidates from 11 to 12 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m. daily. Advance appointments are not available.

Television Saves Registration Time

CHICAGO (UP)—Television was employed at the registration of students at Chicago Teachers College in a way that saved long hours and aided in signing up of students for classes.

By employing a closed circuit, registration clerks and school officials could see immediately which classes were closed, which had space and just how many students the classes could hold.

Before, students went through the tedious process of filling out cards and in many cases learned by mail the classes were full. This necessitated substituting of classes, dropping of others and much unnecessary paper work.

In the new way, a camera is focused on a bulletin board in the library where class enrollments are tallied and flashed to screens in other rooms where the students fill out their programs.

The college also uses closed circuit TV in classroom work where one instructor can give a visual lecture-demonstration to several rooms at the same time.

Police May Take Probation Course

Police 191, Probation and Parole, a new course designed to acquaint police and penology majors with techniques and methods of probation, is being offered this quarter, according to Willard E. Schmidt, head of the Police School.

Instructor in the course is Clark Sullivan, who is head of the San Jose office of the California Adult Probation and Parole Department. Enrollment in the course is limited to seniors.

Relaxed Study Easiest Way

Students may someday hail Dr. A. E. Johns as their savior.

Dr. Johns is the founder and director of the Modern Course Institute, Inc. in New York City. He has announced that the Dr. Johns' method of increasing learning capacity, which has been internationally known for over 10 years, is now within reach of every college student's budget.

This technique makes use of the latest advances in psychology and electronics. It is based on the proved principles of the psychology of suggestion, namely that knowledge can be absorbed in sleep and that efficiency is increased enormously when an individual is completely relaxed mentally and physically, according to a release from the Institute.

Dr. Brant Clark, SJS professor of psychology, when consulted on the matter, said "there have been many experiments in this field but the results are inconclusive."

Dr. Johns has applied these principles in developing his method and its instrument of application, the JohnOphone. The later consists of a tape recorder plus various attachments, such as an under-pillow speaker, a message-repeating mechanism and a special clock which can shut the recorder on and off up to 72 times in 24 hours.

According to Dr. Johns, his method enables students to learn more in a shorter time, with less effort. It employs the JohnOphone to repeat messages during both waking and sleeping hours.

A follower of Emile Coue', Dr. Johns has frequently demonstrated in his public lectures and writings how auto-suggestion, the automatic or unconscious realization of an idea, controls life processes.

"As in the usual learning process, this new method requires a constant repetition of statements or ideas," Dr. John explained. "In our method, however, learning does not cease with mere repetition. Its technique is far more flexible and its range of uses virtually unlimited."

In 1943, Dr. Johns founded the Modern Course Institute, Inc. He developed the JohnOphone and made it available to the public in 1946.

Cafeteria Open

Cafeteria meals will be served on schedule today and through the rest of the quarter, according to Mrs. Fern Wendt of the Home Economics department.

Businessmen Try to Raise Boxing Funds

Lightweight Joe Rodriguez and middleweight John Hernandez will accompany San Jose State college's three Pacific Coast intercollegiate champs to the National Collegiate Athletic Association boxing tournament if local businessmen Anthony Flores and Don Chargin have their way.

Flores and Chargin are engaged in raising the necessary $500 to pay the boys' expenses to Penn State at the present time.

If the project is successful, Hernandez and Rodriguez will accompany Dick Bender, Vic Harris, and Tom Stern east for the matches which are slated for April 8, 9 and 10.

Three State Alums Serving in USMC

Three former San Jose State students serving with the Marine Corps were recently promoted.

They are First Lieutenant James H. Olds, a State graduate; Second Lieutenant Ray A. Lowe and Sergeant Robert K. Kimball.

Olds received his promotion in Korea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Olds of Campbell.

Lowe was commissioned when he received his wings at Corpus Christi, Texas. He has just completed flight training at the Naval Air Station there. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Lowe of Oakland.

Kimball, a photo interpreter with a Marine Aircraft Wing in Korea, is the son of Mrs. William Brown of San Jose and husband of Mrs. Jacque Kimball of San Francisco.

Committee Will Study Entrance Requirements

A study of the type of admission requirements which most accurately predict college success will be made in the near future at San Francisco State College and Fresno State College, according to Dean of Students Joe H. West.

The study is being conducted by a committee named recently by the Council of State College Presidents to study admission standards. Dean West represents SJS on the committee.

The group met last week in San Francisco and considered the qualities wanted in a college student and the best methods of measuring or evaluating these qualities before a student is enrolled.

The study at San Francisco and Fresno will attempt to compare high school grade point averages with the present system of recommending units as a basis for predicting college success.

The value of utilizing test results as a partial determinant in granting students admission to college will also be studied.

Baseballers Have Six Games

Spartan sports fans who have been bitten by the baseball bug will have plenty of opportunity to indulge in spectatoritis this week with six games slated.

Coach Walt Williams' varsity meets Santa Clara at Santa Clara at 3:15 Friday afternoon and the University of San Francisco Saturday afternoon at Municipal stadium at 2:30 o'clock.

Don Lopes' freshman charges will meet Bellarmine at Bellarmine at 3:15 Tuesday afternoon and Willow Glen at Willow Glen Wednesday afternoon at 3:15.

Coach Stu Fowler's JVs travel to Salinas Tuesday and to Stanford Wednesday.

McPherson's Squad Travels

Coach Walt McPherson's tennis squad makes its first junket of the quarter this weekend. On Friday afternoon the net men face the College of Pacific Tigers at Stockton. On Saturday afternoon they meet Sacramento State college in the capital city.

Greeks Will Honor Boxing Squad

San Jose State's boxing team will be honored Wednesday evening by members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity at a banquet sponsored jointly by the Greek organizations in the American Legion hall. Parker Hathaway, mayor of San Jose, will be the principal speaker.

Boxing coach Julie Menendez will present a trophy to the "Boxer of the Year" as part of the program. Danny Hill, who is in charge of athletic publicity for the college, will be master of ceremonies.

Also present to honor the team will be Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft, head of SJS's Athletic department, Mrs. Dee Portal, several former Spartan boxing stars, and sports and civic leaders from San Francisco and the peninsula, according to Jackie Lohry, a spokesman for the sorority.

39,775 people - largest crowd ever to watch a World Series game in Ebbets Field - see Yanks beat Dodgers in the fifth game, October 4th, 1953.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

IF every man and woman who owns stock in the Union Oil Company were to meet in one place it would take a ball park larger than Ebbets Field to hold them.

For over 40,000 people own shares in this company.

The largest shareholder owns less than 1%.

Illustrating once again that Union Oil - like so many large American companies - is not the exclusive property of a few people.

It is, rather, a partnership of thousands of wage earners and investors who are venturing their savings to make a profit. This is the American way.

Washington State Edges SJS Boxers for Title

By BOB STRIEGEL

The San Jose State boxing squad is probably wondering just what they have to do in order to win the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate championship.

The Spartans of Coach Julie Menendez came through with three individual champions in the PCI tournament in Sacramento on March 18, 19, 20, but the team title went to Washington State college, which also boasted a trio of kingpins.

The Cougars of Coach Ike Deeter picked up more points in the preliminary bouts on Thursday, which proved to be the deciding factor. San Jose State had only three men in the prelims. All other Spartans drew byes. Both San Jose State and WSC had five ringmen in the finals.

Washington State scored 38 points to San Jose's 34. Idaho State, defending national champ, placed third with 28 points. In other scoring, Idaho had 10, San Francisco State, Chico State, and California had five points each, and Santa Clara had two.

Last year Cal Poly won team honors with just two individual champions. In 1952 the Spartans won the championship with a trio of kings.

The big three for the Golden Raiders were Vic Harris, 139-lb.; Captain Dick Bender, 156-lb.; and Tommy Stern, light-heavyweight.

Two other Spartans, middleweight Al Brown and heavyweight Dave Fanner, reached the finals before tasting defeat. Raiders Elvin Meek, 119-lb., featherweight Kim Kanaya, and welterweight Allan White lost in their only appearances in semi-final bouts. San Jose's previously undefeated light-weight, Joe Rodriguez, dropped a heartbreaker in the prelims.

Other individual PCI winners were Eddy Olson, 125-lb.; Gil Inaba, 132-lb.; and Gordon Gladson, 165-lb., for Washington State; Vic Kobe, 119-lb., and heavyweight Mike McMurtry for Idaho State; and Lynn Nichols, 147-lb., for the University of Idaho.

The top-notch bout of the tourney was the final between San Jose State's Stern and Chico State's George Maderos. The Spartan had Maderos outclassed for the first two rounds by cornering the Wildcat several times and nailing him with everything in the book, including some beautiful left jabs and a few uppercuts. But then he—and high water broke loose, which brought the crowd of over 4000 roaring to its feet.

Maderos recovered to stage an attack of his own by staggering Stern various times in the final round. They slugged it out toe to toe for the last two minutes, with each connecting with blows that buckled the other's knees. Both refused to go down. Pandemonium broke loose in the crowd as the final gong sounded, while Coach Menendez walked across the ring to congratulate a very game Maderos.

Stern beat WSC's Dan McGreevy in the semi-finals, Maderos knocked Nevada's Bill Griggs from the undefeated ranks in their semi-final go.

Jerry Stern, brother of Tom, captured the 147-lb. PCI title for San Jose State in 1952.

The Spartans' sensational captain, Bender, had a comparatively easy time in winning the light-middleweight crown. The referee stopped his semi-final bout with Art Guerra of Chico State. After outclassing the Wildcat in the first frame while scoring with a near bolo, Bender decked him in the second for a short count, and the match was halted shortly afterward.

In the final, the Redwood City Spartan took all three rounds over Don Backus of Washington State. Bender displayed some good left-right combinations, and the Cougar went to the canvas for a quick count in the final frame.

It was the first PCI title for Bender. He lost by an eyelash to Nichols of Idaho in the welter-weight final last year.

Harris, the Spartans' import from Florida, won a close decision from John Heelan of Idaho State in the 139-lb. class final. In his semi-final match, Harris stopped California's Dick Londahl in 1:56 of the second round. The Spartan looked classy in leading interchangeably with either hand.

Amazing Al Brown of Sparta surprised everyone by trimming Stan Drakulich of Nevada in a preliminary battle. Then he decided two-year veteran Don Anderson of Idaho in the semi-finals for a major upset. Brown was stopped in the finals by former NCAA kingpin Gladson, in the second round by a referee's decision. Al made a game try, but the rough-tough Cougar had too much power and experience for him. Previous to the tourney, Brown had only one collegiate bout, in which he stopped Pete Limm of San Francisco State in eight seconds of round one.

Dave Fanner decided Cal Poly's Jim Herra and then beat the boxer with the crazy style, Chico State's Eugene Van der Leun, to earn his way into the finals. The Chico State had a deep crouch, and every time he threw a punch he lost his balance.

In the final heavyweight bout, Fanner turned aggressive and had a slight edge over McMurtry in the first two rounds, but the Spartan ran out of gas in the final frame, which tilted the victory into the hands of the Bengal.

The greatest and closest attraction of the tournament took place in the welterweight division in the semi-finals between SJS's White and defending champ Nichols of Idaho. Action was fast while steady barrages of terrific punches were exchanged for the full three rounds with little or no clinching. White staggered the champ with a powerful left to the jaw in the first stanza. From then on it was nip and tuck all the way. Both received a terrific ovation when they left the ring.

Nichols later went on to be named the outstanding mittman of the tournament.

Kanaya, the Raiders' featherweight, dropped a split decision to Cal's Jim Green in the semi-finals. Meek, SJS's 119-pounder, appearing in his first collegiate bout, had the misfortune of facing Vic Kobe, ISC's NCAA kingpin. The bout was stopped by the referee in 1:14 of the second. Meek bothered Kobe with a good left jab, but the Bengal's experience was too much.

The Spartans' Rodriguez was the only one of three Spartans in the preliminaries who lost. He was undefeated before this bout, which he dropped to San Francisco State's John Fawcett. The fight was close all the way. Joe slipped to the canvas in the initial round, which probably cost him the decision. Rodriguez, who drew with the champion, Inaba, earlier in the season, will probably go back to the national tournament on the basis of his great dual meet record.

Cal Bears Rip Spartan Nine In 8-7 Battle

A last inning rally failed as the Spartan baseballers came out on the short end in an 8-7 game with the California Bears at Berkeley Saturday afternoon.

Felton Henderson, Cal leftfielder, blasted a three-run homer in the eighth inning to spoil a 6-5 Spartan lead. The San Jose nine had led previously by scores of 1-0, 5-0, and 5-1. Trailing 8-6 going into the ninth frame, the Spartans loaded the bags when First baseman Dick Brady was safe on an error. Second sacker Ron Palmer walked, and Third baseman Bill Pitcher singled. However, Joe Gaggero, Bear hurler, got Leftfielder Bill Anderson to hit into a doubleplay and Pinchhitter Lou Gambello to strike out, stopping the rally with only one run.

Pitcher led the nine-hit Spartan attack with a double and single, while Brady and Centerfielder Don Visconti each singled twice.

Stay at Home Spartans Win Three Victories

By JOE BRYAN

The Spartan field house was surrounded by victory Saturday afternoon. Immediately north of the field house the varsity and freshman track teams were busy winning their first triangular meets of the season. East of the field house the freshman baseball team was winning its fifth straight victory.

Coach Don Lopes charges blanked Rio Vista high school 8-0 behind the steady five-hit pitching of Dan Arena. Big bat for the Spartans in the game was swung by catcher Jerry Clifford who collected two triples and a homer while driving in four runs, Arena struck out five.

Coach Bud Winter's varsity trackmen won 8 first places and the mile relay while amassing 116½ points to win the meet. Santa Clara Youth Center was second with 62 points. San Francisco State trailed with 41.

Spartan first place winners were: Kreyenhagen, 120 high hurdles and 220 low; Burton, shotput; Cruickshank, 100 yard dash; Stephens, 880; Albiani, 220; Daniels, broadjump; and Hubbard, two mile.

Sporting two double winners, the Bob McMullen-coached San Jose Frosh defeated Hartnell and East Contra Costa junior colleges by collecting seven first places and the relay for a total of 63 points. East Contra Costa tallied 53p and Hartnell 31p.

Earning first place for the freshmen were: Collier, shotput and discus; Mears, 120 high hurdles and 220 low hurdles; Wulltange, mile; Warriner, 440; and Armstrong, 220.

After the meet Coach Winter said, "We're a little behind where we should be at this time but that's because of the between quarter vacation and the layoff taken by the boys to study for finals. I think we showed good potential and we will improve. The track was slow and the strong breeze didn't help anyone today. Most of my boys are sophomores and I think they did well for the first meet of the season."

Drama Dept. Schedules Two 'Tragic Evenings'

By JOE BRYAN

Ambitious as always, the San Jose State college Speech and Drama department has slated a busy program for the coming quarter. Scheduled for April 30, May 1, 6, 7 and 8 is Henrik Ibsen's Hedda Gabler under the direction of Elizabeth M. Loeffler, associate professor of drama.

Sophocles' Theban Cycle is scheduled for June 4, 5, 10, 11 and 12.

DR. JAMES CLANCY

This classic tragedy will be directed by Dr. James H. Clancy, professor of drama.

Hedda Gabler is the story of a dissatisfied wife who is bored with her existence as the spouse of a professor. She learns that a former lover, Lovborg, is working as a tutor for another woman, Thea Elvsted. Lovborg wins fame through the publication of a manuscript, and Hedda decides that she wants him back. He returns.

Eventually, Hedda destroys a second manuscript which Lovborg has written. Then she gives him a pistol and suggests that he commit suicide. Lovborg gets killed in a brawl. A gentleman in the drama recognizes the weapon so to avoid facing the consequences Hedda turns the gun on herself and the play ends.

Still more ambitious is the production which Dr. Clancy will direct. The Sophocles trilogy is really three plays in one—Oedipus Tyrannus, Oedipus at Colonus, and Antigone. If the dates on the plays are correct, Antigone is the most ancient, reportedly produced in 440 B.C. Oedipus Tyrannus is credited to the year 429 B.C. Youngster of the group is Oedipus at Colonus dating from 406 B.C. and the last play written by Sophocles.

Chronologically, Oedipus Tyrannus should come first. This is the tragic story of a man who slays his father, marries his mother, brings a plague on the city of Thebes, is blinded and exiled.

Oedipus at Colonus takes up the story of the hero's exile. The blind Oedipus has sought refuge with Theseus in the beautiful little city outside Athens. In exile with Oedipus is his daughter Antigone. Word comes from Thebes that horrible events will occur in that city if Oedipus is buried somewhere else. This prophecy is carried to him by his daughter, Ishmene, from the oracle at Delphi. Nevertheless Oedipus prepares to die and will let Theseus alone accompany him. Theseus returns and refuses to tell Antigone and Ishmene where Oedipus is buried. This sets the stage for Antigone.

Antigone returns to Thebes where her two brothers are engaged in battle for the city. They kill each other in personal combat. Creon, uncle of the children of Oedipus, orders Eteocles be buried, but Polyneices not be. Antigone is racked with grief at the punishment and buries Polyneices anyhow. A sentry reports this to Creon. As a result Antigone is ordered walled in a cave alive.

The blind prophet Teiresias warns Creon that disaster will strike his family if he carries out his edicts. Creon decides too late to listen to Teiresias. He arrives at the cave to find Antigone a suicide by hanging, and his son, Hameon, dead by his own sword. Creon kills himself and ends the trilogy.

Performance of the Theban Cycle is expected to take three and one-half hours.

Presently showing his artistic wares at Springville, Utah, is Milton C. Lanyon, associate professor of art.

Oops! Wrong Date

Alertness is the word for the Art department. It was there that the mistake in the college bulletin was found. According to the bulletin, Homecoming Day on campus is June 6, a Sunday. According to Peg Major, alumni secretary, Homecoming Day is June 5, a Saturday.
