

ATOs in Fraternity Row —End of 3-Year Search

Alpha Tau Omega will occupy two houses at 212 and 224 S. 11th next September. The board of directors of the Alumni Corp. of ATO has approved the purchase of the two houses on Fraternity Row at a cost of over $40,000. The houses are to be remodeled for September occupation. For three years the fraternity has been renting the large, Victorian mansion at 1600 The Alameda. Purchase of the houses has climaxed a two-year search for property near SJS. The Mothers' Club of ATO is planning to purchase new beds, rugs and other furnishings for the new houses.

The loan for the purchase of the houses was underwritten by the ATO Alumni Assn. of Northern California, the board of directors of the local alumni and parents of ATO members.

The board of directors of the Alumni Corporation is composed of Dr. Henry Dahleen, Dr. Vinton Matthews, Dr. William G. Sweeney, Dr. A. O'Connor, Frazier Reed II, Professor Jack H. Holland, Douglas Aitken, Charles Miguelgorry, Robert Baron and Robert Whitburn.

Many To Hear Final Program

The San Jose State College Symphony Orchestra will close a two-night performance of the Spring Concert tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Concert Hall of the Music building.

The third and final performance of the orchestra this academic year is free to the public and no tickets are required.

The first performance of the spring concert was given last night to a full house in the Concert Hall.

Lorraine Wood Hancock, a senior music major from Campbell, will be the piano soloist for the evening. She will play Maurice Ravel's Concerto in G Major for Piano and Orchestra, (Allegro moderato, Adagio Assai and Presto).

Dr. Lyle W. Downey, head of the Music department, will conduct the orchestra. Gibson Walters is the assistant conductor and concert master and John Loban is student concert master.

This will be the final Music department presentation of this school year.

Frosh-Sophs Blame Cognizance Lack

"Lack of communication and coordination" between the freshman and sophomore classes was the cause of the recent mixer "mix-up," according to Al Stones, freshman chairman of the event.

Stones stated that at a meeting yesterday with Miss Helen Dimmick, dean of women, representatives from both classes decided that, since "only four persons attended the mixer" and that "the mixer had been cancelled officially," it would be better to forget the whole thing.

In order that the "mess" doesn't occur again, there will be a mimeographed sheet stapled to approval sheets, giving all necessary information for approval, said Stones. Those meeting with Dean Dimmick were Don Fletcher, sophomore president; Harrison McCreath, sophomore adviser; Stan Croonquist, chief justice, and Stones.

Deadline To File Conflict Petitions

Today is the final day to file a petition for changes in final examination schedules, according to Dr. Harrison F. Heath, chairman of the Examination committee.

Students who are to be graduated from the summer sessions who plan to participate in Senior Week activities, must petition for a change in their finals if a conflict exists.

Campus Day Committee Invites Seniors' Relatives

Caps and Gowns

Graduation caps and gowns may be picked up at the Spartan Shop, according to the shop.

All parents, wives, husbands and other relatives of graduating seniors have been invited to attend Campus Day at San Jose State College on Thursday, June 17, according to Donna Harkleroad, chairman of the Campus Day committee.

Miss Harkleroad said letters have been sent to parents of seniors inviting them to attend Campus Day. This affair will feature a tour of the campus and a reception for parents, relatives, faculty and students.

First on the program, 2 to 3 p.m., will be a meeting of parents and department heads. Parents will have the opportunity of talking with the heads of departments that correspond to their sons' or daughters' major field of study.

All guests will be welcomed to the campus by SJS President John T. Wahlquist and Senior class President Bill Hushaw who will speak briefly. Dr. Dwight Bentel, chairman of the Police and Journalism departments, will show and narrate slides of the college. This phase of the Campus Day program will take place in the Music building auditorium from 3 to 4 p.m.

The reception will be held in the Women's gym from 4 to 5 p.m. Reception hosts will be the various department heads or their representatives and members of the Senior class.

Following Campus Day, the Senior Banquet will be held in Exposition Hall of the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds at 7 p.m. The fairgrounds are located at 7th St. and Tully Rd.

James F. Jacobs, Senior class adviser, said, "The ideal program for the parents of graduating seniors would be to attend the Campus Day and Senior Banquet on Thursday, June 17. Then on the following day they could go to the commencement exercises."

Jacobs stressed the point that this schedule should be exceptionally agreeable with parents who have to travel for some distance and who would like to rest some before returning home.

He pointed out that they would be able to rest Friday before the commencement exercises which will begin at 4 p.m. at Spartan Stadium, S. 7th St.

Rally's Finale

The final Rally committee meeting of the college year will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Room 25, according to Shunji Ito, Rally committee chairman.

The committee will divide into subcommittees and plan for next year's activities, Ito said. All members are urged to attend.

DR. WILLIAM H. COWLEY

Stanford Prof Will Give Talk At Class Dinner

"Are Professors Human?" This question and all of its ramifications will be the "humorous" topic of Dr. William H. Cowley, Stanford professor of higher education, when he speaks at the Senior Banquet, according to James F. Jacobs, Senior class adviser.

The Senior Banquet will be held in Exposition Hall of the Santa Clara Fairgrounds at 7 p.m. on June 17.

Jacobs said Dr. Cowley's speech will feature humorous anecdotes of famous professors across the nation.

Dr. Crowley has been a professor of higher education at Stanford since 1945. Before that he was the president of Hamilton College, an associate professor of psychology at Ohio State University and on the administrative staff of the University of Chicago.

A complete roast beef dinner will be served, according to Pat Temple, chairman of the banquet committee.

Dr. Winifred Ferris, modern language professor, will present keys to the 35 graduating seniors who are members of the Key club, the SJS equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa.

The evening will begin with a welcome from Senior Class President Bill Hushaw.

Miss Temple said that all persons attending the banquet should park automobiles in the parking lot at the corner of 7th St. and Tully Rd.

Jacobs said, "Everyone is invited; the seating capacity is 4500; so there'll be room for all." Tickets can be purchased in the Graduate Manager's office for $3. The banquet is free to graduating seniors who have paid their fees.

BILL HUSHAW

Alumni Slates Single Brunch

Only one Senior Brunch will be held, Bill Hushaw, Senior class president, announced recently.

The brunch will begin at 10:30 a.m. Monday at Lou's Village picnic area.

Miss Peggy Major, secretary of the Alumni Assn., sponsor of the brunch, said that the size of the graduating class, which is smaller than originally anticipated, makes it possible to have just one brunch.

According to the original schedule mailed to graduating seniors, two brunches would be held. They were scheduled for 11 a.m. on Monday and Wednesday of Senior Week. This would allow half the seniors to attend each brunch.

Hushaw stressed the point that the brunch is for seniors only and they cannot bring guests.

Student Group To Scan Cards

A change in policy governing Faculty Privilege cards will come before the Student Council for approval at today's meeting in the Student Union at 2:30 o'clock.

Under recommendations made by the College Athletic Advisory board, members of the faculty will buy the privilege cards for $5 each and will be allowed a maximum of two. Complimentary cards will be abolished if the recommendation is approved.

Students with enough points for inclusion in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" will be given certificates at the meeting.

The Council also will review applications for the Movie Production committee and make appointments to the committee. Yesterday two applications had been submitted. Five positions are open, according to President Art Lund. Application deadline is 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

751 Candidates Receive Degrees At 91st Annual Commencement

President John T. Wahlquist will confer 751 degrees at the college's 91st commencement exercises at Spartan Stadium June 18. The traditional ceremony will be held at 4 p.m.

The number of degrees is 162 fewer than the total conferred last spring because for the first time seniors who will not complete the requirements for graduation until the end of summer session will not be able to participate in the June 18 commencement.

Standout Pair To Be Named

The most outstanding male and female SJS students will be named Friday along with faculty members and other students who have contributed outstanding service to the student body, according to Bob Lindsay, chairman of the recognition committee.

Their names and the names of the lettermen of all SJS athletes will appear in Friday's issue of the Spartan Daily which is featuring the year's recognition awards.

Outstanding pair of students will receive wrist watches donated by the Jules Bozzi jewelers and others will receive the Associated Student Body Award certificates. Names of the outstanding pair will be engraved on a plaque which will be placed in the Student Union, states Lindsay.

Lindsay said that the committee has been working for the last five months in compiling the list of students who "deserve to be recognized."

"We have had a lot of trouble in choosing students. The two main qualities were the service to the student body and their scholastic record," he stated.

Thrust & Parry

Who Doesn't Like Lyke

Dear Thrust and Parry:
 If Bob Marshall's appallingly vile little poem in Tuesday's issue of this paper is any indication of his literary ability, he can be assured of retaining his editorial position of Lyke magazine until the magazine swamps itself in the ennu which it breeds quarterly in the students of San Jose State.

The poem is quite representative of that dubious humor that infects every issue of Lyke as well as the insipid feature articles that can be found hiding sheepishly among the borrowed works which students of other schools have created. All the little rhyme needs is an illustration by a three-year-old to give it that authentic Lyke flavor—or should I say aroma.

I believe that it is high time we woke up to the fact that there is some fine original talent on this campus. Our Drama, Art, Music and Radio-TV departments certainly do not belie this fact. Why can't Lyke catch a little of the original spirit of Reed? Why

NEW SJS SCIENCE BUILDING

Science Building Work May Start Within One Year

By DICK STEINHEIMER

The grass of the Outer Quad will reverberate to the hammering of pile-drivers and the sharp bite of diesel bulldozers within a year, if the estimate of Architect Edwin Shomate is correct.

Architect Shomate, of the State Division of Architecture, is the chief designer of the proposed $2,120,000 Natural Science addition, to be built across the gap between the Library and the present Science building.

The three-story structure is expected to double Natural Science facilities and furnish the college with several additional large lecture rooms.

Preliminary plans for the building were recently approved by the administration and final blueprinting has been started in Sacramento.

The new structure will be of modern design and will incorporate three floors of the same overall height as the present two-story building. Passage from 4th St. into the remaining area of the Outer Quad will be through two entrances. One will be a breezeway on the ground floor along the side of the Library, the other will be through a new entrance to the present building, cut at the juncture of the proposed and existing structures.

Roughly "L" shaped, part of the addition will jut out into the Outer Quad, with the center hallway of this wing approximately following the path of the existing walkway which goes from 4th St. past the Science building, into the Quad.

Architect Shomate told Dr. Carl D. Duncan, Division of Natural Science chairman, that it ordinarily requires from eight to ten months to make the final detailed drawings and then perhaps several months to obtain bids on them. As a result, he felt, it may be this time next year before ground can be broken.

Dr. Duncan was enthusiastic in his praise for the proposed building, in which he said many modern innovations have been incorporated.

Outstanding features planned are: display cases for hallways on each floor, and the special workrooms for housing the rock museum, the plant collection and the insect collection.

Chemistry labs will have large storerooms adjoining them and outlets will be provided for AC and DC electricity, compressed air, steam, distilled water, gas, hydrogen sulphide and just "plain old" city water.

The addition will offer three large lecture halls, of 91, 133 and 254 person capacity. In keeping with the state policy which frowns on large classes, the original idea of having a 350-seat hall was discarded.

The 254-person lecture hall will be located near the center of the Outer Quad, within the right angle formed by the two wings of the present building.

Proud of the "unity" of the staff of the Natural Science department, Dr. Duncan said he was definitely in favor of construction of the new addition adjacent to the existing structure. He felt it would help the Division to "remain functioning as a complete unit, rather than as several separate entities." In this way, too, it was not necessary to purchase extra land for the new facilities, he pointed out.

Departments moving completely into the planned building will be the Bacteriology, Botany, Entomology, Geology and Sanitation departments. He said Physics will be the only department to be divided between the two buildings. Architecturally, an attempt was made to make the two buildings "melt" into one large one, eliminating duplication and needless confusion.

The first floor will house Chemistry and Physics labs and the Division office, primarily, while the second floor will be taken up largely by Geology, Botany and Entomology rooms.

Anatomy, Physiology, Bacteriology and Sanitation labs will occupy most of the third floor.

The roof of the new wing will be the same height as the roof of the present two-story building. Floors between the two buildings on the first two levels will be even but the third floor of the addition will be built on the level that the attic of the old structure uses, Dr. Duncan said.

A much desired feature may be realized in the building, according to Dr. Duncan. He referred to the planned provision for possible development of the basement area of the new building. He said the development of the cellar area in the present structure had saved the Division from excessive over-crowding in the postwar years and that perhaps someday the same situation may arise again.

The original building was planned to serve students in a theoretical maximum school enrollment of 3500.

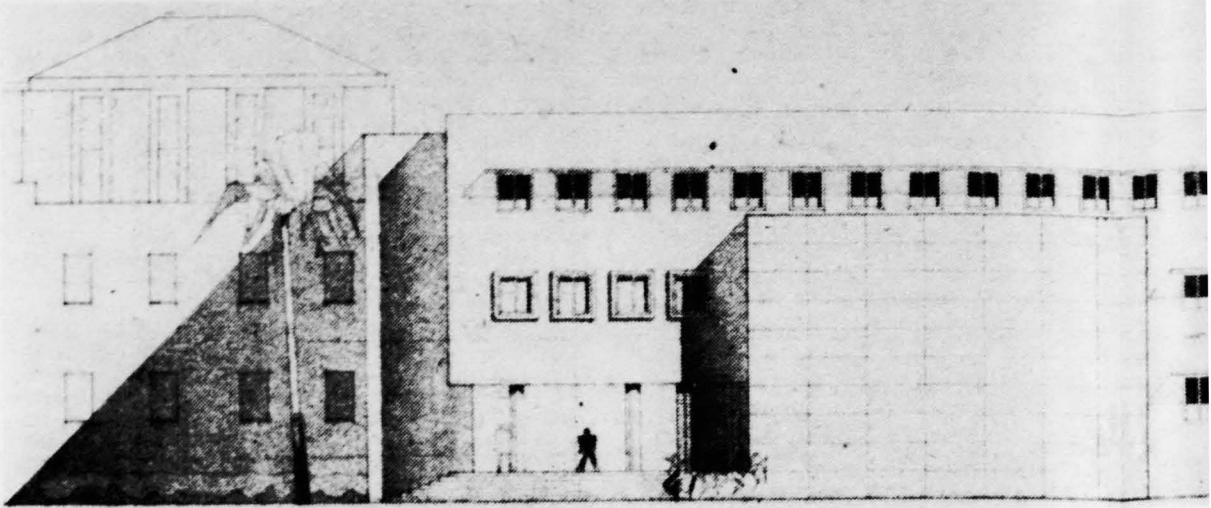

With completion of the proposed wing, the Division will have proper facilities for serving a 7000 person student body.

Pilings will be necessary to support the addition, as has been necessary in all other SJS construction, Dr. Duncan said. The area was once a swamp and a deep layer of mud still exists under the campus.

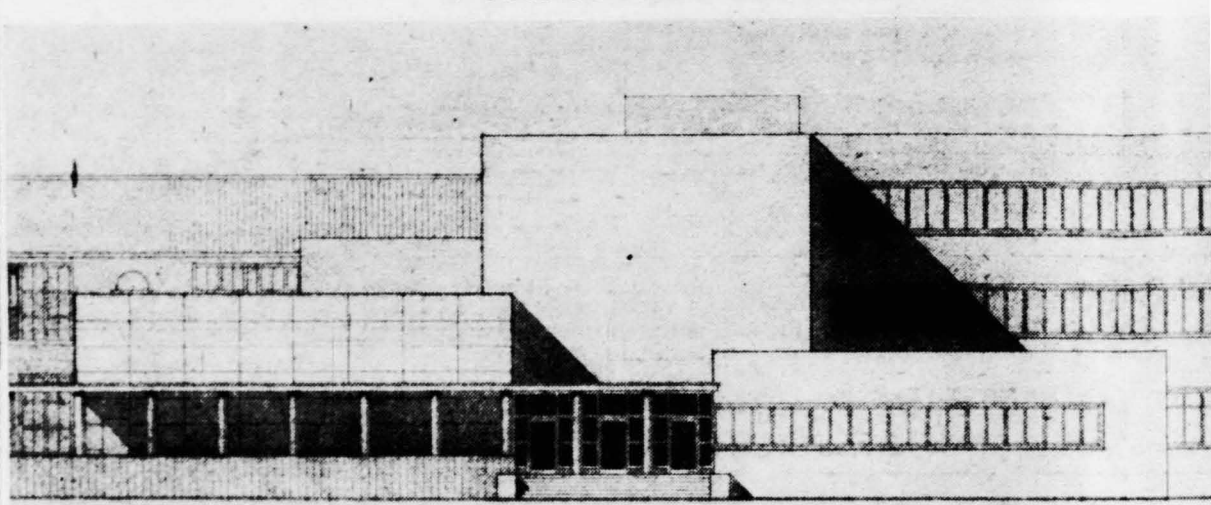

Planning for the new wing started in 1947 when Dr. P. Victor Peterson was chairman of Natural Science.

Thought it is mainly of historical interest now, Dr. Duncan told that one of the aims Dr. Peterson had in building the new addition was to have a "Student Center" in the basement level where students could eat and have small social events. The idea was disapproved.

Dr. Duncan stresses that the plans for the new wing are still tentative and "nothing is positive" but that he is very hopeful for final approval of the construction. The furniture of the present building was almost entirely built by hand, Dr. Duncan said, but the items going in the wing most likely will be prefabricated units of metal or wood.

A structurally interesting point is that the two buildings are not actually planned to be joined firmly. He gave the reason as being that the new one would be expected to settle in the soft ground and if it were joined solidly, "something would have to give."

Alpha Chi Epsilon To Feature Dinner

Alpha Chi Epsilon, SJS branch of the Assn. of Childhood Education, will feature a potluck dinner at 5:30 to 8 o'clock tomorrow night at their last meeting of the school year, announced Nina Teeslink, president.

The dinner will be held at 16 S. 11th St., the home of Miss Mabel Crumby, group adviser.

Miss Crumby, who is retiring this year, will be replaced as group adviser by Ruth Bradley, assistant professor of education.

Senior Don Visconti, who led the SJS varsity baseball team batters with a .342 batting mark, played high school baseball at Lincoln High in San Jose.

Two openings in the building will provide access to the Quad. On the left, a "breezeway" cuts through into the Library walkway. A new door will be made at the juncture of the wing and the present Science building, which will permit students to walk through to the Quad.

Dr. Carl D. Duncan, chairman of the Division of Natural Science, says that the proposed building will be outfitted with about $470,000 in equipment. Total cost of the building is estimated as $2,120,000.

Quad view of the building (bottom picture) shows approximately the view from the fountain, in the Outer Quad. A portion of the Library is shown on the right, and the overlapping of the new and old Science buildings is shown on the left.

A wing of the planned addition will jut out into the Outer Quad, roughly following the present walkway now lying between the fountain and 4th St. This wing will house the 254-person lecture hall. A covered walkway will be built leading from the main door of the present building and connecting with the north end of the wing lying inside the Outer Quad.

Construction is estimated to begin in approximately one year.

Zoology Prof Keeps Variety Of Odd Species

By DICK STEINHEIMER

German Felt Beer-Mat worms, "fly-nots" (wingless fruit flies) and a family of Guppies are some of the interesting specimens now under the care of Dr. Ralph A. Smith, professor of Zoology.

The "Beer-Mat worms" and the wingless fruit flies are new types of fish food being used for feeding the fish displayed in the Natural Science building. Dr. Smith explained that the worms are fairly rare and were discovered by a German scientist under a felt beer-mat in a beer garden. They average a bit over one millimeter in length and live in a solution of oatmeal and water.

"They are so small that many students have never been able to see them, and when they were received in the mail, no one could tell what was in the bottle." But before sending the bottle back, he happened to look closely at the solution and realized what was in it.

Now the original bottle full has grown into several tray loads and Dr. Smith feels that the department can act as a source for persons to obtain the worms.

He gathers them for feeding by floating a match stick on the surface of the oatmeal mixture. The little creatures will then instinctively climb aboard the "raft," which is then wiped off above the fish tank.

The "fly-nots," he said, are a commercially bred type of fruit fly which does not have wings, therefore furnishing an ideal form of food to feed Guppies and other water life.

Students wishing free Guppies might keep an eye on the "family" of guppies being displayed in the Natural Science building. Starting April 11, a select pair of the small fish were placed in a tank where they were left to multiply until the end of the quarter. At that time persons interested in receiving a pair may see Dr. Smith about obtaining them.

The first litter was born to the pair on Easter day and the tank now contains about two dozen guppies.

A syllabus on "The Care, Management and Breeding of Guppies" also will be given to those receiving fish.

SJS Junior Spends Two Weeks As Eisenhower's Private Secretary

By VIRGINIA GAUCH

How would you like to be a private secretary to Dwight D. Eisenhower for two weeks?

Pat Brommage, a junior secretarial-business major here, had that honor while she was serving with the Womens Army Corps in Washington, D.C.

At the time Eisenhower, a general, was at the Pentagon to prepare his speech for Congress. Because his staff was still overseas at the time he needed a group of secretaries to help him gather material for the speech.

In December the personnel officer at Fort Belvoir, Va., received a call from the Pentagon informing him that Gen. Eisenhower's staff for the Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe would include 10 WACs, and asked him to send one who was qualified.

"Before I went to Paris, I was assigned to work for Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. Alfred Gruenther in the Pentagon, and we went to

"His aides gathered the information and compiled it, and we secretaries typed and arranged it. But what impressed me most about the whole two weeks, was how hard everyone worked. We worked from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. with only time out to eat and sleep. Each person had a job to do, and he makes sure it gets done," she stated.

When the two weeks were over, Gen. Eisenhower delivered the message at a joint session, while his staff watched over television.

"It gave me the most wonderful feeling to watch and hear him say things that I had worked on and typed myself," Miss Brommage said.

"Another interesting experience while in Washington was working in the Pentagon. It took me practically the full two weeks to find my way around the building.

After the speech was given, Miss Brommage and the other secretaries were flown to Paris, where she was assigned to the signal division. Being general secretary for the division, she took dictation from all the offices, and had to learn to adjust her work to each nationality's idea of spelling form and punctuation.

"In the first week there I had the interesting experience of watching several Communist riots in front of our office building. We found it best not to wear our uniforms during our off-duty hours," she said.

Home Ec Management House Gives Girls Useful Experience

By BETTY BENNETT

To teach girls what Mom had to learn the hard way, through years of experience in budgeting and managing a home, is the purpose of the Home Management House at 282 S. 8th St. Every six weeks five girls move into this homelike school building to learn the ins and outs of home management, under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Frances Morgan.

"This is a course designed to give the girls an experience in living," Mrs. Morgan said. In their six week stay the five girls plan the management of the house, carry the plans out, and then evaluate the success of their planning. It's an upper division requirement for all Home Economics majors.

At home in the beige and brown six room house now are Yolanda Brandt, Flora Burnham, Jacquelyn Rogers, Marian Sousa, and Betty Wiser. The six weeks are divided into fifths, with each girl taking a shift at each of the household duties.

Breakfast is served at 7 each morning of the five day week, so the cook gets up at 6 to get things started. She cooks all three meals for the day. Each girl cooks 15 or 16 meals in the course. The cook's other duties include meal planning, and shopping within the $30 per week budget.

Assistant cook helps the cook, serves, and does the dishes. The laundress takes care of the house laundry, mending and ironing, besides drying the dishes. The housekeeper dusts, cleans the house, etc.

The best job on the master plan of duties is that of hostess. She is in charge of the door and telephone. Flower arrangements are in her care, and she plans house parties.

SJS is the only state college to have a Home Management house. (Cal has a penthouse on top of their Home Ec department). It's an attractive house, designed to make everyone feel at home. The living room and dining room are decorated in shades of green and brown.

The kitchen is well equipped—except, the girls complain, for an "antiquated" refrigerator, which is soon to be replaced, the Home Ec department hopes. Plans are under way to purchase a new clothes dryer to match the automatic washer.

Liberace Free

CHICAGO, June 7—(UP)—A dappled Shetland pony named Liberace was freed Monday on a parking charge and the policeman who arrested the animal got a bawling out from the judge.

Liberace and his driver, Wilhelm Von Budde, 23, of the Ambassador riding academy, were arrested last May 18 by Patrolman Jack Muller.

The pony had been hitched to a tiny surrey to advertise a night club. Muller charged that Liberace was parked illegally and that Von Budde had no horse license, a state requirement.

TV's Mr. Peepers Weds Actress Down on the Farm

ST. MICHAEL'S, Md., June 8—(UP)—Wally Cox, television's "Mr. Peepers," was married Monday just two weeks and a day after the meek school teacher he portrays took the vows on TV.

Cox, 29, was married to Miss Marilyn Gennaro, a 20-year-old actress now playing in the new Broadway hit, "The Pajama Game." It was the first marriage for both.

Only a dozen persons attended the brief ceremony which took place in the backyard of a farm belonging to Donald Seawell, a friend of the couple.

Seawell said Cox chose the site because he always wanted a "quiet" wedding.

Peter Turgeon, who has played several roles on the "Mr. Peepers" show, acted as best man.

Tobacco Chewing Cowpoke Greets Haile Selassie

CHICAGO, June 8—(UP)—The Emperor of Ethiopia got a hand-shaking western welcome today from a huge tobacco-chewing cowpoke from Montana.

As Emperor Haile Selassie toured the huge Chicago stockyards, newsmen corraled 35-year-old Cliff Wesley of Missoula, Mont., and pushed him forward to shake hands with his majesty. Wesley, standing 6 feet, 6 inches tall and wearing a cowboy hat, blue jeans and boots, shoved a big hand forward and said:

"Sure glad to meet you, King." The Emperor, a short and slight man, looked somewhat bewildered at the towering westerner who was wearing a bright green shirt emblazoned with white figures showing cowboys roping steers and horses.

WE'RE BITTER

This week through the graciousness of Editor-in-Chief Ed Pope we were allowed to run a story on the front page notifying skiers that a coach was needed to replace Herb Blatt. In order to call it to the attention of the skiers, we directed our message to the Ski club. Yesterday Doug Fox, president of the Ski club, came into the office and said that we hadn't distinguished between the Ski Team which represents San Jose State in intercollegiate competition and the Ski club. He's right, we didn't. We didn't because we wanted the Ski Team to have a coach and continue its intercollegiate competition. The thing that frosted us was being accused of not knowing the difference between the Ski Team and the Ski Club. We have refused to put Ski Club information on the sports page, and in fall quarter we didn't allow our sports editor, Keith Kaldenbach to put Ski club information on his sports page. If that isn't discriminating between the two, we don't know what is.

SHAPE UP MEN

If you think that Roger Bannister and Wes Santee have a monopoly on the mile run, we've got news for you. The other day we found out that Coaches Bob Bronzan, Bill Perry and Gene Menges get out stop watches in the fall and make the returning football players go after a 6:30 mile. Any of the gridmen who can't break 6:30 are considered out of shape. You should have heard Jim Nakagawa groan when Bill told him, Jim claims that he can't run a mile.

REMINDER

Football players who practiced this spring are reminded to attend the no-barbecue at the barbecue pits at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening. Ice cream and cake will be served, we hear. The coaches promise that the meeting will not last over an hour.

SORRY ELI

Yesterday when we enumerated the tackles we left out, inadvertently Eli Gardner, Eli showed up well in spring practice and will play a lot of minutes if he doesn't win a starting berth. He's a rough and tough tackle, and we hope leaving him out made him mad enough to make the first team.

TOUGH LUCK FELLOWS

Members of the track team who thought that they might get to go to Ann Arbor, Mich., to participate in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn annual meet were denied their dream yesterday. Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft, head of the Athletic department, decided that there wasn't enough money in the budget that dead week is a poor week to travel, that the athletes should study for finals, and that the men's chances weren't very good. In case anyone has forgotten "Tiny" was track coach at San Jose State for a long time, and he was disappointed a few times himself. "Tiny" made his decision, and we're sure it was a tough one. Maybe, next year.

FOUR IN A ROW

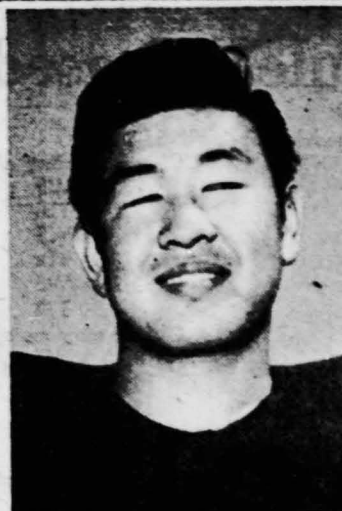

Art Rosenbaum, a columnist for a rival paper, stated the other day that California's Golden Bears might open the 1954 football season with four losses in a row. It looks like Art likes our chances against the Bears since San Jose State is the second opponent for UC. If you wonder what Art looks like, he's the short man hiding under a red baseball cap at summer sporting events. He usually sits near Bob Brachman, a sports writer for still another rival paper. You can tell them apart because Brachman looks more out of shape than Art. The redhead who shows up with them frequently is Walt Gamage.

Hoax Story Almost Fools Editors; SJS Not in PCC

By JOE BRYAN

About this time of year when editors are getting weary it's possible to pull a fast one on them. Someone almost got away with it in this story.

Editor Ed Pope and yours truly were having a big argument as to whether or not the story belonged on the front page or the sports page when Wire Editor Bob Smith informed us that the story hadn't come off the teletype, but was a hoax. We enjoyed it, and hope that the readers do.

Danny Hill admitted that he called the San Francisco Chronicle to verify the story.

Bill Hubbard said that he would certainly have been available for comment, if the story was true.

Tiny Hartranft read it and laughed.

So did Jerry Vroom.

Here's the story:

BULLETIN
SPOKANE, Wash., June 8 (UP)—San Jose State College and the College of the Pacific were admitted as "conditional" members of the Pacific Coast Conference today at the meeting of the PCC here.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 8 (UP)—In a surprise move, San Jose State College and the College of the Pacific were given status as "conditional" members of the Pacific Coast Conference at the conference's spring meeting today.

San Jose State College has clamored for recognition by the conference since the school turned big-time in football four years ago. It had been the hope of San Jose State alumni and students that the PCC would recognize the fast-rising independent.

In a sweeping move, the PCC recognized the two schools on a conditional basis. Provided the two schools maintain the high athletic standards of the PCC, they can be instated as full members "within a few years."

The motion to admit the schools was brought up by the University of California Athletic department and passed with only University of Southern California and Washington State College dissenting.

University of California Head Football Coach Lynn (Pappy)

Waldorf told the United Press, "I believe that the move will strengthen the conference."

"The addition of these two schools will probably necessitate dividing the conference into northern and southern divisions," Waldorf predicted. "Both San Jose State and College of the Pacific are great athletic schools. Every time we play either in any sport we know we'll have a scrap on our hands."

The heads of the athletic departments of San Jose State and College of the Pacific were not available for comment.

Arizona Ball Team To Play in NCAA Tourney at Omaha

GREELEY, Colo., June 8 (UP)—Arizona headed for the NCAA baseball tournament at Omaha today, having clearly demonstrated that it has no peer in the Rocky Mountain area.

The Border Conference champion Wildcats needed 11 innings to beat Colorado State, 8-5, in the final game of the NCAA district 7 playoffs, which included Wyoming, Monday. But otherwise the playoffs had been a breeze.

Arizona started off by defeating Colorado State, the Rocky Mountain Conference champ, 8-2. Then the Wildcats turned on Wyoming, the Skyline Conference winners, 16-9. Three times in early season Arizona had trounced the Cowboys, and Wyoming in turn had twice beaten Colorado State before the play-off.

Colorado State earned its second shot at Arizona by sledge-hammering Wyoming, 21-14, in the third game of the double elimination play-off.

The Bears carried their fire into the rubber game with a five-run outburst in the first inning off Benny Rincon, Arizona's unbeaten pitching ace.

But the Cats plugged steadily along and tied the score, 5-5, in the ninth. With the bases loaded in the 11th, Russ Gragg and Sam Zinkovich singled in turn to drive home the winning runs.

Hot off the Wire

LOS ANGELES, June 8 (UP)—Luxembourg's Josy Barthel should push Kansas' Wes Santee to a new world's record in the mile when they clash in Friday night's meet of champions, according to predictions here.

Twenty-one of the 27 track writers at yesterday's Southern California track writers' meeting predicted Barthel will make Santee smash the record of 3:59.4 held by England's Roger Bannister.

Santee himself, however, was not quite so confident about beating Barthel, Olympic Games 1500-meter champion in 1952.

Santee added that "it's a lot harder to beat the man than beat the clock."

SPOKANE, Wash., June 8 (UP)—Basketball held the spotlight today at the Pacific Coast Conference spring meeting but the question of spring football practice could bob up at any time and take over the starring role.

Faculty representatives of the nine PCC schools were to discuss the possibility of combining northern and southern division basketball play today.

No one was saying so but it was believed the idea of a conference-wide hoop schedule was doomed to failure because travel time involved would keep athletes away from classes too much.

The question of spring football practice was apparently solved a year ago when directors voted to abolish it beginning in 1956. That vote was bolstered a month ago when presidents of the PCC schools met and voted unanimously to retain the ban.

Veteran Trio, Transfers Aid Center Berth

Center position on the 1954 Golden Raider football team will be 50 per cent improved, according to Coach Bob Bronzan. Returning lettermen include Tom Yagi, Jerry Ruse and Dick Fleager. Behind this trio are John Perkins and Jerry Ledin, transfers from Hartnell College.

Three awards winners return to the guard position. They are Tom Louderback, Stan Galas and Ron Green. There is a lack of experienced depth at the spot, but several men shined in spring practice. Tom Powers, declared ineligible with Joe Ulm, Clarence Wessman and Dick Thomas last fall, is the alert lineman who raced 65 yards for a touchdown during the "Spring Bowl" game. Jim Davis, from East Los Angeles Junior College, looked good. Also, Charlie Kaihue may return to the guard post. He was shifted to tackle during the spring drills.

Four San Jose State College athletes hold Spartan Field records. They are Billy Smith, 100-yd. dash; Lang Stanley, 880-yard run; Willie Steele, broad jump; and George Mattos, pole vault.

Ito Announces Big Rally Plan For Football

A full schedule of events has been planned for every game on the Spartan slate for the 1954 football season, Shunji Ito, Rally committee chairman, announced yesterday.

The committee plans to begin with the annual "Activifies Night" Sept. 15 when applications will be taken for positions on the Rally committee.

A military band and rooting section will be present at the Utah game on Sept. 18, and the first big rally of the year will be held Sept. 23 prior to the University of California game.

The Rally committee intends to give the Cal game the "works" with card stunts, a rooting section, cheers led by the song and yell leaders and music furnished by the Spartan Band.

A send-off for the football game will be held on Oct. 1, the day before the Idaho game, according to Ito. Successive send-offs will be held Oct. 8 for the Arizona game and for the Oregon contest on Oct. 22.

Ito hopes that busses will carry students to the Oregon game and lists this as a "distinct possibility."

A send-off for the team will be held Oct. 29 for the North Texas State game.

Exchange rallies are planned to build student spirit for the annual "big game" with College of the Pacific. A rally by COP will be produced on campus Nov. 1, and the Spartan rally crew will travel to Stockton for a similar affair Nov. 2.

The annual rally will be given in Morris Dailey auditorium Nov. 4, and a large Spartan rooting section, flag girls, song and yell leaders, card stunts will be included in the game which usually draws the biggest crowd of any game on the Golden Raider schedule. The Rally committee also plans to send a float to participate in the COP homecoming parade.

A bonfire rally will be held Nov. 11 for the Stanford game on Nov. 15, which will be the SJS homecoming game with the entire half-time devoted to SJS homecoming activities, Ito said.

A rally for the Fresno game will be held Nov. 18, and a rally Nov. 23 with a rooting section will end the season with the New Mexico game Nov. 27, according to Ito.

Song leaders who were recently chosen are Jeane Bullok, head song girl; Carole Barlin, Betty Richert, Trish Meyers, Joanne McAllister and Carol Card.

Bob Jolly is head yell leader and his assistants are Joe Hernandez, Dan Douglas, Joe Alves, and Swede Elie.

Members of the Rally committee executive committee are Ito, chairman; Bill Dubbin, first vice chairman; Bob Lindsey, second vice chairman; Joan Doyle, recording secretary; Audrey Hosford, corresponding secretary; Sue Randel, treasurer, and Jacquelyn Wood, head flag girl.

Dick Brady, big first baseman for the Spartans, hit .323 in both the 1952 and 1953 seasons.

A prize was awarded to John C. Lane, from the class of 1904, for having traveled the furthest distance to attend the annual Alumni Day festivities. Mr. Lane, 90, traveled from San Diego County to attend Saturday's program.

Gene Arnold received a trophy at the Saturday morning golf tournament for netting a score of 63.

Y Group Holds Tolowa Retreat

A planning retreat was held Friday and Saturday at Camp Tolowa by members of the Student Y, according to the Rev. James Martin, executive director of the Student Y.

The installation of the newly elected officers and formation of plans for next year were the two main activities carried on at the retreat.
