Australian Psychiatrist Speaks On Communist Conquest Plan

Dr. Fred C. Schwarz, noted physician and psychiatrist from Sydney, Australia, will speak this morning at 11:30 o'clock, in the Music Building Concert Hall. His subject will be "Overall Communist Plans for World Conquest".

Dr. Schwarz believes that communism is the burning issue of our times. He visions 800 million people controlled by the Communists, scientifically brainwashed and trained to enslave the free world.

Now beginning a carefully planned world tour which includes going to the major university cities of America, Dr. Schwarz is making a special point of giving talks to educational centers. He believes this is where the Communists are concentrating their campaign.

He has spent the last eighteen months probing the minds of the Reds to find out what they think and believe, and feels he has the best means of understanding the communists.

He has made a close study of the well known Petrov spy case, recently investigated by an Australia royal commission and has the complete story behind the spy ring in his country. He claims that the same spy pattern is operating in every country of the free world, including the United States.

Plans for the Frosh-Soph Mixer and election of a class activities officer are the main items of business for the Freshman class meeting in the Morris Dailey Auditorium at 3:30 p. m. today, according to Dick Takaha, temporary class president.

The traditional mixer, slated for Oct. 15, will be explained to the freshmen by a sophomore class representative. The Sophomore class is sponsoring this quarter's mixer.

Election of the activities officer was carried over to this meeting because of lack of time at last Monday's meeting, when the other class officers were elected.

The cards are 50 cents and are valid until Dec. 17, 1954.

College Faces 'Slim' Problem

A college problem for the 1954-55 school year will be to make the 8159 students registered now, slim down to the 6687 full-time equivalent enrollment limit set by the State.

Expected to eliminate the overflow student study loads restrictions, reductions in limited enrollments and a cut-down on new student registration.

A breakdown of registration shows 7669 full-time and 490 limited students now in attendance at the college, according to Glen Guttormsen, accounting officer.

World News Briefs

U.S., England, France Agree On West Germany Sovereignty

LONDON, Oct. 1—(UP)—The United States, Britain and France agreed in principle today to issue a declaration of intent to restore West German sovereignty and to relax their occupation even before full sovereignty is effective.

Informed sources said the three occupying powers agreed to make only limited use of the occupation statute after this nine-power conference is ended. This would ease the occupation even before West Germany becomes an independent nation.

SOCIAL SECURITY UP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(UP)—Social Security benefits will be boosted by 12 per cent for some 6,500,000 persons who receive their checks today.

The government mailed out the bigger benefit checks to the beneficiaries Saturday, the Social Security Administration announced. The recipients are retired workers and families of workers who have died.

REDS BOMBARD QUEMOY

TAIPEI, Formosa, Oct. 1—(UP)—Communist shore batteries on mainland China renewed their bombardment of Nationalist-held Quemoy and Little Quemoy Islands today.

The new firing, which lasted all day, followed several days of Red silence. There were no counterattacks by Nationalist planes.

Chief Justice Stan Croonquist slated Friday, "This is an unprecedented situation. We have no previous decisions to refer to."

Miss Green stated she would not try to prove her eligibility. "I did not realize that it was a strict ruling when I applied for the petition," she commented.

Office seekers for the other two classes will receive their petitions this morning whether or not their class eligibility lists were submitted, Croonquist stated. "Later, if a candidate is found to be ineligible, his name will be withdrawn from the election race," he explained.

Take Us For Granted

Taking for granted their right to do it, thousands of San Jose State College students and faculty members today, as any other day throughout the college year, picked up a copy of Spartan Daily, glanced through the news columns, and went on to class.

Taking the Daily for granted is good. It is a compliment to the staff of any newspaper in this nation when readers accept a paper as part of their regular lives; therefore, taking it for granted.

Today marks the fourth day of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8, and also marks another publication date for the 20-year-old Spartan Daily which was given its present name April 9, 1934.

What difference does National Newspaper Week as such mean to you? None. It is just another week in your lives and in the history of the press, but its meaning is symbolic to you and anyone else who can take a free press for granted.

It is the time of year when editors throughout the nation try to open their papers to the public, so to speak, to show people the real purpose and physical operation of newspapers.

Spartan Daily stands in the unique position of leading a double life. It is your newspaper as any newspaper might be and it also is a classroom project for students interested in newspapering or its related fields for their future occupations.

Editorially, the students writing Spartan Daily have a simple purpose in mind, a purpose they feel is professional and above reproach. This purpose is to "mirror" the campus community and help to guide it honestly and sincerely.

The latter part of the purpose is most often accomplished, but the "mirroring" of the campus is the part of the Daily's, or any other newspaper's, job that hits the most snags and ends on the rocks, so to speak.

"Mirroring" the campus simply means to reflect the personality of the college, to show its goings-on, and to inform its students and faculty of things which might concern them. In mirroring a campus or a town, it is necessary to write both good news and bad news.

It is not the newspaper's fault if something drastic and embarrassing happens here, but it is the Spartan Daily's duty to inform its readers of the happening.

Embarrassing errors often appear in newspapers because some news sources did not cooperate with the reporter in search of a story. Reporters and the Daily are not out to hurt anyone, but it is the duty of the paper to inform its readers. When stories come out and someone begins to yell about the story not carrying both sides or the whole truth, the person who yells usually is the one who said "no comment" to the reporter.

Office Slates Job Meetings For Students

All teacher candidates desiring teaching positions for fall of 1955 should attend one of two meetings given this week, according to Miss Doris K. Robinson, director of teacher placement.

The meetings will be held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons in Room 24 at 3:30 o'clock. It will not be necessary to attend both the meetings, since the same topic will be discussed on both days, Miss Robinson said.

Topics discussed at the meetings will include establishment of a placement file, information concerning placement procedures and teaching opportunities.

December graduates who already have established files need not attend, but should check with the Placement Office to make sure their records are in order.

Home Ec Class Coeds Learn Stitch in Time

By CAROL BISBEE

The homemakers of tomorrow may be able to sew as fine a seam as their mothers even though the techniques of other household duties are becoming a lost art!

One of the features of the San Jose State College Home Economics Department is its series of clothing courses offered to both lower and upper division students.

Fundamental processes of sewing are taught in Clothing 21A. Students make a notebook containing all the fundamental stitches, seams and fasteners.

They also learn how to take body measurements correctly and to check a pattern by them.

They make a cotton blouse and skirt, to demonstrate what they have learned.

Five classes in fundamentals of sewing are divided between three department professors.

Construction of a full length lined wool coat is the main project of students in Clothing 121. They pre-shrink their wool yardage by the London shrinking method which involves wrapping the wool yardage in a wet sheet overnight and drying it the next morning. It is not unusual to lose 3 or 4 inches of material due to shrinking.

Tailoring techniques are taught on a small size mock jacket. Students learn tailoring which they apply in making a full scale wool suit later on in the course.

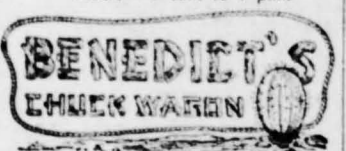

Workmen To End Roofing Job Soon

Fumes, from a belly-shaped pot of boiling tar, which have shrouded the campus several weeks, are expected to end within three weeks as workmen end a roofing project on the Main Building, John T. Amos, director of buildings and grounds, said today.

Beginning the first week in September, workmen are shingling and tarring the Reserve Book Room and most of the Main Building roofs except a portion behind the Tower.

5 ft. 9 in., 155 pounder, served as a one-man wrecking crew as he zig-zagged to four touchdowns in leading San Jose State over Idaho, 38-7, to spoil the Vandal Homecoming here Saturday before 10,000 fans in wind-swept Neale Stadium.

The Vandals struck paydirt in the first quarter but from then on it was all Hiram, as the Senior back whistled through the Idaho line on scoring jaunts of 3, 36, 10 and 15 yards.

Hiram, who saw action for the first time this season after being sidelined with a knee injury, tallied TD No. 1 going over right end from the three, climaxing a drive that was set up when pass interference was called while Clarence Wessman was attempting to snag a 47-yard Benny Pierce aerial at the four.

Tony Teresa kicked his first of two successful conversions with Pat Hiram holding, tying the score, 7-7, with 1:35 gone in the second period.

Guard Tom Louderback recovered a fumble by Wilbur Gary of Idaho on the Vandal 36 where Hiram took the ball on the second play from scrimmage and rambled for his second teedee with only 3:58 minutes elapsed in the quarter.

Hiram drove over right end for the final 10 yards in a drive that carried 50 yards in eight plays with six minutes gone in the second stanza to give State a 20-7 lead. Runs by Teresa for 11 and Hiram for 16 yards highlighted the march.

The shifty little Hawaiian collected his fourth touchdown by racing 16 yards through right guard with 3:56 gone in the third quarter.

Intramural Plan Meeting Today

Intramural football representatives will meet in Room 6 of the Men's Gym at 4 p.m. tomorrow to plot preliminary plans for the coming season, according to Joe Rodriguez, intramural program director.

The topics for discussion at the first meeting of the 1954 season will include: rules, division of leagues, fees to be paid by the teams, officials and number of games per week.

Entry blanks obtained since Friday in the Men's Gym Office must be turned in at the meeting, Rodriguez said.

SJS Gridder With Marines

Former SJS standout tackle John Hamber is listed on the squad of "one of the more loaded football teams in the country," the Quantico Marine squad, according to the Oct. 3 issue of "Football Digest."

Hamber won a tackle slot on the star-studded Marine squad that gained the All-Service championship finals last year.

The Marine team boasts such college stars as Gene Filipski of Villanova, Ike Eisenhower, Navy All-American and Bill Tate of Illinois.

Hamber is a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

the case of the stuck-up salesman

When police arrived at the college haberdashery, they shook their heads in disbelief. Instead of being gagged and bound, the salesman was actually glued to the floor. They took quick stock of the clues... an empty glue pot, several odd-shaped pieces of cloth scattered about, an empty show-case, an empty cash drawer. Ingenious shirt-robbery!

"Ugg glub," said the salesman, still all stuck-up... stuck down, rather.

When they finally got him extricated with hot water and chisels, he thanked them nicely and said, "What's the matter with you jerks? I haven't been robbed."

"No," he explained, "I was simply making a demonstration of the Van Heusen Century shirt for some of the boys. Showed them why the revolutionary one-piece Century collar just won't wrinkle ever. Told 'em how regular collars are made of three layers of cloth, 'glued' and stitched together. I glued a set, just for emphasis... learned to demonstrate in Woolworth's."

"Get on with it," said the detective.

"Well, I showed 'em how these 3-piece jobs wrinkle and wilt quickly even with starch or stays. I said the Van Heusen Century collar would stay neat always—without starch or stays—or their money back. When I told 'em that Van Heusen Centurys gave 'em lots more wear than ordinary shirts, yet cost the same price (just $3.95 for whites and $4.50 for colors) they bought me out. I was so overjoyed, I did a little jig and tripped over the glue pot. Got stuck up."

"Oh, yeah?" yeathed the detective. "Well, where's all the dough?"

"Oh, college men never pay. They just charge everything to Dad."

(Editor's note: Oh, yeah?)

Dr. Rathbun To Discuss 'The Human Enterprise'

Dr. Harry Rathbun, professor of law at Stanford University, will speak on "The Human Enterprise" tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in Room E-118, according to Bill Miller, Student Y president.

This will be the first of three lectures which Dr. Rathbun will present on the general topic "The Religion of Jesus in the Light of Modern Knowledge", Miller said.

Dr. Rathbun received an engineering degree from Stanford, and later obtained his Doctor of Laws degree from that institution. He is also an active member of the California Bar Assn.

In 1950, when Life Magazine requested the Stanford students to select two members of their faculty for the title of "Great Teacher," Dr. Rathbun was designated as one.

The two remaining lectures will be presented on the succeeding Tuesday evenings, Oct. 12, the lecture will be "Who Am I?" and on Oct. 19, he will speak on "The Goal and the Way".

All students and faculty who are interested are cordially invited to attend, Miller said.

Alpha Chi Omega To Install Officers

Nine sorority officers will be installed by the Alpha Chi Omega tonight, according to Gloria Brown, publicity chairman.

The women were elected to fill vacancies which had arisen during the summer.

New officers are: Pat Fendt, corresponding secretary; Connie Seymour, chaplain; Mickey Miner, warden; Marilyn Reinstedt, AWS representative; Pat Doll, activities chairman; Gloria Brown, publicity chairman and Diane Morris, scholarship.

Department approvals of majors (except education majors) and minors should be filed with the Registrar before applying for graduation. Forms for this purpose are available at the office.

Y Groups Discuss Two Topics Today

"Faith, Sex and Love", and "You, the Nation and the World" will be the topics under discussion today at 3:30 p. m. in the first of a series of Student Y sponsored interest groups, according to Bill Miller, president.

The discussions will take place at the Student Y, 272 S. 7th St.
