

SJS Campus-City Officials Discuss Traffic

Students suffering from anti-walk-waititis were given a shot in the arm yesterday when a special committee representing the city and SJS met to iron out problems of enforcing traffic signal regulations.

"It's time for San Jose State College students to break their old habits and develop new ones," Arthur Philpott, San Jose traffic analyst, said. He pointed out that an educational program, probably sponsored by a campus service club, will solve the problem of students not obeying the on-campus walk-wait signals along 7th street.

Dean of Students Stanley C. Benz and Art Lund, ASB president, agreed that this plan probably will work.

David Kaye, managing director of Santa Clara County Safety Council, suggested a program of signs and humorous cards to boost awareness of the signals. Committee members agreed that one of the serious problems is that of jaywalkers, who cross the street without heeding the marked crossing zones.

John Amos, SJS director of buildings and grounds, said a campus security officer could be stationed on 7th street to enforce the signals between periods.

Philpott pointed out that under such a plan, it will be merely a matter of time before all students change their habits and obey the walk-wait signals.

"Generally speaking," Philpott said, "the student reaction has been good and seems to be improving."

It was agreed that consideration should be given to supporting the walk-wait signal program with enforcement.

Lieutenant Elmer L. Klein, of San Jose Police Department declared, "the last thing we want to do is put police officers at the signals to ride herd on students."

Lt. Klein mentioned the possibility of giving the campus security officer authority to issue regular San Jose traffic citations to both pedestrians and motorists. Amos said investigation will be made and the officer posted at the signals if students continue to suffer from anti-walk-waititis.

Philpott said that the Police Department has received several complaints from irate citizens about students refusing to clear crossing zones when the wait signal is on.

Amos suggested that one of the causes for breeches of the rule is the confusion when the lights change from normal blinking to walk-wait.

"The fact that the signals work only 14 minutes each hour, adds to the confusion," Amos said, explaining that many students cross the street when the signals are dormant and forget to notice the lights when they are in action.

Philpott stated that because 7th street is a major artery in the traffic plan of San Jose, it would be impossible to close off the street.

Drop Deadline

Spartan, the days are numbered . . .

Last day for students to drop courses is Monday, Oct. 18, according to the Registrar's office.

Nominations Open

Application blanks are now available in the Activities office for nominations of campus leaders whose names will be included in the "Who's Who" listing in American colleges and universities. Monday is the final day.

Frosh-Sophs Vie At Mixer Tonight

Freshmen and sophomores will vie tonight for the traditional Frosh-Soph Mixer plaque when the mixer is held in the Women's Gym at 8 o'clock. The dress is campus wear.

Sophomores are confident that they will retain possession of the plaque, according to Jim Tormey, Frosh-Soph Mixer publicity chairman. The freshmen, according to their president, Dick Takaha, are just as sure they will win it.

Who gets the trophy is determined by which class adds up the most points in competition in four categories. The winning class of each event is awarded 25 points.

The first event of the evening will be the tug-of-war, Tormey said. Following this will be other games and entertainment.

Social dancing will complete the evening's activities. During this time a dancing contest will be held between picked groups from each class.

Both Takaha and Tormey emphasized that attendance also counts 25 points in the scoring.

Campus Groups Go Underground

The newly formed Spartan Dug-Out committee yesterday announced that a workshop and meeting room along with 18 lockers are available for campus organization use.

Dean Taking Nat. Sci. 110 Registrations

Registration for public safety lecture series are now being taken in the Dean of Instruction's office, Room 120, Dr. Gertrude Cavins announced yesterday. The first set of three lectures is slated for Oct. 25, 27 and 29 and the second series which will be identical to the first, will be given Dec. 6, 8 and 10.

Times for the lectures will be 11:30 a.m. for the first series and 3:30 p.m. for the second.

Students who have forgotten the numbers of their assigned seats in the Morris Dailey Auditorium also may find them out at the office, according to Dr. Cavins. "There will be no ushers," she commented. "Students must be able to find their own seats promptly."

Polls Are Open For Fall ASB, Queen Election

The polls opened this morning and before they close at 4 p.m. Spartans will have the chance to choose 11 class officers and 10 homecoming queen semi-finalists.

Although the individual class officers will be elected by their classes the entire student body will elect a female and male sophomore justice and the queen semi-finalists.

"It wouldn't take more than five minutes for any student to vote," Stan Croonquist, chief justice, commented yesterday. "With the poll arrangement in the Inner Quad the time is cut greatly," he stated.

There will be 20 enclosed booths to hasten the voting process, according to Croonquist.

To be eligible to vote, a student must present his ASB card with his class stamped on it. If this card is not stamped it must be taken to the Graduate Manager's office for stamping before the student can vote.

Election results will be broadcast over radio station KRRX tonight during the "Spartan Salute" show and on later newscasts. An announcement will be made at the Frosh-Soph Mixer.

Operating the booths during the day will be Spartan Spears and Shield members and Alpha Phi Omega brothers, national service fraternity.

Campaign posters must be taken down by 6 p. m., according to Croonquist.

"During the ASB election last spring, the highest total vote ever cast was recorded. Since the election again will be outside this time and 26 coeds are competing for queen, I think this could be the largest vote on a percentage basis ever cast here," Croonquist stated.

Sigma Delta Chi To Pick Delegate

Sigma Delta Chi members will meet Monday at 4:30 p.m. in Room J-107 to elect a delegate to send to the annual convention at Columbus, Ohio, next month, President Dick Jones reported yesterday.

The professional journalistic fraternity will issue the special "send home" edition of the Spartan Daily Tuesday, according to the fraternity schedule. Copies will be available in the Outer Quad.

Council Supports Dry Rushing Rule

The President's Council last night agreed to support a Fraternity-Sorority Governing Board recommendation that no beer or alcoholic beverages be served at fraternity rush functions.

Acceptance of the governing board's recommendation ends a two-week old dispute which arose when a beer restricting clause appeared in the Interfraternity Council Constitution which officially had not been put into the document.

State Group Predicts Triple Enrollment

Enrollment figures in California colleges and universities are expected to triple by 1965, Dr. Fred Harclerod, dean of instruction, stated early this week. The prediction, announced in a meeting of the Articulation committee held recently in Berkeley, is based solely on population growth within the state and thus does not include the increases which will result from the influx of out-of-state residents.

"San Jose State's plan for meeting the crisis will be to work for an adequate budget to provide the opportunity for all those who wish to come to the college," Dr. Harclerod said.

In addition to studying the population predictions at the meeting, the conference delegates, who represented high schools, junior and four-year colleges throughout the state, also discussed graduate programs, transfer advisory systems and other problems of coordination between the three types of education institutions.

Though IFC favors a dry rushing rule, the clause which prohibited beer at rush functions was stricken from its constitution in emergency action by President Bob Goforth, when it was learned that the clause legally was not part of the constitution.

In the three-point governing board recommendation accepted by the council the board asked that, "No wine, distilled spirits or beer shall be served at any open house or rushing function held on the premises of the organization. If the function is held off the premises no special arrangements for serving alcoholic beverages shall be made."

Senior Picture Deadline Nearing

Seniors have 11 days left to sign up for pictures for La Torre. There will be no late page, according to Carol Lucas, La Torre sales manager.

Graduating seniors who have not already done so are urged to make their appointments in the La Torre booth in the Outer Quad from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Los Angeles Hit by Smog

LOS ANGELES (UP) — The eighth consecutive day of eye-smarting, lung-congesting smog in Los Angeles brought renewed pleas yesterday from aroused citizens asking state and local government officials to do something about air pollution.

Citizens of Pasadena were aroused to the point of threatening a recall of their County Supervisor, Roger Jessup.

The Pasadena Board of Directors indignantly asked Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to declare a "state of emergency" in smog-ridden Southern California, assume jurisdiction of smog control under his emergency powers or call a special session of the Legislature to obtain those powers.

Knight replied he couldn't declare a state of emergency but "we shall have the most effective action possible to counteract it."

RIFT HEALED

CHICAGO (UP)—A public rift between Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Illinois Gov. William Stratton appeared healed yesterday in the wake of Wilson's apology for "bringing up those bird dogs."

The Republican governor introduced Wilson at a $100-a-plate Republican rally despite his earlier suggestion that Wilson cancel his speech.

Thrust and Parry

Defends Wilson

Dear Thrust and Parry:

It is inconceivable that an honest and thinking person would be capable of taking political advantage of Secretary Wilson's clever and to-the-point analogy of the value of bird dogs who "... go out and hunt around for their food."

Men in both political parties are throwing out aspersions more thoughtless and insulting than the statement they attack. What is in Mr. Reuther's thought to cause him to say that "... when Mr. Wilson thought of workers he thought of dogs". Can he really imagine that people take offense to the use of analogy? Were analogies to be taken thus to heart, this very effective tool of persuasion would be virtually nonexistent. Mr. Reuther must know this and yet he insults our intelligence by supposing we don't know it.

Stephen Mitchell, top leader of the Democratic party, a man who by virtue of his position should maintain high standards of sincerity and truthfulness, called the Wilson remark, "cruel and stupid". The statement certainly was not stupid, and if Mitchell himself were possessed of such wisdom, he would not have said the statement was cruel.

An editorial in Wednesday's Wall Street Journal defended Wilson's reference to the kennel fed dog who sits on his fanny and yells. After pointing out the fact of existence of a state of mind of many groups in this country who would indulge in the luxury of government subsidies and contracts and "who clamor for position at the Treasury trough" the editorial observes "... there is an amount of yelling that would have made a Jeffersonian Republican despair of this country's future. And however politically unwise Mr. Wilson's timing may have been, it is nonetheless time somebody said so."

Close 7th Street

Dear Thrust and Parry:

With regard to the recent article on the stop light situation on 7th street there is obvious good reason why these signals are violated. Students have only 10 short minutes to get from one class to another, possibly clear across campus, which is frequently just enough time if not impeded by traffic lights. How distressing to be standing at the corner at 10:29 a. m. and have a "wait" signal, especially if there are no cars in the area, which is often the case. No wonder there are violations.

How much of the taxpayer's money will it cost to station a policeman as proposed beside each of the three stop lights now in existence and the two more to be installed?

Why not block off 7th street, thus making it available for parking and student crosswalks only.

A wide turn around at either end and entrance from San Antonio St. would enable the motorist to get in and out of the parking area easily. Most campuses have blocked-off streets around their buildings or have traffic restrictions in consideration for the students.

Seventh street between San Fernando and San Carlos streets is our street. Let us have it!

Bonnie Robertson
ASB 6914

More on 7th

Dear Thrust and Parry:

This solution probably has been considered in attempting to solve the traffic problem on 7th street, but I still would like to state my case. The high school I attended had a similar problem and solved it in this manner. From approximately 8 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. the cross street was blocked off to all vehicular traffic and left completely to the students. At all other times it was left open; therefore facilitating the flow of traffic of people going to and from work.

It seems that with the continued eastward movement of the college and the increasing enrollment, some plan along this line will have to come eventually. In the light of human nature, I think students always will be tempted to "chance" the "wait light" in order to make a class on time. It is because of this that I think something more advanced than our present solution is desirable.

EREEG-LANDIS

Virginia Diane Landis and John Philip Ereeg, both SJS education majors, were wed this fall in ceremonies in the High Street Presbyterian Church in Oakland.

The bride is originally of Pleasant Hill. The groom is formerly of Oakland.

BERG-BAUMGARTNER

The engagement of Gail Baumgartner to Victor G. Berg was announced last month at a family dinner given by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman.

Miss Baumgartner was graduated from SJS last June. She is employed by the San Joaquin County Welfare Department.

Berg received his AB in education here in June. He is now engaged in graduate work. His fraternal affiliations include Phi Epsilon Kappa and Lambda Chi Alpha.

HUGHES-JAUSSAUD

Joan Colette Jausaud and Elden Everett Hughes were wed recently at a candlelight ceremony in the Oneonta Congregational Church in Pasadena.

The bride is continuing her studies here this fall. Hughes is now serving with the U.S. Army.

HARVEY-MORGAN

Barbara Ann Morgan and Frank W. Harvey were married recently in the San Carlos Community Church.

The bride attended SJS for one quarter prior to her marriage. The groom, a junior, is completing his studies here.

Medical Lab Confab Today

All students interested in the field of medical laboratory are urged to attend the 15th Annual Convention of the California Association of Medical Laboratory Technicians this Saturday, according to Dr. Wilbur H. Swanson, professor of bacteriology.

The convention will be held today, Saturday and Sunday at the Sainte Claire Hotel.

Dr. Swanson noted that the topics to be discussed Saturday are the only ones of particular interest to students. The subject, "Career in Medical Technology", which should be of special interest to students considering a career in this field, will be discussed at 4:15 p. m.

Frank Lapor, graduate of San Jose State's medical program, is chairman of the convention. Other San Jose graduates who hold offices in the group are Thelma McWhirter, Pat Argall and Don Miller, chief of the Public Health Lab in Eureka.

Exams Will Start

Candidates for December graduation should begin their series of examinations with the College Health office immediately, according to Miss Margaret Twombly, student health service director.

High School Music Fete To Be on SJS Campus

Approximately 9000 high school and junior college music students will gather on the SJS campus this spring for the annual Northern California State Music Festival, according to W. Gibson Walters, associate professor of music. Walters is co-chairman of the affair, along with Chester Mason, superintendent of music in the San Jose city schools.

Dates for the festival are May 6-7. The musical event was held here previously in 1949.

Events of the festival will include performances by bands, orchestras, choruses, instrumental and vocal soloists, and ensembles. The performances will be rated by judges on a scale of superior, excellent, good, and fair.

Festival participants will travel to San Jose from as far south as Bakersfield and as far north as Crescent City and Alturas, Walters said.

Administration of the event will be handled by the teaching staff of the music department and by music instructors of the city schools. The entire SJS campus, including Morris Dailey Auditorium and some of the larger classrooms, will be used for performances.

All festival events will be open to the public, Walters emphasized. The invitation to the festival board to make San Jose State the site of this year's musical convocation was extended by President John T. Wahlquist, according to Walters.

Others who will play important roles in the event are Dr. Karl Ernst, chairman of the Fine Arts Division, and William J. Erlendson, acting head of the Music Department.

Harold C. Youngberg, coordinator of music education in the Oakland city schools, accepted the invitation on behalf of the festival board, of which he is president.

Tulare Telethon Hits 5th Dry

TULARE, Oct. 14 (UP) A telethon by employes of television station KVVU, Tulare, was in its fifth day today in an effort to provide funds to keep the station on the air.

Cash and pledges amounting to nearly $20,000 have been received by the station since the telethon began last Saturday at 9 p. m. The event is expected to end this Saturday.

As of 10 o'clock this morning, the telethon had been underway for 109 hours. The previous record for continuous broadcasting by a television station is believed to have been 60 hours.

Funds derived from the telethon will be used to pay back payrolls and current operating expenses. The event was approved by station owner Sheldon Anderson, who also operates Radio Station KCOK in Tulare.

In addition to cash and pledges, the station has received donations of food and merchandise which have been sold or auctioned to the studio audience. Wives of employes raised $700 during the past two days through sale of donated food at a snack-bar in the studio.

More than 250 entertainers from throughout the San Joaquin Valley have donated their services for the telethon, while engineers from other stations in the area have aided in technical operations.

Portrait Made On Sapphire

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14 (UP) A likeness of President Eisenhower is being carved from a 2097 carat blue-black star sapphire. It was announced today in honor of the president's 64th birthday.

James and Harry Kazanjian, who will own the big sapphire portrait of the president when it is finished, said the work is being done by Harry B. Derian and will take "another eight or 10 months."

The president's portrait will be added to a line of "immortals in sapphire" already done by Derian and owned by the Kazanjians. Images of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln have been completed.

Kazanjian estimated that each of the "immortals in sapphire" is worth $250,000.

Liberace Called Bad Influence

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14 (UP) Television star Liberace was characterized to a Women's Christian Temperance Union convention yesterday as a pied piper "being used to convince youth there is nothing wrong with alcoholic beverages."

And behind his famous smile "lurks an ancient evil which eats at the foundation of homes throughout the United States," said the Rev. Edward L. Peet, a Methodist minister.

The Rev. Peet told delegates to the WCTU convention here that there are "a couple of beers behind Liberace's smile," referring to his program's sponsorship by a brewing firm.

PIER ANGELI TO WED

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14 (UP) The forthcoming marriage of Italian actress Pier Angeli and Vic Damone, Brooklyn born singer, promised today to be one of Hollywood's top social events of the year. The couple announced yesterday they plan to be married in a formal ceremony Nov. 24 in the Church of Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills.

Class To Give One-Act Plays In-the-Round

Two of a series of one-act plays being presented by Miss Elizabeth Loeffler's class in directing will be given Monday at 4:30 p. m. in the Studio Theater of the new Speech and Drama Building. The plays, which are student-directed under Miss Loeffler's supervision, will be presented in-the-round.

Three other one-acts will be presented Wednesday, Oct. 20.

Plays which will be given are "Hands Across the Sea" by Noel Coward and "Through a Glass Darkly" by Stanley Richards. They will be directed by Gerald Charlebois and Thorne Kinsey, respectively.

Cast of "Hands Across the Sea" includes Ruth Dougherty, Darwin Hageman, Lorraine Cazenave Curtis, Ronald Stokes, Robert La-Crosse, James Heighway, Barbara Forbes, Kenneth Simpkins, and Jeri Welch.

Featured in "Through a Glass Darkly" will be Marilyn Ware, Nancy Widdas, Shirley Hooper, Edward Holmes, Kenneth Simpkins, Kenneth Rugg and Hal Garcia.

Play Ushers Sign

Students wishing to usher for "School for Wives", first season production of the Speech and Drama Department, are asked to report to the department office, Room SD-100, or to contact Rosemary Pilcher, head usher. The play opens Oct. 29 and continues through Oct. 30 and Nov. 4, 5, and 6.

Ushers are needed for all performances of the play, which will be given in the old Little Theater.

Novice Composers May Enter Scores

Campus composers who would like to have their music performed in public concerts in San Francisco this winter are invited by the Composers' Forum of Northern California, an organization devoted to bringing contemporary music before the public, to submit scores.

Students wishing to submit scores should send them to Composers' Forum, Department of Music, University of California, Berkeley 4, Calif. They should be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Touring Art Show

An exhibition of 74 prints from the Brooklyn Museum will be on view in the Art Wing gallery Nov. 1-22, according to Dr. Marquis E. Reitzel, head of the Art Department.

Educator Speaks For Ceremonies

"The Arts and Modern Man" will be the subject of Dr. John Dodds, director of the School of Humanities at Stanford University, when he delivers the principal address at next Thursday's dedication ceremonies for the new million-dollar Speech and Drama Building.

The dedication will be held at 1:30 p. m. in the new Little Theater of the recently-completed structure.

DR. JOHN DODDS

Dr. Dodds, a specialist in the Victorian period of English literature, has published a number of works on the subject of English and American literature. He is a graduate of College of Wooster and of Yale University, and is Phi Beta Kappa.

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, 1933 graduate of the Speech and Drama Department, will open the dedicatory ceremonies with an invocation. Dr. Gray is minister of the Church of the Wayfarer, Carmel.

President John T. Wahlquist will introduce Dr. Dodds. Following the address, the college A Cappella Choir will perform two selections, under the direction of William J. Erlendson. A benediction by Dr. Gray will close the program.

Tours of the new building will be conducted during open house in the department, which will be held from 2:30 to 5 p. m. Refreshments will be served to dedication guests in the Studio Theater.

Students Welcome At Music Survey

Classical music enthusiasts on campus are invited to visit Tuesday and Thursday classes in "Survey of Music Literature", in which the curriculum is largely "live" performances, according to W. Gibson Walters, class instructor.

The class, Walters said, meets from 11:30 a. m. to 12:20 p. m. in the Concert Hall of the Music Building for study of 18th century music literature.

Performances of the music under consideration are by members of the department staff, advanced music students and guest artists, he said. Works of Bach, Scarlatti, Mozart and Tartini will be performed during coming weeks.

Walters emphasized that persons wishing to attend the concert portion of the class must plan on staying for the entire class period.

Music Prof Sings In Sunday Concert

Gus C. Lease, assistant professor of music, will sing the role of Tonio in a concertized version of "Pagliacci", to be presented Sunday at 2 p. m. at Montalvo in Saratoga.

Proceeds from the performance will go to the Voice Scholarship Fund Benefit. Admission is $1.50.

The benefit performance is being directed and produced by Gastone Usigli.

Lease, a baritone, is heard Sundays at 1:15 p. m. over KSJO. The program is entitled "Gus Lease Sings."

Exhibitor Asks Movie Control

MILWAUKEE, (UP) Abram F. Myers of Washington, D. C., board chairman of the Allied States Assn. of Motion Picture Exhibitors, has proposed that the government regulate the movie industry as a "public utility."

Myers said "The motion picture industry, which means so much to the American people, has no right to commit suicide."

"The drastic reduction in the number of pictures released," he said, "has created a starved market, enabling film companies to exact rentals and impose terms which surpass their own dreams of avarice only a few years ago."

Myers said "bigger profits from fewer pictures on longer runs at higher admission prices—that's the film companies' ticket."

The association held its 25th Anniversary convention here. Myers said "with thousands of little theaters operating with little or no profit, the motion picture industry is beginning to die in its extremities."

Memorial Presentation To Be at Novice Event

The first annual Dee Portal Memorial Scholarship of $150 will be awarded on the final night of the Novice Boxing Tournament, Dec. 4, according to Miss Peggy Major of the Alumni Office.

The scholarship, which is sponsored by the San Jose State Alumni Assn. was made possible by contributions by alumni, students and faculty members.

PhiSK Initiates Eight Pledges

Eight new members were initiated into Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity recently at a ceremony held at the Catholic Women's Center, according to Aaron Levy, publicity chairman of the fraternity.

Initiated were Robert Bush, Bruce Bush, Ken Grundhauser, Norm Ponti, Richard Picton, Neil Desmond, Rolly Watson and Dan Spencer.

The Phi Sig annex, adjacent to the main house, was recently painted by the spring pledge class.

Corry Barfield and Ray Oldman were elected treasurer and pledge trainer, respectively, to fill vacancies caused by the draft.

Moonlight Girl Visits Berkeley

Marjel McKinnon, an SJS junior, National Phi Sigma Kappa Moonlight Girl, was the guest of the California Phi Sig chapter during its annual pledge dance last week.

Recently she was the guest of the University of Southern California chapter for the weekend. The USC chapter paid all her expenses for the trip.

A Kappa Kappa Gamma, Marjel was chosen Phi Sigma Kappa Moonlight Girl of the local chapter last fall and went on to win the national title.

Graduate Student Can't Win; Got Free Ride but Lost Case

Katherine Whittman, Campbell graduate student, got a free ride, but lost a train case.

The ride, offered by a man and woman, was from the SP depot to the Greyhound bus station in San Jose. The train case was left in the car.

She said that the incident took place Sept. 16.

Conversation with the driver and his companion seemed to indicate that they were taking entrance exams at SJS. They were from San Carlos and apparently commuted to San Jose.

Miss Whittman ran an ad in

The association decided upon the night of the Novice Tournament for the award in view of the popularity of the tournament under Portal's leadership.

The scholarship will be awarded to some Spartan student on the basis of sportsmanship, scholastic achievement, leadership, and personality. Students will be nominated by faculty members and the final decision will be made by a faculty-alumni board.

Ski Club Plans First Meeting

"Learn to Ski" will be the theme at the first meeting of Ski Club, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in S-112, according to Doug Fox, president.

"We want as many non-skiers to come as possible, since the club will feature a "Learn to Ski" program this year. We expect to top last year's active membership of 200," Fox said.

Rocci and Jan Pisano, club advisers, and the club officers will be introduced and plans for the coming ski season will be discussed at the meeting.

Refreshments in the Student Union will follow the business meeting.

Wright, Shands Edit Journal For Quarter Printing Project

Members of the Printing 181 class Wednesday afternoon elected Norma Wright and Bill Shands co-editors of this quarter's project, a quarter size publication with a Christmas theme.

Members of the editorial staff include Nancy Lamb, feature editor; Barbara Richardson, news editor; Wayne Hartshorn, sports editor and Diane Boyd, society editor. The edition will be the second such class project produced under instructor Daniel-Lopez' direction. The first honored Executive Dean James C. DeVoss' retirement last spring. It was prepared for the first annual "Deadline Dinner" sponsored by the men's journalism fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, then the "30" Club.

Spartan Daily has made the grade! In response to a letter from the student body of South Fork School, three Daily staff members prepare to exchange papers with the Modoc County school. The request came from Lynne Flournoy, editor, who stated, "We are a very small elementary school in Modoc Co. Your college is the college in California which we have chosen to exchange papers. South Fork School has an enrollment of 42 pupils from the 1st to the 8th grades. It is really in the wilds. Yours truly, Editor-in-Chief."

College Gives Varied Courses In Nurse Field

San Jose State offers two nursing programs and participates in a third, according to Miss Grace Staple, head of the Nursing department.

Only one of these programs, however, is completed here. This program leads to a bachelor of arts degree in nursing education and is for registered nurses only.

"Students in the nursing education program are preparing to become ward administrators and clinical teachers in schools or hospitals. There are only 20 students in this program attending State on a full-time basis. The others, numbering about 100, are here on a part-time basis while holding hospital jobs elsewhere.

The other program offered at SJS is the two year pre-nursing program. The 40 students taking this training are preparing to transfer to the University of California, Miss Staple explained.

In addition to these two programs, the nursing department has a central teaching program for students in local hospital nursing schools. Approximately 100 students come to SJS on a limited basis from Santa Clara County Hospital, San Jose Hospital and O'Connor Hospital for part of their theory courses and their basic science courses such as zoology and anatomy. These students are high school graduates taking a three year program at their respective hospitals.

The department is also developing plans for a complete four year program leading to a bachelor of science degree in nursing.

Public Relations Dept. Busy SJS News Organ

By ED BISSELL

Of great value to a college is a public relations program, and under the leadership of Lowell Pratt SJS has an active and efficient program which was developed in 1947 when Pratt became public relations director.

The public relations office, though small in size, is one of the busiest and most active offices in the Administration Building, if not on the entire campus. Found in the office in conjunction with the many duties performed by Pratt is the student file which contains one of the cards filled out at registration about past schooling, hometown, activities and other pertinent information, a biographical data file on the faculty, scrapbooks containing all the articles that have appeared in the San Jose papers since 1947 and a collection of La Torres, the SJS annual.

Some of the responsibilities handled by Pratt are the requests for off-campus speakers, the publication of college brochures, the conducting of campus tours for guests and high school students, the mapping out of dedication programs and the publication of the "Campus Digest" which is a weekly bulletin for the faculty and staff.

Before coming to SJS in 1947, Pratt was editor and co-publisher for the "Enterprise" in Selma, Calif., city editor on the "Pomona Progress" and a reporter for the "Pasadena Star News" and the "Republican" in Springfield, Mass. Pratt is a graduate of Columbia University.

Along with his public relations work for the college, Pratt is district chairman for the American College Public Relation Assn., second vice president of the Patrons' Assn., a member of the San Jose

Chamber of Commerce Public Relations committee and an instructor in the SJS Journalism Department.

Stanford University and the U. of California are subjects of a quip Dr. William H. Vatcher told one of his classes recently.

The story goes that a very wealthy, not too bright gentleman proposed to make a very large gift to the Stanford seat of learning. A Cal alumnus visited him and said:

"Do you know that at Stanford the boys and girls matriculate together?"

"Goodness, no."

"Do you know that the boys and girls use the same curriculum?"

"Is that a fact?"

"And, finally, did you know that before girls are graduated they are compelled to show the dean their thesis?"

"Horrors!" cried the old gentleman, and the money went to California.

Never judge a woman's way of using her head by what she wears on it!

Druggist Assn. Predicts Slower State Growth Invite Students

SJS pre-pharmacy students are invited to attend the Santa Clara County Pharmaceutical Assn.'s meeting Oct. 19 at 9 p. m. in the Sainte Claire Hotel, announced Dr. Robert H. Patterson, pre-pharmacy adviser.

Principal speaker will be Floyd N. Heffron, secretary of the California State Board of Pharmacy.

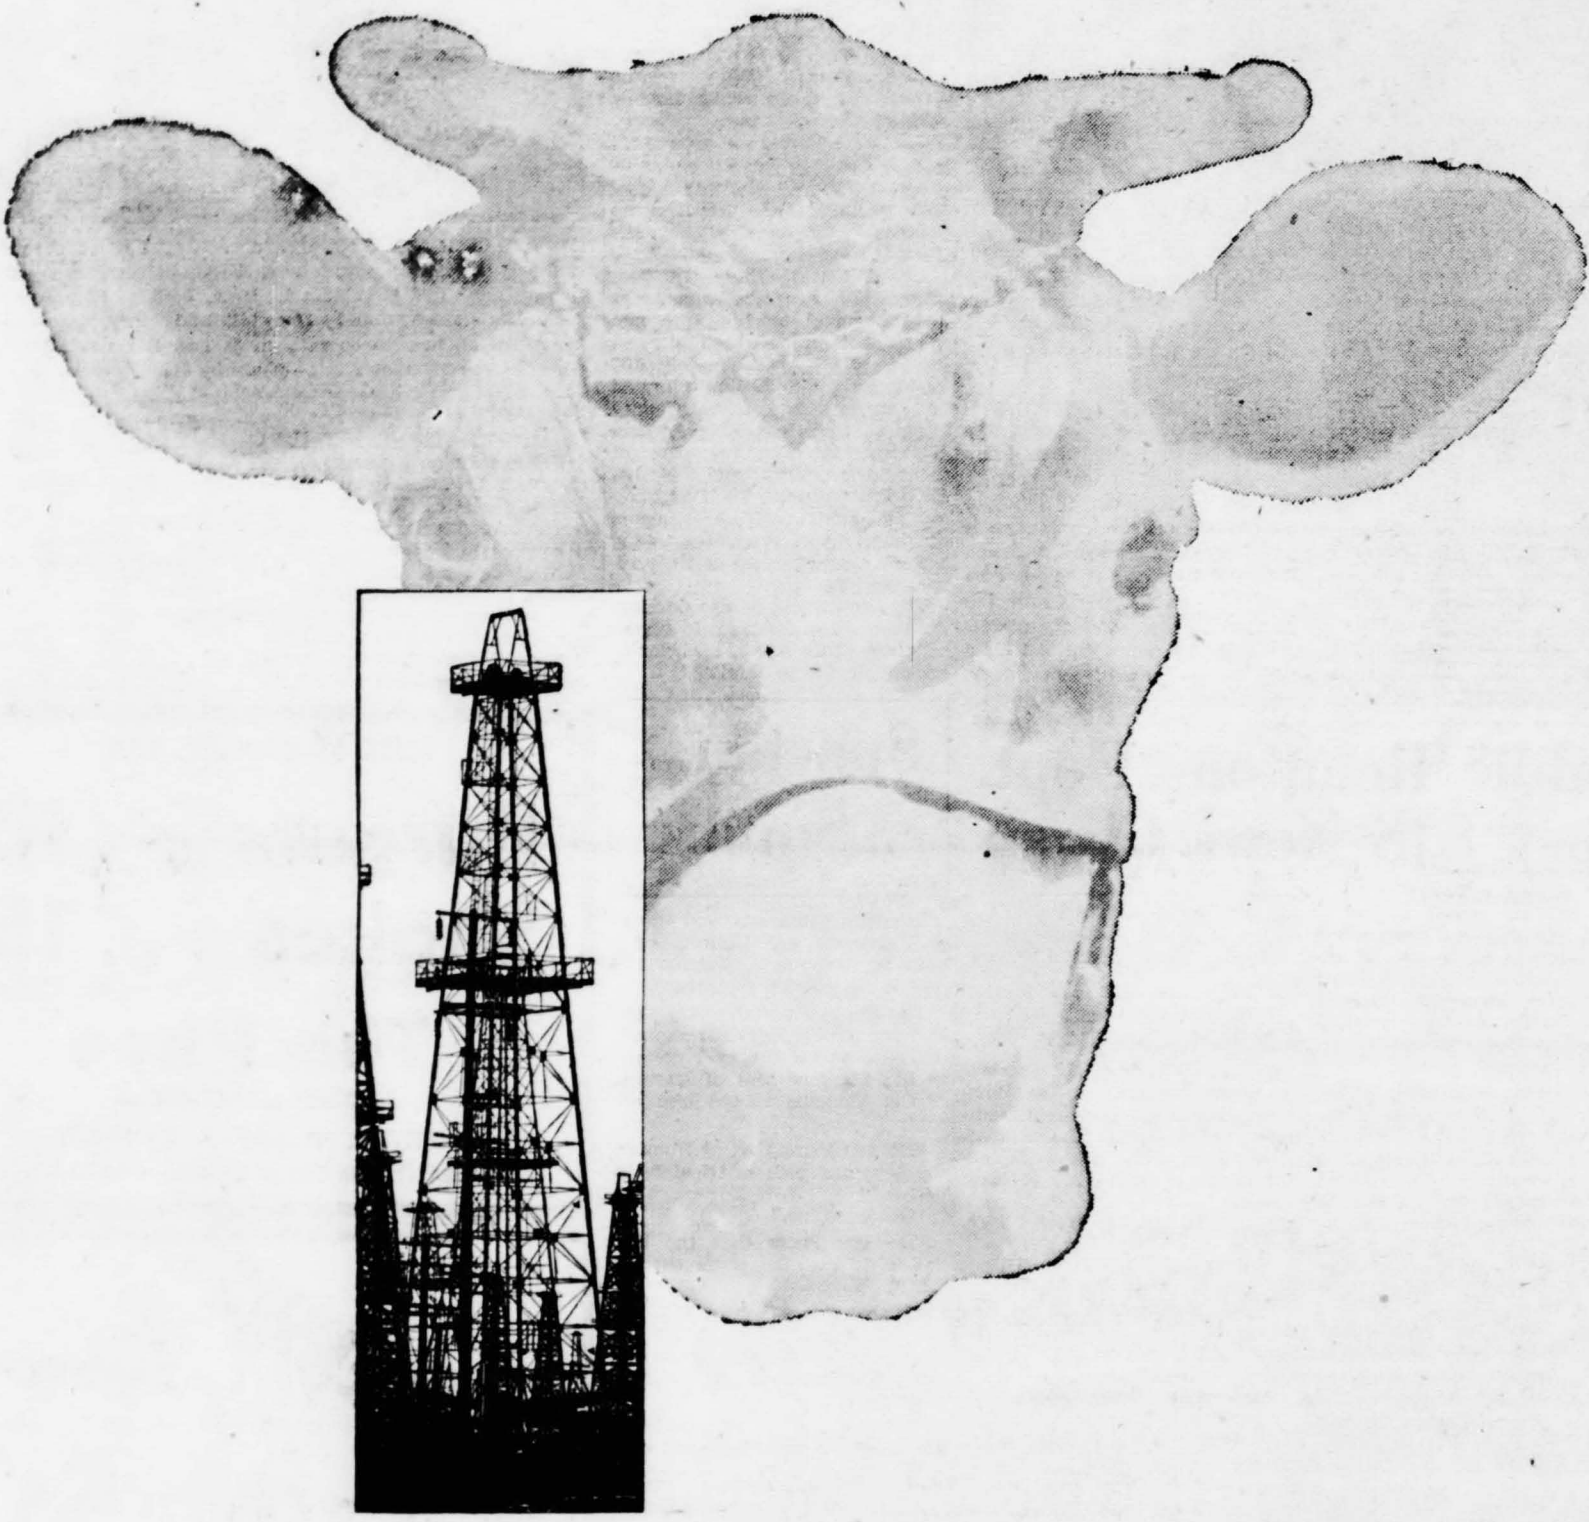

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14 (UP) — California realtors were warned yesterday that the state's spectacular growth of recent years will level off unless given another "spectacular impetus."

Dr. E. T. Grether, dean of the University of California School of

In Texas, a man who stands out in a crowd is one who has yet to strike oil.

Business Administration, told the 50th annual convention of the California Real Estate Assn. that California has always "grown in spurts."

"We have advanced from the springboard of unusual events — the gold rush, migration, war conditions," he said. "We must not think in terms of a spectacular growth based upon unusual conditions, that creates unusual demands."

How is an oil well like a cow?

In many ways the similarity between an oil well and a cow has a great deal to do with the future security of your children.

Both well and cow-give us vital products—petroleum and milk. But unless we withdraw those products at an efficient rate we can ruin our source of supply.

For it's as economically unsound to take a year's supply of oil from a well in a month, as it would be to try to obtain a year's production of milk from a cow in a day!

It's equally bad economically to underproduce a well or a cow. Yet, today, the American petroleum industry is underproducing—to accommodate the oil coming into this country from far-off places.

Obviously, if our own industry is to maintain its capacity to produce it has to be able to sell its products. Whatever interferes with this jeopardizes its ability to continue to satisfy America's need for oil.

Nor does it have the financial resources to drill wells and then shut them in until needed. You have to do business to stay in business.

What's worse, oil from distant shores creates a dangerous dependency. In a national emergency it could disappear overnight. And we can't slow our production down too much and expect it to be adequate when we want it.

In our opinion, there is only one safe way to keep this nation's rate of petroleum production up to any challenge it may have to meet. That's to encourage our domestic oil industry to constantly find and develop new fields in the Western hemisphere, where we can get at them if we need them.

Soccermen To Play Dons Tomorrow in Loop Tilt

Soccer Homecoming

Not since war brought Spartan soccer to an abrupt halt at the end of the 1942 season have Spartan cleats trod the field of intercollegiate ranks.

The referees whistle will again blow on Northern California Intercollegiate Soccer Conference play on the local scene.

For sports fans who love the sport of soccer they will agree that 11 years was too long a leave of absence.

For those not acquainted with the game which is rapidly gaining popularity it will be to their advantage to be at the field adjacent to Spartan Stadium tomorrow at 10 a. m.

COACH MENENDEZ
... Building For Future

They will be witnessing the rebuilding of Golden Raider soccer teams that will someday bring San Jose the glory of the championships won in '39, '40, '41, and '42.

Coach Julie Menendez admits that his forces are building for the future, as the game is new to many of his men.

This squad is not without color or enthusiasm. They have a roster that looks like a travelogue, with players claiming birthplaces in all parts of the globe.

The list includes Francis Betancourt, Arecibo, Puerto Rico; Carlos Eckert, Guadalajara, Mexico; Pastor Garay, Managua, Nicaragua; Werner Grosshans, Friedenstal, Besarabia; Nicholas Leondiris, Johannesburg, South Africa, and Zaharvi Waseem, Bagdad, Iraq.

Fast breaks, pivot plays, give and go, man for man and modified zone defenses make its tactics and strategy similar to basketball.

It differs from basketball in the ball handlings because in soccer emphasis is placed on control with other parts of the body, other than the hands.

The largest crowd to ever witness a sporting event was recorded in Rio de Janeiro stadium when 200,000 fans saw the world series in 1950.

HARTFORD, Conn. — (UP) — About 400 construction workers went on strike at a new 16-story hotel here because they didn't like climbing stairs. They went back to work later the same day after the elevator was repaired.

Return Home After 11 Years

Spartan soccer players will perform at home for the first time in 11 years when they encounter the University of San Francisco team in an NCISC game tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Coach Julie Menendez will send his once defeated squad against the powerful Dons on the Golden Raider field adjacent to Spartan Stadium.

SJS dropped the sport in 1942 and since that time USF went unbeaten in 56 conference games until last week when they were defeated, 5-4, by City College of San Francisco.

The locals dropped a 6-1 decision to Stanford the same morning.

"We had our best scrimmage of the season Wednesday night," observed Coach Menendez.

The "Blues" edged the "Whites" 2-0 in an intra-squad tiff in preparation for tomorrow's contest.

Indications were that Coach Menendez will juggle his starting line-up for the Hilltopper contest.

George Durchslag, Bob Kellerman and Adrian Manzaon are the all-star trio.

Ky. Strawberries Off
FRANKFORT, Ky. — (UP) — Strawberry production in Kentucky in 1954 is expected to total only 55 per cent of normal, according to the state's department of agriculture. It estimated production at 65,000 crates, compared to 104,000 crates last year and 308,000 four years ago. Drought conditions of the past two years largely are responsible for the decline.

SJS Runners To Meet Cal.

Spartan cross-country runners will have their first "official" meet of the season when they match strides with the University of California tomorrow morning at Berkeley.

Starting gun for the four mile jaunt will be at 10 a. m.

It will mark the first official race since last week's trot against Santa Clara Youth Center turned out to be an informal affair when only three visiting harriers entered.

SJS swept the first four places only one minute apart. Don Hubbard was clocked in 22 minutes, 49 seconds; Don Barry, 22:17; Duane Ludlow, 23:39; and Weldon Stroud, 23:49.

A battle for the No. 5 position on the team is being waged among Jim Green, Dick Gromer, Tom Santiago and Frank Wulf-tage, according to Coach Winter.

Grunt 'n' Groaners To Vie Tomorrow

SJS mat men will have a chance to test their holds against Northern California wrestlers when the grunt-and-groan men hold an informal AAU meet tomorrow night at 7:30 in Spartan gym.

The meet is expected to draw men from the San Francisco Olympic Club, University of California, Stanford, San Francisco State, San Francisco YMCA, Oakland YMCA and SJS.

The meet will afford the wrestlers experience against opponents from other areas, according to Hugh Mumby, Spartan wrestling mentor.

Bermuda Shorts May Cause National Incident

Bermuda shorts just might cause some sort of crisis on college campuses throughout the nation. Look what's happening at two California universities!

DAILY CALIFORNIAN—All men with shapely legs, hear this!

A contest is now on to decide what man has the most beautiful legs on the campus. The final judging for this contest, which is being held for the benefit of the Campus Crusade, will take place at 4 p. m. Wednesday in 145 Dwinelle hall.

Various campus queens will be judges for the competition, according to Ruth Anne Caldwell, who is in charge of the affair. The prize, to go to the man possessing the best pair of gams, will be a pair of men's Bermuda shorts, she said.

Admission charge will be 35 cents the proceeds going to the Campus Crusade fund.

Letters have been sent out to every living group on campus, including all the women's living groups, inviting them to sponsor a candidate for the contest. Candidates can be any male student, and he can be sponsored by any recognized organization on campus as well as living groups, according to Miss Caldwell.

Candidates' applications should be brought or sent to 301 Stephens before Wednesday, Miss Caldwell stated.

USC MEN WEAR THEM

USC DAILY TROJAN—Scots have their kilts, Polynesians have their sarongs, but the male gender at SC has its Bermuda shorts.

At least ten of the more courageous lads on campus have dared to bare a knee in protest against the hot and cumbersome "longies" of the past. Preferring comfort to conformity, they parade about campus in their glorified gym shorts, often with a great deal of publicity and always with a great deal of stares, whistles, and cat-calls.

But the vigorous campaign to bring back Bermuda shorts is not as surprising as it may seem. Since the first caveman sported a leopard-skin toga to outclass his wife's drab bear-skin creation, man has been the radical dresser in the family.

When Christians were being fed to the lions and the Caesars held sway over all of the known world, mighty Roman warriors strolled around in tunics that had very little to offer in front and a great deal less behind. And while Rome's heroes modeled clothes with hemlines 36 inches from the floor, the women hid behind conservative togas that touched the ground.

"In days of old when knights were bold" and Prince Valient was chumming around with King Arthur, female charm was still hidden behind the folds of ground-length dresses. But the breadwinner of the family donated garments that left boney knees exposed. Praying that a sudden East wind wouldn't spring up, the men rode forth daily in search of excitement. Many a brave man undoubtedly died for reminding a comrad that his slip was showing.

Although the men were more modest in Louis XIV's day and chose to cover their extremities, they still competed with the women in silks, frills, and powdered wigs.

In Queen Victoria's days things were more conservative. Think that hampered the gentlemen of the day? Not a bit. By the boat-loads they fled to good old "In-jia" where they could wear their Bermudas and white sun helmets

Jersey College Gives Haven To Victorians

USC DAILY TROJAN:

Victorian-type people have their haven at college "Shangri-la" Alma White, New Jersey, where drinking, smoking, dancing, lip-stick, and you name it, just aren't.

Professors wear black bowler hats, frock coats, and stiff white collars—a far cry from the norms of the present day era.

Weekends, too, are practically unheard of, as most college students judge weekends. Social life centers about Saturday night "early" dances for the 30 young men and women and six unpaid teachers that roam the beautiful 1000 acre campus.

To boot, there are no stadium-jammed football games to have rallies for, no fraternities, no sororities, no social teas, no gala parades, or, for that matter, homecomings.

Founders of the Methodist school which began this way in 1921, set the college up to develop more fully the students' mental, physical, and spiritual faculties. Now that's a thought.

AMBASSADOR STAYS

ROME, (UP) Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce has decided to stay indefinitely in her post as American Ambassador to Italy and President Eisenhower has backed her decision, high diplomatic sources said yesterday.

Ike Celebrates 64th Birthday With Many Gifts at Denver

DENVER, (UP) President Eisenhower worked through a growing stack of gifts yesterday as he observed his 64th birthday at the Denver White House.

His birthday presents ranged from a Black Angus calf to a pair of old Scottish bellows and brass fork for his fire place at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home.

Last night the President and Mrs. Eisenhower had an intimate birthday party at the Brown Palace Hotel with a small group of family and close friends.

The gifts that flowed through the Denver White House offices yesterday include a massive bouquet of 64 American Beauty roses from the employes of the Washington White House, a basket creel for future trout fishing in Colorado, a pair of asbestos barbecue mittens, English boxwoods for the Gettysburg farm, and a profusion of cakes.

Wm. Willis Near Island After Trip On 'Kon Tiki' Raft

WELLINGTON, N. Z., (UP)—Radio messages indicated yesterday William Willis is nearing his goal, the island of Samoa, after a four-month, 6000-mile voyage on a "Kon Tiki" type raft.

Willis, a 61-year-old New Yorker sailed June 22 from Callao, Peru, on a 34-foot Balsa Raft, alone except for a cat and a parrot. Nothing had been heard from him since the early hours of the voyage.

Today, however, a radio station at Rarotonga in the Cook Islands picked up and relayed a message, apparently from Willis, saying he is near Tutuila in American Samoa.

Palace To Be Sold

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The Sheraton Hotel Corporation will buy the world-famed Palace Hotel Monday for a price reported to be $8,500,000, it was learned yesterday.

Mrs. William B. Johnston, largest stockholder in the company that owns the Palace, said she and other stockholders will meet Monday to vote the sale.

The United States has more than 25,000,000 acres of farm land under irrigation.

Got a Lucky Drooodle in your noodle?

SEND IT IN AND

MAKE $25

FIREPOLE FOR FALSE ALARMS

MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMAN IN TURKEY ACCOMPANIED BY VERY UGLY FRIEND

Want to pick up $25? Make up a Lucky Drooodle and send it in. It's easy.

If you want to find out just how easy it is, ask Roger Price, creator of Drooodles. "Very!" Price says. Better yet, do a Drooodle yourself, like the ones shown here.

Drooodle anything you like. And send in as many as you want. If we select yours, we'll pay $25 for the right to use it, together with your name, in our advertising. We're going to print plenty—and lots that we don't print will earn $25 awards.

Draw your Drooodles any size, on any piece of paper, and send them with your descriptive titles to Lucky Drooodle, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure your name, address, college and class are included.

While you're droodling, light up a Lucky—the cigarette that tastes better because it's made of fine tobacco . . . and "It's Toasted" to taste better.

"IT'S TOASTED"
