Social, Living Groups To Enter Blood Drive

A campus-wide blood drive with all social organizations and living groups expected to participate, starts this month, according to Louise Wester, drive chairman.

Pledges have already come in from the Rally committee for 35 pints and from Social Affairs committee for 19 pints, Miss Wester stated.

Investigation To Continue

Under wraps, investigation is continuing on an incident Thursday when political literature sponsored by an organization on the Attorney General's list of Communist organizations was handed out to SJS students near the Psychology-Philosophy building.

Dean of Students Stanley C. Benz requested that students having any information regarding the one-page pamphlets report it to him.

The pamphlets, which advocated the overthrow of the "Communist Control Act," and the Smith Act, were sponsored by California State Labor Youth League, a chapter of the Labor Youth League.

Nation Goes to Polls Today

Get out and vote!
Today's Election Day, when eligible voters place their X's or ballots in 739 precincts over the San Jose area. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Students from other states are expected to have used absentee ballots.

Hot items on the ballot here include the Santa Clara County race for the Sheriff's office and the Republican and Democratic fight for congressional and state legislative seats.

Bringing in the vote will be the job for 51 students of the Journalism Department this evening at the San Jose Mercury newsroom. Tabulating votes and telephoning in precinct returns will be election round-up duties.

Graduation Announcements Is Senior Class Council Topic

It was decided at the Senior Class Council meeting yesterday afternoon to use the same type of graduation announcement that was used last year.

They will be available in the Spartan Shop to graduating fall quarter seniors in the early part of December.

The fall graduation banquet, to be held Dec. 9, will be $2.75 per person. The council is planning banquet entertainment and any senior who can play the piano is asked to contact either Pat Spooner, president, or Barbara Taylor.

Dr. Eleanor Combe, class adviser, announced that the June graduating class banquet will be held in the Exposition Hall at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds, June 16.

JUNIOR CLASS

Results of last week's apple and fudge sale were discussed at the Junior class meeting yesterday, and it was decided that, although a sell-out, profits were negligible.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Members of the Sophomore Class Council signed up yesterday for the SJS blood drive.

The council decided to combine the Soph Doll dance with the proposed Joe College and Betty Coed event. The dance will be held at the beginning of winter quarter.

A representative of the Junior class extended an invitation to the Sophomore council to attend a four-way council meeting Nov. 22. Al Behr, class president, asked all members to submit a design for a class emblem.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The first draft of the Frosh constitution was discussed at the class meeting yesterday. The Constitution committee is using the Sophomore constitution as a model and adapting it to their class needs. Didi Smith, committee chairman, urged Frosh to think of a name and motto for their class. "Gorgeous Gams" Contest committees will meet today in Room 11 at 3:30 p.m., Betty Easton announced.

ASB President Urges Students To Refrain from Destruction

Dear Spartans:
As you know, COP will play host to San Jose State Saturday in the annual renewal of their football rivalry. Although spirit has been good in past years, it has not always been expressed in a positive manner.

Last year's representatives of the student governments of SJS and COP met and drew up a student relations pact. The pact states there shall be no kidnapping or physical abuse to students and there shall be no defacement or destruction of buildings on grounds owned by the colleges.

In the event there is any destruction of college property, the Student Assn. of the offending college will be responsible for restitution. The Student Assn. is YOU and it will be YOUR money that will be used to pay for any damage.

Your student leaders only can urge you to comply with this pact, the rest is up to you. Our relationships with COP always have been good and we hope they will stay that way in the future.

Sincerely,
Art Lund,
Student Body President.

Coronation Ball Bids Available Today Only

Today is the final day for students to pick up their bids in the Outer Quad booth for Friday night's Coronation Ball to be held at the Civic Auditorium.

Students who are unable to obtain bids may attend the ball by showing their ASB cards at the door, Jim Cottrell, Social Affairs committee chairman, announced yesterday.

Elections Head Awards Slate; Meet Monday

Election of a vice chairman, secretary and treasurer will head the agenda of Monday's meeting of the Awards committee in Room 106 at 4 p.m., according to Chairman Juanie Green.

Other topics on the agenda are the discussion of a constitution for the committee, schedule of a regular meeting time, and discussion of committee membership status for faculty who are advisers of other groups.

Miss Green announced that any members missing two meetings during the year will be expelled from the committee. There will be nine meetings during the year, she said.

Use ASB Cards

Student body cards will be used for admission into the COP game Saturday night, according to the Graduate Manager's office.

SJS To Share COP Parade

The SJS marching band, the campus Homecoming Queen, and Mayor George Starbird of San Jose will share honors with their Stockton counterparts in a parade in Stockton Saturday to precede the COP-SJS grid contest.

The parade, scheduled to begin at 4 p.m., will be telecast over KOVR-TV, Channel 13. Sponsors for the parade are the San Jose and Stockton Chambers of Commerce and the student bodies of the two colleges.

Mayor Harvey F. Stull of Stockton and COP Homecoming Queen Coni Bacon will represent Stockton. The San Jose State Queen will be chosen at a rally Thursday.

Polls Open for Election

By UNITED PRESS

Today is ELECTION DAY. Polls throughout the state opened at 7 a.m. and will remain open for 12 hours except in San Francisco County where the closing time is 8 p.m.

Despite pleas for a heavy turnout at the polls, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan predicted only 55 to 70 per cent of the voters would cast ballots.

With control of both houses of Congress hanging in the balance, the decision of California voters today may decide whether President Eisenhower will have a Republican-dominated Congress come January or one in which Democrats hold the edge as well as the committee chairmanships.

U. N. Help Financing?

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 1 — The United States today urged that United Nations members provide military equipment, supplies and services to countries willing to join in fighting aggression but unable to finance their own forces.

Draft Reply

LONDON, Nov. 1 — Officials of the United States, Britain and France met at the British Foreign Office today to begin drafting the West's reply to Russia's latest proposal for a four-power conference on Germany.

Authoritative sources here said the West will reject the Kremlin's talks later this month, but would leave the door open to discussions after ratification of the Paris accords for rearming Germany within the Western Defense Alliance.

Accusations 'Ridiculous'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — The White House said today it was "ridiculous" for Adlai E. Stevenson to accuse President Eisenhower of approving Republican campaign material that Stevenson said parallels Communist propaganda.

Wahlquist Asks New Roll Budget

By BILL SHANDS

San Jose State may have 10,771 students on campus next fall with 8771 full-time-equivalent students, President John T. Wahlquist told the Faculty yesterday. President Wahlquist submitted a revised budget for that many students to the state legislature yesterday upon the request of J. Burton Vasche, state superintendent of instruction.

But the 10,771 total student is blocked by a big IF.

The "if" is just which decision handed down last week is valid — that of Attorney General Edmund G. Brown, which stated that individual colleges could not limit enrollment, or that of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, which says they can.

President Wahlquist made the added budget request after he received a telegram from Dr. Vasche which stated that on the basis of Attorney General Brown's decision, colleges were to compute the expected attendance and submit revised budget requests for the 1955-56 year.

The request asks for 71 new teachers to handle the additional students, $33,000 for instructional materials and $10,000 for the rental of instructional facilities (buildings) to handle the students.

Whether or not this will come about now depends on the State Legislature which will decide just which decision to enforce. It is perhaps significant that the Joint Budget Committee of the State Legislature released that decision of the Legislative counsel upholding the college imposed student limits, President Wahlquist commented.

The State Legislature will release the verdict at its next session. Budgets usually come before the legislature in March, according to Dr. Wahlquist.

Breakdown of the 10,000 students includes 1000 limited, 500 former students returning, 1617 junior college transfers, 2132 freshmen and 4923 students returning from Spring quarter.

Campus Clubs Plan Mass Meet Tonight

A mass meeting of the college's 116 campus organizations will be held tomorrow night in Room 112 of the Science Building at 7 o'clock to review current rules and regulations concerning the various groups, according to Paul Sakamoto, member of the Activities Evaluation committee, sponsor of the meeting.

The Personnel Deans and the AEC will divide the meeting time to discuss different aspects of the rulings, Sakamoto said. Also attending the meeting will be the Student Activities board, the Student Court and Associated Student Body officers.

The ASB executes the policies formed by the AEC, while the Student Court hears cases arising from violations of the rules.

Topics to be discussed are date-book regulations, campus advertising, protected dates, and campus selling.

Ticket Last Day

Today is the last day students may buy theater rate cards, according to Bob Weiss, sales chairman.

Cards, which cost 50 cents, are on sale in the Graduate Manager's office, Weiss said.

Thrust and Parry

Of Mice and Men

Dear Thrust and Parry,
In response to Miss Franks' letter, which appeared in this column last Thursday, may I state that if you, Miss Franks, and your classmates in Public Safety would spend your time listening to the lecture rather than writing letters to the Daily, which plainly demonstrates your rudeness to the instructor, you might just possibly learn something.

Yes, this is college, although some obviously do not realize it and continue to act in a childish manner. So you don't like the speaker—does that give you cause to ignore him while he is speaking? So you don't like the course—must you show your contempt for it by reading the Daily or writing letters while in class?

I took the course—I know what you're up against. But please, if you're dead set against letting them teach you anything in Public Safety, at least have the decency to show respect to the speakers. Put yourself in their places, facing a crowd of students who are forced to take the course and are fighting it all the way.

You're in college, not high school. Why not try acting like adults?

Book Store Work May Start Jan. 1

Construction of the new Spartan Shop should begin about Jan. 1, William Felse, graduate manager, said yesterday.

The shop previously was to have been begun near the middle of December but final plans will not be completed until then.

Plans call for a second-story addition if expansion of the shop is necessary, Felse said.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "Barefoot Boy With Check," etc.)

THE INTELLIGENCE QUOTIENT OF NED FUTTY

Chloe McColgate was a beautiful coed who majored in psych and worked in the I.Q. testing department of the university. She did not work there because she needed money; she worked there because she loved and admired intelligence above all things. "I love and admire intelligence above all things," is the way she succinctly put it.

Ned Futty, on the other hand, was a man who could take intelligence or leave it alone. What he loved and admired above all things was girls. "What I love and admire above all things is girls," is the way he put it.

One day Ned saw Chloe walking by on the campus. "Holy Toledo!" he exclaimed. "How sweetly flows that liquefaction of her clothes!" The following day he saw her walking past again. "Great balls of fire!" he exclaimed. "Next, when I cast mine eyes and see that brave vibration each way free, O, how that glittering taketh me!"

When he saw her again the next day, he could no longer contain himself. He ran up and blocked her way. "Excuse me," he said, tugging his forelock, "I am Ned Futty and I love you beyond the saying of it. Will you be mine?"

She looked at his quarter-inch haircut, his black rimmed glasses, his two-day beard, his gamy T-shirt, his tattered jeans, his decomposing tennis shoes. "You are not unattractive," she admitted, "but for me beauty is not enough. Intelligence is what I require in a man."

"I'm smart as a whip" said Ned with a modest blush. "Back home everybody always said, 'You got to get up pretty early in the morning to get ahead of old Ned Futty.'"

"Maybe so," said Chloe, "but if you don't mind, I'd like to make sure. Will you come into the I.Q. testing department with me?"

"With you I would go into a malted milk machine," cried Ned Futty and laughed and smote his thigh and bit Chloe's nape in an excess of passion and high spirits. Scampering goatlike, he followed her into the I.Q. testing department.

"First I will test your vocabulary," said Chloe.

"Shoot!" said Ned gaily and licked her palm.

"What does juxtaposition mean?"

"Beats me," he confessed cheerily.

"How about ineffable?"

"Never heard of it," smiled Ned, plunging his face into her clavicle.

"Furtive?"

"With fur on?" said Ned doubtfully.

Chloe sighed. "How are you on arithmetic?" she asked.

"A genius," he assured her.

"What's the difference between a numerator and a denominator?"

"My feeling exactly!" said Ned with an approving nod. "What's the difference?"

"If a man earns fifty dollars a month," said Chloe, "and saves 12% of his earnings, how long would it take him to save $100?"

"Forever," said Ned. "Who can save anything on $50 a month?"

"How do you find a square root?"

"How should I know?" replied Ned, giggling. "I'm no square."

"How are you on English?" asked Chloe.

"I speak it fluently," said Ned with quiet pride.

"What is the present tense of wrought?"

"Wreet," replied Ned, clutching Chloe to him and dancing 32 bars of the Maxixe.

"Next I will test you for manual dexterity," said Chloe. She handed him a board punched full of oddly shaped holes and a collection of oddly shaped pegs. "Fit the pegs in the holes," she instructed him.

"Let's neck, instead," suggested Ned.

"Maybe later," said Chloe. "First the pegs."

He fumbled about for a longish interval. Finally he tired of it and reached for Chloe.

But she fended him off. "Ned Futty," she said, "you are dumb. You have the highest dumbness score of anybody I have ever tested. Consequently I cannot be your girl, for I love and admire intelligence above all things."

He hurled himself on the floor and clasped her about the knees. "But I love you!" he cried in anguish. "Do not send me from you, or you will make my world a sunless place—full of dim and fearful shapes!"

"I am sorry," she answered, "but you are too dumb."

"Reconsider, madam," he begged, "else a miasm looms before me."

"Go," she said coldly.

Spent and speechless, he struggled to his feet. With leader steps he made his painful way to the door. There he stopped and lit a cigarette. Then he opened the door and started away to his gray and grisly future.

"Stay!" called Chloe.

He turned.

"Was that," she asked, "a Philip Morris you just lit?"

"Yes," he said.

"Then come to me and be my love!" cried Chloe joyously. "For you are not dumb! You are smart! Anybody is smart to smoke Philip Morris with its fine vintage tobaccos, its cool relaxing mildness, its superior taste, its snap-open pack. Ned, lover, give me a cigarette and marry me!"

And they smoked happily ever after.

President's Council Decides Juniors Must Master P's, Q's

You can't be a junior unless you know an infinitive from an appositive. Dr. Fred Harclerod, dean of instruction, has announced that as of fall quarter, 1955, students must pass the remedial course in English A during their first two years in college in order to register as a beginning junior. Prior to this ruling, passed recently by the President's Council, it was possible to delay passing the course almost until graduation time. Not only has a time limit been laid down for passing the course, but the number of attempts also has been limited to two at SJS. Students who do not pass the examination following these two opportunities may register for it again only during summer school, in an extension course or at some other school, according to Dr. Harclerod.

Pair Substitute For Professor

Dr. Jesse Zimmerman and Preston Royer will substitute for William J. McLarney of the Engineering Department during the remainder of the quarter, according to Dr. Norman Gunderson, acting department head. McLarney suffered a heart attack Oct. 20 while instructing his Job Evaluation 191 class.

Upper division transfers should complete the requirement during their first semester in attendance at SJS, the Council decided.

Spartan Frosh Wins Award

The General Electric Co. recently awarded a $500 scholarship to Joyce Armfield, a freshman secretarial major.

Miss Armfield is a graduate of San Leandro High School where she was active in student affairs and an honor student.

The scholarship fund is available for children of General Electric employees. Miss Armfield's father, the late John Armfield, was superintendent of the Oakland General Electric transformer plant.

Dr. Zimmerman is a former part-time instructor, having served in both the Engineering and Social Science departments. At that time his principal interest was industrial engineering and economy.

At present he is working for Bechtel Corp. in San Francisco and will teach Time and Motion Study at SJS.

Royer is the Director of Public Relations for Owens-Corning Fiberglas in Santa Clara and will teach Job Evaluation at SJS.

Women J-Majors Will Meet Today

All women journalism students are invited to attend the 30 Club meeting in J-108 at 3:30 p. m. today, according to Edwina Kilhoran, president.

Top business will be the discussion of activities and projects for the remainder of the quarter.

Institute Forms Student Group Of IR Majors

A club for industrial relations majors is being formed by the Institute of Industrial Relations, according to William Maurer, acting organizational chairman for the new group.

The club is being formed to organize industrial relations student activities which were formerly handled by the institute staff. Among the activities are the sponsoring of speakers, conferences and a Christmas party for underprivileged children, Maurer explained.

Another purpose of the new group is to be a source of current information on industrial relations.

Advisers of the club are Dr. Edward P. Shaw and H. Paul Ecker, associate directors of the institute. There are approximately 20 IR majors, Maurer said.

Maurer also announced the committees that are working on the institute sponsored Conciliators Conference to be held here next week. They are physical arrangements, Les Johnson, chairman, Richard Previte, Neil Lascurettes and Gene Hawkins.

Greeting and reception: Sam Caldwell, chairman, Dave Hannon, Boyd Iverson and Les Johnson; publicity: Bert Marshall, chairman, Bill Maurer, Donald Flagg and Chuck Bucaria; and report: John Canoose, chairman, Anthony Mendivil, Marilyn Mendivil and Art Peterson.

Rifle Squad Issues Call For More To Try Out

SJS's varsity rifle team began its fifth week of practice firing Thursday with a call for more riflemen to "come out" and compete for positions on this year's squad.

Sgt. I c P. J. Whalen, team instructor, Friday said there was "plenty of time left" before try-outs are held for team berths. Try-outs will be Nov. 8-12, with competitive firing beginning Nov. 18 with the University of Santa Clara, he added.

Whalen said this year's squad is strengthened by Bill Rabenstein, who was named second team All-American by the National Rifle Assn. last season, and Don Bickford, who captained the 1953-54 rifle team at Utah State college.

Col. John E. Rogers, ROTC head, last week said the team, as it stands, could "knock off" most of the teams in the conference. Whalen said he expects the team to fire better than last season, when it tied Stanford University for third place.

Fifty men and women now are participating in practice sessions on the rifle range at Spartan Stadium from 1 to 4 p. m., Monday through Thursday.

SJS Song Girls To Appear on TV

The San Jose State Song Girls will perform on KOVR, Channel 13 in Stockton Friday at 5:30 p. m. as a build-up to the COP game Saturday, according to Don Reinke, publicity manager for the group.

One Phase Left In Roofing Project

Layers of asphalt and felt are being placed on the roof of the Main Building this week as workmen enter the next to last phase of a roofing project that started in September.

The hunt lasted for an hour with the list of collections ranging from an 18-cent hamburger with one French fry to a fried egg—over lightly.

After the hunt the group met at the Gamma Phi house for coffee, cookies and dancing.

Patrons for the exchange were Dr. and Mrs. Burton Brazil, and the Gamma Phi housemother, Mrs. Caroline Brown.

Home Ec Display

"Tray decorations for the invalid child" is the theme of this week's exhibit in the second floor showcases of the Home Economics Building.

These decorations can be constructed by girls of junior high school age according to Miss Gail Keating, senior home economics major, who designed the exhibit.

Cage Mentor Welcomes 45 At First Drill

Basketball Coach Walt McPherson welcomed 45 eager cagers at the first official practice of the season yesterday afternoon in Spartan gym.

Carroll Williams, who earned All-CBA and honorable mention All-American honors heads the group that includes Bud Hjelm, and Bob Bondanza. Reserve lettermen back are Tom Crane and Tor Hansen.

The Raiders open their slate by meeting Fresno State in the Spartan gym on Dec. 1, according to the schedule released last week, a 25-game slate that includes a three-game tour through the mid-west over the Christmas holidays.

Leading junior college transfer prospects are John Erecg, San Mateo; Harvey Green, Fresno; Ray Goodwin, Modesto; Bob Bergesani, East Contra Costa, and Gary Ellis, Shasta.

Harriers Meet Stanford Locally This Afternoon

First Time Injuns Challenge Raiders On Spartan Soil

SJS cross country runners meet their stiffest test to date when they match strides with Stanford this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the local course, the first time the Indians have run on Spartan soil.

The Palo Alto runners were originally slated to go against the Raider runners last Thursday but a last minute sick bug and examinations forced a postponement of the race.

Biggest question mark in the possibilities of a Spartan victory will be whether Duane Ludlow received a doctor's okay on his back trouble. Ludlow motored to San Francisco yesterday afternoon to have the ailing back examined and returned last night with the news.

Coach Lloyd "Bud" Winter stated that interest in the meet is growing rapidly. He said that he already has received notice from sororities Sigma Kappa, Chi Omega and Kappa Alpha Theta and fraternities Theta Chi, Kappa Alpha and Delta Upsilon on their intentions of being present for the four mile grind.

"Fans will be able to watch the take-off and then jump in their cars and drive to the bridge at 19th and Keyes streets to see the middle part of the race," Coach Winter commented.

Leading Washington Square harriers are Don Hubbard, unbeaten this season, Don Barry, Weldon Stroud, Ludlow and Jim Green. They hold wins over Cal Poly and Santa Clara Youth Center and have lost only to Cal in the opening match.

Beasley Leads Spartan Attack

Stan Beasley, Spartan halfback, continued to be the leading SJS ground gainer but little Roy Hiram sports the best rushing average and is top scorer, according to figures released yesterday by Wade Wilson, sports athletic news director.

Quarterback Benny Pierce continued to lead Halfback-QB Tony Teresa in the aerial department, although the latter moved within shooting distance of Hiram's point lead. Pierce has 35 completions in 68 attempts for 486 yards and a 51.4 percentage while Teresa has connected on 17 passes in 42 tries and 287 yards for a 40.4 percent average.

Beasley has gained 253 yards on 38 carries for 6.5 yards a try while Hawaiian born Hiram has picked up 175 yards on 23 tries for a 7.6 norm.

Hiram has five TDs for 30 points while Tony has 26 points on three touchdowns and eight conversions.

Ends Charlie Hardy and Merle Flattley are the top pass receivers, each catching 11 passes, Hardy's good for 138 yards—10 more yards than Flattley's total. Clarence Wessman, with 10 receptions, has the most yardage with 198.

Teresa is the top punter with a 35.8 average on 10 boots. Pierce has a 28.3 mark on 14 punts.

Pierce Ready for COP?

Quarterback Benny Pierce's hip point injury sustained in the North Texas game Saturday night has responded to treatment that should enable him to go at full speed against College of Pacific this weekend. Line Coach Gene Perry disclosed yesterday.

The injury was first feared to be serious enough to keep the senior signal caller from seeing action in the traditional battle with the Tigers at Stockton Saturday night.

Halfback Al Brown is the only griddler definitely ruled out of the COP contest. He is ailing with a bad knee.

Halfback Beasley's cracked ribs should be sufficiently healed by Saturday but it was not yet known if End Mervin Lopes' knee is in A-1 condition.

Meanwhile, Backfield Coach Gene Menges' scout report noted that the Tigers looked good in losing, 13-7, to unbeaten Cincinnati in an Ohio snow flurry.

Coach Menges cautioned the Spartans about the pass catching of End A. D. Williams, who caught COP's first TD aerial of the year against the Ohioans.

Cincinnati bottled up the Tiger ground attack, forcing Quarterbacks Milt Adair and Bill Jacobs to go skyward. Menges was impressed by the running of Halfbacks Ken Swearingen and Don Cornell.

Hartranft Picks All Football Winners

Physical Education Director Glenn Hartranft hit the jackpot in the pigskin picking derby and three other prognosticators came within an eyelash of equalling the performance.

Hartranft had a pickers dream coming up with winners of all five games while Bill Hubbard, athletic director and the leading picker, Sports Editor Gil Chesterton and Guest Jerry Vroom, graduate athletic manager, all predicted four correct teams.

Scores: Iowa 13, Wisconsin 7; UCLA 26, Cal 7; Ohio State 14, Northwestern 7; Oklahoma 13, Colorado 6.

Intramural Slate

Kappa Alpha meets Lambda Chi Alpha this afternoon in an American League contest of Inter-Fraternity football. They play at Roosevelt field at 19th and E. Santa Clara. In a National League game at the Willow Street Park, Kappa Tau vies with Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Guard, Tackle Win Awards

Tackle Jack Crawford won the Mr. Downfield blocking title and Guard Tom Louderback captured the Mr. Pass Protector crown for the North Texas State week, according to statistics released by Line Coach Bill Perry yesterday.

Crawford ran up 84 points and was trailed by End Charlie Hardy, 78; Guard Jim Hughes, 49; Center Tom Yagi, 41 and Center Jerry Ruse, 40.

Louderback annexed the pass protecting honors with a 5-5 mark. Two other gridders scored perfect averages, Guard Stan Galas, 4-4, and Center Tom Yagi, 4-4. Tackle Jack Adams and Guard Jim Hughes each had 4-5.

The names of each week's winners are engraved on a perpetual trophy on display in the Men's gym.
