7195 Enroll As Winter Reg. Ends

Winter quarter enrollment had come to a near-stop at 7195 students yesterday afternoon, a decline of some 600 regular students from last quarter's final total, according to Glen E. Guttormsen, head of the accounting office.

"Not as much danger of the wall caving in this time," quipped Guttormsen, whose office will stay open Monday and Tuesday evenings to accommodate late registrants.

Guttormsen reported "business was slow" Wednesday, with only 18 regular students completing their registration.

The number of limited students enrolling this quarter dropped sharply from past totals, he added. The winter count so far is 137, as compared to a final turnout of 270 for that group last spring.

Guttormsen attributed the downhill trend in limited-student registration to the college's relatively smaller list of night class offerings.

The decline was not wholly expected, due to the fact that previous restrictions containing the number of limited students have been lifted, enabling nearly anyone to enter into a part-time curriculum.

Knight's Plans Are Welcome To Wahlquist

President John T. Wahlquist commented yesterday that he now has "some feelings of assurance that SJS will be granted an adequate budget as the result of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's statement that he will recommend a considerably higher budget for the college in the present session of the legislature."

Governor Knight announced Tuesday that he will propose "maximum enrollment figures for every state college" including a figure for SJS "considerably higher" than the presently authorized 6400 full-time students. The budget is slated to go to the legislature the middle of this month.

President Wahlquist disagreed, however, with a proposal to admit students on a "first come first serve basis." "The state has an obligation to every young person who can meet requirements and any student should be able to go to any state college," he declared.

It will be necessary to consider the nature and component elements of each institution, according to Dr. Wahlquist, who explained that enrollment should be apportioned according to the various departments rather than in one lump sum.

He said that he is "glad to see that the state intends to fulfill its responsibilities to the presently constituted colleges before constructing new ones" and expressed the hope that the legislature will appropriate funds for study if not for actual site acquisition around SJS.

It is obviously cheaper to expand this campus than construct another one, he commented, and added that the expansion might as well be now as later.

On Spot Consultation

Construction To Begin On New Spartan Shop

With the removal of several trees south of the Journalism building, the way has been cleared for ground-breaking and start of construction next month on the new Spartan Shop bookstore, according to William Felse, graduate manager.

Earlier this week, the electricians' building which occupied the site of the new 6,000 sq. ft. bookstore, was removed. Also, final drafting of the plans for the structure were recently completed and provide for the addition of a second floor, Felse said. The plans, now in Sacramento, are to be returned to SJS shortly and then the college will call for construction bids.

The new Spartan Shop bookstore, when completed, Felse emphasized, will be a cooperative student venture, entirely financed by student funds.

Felse stated the bookstore will be self-service in manner of operation and that completion of the building is expected in September.

Fraternities Initiate New Preferential Rushing System

In an effort to eliminate "cut-throat" rushing and to facilitate more efficient handling by the fraternities, a new system of preferential rushing will be initiated on a trial basis this quarter by the IFC, according to publicity chairman Sam Hayes.

Under this plan, at the end of the rushing period on January 20, each rusher will submit the names of three houses he is interested in to the Dean's Office. These names must be submitted before noon on that date, Hayes warned.

On Friday, January 21, between 1:30 and 4 p. m., the rushers will pick up bids at the Dean's Office and at that time decide the house they desire to pledge.

The plan adopted by the IFC was suggested by Dean of Men Robert S. Martin, who has seen the plan work at other schools.

On Monday, Jan. 10 from 8 to 10:30 p. m. the following houses will be open to rushers:

Alpha Tau Omega, 1600 Alameda; Theta Xi, 135 S. 10th St.; Kappa Alpha, 506 S. 9th St.; Kappa Tau, 374 S. 6th St.; Lambda Chi Alpha, 69 S. 10th St.; Pi Kappa Alpha, 343 E. Reed St. and Sigma Nu, 146 S. 5th St.

The following night, Tuesday, January 11 from 8 to 10:30 o'clock, the following houses will welcome rushers:

Phi Sigma Kappa, 234 S. 11th St.; Sigma Chi, 241 S. 11th St.; Sigma Pi, 202 S. 11th St.; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 184 S. 11th St.; Theta Chi, 123 S. 11th St.; Delta Upsilon, 155 S. 11th St. and Delta Sigma Phi, 124 S. 11th St.

Hayes also stated the IFC believed this new plan would enhance the opportunities of the smaller fraternities to increase their membership, as each fraternity would know how many men were interested in pledging their organization.

He also revealed that rushing is starting and ending a week earlier than usual to avoid conflicting with the Greek Show on Jan. 27 and Spartacamp Jan. 29, 30.

Sparta Will Meet Gaels After Tilting COP, 66-54

By JERRY GANDY

After downing the College of Pacific Tigers, 66-54, Wednesday night at Stockton, Coach Walt McPherson's Spartan cagers will be gunning for their second straight California Basketball Association victory tonight when they entertain the St. Mary's Gaels at 8:15 o'clock in Spartan Gym.

The Gaels, now holding a three-and-eight record, dropped their loop opener to the University of San Francisco Dons, 51-36, in USF's second toughest outing of the season. Only the UCLA Bruins gave the Dons more trouble.

St. Mary held Bill Russell, 6 ft. 10 in. USF center, to a pair of free throws in the first half and nine points in the second half.

USF, the CBA favorite, led the Gaels, 21-18, at the half.

Coach McPherson describes the Morogans as an "aggressive and colorful team." They employed a zone defense against USF, but McPherson does not know what defense to expect tonight.

The Spartans will open with their regular starting lineup tonight. Guard Carroll Williams is expected to be sufficiently recovered from a charley horse to return to his high scoring form, and Forward Tor Hansen should be recovered from a bruised knee.

The other starters will be Forward John Erceg, Center Bud Hjelm and Guard Bob Bondanza.

Coach McPherson was pleased by the balanced team play displayed by the Spartans against the Tigers. While Williams, usually the high scorer, tallied only four points, the other four starters hit double figures. Hansen bucketed 20, Bondanza scored 13, and Erceg and Hjelm netted 12 apiece.

The Gaels will be led by Bill Russell. (Continued on page four)

Russell Gives Up Revelries Position

Bob Russell stepped down from his position of musical director of Revelries yesterday when his chances of being inducted into the army before the show hits the stage grew better.

Russell will assist Gene Sterling who was selected to replace him in the top position. Sterling was musical director for the production last year.

The Revelries Board met yesterday in the Student Union for final discussion of the script.

Rehearsals for the show, slated for Feb. 14-19, continued this week, according to Chuck Bucarja, publicity chairman.

Rushees Must Attend Meeting

All girls going through rushing and who have turned in their grade transcripts must attend today's meeting of rushees to obtain their hand book, name tag and financial statement, according to Lea Vassile, assistant rush chairman. The meeting will be held in S112 at 3:30 p. m.

If a rushee cannot attend the meeting, she may obtain her articles today at the Activities Office from 4:30 to 5 p. m.

Only girls who are wearing Panhellenic name tags will be admitted to the Sorority Open House this Saturday from 1 to 5 p. m.

Director Again Asks Increase In Grid Awards

Echoes of last year's football awards battle were heard in the Wednesday Student Council meeting when ASB President Art Lund read a letter from Athletic Director Tiny Hartranft requesting that the Awards committee allow 34 football letters for the past season.

Hartranft asked either for 34 football awards this year or that the total be set as a permanent "iron-clad" 33.

The request follows a '54 winter quarter hassle that saw the awards group cut football awards to 22 from an earlier 33, then raise them to 30 after repeated requests from the Athletic Department.

In Hartranft's letter, he pointed out that the student group promised to award more grid letters "if the team had a good season."

The letter, addressed to the committee, was read to the Council for "information," then turned over to the awards group for action.

In another Wednesday action, the Council voted unanimously to accept Chief Justice Stan Croonquist's nomination of Diane Martinson as temporary junior justice to fill Mary Ellen Bailey's unexpired term.

Miss Martinson was the only applicant, Croonquist said.

An application by ROTC Capt. William Harring for funds and permission to start an all-college pistol team was sent to the board of control by the Council.

Bob Weiss, movie rate card sales chairman, said that 635 cards had been sold by Wednesday noon and that sales would probably continue until today.

A request from Miss Helen Dimmick, associate dean of students, for more Spartacamp funds was tabled pending receipt of a formal request.

William Felse, graduate manager, described operation of the office to the Council and gave a run-down on ASB finances.

Last Day to Add

Monday is the last day a student may officially add courses to his study list, according to Dr. Gertrude Cavins, assistant to the Dean of Instruction.

Sufficient Housing Available For Everybody This Quarter

No one need sleep in the streets this quarter.

According to Mrs. Izetia Pritchard, housing supervisor, there is "plenty of housing available for everybody." The only type of housing approaching the hen's teeth category is "inexpensive" apartments for married couples.

Although the enrollment rose this quarter, more houses were opened to students this year so that there has been no shortage, Mrs. Pritchard explained.

No immediate vacancies are available in Sparta City, veteran's housing community, but accommodations should be available within a year following submission of an application, according to George Singewald, Spartan City housing co-ordinator.

Applications at present number 125 for two-bedroom homes and 114 for one-bedroom houses. Requests for housing are filed in chronological order. They may be filed in the Dean of Women's office.

EDITORIAL

You Have a Date Tonight

The team is out to win tonight. Will you help them?

Fired up by their victory Wednesday night over a COP team rated the best that has ever turned out for the northern college, the fellows will be after blood tonight when they meet the St. Mary's five in the first home game of league play.

Pulling for them and coordinating your efforts will be the cheerleaders and probably a volunteer student pep band. A lot of work and not much glory is the prospect for these kids. The approximately 20-member band for example may wind up a season of huffing and puffing into instruments with only memories for souvenirs.

Last year, the team was struggling for a while and so was the rally committee to provide the varied leadership in cheering them that they were able to come up with for this season. Now they're all set. All they need is some good loud yelling at the appropriate moments... and they deserve it.

We'll see you at the game... and we'll hope to hear you.

Thrust and Parry

Slight Disagreement

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Was the music at Monday night's reg dance an insult to our musical taste? If you did not go, ask someone who did.

The Social Affairs committee consistently has featured "popular" bands this year. All the publicity points to the fact that we are being treated to the best in the land.

The following typical quotes would lead one to believe (?) that when we arrive at a dance we will find music we can dance to: "...the popular band leader made Wee Bea Popper nationally famous in pre-World War II days. ... have appeared on stage, radio and T. V."

Monday's musical showing is sadly, we believe, typical of what one can expect at a SAC dance.

We know almost everyone who attended the reg dance agrees that Monday night's music was just not suited to a college group. It wasn't that the music was really bad, but: 1. The arrangements were designed for a Serutan Salesman's convention.

2. The instrumentation was highly inadequate for the size of the hall. The band, which was billed as a 12-piece organization and cost between $200 and $300, actually used only nine musicians. The two singers, who could have been replaced by horn players, were certainly for the most part non-utilitarian.

3. The music in no way served to guide the evening; we found personality lacking completely from a dance which sorely needed life and cohesion.

It's been a long time since we heard the kind of music we enjoy dancing to at a SAC dance. There are good bands playing in this area. We have heard them at numerous smaller dances and parties—bands that play music designed for college people.

If we must hear publicity two weeks in advance about how good the music we will hear is going to be, then let's hear it!

We pay for the social program. We would like the SAC to choose bands with students in mind.

We don't want to hear names; we want to hear good music.

Friendliness Greet's Ike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (UP)—President Eisenhower asked a cordial and frequently cheering Democratic Congress yesterday for "good will and harmony" in a co-operative program for peace and prosperity.

The Democratic leadership responded with a pledge that the President's 1955 recommendation "will receive reasonable consideration by reasonable men."

In a generally optimistic state of the union message, Mr. Eisenhower said the U.S. economy is in good shape and getting better. He reported "heartening progress" toward a durable peace ending the current "world stalemate."

But he warned lest the current political division between the Democratic Congress and the Republican administration result, as it has in times past, in "paralyzing indecision."

Both Democratic and Republican members of the 84th Congress, assembled in joint session to hear him outline his program for the new year, applauded when the President said:

"Let the general good be our yardstick on every great issue of our time."

Mr. Eisenhower received a two-minute standing ovation when he appeared in the house chamber to deliver his message. He was cheered again when Speaker Sam Rayburn introduced him. And he evoked a thunder of happy applause, before his speech, by felicitating Rayburn, just turned 73, on his birthday.

That set the tone for the oc-casian. Apparently moved by the friendliness of his reception, the

The only major surprise in his 6,400 word message was a request for prompt federal action to relieve an "unprecedented classroom shortage" in the nation's schools. He promised to submit detailed recommendations to Congress next month.

Other legislative proposals included extension of the draft, lower tariffs, higher postal rates, postponement of new tax cuts until next year at least, a big highway building program, pay raises for federal workers and servicemen.

Spartan Cinder Coach Plans Outstanding Track Schedule

"One of San Jose State's outstanding track schedules is near completion," Coach Bud Winter stated yesterday.

The Spartan spikers will open the season Mar. 3 and 4 with an interclass meet. The schedule has seven dual meets, a triangular meet, five relays, and the Pan American Games in Mexico City Mar. 15-18. The schedule also includes the PAA, NCAA and AAU meets in June.

Coach Winter called a track meeting which attracted 55 cinder candidates Wednesday. Among the bright prospects were Harry Wade who attended SJS for one quarter before entering the service two years ago. He was the national junior college sprint champ at City College of San Francisco with a 9.7 mark in the 100-yard dash.

Two transfers expected by Winter to help the squad are Bill Heekes, a Sacramento JC shot putter who hit 47 and 48 feet, and Dick Erickson, a javelin thrower from Everett (Wash.) JC.

Although there are some outstanding prospects on the Frosh roster, the team ranks are thin, Coach Winter said. It is one of the smallest Frosh turnouts in many years, he pointed out.

Coach Winter suggests that any freshmen interested in track see Frosh Coach Allen Dunn at the stadium between 1:30 and 6 p.m.

NCAA Restores Sun Devil Rights

NEW YORK (UP) Arizona State College at Tempe, placed on probation in August, 1953, for unannounced violations, has been restored to all rights and privileges by the National Collegiate Athletic Council.

The probationary period originally was for two years and was to end Sept. 1, 1955. But it was lifted, the NCAA announced at its annual convention, "in light of corrective action taken and sound administrative practices at the college."

The track team also is in need of managers, according to Winter. Among the highlights on the track slate is the Stanford meet here Apr. 30. It will be the first time the Indians have invaded the SJS oval.

SJS Matmen Prep for SF's Gator Match

The Spartan wrestlers are preparing for their second dual match of the season Thursday night when they take on San Francisco State in the Bay City at 8 p.m.

In previous outings this season, the SJS grapplers downed University of California, 17-16, in a dual match and captured first place in the Pacific AAU Novice Tournament here Nov. 6 and the Northern California YMCA Open Junior Tournament at Berkeley Dec. 4.

Next week's match will be the opener for Coach Joe Verducci's Gators. The San Francisco State squad is led by Don Foley, 123; Bill Dorffl, 147, and Ed Tomasello, heavyweight.

Coach Mumby's first freshman team will meet the Treasure Island Pirates in two dual matches this season, he announced. Mumby hopes to make arrangements for matches with San Quentin and a composite team of the San Francisco Rowing Club and Berkeley YMCA for two more contests for the Frosh.

Mike Wadsworth, 6 ft. 2 in. forward who gave the Spartans trouble last year, will start at the other forward slot. Stan Summers, a 6 ft. 7 in. sophomore, will open at the center post.

St. Mary's, like San Jose State, has two small guards. Jerry Phillips, 5 ft. 8 in., probably will guard Williams, while Frank La Porte, 5 ft. 10 in., will take the other outside position.

The Spartans will take on USF Monday night at San Francisco. Coach McPherson commented, "We'll play them one at a time. First we'll play St. Mary's, then worry about USF."

Coffman Replies To Fans' Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Bill Coffman, managing director of the Shrine East-West game, reminded his critics yesterday that the game is a contest between two teams of all-stars, not an exhibition.

Coffman was replying to criticism from some sports writers and fans that San Jose State Guard Tom Louderback and Chico State End George Maderos had been used for only a few seconds in the game.

There was also criticism that Colorado Back Carroll Hardy was not exploited until the last quarter.
