Slosh, Slosh, Glug, Ugh!

For a while we thought that Pogo's Okefinkee swamp was drying up because they'd moved all the mud and gunk to SJS for Spartans to walk through and park their cars in. We still don't know about that side of the gooey issue, but we do know that there are reasons for not bridging some of the slush ponds here.

The reasons behind one major sore point, the hog wallow parking lots for students and paved ones for instructors, go something like this, according to John T. Amos, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

1. Work on the lots could not be completed because of inclement (fancy term for "lousy") weather.
2. Money for improvement of the lots was not approved early enough, to beat the rain because of the speculation that dormitories might be erected on them.
3. The ratio of parking spaces to faculty is not so great as the ratio of spaces to students. (The man says he has statistics all over the place to prove it).
4. The faculty places ARE full by 10 a. m. and there are no empty spots for Joe college (more statistics).

Another bitter subject has been the so-called path (we've heard several other names for it) connecting the Speech and Drama building with the walk running behind the Administration building. More reasons... any walks or pontoon bridges placed in that locality would have to be torn out again when trucks start rolling in for construction of the new Spartan Shop.

Somebody's always gotta come up with answers on subjects like this!

Self-Entertainment Idea Becomes Greek Show

By BETTY BENNETT

What started as a small self-entertainment brain storm, about seven short years ago, has snow-balled into a campus-wide comedy and entertainment tradition at San Jose State. Back in '48, six campus fraternities (and then all of them were locals) thought it would be fun to put on a live talent show.

The whole thing was started just to entertain the houses concerned. There was no competition or public audience. By 1951 our little show was the "All-Greek Show" and drew a capacity crowd in Morris Dailey. More and more Greeks were interested, and Theta Chi took over the responsibility of organization.

Further history of the show reveals that in 1952 it became a little too "collegiate" for certain campus tastes. So, now the scripts are surveyed by the administration before they're presented to the public. (It's still funny, gang—we went last year and almost suffocated laughing.)

Production gets under way when Theta Chi sends letters to all the houses, inviting them to attend the first meeting. Then the individual houses start to work, writing scripts, planning props and costumes. The scripts are submitted to be checked for repetition of theme and for administration okay.

Masters of ceremonies have been Theta Chi alumni in the past. Last year we had Mary Braunstein, class of '52, and Dick Ganzert, class of '53. Bob Custer, disk jockey on a local radio station and 1952 SJS graduate will team with Terry Taugner, Theta Chi, to emcee this year's show.

Humorous skits dominate the production. There are also many song and dance routines. The production committee staggers the skits presented by sororities and fraternities. Last year the ATO's brought down the house—and took first prize—for a movie cast, shot and produced by the brothers. This year, the consensus dictates that all the competing skits will be live. Theta Chi will show the lone movie during judging time. There will be some experimenting with slides this year, according to Taugner.

Student producers of the show study the last year's presentation before tackling their job.

Judges are chosen on a basis of popularity with students. "We don't want critics, because it's a non-professional program and the kids are just out to have a good time," Taugner said. The skits are judged on originality, presentation, preparation and adherence to the time limit, four minutes per skit.

Soher Predicts Bright U.S. Era

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21 (UP) Hubert J. Soher, investment banker and economic consultant, said today the United States faces its "most dynamic era" of expansion and prosperity in the forthcoming decade.

In a speech to the Commonwealth Club, Soher said he based this statement on talks he has had recently with 200 business leaders, industrialists and Washington officials.

Soher said provided there is no war in the next 10 years, the blueprint of world economy for the next decade becomes "crystal clear." He said there are six reasons why we can look to the future with assurance:

1. Continuation of the birth rate will expand population to new record levels, and gross national products will rise to the greatest total in history.

2. The President's highway program will cause an expenditure of at least $200,000,000,000 in a decade.

3. The economy of Western Europe is now in its best condition since before World War I. World convertibility of currency may be anticipated within a decade.

4. Increased federal appropriations for scientific development will be made as we reduce budget expenditures for military defense.

5. The administration will continue to reduce the cost of government, cut taxes and work toward the expansion of our free enterprise system.

6. The administration is dedicated to a middle of the road policy, favoring neither those of the right or left, but working for the nation as a whole.

THE TREEHOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON

Spring is just around the corner, and with spring, as always, will come tree-sitting contests. This I applaud. Tree-sitting is healthful and jolly and as American as apple pie. Also it keeps you off the streets.

Tree-sitting is not, however, without its hazards, as you will presently see when I tell you the dread and chilling tale of Manuel Sigafoos and Ed Pancreas.

Manuel and Ed, friends and room-mates, were walking one day past the folk music room in the School of Dentistry and Fine Arts. Suddenly they stopped, for coming through the door of the folk music room was a clear and thrilling alto voice singing the lovely folk tune, I Strangled My True-Love with Her Own Yellow Braids, and I'll Never Eat Her Sorghum Any More.

When the last shimmering notes of the ballad had died away, Manuel and Ed rushed into the room, and there they thought their swelling hearts must burst asunder. For the singer was as beautiful as the song! Fair as the morn she was, doe-eyed and curvilinear.

"My name is Manuel Sigafoos," cried Manuel Sigafoos, "and I love you madly, wildly, tempestuously!"

"My name is Ed Pancreas," cried Ed Pancreas, "and I love you more than Manuel Sigafoos."

"My name is Ursula Thing," cried the girl, "and I've got a jim-dandy idea. Why don't you two have a contest, and I will go steady with the winner?"

"What kind of contest?" cried Manuel and Ed.

"A tree-sitting contest," cried Ursula Thing. "Natch!"

"Done and done," cried Manuel and Ed, and they clambered up adjoining aspens, taking with them the following necessities: food, water, clothing, medicaments, bedding, reading matter, and — most essential of all — plenty of Philip Morris cigarettes.

We who live on the ground, with all the attendant advantages, know how important Philip Morris cigarettes are. Think, then, how much more important they must be to the lonely tree dweller — how much more welcome their vintage tobaccos, how much more soothing their mild pure flavor, how much more comforting to know as one sits in leafy solitude that come wind or weather, come light or dark, Philip Morris will always remain the same dependable, reliable, flavorful friend.

Well supplied with Philip Morris, our heroes began their contest — Manuel with good heart, Ed with evil cunning. The shocking fact is that Ed intended to win the contest with a Machiavellian ruse. It seems that Ed, quite unbeknownst to Manuel, was one of three identical triplets. Each night while Manuel dozed on his bough, one of Ed's brothers — Fred or Jed — would sneak up the tree and replace him. Thus Ed was spending only one-third as much time in the tree as Manuel. "How can I lose?" said Ed with a crafty giggle to his brother Fred or Jed.

But Ed had a surprise coming. For Manuel, though he did not know it himself, was a druid! He had been abandoned as an infant at the hut of a poor and humble woodcutter named Winthrop Mayhew Sigafoos, who had raised the child as his own. So when Manuel got into the tree, he found to his surprise that he'd never felt so at home and happy in his life, and he had absolutely no intention of ever leaving.

After four or five years Ed and his brothers wearied of the contest and conceded. Ursula Thing came to Manuel's tree and called him to come down and pin her. He declined. Instead he asked her to join him in the tree. This she could not do, being subject to acromegaly (a morbid allergy to woodpeckers) so she ended up with Ed after all.

Only she made a mistake — a very natural mistake. It was Jed she ended up with, not Ed.

Ed, heartbroken at being tricked by his own brother, took up metallurgy to forget.

Crime does not pay.

This column is brought to you by the makers of PHILIP MORRIS cigarettes, who suggest that if you are ever up a tree when trying to find a gift, give PHILIP MORRIS. They're sure to please.

Dr. Hamilton Discusses Profession Recognition

"There is a fifth column within the teaching profession," said Dr. Charles Hamilton, state adviser of CSTA, at a meeting of the local chapter Thursday afternoon.

Speaking on "The Battle of Professionalism" (teachers), Dr. Hamilton outlined some of the major battlefronts in the profession's fight for national recognition.

Dr. Hamilton listed five different areas in which the battle is now being waged. They are:

1. Battle to raise legal qualifications for professional service in teaching. (Eliminating unqualified persons from teaching.)

2. More effective teacher education. (Raising college education programs.)

3. Professional civil war. (Ef-orts by faction of group to de-emphasize education.)

4. Psychological warfare. (Establishing the concepts of the true importance of education in the peoples' minds.)

"And finally," said Dr. Hamilton, "there is the fifth column, the teachers, who are doing no more than sitting out their tenure. Here is a serious battle area. Before education can take its proper place in society something must be done about this small but dangerous fifth column."

Various types of individuals who comprise this category are some that Dr. Hamilton refers to as "Knitters." These are the individuals to whom the credential is all important.

Another type is the "Squatter," who stakes a claim in the profession with a feeling that it owes him a living.

"Then there is the 'half-caste,' who feels it is necessary to sell real estate or encyclopedias on the side. These three types, among others, are not doing justice to the teaching profession.

"If education is to obtain the place in society which it justly deserves," concluded Dr. Hamilton, "it must solve the problem of these battle areas."

Dana Orth, CSTA president, announced at the meeting that the recent membership drive held by the organization brought in 89 new members, bringing the total membership to 311.

Williams Hits 30 As Spartans Win

By ROD LEE

Carroll Williams set a new school record for free throws and nearly equalled the single game scoring record Saturday night as the San Jose State Spartans dumped the Loyola Lions, 75-65, in Los Angeles.

The diminutive guard connected on 16 free throws without a miss to eclipse his old mark of 14 straight and hit seven field goals for a total of 30 points. Don McCaslin and Stu Inman hold the school single game scoring record of 32 points.

The Spartans' victory was their sixth win in their last seven games and gives them a nine win, five loss record for the season. It was the Lions third loss in 10 starts.

San Jose was in command of the situation throughout the ball game, jumping off to a 12-4 lead after five minutes of the first half.

Bud Hjelm, Spartan center, paced the early spurt, connecting for seven points in the first 10 minutes of play. The 6 ft. 6 in. center netted 19 points for the game to be second high scorer for the Spartans.

In the second 10 minutes of the first half, the Spartans hit for 24 points to surge to a 41-24 half-time lead.

San Jose maintained this lead through most of the second half. The Lions never drew nearer than 13 points until the final three minutes, when Tom Salvino sparked a final bid by Loyola.

Spartans To Play Huskies in 1958

Athletic Director Bill Hubbard and Harvey Casill, University of Washington athletic director, announced jointly Thursday that the Spartan and Huskies football teams will meet at Seattle Sept. 20, 1958.

The Huskies will be the sixth Pacific Coast Conference team to play San Jose State. The Washington State Cougars on the 1955 grid schedule will be the fifth, while previous PCI opponents have been Stanford University, University of California, University of Oregon, and University of Idaho.

Loop Director Makes Change In Hoop Slate

The opening of the Intramural Basketball Leagues has been postponed until Jan. 27, according to Wade Wilson, student intramural director. The leagues originally were scheduled to begin play Jan. 25.

Wilson points out that arrangements have been made which will allow the league to use Spartan gym three nights a week for the first two weeks in February.

There still are openings for more teams in the Independent League. Rosters and the $5 entry fee for the teams must be filed in the Physical Education Office by 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Each team may have 15 players but university and college lettermen are ineligible.

The games will be played in two 20-minute halves with a three-minute intermission between halves. Each team will be permitted two time-outs per half.

Overtime periods will be two minutes long with no time-outs. The clock will run through all time-outs.

Each team is responsible for providing a man to act as scorer or timer for each game. Referees will be furnished by the Intramural Department.

The Fraternity teams have been divided into two leagues. In the A League are Sigma Chi, Kappa Tau, Lambda Chi Alpha, Delta Upsilon, Sigma Nu, Delta Sigma Phi and Alpha Tau Omega.

In the B League are Theta Chi, Kappa Alpha, Theta Xi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Pi.

Five Frosh Score Falls With Injuns

Coach Hugh Mumby's frosh-sophomore squad won seven of their eight matches with the Stanford Indians Thursday night in Spartan gym. Five Spartans defeated their Indian opponents on falls, while the other two decided their opponents.

Spartans scoring wins on falls were Roy Higa over George Long in 2 minutes and 30 seconds of the 123-pound match; Bob Fukunaga over Bob Kagen in 2 minutes and 15 seconds of the 147-pound contest; Chuck Hightower over Al Laubser in 1 minute and 34 seconds of the 157-pound go; and Ray Frontani over Joe Harich in 1 minute and 58 seconds in the heavy-weight class.

Ken Spagnola downed George Whittaker 14-3 in the 167-pound bout, while Russ Camilleri outpointed Roger Edelson 9-7 in the 177-pound match.

Spartan Boxers Down Cougars

By TERRY SWENEY

Upset victories by Al Julian and Joe Rodriguez, plus TKO's by Al White and Harry Barlow highlighted San Jose State's 6-2 boxing triumph over the Washington State Cougars Friday night in the men's gym.

Sophomore Al Julian outpointed WSC's PCI champ, Eddie Olson in the 135 pound encounter. The match was a torrid slugfest all the way, with Julian throwing lefts and rights to Olson's jaw for the first two rounds and staying off a vicious last round comeback by the Washington Stater.

Joe Rodriguez outpunched Cougar PCI champ Gil Inaba in a 132 lb bout which found Inaba, with a bloody nose, barely standing when the battle ended. Rodriguez battered Inaba into the ropes several times during the second round, and launched a vicious body attack in the third round. It was the second straight upset for Rodriguez, who had beaten PCI champ Vic Harris the week before in the All-College Tournament.

Al White hurt Marty Nelson with a hard right to the chin early in round one, and then proceeded to clobber his foe into submission in the 139 lb bout. Referee

Roy Diedrichson stopped the battle with 1:51 of round one gone.

In the 147 lb. bout, Spartan Harry Barlow was throwing lefts and rights to the jaw of John Stenstrom, when Diedrichson stopped it with 1:56 elapsed in the second round.

SJS PCI champ Dick Bender won a close decision over WSC's Mike McKeirnan in the 156 lb encounter, and Max Voshall outpointed Dan McGreevy in the 178 lb encounter.

After losing the first five bouts, the Cougars came back with Jim Robertson outpunching Henry Rojas in the 165 pound level. Rojas fought gamely back in the last round, but Robertson was too far ahead on points.

Gordy Gladson, WSC's two-time PCI champ, finally solved Dave Fanner's southpaw style in the third round, to win a narrow decision in the heavyweight match.

Fanner battled Gladson on even terms the first two rounds, buckling his foe's knees in the middle of the second stanza with a thunderous left to the jaw.

In the final stanza, however, Gladson took the aggressive and had Dave against the ropes twice during the round.
