SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE

Fair and Warm

Of man weather is truly in a centennial mood for today. He'll be fair and warm in his disposition with a high temperature of 70-75. This balmy feeling will continue throughout most of the day until late afternoon when he'll let off a little wind.

1000 Persons Take Part In Academic Procession

Multi-colored academic hoods, reflecting the brilliance of the sun-bright morning, lived the Founder's Day ceremonies yesterday, at the Academic Convocation, saluting San Jose State's 100th year. Early morning rains had threatened proceedings.

Many spectators lined San Carlos street to watch more than 1000 persons take part in the academic procession which came before the formal ceremonies in the San Jose Civic Auditorium. A large crowd visited the auditorium to hear national dignitaries extend congratulations to the college on its Centennial. Student groups filled the balcony areas to near capacity.

Centennial congratulations were offered by Ray Freeman, ASB president; David Heagerty, Alumni president; J. E. Wallace Sterling, president of Stanford University; Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of University of California; Dr. Roy E. Simpson; and Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

The governor praised the college as a magnificent institution of learning whose graduates exerted a tremendous force in the world.

Governor Knight left the ceremonies early, expressing his desire to return to Sacramento where the legislature was considering appropriations for state colleges. He indicated that he did not want the legislature to cut state college expenditures.

Keynote speaker Dr. Ernest Melby, dean emeritus of New York University, spoke on "Higher Education for a Dynamic America." Departing from his manuscript speech, the dean pleaded for an education centered around a school which helps people do things for themselves.

A Spartan shield shown to the students by Centennial Queen Anna Beal was presented to the college by Harris J. Booras, president of the American Foundation

Production Opens Tonight; Nine-Day Run

"Green Grow the Lilacs," Centennial production of the Speech and Drama Department, opens its public run tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the College Theater. A special invitational performance was held last night.

The play by Lynn Riggs is being directed by Dr. James Clancy, professor of drama, and boasts a cast of more than thirty persons. Heading the large cast are Eli Lu Galargza as Ado Annie, James Davis as Shorty, Paul Thomsen as Curly, Karla Linden as Aunt Eller, Barbara Norton as Laurey, and Grant Salzman as Jeter.

Ball Features Frank DeVol, Vocalist Hale

Highlighting the Centennial celebration, the Student Affairs Committee sponsored Centennial Ball is offering SJS students a chance to dance to the music of Frank DeVol, well-known band leader and musical arranger, in the Civic Auditorium May 10.

There will be no admission charge for SJS students and bids will be available in the Outer Quad next week. The dance is a formal affair. Tuxes and dark suits should be worn by the men. All that is necessary to obtain a bid is the presentation of a student body card.

A late announcement from the DeVol organization revealed that the band's vocalist for the Ball will be Corky Hale, of television and recording fame. Miss Hale also is a harpist, having performed with Liberace both on television and in personal appearances.

DeVol has been active in the arranging field as he recently has completed work for the Four Freshmen, the Modernaires and Jaye P. Morgan. Miss Morgan's first step to fame was with the DeVol band and "That's All I Want From You."

Members of the SAC have been preparing for the Centennial Ball since last semester. This dance is replacing the annual Wintermist Ball usually sponsored by the SAC in the early spring.

SJS' Centennial Concert Opens Tonight at Civic

PERFORMS TONIGHT—Irene Dalis, SJS graduate and now a mezzo-soprano of the Stadtische Opera in West Berlin, will be one of the principal performers in this evening's Centennial Concert at the Civic Auditorium. Pictured with Miss Dalis are Hartley Snyder, chairman of the Music Department, left, and Dean Joe H. West, chairman of the Centennial Committee.

A richly varied program of symphonic music, choral work, and piano and vocal soloists, will be offered at tonight's Centennial Concert at the San Jose Civic Auditorium at 8:30 o'clock.

The concert will open with Brahms' "Academic Festival Overture," opus 80. This work, written in 1880, incorporates four student songs as well as original thematic material and will be performed by the SJS Symphony Orchestra under the direction of W. Gibson Walters, associate professor of music.

The second offering scheduled for the first half of the program will be by piano soloist Thomas Ryan, associate professor of music, playing D'Indy's Symphony on a French Mountain Air for Orchestra and Piano, opus 25.

The second half of the program will open with the world premiere of former student Stanley Hjalmsworth's "Stabat Mater." The work was commissioned by SJS for the Centennial Celebration and will be performed by the A Capella Choir directed by William Erlendson, associate professor of music, and the orchestra.

The choir and orchestra will again combine their talents for "Coro di Zingari e Canzone" from Verdi's "Il Trovatore."

Miss Irene Dalis, an SJS graduate who is now a leading mezzo-soprano with the West Berlin State Opera and who recently made a triumphal debut at the Metropolitan Opera in New York, will sing three operatic arias. She has selected, "Stride la Vampa" from "Il Trovatore" and another Verdi aria, "O Don Fatale" from "Don Carlo." For her third number Miss Dalis will sing Saint Saens' "Mon Coeur S'Ouvre a ta Voix" from "Samson et Dalila."

The concert will conclude with the first West Coast performance of Shostakovich's "Festival Overture," opus 96, played by the orchestra.

The concert promises to be one of the Centennial Celebration's most exciting events and the performance is open to the public without admission charge.

DATEBOOK

Children's Theatre Cast Offers Aladdin's Lamp

The Children's Theater Association will present "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp" tomorrow and May 9, 10, 11. There will be two performances on Saturdays, at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. The weekday performances will be at 4 p.m.

John Kerr, associate professor of drama, is directing the production. Kerr is also one of the advisers of the association. Dr. Harold C. Crain, head of the Speech and Drama Department, and Miss Bernice Prisk, who is in charge of costume design and construction, are also advisers to the group.

"The play has spectacle, color, and all the staging excitement that will make for eye-filling entertainment for youngsters and at the same time give Jack Byers the fullest scope in scene and costume design," stated Kerr.

Byers, a graduate student, has designed the sets and costumes for the show as a part of his master's thesis work. They have been constructed under the supervision of J. Wendell Johnson and Miss Prisk, associate professors of drama.

The citizen are Wanda McKoin, Louise Engelhardt, Davey Schmitt and Ava-Lynne Zamerzell. Tom Prather is the guard and Alice Engel is Kalissa.

All performances will be in the Studio Theater in the Speech and Drama Building.

Aero Instructors Arrive For CAEA Conference

The seventh annual spring conference of the California Aviation Education Assn. will be held today, Saturday and Sunday on campus. More than 100 teachers from as far north as Arcata and as far south as San Diego are expected to attend the conference, according to Thomas Leonard, head of the Aeronautics Department.

Delegates will register tomorrow night from 5 to 8 o'clock in the Engineering Building. Also that night, a meeting of the executive board of the association will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

The opening session at the conference will be held at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, in the Engineering Lecture Hall. Marcia Fandrem of Bakersfield, association president, will preside.

A tour of Ames Aeronautical Laboratories and an inspection of jet aircraft at Moffet Field are scheduled for Saturday morning, followed by lunch at Mariani's in Santa Clara.

The Air Force has promised to stage a jet aircraft scramble for the visitors, Leonard said. The drama.

"The action is full of the use of magic, rapid scene change, oriental atmosphere and fantasy which will enthrall a child audience as the story has enthralled countless generations of children of all ages," continued Kerr.

The all-student cast includes: Dick Parks as Aladdin, Frances Church as Adora, Lois Pfeiffer as Aladdin's mother, Bob Montilla as the sultan, Gail Anderson as Nouna, Wayne Ward as the magician, James Dunn as the genie of the ring, Dan Knowles as the genie of the lamp.

The slaves of the ring include Ed Holmes, Bernie Gardner, Michael Sanders, Charles Cook, Manuel Carillo, and Henry Abouf. The slaves of the lamp are Mary Ann Billeci, Jeanne Marsh and Sharon Knowles.

The citizens are Wanda McKoin, Louise Engelhardt, Davey Schmitt and Ava-Lynne Zamerzell. Tom Prather is the guard and Alice Engel is Kalissa.

All performances will be in the Studio Theater in the Speech and Drama Building.

Famous Books Of Early Italy Are on Display

Francis V. de Bellis' collection of Renaissance printing is now on display in the lobby of the new wing of the library. It is considered to be one of the finest private collections of early Italian printing.

A book published in 1467, the first printed volume of St Augustine's "City of God," is the outstanding book in the collection. It was the third book, that the experts know now exists, printed in Italy and was formerly owned by the famous English artist William Morris.

The volumes in the collection are beautifully illuminated with gold leaf, and colors and intricate designs were used by the artist. Many books are in their original bindings.

The exhibit includes hand lettered books made before Gutenberg invented movable type. Other books printed from 1454 and 1500, called the "cradell books," are another feature of the exhibit.

An invitational tea and viewing of the collection will be held Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. and on Tuesday the collector will speak on early Italian printing in Room 55.

Air Group Plans Fair Tomorrow

SJS's chapter of the Alpha Eta Rho will stage its annual "Air Fair" tomorrow in the Aeronautics Building. The theme of the fair is "power" with youth, and it will seek to inform youngsters on aviation and interest them in it.

During the day movies from aircraft industries, airline companies and the Armed Services, will be shown in the aero quonset hut, and the Link Training Room will be open for inspection, giving visitors a chance to see it in operation.

Visitors will be given a conducted tour through the aero lab. The U.S. Marine Corps will stage a demonstration of parachute packing techniques.

Sen. McCarthy Dies

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is dead at the age of 47. He succumbed at Bethesda Naval Hospital early yesterday evening.

The hospital announced that the senator, who was admitted Sunday, died of "acute hepatic failure," a failure of the functions of the liver. McCarthy's wife, Jean, was present at his bedside when he succumbed.

Caps and Gowns

Caps and gowns may be rented from the Spartan Book Store for $5 for bachelor and $9 for masters outfits. Two dollars will be refunded upon return of the caps and gowns.

Measurements will be taken on the same day individuals wish to rent the attire.

Spring graduate measurements will be taken the first week of June.

San Jose Historian Presents Centennial Marker to College

Clyde Arbuckle, city historian, presented a historical marker commemorating the founding of SJS to Executive Dean C. Grant Burton yesterday in ceremonies held beside the Library on Fourth street.

The marker reads: "San Jose State College. Founded in San Francisco 1857. First Public Institution of Higher Education in California. Moved to San Jose 1871."

Arbuckle, making the presentation on behalf of the San Jose Landmarks Commission, said that of all the markers the commission has created through the years, this was the most outstanding. "It represents a century of stewardship well discharged," he said.

"The educational system is the foundation of republican government," Arbuckle continued. "As long as this institution and others like it continue their good work, this nation will be able to govern itself," he said.

City Leaders Back College Expansion

Of what importance does the city of San Jose attach to San Jose State College? Does it favor the proposed expansion of the college? These and other questions were asked San Jose Mayor Robert Doerr and Chamber of Commerce Manager Russell Pettit in exclusive Spartan Daily interviews last week.

Both Doerr and Pettit stood solidly behind the value of the college to the community of San Jose, and both favored campus expansion to property adjacent to the present college.

Pettit said that the San Jose Chamber of Commerce has always recognized the importance of the college to San Jose. He gave examples of how leaders in all fields of industry, business and other areas are brought to San Jose through the auspices of college symposiums, special events and other college sponsored activities. He added that SJS serves as a cultural center for the city.

Doerr, a Spartan alumnus, reiterated the cultural and commercial importance of our institution. The college presents a tremendous market for San Jose business, he said.

On expansion of the present college plant, Doerr said the eastward move of the campus would receive the approval of the city but, he added, movement across Fourth Street in a westerly direction probably would not. Whereas expansion across 8th and 9th streets would entail movement to relatively poor potential commercial land, Doerr made it clear that he feels the land between 1st and 4th streets is of definite commercial value to the city. He said that if the college were granted land near downtown business the city would lose land that could bring in considerable tax revenue. College property is tax free.

Movement across 4th Street also would create a potential traffic problem, Doerr said. Fourth Street has been used as a one-way thoroughfare by the city. Traffic might be hindered by a heavy flow of pedestrians each day. (Our apathy toward 7th street pedestrian signals would give the city ample justification to feel that traffic would be considerably clogged by heavy pedestrian traffic across 4th Street.)

Pettit backed college expansion on adjacent property, saying that proposals made by local citizenry to move the college to an entirely separate site are preposterous. You can't pick up $1 1/2 billion worth of buildings and move them on dollies, he commented. The college has too much invested on its present campus to warrant such a move, Pettit said. Ten years ago this might have been a good plan, but not now.

San Jose leaders definitely favor the expansion of SJS on present and adjacent property. Unfortunately, a few local businessmen have voiced opposition to our expansion in either a westerly or easterly direction. As Doerr and Pettit emphasized, this opposition is an extreme minority, and both feel that the general feeling of the citizenry and local officials is that college expansion, like city expansion, is justifiable.

A century of progress in education has coincided with a century of college expansion and service to the community. Whether we expand westerly, easterly, or in any direction, is a matter for the college administration and city officials to ponder. But we may assume reasonable faith that the city recognizes the importance of San Jose State College, and that college expansion is of monumental importance to the city and its planning for the future.

Library's Centennial Exhibit Displays Old La Torres, Music Manuscripts

By TOM BRUFFY

The Library's Centennial Exhibit, which covers two floors of the south end of the Old-Library wing, will be displayed through the month of May.

Among the exhibits are old numbers of La Torre, which can be exchanged for any book suitable for a college library, according to Miss Coleman, of the staff.

An interesting feature of the display is the copy of the old "State College Times," which according to its legend came out at 11:56 a.m. every Tuesday and Friday.

The paper was touting sales of the 1931 "La Torre," telling of a track meet assembly and, reflecting the nature of the school, reporting on the outcome of an Industrial Arts Department sponsored Farm Contest.

On the second floor the exhibit features old music manuscripts, an interesting violin that once was property of SJS and a set of books from the Normal school called simply the "Alumni." It tells what happened to alumni from 1863-1926, where they taught, whom they married and their addresses.

Still another feature of the display is the Edwin Markham section. Markham, a graduate of SJS authored the poem "Man With a Hoe," and other well known poems.

Pictures of the first school in San Jose and the old brick structure which replaced the wooden building, which burned to the ground, are also shown. The brick building was also destroyed in the 1906 earthquake.

School Drops Day

WORCHESTER, Mass. (UP)—For the first time in its 113-year history, Holy Cross College has gone on the five-day week. Saturday morning classes have been eliminated the better to balance school schedules.

Spartan Bookstore Originated In Main Building (Room 5) In '20's; Offers Service

By TOM LARIMORE

San Jose State's Bookstore has come a long way from the "Cooperative Store" in Room 5 of the Main Building of the 1920's to its year-and-a-half old modern facilities, and plans are afoot for continuation of the expansion program.

To keep pace with the ballooning enrollment of SJS, the bookstore, already one of the largest at California colleges, is now adding a second story to the present edifice located next to the Journalism Building. According to bookstore manager Harry Wineroth, the shop handles approximately 1600 different titles of books, and averages 35 copies of each title.

In addition to the regular classes, the bookstore handles volumes for SJS's extension and night courses. The extension courses are held in various cities of Santa Clara County and a considerable number of the texts are sold to students in these classes.

From the "Cooperative Store" in the 1920's, the college book market moved to a frame building located immediately west of the Industrial Arts Building. Here it shared the building with the student fountain. The two student functions remained until 1937 when the State acquired the Student Union from the City of San Jose, which was using the brick building as city library.

THE 'FOUNTAIN'

At this time, the bookstore and the fountain shared the downstairs of the Union building. The name of the operation was called "Spartan Shop," a term now used for the board which controls both the fountain, (now called the "Coop") and the bookstore.

After World War II, the text-book sellers again moved their location to a metal building located where the new library addition now stands. When the bookstore moved into this "tin shack," as it was called, the fountain was remodeled and took over the entire basement of the Student Union, which it has occupied for the last 10 years.

It wasn't until 1950 that the Student Council decided to let the bookstore profits accumulate, eventually to purchase larger and better facilities. In March, 1955, construction was started on the present bookstore and by the opening of the fall semester, 1955, the store was ready to service the student body of over 9000. This, too, marked a change from the old "over-the-counter" type of book buying. The self-service system of the present setup offers students faster accommodations.

FULL-TIME WORKERS

The bookstore has six full-time employees, who are aided by 12 students who work part time. The store is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. every school day. During registration periods, the shop stays open until 9 p.m.

The Spartan Bookstore and the fountain operate for one reason, according to Wineroth, manager since June, 1956. "This reason is service for the students. If any profits do accrue, they are distributed to student activities by the Spartan Shop Board as follows; after providing for proper reserves, the board authorizes the distribution of profits to student activities in any manner deemed most equitable," Wineroth affirmed.

All-Comers Track Meet Opens Here Tomorrow

By RANDIE E. POE
Old Sugar Daddy Robinson showed conclusively Wednesday night that they DO come back, and we'll see tomorrow if the Spartan track squad can stage a renaissance on the local level.

Our heroes, you'll remember, were overwhelmed by a blizzard of UCLA and Fresno State points (85-46 and 102-29) last week and the All-Comers Meet will be the locals' initial performance since then. It also will be SJS' final home appearance this season. Field events unfold at Spartan Field at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

A few questions should be answered when the Spartans mix with athletes wearing the labels of COP, the San Francisco Olympic Club, San Francisco State, Fort Ord, the Presidio, and the Santa Clara Youth Center.

For instance; did Rapid Ray Norton's sprint setbacks last week to fiddle-footed Mike Agostini of Fresno State take some urge out of Norton's surge?

Can Chuck Hightower come back to his 14-foot, early-season polevaulting form? And can crowd-pleasing Wes Bond double in the mile and two mile? He has run only the two-mile thus far, although he ankle to a 4:21 reading in the 4-lapper last season.

By sundown tomorrow, we may get some insight on how "our" Spartans will perform in the torrid Fresno West Coast Relays next week.

Threatening to steal some thunder from the sprints and distance duels is the half mile battle.

Spartan Fred Green, running 1:54.6 for fourth place last week, displayed his best form of the year. Green's only flaw was in not making his stretch drive earlier. As it was, he was right on the heels of UCLA's Bob Thompson and Johnny Seaman, both of whom ran 1:54.5.

Challenging Green will be smooth-striding Jack Marden, the publicized COP star. Marden skipped 1:57 with ease last week and Stockton railbirds insist he can go faster if pressed.

Others in the 880 soup will be SJS' Ron Gross (1:56), OC ace Vince Gilliland (1:56.7) and Ed Shinn (1:57.6), both ex-Occidental stars, San Francisco State's Willie Ellison (1:57.7) and Fort Ord's Don McQuarry (1:58).

Hoping to victimize Norton in the 100 and 200-yard scoots will be:

SCYC's Len Noles (:9.7 and :20.9), OC's Keith Brownshberger (:9.8 and :21.7), Whipper Watson (:9.9 and :21.7), and the Presidio flash, John Arcaro (:9.7 and :21.6). Norton has hit :9.4 and :20.3.

Spartans Garfield Finley (:9.8 and :21.6), Van Parish (:9.9), and Ron Giardina (:21.5) also are dash entries.

Bond will meet some tough operators in the two-mile, including Lowell Zellers (9:30), ex-Big 10 champ, Presidio's Mose Thornton (9:12), and Fred Hidkey (9:14), and little Gar Williams (9:44) of the Santa Clara Youth Center. Bond's best effort is 9:19 but he should lower this mark with an all-out push.

Locals' Outhit But Score 20-5 Win Over Navy

Though outhit 10-9, the Spartan diamondmen managed to rack up a decisive 20-5 win over San Diego Navy yesterday on the Sailor's home lot in the Southland.

Coach Eddie Sobczak's charges pushed across 12 runs in the seventh and final inning on the strength of a mighty wild Sailor hurling crew that somehow issued 13 bases-on-balls.

Under the circumstances, the locals could do little more than score at will.

Second sacker Don Hodgen provided the big blow of the game while the contest was still up in the air as he blasted a three run home run in the fourth inning.

Tuck Halsey, who was blasted by USC on Monday, went the route on the hill for San Jose to score his fourth win against as many defeats.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Entry blanks for Independent and fraternity league softball play must be on file in the Men's Gym by Monday, May 6. Blanks may be obtained in the Men's Gym.

Golfers Face Fresno State Today at 1 p.m.

San Jose State's varsity golf team will go up against Fresno State College this afternoon at 1 o'clock on the San Jose Country Club greens, according to Coach Walt McPherson.

Top man for Coach McPherson's club is Ernie George, whom the head mentor calls "one of SJS' all-time great performers." However he failed to affirm that George was better than the newly-turned professional, Ken Venturi, who was graduated from State not too long ago.

McPherson rates this year's squad as one of State's finest, but declined to acknowledge it as the best ever. "It is very difficult to rate this year's golf team in comparison with previous ones."

Others on the varsity include Eddie Duino Jr., son of the San Jose Country Club pro; Ross Carley, Jack Cummings, Jim Clark and Dave Cranston.

SJS' only defeat came at the hands of Southern California in Los Angeles by a 42-12 score. The Spartans have one tie, that with Stanford by a 13½-all count.

Sparta's record to date is a 9-1-1 win-loss-tie mark.

Last Sunday Coach McPherson's golfers won the Northern California Intercollegiate golf title at Pasta Tiempo and on Tuesday clubbed University of California by a 23½-3½ score at the Orinda Country Club.

At the NCI matches, the Spartans set a new four-man team low stroke record at 282, two strokes under par.

Gridders Stage First Scrimmage

The spring edition of the Spartan football club stages its initial full-scale scrimmage at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Spartan Stadium.

Almost all of the local grid candidates will be tossed into the fracas, as Coach Bob Titchenal searches for jewels who might help his team next fall. The session will continue about two hours, although there will be no kickoffs.

"Only 35 men from our present list of about 55 will be invited back in September," Titchenal said yesterday, "so we'll be looking tomorrow for men who can help us next fall."

Four linemen have shown especially well in drills thus far. Stan Keith, hard-hitting 190-pound guard from San Francisco, tackle Nick Sanger, biggest Spartan at 226-pounds,

HERB BOYER
... "much improvement"

Bob Dunivant, second team All-American JC end in 1954, and end Dan Colicchio have looked sharp to date.

Center Ron Earl, a 200-pounder, also has shown promise.

Line Coach Marty Feldman, after viewing movies of last year's sad contests, thinks little (5-9) Herb Boyer has shown "much improvement" over last season. Boyer has been running at guard.

Halfbacks Harvel Pollard, Tommy Uyeda, and Benny Guzman, quarterback Marv McKean and Dick Vermeil, and fullback Al Chapman have been the backfield standouts.

"Depth and size," offered Titchenal, "that's what we need." We just don't have enough kids out. We're lucky to get four teams together. More than anything we need big kids."

The teams, presently running under the colors of Blue, Red, Gold, and Green, have been arbitrarily selected. "Team colors out there mean nothing," Titchenal emphasized. "All of our jobs will be wide-open right up until the night before our first game this fall."

Spartan Judoists Meet All-Stars

Coach Yosh Uchida's Northern California champion judoists will close the current season tomorrow in Los Angeles in a dual meet with the Los Angeles All-Stars, the team that is composed of several members of the 1957 AAU championship squad.

Uchida will send stalwarts Ben Campbell, second degree black belt, Mel Augustine, third degree black, and John Sepulveda, second degree black, against the top L. A. judomen. These three Spartans made an impressive showing at the Easter vacation national AAU tournament and are counted upon by Uchida to lead the San Jose State squad tomorrow.

If the Spartans should pull an upset win over the L. A. All-Stars, they would establish team superiority in 1957 judo circles. Recently, in Stockton, the SJS team captured the Northern California Judo Championship.

SJS To Have Accident Plan

A voluntary, supplementary health and accident insurance plan for students was approved at a meeting of the Health Service April 24, according to Dr. Thomas J. Gray, health officer.

A specific plan has not been approved but the plan would apply to services beyond the scope of those on campus.

The meeting approved, in general, of continuing the program at the MacFadden Health Cottage. Some recommended changes are being considered, however, according to Dr. Gray.

The Fairness Committee is a unique system which assumes that most students prefer to study in an atmosphere of honesty and fair play. The committee gives hearings to student and faculty problems that involve unfair practices.

Reading Contest Deadline Nears

Today is the deadline for signing up for the Dr. Dorothy Kaucher Oral Reading Award for the Spring semester. The contest is open to all students of the college, but participants must sign up in Room 100 of the Speech and Drama Building by 5 p.m. Friday.

Tryouts for the selection of finalists will be held Tuesday, May 14, 1:30-4:20 p.m. in SD 114. The Oral Interpretation staff, composed of Dr. Kaucher, Dr. Courtney Brooks, Dr. Dorothy Hadley, Mrs. Norman Mitchell, and Mr. Alden Smith, will be judges.

A $50 award will be presented to the winner. Miss Sylvia Cirone, senior speech and drama major and Fall semester winner, will be mistress of ceremonies.

Dr. Harold C. Crahn, Fine Arts Division chairman and head of the Speech and Drama Department, will present the award.

This is the last of the awards to be given while Dr. Kaucher is on active duty at SJS. She will retire in June.

Participants are asked to read a 3 minute selection from a 7 minute reading they plan to present for the finals. There are no subject restrictions.

Scholarship application blanks and details are available from Mrs. Eva MacRae in the Biology Storeroom on the second floor of the Natural Science Building.

Society Offers Tuition Grants

The Santa Clara Valley Audubon Society is offering five scholarships for tuition at two nature schools this summer, it was announced this week by Dr. Arnold G. Applegarth, associate professor of zoology.

The society is offering students three $15 tuition scholarships to the West Coast Nature School at Mendocino Woodlands, June 17-22.

Two $50 scholarships which will go toward tuition at the Audubon Camp at Sugar Bowl are open to both students and teachers. These scholarships will apply to any of the five two-week sessions offered from June 23 to August 31.

Home Ec Dept. Tells Internship Assignments

Internship appointments which will begin later this year have been announced for five seniors majoring in dietetics. In addition to their regular four year degree training, dietetics majors must complete an additional year of training in the field of administrative and therapeutic dietetics in order to become qualified dietitians.

The girls, and their assignments, as named by Dr. Margaret C. Jones, head of the home economics department, are: Nancy Dickerson, Veterans Administration Hospital in Houston, Texas; Barbara Hams, Stanford University Hospital in San Francisco; Beverly Holmes, Grasslands Hospital in Valhalla, New York; Esther Maretich, Ancker Hospital in St. Paul, Minnesota; and Patricia Rooney, Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, Michigan.

Upon completion of their twelve month internship the girls will receive a certificate from the hospital which certifies them to be qualified dietitians and makes them eligible to join the American Dietetic Assn. More than 50 hospitals throughout the United States offer such internships.

Placement Corner

Placement interviews for permanent and summer positions will continue Monday and Tuesday in the Placement Office, Room 100. Details and appointments are available in that office.

Interviews to be held Monday are:
American National Red Cross, San Francisco, from 1:20-3 p.m. for Red Cross jobs in the U.S. or overseas.
Mutual of New York, San Jose, from 9-12 a.m. for management and sales trainees.
West Contra Costa Girl Scouts, Richmond, from 1:30-4:30 p.m. for waterfront director, boating and canoeing directors, cook, handy men and assistant leaders.

South East Bay Girl Scouts, San Lorenzo, from 1:30-4:30 p.m. for program specialists, water safety instructors and unit counselors.

Interviews to be held Tuesday are:
New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., San Jose, from 9:30-12 a.m. for sales and management trainees.
Internal Revenue Service, Audit Division, San Jose, from 1:20-4:20 p.m. for accounting majors for Internal Revenue agents.

Newsman To Talk Of News Future

Television news of the future will be discussed by KPIX newscaster Tom Franklin in a talk to combined journalism classes Monday at 8:30 a.m.

Franklin, who started his career in news work 20 years ago in radio, is seen weekday evenings at 6 o'clock on Channel Five. He is a former news editor of KYA, San Francisco.

The talk will be held in the Concert Hall of the Music Building and is open to all students.

MEETINGS

College Religious Council will meet Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at the Student Y for a breakfast meeting.

Pegasus will meet today in Room B20 at 3:30 p.m. for an executive meeting.

Air Unit Called 'Excellent'

"Excellent command and management throughout the entire organization," is how Col. Charles H. Wilkins, head of an Air Force inspection team, described the San Jose State AFROTC detachment last week.

The three-man team concluded its inspection of the campus detachment last week.

Col. Wilkins had high praise for the conduct, appearance and military demeanor of the campus cadets. He pointed out that the excellent state of training was a reflection of considerable effort in the direction of command and management practices.

The other members of the inspection team were Lt. Col. George E. Abernathy of AFROTC headquarters and Maj. John J. Spoight Jr., Southern Methodist instructor. Col. Wilkins is an instructor at Kansas University.

Col. Wilkins had high praise for the conduct, appearance and military demeanor of the campus cadets. He pointed out that the excellent state of training was a reflection of considerable effort in the direction of command and management practices.

Rally Committee Expects 50 Women To Compete for Song Girl Positions

Fifty women are expected to compete in the song girl tryouts May 15-16 in Morris Dailey Auditorium, according to Gary Waller, Rally Committee chairman.

Preliminary tryouts will be held May 15 and entrants will be eliminated to 20 for the final judging the following day. All seven song girl positions will be open.

"Any woman student is eligible for a position as long as she is in clear standing," Waller said. "She does not have to be a member of the Rally Committee," he stressed.

Judging will be done by the Rally Committee Executive Council, the Committee members, the Student Council and the four class presidents.

Prizes totaling $1200 will be given to outstanding student essays in the field of purchasing in the annual Boffey Memorial Award contest.

Sponsored by the National Association of Purchasing Agents, the contest is open to students in some 60 colleges with approved purchasing courses. The prizes include a $500 first prize, $300 second, $200 third and two additional awards of $100 each.

All interested students who have taken or are taking purchasing should contact Jack H. Holland, associate professor of business.

JUDY'S CHEERFUL LITTLE EARFUL

HERE—HEAR: Sinatra and Riddle swing again! "A SWINGIN' AFFAIR" is the greatest thing ever with songs like "I Won't Dance," "Lonesome Road," "Stars Fractured" Alabama, etc. . . . The June forecast is "JUNE, FAIR & WARMER" (a new and great album by June Christy). June (Pete Rugolo and Coast Radio) are bustin' out all over with "When Sonny Gets Blue," "It's Always You," "Imagination," "I've Never Been In Love Before," and 8 more wonderful standards. . . . Louis Prima and Keely Smith are again on their swingin', singin' way with "CALL OF THE WILDEST." This new album comes on like lightning striking a power plant with "When the Saints Go Marching In," "Closest To The Bone," etc. Don't miss these and Robert Mitchum's "CALYPSO IS LIKE SO." A toast to the most which can be gotten at Coast—COAST RADIO, 266 So. 1st.
