Next Issue June 5

Today's issue of the SPARTAN DAILY is the last until Wednesday, June 5. The Memorial Day holiday and preparation for finals necessitate the move.

Showers Likely

That isn't smog you see hanging low and thick today, it's good old fashioned cumulus. To put it in the vernacular—clouds! The weatherman says they'll be hanging around most of the day. A few sprinkles or very light showers are likely along toward evening, he says. The high for today will be 79-80.

Video Show on SJS Still Needs Students

Sign-ups for the TV show "Success Story" to be presented Thursday still are being taken in the Public Relations Office, the Activities Office and the Student Union.

The show will be televised directly from the SJS campus. Faculty and students will appear in campus scenes.

Those participating in the telecast are asked to report at 1 p.m. in front of the entrance to the new Library.

At that time, Brad Warner, the director, will give out instructions for rehearsals. The final rehearsal will be held between 6 and 6:30 p.m., and the show goes on the air at 7 o'clock, over station KGO-TV, Channel 7, San Francisco.

Five members of the production staff were on the campus Monday to make final arrangements for the show. In addition to Director Warner, they were Caryl Coleman, producer; Larry Russell, assistant producer; Stan Younger, technical director; and James T. Lang, representative of the Richfield Oil Co.

Bob Day, master of ceremonies, will be on the campus today to go through the personal interviews that are part of the show.

The production staff and the technical crew will be on campus about 10 a.m. tomorrow morning to set up three cameras, one in the TV studio, one in front of the Library, and one backstage in the College Theater.

Alpha Eta Rho-Flying 20 Plan Joint Air Meet

The joint Alpha Eta Rho-Flying 20 Air Meet takes off tomorrow morning at 8 a.m. (not 10 a.m., as was previously announced), at Reid's Hillview Airport on Cunningham Ave. in San Jose, according to Jack Acord, publicity manager for the Flying 20.

The meet is open to any San Jose State student who possesses a pilot's license. A plaque will be awarded to the pilot who accumulates the largest number of points in the three competitive events.

The events are, a 180-degree power-off landing, a 180-degree wheel landing and a 360-degree power-off landing.

Pilot's entering should have a conventional landing gear on their plane, Acord said. There is no entrance fee to participate in the meet.

Deadline Extended

Deadline for turning in entries for the Campus Religious Directory cover design contest has been extended until Friday. A $10 prize will be awarded for the winning design. Entries should be submitted to Jim Martin at the Student Y.

Schedule Capers For 11th Street Friday Afternoon

Eleventh Street Capers will take over a block of 11th street Friday afternoon from 1:30-4:30 p.m. in the first move of the Social Chairmen's Committee towards stronger relationships between Greek organizations and Greek-independent relationships.

This is the first of such activities to be held among several fraternities and sororities and all students are invited to participate in the many scheduled events.

All cars must be off 11th street between San Fernando and San Antonio by 11:30 a.m. Friday, in compliance with the Social Chairmen's Committee plans. Slated for the afternoon festivities are volleyball, basketball, ping pong, shuffle board, cards and dancing.

The central control center of Eleventh Street Capers will be set up in front of the Sigma Kappa house. A public address system will be used to inform the participants of the events and will control the games. A refreshment booth also will be set up in front of the Sigma Kappa house.

Organized by Shirley Sweet, Kappa Kappa Gamma, the afternoon festivities are designed for two purposes, the first being to better acquaint Greeks with members of other fraternities and sororities. The second purpose is to strengthen relationships with the non-Greeks and to interest the independents in rushing at the beginning of next semester.

Co-sponsored by Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity Councils, Eleventh Street Capers will involve the facilities of ten houses: Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Sigma Phi, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Kappa and Theta Chi. All activities will be evenly distributed among the houses and dancing and card-playing will be conducted at all ten houses.

The Social Chairmen's Committee would like to hold Eleventh Street Capers regularly as a Friday afternoon event, according to Miss Sweet, but this is only the initial step.

Student Solons Will Appoint New Chairmen

The Student Council will appoint the 1957-58 Rally Committee chairman, the new Public Relations Committee chairman and the Sophomore female justice today at 2:35 p.m. in the Student Union.

In addition, a Community Service Committee chairman will be named. The Council also will appoint a committee of five students to help Dean Joe H. West select an appropriate place for the Spartan Shield presented at the Centennial Convocation.

A Student Council subcommittee on discrimination also will report its findings.

Applications for the female justice position and the chairmanship of the Community Service Committee will be accepted at the Student Union reception desk until 2:30 p.m. today. Applicants should appear at the Student Council meeting for interviews.

Senior Class Ball Is Open to All, Says Chairman

San Jose State students have to wait only 10 more days for another "big name" band to entertain at a campus function. It will be the Senior Ball, scheduled for the Bay Meadows Turf Club Friday, June 7. Les Brown and his Band of Renown will provide the music for the 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. dance at the San Mateo race track clubhouse.

Bids for the event are $4 and are on sale every day in the Outer Quad. According to Ben Zeitman, publicity chairman for the Senior Class Council, the ball is scheduled to be one of the largest out-of-town dances ever sponsored by an SJS organization. He said that around 3000 persons are expected to attend this Centennial Class year-end ball.

Alpha Delta Sigma Wins Cash Award From Playboy in Advertising Contest

Award from Playboy Magazine totalling $550 were won yesterday by the Alvin Long Chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising fraternity. The awards were for two advertisements which placed second and ninth in a college contest sponsored by the magazine.

The fraternity entered the contest as a group project under the direction of Carl R. Hoffman, adviser to the group. Leo Chantelli and Phil Gagnon were the two members who chaired the winning entries.

Car Pool Board

The Alpha Phi Omega car pool board will be set up in the Student Union beginning this afternoon. Persons wanting to share rides home after finals may make use of the board, which is available to all students.

'Nobel Prize', Season Closes, Runs Nightly Until Saturday

Arena staging is the star of "Nobel Prize," the last play of the 1956-57, drama season. The show, which is playing nightly at 8:15 o'clock in the Studio Theater, closes Saturday.

The audience, which sits a few feet from the acting area with only an outline of a room on the floor separating it from the actors, not only eliminates the "fourth wall" but also adds a feeling of intimacy between the actors and the audience.

This feeling of intimacy which the play possesses in essence is further developed in the theater-in-the-round style of production. The audience feels as though it also is sitting in the living room of the Swendenhelm home and is almost a participant as well as an observer as the family goes through the trials and tribulations of having its head win the Nobel Prize for physics.

Phillip Upton is Rolph Swendenhelm, Sr. and the winner of the Nobel Prize. Swendenhelm believes that honor is the most important possession that a man can own, and is ready to give up the prize when he feels that his son, Axel, an air force officer played by Don West, has tread upon his honor.

Ivan Paulsen is Rolph Swendenhelm, Jr. and the collaborator with his father in his physics work. Each member of the Swendenhelm family seems to feel that his contribution to the fame and honor of the Swendenhelm name is the greatest.

Frances Church is Julia Swendenhelm, a young actress who believes herself to be the outstanding young actress in Sweden. The keeper of this family is the sister-in-law of Swendenhelm Sr., Marta. Unbeknownst to the rest of the family, she is actually the driving force behind them. Celest McAdam is Marta who insists that it is "the end of the month and the floors must be scrubbed."

Astrid, the rich betrothed of Axel, is played by Marlene Balough, who as the saying goes, "has him wrapped around her little finger."

Bob Montilla, as Pederson, the novice newspaper reporter, supplies much of the comic element for the show. And, of course, there is a villain, Bob Gordon as Eric Eriksson, the holder of the forged promissory notes is able to throw very cold water on the joy of the Swendenhelms when the father is awarded the prize.

Last Times Today To See One-Acts

The last two student directed one-act plays will be presented this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the College Theater. Showing today will be "May Moon," directed by Wayne Ward and "Villa for Sale," directed by Pat Garvey.

"May Moon," employs one of the largest casts ever used in a one-act production. The story is set in a park somewhere in Italy and includes both characters of the past and present.

"Villa for Sale," is a comedy and concerns the antics of a young itinerant semantics professor who campaigns to remove the "b" from "crumby."

MEETINGS

Industrial Relations Club will meet today at 3:30 p.m. in Room C10 on 3rd & San Antonio streets for the election of next year's officers.

International Students Organization will meet today in the Green Room of the Speech and Drama Building for election of new officers.

IFC Takes Action Over "Bad Conduct" Report

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was suspended as a fraternity yesterday until Jan. 1, 1958, in a ruling handed down by the Inter-Fraternity Council court.

The action came as a result of a violation of the college code of student conduct by SAE on the night of May 18.

According to the IFC, on that night the fraternity held a social function at the Saba nightclub in Capitola. During the evening the members "conducted themselves in such a fashion as to violate acceptable standards of good taste and conduct."

However, the IFC would not say specifically what "acceptable standards" were violated.

According to Mark Niemela, president of the IFC, in considering action to be taken in this case the court considered the fact that "SAE was already on probation to the Interfraternity court for an earlier rushing violation at the beginning of the current semester."

The earlier offense was "having a rushing function on a non-specified night."

During the period of suspension, if the organization violates any college or fraternity regulations or policies, the court will automatically recommend to the college administration that recognition and approval of the group be permanently removed.

On Jan. 1, 1958 the group may petition to the Interfraternity Council Court for removal of their suspension and restoration of their privileges as a fraternity.

In the meantime, SAE will not be officially considered an active fraternity on this campus.

Specific suspended activities as a fraternity include, membership in the IFC; participation in any IFC activity, rushing; pledging; or initiation of new members and the use of the fraternity name in any of their activities.

Clem McCarthy, president of SAE could not be reached for comment, and Bud Travi, vice-president, stated "I am not at liberty to express what I think about the IFC ruling. I haven't spoken to McCarthy yet."

Under the new rules, the fraternity will be considered an organized house group, not using the fraternity name.

It may, however, still participate in intra-mural competition as an independent team, hold approved social events as an organized group, and engage in any group activities beneficial to the individual members or to the organization.

Activities Files

All students are requested to bring their activities files up to date in the Activities Office, Room 114, according to Bill Borge, chairman of the recognition committee.

Luncheon Honors Retiring I.A. Prof

Members of the Applied Arts Department faculty yesterday paid tribute to Judson Aspinwall, retiring associate professor of industrial arts, at a luncheon at the College Tea Room.

Aspinwall, who has been at the college since 1929, will retire this June from his position as head of the department of electricity of the Industrial Arts Department.

Aspinwall received four bound volumes of "Tribute to a Grand-Dad" written by his daughter Joy Beall. The books were bound by Parnik Hazarian of the industrial arts faculty.

Derward Burbank, associate professor of industrial arts, also presented Aspinwall with a transistor radio at the luncheon.

Dr. Heber Sotzin, head of the Industrial Arts Department, spoke honoring Aspinwall and his long service to the college.

Aspinwall's wife and daughter attended the luncheon. Ben Spaulding and Mrs. Pauline Lynch, who both recently retired from the Applied Arts Division, also attended.

Aspinwall received his B.A. degree from the University of California in 1911 and his M.A. degree from Stanford in 1935.

He previously served as a consulting engineer with the General Electric Co. and, during WW II when he left the faculty for two years, acted as an associate engineer with the California Public Utilities Commission.

Upon retiring, Aspinwall plans to devote his time to his ranch, cabin and his grandchildren. His daughter Joy was a 1953 honor graduate of SJS with a major in journalism.

Daniel C. Lopez, assistant professor of industrial arts, arranged the luncheon and acted as master of ceremonies.

Wise Decision?

Dear Thrust and Parry:
To: Student Council
Congratulations on another wise decision. By your intelligent choice of Leigh Weimers for fall SPARTAN DAILY editor, you have made it clear to the students of this school that you are not a rubber stamp organization that can be dictated to by selfish pressure groups. Although the DAILY staff and department head preferred a certain Mike Brown for the office, you courageously stood firm for Weimers, knowing full well that your knowledge of both men was sufficient to come up with the best verdict.

You may be interested in the fact that this is the first time in SJS history that the Council has not approved the first choice of the DAILY staff. It is a precedent that may be very helpful to later Councils. The Council now can appoint the man it knows to be best for the job without being bothered with the advice of the Journalism Department.

It is, of course, vital to the well-being of the school that the DAILY not be allowed to choose its own editor without your approval. If the staff had free choice in the matter, many dangerous situations would arise. The Council is best qualified to appoint the editor for it has an interview with each candidate before it makes its appointment. But the members of the DAILY have no such chance to give the candidates a formal interview; they are too busy working with them each day on the newspaper.

Again, congratulations to you on your decision. And special congratulations to the Sigma Chi members on the Council who helped appoint their brother to the editor's post, for they know his qualifications better than anyone else. I feel sure that this Council will make many more similar decisions in the future.

Sincerely,
Don Graydon, ASB 2049.

Tear Down Tower

Dear Thrust and Parry:
While birds gaily chirp their merry spring song, the wind wistfully blows the fragrant rose petals to and fro, and we students gently skip from class to class in the spirit of educated bliss, a ceaseless storm (or illwind if you please) gathers momentum. Printed in Sunday's edition of The San Jose Mercury was word that the Sacramento politicians have fiendish designs on our time honored and bespeckled with aged grace, Quad and glorious Tower.

It appears, according to the State architect, that the next few years may see a decision to tear down these building in place of new modern pieces. Imagine San Jose State without its tower. Imagine the Outer Quad without its Quad. Imagine the yearbook La Torre left without a name-sake. It would be like taking Nob Hill out of San Francisco, or taking smog away from Los Angeles, or taking panty raids away from Cal.

Obviously, government has reached the point of complete submission to the almighty dollar. Compassion for graceful beauty has no place in today's government.

Students, arouse yourself to this impending threat. Are you going to let them take away your Tower? Will you sit idly by? I know what I shall do. I'll do the same as the vast majority who will read this article. They will read it, shrug their shoulders and say with passing interest, "Who gives a darn?"

Ron Gilpatrick, ASB 10796

Little Richard Booms In Rock 'n Roll Role

By RANDIE E. POE

One of the biggest selling rock 'n rollers in the nation is Little Richard — a good looking, 23-year-old Negro whose hair grows like wild sagebrush.

Yesterday, we spent some time with this phenom who last year won Billboard's Triple Crown Award, was voted the Most Played Rhythm and Blues Artist in the country, and paced all record sellers during the last part of 1956.

While we talked, members of his band were buying food for Richard, who couldn't leave his dressing room. Why? Bend an ear:

"I can't even go into the streets because the teenagers tear my clothes off. I'm 23 and this business makes me feel like I was 45. I have no privacy. It's sickening. As you see, I drive a Caddy (a streamlined lavender job) and eat well, but believe me, it's better to make $50 a week than to have to live like this."

Some people say you can't sing, we told him. How about it?

"If I can't sing and they can, they should be in my position. Isn't that right? I mean I don't want to sound boastful, but there must be something here. The people always yell for more."

Little Richard is an extremely articulate lad whose quiet, soothing temperament belies his souped-up wailing on such tunes as "Long Tall Sally," "Slippin' an' Slidin'," "The Girl Can't Help It," "Lucille," "Reddy-Teddy" and you name it.

His last ten records, all of which he has written himself, have been smash hits.

The "Sally" disc will gross him "about $80,000" before it is through. At present, it's the second biggest selling record in Great Britain.

"I wrote that song about my aunt," Lili Richard asserted, "because she's so long and tall and horrible."

Working regularly, Lili Richard will pocket about $200,000 per year. He has money invested in apartment buildings and houses across the country. Don't worry about him keeping mashed potatoes on the table for his 10 brothers and sisters.

Little Richard began singing church songs on the streets of Georgia when he was four. From the beginning, there was something electrifyingly emotional about his delivery. People ate it up like french fries.

Richard settled back and continued: "I probably really began my career when I was 14. I traveled with Dr. Hudson's medicine show, selling snake oil. Mostly I sang religious songs. I still like religious music best."

Fats Domino recently told this writer that he can listen to Little Richard hours on end. Who is Richard's favorite?

"I can't single out one in particular. I've learned to appreciate all music. I mean it takes all kinds to make up the whole."

Although we are not at liberty to break the news now, expect Little Richard to drop an atom-sized bombshell on the music public in September.

Former SJS Drama Stars Perform at Santa Clara Auditorium In Light Opera Co. Production of 'Brigadoon' Over Weekend

By TOM LARIMORE

San Jose State College can claim five Light Opera Co. stars who will appear in "Brigadoon" at the Santa Clara University Auditorium Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

Directing the play, which has its setting in the highlands of Scotland, is F. Nicholas Lickwar, a 1950 graduate of SJS. Now in his seventh year employed as dramatic supervisor for the San Jose Recreation Department, Lickwar left his mark on the campus production of Revelries during the 1948, 1949 and 1950 seasons holding directorial and writing positions.

"Spartans in Review," a radio program concerning campus happenings, was initiated through the efforts of Lickwar in 1947 and was aired over Radio KEEN.

Four of the leading roles in "Brigadoon" are played by SJS students and graduates. Starring in the female lead is Nancy Rembert, a 1956 graduate majoring in Drama and English. The supporting female role is played by Jacque Wood, a graduate student now student teaching. The supporting male lead is portrayed by Pat Garvey, a junior Drama major, and another supporting male role is played by Pat Daugherty, a graduate music major.

Better known to her fellow students as "Misty" Gallot, Nancy appeared in several SJS productions, including "Blood Wedding" and the summer show of "Skin of our Teeth," in which she had the lead. In "Brigadoon," she portrays a Scottish lass who falls in love with an American, who, with another New Yorker, stumbles on to the town of Brigadoon while hunting in the highland woods.

Jacque supplies the audience with many laughs as she portrays Meg, a native of Brigadoon, and attempts to induce amorous reactions from one of the Americans. Her version of "My Mother's Wedding Day" involves one of the most athletic numbers of the show, but this proves no handicap to Jacque's laugh-getting ability.

Jacque has had experience in the comedy leads in such plays as the Revelries show of "Once in a Lifetime" and more recently, in the San Jose Theater Guild's "Oklahoma," portraying the part of Ado Annie.

Pat Garvey plays the part of the American who is chased by the fun-seeking Meg, but he manages to keep his sarcastic pose throughout the production. Pat has been active in SJS drama pro-

Windmill To Bow To New 'Sunmill'

ENGLEWOOD, N.J.—(UP)—Calvin D. MacCracken, a 37-year-old, corporation president, is out to kick off one of mankind's ancient servants—the windmill—which he says already has one foot in the grave.

The wind, MacCracken maintains, is all right for breathing but has served out its usefulness span for pumping water. He aims to harness the sun for that. His firm, Jet-Heat, Inc., a creative development engineering outfit which has developed some 150 items in the last 10 years, has pioneered in the fields of heat transfer and solar energy.

Their latest creation is a sun heat-operated pump that bypasses mechanical moving parts, except for two check valves.

"It does just what the windmill was intended to do except it works by the sun's heat instead of the wind," MacCracken said. "The wind is not constant enough. In places where you need water, the arid lands and desert climates, you've got plenty of sun—that's obvious."

"We're building a thermo-pump—to be field tested this summer in the Southwest—that should deliver around 2400 gallons of water a day from wells down to 100 feet deep."

Roughly, the device will pump somewhat like a coffee percolator, in which expanding steam bubbles push a column of water up a pipe.

ductions of "Much Ado About Nothing" in the role of Benedict, and in "Beaux Stratagem," by acting the part of Archer.

The tenor talents of Pat Daugherty, a 1953 graduate, are added to the two-night stand of "Brigadoon" as he acts the part of Charlie Dalrymple, the youth whose marriage takes place the day of the visit by the Americans.

Pat was president of last year's Mens Glee Club and has appeared as soloist with the SJS symphony orchestra. He presented his masters recital last May and is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, professional educational honorary fraternity.

"Brigadoon" tells the simple, but well-constructed story of a town in Scotland which is endowed with the uncanny knack of appearing on the earth only once every 100 years. The Scottish accents, the music of the Scot bagpiper, the authentic dances by Diane and Jeannette Campbell—a pair of Scottish lasses—and the color and gaiety of the settings, give the audience a feeling of actually being in the Scotland highlands.

North Texas State Has Good Fall Prospects

By RANDIE E. PÔE
Although graduation ripped away large hunks of the 1956 North Texas State team, prospects look far from gloomy this fall.

When unlimited substitution and the two-platoon system deserted collegiate football in 1953, Coach Odus Mitchell's Eagles had two lean years. But by 1956, they rebuilt the club, using new substitution patterns through the use of two units.

Last season, NTSC won 7, lost 2, and tied 1, playing a fairly rugged schedule (Mississippi, Arizona State, Texas Western, Midwestern, et al).

North Texas scored 11 of their 28 TD's last season on passes. Eagle opponents, on the other hand, could not score via the airplanes, losing the ball 19 times on interceptions.

Mitchell may have his best speed and power ever in the backfield, which doesn't bid well for SJS. Ray Toole, who hit 29 of 66 passes for 6 touchdowns last season, returns for what should be his biggest year.

At the halfback posts, they'll have 205-pound Bill Groce and Abner Haynes, a spectacular runner who broke loose numerous times last year with the frosh club. Also returning are Dave Lott (224 yards last year) and Don Smith (226).

Two lettermen, Jerry Young (253 yards) and Don Audas will handle the fullbacking.

Ends probably will be manned by two vets, Dennis Shaw and Mac Reynolds, both top-flighters. There is not much depth behind them, however.

Tommy Smith and Edgar Gray are the top tackles, center is anchored down by two-year
